Union Rally a Success

The Farmers Union Rally, at Union School House on July 13th, was a success. All the adjoining localities were well represented. The crowd gathered from far and near from early morning till after the program had begun. The house was well as the porch was crowded to its full capacity.

The day was a suitable one for an occasion of this kind; it was cloudy and cooler than some we have had. This put a good feeling on the audience and the speakers on the program. Col. A. M. Deal, though he is a non-union man, opened up the program with an eloquent and impressive speech. He told the farmers of the necessity of organization and how the men of other occupations were organized.

The next speaker was Mr. S. J. Cowan, one of the leading Farmers Union lecturers. He is up to his eyes in the matter. The farmer was his main topic. He unraveled him from start to finish, telling him of the advantages they have and the minor uses he is making of them. The audience was very attentive throughout the time of the speaking and seemed to take in most of what was said.

After the speeches the Chairman announced that he thought there would be a plenty of "goods" to come from the wagon and buggies scattered over the hill. This pleased all. After a few minutes all doubts as to the dinner question were settled, when a table several feet long showed forth a bounteous supply of good things. When dinner was over the program remained for a while to exchange views. The interest shown during the day goes to show that the day is fast dawning when the farmers will own a greater share of Georgia's garment.

J. POPE BROWN ENDORSED BY HOME COUNTY.

Citizens of Pulaski County Adopted Resolutions 1897 Urging Him to Run.

Following the election of Gov. Hoke Smith to the United States Senate on joint ballot of the Georgia Legislature on Wednesday, Hon. J. Pope Brown, of Hawkinsville, who has just retired as State Treasurer, in response to resolutions adopted in mass meeting by his fellow citizens of Pulaski county Wednesday evening, announced his candidacy for Governor to fill the unexpired term of Governor Smith.

From last week's issue of the Bartow Tribune, Cartersville, the following foreword of Mr. Brown and something of his record is gathered, which may be of interest at this time, to wit:

"For several years Mr. Brown has been urged to offer for Governor, and in 1897 the citizens of his home county, Pulaski, in mass meeting unanimously adopted a resolution requesting him to make the race, but being a close personal friend of Allen D. Chandler, who had already announced, Mr. Brown declined to oppose him, and ex-Congressman Chandler was elected. As will be remembered, Mr. Brown had about decided to enter the race for Governor four years ago, but in deference to Hoke Smith he withdrew and Mr. Smith was elected and served two years, and is now just beginning a second term.

"Mr. Brown represented Pulaski county in the Legislature for four years, being re-elected after his first term without opposition, but declined further service. He was Chairman of the Committee on Agriculture, and was really the prime factor in the later establishment of the Agricultural Schools, in connection with the State Experiment Station failed of passage. He was, therefore, a little in advance of the movement. In 1896 he was made President of the State Agricultural Society, although not present at the convention and had in no way solicited the honor. He continued to serve the society for five years, during which time the interests of the Society and of Agriculture in general were greatly advanced and he injected into the system some of his own practical, common sense methods and business practices.

"Under an appointment from Gov. Chandler, Mr. Brown served as Railroad Commissioner for five years, succeeding L. N. Traummel, who died in office, and upon the retirement of Spencer R. Atkinson was made Chairman of the Commission. Mr. Brown was not a candidate for re-election, and later Governor Smith offered him a place on the Commission, but this he declined to accept. When a vacancy was occasioned in the office of State Treasurer by the death of Robert E. Park in May, 1900, Governor Smith appointed Mr. Brown. He was not a candidate for the position and is succeeded by W. J. Speer.

THE MASTER'S WORK.

It is the Master's work we do, Within our lives he stands; He walks with our swift-hurrying feet, And pines our busy hands.

His love it is within our hearts; His wisdom makes us wise; His deathless passion in our souls; His cross before our eyes.

Our weakness and our faithfulness, Our sins are all our own; But all the good and true in us Belongs to Him alone.

O Master, we would live to Thee! Make us a living word, Till every heart-beat is Thine own, And love our sovereign Lord.

—Oliver Huckel.

