COURT NEXT WEEK.

The spring term of Bulloch superior court will convene here on Monday, Judge B. T. Rawlings presiding.

The civil docket is said to be a very light one, in fact the lightest in many years. This is partly owing to the fact that the city court takes care of a great deal of this business, and also to the fact that we have had a long area of good times, and most of the old claims have been settled.

The criminal docket will be taken up Wednesday morning, as usual, and the court will wrestle with a number of important criminal cases. There are several murder cases to be tried and a number of others of a serious nature.

The grand jury will have on its hands the hearing of the troubles of those who have been troubled by the wrong doers and then they will have to take the regular semi-annual overlook of the county's affairs, etc.

It is probable that the court will last the greater part of the week.

THE LIVING HONOR THE DEAD

Impressive Ceremonies at Foot of Confederate Monument. School Children March and Sing, and Decorate the Shaft to the Confederate Dead.

On Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock four hundred school children marched through the Court House square to the Confederate Monument and covered it with flowers. The ceremonies were conducted under the auspices of the Daughters of the Confederacy. Rev. John F. Eden, pastor of the Baptist church, opened the services with prayer, after which the children and large crowd present all joined in singing Dixie. Rev. M. K. Dennis was the orator of the day. His address was a very fine one, going at length into the details that brought on the war between the states, and the incidents happening through the bloody period of four years that followed its outbreak. He held the undivided attention of the large crowd of people for about forty minutes, after which the services were closed with prayer by Rev. L. A. McClure, of the Presbyterian church.

The veterans and speakers were the guests of the Daughters at the Utopia, where cold drinks and ice cream was served.

Superior court adjourned for an hour in honor of the occasion, and the banks and schools all observed a holiday.

JOE WOODS IS FOUND GUILTY

For Fourth Time Jury Returns Verdict of Guilty Against Slayer of Wink Mikell. Sentenced to Life Term. Will Ask for Another Trial.

For the fourth time, on yesterday at noon the jury in the case of the State vs. Joe Woods, charged with the murder of Wink Mikell, returned a verdict of guilty with a recommendation that he be confined in the penitentiary during the balance of his natural life. The case was, perhaps, the hardest fought this time of any of the four trials Woods has had. Every inch of ground was contested and the evidence sifted thoroughly by attorneys for the opposing sides. Solicitor General Alfred Herrington was assisted by Cols. H. B. Strange and E. T. Lanier. The defense was represented by Cols. R. Lee Moore, A. M. Deal and J. E. Anderson. They were assisted by Col. John R. Cooper, of Macon, and Judge J. K. Hines, of Atlanta.

The case was called early on Wednesday morning, when, after discussion over the matter of absent witnesses an agreement was reached to go to trial. A panel of 144 jurors was called and exhausted in securing the jury, the twelve names being secured just before the last of the long list was reached. The jury trying the case this time were:

J. C. Lanier, L. L. Mitchell, D. R. Lee, J. F. Brown Richard Lanier, T. C. Pennington, Arthur McCormick, John G. Trapnell, J. G. Anderson, Remer Barnes, J. C. Wright and John Crumley.

The array of witnesses were about the same as on the previous trials, only one or two new ones being brought up. The state made about the same case they have been making all the while, which in the minds of the jury withstood the strong and determined assault made on it by the attorneys for the defense. The defendant was surrounded during the trial by his father and mother, sister and children, and a little white headed boy sitting by his knee and a little girl sitting by his side.

After the jury was empaneled, a rumor was set afloat that there were two relatives on the jury, and it is not asserted that this is true, and this may form the basis for another trial. One of the attorneys for the defense stated yesterday afternoon that there would be another effort for another trial; he was satisfied sufficient grounds were in hand to ask for one and this would be done.

It is understood that on the first ballot the jury stood ten for conviction to two for acquittal; the second ballot revealed a unanimous verdict for conviction with a recommendation for life imprisonment.

Public opinion is divided on Woods, there being a large number of people who believe Woods did not intend to murder Mikell, that it was a drunken row and that the shooting of Mikell was not intentional on the part of Woods.

