Union Rally a Success

The Farmers Union Rally, at Union School House on July 13th, was a success. All the adjoining localities were well represented. The crowd gathered from far and near from early morning till after the program had begun. The house was well as the porch was crowded to its full capacity.

The day was a suitable one for an occasion of this kind; it was cloudy and cooler than some we have had. This put a good feeling on the audience and the speakers on the program. Col. A. M. Deal, though he is a non-union man, opened up the program with an eloquent and impressive speech. He told the farmers of the necessity of organization and how the men of other occupations were organized.

The next speaker was Mr. S. J. Cowan, one of the leading Farmers Union lecturers. He is up to his eyes in the matter. The farmer was his main topic. He unraveled him from start to finish, telling him of the advantages they have and the minor uses he is making of them. The audience was very attentive throughout the time of the speaking and seemed to take in most of what was said.

After the speeches the Chairman announced that he thought there would be a plenty of "goods" to come from the wagon and buggies scattered over the hill. This pleased all. After a few minutes all doubts as to the dinner question were settled, when a table several feet long showed forth a bounteous supply of good things. When dinner was over the program remained for a while to exchange views. The interest shown during the day goes to show that the day is fast dawning when the farmers will own a greater share of Georgia's garment.

J. POPE BROWN ENDORSED BY HOME COUNTY.

Citizens of Pulaski County Adopted Resolutions 1897 Urging Him to Run.

Following the election of Gov. Hoke Smith to the United States Senate on joint ballot of the Georgia Legislature on Wednesday, Hon. J. Pope Brown, of Hawkinsville, who has just retired as State Treasurer, in response to resolutions adopted in mass meeting by his fellow citizens of Pulaski county Wednesday evening, announced his candidacy for Governor to fill the unexpired term of Governor Smith.

From last week's issue of the Bartow Tribune, Cartersville, the following foreword of Mr. Brown and something of his record is gathered, which may be of interest at this time, to wit:

"For several years Mr. Brown has been urged to offer for Governor, and in 1897 the citizens of his home county, Pulaski, in mass meeting unanimously adopted a resolution requesting him to make the race, but being a close personal friend of Allen D. Chandler, who had already announced, Mr. Brown declined to oppose him, and ex-Congressman Chandler was elected. As will be remembered, Mr. Brown had about decided to enter the race for Governor four years ago, but in deference to Hoke Smith he withdrew and Mr. Smith was elected and served two years, and is now just beginning a second term.

"Mr. Brown represented Pulaski county in the Legislature for four years, being re-elected after his first term without opposition, but declined further service. He was Chairman of the Committee on Agriculture, and was really the prime factor in the later establishment of the Agricultural Schools, in connection with the State Experiment Station failed of passage. He was, therefore, a little in advance of the movement. In 1896 he was made President of the State Agricultural Society, although not present at the convention and had in no way solicited the honor. He continued to serve the society for five years, during which time the interests of the Society and of Agriculture in general were greatly advanced and he injected into the system some of his own practical, common sense methods and business practices.

"Under an appointment from Gov. Chandler, Mr. Brown served as Railroad Commissioner for five years, succeeding L. N. Traummel, who died in office, and upon the retirement of Spencer R. Atkinson was made Chairman of the Commission. Mr. Brown was not a candidate for re-election, and later Governor Smith offered him a place on the Commission, but this he declined to accept. When a vacancy was occasioned in the office of State Treasurer by the death of Robert E. Park in May, 1900, Governor Smith appointed Mr. Brown. He was not a candidate for the position and is succeeded by W. J. Speer.

THE MASTER'S WORK.

It is the Master's work we do, Within our lives he stands; He walks with our swift-hurrying feet, And paces our busy hands.

His love it is within our hearts; His wisdom makes us wise; His deathless passion in our souls; His cross before our eyes.

Our weakness and our faithfulness, Our sins are all our own; But all the good and true in us Belongs to Him alone.

O Master, we would live to Thee! Make us a living word, Till every heart-beat is Thine own, And love our sovereign Lord.

—Oliver Huckel.

BIG CROWD ATTENDS REUNION

Wednesday, the 19th, as stated in the News before, was set apart for the old soldiers of Bulloch county. All were invited to attend. The meeting was not to be called to order at 10 o'clock, but long before this time people began to come in town and on every train, large crowds arrived, and it was soon seen that crowds from all over the county would be in attendance.

The soldiers met in regular session at the appointed time, and after all business was transacted several speeches were made by attending veterans and others.

Among the speakers were Col. J. A. Brannen, A. M. Deal and R. Lee Moore.

