THE STATESBORO NEWS (INCORPORATED.)

Published by THE STATESBORO NEWS PUBLISHING COMPANY. Tuesday and Friday.

J. R. MILLER, Editor. Entered at the post office at Statesboro as 2nd class mail matter.

HE BELIEVES IN ADVERTISING.

Among the party of Dubliners here on Friday evening last was Mr. Arnan, manager of the Four Seasons store at Dublin. Mr. Arnan was asked if he believed in advertising as a paying proposition. He stated yes, when intelligently done. He stated that his firm expended about three thousand dollars per annum in advertising.

Now this is about twice as much as the entire city of Statesboro expends with all the newspapers printed here. The business men of Statesboro are so scared they will spend a dollar in printer's ink, that will not return the next minute, until it frightens them in an inch of their lives when a penny happens to slip through their fingers.

With all the proud boasts of this city we suspect that it is within the range of probability that this one Dublin firm not only spends twice as much money as does in advertising, but does about twice as much business as does this town. This firm probably draws its business further than does this entire town. Therefore it is a great incentive to others to do likewise, and tells in a measure why it is that Dublin and Laurens county are forging so far ahead of Statesboro and Bulloch county. They have left us so far until they can't even look back and see us.

But Statesboro grows some in spite of the folks. Occasionally we see a building go up, but the fellow who puts it up generally has his mind pitched on the fact that the interest from it must come back double fold and that forthwith.

There is absolutely no disposition to stretch out here. There is not a public enterprise here that is self-sustaining outside of the banks and the stores; there may be some exceptions, but they are few and far between. The biggest business in this town is the business of money lending, and the stock of these concerns pay more dividends and sell for more on the market than anything else.

Statesboro has no board of trade, or any other organization organized for the purpose of boosting things—in fact one couldn't live here long enough to get started.

Here is a town situated fifty percent better than Dublin is, with a better country backing it than Dublin has and yet slumbering to everything that slumbers get up and go ahead.

Swainsboro slept thirty years, but her folks have woken up and got busy. They have seen their interest fade away and the tide of prosperity turn towards other towns, and now Swainsboro is sitting up and taking notice. But Statesboro has gone to sleep.

Statesboro is sitting idly by and looking on at a magnificent piece of railroad property traversing the heart of the best section of her territory with one end pointing north and the other south—both ends pointing away from us, yet no one here has ever thought about it.

There is not a single citizen of this great little city that is building some in spite of the folks, who is turning his hand over to do a single thing in the interest of his town.

The above are unpleasant things to put in print but there is more truth than poetry in them just the same.

BULLOCH AND GOOD ROADS.

Certain automobile enthusiasts and newspapers who have it in for Bulloch county are beginning to criticize this county for her failure to pledge the entire road working forces of the county to the building of highways for the use and benefit of passing automobiles and the encouragement of automobile highways.

Bulloch county people are in favor of good roads and at great expense is now engaged in building roads that will be good for many years to come. With few exceptions our people would like to have as many strangers come our way as they can reasonably induce to come. In other words the latest thing is on the outside of the door and the door stands ajar as far as that is concerned.

But first of all the authorities have to keep in mind the interest and welfare of that great tax paying class of our citizens who contribute the sinews of war that makes it possible for these roads to be built.

Under the system now in vogue the roads have been worked out as far as possible from the centers of trade, wherein the greatest amount of travel is done and the greatest amount of good is accomplished.

While we appreciate the passing of our friends who drive automobiles for business and pleasure through our midst, yet we are frank to say, that if they cannot drive over our roads as they find them, roads on which have been spent the hard earnings of our tax payers, they will have to go elsewhere.

In the meeting on Friday night our Dublin friends were cordially invited to build their highway from Atlanta to the sea through this county, yet there was nothing we could promise them except that which we already had, and that which our well defined and perfectly understood plan would bring. The automobile roads will be worked when their turn comes, and not before.

The Board of County Commissioners that undertakes to build roads for automobiles at the expense of all other vehicles will be doing their duty a great injustice.

AGRICULTURAL SCHOOL HAS FINE CLOSING.

The commencement exercises of the first District Agricultural School have been on since Friday night and have been well attended from day to day. On Sunday Dr. O. P. Gilbert, pastor of the Second Baptist church of Augusta, delivered the commencement sermon to a large congregation of students and friends. The sermon, like all other commencement sermons, was more of an address than a sermon. His remarks were directed to the young manhood and young womanhood of the country, as represented by the large number of young folks who were present. The talk was one of the best we have heard in many years, and those who missed it were the losers by their absence.

On Monday afternoon the display of Domestic Science and Domestic Art was viewed by hundreds of people who went out to look at it. The larger portion of the visitors on this occasion were ladies, this department appealing more strongly to the ladies than any other. Refreshments were served from the Model Home and a magnificent display of domestic art was admired by every lady present. Hundreds of garments made by the girls of the school with their own hands were displayed, and the neatness with which they were made up made some of the mothers wish they had had these opportunities while they were growing up. The exhibition in the Domestic Science Department also met with hearty approval.

On Monday night the graduating class had charge of the exercises, nine in number, following each other in the order of the printed program, they delivered a number of essays and musical selections. A large crowd was out to witness this.

FINALLY CATCHES RUNAWAY WIFE.

Boatright's Chase Ends, Finds His Children After Search of Three States.