When the verdict was announced, Woods being still in the court room, Judge Rawlings called on him to stand and receive the sentence of the court, which was to serve the balance of his natural life in the penitentiary. After the trial was over his parents, who have expended every dollar they have in the world trying to save him from the penitentiary, started for home, bent under the load of sorrow added to that of their advanced age. It was a sad picture, and there were many who expressed themselves ready to sign a petition for a pardon after Woods had served a while in the penitentiary.

It is now charged that there were two men on the jury related to Mikell, which in itself would be grounds for a new trial.

It is also rumored that the next trial will be held in Washington county. Judge Rawlings believing that the jury list is about exhausted on the case.

Other Two Weavers Acquitted. Jury Returns Verdict After Being Out Short Time.

The jury in the case of the State vs. Joe, Oscar, and Joe Henry Weaver charged with the murder of Monroe Walker in the quarters at McDougald's Still at Clito last November, returned a verdict yesterday of guilty of manslaughter in the case of Joe Henry Weaver and the other two defendants were acquitted.

It seems that there was a row at the house of Malinda Owens that night; that Monroe Walker had had a difficulty with one of the Weaver boys. This was reported back and old Joe and the two boys returned to the Owens shanty and demanded that Monroe come out. No answer being made Joe told him he had just as well come out, as he knew he was in the house. The evidence was that Monroe and Jim Burns, another negro, went to the door and as soon as the door was opened Joe Henry Weaver opened fire with a shot gun, killing Walker at once.

COOK'S GUILTY OF VOLUNTARY MANSLAUGHTER

Slayers of Sam Waters at Everett's Store Go Up for Long Term.

This afternoon the jury in the case of the State vs. John and Jim Cook, charged with the murder of Sam Waters, returned a verdict of voluntary manslaughter, the penalty on which is in the penitentiary from one to twenty years.

The jury was out only a short time and found very little trouble in reaching a verdict. The case consumed about twelve hours of the time of the court, and was warmly contested. Solicitor General Herrington and Col. H. B. Strange represented the state, while Messrs. Johnston & Cone and J. J. E. Anderson represented the defendants.

The killing of Sam Waters on the 24th day of December last, at the store of Mr. Joshua Everett, will be remembered by our readers, the circumstances having been published at the time.

It seems from the evidence that whites and blacks alike were engaged in a shooting match, shooting at a spot on the head of a barrel, the prize being a sum of money. Waters was acting as judge, and his decision on one shot was disputed by "Big Jerry Ellis," who jerked the score board out of the hand of Mr. Waters. This was resented by Waters, who knocked Ellis with his fist and then drew his knife. Ellis ran, and Waters turned towards the store. Jim Cook, son of John Cook was standing between Waters and store with a gun in his hand. Cook threw up the gun upon Waters' approach. Waters went on in the store and John Cook came running from behind the store with a pistol in his hand saying that "the poor white people in that community had been running over the negroes every Christmas and he was tired of it." He started in the store after Waters, followed by his son. He was stopped, and Waters soon appeared at the door with a gun in his hand, when the shooting started. Waters fell a victim to the wounds inflicted by a gunshot in the hands of Jim Cook, and a pistol wound at the hands of John Cook. The witnesses were not certain whether Waters shot or not, but when his gun was examined there was an empty shell in it.

Judge Rawlings sentenced John Cook to fifteen years and gave Jim Cook twelve years.

The grand jury will conclude their labors some time during tomorrow (Saturday) morning, and will make their presentments.

Hon. W. F. Slater, of Eldora, is in the city.

THE SEA ISLAND SITUATION.

Now that it is an undisputed fact that the campaign for the reduction of the acreage in Sea Island cotton has been a success, there is a stronger tone in the spot market. Information reaching us from all over the Sea Island belt is to the effect that the farmers have not only lived up to their pledges but have more than done so. Diligent inquiry throughout the principal long cotton sections justifies the assertion that the acreage is cut fifty per cent.

This campaign has been carried on in the face of strong opposition from without and from certain dissensions from within. Some of those who pose as the farmer's friend and who have made their money out of him, have discouraged this movement, all they could, but it has succeeded in spite of the efforts of the bears from without aided by their agents from within.

The Sea Island cotton grower has learned some sense and is exercising it. He knows who is his friend; he knows who it was that made it possible for him to shake off the shackles of the cotton merchant who held him in a grasp that was squeezing the very life out of him; he knows that the local banks and the local warehouses and the local bull, like Rags, Simmons and many others of lesser note, have built up the interior market to where the very top of the market could always be obtained in cash, without waiting for some one to tell them when to sell, and you can't fool the folks any longer.

