Chicago, April 5.—Edward Hines late today denied absolutely the story told the committee of the legislature which is investigating the election of United States Senator William Lorimer, that he, Hines, had solicited a fund of $100,000 to reimburse those who had "put up" for the senator's election.

Cyrus H. McCormick, president of the International Harvester Company, confirmed Mr. Funk's statement before the senate bribery investigating committee that the Hines incident had been discussed by officials of the International.

WAS LORIMER'S SEAT PURCHASED

Senate Committee at Last Gets to Bottom of Matter. Lorimer's Election Cost Hundred Thousand Dollars.

Springfield, Ill., April 5.—H. H. Kohlsaat, publisher of the Chicago Herald, today told the senate bribery investigating committee that Clarence S. Funk, general manager of the International Harvester Company, was the man who informed Mr. Kohlsaat that a "slush fund" of $100,000 was put up to elect William Lorimer to the United States senate.

To the first question of Attorney J. J. Healy, Mr. Kohlsaat identified a telegram sent by him to Chairman Helm saying his confidant called at the Record-Herald office and was willing to appear before the committee.

"When I arrived at my office Mr. Clarence Funk called and told me he would be less than a man if he held me to my confidence," testified Mr. Kohlsaat.

All Agreeable.

"Mr. Funk told me that he talked with Cyrus R. McCormick, president of the company, and told him he thought he ought to release me, whereupon Mr. McCormick said:

"Good; that is exactly what I want. I do not care for the consequences to the International Harvester Company."

"I met Mr. Funk about thirty days after the confession of White. He did not seek me out at all. Mr. Funk told me the man who came to him told him they had an opportunity to elect Lorimer with a fund of $100,000. They sent it down and Mr. Funk told me they were looking for reimbursement."

Mr. Funk was the next witness called. His attention was called to a conversation with Edward C. Hines, shortly after the Lorimer election. The witness said:

Cost $100,000 to Do It.

"The conversation took place in the Union League Club house. It was an accidental meeting. He said he had been waiting to see me and we sat in the lounge room. Hines said to me without preliminaries:

"Well, we put Lorimer in, but it cost $100,000 to do it."

"He said: 'We had to act quickly, so that it became necessary for us to put up the money. Now we are seeing some of our friends to get it fixed up.'

"He gave me to understand that they wanted to be reimbursed, and I asked him why he came to us, and he said: 'You are interested as much as any one in having the right kind of a man in Washington.'

"I told him that we would have nothing to do with it."

CHAMP CLARK WIELDS GAVEL OVER HOUSE

62nd Congress Meets in Extraordinary Session With Democrats Controlling.

CLARK GIVEN AN OVATION WHEN HE TOOK THE OATH

There Was a Great Crowd Present When Congress Assembled, and the Interest in the Proceedings Was Intense. Mann Is Named Floor Leader by Republicans.

Political Complexions of the 62d Congress.

The political complexion of the sixty-second congress, convened in extraordinary session, is as follows:

Senate — Republicans 50, Democrats 41, vacancy 1.
House — Democrats 228, Republicans 160, Socialist 1, vacancy 2.

In the sixty-first congress, which adjourned March 4, the senate membership was: Republicans 59, Democrats 32, vacancy 1.

The house membership was: Republicans 217, Democrats 174.

The senate vacancy is from Colorado. The legislature of that state has elected a successor to the late Senator Delaney, whose seat now is occupied by Lafayette Young.

The house vacancies are from the ninth Iowa and the second Pennsylvania districts.

Washington, April 4.—The sixty-second congress, called by President Taft in extraordinary session to consider the reciprocity agreement with Canada, got under way today.

The insurgent Republicans of the house in their votes for speaker indicated that they intend to maintain a separate working organization. Fifteen of them voted for Representative Cooper, of Wisconsin. Representative Norris of Nebraska, Madison of Kansas, however, temporarily deserted and voted with the regular Republicans for Mr. Mann, Thayer of New York, also voted for Cooper. Victor L. Berger, of Wisconsin, the only socialist in the house, declined to vote.

Interest in the House.
The interest of opening day centered almost entirely in the house and the routine proceedings of the senate were all but forgotten. The re-elected and new senators were sworn in under the old regime and then a recess was ordered to await the organization of the house and the report of a committee appointed to wait upon the president.

It is not likely that the president's message, which will deal only with Canadian reciprocity, will not be read until tomorrow.

