UNUSUAL ACTIVITY IN RAILROAD CIRCLES

Officials to Inspect Local Lines and Conferences Being Held.

There is an unusual amount of moving about in local railroad circles. Late General Superintendent D. N. Bacon, of the Savannah and Statesboro railway was called to Washington on "purely personal business." Now Auditor W. B. Moore is in New York going via Portsmouth "to testify on a Seaboard Air Line case." Tomorrow, it is said a special train will run over the S. A. & N. and S. & S. railways carrying a party of railroad officials on an inspection tour. It is said that Messrs. W. J. Oliver, owner of the S. A. & N., and General Superintendent Turner of the Georgia and Florida will be aboard the train. The same report stated President John Skelton Williams of the Georgia and Florida to be aboard this train. Mr. Williams was in Savannah a few days ago and is said to have waited there for Mr. Oliver, who was detained in Greenville, S. C. on other railroad matters. Mr. Williams went North, however, sending his private car back via Vidalia to his line.

It has been known for some time that the S. A. & N. would be on the market; as it is subjected to an expenditure equal to the operation of a line twice or three times its length.

The Savannah and Statesboro people have had out a weather eye for some time and the Georgia and Florida have also had their eyes upon it. It was reported about a month ago that there would be a consolidation of the two lines and through train service conducted by the Georgia and Florida between Savannah and Augusta would be the result. This report was denied by the officials of all the roads. This did not change the status of the deal, however, as officials always deny all deals up to the very hour of their consummation. There is no secret of the fact that the Savannah and Statesboro would like to take it over, provided they could do so at a price.

The report some thirty days ago was to the effect that there would be "something doing in thirty days." Thirty days have elapsed, and we find an unusual amount of activity, officials going to Portsmouth on "personal business purely," and others going to New York, having been wired to come to "to testify in court," and officials of two other lines making a tour of inspection of all three connecting lines. Now this may be all smoke, and yet there may be some fire where there is much smoke. We will await developments and see.

In the meantime it will be up to local out of town correspondents and Union Depot advocates to get busy and deny the report.

ARRESTED FOR FORGERY.

Henry Connaway was arrested on Tuesday at Metter and brought in here and lodged in jail on a charge of forgery. A few days previous Connaway presented a check at the Bank of Metter bearing the signature of Mr. J. A. Wallace, for forty-five dollars. Cashier L. H. Sewell detected the forgery and turned down the check. Connaway was admonished a little and allowed to go. He went off towards Still more and soon came back and his arrest was the result. He came to Metter several months ago and engaged in the business of running a pressing club. He will be given a preliminary hearing tomorrow.

PROTECT YOUR FARM FROM FIRE

Why take further chances burning your home and farm buildings to the ground with oil lamps and lanterns? Let me figure on installing for you an electric lighting plant consisting of small gas engine, dynamo and set of "Chloride Accumulator". A postal card will bring full information.

is now being opened.

MRS. JOSIE ROGERS

Upstairs in the new Pretorius Building, on East Main Street, has just returned from market with an up-to-date line of Millinery for Ladies and Children, and is prepared to please the most fastidious taste. She has secured the best trimmers and salesladies and will be pleased to have the ladies call.

ATTENTION, FARMERS!

I am again representing the Southern Gypsum Company for the sale of their famous Pierson Land Plaster.

This is the greatest producer known for Peanuts. You will absolutely have no crops when this is used. The peanut growers of Virginia and North Carolina use it altogether for growing peanuts, and say they cannot make good, sound peanuts without it. It has been used by hundreds of the best farmers in Bulloch county the past two seasons, who can testify to the great benefits derived from its use. It is used as a top dressing, by sprinkling it on the vines after the peanuts begin to bear.

It is recommended to sow in the evening or early in the morning, or just after a shower, as it is found that much better results from it adhering well to the leaves. A gloomy, hazy day is also a good time for the job. Application, about 300 lbs. per acre. Try it and be convinced that this is the greatest thing you ever used for making peanuts.

I will have some one to represent me at all the principal shipping points in the county. I will make my order about the 1st of May, so get your orders in by that time. Circulars and testimonials sent free on application.

AWAKENING IN AGRICULTURE.

The educational train of the Georgia College of Agriculture, which ended its state wide tour last Saturday, has been truly estimated as the greatest propaganda of its kind ever attempted in America. In other portions of the union, particularly in the West, there have been similar and highly successful undertakings; but never before has a movement of this character been carried to such spacious and fruitful proportions.

With its varied store of object lessons in good farming and its staff of skilled educators, the train has gone into 120 counties, has made 165 stops, and in the course of its 6,000 mile journey has dealt with not fewer than 350,000 people, nearly a third of the state's white population.

These facts indicate the scope of this undertaking. The eager and thoughtful interest that met the train wherever it went indicates its results.