When men who have stood to the farmers rose up and said, "Boys, the only salvation is to hold what you have got and cut the acreage," they believed them, and the result is we are going to get thirty cents and above for our Sea Island cotton, not only the crop on hand, but the one that will be harvested this fall. The world has got to have our fine grades of Sea Island cotton and no one knows this any better than the man who grows it. He knows that the repeated efforts to substitute it have failed every time they have tried it, and he knows all this bluff and bluster about raising it in the Mississippi delta, etc., will fail as has all other efforts along that line.

The boys are getting to the point where you can't fool 'em so easy as you once could. When they see a fellow coming down the pike with a sheep's hide wrapped around him, they have learned to make a thorough examination before they embrace him, for fear they will have a hungry, venomous wolf in the camp. They know who are their real friends and who have done the sheep's hide.

The holders of Sea Island cotton know that the men who buy it at thirty cents per pound and sell it back to us at from eight to sixteen dollars per pound, have no kick coming, they know they cannot get so far off that they are not going to pay off that some more of our thirty cents per pound in order to send it back to us at eight dollars.

The day is coming when the producer will own the mill and the mill instead of being in Manchester, England, or in Massachusetts will be in the South along side of the cotton fields, the same determination that delivered them from the grip of the foreign speculator will bring the mill to the fields.

RUN WILL PROBABLY GO VIA SYLVANIA.

The Buick path finding car passed through here this week, looking over the route for the Charlotte automobile run, to be made on May 9th. The route via Sylvania has been selected, provided the Seveven and Effingham county folks get their roads in good shape. A car will be run over both that and the Statesboro route on Sunday, and on their report will decide which route. It is thought that the present rain will operate in favor of the Sylvania route, provided it don't rain too much. If it rains much the water will drive them via Statesboro, but if it rains just enough to temporarily pack the Effingham and Seveven deep sand beds and soften the clay on our roads, it will be favorable to the other route. If the scout car takes into consideration that their deep sand will dry out and get loose and heavy in a day or two and our clay roads dry out and get smooth and light before the run, then it will come our way. As a rule they are liable to report them as they find them; in that case they may find them entirely different when the weather conditions change, by the time the run is made.

There are very few people who care anything about whether this come this way or not. The people who have to bear the burden of these fights have never had the thanks of the few who are benefitted by the automobilists coming this way, and therefore, we believe the best thing to do hereafter is to let those who are benefitted make some of the thanks. News has stood for the auto route in this way; it has never been benighted one penny. It has never even had the thanks of those who are benefitted, who are in the end very few in number, in fact, we hesitate to say, for fear we will get out of the plural numbers in doing so.

"RAZOR BILL" IN TOWN.
"Razor Bill, from over the hill, has never flickered and never will," blew in this morning, and after getting a permit proceeded on the job of catching suckers. He hired a buggy and took the usual stand on the court house square, and the usual number of suckers swallowed the bait. It has been said that there is a sucker born every minute; the author of that assertion must have had Bulloch county in mind. A large amount of soap, razors, collar buttons, etc., was worked off at about four prices.

There is a fake in town in the shape of a fake phonologist, who has been engaged in feeling of folks' heads and assuming to tell them what they are good for. He has made one or two lucky guesses by telling them they were good for nothing, etc. This same old fellow was here a few years ago with an organ, posing as a Confederate veteran, playing and singing, later he hung around the saloons and dance halls in Savannah in the same roll. Now he comes to us in a new roll.

WHITE WOMAN FINED FOR SELLING WHISKEY.

In the superior court this week, Mrs. Nora Lanier pled guilty to the charge of selling whiskey and was sentenced to pay a fine of two hundred dollars and costs or serve nine months in the chain gang. The fine was promptly paid. Mrs. Lanier is the wife of Mr. J. D. Lanier, who has been before the courts on a similar charge before, he having suffered a stroke of paralysis about two years ago while attending court at this place. J. D. Lanier, Jr., also pled guilty to the same charge. This was a case where mother and son were both fined on the same charge. The young man also paid his fine.

VETERANS ELECT OFFICERS.