Representative McCall, of Massachusetts, who introduced the bill at the last session of congress to carry the reciprocity agreement into effect, reintroduced his measure today and it was referred to the Democratic committee on ways and means, where it will be sidetracked for a similar measure of Democratic origin.

Speaker Clark, in assuming of office in the house, made an address in which he elaborated the legislative program already outlined by the Democratic caucus.

The threat of the Democrats to balk on the reciprocity agreement in the hope of forcing the senate to act on tariff bills, holds no terror for the senate, for many senators, opposed to reciprocity, have stated that they don't care how long the agreement is held up in the house.

Galleries Were Crowded.

The scenes in the house were filled with unusual interest for house galleries, as also were those of the senate, where the galleries were crowded to overflowing early in the day.

Alexander McDowell, for sixteen years a clerk in the house and about to retire in favor of former Representative South Trimble, of Kentucky, called the house to order and made a valedictory speech in which he thanked the members of past congresses for past favors and thanked the members of the new congress for what they were about to do to him.

William Jennings Bryan and Gov. Judson Harmon, of Ohio, were interested spectators of the organization of the house and were greeted with cheers as they appeared on the floor.

Former Speaker Cannon's appearance was not noticed, but when his name was called as a member of the Illinois delegation there was a round of applause.

After Clerk McDowell had called the house to order, Chairman Couden offered prayer and the clerk called the roll of states to ascertain the presence of a quorum. Mr. Clark all the while was waiting in his office to be notified that he had been chosen to preside over the house for the next two years. The roll call disclosed the presence of 365 members out of a total membership of 391.

Election of Speaker.
Nominations for speaker then went in order. Mr. Clark was nominated by the Republican caucus, chairman of the Democratic caucus. Mr. Mann was nominated by Representative Currier, of New Hampshire, chairman of the Republican caucus. The insurgents did not go through the formality of nominating their candidate, Mr. Cooper.

Neither Mr. Clark nor Mr. Mann voted. Mr. Cooper voted for Norris, of Nebraska.

The insurgents who voted for Mr. Cooper, in addition to Alkin, New York, were:

Anderson, of Minnesota; Davidson, of Wisconsin; LaFollette, of Washington; Lafferty, Oregon; Jackson, Kansas; Kent, California; Lemont, Wisconsin; Murdoch, Kansas; Nelson, Wisconsin; and Warburton, Washington.

When Clerk McDowell announced the vote by which Mr. Clark was elected the house broke into cheers. When Mr. Clark appeared at the main door on the arm of Mr. Mann there was renewed cheering.

Mr. Mann rapped for order. "It is a great office," he said slowly, "and filled by a great man. Gentlemen, I present to you your speaker, the Hon. Champ Clark, of Missouri."

Mr. Clark himself rapped for order, this time to stop the applause and then he launched into his speech. He frequently was interrupted by applause.

Mrs. Taft, wife of the president, with Miss Helen Taft, Master Charles Taft and Horace D. Taft, brother of the president, occupied the presidential gallery in the house.

Clark Takes the Oath.
When Mr. Clark concluded his address he requested that the oath of office be administered by Representative Taft, of Maryland. The members arose as Mr. Taft read the oath and Mr. Clark subscribed to it. The speaker brought the gavel down with resounding crack and announced:

"The house will be in order."

When the demonstration subsided members advanced by state delegations to be sworn in. Representative Oscar Underwood was the first, as he led the Alabama delegation. Speaker Clark administered the oath. As the last had been sworn in the speaker called forward the four Quakers of the house, who affirm their allegiance to the United States. They were Representatives Butler, Griest and A. Mitchell Palmer, of Pennsylvania, and Roubidoux, of Delaware.

The election of the officers of the house followed. The veteran Republican officials were proposed by Representative Currier, of New Hampshire, but were defeated with the exception of the blind chaplain. The officers chosen were:

Clerk—South Trimble, of Kentucky.
Sergeant-at-Arms—U. S. Jackson, of Indiana.
Doorkeeper—J. J. Sinnott, of Virginia.
Postmaster—William M. Dunbar, of Georgia.
Chaplain—Rev. Henry N. Cowden, of Michigan.

At 1:35 a messenger appeared from the senate to announce the organization of that body and request a committee to notify the president that congress was ready for business.

Speaker Clark appointed Representatives Underwood, Bartlett and Mann as this notification committee.