To suggest these results in anything like detail would be to follow the daily record of the train's progress, and furthermore to look forward to the improved methods in hundreds of Georgia farms. It may be noted, however, that three particularly important things have been accomplished. The need of analyzing and adapting and building up soils has been demonstrated. If the ton of the train had done nothing except to drive this one idea home into the minds of the people, it would still have wrought incalculable good. The farmer has also been impressed with the independence that is within his reach, if he will but adopt business-like and scientific methods. He has furthermore been aroused to the vital importance of educating his children in the true art of agriculture and of so enriching their lives that they will really love the country and stick to it.

The educational awakening, which the agricultural train has bestirred is of deep and far reaching import to every citizen and every interest of this state. The general life of the commonwealth will feel its stimulus and power, for whatever tends to increase the net value of the state's crops redounds to the whole people's welfare.

Dr. Andrew M. Soule and efficient co-workers in the College of Agriculture are to be congratulated and most liberally thanked for the good work they have done. They have had the valuable cooperation of Commissioner Thos. G. Hudson, of the State Department of Agriculture; of State Entomologist Woshum, of Mr. Emmet Catanis, president of the Farmers' Union; and also of the general public of every county into which they have gone.—Atlanta Journal.

TREASURE OF $1,250,000 IN RUINS OF OLD HOUSE.

London, March 28.—Treasure trove to the value of $1,250,000 is reported from Jersey, where it was uncovered by Athelstan Riley while he was pulling down the ruins of an old manor house built in thirteenth century, with the object of using the stone to enlarge his present manor. The discovery included ancient urns filled with spade coins coined during the reign of King George II. One urn bears the monogram of Emperor Vaspasian, the Roman, who flourished in the first century.

A HAPPY SOLUTION OF THE SENATORIAL SITUATION.
(From the Augusta Chronicle.)

The Georgia senatorial situation still refuses to "shape-up." And for a very good reason, to wit: Outside of two names—Governor-elect Hoke Smith, on the one side, and Senator Terrell on the other—no one seems to be seriously considering making the race for the United States senatorship; nor does anyone else seem to be seriously considered by the public in connection therewith.

Yet there are many reasons why the people should, at this time, look to other than the two rival politicians in choosing a successor to the late Senator Clay. But we want no better reason than this—political peace and harmony in Georgia, for a time at least. And we believe the people of Georgia would much prefer to settle this senatorial situation on a basis of political peace and harmony, provided the proper man can be found.

Our "aspirants"—no one other than Messrs. Smith and Terrell has been brought forward who would seem to measure up to the requirements; if, perhaps, we might be permitted to mention, by way of exception, two South Georgians, either of whom would preserve the best traditions of Georgia in the United States senate; and, at the same time, give just recognition to a section of the state that has too long been left out in the cold politically.

Unfortunately—and we say it with all due respect for the variety of these is Hon. William G. Brantley, present congressman from the Eleventh district, and the other is Hon. Pleasant A. Stovall, editor and owner of the Savannah Press. The former might be placed in the "Smith camp." But neither is, or has ever been, so partisan as to bar him from being an acceptable peace and harmony candidate for both factions.

From the very best information obtainable, it would seem that Mr. Brantley is to be no longer considered in connection with the senatorship at this time; although, we doubt not, the time will come when he will serve Georgia in the United States senate.

This, then, in the Chronicle's opinion, narrows the situation down to Stovall, of Chatham; or, we might say, Stovall, of Chatham, Richmond, Clarke and the state at large; for at least three counties in Georgia are proud to claim Pleasant A. Stovall as a "favorite son," while he is a Georgian in the broadest sense of the term.

It so happens that the political ways of the Chronicle and the Savannah Press have seldom met—generally we have found ourselves in one political camp, while Stovall was in the other—but there has ever been that about him which wins the respect and admiration and, in the end, the friendship of every man, of whatever political faith or faction, with whom he comes in contact; for Pleasant A. Stovall is clean through and through; brilliant to a degree; as fearless and honest as any man living; true as steel to friends and principle; a man without selfishness and without guile.

Knowing him to be such a man, we trust the Chronicle may never be so partisan as not to be able to admit the fitness of such a man for high political honor, whatever our factional differences may have been in the past. We would have to turn no political somersault, nor suffer a wrench of our political opinion column to support, heartily and enthusiastically, such a man as Pleasant A. Stovall for the highest office within the gift of the people.

In this instance, indeed, we would consider it not only a duty, but a privilege to do so, should he be induced to enter the senatorial race; for we regard him—and almost him alone—as a man on whom men of both factions could center and thus bring political order peace out of political chaos.

We are not amongst those who would at any time purchase "peace at any price," but we do say that, at this particular time, when it can be had so easily and to such good purpose—by taking a man who is, mentally and morally, the peer of any—people should grasp the opportunity.

We do not happen to know the "inside" of the senatorial "game" that is now being played in Georgia—if there be a game—because we have not been discussing or worrying about politics lately; but we have heard it intimated that the program of a certain faction is to bring about a Smith "sample," at the proper time, as they did in the gubernatorial situation a year ago.