The regular annual meeting of the Joseph S. Cone Camp of Confederate Veterans was held in the Ordinary's office on Wednesday at 11 o'clock, as announced in Tuesday's paper. About 35 members registered, and the regular election was held, resulting as follows:

Commander, S. J. Williams.
First Lieutenant, S. H. Kennedy.
Second Lieutenant, G. R. Beasley.
Third Lieutenant, Z. T. DeLoach.
Secretary, Jacob Roeker.
Color Bearer, W. R. Whitaker.
Chaplain, J. M. Langford.
Sponsor, Miss Inez Williams.
The following were elected delegates to the State Reunion to be held in Rome in the fall:
E. D. Holland, S. J. Williams and Jerry Howard, alternates W. P. Donaldson, H. I. Waters and John Anderson.

It is understood that Messrs. H. I. Waters, John T. Brannen, T. J. Morris and several others will attend the National Reunion to be held at Little Rock next month.

The question of a reunion for the coming summer was discussed and it was decided to have one. An invitation was extended to meet at Ivanhoe, but many of the veterans thought that this would be rather out of the way for the majority of the veterans. Parties present assured them that at the proper time Statesboro would extend them an invitation to hold their reunion here, and a committee composed of Messrs. S. J. Williams and E. D. Holland were appointed to arrange this.

When a medicine must be given to young children it should be pleasant to take, Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is made from loaf sugar, and the roots used in its preparation give it a flavor similar to maple syrup, making it pleasant to take. It has no superior for colds, croup and whooping cough. For sale by all dealers.

Mr. Editor:

Please allow me a short space in the News to say to the voters of Bulloch, and Georgia too, that I want some man in every community to write a petition to the next legislature, asking them to repeal the dog tax law. I am satisfied that ninety per cent of the people of the state are opposed to such a law. I have a petition with 25 signers and am satisfied I will get 200. Only four I have asked to sign have refused, and they did not have any dog.

SUSPECTS LODGED IN PRISON CELLS

Los Angeles, April 27.—James J. McNamara and Orrie R. McManigal arrived here at 2:35 p. m. and were locked in cells at the county jail. There was no demonstration.

John J. McNamara arrived at the jail five minutes later. He had been brought by automobile from Raymond station.

District Attorney Frederik stated today that Mrs. Ingelsoll, of San Francisco, told him that James B. McNamara, whom she saw in Pasadena as he left the train there this afternoon, was without doubt the J. B. Bryce whom she knew and who is one of the much-wanted alleged dynamiters.

Indianapolis, Ind., April 26.—Investigation by the Marion county grand jury of the two-sided "dynamite conspiracy" absorbed the attention of its probers, official and unofficial today. County Prosecutor Baker announced that the grand jury's inquiry would go thoroughly into the double aspect of the case, as follows:

Has Indianapolis been the seat of a conspiracy of dynamiters, who in two years have caused more than 100 explosions directed against employers of and sympathizers with non-union workers, bringing about millions of dollars of loss to bridges and buildings, and in the case of the Los Angeles Times building explosion, the deaths of 21 persons?

Has there been a conspiracy by enemies of the International Association of Bridge and Structural Iron Workers, to attempt by "planting" dynamite in its office building, to convict it and its secretary, J. J. McNamara, of dynamite outrages, and was McNamara kidnapped from the city last Saturday, with passive consent of the police and Police Judge Collins?

William J. Burns, whose bureau of detectives is employed by a national association of structural iron and steel contractors, and who was arrested last night on the charge of complicity in the alleged McNamara kidnapping, was the first witness before the grand jury today. It is understood he took advantage of his right to decline to testify. Walter Drew and J. A. G. Bader, of counsel for the National Erectors' Association, and W. Joseph Ford, assistant district attorney of Los Angeles, all of whom are charged with the kidnapping and bound to the grand jury inquiry in bonds of $10,000 will also be examined. Police Judge Collins and other officials having knowledge of the circumstances of the extradition of McNamara to California, are also to appear, it is reported.

As Burns stepped into the corridor, after his appearance before the grand jury, a man in the crowd of curious shouted: "You're a damned crook."

"I'm good enough to get' such men as you," retorted Burns, and passed out of the court house with his attorneys.