Certain Leaders Honored.
Before the drawing of seats began Representative Burleson presented a resolution giving to certain leaders of both parties the honor of selecting their own seats. Those favored individuals were former Speaker Cannon, James R. Mann, H. H. Bingham, of Pennsylvania; Soren Payne and John Dalzell on the Republican side, and Oscar W. Underwood, William A. Jones, J. E. Fitzgerald, J. J. Fitzgerald and Isaac W. Sherwood on the Democratic side. Former Speaker Cannon took a seat directly across the aisle from Mr. Dalzell and near Mr. Payne.

Minority Leader Mann moved to a seat back of his former location, but kept close to the center aisle. Chairman Underwood, of the ways and means committee, who will be majority floor leader, chose a seat across the aisle from that formerly occupied by Champ Clark. Thomas J. Scully, of New Jersey, drew the first number and chose the most conspicuous Democratic seat, that occupied at the last congress by Macon, of Arkansas.

A HOPEFUL MESSAGE TO SCALP SUFFERERS AND MEN WHO'S HAIR IS THINNING.

Dandruff now—bald later. The same is true of scalp disease. In fact baldness is a scalp disease. Trouble with the greasy salves, lotions, the so-called dandruff and scalp cures you have tried so far is that they don't do anything but temporarily relieve the itching and make the dandruff so it does not fall until it's dried out again. Nothing can cure—really cure—such troubles but a real scalp medicine that will kill the germ causing dandruff and scalp disease.

Learning from leading fellow-druggists throughout America that they had found a whirlwind cure for dandruff, eczema and all diseases of the skin and scalp, the W. H. Ellis Co. Drug Store, upon proving to the laboratories compounding the treatment that it is the most prominent drug store in this city secured the agency for the remedy. This remedy is ZEMO, the clean, liquid preparation that kills the germ of disease and ZEMO SOAP to wash the scalp or skin clear and clean of the dandruff or scale and by its antiseptic qualities soothe and heal.

Sold and guaranteed by druggists everywhere and in Statesboro by W. H. Ellis Co.

GOING AFTER SUB-TREASURY

Washington, D. C., April 5.—Savannah will be made a sub-treasury if the members of the Georgia delegation in Congress support a bill that Congressman Edwards introduced today to that effect.

Realizing that Savannah is the most important port along the South Atlantic seaboard, Mr. Edwards has begun an early movement to have Congress make that city a branch of the federal treasury. Two or three years ago this matter was before Congress, and several cities were trying to secure the plum. The fight finally became so warm that the session did not have anything to do with it.

"I am determined to push this bill," said Mr. Edwards. "And if I have the assistance of the other members of the Georgia delegation in Congress, I see no reason why I should not be successful. Congressman Underwood of Alabama will also try for a sub-treasury, but as Birmingham clears through Savannah, the latter city is the logical point for its location."

As Congressman Brantley is a member of the Ways and Means Committee, his influence in behalf of Savannah will be of inestimable value. I propose to do all I can to get it for Savannah."

Mr. Edwards also introduced several other important bills. One of these is to return to the people of the South the cotton tax money which was illegally levied on them during the war. Georgia has several million dollars in this claim. With a Democratic House there is reason to believe that this measure will soon be put through.

In behalf of the Georgia Railroad and Banking Company, the government is asked to pay $41,880.68, this claim having originated while the railroad company was transferring mails for the federal authorities during the war.

The last bill Mr. Edwards introduced is to pay to the estate of James Boyd of Savannah, $2,117.61 for property taken by federal soldiers during the war.

In the matter of securing the sub-treasury the assistance of the Savannah Chamber of Commerce in providing statistics will no doubt be of great value.

One big improvement consists in use of field bakeries. In recent years the commissary department has established schools for cooks and bakers at Washington barracks, at Fort Riley and at the Presidio, San Francisco. The field bakery appliances were tested and found excellent in the camps last summer. Now they have been sent to Texas, and for the first time since the civil war, the troops in service are supplied with bread made through the instrumentalities of the government itself.

The bakeries have been shipped to San Antonio, Galveston and San Diego, with competent men to operate them, and they are already turning out bread for the troops.

If an advance were ordered the rations furnished in camp would be largely discarded. The commissary officers would send to the most advanced depot great quantities of bacon and canned meats,hardtack, coffee, sugar and salt. Troops going beyond the advanced depot would carry in their haversacks made up of these articles. In all the fighting of the American armies it has been found that nothing so well serves the purpose of troops when they have days of marching and battling on hand as bacon,hardtack and coffee, and these articles are what the soldiers will eat if they cross into Mexico.

