JUDGE RUSSELL'S POSITION.

Judge Richard B. Russell, of the Court of Appeals, who is making a canvass of the state for the Governorship, has thrown a bomb in the political camp. His declaration for local option on Monday has upset the plans of more than one ambitious statesman in Georgia.

The straight, clean-cut declaration of "Plain Dick," has brought before the people of the state the straight issue of local option vs. state-wide prohibition. The people of Georgia have never before been called upon to settle this question at the polls, and it comes now in such shape that it forces itself to the front.

In our opinion this will be the paramount question in the approaching campaign. It will force all other candidates out of the race except one who will stand for the opposite side of the question. The prohibitionists will readily understand that to put more than one candidate against Judge Russell would divide their forces and demoralize them to the extent that certain defeat would be their portion. Therefore one man, and one alone will have to face Russell from the prohibition side. The local option forces will recognize in Judge Russell the original candidate on this principle, and therefore will discourage all others from their side of the house. If any others butt in without taking a stand on the question, they will soon be eliminated, as the people will probably turn a cold shoulder to straddlers of every description.

For the past four years the people have been calling for an opportunity to vote on the liquor question, and it now begins to look like they will have that chance in the near future.

In our opinion this will mark the end of the Smith and Brown division in Georgia. A new alignment will come and the victor will cast his ballot as he sees best on this question.

That Judge Russell is an able debater and a tireless campaigner will not be denied by those who know him. He is amply able to take care of himself on the stump and the man that faces him will know he has been in a skirmish when the campaign is over.

The question of local option carries with it the strong position that the people have a right to rule for themselves. On this principle is founded the very principle of local self-government.

Just why the prohibitionists assail local option we have never been able to understand; it was under the rule of local option that whiskey was driven from every inch of territory in Georgia where the sale of it is not openly recognized today. If state-wide prohibition has anything to stand in the way of driving the sale of booze from any community we do not know where it is. Popular sentiment will back up the law when it is passed with the sanction of the people themselves and until this is done the law is a dead letter and will never be enforced.

Let the people go to the ballot box and record their choice there and when the verdict is registered then let everybody abide the result.

We are expecting some lively old times in Georgia soon.

NO LACK OF CANDIDATES FOR CONGRESS IN THIRD.

Cordele, Ga., Aug. 19.—J. T. Hill of Cordele, a prominent attorney of Southwest Georgia, will make the race for Congress from the new Third district. While no formal announcement has been made by Col. Hill, it is expected that it will be forthcoming within a few days, as he has practically decided on this course.

Under the apportionment the Third district is without a congressman and Col. Hill feels assured that he can win easily. There are four counties on this side of Flint river, Crisp, Dooly, Turner and Ben Hill, which are practically assured for Col. Hill, in the event that he makes the race, his friends claim, besides he is well known in all the counties beyond Flint river and has staunch supporters all over the district.

Col. Hill has twice represented Crisp county in the legislature and is well known over the state as a lawyer of ability and with a large practice.

It is understood also that Judge Whipple will enter the race also, though no formal authoritative statement has been received from him. It is currently rumored that Judge Whipple will resign the judgeship of the Cordele circuit, though nothing definitely has been announced. Should he enter the race he will have hundreds of staunch friends who will rally to his support. Judge Whipple is also well known throughout the state and has been twice elected to the judgeship of the Cordele circuit and has a strong following.

It is expected that Hon. Tom Hudson will also be a candidate and that Senator Shepherd, Judge Crisp and Judge Littlejohn of Americus may also make the race. At any rate there promises to be a lively campaign in the new district.

THE NEXT LEGISLATURE AND THE NEXT GOVERNOR.

The Treasury Deficit Must Be Left to Them.

Atlanta, Aug. 19.—The information that there will be no call for an extra session and no veto of the special appropriations comes so direct and authoritative that it can almost be deemed ex cathedra.

Governor Smith sees the state's way clear financially for the year to come, and the difficulties which remain at the beginning of another year he will leave to the next legislature.

The appropriations which must be paid during the next twelve months, since the amendments of the bill, will scarcely be more than $100,000 in excess of revenue.

COTTON FROM OLD ROOTS IMMUNE TO WEEVIL.