Albany, Ga., May 25.—W. E. Boatright, the Alabama farmer who followed his wife and the man with whom he alleges she had run away, back and forth through parts of three states for five months, has at last overhauled them and taken possession of his two little children. These he has taken back to his home, leaving the wife with the man with whom she ran away.

The case is a remarkable one and has attracted a good deal of attention. Purser and pursued traveled in buggies, camping out at night and zig-zagging back and forth through Alabama, Georgia and Florida.

Boatright carried a rifle wherever he went, but declared he would use it only in case of necessity. What he wanted was his children, who had left him, he could go where she pleased. Boatright passed through Albany four or five times during his five months' chase, and each time he was but a day or two behind those whom he was following. Several times he missed them by but a few hours. Sometimes the trail was entirely lost, but he always managed to take it up again.

SELL THE PHILIPPINES.

(Savannah Press.) Colonel Watterston's suggestion that the United States should sell the Philippine Islands to Japan is a pointed one, though it is rather doubtful if Japan would consent to purchase them unless they were put on the bargain counter for her benefit.

There is a great deal of silence on the subject of the Philippines and the public generally hears so little about them and regards them as so distant and vague that our policy in the East receives very little attention. The Republican party appears to desire to keep the grey matter of the public free from all unpleasant agitation on the subject and the Democratic party seems equally reluctant to tackle the matter and thresh it out. The anti-imperialists, apparently, are sleeping peacefully and everything is rocking along to the satisfaction of those who are having their own way. Occasionally the national joke of Hobson and the Japs is laughed out, when times are dull with the paragrappers, and more than occasionally we hear of how dearly the Japs love us.

Considering that the Philippine Islands are the logical expanding ground for the Japanese, who have outgrown their own lands and are bound to get possession of others, it is very pleasant to hear of how much they love and admire the United States. Meaning, sure of their kindly intentions, we are spending enormous amounts of money in fortification and modern improvements in the Philippines. The islands are overrun with Japanese spies and there are practically no secrets from them. Many of the natives of the Philippine Islands are so close to the Japanese in appearance and characteristics that it takes an ethnological expert to trace the different racial strains in them, consequently there is no doubt, either of the army or of the civil government, into which the spies of Japan find the slightest difficulty in pursuing their investigations.

Insufficiently guarded, and at great distance from our base, surrounded by natives whose nature is essentially intriguing, treacherous and easily moved to antagonism, who are ripe for insurrection and rebellion at any time that a powerful nation shall call them to war against us, our position in the East is, to say the least, one which invites trouble. If not from Japan, then from other nations to whom our presence in the Orient and our influence upon the Orientals is troublesome and abhorred.

The great wealth of our country and the confidence it engenders that in the ultimate reckoning, no matter what our unpopularity may be, the United States will win out, is our great protection. But the situation in the East is complex and our policy here is one of harmony with the policy of other nations. Nor is our position in the East in harmony with our own principles of government. We are ourselves violating the spirit of the Monroe doctrine in extending our domain to Asia, while assuming the complete guardianship of this hemisphere.

Happening as though by accident upon this rich find, way around on the other side of the world, we have pursued random and haphazard colonization policies of a highly theoretical character. Little or no general discussion of our policy was even put before the people, and no definite policy seems to be understood. News from our Eastern possessions is scanty, although it could not fail to be interesting and the great American public, and the supposed sovereign ruler of this country, is comfortably ignorant even though the matter is threshed out and understood and a definite course is agreed upon the better.

GREAT STRIDES BY SOUTH IN IMPROVING HER ROADS.

(Atlanta Constitution.) That not less than 25,000 miles of road were improved throughout the South in the short period from 1904 to 1909, was asserted by Logan Waller Page, director of the United States office of public roads in an interesting address before the National Road Roads Association at the convention held at Birmingham, Ala., May 23-26, 1911.

The additional miles of road that have been improved make a total of improved mileage of 42,280, or 6.67 per cent of all roads in the South.

"From this," said Mr. Page in his address, "it will be seen that during the brief period of five years the South has increased the mileage of its improved roads by practically 100 per cent, and this during what might be termed a transition period in the administration of its road affairs.

"One of the potent results of these reforms, and one which gives promise of greater progress in the future, is the interest and enthusiasm which has been aroused in the subject of road improvement in the South. That this enthusiasm is of a substantial character is evidenced by the fact that more funds have been raised by taxation and bond issues for expenditure during 1911 than ever before.

"At the present date, there is available for expenditure in the sixteen Southern states the sum of $40,625,000, or $59 per mile, which is practically double the expenditure of 1904. There will be, however, other large funds available during the year, as many counties are agitating, and will, no doubt, vote large bond issues for road improvement. It is further shown that the South is keeping pace with other sections of the country in the matter of road improvement, by the fact that practically one-third of all funds available for expenditure on roads during 1911 are available in the sixteen Southern states, while in 1904 the other states of the Union expended practically four times as much as was expended in the South.

"Conditions in the South require road improvement more urgently than in any other section of the country, for the reason that the roads are subjected to more continuous heavy traffic as they are nearly always up very bad this season, they cut up very badly and become almost impassable. In order to have good, hard roads during this period, it is necessary that they be properly graded, that they be surfaced. In the North, conditions are partially protected with ice and snow most of the time during the winter months, which affords a good, smooth surface over which traffic may pass.