It costs about the same to feed troops whether they are in garrison or in field. The ration for this year costs 23.62 cents. This is considerably more than the cost several years ago. The reason is that the cost of living has gone up and the army has felt it as well as the family.

Now is the time to paint your house. I have the Paint at right prices.

A J. FRANKLIN,
Statesboro, Ga.

GOOD LIVING FOR UNCLE SAM'S BOYS

Uncle Sam's army in the Southwest is going to be well fed on the larger. The commissary department, of which General Henry G. Sharpe is the head, has well-defined plans perfected to that end, says a special from Washington.

When the mobilization is over, it will probably be found that feeding the army has been done in better fashion than ever before, when the troops have been called out to the field. To be sure, they haven't actually taken the field, but they are mobilized, and nobody knows what day the orders to head for the border may be given. If the army has to move across the Rio Grande it won't have to go hungry.

For one thing, an admirable emergency ration has been perfected. Already the war department has arrangements whereby it can obtain emergency rations on short notice, if necessary. The perfected emergency rations are put up in a tin box and the allowance for one day weighs half a pound. It consists of chocolate, sugar, desiccated egg and a substance known as nucleo casein, which is really the proteid of milk. It is rich in food value. Of course, a half pound of emergency ration is not a nine-course dinner at a fashionable hotel. It is not even intended to be the sustenance that troops shall have for any considerable time. It is simply an insurance against starvation.

But the emergency ration is useful only when there is actual service to be done. The problem of feeding the army daily is a much bigger one than to provide the emergency ration. The commissary department has a big task on its hands to provide food supplies for the division of troops at San Antonio, and the brigade at Galveston, and the other forces on the border. Yet it is managed with simplicity. Major Harry E. Wilkins, one of the best commissary officers in the army, is commissary officer in charge at San Antonio, under orders giving him full authority to purchase supplies and take the necessary steps to feed the troops.

While the first ward gave up its usual Democratic plurality, it was not alone from this and the river wards of similar character that Harrison drew his support.

His eight years' service in the major's chair drew out many from the ranks his opponent had not counted on and his promise of seventy-five cent gas was said by his managers to have had a great influence with the west side wards, where he showed unexpected strength.

One of the features of the campaign was the vote polled by the Socialist party. Five-sixths of the total precincts in the first indicated that the vote would reach 24,000, a gain of 11,000 over the vote of four years ago. On the other hand the prohibition vote, which had been 5,875 four years ago, dropped to 3,000 this year.

EIGHT YEARS' SERVICE BRINGS MANY TO POLLS.

Then, Too, There Was the Promise of 75 Cent Gas. Prof. Merriam Gives Up Hope After Hearing Early Returns. Socialists Show Gains and Prohibitionists Losses.

Chicago, April 4.—Carter H. Harrison, Democrat, was elected mayor of Chicago today for the fifth time. His plurality, judged by 75 per cent of the returns at first brought in, was about 18,000.

Professor Charles E. Merriam, his Republican opponent, conceded the election to Mr. Harrison at 6:30 p. m., two and a half hours after the polls closed, but declared that the results were such as would give him hope for another contest. In giving up the fight, Mr. Merriam said:

"I am satisfied with the fight we have made. We have presented the issues of decent, honest, economical and progressive government squarely to the voters in a way that cannot fail to help conditions. The battle must be fought not once, but many times, and in the long run it will prove successful. I congratulate Mr. Harrison on his victory and wish him well in his administration."

Returns by wards show that Professor Merriam was given nearly 7 per cent less votes than Busse (Republican) was accorded four years ago, while Harrison ran over 17 per cent ahead of the figures attained by Dunne (Democrat) at that time. The vote reached above 340,000, which is approximately 25,000 more than the record at the same time in the last majority contest.

In spite of this both sides agreed that Merriam lost through failure of the "silk stocking" wards to show the strength expected.

Even in the twenty-fifth ward, where Merriam's candidacy was conceived, failure of Merriam's supporters to vote caused the professor's total to drop far below what had been expected.

Harrison announced as soon as this ward had reported that he had won and prepared a statement. After this ward had reported the result never was in doubt, what had been expected.

While the first ward gave up its usual Democratic plurality, it was not alone from this and the river wards of similar character that Harrison drew his support.