Waycross, Ga., Aug. 19.—Governor Smith has been requested to visit Waycross and report on the feasibility of fighting the boll weevil by a process that costs the farmer absolutely nothing, and produces better cotton than the average even without fertilizers.

J. E. McClellan, on a farm 3 miles from Waycross, has some splendid short staple cotton plants that grew from last season's stubble. While all his new crop is green and just ripening, the plants from the last year's roots are loaded with matured cotton. One stalk was counted and found to contain forty-one matured bolls. Throughout his field of fifteen acres, the stalks that grew from old roots can be picked because of their maturity.

A few stalks of cotton are grown in almost all cotton fields in this manner, but not before this section has so much matured cotton been seen on second growth plants. Mr. McClellan is an experienced cotton planter, and believes the use of old roots will put a stop to the boll weevil. The roots of the plants are not killed in this part of the state, as the earth does not freeze, as it does in the middle and northern sections. Mr. McClellan proposes another season to cut down a large amount of the stalks to the roots, and then to make sure of having them alive for a second season, will cover the field with fine straw and leaves for the extreme winter season.

Many parties have visited the unusual field of Mr. McClellan, and farmers especially believe it is a solution of the weevil. The plants growing from the old stubble mature ahead of the weevil, and thereby make the pest anything but a dangerous one for the cotton.

GOVERNOR'S APPOINTEES CANNOT BE SET ASIDE.

They Will Hold for the Next Year at Least.

Atlanta, Aug. 19.—The appointments made by Governor Smith yesterday cannot be interfered with by his successor in office. It has been erroneously published in Atlanta that the next governor could set them aside. Such is not the case. The appointments made by Governor Smith and not ratified by the senate are absolutely effective until the meeting of the next Georgia senate a year hence, and at that time must be confirmed or rejected by the senate. If the new governor chooses to confirm or reject the appointments, he can do so, but he cannot set them aside. Attack Like Tigers.

In fighting to keep the blood pure the white corpuscles attack disease germs like tigers. But of the fighters are overcome. Then see the pimples, boils, eczema, salt rheum and sores multiply and strength and appetite fail. This condition demands Electric Bitters to regulate stomach, liver and kidneys and to expel poisons from the blood. "They are the best blood purifiers," writes C. T. Budahn, of Tracy, Calif., "I have ever found." They make rich, red blood, strong nerves and build up your health, try them, 50c. at W. H. Ellis Co.

PRESIDENT BARRETT'S VIEWS ON COTTON CROP.

Says Farmers' Union Head. Has Just Returned From Long Trip Over Cotton Belt.

Atlanta, Aug. 19.—That the cotton crop has experienced a loss of more than a million bales as the result of adverse weather conditions is the statement of President Charles S. Barrett of National Farmers' Union.

He has been on a month's trip throughout the cotton belt and says he has seen conditions everywhere which justify him in making this statement.

LEGISLATURE AND GOVERNOR MAKE EVEN BREAK.

Some Measures Passed and Others Turned Down. Two Ties on the Executive Session.

Atlanta, Aug. 19.—Viewed in the light of what he got and what he didn't get, Governor Smith came off with about an even break in this legislature.

In the first place the senate stood firm to the last in opposing confirmation of his appointments. So narrow was the margin against it the last day that President Slater was twice called on to settle the tie, each time casting his vote to prevent an executive session.

It is perhaps the first time a similar situation ever arose in this state. There can be no doubt that Governor Smith must have felt a certain humiliation from this action, for it is no small thing to have the slap direct given to a governor—United States senator by the highest legislative body of the state.

Administration Measures.

Measures advocated by him, Governor Smith secured the anti-laboring bill, the general education bill, bills to make up deficiencies in public buildings and and contingent funds, bills for constitutional amendment to increase borrowing power from two hundred thousand dollars to five hundred thousand dollars, bill for constitutional amendment to require corporations to pay taxes September first, and the labor bureau bill, although the assembly took away his power to appoint the labor commissioner.

He missed fire on the following: Bill for ten-day session of the assembly in January to inaugurate the governor, bill to change time for electing state and county officers from October to November, drummers' mileage bill. Measures of importance passed and not advocated by the governor were the game and fish bill, state auditor, re-apportionment and others.

All told, Governor Smith just about got a "dog fall" out of this legislature, although it was conceded to very largely hold to his views on public matters.