Hearing that a subpoena had been issued for him, Frank M. Ryan, president of the Association of Bridge and Structural Iron Workers, appeared in the grand jury's ante-room and offered to testify. He was told he would be called later.

Following Burns, two women, said to have lived in a downtown building in which some members of the structural iron workers' union had rooms, were called into the grand jury room and examined briefly and then recess was taken.

Watson Verdict Is Confirmed

The decision of the Supreme Court in the case of the State vs. Andrew Watson, charged with the murder of Andrew J. Kennedy in 1889, has been handed down and has been made the verdict of the Superior Court as required by law. This means that the last hope for Andrew Watson is gone and the penitentiary now stares him in the face. Clerk of the Superior Court Temple has notified the Prison Commission of the verdict and asked for directions. In a short time the Prison Commission will send a guard for the prisoner and take him to some of the camps. Judge Moore stated that he would not be asked for by the Bulloch county authorities. They had rather have some other convict for their share.

Watson still maintains that he is not the Andrew Watson that did the killing.

THE BEGINNING OF THE CIVIL WAR

(Augusta Chronicle.)

Fifteen anniversaries of stirring events of the sixties have revived many controversies over incidents connected with the war. Perhaps the most interesting of these is the one involving the actual beginning of the strife.

History seems to concur in the opinion that the assault on and fall of Fort Sumter in Charleston harbor in April, 1861, was the first actual fighting, and from that incident the war has been dated, though the so-called battle was mostly perfunctory and was pulled off for the sake of honor and expediency more than for a decision which was patent to both sides before a single shot was fired.

Mr. John Foster, of Parkland, Pa., a former Georgian, contributed an interesting view of the subject in a card published in the Chronicle a few days ago, when he raised the question as to the capture of the Augusta Arsenal by the Georgia militia in the latter part of March, 1861, being the first actually armed conflict.

Whatever may be the facts, history seems to have classed that event as a peaceful surrender of occupation. The arsenal never having been manned by more than a handful of ordnance soldiers, serious resistance would have been out of the question, though a perfunctory show of one might have been made.

But students have found that while the first shot may have been fired on South Carolina soil, the first acts of war were committed in Georgia. The occupation of Fort Pulaski by Georgia soldiers acting under orders from Governor Joseph E. Brown, seems to have been the first positive official step in contempt of the federal flag—the first actual exercise of a state's sovereignty against that of the United States government.

We quote from Pendleton's life of Alexander H. Stephens:

"Governor Brown also anticipated Georgia's action (secession) when on January 2d, 1861, he ordered Colonel Lawton, of the First Regiment State militia, to take and hold Fort Pulaski at Savannah, which was done accordingly the next day. This seizure of Fort Pulaski, without resistance on the part of the garrison and without the firing of a single gun, three months and nine days before Fort Sumter at Charleston was shelled and taken by assault, seems to have escaped the notice of the average historian who begins the record of aggressive action with the latter event."

On the same day Fort Pulaski was taken a revenue cutter was seized by "unauthorized persons" but Governor Brown ordered its immediate release.

Perhaps the most aggressive event antedating Sumter was the action of Governor Brown in ordering seized and held merchant ships in Savannah harbor when guns being shipped to Georgia were detained in New York by orders of the governor of that state. This happened in January and February of 1861.

Pendleton's history says: "On January 2d, 1861, the New York police seized two hundred muskets that were about to be shipped to a firm in Macon and placed them in the state arsenal. Governor Brown telegraphed on February 2d, to Governor Morgan, of New York, demanding that the guns be immediately given up to the agent in New York city whom he appointed to receive them." The New York governor ignored the message, and after confirming its safe delivery, Governor Brown telegraphed Colonel H. R. Jackson to order out a sufficient military force to seize and hold subject to his later instructions, every ship in the harbor of Savannah belonging to citizens of New York.

Three briggs, one schooner and a bark were seized on February 8th. Next day the guns were ordered turned over to Governor Brown's agent, but when the agent sought them their delivery was withheld. More merchant ships were seized at Savannah. "On February 25th, he notified Governor Morgan that if they were not released and actually shipped from New York by the 25th of March the detained vessels would on that day be sold in Savannah to the highest bidder and the money employed to indemnify the owners of the unlawfully captured arms."

The sale was accordingly advertised, but meantime the guns were released and started on their way South.

