THIS LAW A BLOW TO BLIND TIGERS

Makes Possession of a Liquor License Prima Facie Evidence of Guilt.

Prohibitionists of the house passed the Felter bill Thursday, making the holding of or making application for a Federal license to sell malt or spirituous liquors, prima facie evidence of selling such liquors. The vote was 121 to 10. Only one amendment was taken on it and that was purely technical.

Representative Lovejoy, of Troup, made a strong argument for the measure. In his remarks he stated that in his law practice he had always refused to defend a person charged with violating the prohibition law.

Representative John Murphy, of Bulloch, also spoke for the measure. He stated emphatically that had the Tipton bill ever come to a vote he would have opposed it, but that this measure was consistent and therefore he would throw his support to it. He declared that the prohibition law was being violated now because it was hard to establish the guilt of a party, but with this law on the statute books it would be an easy matter to convict.

As soon as the house completed the vote on its passage, Representative

FINDS MISSING SCHOOL GIRL HUGGING A BABY.

San Francisco, Cal., Aug. 16.—Breaking into the office of A. W. McDavid, a dentist, at midnight, Chief of Police Mespell found huddled in a corner, a baby at her breast, Miss Jessie McDonald, the high school girl missing from her home for eighteen months. The girl declared she had been held in subject in a house adjoining the dentist's office.

active Wohlwender, of Muscogee, attempted to gain the floor to give notice of reconsideration and thereby blocks its going to the senate for concurrence, but Representative Lovejoy, of Troup, was ahead of him and moved that it immediately be transmitted to the senate. The motion prevailed. The senate will concur in the amendment and the bill will become a law.

Nearly every "blind tiger" takes the precaution of providing himself with a Federal license rather than take chances of provoking the government, and under the new law the books of the internal revenue collector will show state or city officers all holders of licenses, thus furnishing evidence of guilt. Collector Henry S. Jackson stated that his record of licenses is always open to the public.

EDWARDS SITS IN CHAIR OF SPEAKER OF THE HOUSE.

Makes Congressmen Behave While He Presides.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 16.—A special compliment was paid Congressman Edwards today by Speaker Champ Clark when the Georgia congressman was called to preside over the deliberations of the House while special messages from the Senate were being received. It so happened that Representative Mann of Illinois, the Republican member who makes many of the objections for his party, was not particularly aggressive and made no knotty problems of Mr. Edwards to pass upon.

The young representative from the First district used the gavel in first class style and gave evidence that he meant to have the House maintain order and listen to what was going on while he was presiding. He remained in the chair fifteen minutes and was greeted with the shaking of hands by his colleagues when he resumed his seat.

Stop That Dandruff before it kills your hair. You know dandruff is a germ disease and it leads slowly and surely to baldness and there is only one way to cure dandruff and that is to kill the germ that causes the trouble.

Greasy salves will never do this. ZEMO and ZEMO SOAP kills the germ and are guaranteed to cure dandruff, itching scalp and all other germ diseases of the skin and scalp.

ZEMO and ZEMO SOAP are the true scientific remedies for these afflictions. To show our faith in ZEMO and ZEMO SOAP we have instructed the druggist selling them to refund your money if you are not satisfied with the results from the very first bottle and the first cake of soap.

We can afford to make this offer because one bottle of ZEMO and one cake of soap are sufficient to show their healing qualities and if used according to directions, they will effect a permanent cure.

WHITE MAN HELD FOR TWO MURDERS

Negro Mother And Girl Slain In Camden County; Robbery The Motive.

Kingsland, Ga., Aug. 16.—For the murder of Mary Randolph, a negro woman, and her 13-year-old daughter, at Kinlaw, near here, last night, the alleged motive being robbery, L. A. O'Berry, a white man of this place, against whom suspicion was quickly directed, has been arrested and is being held in jail.

Officers are said to have taken $88 from O'Berry's mouth yesterday and that he then planned to rob her, the double murder following.

The case has aroused unusual interest throughout this section of Camden county.

More people, men and women, are suffering from kidney and bladder trouble than ever before, and each year more of them turn for quick relief and permanent benefit to Foley's Kidney Remedy, which has proven itself to be one of the most effective remedies for kidney and bladder ailments. PLEADS FOR BETTER TREATMENT EMPLOYEES.