Murphy Music House to Consoledate.

Yes, going to move to our new Broughton street store, but before so doing we want to sell every piano player, piano and organ in the Bull street store. Don't propose to move a single one of them, even if we have to sacrifice. Big bargains now offering. Among them several $300, $325 and $350 new sample pianos, which we will dispose of for cash for account of manufacturers at $160, $175 and $200, respectively. These are up-to-date and guaranteed and were sent us as samples to secure us as agents for their makers. Big values. We have others which will be sold on easy payments if desired. Call and investigate. Everybody welcome and none obligated to purchase. Murphy Music House, Bull and Charlton streets, Savannah, Ga.

GOVERNOR'S APPOINTEES CANNOT BE SET ASIDE.

They Will Hold for the Next Year at Least.

Atlanta, Aug. 19.—The appointments made by Governor Smith yesterday cannot be interfered with by his successor in office. It has been erroneously published in Atlanta that the next governor could set them aside. Such is not the case. The appointments made by Governor Smith and not ratified by the senate are absolutely effective until the meeting of the next Georgia senate a year hence, and at that time must be confirmed or rejected by the senate. If the new governor chooses to confirm or reject the appointments, he can do so, but he cannot set them aside.

THE NEXT LEGISLATURE AND THE NEXT GOVERNOR.

The Treasury Deficit Must Be Left to Them.

Atlanta, Aug. 19.—The information that there will be no call for an extra session and no veto of the special appropriations comes so direct and authoritative that it can almost be deemed ex cathedra.

Governor Smith sees the state's way clear financially for the year to come, and the difficulties which remain at the beginning of another year he will leave to the next legislature.

The appropriations which must be paid during the next twelve months, since the amendments of the bill, will scarcely be more than $100,000 in excess of revenue.

THIS LAW A BLOW TO BLIND TIGERS

Makes Possession of a Liquor License Prima Facie Evidence of Guilt.

Prohibitionists of the house passed the Felter bill Thursday, making the holding of or making application for a Federal license to sell malt or spirituous liquors, prima facie evidence of selling such liquors. The vote was 121 to 10. Only one amendment was taken on it and that was purely technical.

Representative Lovejoy, of Troup, made a strong argument for the measure. In his remarks he stated that in his law practice he had always refused to defend a person charged with violating the prohibition law.

Representative John Murphy, of Bulloch, also spoke for the measure. He stated emphatically that had the Tipton bill ever come to a vote he would have opposed it, but that this measure was consistent and therefore he would throw his support to it. He declared that the prohibition law was being violated now because it was hard to establish the guilt of a party, but with this law on the statute books it would be an easy matter to convict.

As soon as the house completed the vote on its passage, Representative

FINDS MISSING SCHOOL GIRL HUGGING A BABY.

San Francisco, Cal., Aug. 16.—Breaking into the office of A. W. McDavid, a dentist, at midnight, Chief of Police Mespell found huddled in a corner, a baby at her breast, Miss Jessie McDonald, the high school girl missing from her home for eighteen months. The girl declared she had been held in subject in a house adjoining the dentist's office.

active Wohlwender, of Muscogee, attempted to gain the floor to give notice of reconsideration and thereby block its going to the senate for concurrence, but Representative Lovejoy, of Troup, was ahead of him and moved that it immediately be transmitted to the senate. The motion prevailed. The senate will concur in the amendment and the bill will become a law.

Nearly every "blind tiger" takes the precaution of providing himself with a Federal license rather than take chances of provoking the government, and under the new law the books of the internal revenue collector will show state or city officers all holders of licenses, thus furnishing evidence of guilt. Collector Henry S. Jackson stated that his record of licenses is always open to the public.

EDWARDS SITS IN CHAIR OF SPEAKER OF THE HOUSE.

Makes Congressmen Behave While He Presides.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 16.—A special compliment was paid Congressman Edwards today by Speaker Champ Clark when the Georgia congressman was called to preside over the deliberations of the House while special messages from the Senate were being received. It so happened that Representative Mann of Illinois, the Republican member who makes many of the objections for his party, was not particularly aggressive and made no knotty problems of Mr. Edwards to pass upon.

The young representative from the First district used the gavel in first class style and gave evidence that he meant to have the House maintain order and listen to what was going on while he was presiding. He remained in the chair fifteen minutes and was greeted with the shaking of hands by his colleagues when he resumed his seat.