His eight years' service in the major's chair drew out many from the ranks his opponent had not counted on and his promise of seventy-five cent gas was said by his managers to have had a great influence with the west side wards, where he showed unexpected strength.

One of the features of the campaign was the vote polled by the Socialist party. Five-sixths of the total precincts in the first indicated that the vote would reach 24,000, a gain of 11,000 over the vote of four years ago. On the other hand the prohibition vote, which had been 5,875 four years ago, dropped to 3,000 this year.

ENGLAND'S HISTORIC ROYAL COACH.

Magnificent Vehicle Cost $375,000 in 1761 and Weighs Four Tons.

The royal state carriage used by the more recent English sovereigns was built about 1761, and was first used for the coronation of George III, says The Queen. It was designed by Sir William Chambers and was considered a magnificent piece of state furniture. It cost 75,000 pounds and weighed four tons.

Three boys adorned with flowers, representing the United Kingdom, stand on the roof, supporting the imperial crown on their heads and holding the scepter, sword of state and other insignia of royalty in their hands. The panels of the upper portion of the coach are of beveled glass and the four lower are of copper painted in enamel.

The wheels are copied from those of the triumphal chariot used in ancient times by the Romans, the harness is made of red morocco leather with ornaments of silver gilt; the reins are of crimson silk and the saddles of crimson velvet embroidered with gold.

The Speaker's state coach is probably the oldest carriage in England, which is still in a condition to be used. It was made in the middle of the seventeenth century, and is a tradition that Oliver Cromwell once rode in it. The carving on it is very fine and is of gilded oak relieved with a little black. The seat opposite the Speaker is occupied by the chaplain and train bearers. Each Speaker has his coat of arms and crest inserted among the details of the side panels.

Recently a fire broke out at the works of some well-known coach-builders and the glass coach which is said to have been used by many English sovereigns was destroyed. The vehicle had been sent in to be decorated for it had been arranged, so the story goes, that the King should ride in it on the day of his approaching coronation. The coach was familiar to Londoners, for both Queen Victoria and King Edward had made use of it and it was considered to be a fine specimen of a coach builder's art.

State carriages, which came to be used in England about the middle of the sixteenth century, were introduced from Germany and the first coach ever made in England was ordered by the Duke of Rutland in 1555. Six years later they were in general use and much rivalry existed in regard to their splendor and the number of horses drawing them. In 1619 the celebrated Duke of Buckingham electrified London by appearing in a coach drawn by six horses, and the Earl of Northumberland, partly not to outdone and partly from the pleasure of making his rival's ridiculous, immediately started a coach drawn by eight horses.

Is too often the fatal scene. Foley's Honey and Tar expels the cold, checks the laggard and prevents pneumonia. Its a prompt and reliable lung medicine that contains no narcotics. It is as safe for children as yourself. W. Ellis Co.

ATTENTION, FARMERS!

I am again representing the Southern Gypsum Company for the sale of their famous Pierson Land Plaster.

This is the greatest producer known for Peanuts. You will absolutely have no pops when this is used. The peanut growers of Virginia and North Carolina use it altogether for growing peanuts, and say they cannot make good, sound peanuts without it. It has been used by hundreds of the best farmers in Bulloch county the past two seasons, who can testify to the great benefits derived from its use. It is used as a top dressing, by sprinkling it on the vines after the peanuts begin to bear.

It is recommended to sow in the evening or early in the morning, or just after a shower, as it is found that much better results result from its adhering well to the leaves. A gloomy, heavy day is also a good time for the job. Application, about 200 lbs. per acre. Try it and be convinced that this is the greatest thing you ever used for making peanuts.

I will have some one to represent me at all the principal shipping points in the county. I will make my order about the 1st of May, so get your orders in by that time. Circulars and testimonials sent free on application.

"PISTOL-TOTING" LAW IN QUESTION

DIVERGENT OPINIONS EXPRESSED FROM BENCH.

Savannah Judge Hold the Law
Unconstitutional — One Case
Goes to the Supreme Court.
Author of the Law Makes a Statement.

Atlanta, Ga., April 2.—Whether the law enacted by the legislature last June prohibiting the carrying of a pistol without giving bond and securing license is constitutional, is a question which has puzzled a number of judges who have tried pistol-toting cases since the law was passed and in several instances widely divergent opinions have been expressed from the bench.