This we would be "forced to regard as a serious mistake; and we shall be fair enough to believe that Mr. Smith, himself, is not a party to it just as we now admit—in the light of subsequent information—that he was not a party to the "stampede" which forced him into the last gubernatorial fight.

We shall, also, be fair enough to admit, that, like William G. Brantley, his time for the United States senatorship may yet come. But it is not now. And for the very good reason that he has just been elected governor; holding a commission from the people of Georgia to serve them in that particular capacity for the next two years—which commission he has solemnly accepted, pledging himself to do certain things which the people have entrusted to him.

Moreover, Mr. Smith, himself, stands opposed to a senatorship primary, for the reason that it will, again, bring about another needless political contest before the people; and, for the same reason, would bar him from throwing up the governorship to accept the senatorship and thus forcing an even worse fight before the people.

It is obvious, then, that he cannot now throw up that commission, and, by so doing, precipitate another bitter political fight in Georgia—another gubernatorial contest—following so soon upon the heels of one from the effects of which we have not yet entirely recovered.

In the same sense, Senator Terrell's candidacy involves a heated factional contest—which the people do not want. Such a contest can be easily avoided, and, at the same time, secure for Georgia the services in the United States senate of a man who is as well equipped to serve her in that capacity as any man within her borders. A man whose past record, both as a journalist and as a legislator, may be put under the microscope without finding a flaw; and whose future record, in the United States senate or at home, may be safely placed alongside of the best that ever adorned Georgia's history—Stovall, of Savannah.

SMITH AND BROWN MEN UNITING ON STOVALL FOR THE SENATE.

The name of Hon. P. A. Stovall was suggested as the man to unite all factions in Georgia and at the same time give South Georgia the senator and all the state a statesman in the upper house at Washington. The suggestion came from the Vidalia Advance only a few days ago. It was promptly seconded by the Statesboro News, the Americus Times Recorder, the Savannah Telephone, the Athens Banner and many other papers.

We have seldom seen a suggestion take with such favor. Last Saturday and Sunday saw the Augusta Chronicle, staunch organ of the Brown forces, came out in a big editorial demanding all sides in Georgia lay aside all strife and now unite on Mr. Stovall and thus leave Governor Smith as Governor and Senator Terrell at home. The Atlanta Constitution and Atlanta Georgian gave great display to the mention of Stovall.

From reliable sources the News learns that Mr. Stovall now has a great following among members of the General Assembly. It looks more and more like Stovall to us.

PRISONER IS TRIED BY FELLOW PRISONERS.

Dalton, Ga., March 25.—Friday morning prisoners in the Whitefield county jail set an example which many local people believe the courts would do well to pattern after, for they tried one of their fellow prisoners, sentenced him and then executed the sentence without permitting the convicted one an appeal to another court, as his guilt was established beyond doubt.

The prisoner was Gordon Clements, a young man arrested Thursday night for drunkenness and disorderly conduct. After he was placed in jail he proceeded to whoop things up and prevented the remaining prisoners from sleeping. He was not disturbed until Friday morning, when he was hastily jerked up before a well organized "court of justice," composed of his fellow prisoners. He was permitted counsel and was given a fair hearing; but his guilt was established beyond doubt.

Following his conviction he was permitted to say what he wanted to before sentence was passed, and then the "judge" solemnly pronounced the sentence: "The prisoner shall pay a fine of 25 cents and shall be given 25 lashes across the back."

Ready hands seized him and for a time the old whipping post was revived. One of the prisoners took off his heavy leather belt, and the lashes were administered with a hand none too gentle; for the whipping boss remembered the sleepless hours of the night before.

The fine was collected and put in the treasury to be put to some good use in the future.

MORSE AND WALSH MUST STAY IN PEN

They Will Deny Their Appeals for Freedom. Recommendation of the Attorney General Adverse in Both Cases, and That Will Be Governed by It—Story That Morse Is Breaking Down in Denial.

Washington, March 27.—From sources close to the president, it was learned today that the pardon appeals of the two convicted bankers, Charles W. Morse, of New York, and John R. Walsh, of Chicago, undoubtedly will be denied. It is stated that the attorney general's recommendation in both cases is adverse, and that the president will follow his findings.

Reports that Charles Morse, now in the Atlanta penitentiary, is in a critical condition are without foundation, according to an unofficial statement today by the department of justice.

President Taft has had Morse's application for clemency under consideration about three weeks. He also has considered an application for the pardon of John R. Walsh, now in the Leavenworth penitentiary.

Morse is serving a fifteen-year sentence, while Walsh is serving a sentence of five years.

FAILURE OF THE PROHIBITION LAW?

Harper's Weekly for March 18 has a two page illustration article entitled "The Failure of Prohibition in the South," with the following sub-title: "Public sentiment has proved stronger than law in five states, one of which—Alabama—has already modified her prohibitory law, passed only two years ago, while Tennessee may follow suit."