Edwards Wins Fight for Improved Conditions.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 19.—Representative Charles G. Edwards of Georgia tonight on the floor of the House made a strong and convincing plea in the name of humanity for additional room for the employees of the Bureau of Printing and Engraving in Washington.

Into a small building which will not comfortably house more than two hundred persons, there are crowded nearly two thousand, and so many cases of tuberculosis have resulted from this congestion that physicians and humanitarians have been begging for relief. The employees, men and women, come from every state in the union. The conditions surrounding their present employment and the manner in which they are herded like so many cattle, are declared to be short of disgraceful.

The proposition to erect a new building was advocated by Mr. Edwards and others interested in sanitary and general uplift work was successful and a new building in which some of the employees will work soon will be erected.

FARMERS UNION ORGANIZES CLUB AT UNDIS

Judge R. B. Russell and J. Pope Brown, Candidates for Governor, Attend.

Undine, Ga., Aug. 18.—A great number of people gathered at the school house near here today and enjoyed the very interesting speech of S. J. Cowan, of Statesboro, State Speaker and Organizer for the Farmers' Union.

Short speeches were also made by two of the gubernatorial candidates, Dick Russell and Pope Brown. Fully two hundred farmers and the candidates' friends from nearby towns with a fair representation of the weaker sex were present and enjoyed the hospitality of our good neighbors at the open. The pleasure of the occasion was marred occasionally by a few showers of rain but in spite of this all expressed themselves as having had a good time.

Mr. Cowan was the speaker for the afternoon and delivered a clean-cut and forceful talk in behalf of the Farmers' Union immediately after the club had been organized. The speaker urged his hearers to line the women up with them, encourage them and get their help and cooperation and also get women members to the Union as they were not only helpful in getting up the nice dinners but their society and influence created confidence in the men. Mr. Cowan quoted the old saying that the wife is spoken of as the "better half" and in many cases it could be truly said that she is the better two-thirds, but yet they persist in leaving her to her own devices, not so much as taking her into their confidence. He spoke at length on loyalty and harmony in the Union and at times the speaker was very witty and his hearers showed their appreciation of his excellent eloquent speech by laughter and applause. He said the farmers were becoming so educated and wearing such fine clothes that you could hardly tell them from other people. The speaker quoted several causes that would tend to hold the price of cotton down and explained the methods of speculators. He laid stress on the fact that many farmers would invariably pick out the best stalk stalk of cotton in his field when the majority would be that of the bumble-bee variety, show it to his friends and commenting on what a fine crop he would have this year, and the consequences would be that he would get a low figure for his cotton. Mr. Cowan urged the members of the Union to keep life in the Union and mentioned a church in the rural districts for an example, stating that everyone look an interest in it and it was necessary to attend regularly in order to keep it in existence. He believed it a wise idea to have speakers make semi-annual rounds of the different Unions as a means of encouraging the members. All were so pleased with Mr. Cowan's speech that they expressed a desire to have him repeat it.

But it now. Now is the time to buy a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. It is almost certain to be needed before the summer is over. For sale by all dealers.

AGRICULTURAL SCHOOL OPENS NEXT THURSDAY

TWO HUNDRED APPLICATIONS ALREADY IN. NEW BUILDING BEING RUSHED TO COMPLETION.

Next Thursday morning the fall and winter term of the First Congressional District Agricultural School will open. The president informs us that already more than two hundred applications are in for rooms during the next term. The Board of Trustees, in order to provide for the steady increase in the attendance at this school, provided for another building, work on which is being pushed as fast as men can do the work, so that the large three-story brick dining hall and dormitory above can be brought into play to accommodate the students. Bulloch and Screven will rank first in the number of students, with Tattall bringing up a close third. There will be students from every county in the First District and from Emanuel and Towns, now a part of the new Twelfth District, but still a part of and beneficiaries of the First District Agricultural School at Statesboro.

It is a matter of pride for the people of the First Congressional District that the First District Agricultural School has taken its place at the head of all schools of its class in Georgia. The First District School Commission to the Legislature, as well as that of the University of Georgia, shows that the First District School lends them all on every count. It is largest as to student body, largest as to farming and makes a better showing financially.

So great is the demand for room that a large new, three-story building is being built now. President E. C. J. Dickens has been known for years as a leader and builder. His work at this school shows how great service he is rendering to the boys and girls of our district. We learn that practically all old students will return and dozens of new one are asking for room.