"To meet this advantage, however, the roads of the South can be improved more cheaply than those of the North. In the South, labor is cheaper, and convict labor can be utilized and the road-building season is longer. Also, a cheaper type of road, in most cases, can be built in the South, as sand-clay roads can be constructed, these answering all the ordinary traffic requirements, and costing only about one-tenth as much as macadam or other roads suitable to Northern conditions.

"Moreover, the roads of the South are not subjected to as severe frosts and freezes in the spring and fall as those of the North, and consequently the injury from this source, necessarily makes the cost of maintenance less. So while the South stands in the greatest need of road improvement, its conditions are most favorable for meeting that need." Mr. Page illustrated how much more cheaply the South can improve its roads, and gave statistics to show how counties with improved roads have greatly increased their population, while those without good roads have lost in population. He also showed how millions of dollars have been saved by the improvement of public highways throughout the South.

"Once the South has a complete system of public roads," he predicted, "it will become the most prosperous section of the United States. Good roads mean more to the South than to any other part of the country, because it is here that the cost of moving crops has been so high. The South today is enjoying an era of prosperity and expansion. Improvements are in progress all along the line. Its population is increasing each year; its railroad mileage is being extended; its manufactures are enlarged; and its agriculture is each year opening up to new possibilities and bringing new areas under cultivation. In order, however, for this growth to continue, it will be necessary that the roads of the south be improved, population, impede its railroad development, hamper the enlargement of its manufactures, and restrict its agriculture."

DRAWING A CLEAN LINE. (Savannah Press.) To offer applause to the President for the stand he has taken in refusing to pardon two very prominent and influential convicts, would savor of reflection rather than praise since he has simply followed the only course open to an honest and honorable executive, to whom the respect for law and the preservation of honest ideals in our citizenry naturally weigh in the balance against personal sympathy for the shame and the suffering of the criminals.

Mr. Taft, however, in using this occasion to give full emphasis to the lesson which the conviction of these two gentlemen of high finance should teach, showed a keen and true appreciation of the evils of our times and his words will do much to bring a lighter tone to public sentiment.

"The truth is," said the President, "that in the mad rush for wealth in the last few decades, lines between profit and legitimate and improper gain, from the use of trust control over the people's property and money, has sometimes been dimmed, and the interest of society requires that whenever opportunity offers those charged with the enforcement of the law should emphasize the distinction between honest business and dishonest branches of trust."

It has been remarked by historians that the inordinate love for wealth has sounded the death knell of all civilizations. Certainly it is one of the most insidious evils of the United States today.

Walsh and Morse are no more dishonest than many others who now enjoy the prestige and honor which great possessions give—no matter how they have been acquired—but Walsh and Morse have fallen into the clutches of the law and for the sake of society they must not be spared. The very spectacle of them, painful and appealing as it is, is a necessary example of the logical ending of devious and undefined notions as to the use of other people's money.

Had the President pardoned these two criminals his action would have had a widespread influence for evil, but it is unnecessary to say that the idea of his doing such a thing has never been seriously considered. In so clearly and unequivocally sounding a note for clean and honest business, however, he has made the most of a good opportunity to tone up the financial and social ideals of the entire country.

BODY OF WOMAN FOUND IN CREEK

Body of Mrs. David Sapp, Missing for Several Days, Found in Sinkhole Back of a Cemetery. Bullet Wounds and Bruises are Discovered.

Quitman, Ga., May 26.—The body of Mrs. David Sapp, who has been missing from her home near here for several days, was found in a sinkhole back of the cemetery here this morning by two fishermen. She had been shot in the head and back and been hit in the face with a piece of timber, it is rumored that the police have a clue, and that arrests will be made after the inquest. Three shots were heard near the Sapp cottage Monday afternoon.

The body was within a quarter of a mile of the house. The Sapps lived near the cemetery on the east side, just out of the city limits. Monday afternoon she was heard talking to someone in her house about an hour before sunset. When Mr. Sapp returned from his work that night she was gone. Inquiries among the neighbors brought out the fact that she had been picking berries near the house that afternoon, and the pall of berries was on the table in the house, but otherwise they knew nothing of her. Tuesday morning the husband reported her disappearance to the police and a search was begun.

Just back of the cemetery is a swamp bordering the Oklawaha creek; near the cemetery fence a trail of blood was discovered, and where it began a piece of plank about 4 feet long was found, also with blood on it. This trail went about half way around the back of the cemetery, and was lost in the edge of the swamp.

Thursday morning the searchers found a place on the creek bank trampled as if by some one throwing something in. Nearby trails were found which went out of the woods to the Valdosta turnpike and then doubled back toward Quitman.

On this clue the creek was dragged, though the water is high and swift, owing to the heavy rains this week. None of the woman's clothes were missing from the house, and there was nothing to show that her disappearance was premeditated.

Local Firm Will Continue Valuable Agency. W. H. Ellis Co. of this city have just closed a deal whereby they will continue to be agents for ZEMO—the well known remedy for Eczema, Dandruff, and all diseases of the skin and scalp.

The extraordinary leap that this clean liquid external treatment for skin affections has made into public favor in the last few years proves its wonderful curative properties and makes it indeed a valuable addition to the line stock of remedial agencies carried by the W. H. Ellis Drug Co.

They have a limited supply of samples. One of which will be given free to any skin sufferer who wishes to test the merit of the medicine. A booklet "How To Preserve The Skin," will also be given to those interested. ad. mel. 25. tfe.

"CURIOSITY" AT BOTTOM.