The article is an admirable mixture of truth, untruth and erroneous implication. For instance, the heading gives the impression that, one by one, the prohibition states of the South will soon repeal their state-wide laws, when, as a matter of fact, nothing is further from the truth. Alabama has repealed its law by making possible a return to the saloon or the dispensary by local option elections. But this repeal was caused by too much prohibition instead of the failure of prohibition.

The first Alabama law was enacted with the sentiment of the state overwhelmingly in favor of it. The legislature followed the first enactment with one many times more drastic, and in addition tried to have a drastic prohibition amendment put in the constitution.

The whiskey interests, taking advantage of the inevitable reaction against the too radical acts of the legislature and raising the cry, "Personal liberty is imperiled and the sanctity of the home menaced," stampeded the people into returning to local option.

Here not the failure, but the excess force of state-wide prohibition caused its downfall. The article, which is written by

R. E. Pritchard, bases the probable repeal of the Tennessee law upon the following: "Retiring Governor M. R. Patterson, of Tennessee, in his last message declared that the law had not only proved a failure, but has had a bad effect upon the people of the state."

It neglects, however, to state that the reason why Governor Patterson was at that time retiring was because of his alignment with the opposition to state-wide prohibition, and that this opposition had the bad effect on him of putting him out of politics permanently in Tennessee.

With a prohibition governor and a prohibition combination in control of the legislature, which recently elected a prohibitionist to the United States senate, it is not likely that Tennessee will repeal its state-wide law very soon. Mr. Pritchard then has much to say about "blind tigers," the non-enforcement of the law is the big virtue, and the various means whereby the law is evaded, and herein he tells much truth, though the impression he leaves is false—namely, that because of these things a return to the old liquor conditions is desirable.

Blind tigers and violations of the liquor regulations flourished in the old liquor days also, but the open saloon such as then existed, with its train of innumerable evils, is gone—and this is the momentous fact of prohibition in the South today.

There were violations of the law with saloons and there are violations without them, and there will always be some violations of every law, but the Southern prohibition, states vastly prefer these violations with the saloon gone than with it present.

Georgia has prospered under prohibition. It has increased in wealth and population, while Atlanta has leaped into second place among the cities of the South. Exploded beyond repair is the old contention that prohibition hurts business. It hurts only the whiskey business and boosts all others. Atlanta was never in the midst of such business and building activity as it is now.

In Atlanta, moreover, prohibition has decreased drunkenness, crime and disorder. This has been shown by indisputable statistics. And that it is pre-eminently foolish to say that prohibition doesn't prohibit because all drinking and drunkenness is not stopped. The prohibition laws never tried to do this. So long as whiskey may be legally shipped into a state, that is beyond their power.

But prohibition has killed the old whiskey saloon—an organized force corruptive both of society and of politics; and the law has been enforced, too, as well as could have been expected of any law passed over opposition as strong. Sentiment for its better enforcement is growing everywhere.

As to the prohibition law of this state—with all its faults Georgia will cling to it still.

WILL CONSIDER PEACE PLANS

Washington, March 25.—Members of congress who are beginning to gather here for the special session are apathetic over President Taft's plan for an arbitration treaty with England, France and Japan, which has for its ultimate end a limitation of armaments and world peace for all time.

Judging from the expressions of a few senators who are identified with treaty matters, the upper house will hardly take the proposals so serious as is being done abroad, although the senate may accept eventually to the plea of the president for a ratification of the instruments he may succeed in having drawn up and put through by the state department. More than one senator is inclined to the belief that while an arbitration treaty between Great Britain and the United States might some day prevent a war, treaties, as a rule, are worthless when it comes to demonstration in defense of a country's honor.

President Taft has not yet conferred with any of the senators on his world's peace plans, with the exception of Senator Culloms, of Illinois, with whom he has talked concerning the proposed treaties, which are referred to foreign relations, to which are referred all treaties before the senate takes action on them.

The senator said today that the president would transmit certain arbitration treaties to the senate and he thought that the senate might consider them favorably.

AIRSHIP COMPANY TO BEGIN WORK

The Glisson Aerial Transportation Company, whose project is to build gigantic aerial vessels for carrying passengers and freight, and establishing aerial transportation lines to all parts of the world, announce that sufficient stock has already been sold in the proposition to enable them to start building the first airship "Atlanta."

Arrangements are being made to secure property near Piedmont Park for the building of a plant, and equipment and supplies are being ordered.

Lloyd C. Glisson, the inventor, is busy every day in his office in the Candler building, showing his drawings and the picture of the completed ship to visitors and prospective stockholders. He is enthusiastic over the building of the balloon-biplane, and is confident that "Atlanta" will fly in the near future.—Georgian.

DIAZ CABINET HAS RESIGNED

Believes it Will Contribute to the Re-establishment of Peace, Say They.

WILL ACT ON THEM TODAY

Vice-President Resigns as Minister of the Interior, But Retains Former Title. All the Members Have Been Objectable to Members of the Insurrecto Party.