BIG CROWD ATTENDS REUNION

Wednesday, the 19th, as stated in the News before, was set apart for the old soldiers of Bulloch county. All were invited to attend. The meeting was not to be called to order at 10 o'clock, but long before this time people began to come in town and on every train, large crowds arrived, and it was soon seen that crowds from all over the county would be in attendance.

The soldiers met in regular session at the appointed time, and after all business was transacted several speeches were made by attending veterans and others.

Among the speakers were Col. J. A. Brannen, A. M. Deal and R. Lee Moore. After the speaking the veterans marched to the Jaekel hotel and dinner served them. The camp adopted some very important resolutions, which are found in this issue. These resolutions are important to the old Confederates, and as the camp is one of the strongest in the state. They resolutions which they adopted will no doubt be taken to the national convention which will be held in Macon in 1912. The citizens of Statesboro are always glad to have the "old boys" meet here and hear their old time war whoops.

BIG SALE AT CHAS. E. CONE'S THIS WEEK

Big Crowds Taking Advantage of the Big Sale This Enterprising Firm is Offering.

As published in our last week's issue, the big sale at Chas. E. Cone's is attracting considerable attention from the buyers that grasp opportunities. As stated in last issue Mr. Cone is offering his stock at a greatly reduced price so as to lay in a heavy stock for the coming fall trade and inasmuch as this sale will mark the closing out of all his stock as he has sold a half interest to Mr. C. H. Anderson. Big crowds are attending this sale each day, which shows that advertising in the News pays and "turns the trick." If you have not attended this sale it would be to your advantage to do so.

Never leave home on a journey without a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. It is almost certain to be needed and cannot be obtained when on board the cars or steamships. For sale by all dealers.

RESOLUTIONS ADOPTED BY VETS WEDNESDAY

Statesboro, Ga., July 19, 1911.—We, the Confederate Veterans of Bulloch county assembled this day in our annual reunion do hereby acknowledge and desire to express our appreciation to the citizens of Statesboro for their kind hospitalities shown us Wednesday. We especially desire to render thanks to Col. R. Lee Moore, A. M. Deal and J. A. Brannen for their kind and cordialities rendered in their speeches delivered to us.

Whereas, the State and National reunions of the Confederate veterans are so extensively patronized by the public and it has got to be such an inconvenience to the old veterans who are scarcely able physically to travel on railroads and as so many worthy old soldiers are not financially able to attend, and as the railroads of the country are making so much money from the fare of passengers to and from these reunions, that they be requested to transport six delegates from each camp in the State of Georgia and to the National reunion, if in another state free of charge, each delegate to have the endorsement of the commander of his camp and names handed to the railroad authorities at least ten days before the reunion convenes.

Resolved, further that in the case of this camp while in session that any city applying for a reunion, either State or National, shall first guarantee not to advance on hotel fare and to furnish veterans with comfortable lodging other than camping in tents, as at Macon, Ga. in 1912.

Resolved, further that in the case of this camp while in session that any city applying for a reunion, either State or National, shall first guarantee not to advance on hotel fare and to furnish veterans with comfortable lodging other than camping in tents, as at Macon, Ga. in 1912.

SCHOOL CLOSURES AT DELOACH.

The school closed today, Friday at DeLoach's with several prominent speakers to enliven the occasion. Among them was Prof. E. C. J. Dickens, who was the principal speaker. Prof. Dickens' speech was along the lines of education and agriculture. For some time he held the audience spell bound, pointing out the advantages of these studies. Prof. Dickens strengthened his friendship in that locality with this speech and several remarks that it was one of the best ever heard.

Besides Prof. Dickens, several local speakers delivered interesting speeches. This marked the closing of one of the best years in the history of the DeLoach school and Prof. Seay is to be congratulated on the splendid success attained.

public life stamps him as a pure clean, true man who can be trusted along all lines.