In two or three instances the law has already been held unconstitutional and the question will soon be decided by the supreme court of the state.

So far as is known the first case to be appealed on the ground of unconstitutionality is that of Will Davis, of Rome, who was convicted under its provisions in the city court of Floyd county. His attorneys have appealed the case on ground that the act of 1910 is prohibitory and thus violates the constitution of Georgia.

Held Law Unconstitutional.
Judge Davis Freeman, of the city court of Savannah, has held that the law is unconstitutional, and in a communication to Representative White, of Screven county, the author of the bill, he gives the following reasons for his decision:

"The legislature may say 'how arms may be borne. Your act, I think, provides 'who' shall bear arms, and this is an infringement on the right of the people. It does not seem to me that such a condition precedent to bearing arms as the giving of a bond (which one may not be able to give) can be in any sense construed to be a regulation of the manner in which arms may be borne."

In reply to this position taken by Judge Freeman, and in explanation of the general intent of his act, Representative White says:

"I admit that if a pistol is the arms or one of the arms intended to be included in the constitution, then it would be an infringement, but my contention is that a pistol is not one of the arms embraced within the protective clause of the constitution, and my desire is to have the highest court of our state to so declare as the highest court of other states have already declared, and by this one stroke outlaw the carrying of the pocket pistol altogether."

Who Shall Bear Arms.
"One of the able judges holding that this statute was unconstitutional, places it upon the ground (and this, I presume, is the only ground upon which it could be attacked), that it provides who shall bear arms instead of prescribing the manner in which they may be borne. For the sake of the argument, I admit that if a pistol is the arms referred to in the constitution of this state, this act would infringe upon the guaranteed right to bear such arms—but let us see what the fathers of the constitution had in view when they placed the second amendment to the constitution of the United States."

"The federal constitution provides: 'A well-regulated militia being necessary to the security of a free state, the right of the people to keep and bear arms shall not be infringed.' The very next succeeding section refers to the quartering of the soldiers in time of war. This section of the constitution has been so repeatedly held that by now it has become a well-settled principle, to be merely a restriction upon the federal government and not upon the state that it is idle to argue this point. Therefore, the law under discussion could not be in conflict with the provisions of the federal constitution."

"In pursuance of this provision of the federal constitution, our state inserted in its constitution the following clause: 'The right of the people to keep and bear arms shall not be infringed, but the general assembly shall have power to prescribe the manner in which arms may be borne.'"

"The supreme court of Oklahoma, in the most recent case on this question, held: 'The provisions of Art. 2, Sec. 5 of the Constitution of this state, securing to the citizens the right to keep and bear arms for their common defense, relate to such arms as are used for purposes of war; and does not prevent the legislature from prohibiting the wearing of such weapons as are not used in civilized warfare; and would not contribute to the common defense.' This language referred to a pocket pistol, as do all of the above, and the courts uniformly hold such weapons not to be of use in modern civilized warfare. The Oklahoma court, said further: 'The Act of February, 1875, which prohibited the carrying of any pistol whatever refers to such pistols as are usually carried in the pocket, and of a size to be concealed about the person and used in private quarrels, and not to such as are within the provisions of the Constitution.'"

"Mr. Bishop, a very eminent authority, in his work on Statutory Crime, said: 'In reason, the keeping and bearing of arms has reference only to war, and possibly also to insurrection where, in the forms of war are as far as practicable observed; yet, certainly, not to broils, bravado and tumult, disturbing the public repose, or to private assassination and to secret revenge; neither are these in the language of the constitutional provisions now under consideration necessary to the securing of a free state. Neither are the dirks, bludgeons, revolvers and other weapons which are not in use in war, arms.'"

"The supreme court of Massachusetts and the supreme court of New York, have held to the same effect, and, as far I am able to ascertain, every court of last resort in every state in the union, where the point has been directly made, with the exception possibly of the state of Kentucky, has held to the same effect; and, in Kentucky, I believe the constitution has been amended since their adverse decision."

"Knowing the great evil that exists in our state from this pocket pistol, pests of society which render the lives of every law-abiding citizen insecure, and knowing that the eminent authorities which I have cited herein had outlawed this modern nuisance, I thought it was about time for our state to take its place along with the other states, and declare that it was not necessary for them to protect the lawless element in the carrying of these man-killers, in order to preserve a supposed political right."