Mexico City, March 24.—The Diaz cabinet resigned in a body at a special meeting today. The President deferred action upon the matter for the present.

The reasons given for the action in an official announcement is the belief that it will contribute to the re-establishment of peace and facilitate the reforms which are in contemplation.

Thanks Ministers.

Enrique Creel, minister of foreign relations, presented the resignations in behalf of all of the ministers. General Diaz thanked the retiring members for their efficient and patriotic co-operation in the past, and announced that he would postpone his acceptance or rejection until later.

The resignations included that of Ramon Cerral as minister of the department of Gobernacion, corresponding to the department of the interior in the United States, but not as vice president.

Not one of the men who until today formed President Diaz's cabinet is less than 65 years old and a number of them are much older. With the exception of Enrique Creel, minister of foreign affairs, all have been members of the President's official family for a great many years and this fact alone has been one of the grie-ances of the revolutionists, who have insisted that the chief executive should surround himself with representatives of the younger generation, men more closely in touch with the affairs of the people.

Those Resigning.

Following are those whose resignations were received: Enrique C. Creel, minister of foreign affairs; Ramon Cerral, minister of interior; Jose Yves Limantour, minister of finance; Olegario Molina, minister of education; Justo Sierra, minister of education; Manuel Gonzalez Cosio, minister of war and marine; Leandro Fernandez, minister of justice.

Without exception all of these men have contributed valuable services to their country and to the President, but the popular feeling has been growing against them steadily since long before the beginning of the revolution. Ramon Cerral is not so old that his age can be used as an argument against his usefulness, but ill health during the past few months has served the same purpose, especially when it is taken into consideration that the man has not been popular among a great proportion of the people from whose ranks the revolutionists are drawn.

Creel Too Rich.

Enrique C. Creel is not by any means in the decrepit class, but he, too, has fallen under the displeasure of the forces opposing the administration and his age serves as an excuse. What has contributed more than age, however, to his unpopularity among the masses or the fact that he is a rich man and incurred the hostility of many in his own state, Chihuahua. That Mr. Creel is a diplomat was demonstrated in the conduct of his office as ambassador to the United States and his record as a cabinet officer was considered good by the conservative element.

Arrest Suspects.

Monterey, Mexico, March 24.—Sixteen men were taken from an international train here last night by the authorities and placed in jail in the belief that they were revolutionary sympathizers and attempting to mobilize in that vicinity. Wednesday night six men with tickets from Tamaulipas, Mexico, to San Antonio, Texas, were arrested, and Tuesday the drug net secured four who are said to have come from lower California. Every day for a month passengers have been taken from trains to jail with explanation. The total is believed to have reached into the hundreds.

Jose Yves Limantour, who, it is member to remain, is an old man, but yet regarded as one of the shrewdest and ablest men in the republic. There is an element which will not be pleased at his retention, but there is none who says he should be retired solely on account of his age.

Built Up Schools.

Justo Sierra, minister of education, entered the cabinet many years ago, and to him is largely the credit for building up Mexico's schools. Towards him objection has rarely been made. The three men against whom the masses have cried "Old age," are Leandro Fernandez, Justo Sierra, and General Cosio. In years gone by these men have accomplished much these men have accomplished much in their respective offices; but it is an open secret that for the last three or four years their duties have been materially lightened by distribution among subordinates.

The news that the cabinet had resigned spread rapidly throughout the city. In all quarters it elicited favorable comment, but not all would go so far as to repeat the note of optimism sounded in the official statement of the resignations, that it would serve to restore peace.

Not Unexpected.

The resignation of the Diaz cabinet was not unexpected in Washington. The state department for some time has been receiving private advices stating that a change was being contemplated by President Diaz.

BROKEN IN HEALTH GAYNOR RELEASED

Appeared Dazed When Told He Did Not Have to Return to Prison, After Having Taken Pauper's Oath—Will Return to His Home in Syracuse, N. Y., After Spending Night in Hotel.

Atlanta, Ga., March 24.—Decrip and broken in health by illness and long time in prison, John F. Gaynor, who with Benjamin D. Greene, was convicted of embezzlement from the government in connection with harbor improvements at Savannah, Ga., took the pauper's oath late today and walked out a free man. The oath released Gaynor, as it did Captain Greene from an obligation to pay the government the $575,000 fine imposed on them in connection with their prison sentences. It also marked the end of the Greene-Gaynor litigation in the United States courts which has extended over 12 years.

When Commissioner Colquitt announced that he was free, Col. Gaynor acted dazed.

"And I don't have to go back to jail any more, eh?" he inquired.

Gaynor turned to leave the stand his attorney, T. B. Felder, asked him where he was going.

"To get something to eat," was Gaynor's laconic answer. He will spend the night at a local hotel and leave for his home at Syracuse, N. Y., some time tomorrow.