To those who know the facts it is no wonder how the school leads. Prof. Dickens is a good man, and a man who literally lives for his students. They love him like a father.

Tattall is not claiming large shares of the space. Even Bryan county has more students than Tattall. This should not be so. Let the boys and girls of Tattall write Prof. Dickens at Statesboro for a catalogue and then enter the school at the beginning of the fall term.

GILES MAY ENTER SOLICITOR'S RACE.

A report reaches the News that there is a strong probability of Hon. E. J. Giles, of Towns, endorsing the race for solicitor general of the Middle Circuit. We understand that Col. Giles had intended making another race for Congress in the First District, but the reappointment bill cut him out of the district, and therefore changes his plans.

In the event Col. Giles enters the race there will be some warm campaigning in the Middle Circuit. With Lee Moore and Bob Hardman all of whom are veteran campaigners, looking horns with Giles it looks to us like it is going to be interesting.

The published rumor that the governor intended to resign before October 15th proved to be absolutely groundless, so far as any authoritative source was concerned, and the governor himself declared at first hand that he had never said anything even to intimate friends that could have given rise to it. He hasn't said when he is going to resign.

Governor Smith's friends still believe he will resign about December 1st in time to go to Washington for the regular winter session of congress.

Out of the State. His enemies—political, of course—want to get him out of the state as soon as they can, for no particular reason which they state at this time, except that they have put themselves on record from the first as being opposed to his holding the gubernatorial chair, while he is a United States senator. In fact, those same people objected as strenuously as they could to Governor Smith's holding the executive chair even before he was elected senator.

The published rumor that the governor might resign early in October was not really a rumor at all, but rather a presentment of suggested reasons why it might be a good idea for the governor to go then.

A Farmer's Logic

Two farmers were discussing the advantages of a bank account from a farmer's standpoint. "But," said the first, "I am so far from town it is inconvenient for me to come in to do my banking." "All the more reason," his companion replied, "why you should have an account. When you have a check to deposit simply endorse it over to the bank and mail it to them. They will credit and receipt you. Then when you buy anything, pay by check. That's up-to-date business." Is the argument not logical.

OUR CONGRESSMAN AT HOME AGAIN

Hon. Chas. G. Edwards, member of Congress from the first district, has returned. In conversation with a reporter of the News one day this week Mr. Edwards stated that it was his opinion that the Democrats stood an excellent chance to win the next presidential election. He recommended Governor Woodrow Wilson of New Jersey was far in the lead for the nomination at this time.
He said this was the opinion expressed by the best political forecasters in Washington.

While Mr. Edwards regrets the loss of both Toombs and Emanuel from the First District, he seems not to be worried over the outlook as the district now stands.
He believes he is strong enough to defeat any man now mentioned for the place, in fact with Randolph Anderson out of the race there is really no one mentioned, since Herrington and Giles were cut off into the new Twelfth district.

It is understood that Mr. Anderson will make the race for mayor of Savannah at the next election and will therefore be eliminated from the Congressional contest.

It is generally conceded all through the district that Edwards will be hard to defeat. Those who have opposed him in the past admit his strength, and many of them say they will support him in the future.

Charlie Edwards is a hard worker and has accomplished more for the district since he has been in congress than any man who ever preceded him.

BILL BUTCHERED.

Engrossers Make Serious Mess of Measure. Putnam in the Seventh. All Because of Clerical Errors—Is a Genius of Simplified Spelling—May Have to Come Before Legislature Again Before Effective.

Atlanta, Ga., Aug. 25.—The reapportionment bill as it left the engrossing clerk of the house of representatives, is a beautiful document.

Not only did it switch unfortunate Putnam county out of the eighth district, where it was supposed that it was peacefully sojourning and put it in the seventh, along with some northwest Georgia counties miles away, but it exhibits some simplified spelling that would turn Brander Matthews and T. Roosevelt green with envy.

Plain old-fashioned Murray county has become "Murey." Doily is re-christened "Doily."
The third "in" in Tattnell is cut out as superfluous. The "other" part of Meriwether has acquired an "a." Lumpkin, a distinguished Georgia name, appears without a "p." The county that bears the name of the famous Polish count who served in the revolution, had become "Poluska."

The mistakes in the bill, which has now become a law, will mean that the next legislature will have to amend it, for Putnam county is going to stand for staying in the seventh.