These two acts—the seizure and occupation of Fort Pulaski by Georgia troops and the detention of New York vessels, both having taken place before Georgia seceded, were perhaps the first aggressive steps in or toward the war that followed. It is believed that because of these, together with the taking over of the Augusta Arsenal, before the declaration of war that Governor Brown was arrested and jailed immediately following Appomattox, the claim being that he had committed acts of treason in advance of secession and actual hostilities.

Referring to the Fort Pulaski incident, Louis Pendleton says in his interesting history: "Too little has been made of this incident of the capture of Fort Pulaski by order of a secessionist governor, for if the garrison had resisted even by no more than the firing of a few shots into the air, the war would have begun in Georgia instead of in South Carolina, and three months earlier."

But if it is established that aggressive guns were actually fired at the taking of the Augusta Arsenal it will be proved that the war as defined by actual fighting did begin on Georgia soil.

FOLEY'S ORINO LAXATIVE FOR STOMACH TROUBLE AND CONSTIPATION

MAKING PEACE BY TELEGRAPH

Madero and Diaz Are Negotiating by Wire.

It Develops That the Rebels Are Uneasy Over News That Reyes Will Return From Paris. It's Said Reyes Wants to Be President.

El Paso, April 26.—It developed today that Mexican peace negotiations are proceeding by telegraph between Madero's camp and the City of Mexico in order to leave for the commissioners little but technical work. The revolutionists are uneasy over the announcement that General Bernardo Reyes is to return from Paris.

The revolutionists fear Reyes will convince President Diaz that Minister Liminour has persuaded the president into granting too many concessions. It is said Liminour and Reyes have never been on good terms, and that the latter is predisposed to pick flaws in Liminour's work.

Objected to Reyes.

When announcement was made that General Reyes was to return to Mexico, President Diaz was informed by telegraph that his presence might jeopardize negotiations. Just what action Diaz took is not known, but Reyes postponed his sailing from May 21 to May 25. Yesterday he again postponed it until May 27.

Reyes is alleged to be ambitious to become president. His influence over the federal army is great. It is feared, justly or unjustly, that he would bring about modifications of concessions which the government is now willing to make to such an extent that Madero would have no other course than to re-open the revolution.

Informal Agreement Reached.

It may be stated that an informal agreement on most points, such as the election of governors and mayors, payment of debts incurred by the revolutionists, pensions, retention of arms and the like has been reached.

Today telegrams were exchanged with reference to a meeting place for the commissioners. Madero favors the international boundary line here.

He argues that in this way alone will it be possible for him to participate freely in the negotiations and at the same time be able to confer at any time with the under-chiefs of the revolution, who will be present.

The Banking Habit

is universally conceded to be a good habit, and a good habit has been defined by someone as

"Yesterday's Achievements Taking the Sting from Today's Toil."

This definition states the exact truth, based upon the experience of thousands of depositors throughout the world.
While you are forming this exceptionally good habit, you are accumulating a fund for future use. Life is worth living when you have money in bank—it gets monotonous when you are broke.

ANCIENT CITIES IN ARIZONA.

(Philadelphia North American.) Members of the geological sur- vey have discovered the sites of several ancient cities in the San Juan region, Arizona, which prob- ably have been deserted since long before the Christian era. The remains belong to what is called the stone age, which was long before metals were used in the construction of weapons for war or utensils for domestic pur- poses. Many stone axes and mauls were found, but iron was evidently unknown to the dwell- ers of these ancient cities of the west.

"The houses are peculiar. The apartments were dug down into the rocks, and the only en- trance was from the top. Evi- dently these cities were intended as places of refuge in time of war. There are many antiquities of this kind in Arizona, New Mex- ico and still further to the south- west. The great antiquity is shown by the fact that the geol- ogy of these regions has greatly changed since these cities were habitable. There is no trace of water in many of the places, which formerly must have been densely populated; when, of course, that liquid must have been a prime necessity and easily procurable. Young Americans have found of traveling to Nine- vah, Babylon, Egypt and other Eastern regions filled with ruins of ancient empires would do well to look for remains equally re- markable in their own country.

THE MOE AS A YOUTH REFORMER.

(Angusta Chronicle.)