"As to the wisdom of this act, and the evil that it remedies, I have not space here to discuss. It has been suggested that the proper remedy is to punish the party who carries concealed weapons as if guilty of a felony. In answer to this, I will merely say, at this time, that the punishment would be out of proportion to the crime, and whenever this is true, the law is not enforced. Again, it is not the severity of punishment, but the certainty thereof, which deters the criminal."

ANCIENT COINS WASHED UP BY THE HIGH TIDES.

London, April 4.—The extraordinarily high tide along the Suffolk coast washed up hundreds of gold, silver and bronze coins of early Saxon times in the neighborhood of Aldeburgh. Large quantities of antique bronze rings and ornaments, supposed to be relics of the submerged City of Dunwich, were also cast up by the sea.

SEA ISLAND ACREAGE OUT.

From all reports obtainable here the prospects are that the acreage in Sea Island cotton throughout the entire belt will be reduced nearly fifty per cent, and that the dreams of the Waycross convention have been realized. The acreage in this county is cut about forty-eight per cent, while still a prospect that it will be cut more. Owing to bad seed, the farmers are plowing up Sea Island cotton in some sections, and planting short cotton. The acreage in Tattnall is reduced nearly fifty per cent already and those who plow up and plant short cotton in its stead will bring the cut to fifty per cent. The same condition prevails all over the Sea Island belt.

Near Vancouver Island. Little Steamer Capsizes in Swirl of Water.

Victoria, B. C., April 10.—It is believed twenty lives were lost when the little wooden steamer, Iroquois, plying between Sydney, Vancouver Island, and the islands of the Gulf of Georgia capsized soon after leaving Sydney today. The pursuer, who had a record of fares collected, is among the dead, and it is not likely the exact number who perished ever will be known. Four passengers and seven members of the crew were saved and four members of the crew and probably sixteen passengers were drowned.

The passengers saved today drifted ashore with life buoys, almost in the last stages of exhaustion.

When the Iroquois foundered, part of the upper works were left above the water and persons clinging to the wreck. The swirly of the waters soon tore off the house and the sea was covered with wreckage, among which were men and women.

L. H. HILTON IS SHOT TO DEATH IN DUEL AT SYLVANIA

Prominent Screven County Banker and Business Man Is Killed by C. E. Lee, Farmer, in Street Battle.

SLAYER ESCAPES, BUT TELEPHONES.

He's Willing to Surrender. Hilton Used Repeating Shotgun, Lee Used Pistol.

Sylvania, Ga., April 10.—In a duel with shot gun and pistol at 2 o'clock this afternoon, L. H. Hilton, president of the Screven County Bank, member of City Council, and one of the wealthiest and most prominent men in Screven county, was shot to death by C. E. Lee, a well-known farmer whose home is near Sylvania.

Shots were fired by both men, but Mr. Lee was unhurt, while three shots from his pistol hurled into the body of Mr. Hilton, every one of them in a vital place.

Eye witnesses state that the fatal shots were fired when Mr. Hilton was being held by his friends, and at a time when he was helpless further to defend himself.

Lee Escapes.
The shooting occurred in the street, just in front of Hill Brothers' store. Many persons were in the street.

During the excitement that followed the shooting Mr. Lee left the little knot of men at the scene of the fatal duel, hurried to his horse not far away, and left town. Later he telephoned the sheriff that he was ready to surrender and officers left for his home to make the arrest.

At a few minutes before the duel occurred J. J. B. Morrell and the Rev. Norman Kemp were in an automobile which Mr. Morrell recently had purchased and which was just in front of Hill Brothers' store. Mr. Lee walked up and he, with the others, was looking at the new car.

Who Fired First?
Statements differ as to who occurred at the beginning of the fight. Some state that Mr. Lee fired the first shot, others that Mr. Hilton came from the store with a shotgun and club in his hands; that he shot three times before Mr. Lee returned the fire. According to the story Mr. Hilton sent three shots from his repeating shot-gun in rapid succession, but that after the first shot missed him Mr. Lee used the automobile for protection, quickly dodging behind it.

Men came running up, friends of Mr. Hilton and grasped him, stopping his fire. It is stated that Mr. Lee left the cover of the car then and with his pistol drawn walked up to the group of which Mr. Hilton was the center and sent three shots into the latter's body.

Dies Quickly.
Mr. Hilton straightened up, walked several steps and fell. He died within five minutes.

Scores of men came running to give whatever aid they could to the dying man, or attracted by the sounds of the shooting.