When it is remembered that the bill did not have plain sailing in the legislature, it is easy to see just why Randolph Anderson, of Chatham, and Senator A. O. Blaklock of Fayetteville were visitors at the capitol Friday morning.

Mr. Anderson is the author of the bill, and he is strong for it as it stands. He told the governor that he was going to see if there was some method whereby the bill could be changed without going back to the legislature for amendments for a clerical error.

Senator Blalock fought the bill in the senate, at least some phases of it, and is sure that if the bill goes back to the law-makers next session it will meet with some changes. A year will have elapsed and a lot of people can decide in a year that they don't like the new congressional alignments.

The engrossing force not only made a batch of the reapportionment bill, but the new game law was also slaughtered by the penwielders of the house.

One section that prohibited the killing of turkey hens, pheasants, grouse and other imported game for a period of five years has been reversed. The bill should have said that "they must not be killed prior to December 1, 1916," the law really says "from December 1, 1916," which means that their slaughter will go on.

PRESIDENT BARRETT'S VIEWS ON COTTON CROP

Entered at the post office at Statesboro as 2nd class mail matter.

Says Farmers' Union Head. Has Just Returned From Long Trip Over Cotton Belt.

Atlanta, Aug. 19.—That the cotton crop has experienced a loss of more than a million bales as the result of adverse weather conditions is the statement of President Charles S. Barrett of National Farmers' Union.

He has been on a month's trip through the cotton belt and says he has seen conditions everywhere which justify him in making this statement.

GOVERNOR'S APPOINTEES CANNOT BE SET ASIDE.

They Will Hold for the Next Year at Least

Atlanta, Aug. 15.—The appointments made by Governor Smith yesterday cannot be interfered with by his successor. In office.
It has been erroneously published in Atlanta that the next governor could set them aside. Such is not the case. The appointments made by Governor Smith and not ratified by the senate are absolutely effective until the meeting of the next Georgia senate a year hence, and at that time must be confirmed or rejected by the senate.
If the new governor chooses he can send his own appointments for these "sees to the senate, and then it will be within the prerogative of the senate either to retain the Smith appointees in office or put them out for the new appointees.

Attack Like Tiptoe.

In fighting to keep the bill pure the white corpuscles attack disease germs like tigers. But often germs multiply so fast the little fighters are overcome. Then see the pimples, boils, vedomas, salt rheum and sores multiply and strength and appetite fall.
This condition demands Electric bitters to regulate stomach, liver and kidneys and to expel poisons from the blood. "They are the best blood purifier," writes C. T.
Budahn, of Tracy, Calif., "I have ever found." They make rich, red blood, strong nerves and build up your health. Try them. 50c. at W.

THE NEXT LEGISLATURE AND THE NEXT GOVERNOR.

The Treasury Deficit Must Be Left to Them.

Atlanta, Aug. 19.—The information that there will be no call for an extra session and no veto of the special appropriations comes so direct and authoritative ly that it can almost be deemed ex cathedra.

Governor Smith sees the state's way clear financially for the year to come, and the difficulties which remain at the beginning of another year he will leave to the next legislature.

The appropriations which must be paid during the next twelve months, since the amendments of the bill, will scarcely be more than $100,000 in excess of revenue.

LEGISLATURE AND GOVERNOR MAKE EVEN BREAK

Entered at the post office at Statesboro as 2nd class mail matter.

Some Measures Passed and Others Turned Down. Two Ties on the Executive Session.

Atlanta, Aug. 19.—Viewed in the light of what he got and what he didn't get, Governor Smith came off with about an even break in this legislature.

In the first place the senate stood firm to the last in opposing the work of the first session of the sixty-second congress declares that the Democratic party set a good example for Democrats everywhere and the party had redeemed every promise it made in the campaign of 1910, when the Democrats wrested control of the house from the Republicans.

"At this session the Democrats have made a record which has surprised our friends and dumb-founded our enemies," said Speaker Clark. It has put heart and hope into Democrats everywhere. The extra session was extraordinary not only in the sense of being a special session called by the president but also in the amount and quality of work done in the house by the combined Democrats and republican insurgents and the combined Democrats and Republican insurgents in the senate and especially by the unanimity of action developed by the house Democrats.

Administration Measures.

Measures advocated by him.
Governor Smith secured the anti-lobbying bill, the general education bill, bills to make up deficiencies in public buildings and contingent funds, bills for constitutional amendment to increase borrowing power from two hundred thousand dollars to five hundred thousand dollars, bill for constitutional amendment to require corporations to pay taxes September first, and the labor bureau bill, although the assembly took away his power to appoint
the labor commissioner.