Country boys grown to emi- nence usually attribute most of their success to the days of per- spiring toil they spent at the end of a hoe handle or between plow shares back on the farm. But if nine-tenths of them will delve in- to the memories of youth they will recall that during the period of their apprenticeship to toil they writhed under the lash of such arduous industry. In the sprouting and growing corn they saw nothing but work—and such work as only the most ignorant and unambitious could do. The monotony of the daily grind elim- inated all poetry from the grist, and missing all the beauties of nature, they rebelled against agri- culture, and sought more appeal- ing fields, metaphorically, in the city.

Now, a Harvard professor ad- vances the claim that gardening is the best antidote for the waf- wardness of youth, an opinion concurred in by Luther Burdock, a gifted naturalist and true lover of nature, and doubtless by John Burroughs, also.

The professor says: "The boy with evil tendencies may be served with greater ad- vantage to himself and his future development by being appren- ticed to a gardener or florist than by going into any other line of work."

Perhaps he is right so far as the city-grown boy is concerned, because he finds in the garden a contrast to things accustomed to. If a child can be interested in the mysteries and marvels of plants—or of nature in any way—he isn't apt to go far wrong. There is nothing more enthralling than to see things grow, and it be- comes most fascinating when we reach out our hands and minds and assist nature in developing her products. But it is often dif- ficult to make even an adult com- prehend these ideas; for to most of us plants take life and develop just because they have always done so.

There is one virtue in garden- ing as a corrector on any score. It requires physical exercise, which is always healthful, mentally and otherwise.

MINERS WOULD RAISE QUARTER MILLION DOLLARS

Stands Ready to Levy Tax of Five Dollars a Man—50,000 Members to Help the Structural Iron Workers Fight the Case—Those Who Arrested McNa- mara Will Have to Produce Evi- dence.

Denver, Col., April 24.—The Western Federation of Miners stands ready to levy an assessment of five dollars each on 50,000 members as a defense fund for Secretary J. J. McNamara, of the Structural Iron Workers Union.

This statement was made today by Chas. H. Moyer, president of the Western Federation of Min- ers.

"I consider the entire affair a frame-up similar to the one I and my associates were victims of some years ago in connection with the death of former Gov- ernor Steunenberg, of Idaho," said Moyer.

"The arrest of McNamara shows on its face that it was a frame-up. He was treated ex- actly as we were. He was not given a single show either by the gov- ernor of Indiana or the courts of Marion county.

"The charge that dynamite was kept by McNamara in the head- quarters of his organization is silly. If he was in the blowing up business he would have too much sense to keep dynamite around headquarters. It is very easy to hire Oreholders to plant dynamite where the detectives who paid them to plant it can find it.

"The persons instrumental in McNamara's arrest will have to produce good evidence to show why he wanted to blow up the Los Angeles Times when he is a member of the Structural Iron Workers organization.

"Their case might have look- ed better had they arrested a member of the Typographical Union.

"The Western Federation of Miners went through just such a siege.

"All unions came to our sup- port and now the Western Fed- eration will reciprocate. We stand ready to levy and pay an assessment of $5 each on a mem- bership of 50,000 or more to help defray expenses of this, the second great fight that has been started by the enemies of organi- zed labor against its principles.

"Detective Burns has simply taken a number of explosions that have occurred over here, em- ploying a few 'Oreholders' and worked up a case."

A Special Medicine for Kidney Ailments.

Many elderly people have found in Foley's Kidney Remedy a quick relief and permanent ben- efit from kidney and bladder ail- ments and from annoying urinary irregularities due to advancing years. Isaac N. Reagan, Farmer, Mo., says: "Foley's Kidney Remedy effected a complete cure in my case and I want others to know of it."

JUDGES REVERSED THEMSELVES.

The result of the musical contest held at Pembroke on Wednesday giving the medals to Claxton and Pembroke over Statesboro and Woodliff, has caused considerable comment here. The reports of the awarding of the medals carry with it some very unpleasant features.

The Agricultural School entered two young ladies in this contest, both of whom made an excellent showing. In the case of Miss Lulu Waters there was a division of the judges, there being five in number. On the first ballot of the judges, after all the playing was over, the award stood three to two in favor of Miss Waters. The other two judges, representing the minority, began at once to plead with the third one to change her judgment on Miss Waters and give it to a young lady from Claxton, notwithstanding the fact that this lady judge had already voted for Miss Waters. She was induced to change her vote to the Claxton young lady, making the vote three to two in favor of Claxton.