On a table in the waiting room of a specialist is an inlaid box, says the New York Sun. When one opens it, and most visitors to the specialist do, a smaller box is found, and one so large inside that. This continues until finally the last is reached, a tiny thing with a slip of paper inside. On the paper is a single word, "Curiosity."

"I keep it there to amuse waiting patients," explained the specialist. "If there was only one who went through the seals of boxes he might feel sore about it, but he or she leaves the box closed for the next comer, and when there are quite a few in the waiting room it gets to be a pretty good joke and I can hear laughter as the latest arrival gets stung.

"I picked the box up on a trip to India and happened to leave it in the waiting room one day. Now it stays there all the time." Cows Astray. "TWO" GOVERNORS OF GEORGIA FRIENDLY. They Met At The Banquet Board in Atlanta Last Night. Atlanta, Ga., May 27.—When Hoke Smith entered the auditorium last night for the Georgia dinner he stood on one side of the door to the anti-room and Governor Brown on the other. The former advanced and shook hands with Governor Brown, who responded with dignity and cordiality. During the dinner the two men sat near each other, one on the right hand of the chairman and the other on the left. Governor Smith talked freely with the two men and seemed to address most of his remarks to Governor Brown, who nodded his head in assent from time to time. Relations between the two men seem to be thoroughly civil and friendly and attracted considerable comment.

(Communicated.) WE DIDN'T KNOW IT! So much is being said and written about a primary in the state at large for a state senator in the place of the late Senator Clay has caused many to wonder and ask themselves the question, who are candidates for the senatorship? We didn't know when we were voting for the various state and county officers, we were nominating the successful ones for other offices by a decree going forth from behind closed doors to the state executive committee, to shut out the people and destroy the county unit plan—turn the negro in, and the poor white laborer out; not less than "fifty per cent" from the polls, ignoring his white skin, straight hair, and tax receipt.

Yes, the political pot is boiling over, not only in Bulloch county where the negro is protected and respected by some white people at the fearful sacrifice of our wives and daughters and houses pillaged. In what county do the negro vote and hold office besides that of our own? We are not seeking a fight, or controversy. We were born in a country where white men ruled, voted, held office and controlled the executive and judicial departments of the land, and we have been a voter in Georgia for is universally conceded to be a good habit, and a good habit has been defined by someone as

"Yesterday's Achievements Taking the Sting from Today's Toil."

This definition states the exact truth, based upon the experience of thousands of depositors throughout the world. CONEY ISLAND SWEPT BY FIRE

Damage Is Estimated Between Two and Three Million Dollars.

"DREAMLAND" A MASS OF SMOKING RUINS.

Fire Started at Two O'clock in the Morning and Lasted Over Three Hours. About Two Hundred Buildings Were Burned Down.

New York, May 27.—Coney Island, the playgrounds of New York, suffered the worst fire disaster of its history today. Dreamland, the largest of the amusement parks, was wiped out and about four blocks adjoining, covered with booths, restaurants, hotels, moving picture theaters, and restrooms of varied types, were destroyed.

The fire broke out at two o'clock in the morning and was not under control until 3 hours and a half later. The loss will amount to between two and three million dollars.

In all about two hundred buildings were burned, and perhaps two thousand persons—concessionaires and employees—were turned into the streets, homeless and penniless. No lives were lost. The burned area represents nearly a third of the entire amusement city, all of which undoubtedly have gone in the teeth of a strong wind but for the fact that Coney Island, with a high pressure water system, especially designed for fire protection, guarded against a disaster of this kind. The fire was traced to a tiny blaze, in the tarred scaffolding of "Hell Gate," a scenic railway close to the entrance to Dreamland.

Three Alarms Turned In. Twenty minutes afterward a frightened watchman had turned in three alarms, one after another, as fast as his thumb could press the key, all Dreamland—a tea acres of gaudy, closely packed buildings—was one blaze. The flames, urged by a strong wind, were visible for nearly fifteen miles. Close to "Hell Gate," where the fire started, was the Bostock Animal Show, and nearer yet the infant incubator, a charity nursery in which were six wee infants and their attendants. The children were taken out in their little glass houses and rushed out of danger by the police.

Then came work of taking out the animals, a costly collection including several dangerous man-eaters. The animals were in a panic. Their roaring could be heard for many blocks above the crackling of the flames and throbbing of the engines. The trainers lost no time. While the policemen with drawn revolvers stood at the entrance to guard the crowds against any beasts that might escape, the attendants drove their charges from their cages down the runways into the emergency vans which are always ready. All went well until the transfer was nearly concluded. Then the biggest of the lions, in a panic, broke from his bonds, smashed his way through the barriers and leaped into the streets, all packed by a throng of spectators. He dived straight into the middle of the throng. Confusion seized the multitude and the crowd rushed pell-mell in all directions in panic.

Fired on Lion. A mounted policeman came upon the crouching beast in the center of the wide avenue with drawn revolver. Twice he shot and missed the lion, backing away from the glare and the noise of the explosions, and then six more mounted policemen lined up in front of the crowd and opened a fusillade. Backing away, snarling and leaving a trail of blood from many wounds, the lion made his way across the avenue into the dark wooden tunnels of "The Rocky Road to Dublin." In a black corner beneath painted scenes of equatorial Africa he made his last stand. Three final volleys were required to finish him and he sank to the ground riddled like a sieve. To make sure that he was dead one of the policemen pulled down a fire axe from behind the scenery and knocked the skull in two. As soon as the crowd was assured that the lion was no more they rushed in and literally tore the carcass to bits for souvenirs. The first man on the scene took the tattered tail, the three next divided the long mane, and fifteen men fought among themselves for the honor of possessing one of his teeth.