He missed five on the following bill for ten-day session of the assembly in January to inaugurate the governor, he'll change
time for electing state and county officers from October to November, drummers' mileage bill.
Measures of importance passed
and not advocated by the governor were the game and fish bill, state auditor, re-apportionment
and others.

All told, Governor Smith just about got a "dog fall" out of this legislature, although it was conceded to very largely hold to his views on public matters.

IOWA UNDERSTANDS RACE QUESTION.

The News is in receipt of a copy of the Adams County (Iowa Free Press, edited by Mr.
R. G. Weisell, published at Garrettsburg, in a fine section of that state. The editor made some sensible comments on the race question, referring to some articles sent to

DEMOCRATS FILLED CAMPAIGN PROMISES

Entered at the post office at Statesboro as 2nd class mail matter.

Champ Clark Says the Party Set Good Example. Record is Sur- prising. "It Has Dumbfounded Our Enemies," Declares the Speaker of the House.

Washington, Aug. 22.—Champ Clark, speaker of the house of representatives, in a review of the work of the first session of the sixty-second congress declares
that the Democratic party set a good example for Democrats everywhere and the party had redeemed every promise it made in the campaign of 1910, when the Democrats wrested control of the house from the Republicans.

"At this session the Democrats
have made a record which has surprised our friends and dumb-
founded our enemies," said Speaker Clark. It has put heart and hope into Democrats everywhere. The extra session was extraordinary not only in the sense
of being a special session called
by the president but also in the
amount and quality of work done
in the house by the combined Democrats and republican insurgents and the combined Democrats and Republican insurgents
in the senate and especially by the
unanimity of action developed by the house Democrats.

Administration Measures.

Measures advocated by him.
Governor Smith secured the anti-
lobbying bill, the general education bill, bills to make up deficiencies in public buildings and
contingent funds, bills for
constitutional amendment to increase borrowing power from two hundred thousand dollars to five hundred thousand dollars, bill
for constitutional amendment to
require corporations to pay taxes September first, and the labor bureau bill, although the assembly
took away his power to appoint
the labor commissioner.

He missed five on the following
bill for ten-day session of the assembly in January to inaugu-
rate the governor, he'll change
time for electing state and county officers from October to November, drummers' mileage bill.
Measures of importance passed
and not advocated by the governor were the game and fish bill,
state auditor, re-apportionment
and others.

All told, Governor Smith just about got a "dog fall" out of
this legislature, although it was
conceded to very largely hold to
his views on public matters.

THE LIFE, ILLNESS AND DEATH OF MRS. CHARLEY LEE NEVILLS.

To my knowledge her life was bright, pure, sweet and true and she was at all times trusting in her true, loving saviour. She loved everybody and treated everybody so loving and kind she was loved dearly by everybody that knew her. Her death was such a shock to her many friends who knew her and regret her departure. She loved her God and she realized and knew without His power and mercy we could do nothing. She had such a sweet and pleasing disposition. Through all of her afflictions and long sufferings she did her blessed God's command and endured her afflictions with all patience. She was never heard to even murmur a word of worry about her suffering condition. She took all of her medicines so good and sweet. We all loved her so dearly, but though God called her tender, sweet voice away from us. He is tenderly calling His loved ones home to rest, and we do feel and pray that our loss of her sweet voice may be her gain of a great victory in Heaven, that she may wear a crown with Jesus. She let her light so shine that others may see she seemed perfectly reconciled to God's blessed will. She is absent, her sweet voice is silent and oh, how we miss her and regret her death; but the most blessed thing of all she talked with her Almighty God on her dying bed and called to her dearest mother and said she was happy, she felt good and was the happiest thing in the world. Oh, isn't it grand, and oh, what a great consolation to stand by the bedside of our dying loved ones, with the death angels staring them in their faces and hear them talking with their merciful Saviour who had pardoned them of their sins. Oh, let us each moment we live praise our blessed God for all His mercies He hath bestowed upon us.