"Although a graduate of Mercer University, class of 1873, Mr. Brown himself says that the four years spent in the school taught by Gov. W. J. North in Hancock Co., was the beginning and ending of his education. In his early boyhood days he was also a student at Cave Springs. After graduating, Mr. Brown took a position in a cotton warehouse, where he both worked and slept, the means by which he earned his money while learning business methods and faithfully and honestly serving his employer, who paid him $40 per month with the promise of a $10 per month raise for the ensuing year, but he was so impressed with the desire to farm that he went back home and worked for two years on his plantation, after which he rented a 15 mule farm and began operations on a large scale. That he succeeded is evidenced by the fact that he owned last year one of the largest and best improved individual properties in the State which he recently sold for sub-division into smaller farms. His plan was to buy all lands adjacent to him that was offered for sale, regardless of fertility, believing that land is better than a troublesome neighbor. Besides his own gin, store, shops, etc., on the farm, Mr. Brown also manufactures his own fertilizers and acids. Mr. Brown is a firm believer in the people living at home and not being dependent upon any other section for the supplies and articles which Georgia can raise and make at home.

In a speech delivered before Southern Cotton Association upon its organization in New Orleans in 1905, Mr. Brown, in concluding said, "Let us organize, unswayed by threats of spinners to close down, unaffected by advice of false prophets, undismayed by past failures. Let us organize our forces, remembering that in unity there is concord and strength; that in division there is discord and defeat."

"While not a trained speaker, Mr. Brown is forceful, and his sentences and thoughts sink deep into the hearts of his hearers as he is both clear and logical in his statements, calm and dignified in bearing, ever courteous and gentlemanly in his dealings with others. Upon what subject he discourses he injects much personality and enthusiasm, and holds the closest attention, as he presents his views in plain, practical, common sense terseness. And so he does in private conversation.

"Mr. Brown is a little more than fifty years of age. He was married to Miss Annie Righton Miller in 1880, and they now have two children. He is a prominent member of the Baptist church and also a member of the Board of Trustees of Mercer University. He is a Mason, and has always been a loyal Democrat. To the young he commends "Honest methods; industrious habits; temperance in all things and total abstinence from strong drink."

Perhaps congress is a trifle slow, but it's risky business burning the wind in such weather.

Hoke came back, now it is up to Little Joe to do the same stunt.

Why smash the thermometer while so many stand ready to look it out of countenance?

The cool weather prophets can always drum up an audience, but they never fail to have a convenient avenue for quick escape.

M. E. Carter, editor of the Bryan Enterprise, has added another paper on his string, the Greenville Herald, which he recently purchased.

With Tom Watson still, Joe Terrell with no more to say, Hoke resting easy and Little Joe farming, the end of July will bring peace to the minds of several of the political boys in Georgia.

Professors Hite, Farrer and Dr. Bonson, of the State Agricultural School at Athens, were here Thursday to attend the Farmers' Institute, but owing to the fact that the meeting had not been advertised no one came and the Institute was postponed until a future date.

HERE'S WHAT A NEW CITIZEN MEANS TO A TOWN.

There was some flurry in Augusta when the first census figures were flashed over the wires. The department did what it could to correct promptly these figures and the results were fair and satisfactory. However, it was unanimously agreed among the citizens of Augusta that there should be no such narrow margin between progress and standing still for the future. Augusta's failure to annex any territory was largely responsible for the city's poor population showing.

Here's what each new desirable citizen will mean to Augusta if this city and its Chamber of Commerce should be as fortunate as Greenville and its Board of Trade.

Recently a new citizen was brought to Greenville by the Board of Trade, says the Piedmont. He was shown over the city by the officials of the organization and was standing still for the future. Augusta's failure to annex any territory was largely responsible for the city's poor population showing.

The new citizen had five in his family. He has spent close on to ten thousand dollars since he has been in Greenville.

1. He bought into an establish business.

2. He patronized the real estate agents and at first rented a house.

3. He used a phone, the street cars, water, lights, patronized the grocer and butcher, and the stables, as he bought a horse.

4. Then he purchased a home.

5. And he is a citizen who will continue to invest in Greenville and to spend his money in the ordinary channels of the average citizen.