Gaynor's hearing was brief, only the perfunctory questions necessary to show that he had no money or property concealed, being asked. Several times he forgot himself in his answers. At one time when Assistant District Attorney Erwin sought to identify him as the same man who was indicted, tried and sentenced for embezzlement and other charges broke in with, "Yes, yes, they accused me of so many things that I know but a little about them."

Again when asked about his fortune and the disposition of it he replied that it all "had gone to the devil."

Warning to Railroad Men.

Look out for severe and even dangerous kidney and bladder trouble resulting from years of railroad work. Geo. B. Bell, 639 Third St. Fort Wayne, Ind., was many years a conductor on the Nickel Plate. He says: "Twenty years of railroad work left my kidneys in terrible condition. There was a continual pain across my back and hips and in my kidneys gave me much distress, and the action of my bladder was frequent and most painful. I got a supply of Foley Kidney Pills and the first bottle made a wonderful improvement and four bottles cured me completely. Since being cured I have recommended Foley Kidney Pills to many of my railroad friends." W. H. Ellis Co.

"Why do they call Washington the city of magnificent distances?" "Because," answered the office seeker, "it is such a long way between what you go after and what you get."—Washington Herald.

GREENE IS FREE, HAVING TAKEN PAUPER'S OATH

(Atlanta Constitution.)

Benjamin D. Greene is free. Hounded by government sleuths for years, tried, convicted and sentenced for the embezzlement of government funds at Savannah, and confined for four years behind the gloomy walls of the local federal prison, the white-haired old man has at last paid to the uttermost farthing the price society has demanded of him, and as the shades of night were falling over the city yesterday evening he walked from the federal building once more a free man.

Last night for the first time in over 12 years, he slept without the overpowering consciousness of impending disaster and today for the first time in almost as long, he walks the streets a free man, afraid to look as one in the face, knowing he has paid the debt the law and society has demanded of him.

"I believe the evidence in this hearing has been such that the applicant should be allowed to take the oath," said United States Commissioner Walter Colquitt late in the afternoon and as he spoke the prison doors forever swung shut behind the white-haired old man.

LIBERTY COUNTY BOY TO TRAINING SCHOOL

He Robbed the Postoffice Till of $58.40 Last January.

(Savannah Press.) Judge Speer was confronted by a difficult and pathetic case in the United States court yesterday when he received the plea of guilty interposed by Walter Horne, a young white man from Ludowici. The theft was committed last January.

Horne, who is 15 years old, admitted that he robbed the postoffice till at Ludowici of $58.40. His father was postmaster. The father was in court to speak for the boy, and he wept bitterly while the case was under consideration. He stated by way of extenuation for the offense of the lad that when a child Walter was shot in the head and since then has not been altogether mentally responsible.

Judge Speer was sorry for the young fellow, but his duty compelled him to impose some penalty, so he sentenced the defendant to the National Training School for Boys at Washington for one year and a day. The father made full restitution to the government promptly upon the discovery of the loss.

EXPECT RUSSIA TO DECLARE WAR

China's Obstinate Regarding the Freedom of Russian Trade in Mongolia is the Reason for Persistent Rumor.

London, March 24.—Private cables received by London business houses from representatives in the far East today assert that it is expected Russia will soon declare war against China. The rate at Lloyd's to cover risks on the outbreak of hostilities within four weeks jumped this afternoon from five to ten guineas per cent.

China Obstinate.

St. Petersburg, March 24.—An official dispatch to the government from Peking today states that China remains obstinate regarding the freedom of Russian trade in Mongolia, maintaining that Russia is entitled merely to import non-Chinese goods and export products.

The dispatch adds that apparently the Chinese government intends to prolong the negotiations in the hope that Russia will back down.

To Mobilize Troops.

Vladivostok, March 24.—Persistent rumors are current here that a mobilization of troops soon will be ordered. The families of railroad employees on the Russian eastern lines are preparing to depart.

ORDELE GIVES NEW ROAD A PANCHISE.

Georgia, Southwestern and Gulf Railway to Begin Extension of the Line at Once.

Cordele, Ga., March 25.—President W. M. Legg, of the Georgia Southwestern and Gulf Railroad, together with General Counsel Col. John D. Madison, of Bainbridge, and local counsel, appeared before the mayor and city council of Cordele yesterday evening and secured a right of way for the extension of their road to Hawkinsville, a distance of 35 miles. The new road will run parallel with the tracks of the Georgia Southern and Florida railroad until it reaches the city limits and thence in a northeasterly direction to Tiptonville and Hawkinsville. Work of constructing the extension will begin as early as the management of the road can organize its forces. The work of extending the road from Albany, Ga., to St. Andrews Bay, Florida, will also begin at the same time. When completed this road will be another big trunk line from the Gulf coast to the Atlantic seaboard for Cordele.