Meanwhile the escape of the big lion had cut short the work of the animal men and fire was already in the menageries before their work was completed. Sixty of the one hundred and five animals were left to die by fire.

The cause of the fire probably will never be determined. In the "Hell Gate" scenic railway workmen with tar rails had been smearing the catwalkway to protect the scaffolding against the weather. It is supposed the fire somehow had its origin from the hot tar. Dreamland was worth $2,500,000 and there was less than $500,000 insurance.

GEORGIA PLANTATION SELLS FOR $126,000.

H. C. Bagley Sells 2,100 Tract at $60 an Acre, a New Record Price.

Atlanta, Ga., May 27.—When a Georgia plantation sells for $126,000, or $60 an acre, it sets a new record for the state. That's what H. C. Bagley, the Atlanta insurance man, has received for his 2,100-acre plantation and peach orchard in Sumter county, near Americus. He still retains his other big Sumter county plantation and his tract in Macon county, aggregating 4,000 acres, and he says he will hold on to them.

J. D. Whittle, a wealthy planter of Blackville, S. C., is the purchaser of the property, and will devote it entirely to farming, preferring this to peach growing. The price paid is by far the highest ever given for a Georgia tract of this size, and Mr. Bagley attributes it to the recent advance in development of South Georgia and to the improvement in the roads of that section. The plantation was his old home place and he parted with it reluctantly, though he made a handsome profit. It has advanced in value from $15 to $60 an acre in his time, besides an almost steady profit from its products in the years he has owned it.

Mr. Bagley, who is a member of the insurance firm of Bagley & Willet, is a good example of the business man-farmer. He devotes the last two days of each week to his plantations, spending the rest of his time in his office, and has made a success of both interests. He organized the Georgia Fruit Exchange several years ago, a body which has made it possible for peach growers to market their fruit with a profit.

Do Ghosts Haunt Swamps? No. Never. It's foolish to fear a fanciful evil, when there are real and deadly perils to guard against in swamps and marshes, bays, and lowlands. These are the malaria ferns that cause ague, chills and fevers, weakness, and may induce deadly typhoid. But Electric Bitters destroys and casts out these vicious germs from the blood. "Three bottles drove all the malaria from my system," wrote Wm. Fretwell, of Lincuma, N. C. "and I've had fine health ever since." Use this safe, sure remedy. Only 50c, at W. H. Ellis Co.

A VERY RICH MAN WAS SENATOR ELKINS. Elkins, W. Va., May 26.—The report if the appraisers of the late Senator S. B. Elkins' will, entered on file at County Clerk Rowan's office, shows that the senator's actual wealth was $4,025,109.04, which is divided as follows: Money in bank at time of death $117,357.64. Stock value in 54 corporations, $2,932,298.90. He had a bond appraisal in nine corporations of $733,900. He had $12,370 in miscellaneous investments. Bills receivable, $48,035. Home property appraised at $64,000. Real estate, including timberlands, appraised at $117,147.50. His heaviest holdings were in the coal and coke railway and the Morgantown and Kingwood railway.

BREAKING IT GENTLY. (Norman E. Mack's National Monthly.) Simpkins always was soft-hearted. This is what he wrote: "Dear Mrs. Jones—Your husband cannot come home today because his bathin suit was washed away. P. S.—Poor Jones was inside the suit."

MRS. MCGILL BROKE DOWN Gives the Real Facts in Regard to Her Case and Tells How She Suffered. Jonesboro, Ark.—"I suffered a complete breakdown in health, some time ago," writes Mrs. A. McGill, "and I did not do any work. I tried different remedies, but they did me no good. One day, I got a bottle of Cardui, and I took some more. Before I took Cardui, I had headache and backache, and sometimes I would cry for hours. Now I am over all that, and can do all kinds of housework. I think it is the greatest medicine on earth." In the past fifty years, thousands of ladies have written, like Mrs. McGill, to tell of the benefits received from Cardui. Such testimony from earnest women, surely indicates the great value of this tonic remedy for diseases peculiar to women. Are you a sufferer? Cardui is the medicine you need. We urge you to try it. N. B.—Write for Ladies' Advisory Dept. Cardui, Home Medicines Co., Chattanooga, Tenn. Be sure to get the genuine, and of each box, "Home Treatment for Women," sent in plain wrapper, or request.

CHILEANS BURN FLAG OF PERU. Iquique, Chile, May 28.—A mob today attacked the Peruvian Club and burned the flag of Peru. Troops were summoned to quell the rioting and several persons were wounded. The Peruvian consul has resigned and has asked the United States consul to protect Peruvian interests in this place. The organization of the mob and the rioting that followed were the outcome of a publication in the newspapers that the Chilean consulate in Callao, Peru, had been attacked and the consul wounded. Diplomatic relations between Peru and Chile were severed more than a year ago. The Chilean government withdrew its legation from Lima and the Peruvian government withdrew its legation from Santiago. This action was brought about by the expulsion of Peruvian priests from the provinces of Tacna and Arica. The actual dispute between Chile and Peru rests on the question of ownership with regard to Tacna and Arica provinces to decide which a plebiscite of the inhabitants of these provinces has been suggested.