The above from the Augusta Herald shows just what an organized body can do towards the upbuilding of the town. It shows how one can help to build the place that he may cast his lot. With such as this going to our neighboring towns why can't Statesboro organize something of the kind and land their part of the melon which it properly gone after we can do it. Let's have our share—what do you say?

HOW STATESBORO MERCHANTS APPRECIATE YOUR TRADE.

Some few days ago we published an article asking our people to patronize home merchants, since this article we have glanced around at the situation and find that our merchants are doing more for their customers than any one town in South Georgia.

The merchants here not only invite you to share your trade with them, but offer the people goods at a much lower rate than towns within our limit. A reporter of the News has visited every store in town during the last few days and secretly looked their stock over and noticed the prices marked in plain figures, which were as low as those of Atlanta, Macon or Savannah, and were of the same quality, we then came back and compared them with the advertisements in the daily papers of the three towns, we then looked through the News and found articles of the same kind advertised in our paper at a much lower rate than those advertised in the city, not only this but on one article we figured the two prices, the Statesboro merchant was selling it three cents below Atlanta, four cents below Macon and five cents below Savannah.

Then we added railroad fare, hotel bills, and other expenses and find that by trading here the customer was saving at least 50 per cent. on the dollar. Then we have heard this argument, merchants don't handle what is wanted, then, when they haven't it in stock here, why not give them the order for same, let them order it for you, they can have it laid down here at your door for less than you can order, then you let them make a small profit, instead of sending it to the mail order house.

This is only an incident that we have figured and know wherefrom we speak, before going away from home to do your buying first consult your merchant at home, if he has not same in stock or cannot order same for you, then send your money away from home where it will not benefit your home people.

Agriculture as a Science.

(Special to the News)

Washington, D. C., July 10.—Hail to the tiller of the soil. He has won the respect of the world. Perhaps you have noticed that it isn't so common to deride his occupation as it used to be before Uncle Sam discovered it was a science. Now young men are flocking to the agricultural schools and colleges and many of them are graduating into professorships, or into positions as experts with the government. One of the latter has just returned to Washington after spending two months in Spain and Sicily investigating lemon-growing. He is G. Harold Powell, whose work for the Department of Agriculture in the investigation of causes of fruit decay in cold storage and in transit attracted such wide attention. The citrus fruit growers of California held his talents in such esteem that they tried to get him to go out there. When they got up to an offer of $10,000 a year salary he succumbed, and he is now secretary and manager of the Citrus Protective League of California, a model business organization of agriculturists, which has been fighting for a tariff on lemons that will permit the industry to survive. Having secured the tariff, the organization is now combating the organized campaign of the Sicilian importers to have it reduced. The latter have raised a big fund to influence public opinion in this country and to affect legislation.

Honest Medicines Versus Fakes.

President Taft's recent message suggesting an amendment to the Pure Food and Drugs law in its relation to Prepared Medicines, does not refer to such standard medicines as Foley's Honey and Tar Compound and Foley Kidney Pills, both of which are true medicines carefully compounded of ingredients whose medicinal qualities are recognized by the medical profession itself as the best known remedial agents for the diseases they are intended to counteract. For over three decades Foley's Honey and Tar Compound has been a standard remedy for coughs, colds and affections of the throat, chest and lungs for children and for grown persons, and it retains today its pre-eminence above all other preparations of its kind. Foley Kidney Pills are equally effective and meritorious. W. H. Ellis Co.

Penned for Husbands Only

When you bring your wife home a box of candy always eat it up yourself. It will make her glad to see you enjoying yourself.

Don't ever listen to anything your wife is telling you. You might make her think she is your equal.

Always come into the house with a smile on your face. It will make your wife wonder in whose company you have been.

Never talk to your wife at the breakfast table. If you say nothing you can never be accused of saying sarcastic things.

Never commend the coffee. Your wife will be sure to imagine that she can try a cheaper grade and save some of her housekeeping money.

Let the children use all the slang they want to. By doing this you will pick up some forceful new expression yourself.