Atlanta, Ga., March 24.—A book, which is in the nature of a bulletin from the state agricultural department, containing a highly valuable compilation of facts and statistics concerning Georgia, has just been issued. The booklet which is entitled "Prosperous Georgia: the Ideal Home for All Classes," was prepared under direction of Commissioner T. G. Hudson, and the compilation itself is largely the work of Prof. J. T. Derry, statistician of the department, and Capt. R. F. Wright, assistant commissioner.

It is a publication that should have the widest distribution for it brings out in a concrete way the advantages of the state from an agricultural view point. There are scores of valuable tables and

ONE OF THREE THINGS WILL HAPPEN

Straws Show That Prediction Made by Statesboro News May Soon Materialize.

The Statesboro News has been forecasting a little for the past thirty days or more on what may happen in local railroad circles. It has believed that certain signs indicate, certain results, and judging from the way the straws are pointing nowadays there is something going to happen.

As stated in our last issue there is an unusual amount of activity in local railroad circles. The visit of President W. J. Oliver and party looking over the S. A. & N. had been clearly forecasted by this paper. The fact that he went to Savannah and held a conference with the officials of the Seaboard Air Line and Savannah & Statesboro railway, meaning here as he did fresh from a conference with officials of the Georgia and Florida in Augusta and Richmond, means that the Savannah, Augusta & Northern will soon change hands.

Mr. Oliver gave out a statement here that he would either extend the line or sell it. Now that is exactly what we have been saying he was going to do; not extend but sell, or in other words be absorbed. As for extending the line, Mr. Oliver has no more intention of extending it beyond its intersection with the Georgia and Florida than he has of taking wings and flying. The S. A. & N. will soon fill the missing link between the Georgia and Florida line and Savannah.

One of these things is going to happen.

The News makes the following forecast:

First, the G. & Fla. Ry. will buy the S. A. & N. and use the S. & N. for a long time of years, giving us a through line from Augusta to Savannah. In this event all of the S. & S. offices will be abolished in Statesboro.

Second, the Seaboard Air Line will take over the S. & S. and S. A. & N. and put these lines under the supervision of Mr. Vismaslaw, superintendent at Savannah, and operate the lines as a part of the Seaboard. If this deal goes through it also means a loss of the general offices of the S. & S. to Statesboro.

Third, the S. & S. will take over the S. A. & N. and give us a through line from Midville to Savannah. All train crews would have to move to Midville, but the general offices would remain in Statesboro.

One of the proposed deals is certainly going through, but we can not say as to the exact date, as the fiscal year with all roads ends on June 30th, and we may expect to hear of the change some time between now and June 30th, 1911.

The visit of Mr. Baoot, who is the operating officer of the S. & S. to Portsmouth, is suggestive at this time. The visit of Mr. W. B. Moore, who is auditor of the S. & S. to New York just at this time, also bears the earmarks that a man was wanted in New York who had on the tips of his fingers the figures bearing on the value and earning capacity of the Savannah and Statesboro railway.

It may be that the consolidation of the lines may be delayed until summer on account of the fact that June 30th is the ending of

WELL OUT
SEA ISLAND ACREAGE

The committee appointed to superintend a canvass of the county, circulating petitions asking to agree to reduce their acreage in Sea Island cotton, met in the court house on Saturday and went over the reports. While the work had not been absolutely completed yet the greater portion of the growers had been reached, and the result of the canvass was very satisfactory to the parties in charge of the movement. Nearly 50 per cent as compared with last year's acreage, will be cut off this year. A great many sections are not going to plant it at all, and it is being cut out in every section of the county. In the Sink Hole district, where more Sea Island cotton is raised than in any three other districts in the county the reduction will be forty-three per cent. In other sections it will be reduced more than this. The next two weeks will tell the tale, and all eyes are on the farmers to see if they really mean it.

The Sea Island cotton growers met en masse at the court house at Statesboro Saturday morning at ten o'clock. Chairman A. M. Deal called the body to order. The canvassers of the several districts reported the results of their canvassing. More than six hundred pledges were secured from the leading farmers to reduce the acreage from 15 to 100 per cent, making the general average of 45 per cent throughout the county. It is highly probable the acreage will be cut 50 per cent, as the work is yet unfinished.

A strong sentiment is found to exist among the farmers to erect a manufacturing plant to manufacture Sea Island cotton. Some farmers signifying their willingness to subscribe stock to the amount of $500.00. All seem to be willing to take some. Yet need not be surprised to find in the near future, an up-to-date, well equipped Sea Island cotton factory owned and operated by the producers of Sea Island cotton.

SPURIOUS DIMES FLOATED IN TEXAS.

Hundreds of Counterfeit Pieces Discovered Along Mexican Border. Contained Real Silver.

San Antonio, Texas, April 2.—For some time many cities of Texas have been flooded with counterfeit dimes. When these were tested they were found to contain more silver than the genuine coins from the government mints, but the workmanship is poor. The coins were made from Mexican dollars, and these contain more silver than the American dollar.