After the speaking the veterans marched to the Jaekel hotel and dinner served them. The camp adopted some very important resolutions, which are found in this issue. These resolutions are important to the old Confederates, and as the camp is one of the strongest in the state. They resolutions which they adopted will no doubt be taken to the national convention which will be held in Macon in 1912. The citizens of Statesboro are always glad to have the "old boys" meet here and hear their old time war-whoops.

BIG SALE AT CHAS. E. CONE'S THIS WEEK

Big Crowds Taking Advantage of the Big Sale This Enterprising Firm is Offering.

As published in our last week's issue, the big sale at Chas. E. Cone's is attracting considerable attention from the buyers that grasp opportunities.

As stated in last issue Mr. Cone is offering his stock at a greatly reduced price so as to lay in a heavy stock for the coming fall trade and inasmuch as this sale will mark the closing out of all his stock as he has sold a half interest to Mr. C. H. Anderson. Big crowds are attending this sale each day, which shows that advertising in the News pays and "turns the trick." If you have not attended this sale it would be to your advantage to do so.

Never leave home on a journey without a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. It is almost certain to be needed and cannot be obtained when on board the cars or steamships. For sale by all dealers.

RESOLUTIONS ADOPTED BY VETS WEDNESDAY

Statesboro, Ga., July 19, 1911.—We, the Confederate Veterans of Bulloch county assembled this day in our annual reunion do hereby acknowledge and desire to express our appreciation to the citizens of Statesboro for their kind hospitalities shown us Wednesday. We especially desire to render thanks to Col. R. Lee Moore, A. M. Deal and J. A. Brannen for their kind and cordialities rendered in their speeches delivered to us.

Whereas, the State and National reunions of the Confederate veterans are so extensively patronized by the public and it has got to be such an inconvenience to the old veterans who are scarcely able physically to travel on railroads and as so many worthy old soldiers are not financially able to attend, and as the railroads of the country are making so much money from the fare of passengers to and from these reunions, that they be requested to transport six delegates from each camp in the State of Georgia and to the National reunion, if in another state free of charge, each delegate to have the endorsement of the commander of his camp and names handed to the railroad authorities at least ten days before the reunion convenes.

Resolved, further that in the case of this camp while in session that any city applying for a reunion, either State or National, shall first guarantee not to advance on hotel fare and to furnish veterans with comfortable lodging other than camping in tents, as at Macon, Ga. in 1912.

SCHOOL CLOSURES AT DELOACH.

The school closed today, Friday at DeLoach's with several prominent speakers to enliven the occasion. Among them was Prof. E. C. J. Dickens, who was the principal speaker. Prof. Dickens' speech was along the lines of education and agriculture. For some time he held the audience spell bound, pointing out the advantages of these specialties rendered in their speeches delivered to us.

Besides Prof. Dickens, several local speakers delivered interesting speeches. This marked the closing of one of the best years in the history of the DeLoach school and Prof. Seay is to be congratulated on the splendid success attained.

Appointments.

Elder Homer Sanders will preach, the Lord willing, at the following churches in July: Lower Little Creek, fourth Saturday and Sunday; Monday, Epesus; Tuesday, Emmanus; Wednesday, DeLoach; Thursday, Red Hill; Friday, Saturday and Sunday, Ash Branch, general meeting.

F. M. Donaldson, the confederate veterans at present are not able to undergo the exposure of camp accommodation and that this camp, No. 1227 of Bulloch county, requests other camps to investigate these resolutions and take up with the railroad commission and report same at the next National Reunion to be held at Macon, Ga. in 1912.

Proctor & Burns Co., Scarboro, Ga.

In a speech delivered before Southern Cotton Association upon its organization in New Orleans in 1905, Mr. Brown, in concluding said, "Let us organize, unswayed by threats of spinners to close down, unaffected by advice of false prophets, undismayed by past failures. Let us organize our forces, remembering that in unity there is concord and strength; that in division there is discord and defeat.

"While not a trained speaker, Mr. Brown is forceful, and his sentences and thoughts sink deep into the hearts of his hearers as he is both clear and logical in his statements, calm and dignified in bearing, ever courteous and gentlemanly in his dealings with others.

"Upon what subject he discourses he injects much personality and enthusiasm, and holds the closest attention, as he presents his views in plain, practical, common sense terseness. And so he does in private conversation.

"Mr. Brown is a little more than fifty years of age. He was married to Miss Annie Righton Miller in 1880, and they now have two children. He is a prominent member of the Baptist church and also a member of the Board of Trustees of Mercer University. He is a Mason, and has always been a loyal Democrat. To the young he commends: "Honest methods; industrious habits; temperance in all things and total abstinence from strong drink."