If you are going to be late for dinner, never take the time to telephone. The servant may quit but your wife won't.

Give your wife a regular allowance, but borrow the most of it back during the week. This will teach her economy and an economical wife is a husband's blessing.

Don't bother to lift your hat to your wife when you meet her in the street. Too much attention makes a woman vain.

Never let your wife know when you are going to bring a friend home to dinner. The little surprises are the spices of life.

Never fail to remind your wife on her birthday how young and slender she looked the first time you saw her. Loving memories are honey to women's hungry hearts.

When your wife is telling a story to your guests, always be sure to interrupt her and finish it yourself. A true woman always appreciates a husband's aid.

Never go to church with your wife on Sunday morning. The offender you go the offender she will expect you to, and you might get the habit.

If your wife says she has a headache, just laugh at her. There is nothing like laughter to lighten life's burdens.

Always believe everything your wife tells you, and by and by she may begin to believe some of the things you tell her.

Never explain where you have been when you have been out late at night. If you do it once you'll have to do it always.

Don't ever take the trouble to be courteous to your wife's women friends. The ruder you are to them the more they will sympathize with her, and all women love sympathy.

Never forget to remove your collar as soon as you get home. An untidy husband excellently chastens an impatient wife.—Selected.

SMITH REMOVES HITCH'S MILITARY "SENTENCE"

Capt R. M. Hitch, Involved
for Statesboro Riots, Relieved of Disabilities

Governor Smith Saturday morning signed an order removing all military disabilities resting upon Capt. Robert M. Hitch, of Savannah, who was court-martialed, as a result of the famous Statesboro riots of 1904. Captain Hitch is a brother of Executive Secretary Calvin M. Hitch, and is one of the best known and most successful lawyers of Chatham county.

The disabilities resting against Captain Hitch barred him from holding office or serving in the national guard of Georgia, and were placed upon him by order of Gov. J. M. Terrell during his administration.

Captain Hitch, First Lieut. Georgia A. First Georgia infantry, at Statesboro on August 15 and 16, 1904. The troops had been ordered from Savannah to Statesboro to protect Cato and Reed, negroes, who had murdered a family of prominent Bulloch county people.

After the negroes had been tried, convicted and sentenced to hang, a mob of infuriated citizens stormed the court house, overpowering the military, took the negroes and hanged them.

SOMEBODY SWIPED HER GOOD CLOTHES.

When a man is caught in this fix it is sad, but when one of the dark town swells loses her glad rags it is pitiful, so this is a pitiful tale and is almost heart breaking to hear Lula Crawford tell of some one taking advantage of her absence as she was away during her faithful work on the Field's dairy wagon, without her consent taking all her good Sunday-go-to-meeting clothes, well such is the case, Lula was out on her regular rounds Saturday and upon returning to her beautiful little cottage that rests among the shanties at Field's farm was suddenly thrown into a panic when it was learned that some one had robbed all the darkies of their belongings, the intruder took particular pains to get the best in stock, so therefore the dark town population was not so well represented at church Sunday.

At this late hour no trace has been found of the robber or either of the clothes so Lula is still in deep mourning for the loss of her Mary Jane, Hobbie Skirt and almost broke into a cry when she said my Harem skirt is also missing. The Editor would ask that if any trace is found of the above clothes, that they would immediately notify Lula and she promises a great reward.

They are, hereby removed. It is further "ORDERED,"

"That a copy of this order be filed and made of record in the adjutant general's office."

In an interview with Mr. Baco, superintendent of this road, he stated to a News reporter that the road was soon to begin the erection of a big freight depot with all modern conveniences, which when completed will be one of the best equipped freight stations in the state. Not only are they going to build a modern brick depot, but they are now and have been for the past few weeks laying several thousand feet of side track in Statesboro. They are now constructing a side track that will reach to the rear of the Statesboro Grain Co., also connect with the new warehouse being erected by the Raines Hardware Co. Besides this they will put in a side track that will run to the rear of Smith's stable, which will enable Mr. Smith to ship and receive all his mules and horses at the rear of his barn. When these tracks are completed the road will have spent something like $10,000 in side track-ago alone; besides this they have purchased about $35,000 worth of real estate near their depot. This real estate is rapidly being improved with buildings.