Thus it seems that Miss Waters won in the musical contest while the Claxton young lady had the advantage of having the most persistent pleading on the part of the judges. In other words, it was a contest between persuasion and music and the former won.

Those who were present say that the Agricultural School girls performed well and were the real winners, though the judgment was taken from them by the persistent persuasion of the minority, who succeeded in changing the verdict.

HUGE AIRSHIP DASHED TO PIECES

Accident Occurs During the First Trial of the Lebaudy Dirigible.

NAVAL AIRSHIP DAMAGED.

Besides the Lebaudy Craft One Intended for Coronation Is Broken.

London, May 4.—The government has had the worst of luck with its dirigible airships. The Lebaudy dirigible, which was damaged at Aldershot after a successful flight from Paris last summer, was wrecked at Farnborough on its first trial this afternoon.

A great naval airship, the construction of which has been surrounded by secrecy, designed to take a spectacular part in the coronation naval review was so badly damaged at Barrow yesterday that it cannot be taken out for months.

The Lebaudy met disaster against a clump of trees and is a mass of ruins. Major Sir Abnerman, commandant of the air battalion at South Farnborough, and head of the government's aeronauts, took the airship out this evening with crew of seven in it. It ascended gracefully and traveled smoothly for some time. Finally the airship began to descend and drifting almost helplessly struck the trees, when the bag exploded. One of the crew was badly injured.

The Lebaudy was 337 feet long and the naval airship was 510 feet long.

The Clement Bayard, 300 feet, which also sailed to England from France, is the only dirigible belonging to the government which remains intact. This craft has not been tried since its arrival last fall.

DESERTS WIFE FOR ANOTHER WOMAN

Lewis Evans, Statesboro Merchant, Takes French Leave—Chase Proves to be Fruitless One.

On Thursday morning, after rifling the cash till in the store of Seligman-Evans Co. and drawing out the cash balance in the First National Bank to the credit of the firm, of which he was a member, Lewis Evans boarded the Savannah & Statesboro morning train for Savannah. Passengers on the train had their attention called to his acts; he seemed nervous and repeatedly asked Conductor DeLoach wasn't there a place near Savannah where he could get off the train and surround the city. He was told that this could be done at the Alabama Junction, just one mile out; he stated that he intended getting off there, but when this point was reached he had noticed that his intention was known to the passengers and after walking to the platform he came back, and disappeared from the Union Station. Soon afterwards an automobile carrying Mrs. Evans and her brother, Mr. Seligman, the other member of the firm arrived in Savannah in hot pursuit of Evans. A thorough search was made, every outgoing train was covered, and the outgoing steamer was watched; but it was later learned that he had succeeded in sailing for New York on a steamer, leaving that afternoon, under an assumed name, having disguised himself by dyeing his hair and putting on different clothing.

It is said that he became infatuated with another woman and the trip to New York was for the purpose of meeting her. A letter discovered by his wife revealed this. The amount of the cash taken from the store was fifteen dollars and the amount checked out of the bank was $165.00. Mr. Seligman and sister will get back this morning after a fruitless search for the man who had fled from his business and leaving his wife and one child.

DEMOCRATS MAKE PROMISES GOOD.

This Is O'Gorman's Text. New York Senator Points to Party's Deeds in 1911.

New York, May 2.—In an address tonight to the National Democratic Club at a dinner in his honor, James A. O'Gorman, the new United States Senator from New York, said in part: "Today the American people are looking hopefully to the Democratic party for redress against economic and political conditions which weigh heavily upon them and which cannot be successfully defended. There is a growing and widespread public sentiment that the American consumer must be relieved from unjust and unnecessary tribute.

"The House of Representatives, Democratic for the first time in sixteen years, has set a splendid example of advancing necessary legislation during the last month. The pledges of the party have been kept and the record of the House is one of achievement.

"In our own state the Democratic majority intends, during this session, to enact laws which will make for economy and efficiency in government, and thus lighten the burden of the citizens of the state. In New Jersey, under the inspiring leadership of Gov. Wilson, the Democratic party in one session of the Legislature has redeemed all the pledges of constructive legislation. These are a few of the achievements of the Democratic party in 1911.