The story of the duel quickly spread over Sylvania and the county. Scores of men came to see the scene of it and to learn the details of the tragedy which had removed one of the best known men in Screven county.

Back of the shooting is a story of ill feeling between the two men which has existed for several weeks. Two weeks ago Mr. Lee had been arrested for the violation of a city ordinance and had been fined $50 in Mayor's Court. He appealed to council, and Mr. Hilton as a member of council, it seems, was favorable to granting a reduction of the fine.

Showed His Pistol.
However, on March 30, Hilton and Lee met in a drug store here, and it is stated harsh words passed between them about Mr. Lee's arrest. Later Mr. Lee, armed, met Mr. Hilton on the street and, it is charged, produced his pistol and harsh words again passed.

After this friends of both men understood that they were armed, and they feared for further and more serious trouble between them. There was not much surprise at their fatal meeting to day, but general regret that it had ended with the death of either man.

As soon as it became known that Mr. Hilton had been killed business practically was suspended in Sylvania. Mr. Hilton, as president of the Screven County Bank, as prime mover and head of the Optimist Club, the boosting organization of Sylvania, as president of the Screven County Cotton Oil Mill and because of his interest in other industries here as well as because of his position as councilman, was perhaps one of the best known men in the county.

City court adjourned out of respect to him and stores all over the city were closed for the afternoon.

Feeling Runs High.
Greatest excitement reigned in Sylvania from the time of the shooting until late tonight. A good many wild rumors were being spread on the streets, but staid citizens paid little attention to them.

It was expected after Mr. Lee had telephoned to the sheriff that his escape was but temporary and that he was ready to be taken to jail, that no trouble would be met with in arresting him. Considerable feeling was aroused when the story spread that the killing occurred when Mr. Hilton was being held by his friends, who, it is said, thought the shooting had ended and were not expecting Mr. Lee to fire again.

Was Progressive Citizen.
Mr. Hilton leaves his wife and six children. He had been a resident of Sylvania for many years and always had been aligned with the most progressive of its citizens. He was a member of the Order of Elks; he named the "Optimist Club," which was organized recently, more vigorously to boost the advertising of the town's advantages, and he had many business interests here and elsewhere.

He was well known to many Savannahians as he made frequent trips to that city in his own business interest and for Sylvania and Screven county.

Says Lee Fired First.
J. Fleischman, a farmer of Sylvania, who now lives in Sylvania came to Savannah yesterday afternoon with an account of the killing of Mr. Hilton. Mr. Fleischman is manager of the clothing department of Hill Brothers' store, in front of which the killing occurred. He was at dinner at the time of the shooting and did not see it and his account is based on the accounts of the tragedy by eyewitnesses in the store and others.

According to Mr. Fleischman Mr. Hilton was seen to walk through Hill Brothers' store immediately before the shooting, carrying a shotgun. As he stepped into the street in front of the store he met Mr. Lee.

Mr. Lee fired and Mr. Hilton stepped behind an automobile and returned the fire, both missing Mr. Lee continued to fire and friends of Mr. Hilton ran up to him and disarmed his aim as he fired into Mr. Hilton's back. Hilton was being held, Mr. Lee walked around the automobile and fired into Mr. Hilton's back. The shot struck Mr. Hilton's heart and he died quickly.

In Savannah Two Weeks Ago.
In the excitement Mr. Lee mounted a horse standing close by and disappeared.

Mr. Fleischman says the trouble started several weeks ago when Mr. Hilton, who was a member of city council, caused the town marshal to arrest Mr. Lee for an infraction of the ordinance.

Two weeks ago, on the day Mr. Hilton came to Savannah with the Screven County Commissioners, to appear before the directors of the Savannah Automobile Club with a plea that the run to Charlotte be sent through Sylvania. Mr. Lee met him on the street in Sylvania and after some words drew a pistol and THIEF TOUCHES SEVERAL HOMES.

On Sunday night the southern section of the city was visited by a bold burglar who entered several homes and stole valuables. The home of Elder F. M. Donaldson was entered and thirteen dollars and fifty cents was carried away. Several other homes were entered and small sums of money and other small articles taken. The negro made good his escape, but was barefooted, leaving a track just twelve inches long. A negro fitting this description was seen Saturday afternoon lying around the railroad in the same neighborhood. He is thought to be some escaped convict who was sneaking through the country. At last accounts there was no clue to his whereabouts.