NEW YORK BIGGER CITY THAN LONDON IN 1930. That's What the Figures Prove if They Keep on Growing in the Same Proportion the Next Two Decades. (Atlanta Georgian.) It is written that New York, the metropolis of the new world, is to wrest from London, the metropolis of the largest city on the globe, not right away, nor yet soon, perhaps, but statisticians who have in hand the figures of the 1910 British census, issued Thursday, can convince even the most unbelieving that very thing will come about. The figures announced Thursday give the British city a population of 25,963, an increase for the ten years of 11 per cent. The 1910 census gives New York a population of 4,766,883, an increase over the 1900 census of 38 per cent. Figuring that both cities will maintain the same ratio of increase for another ten years London will have a population of 8,050,788 in 1920 and New York will have 6,578,298. By the same method the statisticians put London in second place in 1930 and gives to New York the proud pre-eminence of being the largest city on this whirling ball of mud. The figures show London will have 8,936,375 and give New York 9,078,051. If New York's present population be added to that of adjacent cities such as Jersey City, Newark, Hoboken, West Hoboken, Elizabeth, Orange, East Orange, N. J., Yonkers, New Rochelle and Mt. Vernon—all practically a part of New York city, each of which has a population of 25,000 or more, the American city will show 5,764,860. With a gain of 38 per cent in ten years the figures would jump to 7,955,506 in 1920, right at London's heels, and in 1930 New York could claim 10,978,598 souls. And if you don't believe it, just wait until 1930 and see for yourself.

IS ORGANIZED TO FIX PRICE OF PRINT PAPER. President of Association Makes Admission Before Senate Committee. Washington, May 26.—Under a cross-examination conducted by Senators Stone and Williams, Arthur C. Hastings, president of the American Paper and Publishing Association, admitted today before the senate finance committee at their hearing that this organization was formed for the purpose of fixing the price of print paper. Mr. Hastings denied the statements made by John Norris, of the American Newspaper Publishers Association, and declared they were not according to facts. Sick headache results from a disordered condition of the stomach, and can be cured by the use of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. Try it. For sale by all dealers. WANT AD RECOVERS $50,000 OF JEWELRY. Detroit, Mich., May 26.—A hand-satchel containing jewelry valued at $50,000, lost in Jefferson Ave. two weeks ago, was restored today to Waldo A. Avery, a well known business man, by Anthony A. Selwsky, a bicycle man, who found it in the middle of the street on which it was lost. Despite the fact the expert private detectives from Chicago and New York were hired by Avery, the restoration was brought about by a lost and found advertisement. A reward of $1,000 was offered by Avery and Selwsky will receive this. A schoolboy's composition on Patrick Henry contained the following gem: "Patrick was not a very bright boy. He had blue eyes and light hair. He got married and then said, 'Give me liberty or give me death.'"

NOT TO BE MADE LIGHT OF. (Rochester Herald.) Marie Dressler is as famous for her epigrams as she is for her generosity. An actor at the opera house was recalling yesterday one of her justly famous bits of repartee: "Miss Dressler was inviting her friends to a birthday party. "There'll be a birthday cake, I suppose?" "Some one remarked. "Yes, there be a cake, never fear," was the reply. "And candles, of course?" "My friend," said Miss Dressler, "this is to be a birthday party, not a tonight procession."

CHOOSE DEATH ON DESERT TO LIFE IN SAN FRANCISCO. San Francisco, May 26.—After wandering in the Mojave desert for nearly two days without food or water, Maria Ferrari, an Italian immigrant girl, today is safe at the home of her brother here. Terrified by the malicious stories of Italians she met on the journey from New York, she jumped from a Santa Fe train near Barstow, and before taking it three days I could feel its beneficial effects. The pain left my back, my kidney action cleared up, and I am so much better I do not hesitate to recommend Foley Kidney Remedy." W. H. Ellis Co.

Foley Kidney Remedy Acted Quickly. M. N. George, Irondale, Ala., was bothered with a kidney trouble for many years. "I was persuaded to try Foley Kidney Remedy, and before taking it three days I could feel its beneficial effects. The pain left my back, my kidney action cleared up, and I am so much better I do not hesitate to recommend Foley Kidney Remedy." W. H. Ellis Co.

FOUNDATION IS LAID FOR AN AERIAL NAVY.

Washington, May 26.—The foundation of Uncle Sam's aerial navy was laid today when Assistant Secretary Winthrop signed contracts aggregating $13,000 for the delivery at the naval academy by July 1 next of three aeroplanes. These will represent the very latest developments in aeronautics, being capable of rising from and alighting upon the water or the deck of a ship; carrying at least one passenger in addition to the aviator, and of being equipped with a 50-pound wireless outfit. Two of the machines will be of the Curtiss type, one with 3 cylinders and the other four, and the other aeroplane will be furnished by the Wright brothers. Prices range from $27,700 to $5,500. Immediately upon the delivery of the machines a naval school of instruction for aviator will be established at Annapolis under the care of Captain Chambers, who has made a specialty of aeronautics.

SHALL KEEP UP FIGHT, SAYS MRS. C. W. MORSE. New York, May 26.—Mrs. Charles W. Morse, wife of the former banker whose petition for pardon was denied last week by President Taft, left New York tonight for Atlanta. She expects to stay there for some time, taking up her residence in the neighborhood of the federal prison, and consulting as frequently as possible with her husband regarding her next course of action.

DEATH OF LESLIE RUSHING.