Stop That Dandruff before it kills your hair. You know dandruff is a germ disease and it leads slowly and surely to baldness and there is only one way to cure dandruff and that is to kill the germ that causes the trouble.

Greasy salves will never do this. ZEMO and ZEMO SOAP kills the germ and are guaranteed to cure dandruff, itching scalp and all other germ diseases of the skin and scalp.

ZEMO and ZEMO SOAP are the true scientific remedies for these afflictions. To show our faith in ZEMO and ZEMO SOAP we have instructed the druggist selling them to refund your money if you are not satisfied with the results from the very first bottle and the first cake of soap.

We can afford to make this offer because one bottle of ZEMO and one cake of soap are sufficient to show their healing qualities and if used according to directions they will effect a permanent cure.

WHITE MAN HELD FOR TWO MURDERS

Negro Mother And Girl Slain In Camden County; Robbery The Motive.

Kingsland, Ga., Aug. 16.—For the murder of Mary Randolph, a negro woman, and her 13-year-old daughter, at Kinlaw, near here, last night, the alleged motive being robbery, L. A. O'Berry, a white man of this place, against whom suspicion was quickly directed, has been arrested and is being held in jail.

Officers are said to have taken $88 from O'Berry's mouth yesterday and that he then planned to rob her, the double murder following.

The case has aroused unusual interest throughout this section of Camden county.

More people, men and women, are suffering from kidney and bladder trouble than ever before, and each year more of them turn for quick relief and permanent benefit to Foley's Kidney Remedy, which has proven itself to be one of the most effective remedies for kidney and bladder ailments. PLEADS FOR BETTER TREATMENT EMPLOYEES.

Edwards Wins Fight for Improved Conditions.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 19.—Representative Charles G. Edwards of Georgia tonight on the floor of the House made a strong and convincing plea in the name of humanity for additional room for the employees of the Bureau of Printing and Engraving in Washington.

Into a small building which will not comfortably house more than two hundred persons, there are crowded nearly two thousand, and so many cases of tuberculosis have resulted from this congestion that physicians and humanitarians have been begging for relief. The employees, men and women, come from every state in the union. The conditions surrounding their present employment and the manner in which they are herded like so many cattle, are declared to be short of disgraceful.

The proposition to erect a new building was advocated by Mr. Edwards and others interested in sanitary and general uplift work was successful and a new building in which some of the employees will work soon will be erected.

FARMERS UNION ORGANIZES CLUB AT UNDIS

Judge R. B. Russell and J. Pope Brown, Candidates for Governor, Attend.

Undine, Ga., Aug. 18.—A great number of people gathered at the school house near here today and enjoyed the very interesting speech of S. J. Cowan, of Swainsboro, State Speaker and Organizer for the Farmers' Union.

Short speeches were also made by two of the gubernatorial candidates, Dick Russell and Pope Brown. Fully two hundred farmers and the candidates' friends from nearby towns with a fair representation of the weaker sex were present and enjoyed the hospitality of our good neighbors at the open. The pleasure of the occasion was marred occasionally by a few showers of rain but in spite of this all expressed themselves as having had a good time.

Mr. Cowan was the speaker for the afternoon and delivered a clean-cut and forceful talk in behalf of the Farmers' Union immediately after the club had been organized. The speaker urged his hearers to line the women up with them, encourage them and get their help and cooperation and also get women members to the Union as they were not only helpful in getting up the nice dinners but their society and influence created confidence in the men. Mr. Cowan quoted the old saying that the wife is spoken of as the "better half" and in many cases it could be truly said that she is the better two-thirds, but yet they persist in leaving her out and not so much as taking her into their confidence. He spoke at length on loyalty and harmony in the Union and at times the speaker was very witty and his hearers showed their appreciation of his excellent eloquent speech with laughter and applause. He said the farmers were becoming so educated and wearing such fine clothes that you could hardly tell them from other people. The speaker quoted several causes that would tend to hold the price of cotton down and explained the methods of speculators. He laid stress on the fact that many farmers would invariably pick out the best stalk stalk of cotton in his field when the majority would be that of the bumble-bee variety, show it to his friends and commenting on what a fine crop he would have this year, and the consequences would be that he would get a low figure for his cotton. Mr. Cowan urged the members of the Union to keep life in the Union and mentioned a church in the rural districts for an example, stating that everyone look an interest in it and it was necessary to attend regularly in order to keep it in existence. He believed it a wise idea to have speakers make semi-annual rounds of the different Unions as a means of encouraging the members. All were so pleased with Mr. Cowan's speech that they expressed a desire to have him repeat it.