There is little doubt but that the S. & S. is doing more for Statesboro and Bulloch county than any other enterprise in our bounds. The directors of the road have never declared any dividends, all the surplus money has been spent in improvements and at least one-half of that has been spent in Statesboro and Bulloch county, and inasmuch as this road is partly owned by Statesboro citizens it should have the support of the entire town.

Mr. D. N. Baco, superintendent of the road has been a citizen of Statesboro for some five years and since he has been connected with the road it has gradually been improving. Under his leadership the future can not be predicted, but we venture to say that if he has done so much toward improving the road during his short stay here, he will long have one of the best short line roads in the state.

S. AND S. ADDING BIG IMPROVEMENTS

Probably few people in Statesboro realize the value of the Savannah and Statesboro railroad to the city of Statesboro the county of Bulloch. Few people stop to consider the past and present of this road, how it has grown from a mere tram road to one of the leading roads of the state. In 1898 when the road was first brought into Statesboro no doubt this was a mere hamlet; no one ever dreamed of the future of Statesboro and the Savannah & Statesboro railroad, but as Statesboro began her rapid growth the broad-minded officials of the road saw great things in store for the future of Statesboro and at once began to lay plans that would not only benefit the people of this section but would also be of benefit to the road, and as Statesboro grew this road at once began to put in improvements to meet the demands of the people. People at once grasped their efforts and began to put business to the road and by straight-forward business methods and promptness they were at once looked on as the shortest and best passenger line to Savannah, also the best freight line to the East, West and North, and today this road is the best, shortest and safest route to any point in the state besides connecting in Savannah with steamers that will quickly put you in any part of the world.

In an interview with Mr. Baco, superintendent of this road, he stated to a News reporter that the road was soon to begin the erection of a big freight depot with all modern conveniences, which when completed will be one of the best equipped freight stations in the state. Not only are they going to build a modern brick depot, but they are now and have been for the past few weeks laying several thousand feet of side track in Statesboro. ## AGRICULTURAL SCHOOL ISSUES CATALOGUE.

First District School Has Issued a Very Attractive Catalogue

President E. C. J. Dickens of the First District Agricultural School has issued quite an attractive annual catalogue for his school. The News notices that the press of the State has been so attracted by this little book as to give many complimentary editorial reviews of it and are commending the school under the management of Mr. Dickens in very flattering terms. The book contains some 30 pages and is profusely illustrated with pictures of buildings, live stock, classes, laboratories, etc. The latter part of the book contains the graduating addresses of three of the Senior Class for 1911 upon very practical subjects.

Prof. Rowan and Pres. Dickens are exceedingly busy gathering material and erecting a large two-story brick building on the school campus, the lower floor to be used for a dining room and kitchen and is constructed so as to have a seating capacity of 250 people at the table at one time, the second story to be for the President's home and for a dormitory for quite a number of girls.

This building is absolutely necessary to be able to furnish room for the great number of students who have made applications for admission to the school next term.

There is every indication of at least 200 boarding students this fall. The people of Bulloch county have woken up to the realization of what a valuable accession the institution is to them and are enjoying the fact that ours is indeed the largest and best agricultural school in the state. This fact has become general information all over Georgia. President Dickens said the other day, "That he fully believes that Bulloch county will have 50 students at the opening of the school and that seven county will likely have 40". Every other county in the district is represented in making application for rooms.

The News would suggest that every student who entertains an idea of entering this school had better write to the President immediately, get a catalogue and fill out and mail the formal application blank at once. The sooner you do this, the surer you would be to get room.

For summer diarrhoea in children always give Chamberlain's Remedy and castor oil, and a Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea speedy cure is certain. For sale by all dealers.

Our own little Grady McLean who recently pitched the Champs to victory here on the 4th is now a full fledged Macon pitcher. We are glad to see Grady doing so well and trust that he will make a valuable ball tosser.