The friends of Mr. and Mrs. F. N. Rushing, of the 44th district, will regret to learn of their dying one day last week. The cause of his death was typhoid fever. He was about one and a half years old at the time of his little son, Leslie, the death of whom, it was about eleven years old at the time of his death.

By the suggestion of a friend, who is a drummer and sells goods at Statesboro, I came here to fit glasses to such eyes as may be in need of them, and I ask the public not to class me with common traveling great eye-doctors who know very little about the eyes, their refractive errors, or corrections, but come and give me a trial on your eyes, no matter how far they have failed to improve your vision. I make a specialty of all the aristocratic shapes in glasses and mountings, do my own cementing for bifocals, drilling and everything. Will be pleased to have you call on me at The Cash Company.

CITY SCHOOLS TO CLOSE.

The commencement exercises of the Statesboro Institute came to a close last night, the exercises beginning on Sunday when Dr. Talliaferro, pastor of the First Baptist church of Dublin, delivered the commencement sermon to a large and appreciative audience, one that packed the large auditorium to its full capacity. Dr. Talliaferro delivered a very able discourse and those who missed it missed a genuine treat. On Monday evening a musical festival was given by Miss Ruth Kennedy, the principal of the music department of the school. Again a large audience greeted and cheered the different selections.

The exercises came to a close Tuesday evening when the diplomas were awarded to the graduating class of two young men and eleven young women. After these diplomas were delivered Col. R. Lee Moore came on the stage and in a few well selected words presided over the exercises.

Senator de la Barra is broadly schooled in matters of government and diplomacy. Though only forty-eight years old, he has played a continuous and important part in his country's development. For five years he was a member of the Mexican congress. He has represented his nation in a number of international conferences and also in Belgium and the Netherlands.

In 1909 he was sent as ambassador to Washington. There he was widely popular and did much to cement friendly relations between his own country and ours. His selection as provisional president will doubtless restore Mexico to peace and to international confidence.

Any information as to their whereabouts will be rewarded.

Public Building Bill Introduced.

Congressman Chas. G. Edwards introduced a bill in the lower house of the National Congress on yesterday providing for an appropriation of seventy-five thousand dollars for the erection of a post office building in the city of Statesboro. The building is to be located on the site already secured by Congressman Edwards, and located on South Main street.

Mr. Edwards states that he has strong faith in the success of the bill, and while it may not get through during the present extra session yet he has got it on the way, under consideration, and will be in a position to push it when the regular session opens in December.

The importance of Statesboro demands a good public building, and it is believed that when Mr. Edwards brings the matter properly before the Appropriation Committee, as he will do, we will be included in the next general appropriation bill for public building purposes.

It has long been Mr. Edwards' ambition to build this structure in Statesboro. He has been telling us about it and he will stick to it until he gets it, this means we are going to win when Charlie Edwards gets something behind a proposition you are for something to happen.

"I cannot think what has upset that tall blond man over there. He was so attentive a little while ago, but he won't look at me now."

"Perhaps," the other said, "he saw me come in. He's my husband."

Mexico's New President

The selection of Senor de la Barra as provisional president of Mexico augurs well for the country of that troubled republic. There is perhaps no other man so thoroughly fitted to steer the government through its present critical period of transition.

Throughout the revolution he has been Diaz's chief advisor. He is familiar with the details of the chief executive's office. For some weeks past, indeed, he has been virtually at the head of affairs. He knows, in logical consequence, the steps that must be taken to keep the government firmly on its feet until an election can be held.

At the same time de la Barra enjoys the confidence of the revolutionary party, and with the masses of the people he is emphatically popular. It is respected for his gift as a statesman and trusted for his well proved integrity.

The provisional president thus serves as link between the old and the new order. It was the possibility that just this link might be lacking which gave rise to fears that Mexico might not weather its trying transitional season. These apprehensions, however, are greatly allayed both by the self-restraint which the people have thus far shown, following the retirement of Diaz, and by the character of the man who is now at the head of the state.

Nicaragua Looks for New Invasion.

Bluefields, Nicaragua, June 3. Three days after the explosion which wrecked the La Loma barracks overlooking the city of Managua in which many soldiers were killed, the natives are expecting an invasion under the leadership of Dr. Julian Irias, former delegate on the Atlantic coast side, of Madrid, and also from Costa Rica.

Crop in Good Condition.

Moultrie, Ga., May 28.—Weather conditions have been ideal in this county for farm work, and as a result crops are the most promising ever seen in the southern part of the state. Oats are being gathered, and the yield in this county is the heaviest on record. Corn is in a most satisfying condition, while cotton appears to be several weeks ahead of last year's crop.

AGRI. SCHOOL ELECTS FACULTY

Sentiments of Board Expressed in Resolution.

The regular annual meeting of the Board of Trustees of the First District Agricultural School was held at the office of the chairman, Hon. J. Randolph Anderson, at Savannah yesterday.

It was the most enthusiastic meeting of the board ever held since the establishment of the school. A general note of joy prevailed among the trustees. Then it was the best attended meeting ever held. Ten out of twelve of the trustees were present, the other two being prevented by sickness. All felt good over the outlook for the school under the administration of President Dickens.

The heavy debt has been about paid off, much money spent on improvements, and the enrollment last term ran up to the high mark of 181. Prof. Dickens reported strong probability of 200 or more boarders next term.

To care for the increase the president was instructed to employ two and possibly three more teachers for his faculty. Another evidence of satisfaction was in the fact the entire faculty was re-elected for the new school year.