AGRICULTURAL SCHOOL OPENS NEXT THURSDAY

TWO HUNDRED APPLICATIONS ALREADY IN. NEW BUILDING BEING RUSHED TO COMPLETION.

Next Thursday morning the fall and winter term of the First Congressional District Agricultural School will open. The president informs us that already more than two hundred applications are in for rooms during the next term. The Board of Trustees, in order to provide for the steady increase in the attendance at this school, provided for another building, work on which is being pushed as fast as men can do the work, so that the large three-story brick dining hall and dormitory above can be brought into play to accommodate the students. Bulloch and Screven will rank first in the number of students, with Tattall bringing up a close third. There will be students from every county in the First District and from Emanuel and Towns, now a part of the new Twelfth District, but still a part of and beneficiaries of the First District Agricultural School at Statesboro.

It is a matter of pride for the people of the First Congressional District that the First District Agricultural School has taken its place at the head of all schools of its class in Georgia. The First District School Commission to the Legislature, as well as that of the University of Georgia, shows that the First District School lends them all on every count. It is largest as to student body, largest as to farming and makes a better showing financially.

So great is the demand for room that a large new, three-story building is being built now. President E. C. J. Dickens has been known for years as a leader and builder. His work at this school shows how great service he is rendering to the boys and girls of our district. We learn that practically all old students will return and dozens of new one are asking for room.

To those who know the facts it is no wonder how the school leads. Prof. Dickens is a good man, and a man who literally lives for his students. They love him like a father.

Tattall is not claiming large shares of the space. Even Bryan county has more students than Tattall. This should not be so. Let the boys and girls of Tattall write Prof. Dickens at Statesboro for a catalogue and then enter the school at the beginning of the fall term.

GILES MAY ENTER SOLICITOR'S RACE.

A report reaches the News that there is a strong probability of Hon. E. J. Giles, of Towns, endorsing the race for solicitor general of the Middle Circuit. We understand that Col. Giles had intended making another race for Congress in the First District, but the reappointment bill cut him out of the district, and therefore changes his plans.

In the event Col. Giles enters the race there will be some warm campaigning in the Middle Circuit. With Lee Moore and Bob Hardman all of whom are veteran campaigners, looking horns with Giles it looks to us like it is going to be interesting.

But it now. Now is the time to buy a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. It is almost certain to be needed before the summer is over. For sale by all dealers.

His Opponents Want to Get Him Out of the State Soon. No Truth in the October Rumors.

Atlanta, Aug. 22.—If anybody in Atlanta knows when Governor Smith intends to resign and go to Washington as United States senator, that person can't be located by the newspaper contingent.

The published rumor that the governor intended to resign before October 15th proved to be absolutely groundless, so far as any authoritative source was concerned, and the governor himself declared at first hand that he had never said anything even to intimate friends that could have given rise to it. He hasn't said when he is going to resign.

Governor Smith's friends still believe he will resign about December 1st in time to go to Washington for the regular winter session of congress. Out of the State. His enemies—political, of course—want to get him out of the state as soon as they can, for no particular reason which they state at this time, except that they have put themselves on record from the first as being opposed to his holding the gubernatorial chair, while he is a United States senator. In fact, those same people objected as strenuously as they could to Governor Smith's holding the executive chair even before he was elected senator.

The published rumor that the governor might resign early in October was not really a rumor at all, but rather a presentment of suggested reasons why it might be a good idea for the governor to go then.

A Farmer's Logic

Two farmers were discussing the advantages of a bank account from a farmer's standpoint. "But," said the first, "I am so far from town it is inconvenient for me to come in to do my banking." "All the more reason," his companion replied, "why you should have an account. When you have a check to deposit simply endorse it over to the bank and mail it to them. They will credit and receipt you. Then when you buy anything, pay by check. That's up-to-date business." Is the argument not logical.