It is said, too, that the counterfeiters succeeded in getting 15 American dimes out of one Mexican dollar, or, in other words, they could make $1.80 of circulating medium with 50 cents worth of silver.

It is estimated they put fully $10,000 of this spurious coinage into circulation in the past four months. Secret service men have been trying to locate the persons who manufacture these coins, and have been led a merry chase for several months.

Yesterday, however, they were more successful and arrested two Mexicans, Celso and Bernabe Felix, brothers, who reside in El Paso. The fact that the two men were living high and spending a good deal of money caused suspicion to be directed to them.

STORM ALABAMA JAIL AND LYNCH NEGRO.

Man Charged With 'Criminally Assaulting White Woman Is Speedily Strung Up and Body Riddled With Bullets.

Union Springs, Ala., April 2.—Aberdeen Johnson, a young man gro, was lynched on the outskirts of this place early this afternoon by a mob which came from Goshen, Pike county, this state.

The lynching followed the storming of the Bullock county jail here. The sheriff of Bullock county was handcuffed and tied in the jail after the mob dispersed with the prisoner.

Johnson was charged with assaulting a white woman who lived near Goshen. After being strung up to a tree his body was riddled with bullets.

The crime was committed a month ago. Johnson was captured this morning about eight o'clock near Union Springs and placed in the Bullock county jail.

News of the capture quickly spread and a mob was formed early this morning at Goshen. They took the Central of Georgia train to Union Springs, arriving there about 10 o'clock. The mob was slow in forming their plans and the sheriff of Bullock county called up the governor at Montgomery immediately but while the soldiers were gathering in their armories there, the mob had stormed the jail and secured the prisoner.

ALFALFA IS GROWING GOOD NEAR WAYCROSS.

Waycross, Ga., April 2.—At his farm six miles from Waycross, one of Ware's new settlers, W. E. Macey, of a Middle Western state, has alfalfa growing, and is so well pleased with his initial experiment that he is clearing a large acreage of alfalfa.

It has been contended for a long time that alfalfa, one of the greatest foods for stock known, could be raised successfully in South Georgia and some farmers in various sections have from time to time proven this contention. In Ware a number of farmers have grown a little alfalfa, but it remained for the new settlers to grasp the importance of the product.

Mr. Macey is located in a new settlement recently settled here, among whom are S. E. Couch, J. E. Weaver, D. E. Mudge and C. Honeck.

DIES AFTER FORTY VISITS TO CORPSE

She Fulfilled Conditions of Will, But Horror Was Too Much for Her.

Chester, Pa., April 4.—Forty visits to the vault where lay her husband's body, visits made on successive days, as decreed in the husband's will, to assure that he would not be buried alive, so distressed Mrs. Mary Abbott that she died last Monday.

She had paid her last visit to the temporary tomb. The husband, Henry Abbott, was then buried, and the widow, an invalid, weakened by the torments endured for forty days, collapsed.

She was taken home agonized, stricken, soon fell into convulsions and died.

Abbott, who was a retired hotel proprietor, died six weeks ago, leaving $150,000 to his widow, with the terrifying proviso that she faithfully observe Mrs. Abbott stood the ordeal fairly, well until two weeks ago. Every day she went to the vault and gazed upon that still face. Gradually the strain preyed upon her nerves. Friends noticed yesterday she was suffering agonies of mind. When she left the vault after her last look at her husband's features she almost fainted. By apparent effort she bore the ordeal of the burial rites. Then came the fatal collapse.

Mr. Abbott's wishes are explained as follows: For the last quarter of a century he had been a director of the Chester Rural Cemetery Company and took an active interest in the corporation. About ten years ago he was in the burial grounds when the body of a man was discovered for removal. The coffin was opened in his presence and he was horrified on seeing that the body was lying dead.

"The man was buried alive," gasped the director. The cemetery superintendent explained that the body had evidently been jostled out of the natural position while the coffin was being carried to the hearse or the grave, but Mr. Abbott would not be convinced.

"I'll see that this does not happen in my case," was the parting words of Mr. Abbott to the superintendent, and that day he sent for his lawyer and directed that his will contain a codicil preventing his burial for forty days after death. He died on a ferryboat between Philadelphia and Camden. Mrs. Abbott was a second wife. She was 50 years old. Her husband's estate now reverts to children by his first wife.

On yesterday the four-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Riley Jones died after an illness of several weeks with pneumonia. The remains will be buried tomorrow at the family burial ground.

STRIPLING CASE HEARD THURSDAY

Governor Brown Says Record Is Most Complicated One.

Atlanta, April 4.—The Stripling case will be taken up by the State Prison Commission Thursday and present indications are that the hearing will occupy several days. Governor Brown, who sat up Friday and Saturday nights until 3 a. m. and midnight respectively, studying the case, says that the record is one of the most complicated and difficult to unravel he has ever encountered in a simple conviction for murder.

The hearing will be further complicated by the fact that attorneys will appear both on behalf of and against the former Danville chief of police, H. C. Cameron of