New Buildings. The trustees provided for the erection of a large dining hall with living rooms on second story to cost some $4,000. Work has already begun. Prof. Rowan, our mechanical professor, has drawn the plans and will superintend its construction, which will be done largely by students who are remaining for the summer. A new shop will also be built and possibly some cottages.

The Thanks of the Board. One of the events of the meeting was the voluntary and enthusiastic expression of the trustees in so many words in a resolution. The resolution shows how highly satisfactory the good work of Prof. Dickens and his faculty is to the board. These men recognize the strong hold he has upon the people of the district, and felt that an official expression was merited.

The Resolutions. The resolutions as adopted are as follows: Whereas, it is a pleasing fact, known all over the First congressional district and over the whole state, that under the administration of Professor E. G. J. Dickens, president of the First District Agricultural School, the said school has in the short period of nineteen months of his labor at its head, passed from the smallest to the largest of the eleven district agricultural schools of the state, having reached the splendid enrollment of one hundred and eighty-one for the term just closed; and whereas, he has so managed its affairs as to bring it from under heavy indebtedness and at the same time spent several thousand dollars in improvements, and yet today practically out of debt; and whereas, we, the trustees of said school recognize the strong place Professor Dickens and his accomplished wife holds in the hearts of the large student body and the faculty as well as the district; and whereas, we now recognize the fact that the school under his management is solving the purpose for which it was established, and more, that we must enlarge to accommodate the hundreds of students who want to attend the school, and whereas, this board fully appreciates the great work and ability of every member of the faculty and the farm superintendents, therefore, be it resolved

1. That the thanks of this board of trustees are formally extended to President and Mrs. Dickens for their untiring work and labor of love for the school, for his business judgment and ability, for his methods of economy, by which he has so successfully made such a fine showing in dollars and cents.

2. That we recognize the beautiful Christian character of Professor Dickens, which itself has lifted the moral dignity of the institution to a very high plane and sent out such a loyal student body who will reflect great and continuing credit upon the school.

3. That this board of trustees reaffirms strongest co-operation and support to Professor Dickens in his work with the school.

4. That this board expresses its sincere appreciation of the entire faculty for their ability and faithful work for the school, for the staunch and unspotted character of each member of our faculty.

5. That our thanks are hereby extended to the many citizens of the district who have so loyally patronized the school.

6. That we especially record our gratitude to the good people of Statesboro and Bulloch county for the generous support given Professor Dickens, his faculty and the school, especially for the manner in which they provided for the great and successful dinner given at our commencement.

Adopted by the Board of Trustees at its annual meeting June 5, at Savannah, and ordered made a part of our records, and further ordered that a copy of this resolution be furnished Professor Dickens and each member of his faculty, and to the press of this district for publication.

J. R. ANDERSON, Chairman of the Board. J. R. MILLER, Secretary of the Board.

VALDOSTA JURY INDIOTS ROAD FOR VIOLATION.

Grows Out of Shipment From Macon and Is Declared to Have Been Error.

Valdosta, Ga., June 3.—Among the indictments returned by the grand jury in the United States circuit court was one against the South Georgia and West Coast Railroad for an alleged violation of the interstate rate law. The case against the railroad company grew out of a shipment of terra cotta from Macon to Perry, Fla. The published rate being higher than the two locals of the Georgia Southern and Florida and the Georgia and West Coast to Perry, this making the shortest route, the West Coast quoted the short line rate and the indictment followed.

The road claims that an error was made with no intention to violate the law, and nobody was the loser thereby. The case will probably be tried next week.

LORIMER ASKS FOR A HEARING

When the Committee Begins to Investigate Bribery Charges, Senator Wants to Appear as a Witness in His Own Behalf. Lorimer's Request Shows That He does Not Intend to Resign.

Washington, June 3.—Senator William Lorimer, whose election to the senate is to be re-investigated, today requested that he be permitted to appear before the new investigating committee to testify in his own behalf. The request was telegraphed to the senate committee on privileges and elections by Mr. Lorimer, who is in Chicago. The committee, it was said, would be glad to hear him.

Lorimer's Telegram. Mr. Lorimer's telegram was as follows: "At the former investigation nothing was charged against me personally. Therefore there was nothing for me to deny as a witness. It is my earnest desire to be permitted to testify before your committee so that I can refute any charges that may be made or any suspicions that anyone may have as to the validity of my election."

The telegram had the effect of quieting persistent rumors that the Illinois senator would resign.

Sen. Dillingham, chairman of the committee said that no doubt Mr. Lorimer would be given the fullest opportunity to testify.

The telegram reached the committee headquarters immediately after the adjournment of a meeting at which the Lorimer inquiry had been under consideration. No action was taken today, but another meeting was ordered for Monday, when the question will be taken up again.

Discussing the Situation. The entire discussion today centered about a motion by Senator Kenyon that the committee proceed as a whole with the work and indications pointed to the failure of the Kenyon motion. The members of the committee generally express themselves as desirous of having the investigation conducted in Washington to as great an extent as possible.

During the meeting Senator Dillingham expressed a desire to be relieved from service on the proposed subcommittee and it is probable that Senator Sutherland will be given the place.

A complete copy of the testimony taken by the Helms committee of the Illinois state senate in its investigation of the Lorimer case reached Washington late today. The package was addressed to the secretary of the United States senate and will be turned over to the committee on privileges and elections authorized to conduct the new inquiry.