She is gone but not forgotten. She and her husband, Charley Lee Nevills were so loving and devoted to each other, they were the pride of each one's life; they were so kind and affectionate toward each other. The few married months they spent together were the most happy ones of their lives; it was love peace and happiness. Oh, we cannot understand why such an affectionate and devoted couple should be separated, though God's will be done and not ours. They were the happiest couple I ever saw joined together. They were one of God's joined couples; they were the same the day she was taken sick as they were the day they were married. She said she would die for him, which we all know she did. Her husband Charley's life is a perfect wreck. He seems so sad, lonely and desolate at all times, and is at such a loss without her and her sweet smiles and sweet voice to speak sweet cheering and comforting words to him. All this has passed now, all he had gone and left this old sad world of sin and sorrow, so now he will have to look to his blessed God for all his comfort, peace and joy. We are to look to him for all things and we know without His help and mercies we are unable to do anything.

She left a most darling precious, sweet baby which was so pretty and all loved it so dearly. It was God's sweet little angel. It was too good to stay in this world of trouble but a short time. Oh, it grieved its loved ones to have to part with it, but God knows best. It was born the 11th day of May and God called it home to that blessed world unknown on the 28th of May, to rest in Jesus.

Mr. Charley Lee Nevills was married to Miss Annie Lee Oglesby on the 26th day of June, 1910, and she died the 12th day of May, 1911. She was born Sept. 17th, 1862, her age was 48 years, seven months and twenty-five days.

The deceased was the daughter and baby of Mr. and Mrs. D. S. Oglesby, formerly of Emanuel county.

Why should I weep, when my heart can feel no pain?
Why should I sigh, when death in Christ is gain?
Victor over sin, through Him who once was slain, I shout eternal praises, Glory to His name.

WARM TIMES ON SUNDAY EXCURSION.

There is always a hot time in store for the fellow who rides a Sunday Tybee excursion train, but the bunch who went down on Sunday were the warmest of the season. The trip has several natures and one or two cutting scarpes to its credit.

The Central carried by here Sunday morning a train packed with negroes and white people; every car was loaded to the steps, and he main lines from Macon and Augusta delivered their full quota of humanity into Tybee and Savannah. It is said for the first time the railroads unloaded car load after car load of negroes at Tybee. All attractions were running wide open at Tybee and the crowd tanked up in good old style.

When the crowd struck Savannah on the return from Tybee they were in a fighting notion. A policeman attempted to arrest one and another interfered; the result was the policeman shot him dead. There were several fights on the different trains coming out of Savannah, only one scarp being recorded to the credit of this division, and that was a negro man seriously cut a negro woman just before the train reached Dublin.

Next Sunday will be the last one of the season, and it is hoped the last one for many seasons.

VESSELS REPORT TERRIFIC BATTLE.

Savannah, Ga., Aug. 29.—Ships coming into port today tell of terrific battles fought with wind Charleston and Savannah Hit Hard by Hurricane That Swept Atlantic Coast.

Every Section Has Suffered Severely From the Most Violent Storm in Years.

RECORDS BROKEN BY THE WIND.

No Casualties Reported, Unusually High Wind Keeps Up Well Into the Night.

(Morning News.)
Savannah has passed through the most violent hurricane in the history of the city. The local storms that have visited this city claimed larger toll of life and property.
There were no casualties in the city proper. While several fishing parties have not yet been accounted for it is not known that any lives were lost in the waters or on the islands adjacent to Savannah.

Although the wind continued high in gusts until late midnight last night, the barometer was continuing its climb that was begun in the morning, after the storm center passed Savannah. At night Forecaster Boyer expressed the belief that the weather will begin to clear up today.

Storm Records Are Broken.
With an eighty eight mile wind between 3 and 4 o'clock in the morning, the greatest wind velocity ever recorded in Savannah, went on the records. There were several times during this period that terrific gusts registered 96 miles an hour, but 88 miles highest for five minute periods, from which the records are made. It was blowing at that rate at 3:05 o'clock. The barometer went to 29.02 inches, the lowest mark ever recorded in the Savannah bureau.

It is, of course, impossible to estimate the property loss occasioned by the hurricane. There is no way in which this can be computed because of the nature of the damage done throughout the city. It is probably a fact that there was not a home or business house in Savannah that did not sustain some damage. The rain was driven into home after home and countless walls were ruined.

Every Section Suffers.
The picture was the same in every section of the city, from Chatham Crescent in the extreme southeast to Yamacraw in the extreme northwest. The factory districts, too, bore marks of the storm's fury, yet no building was wrecked, so far as could be discovered at any point in the city. It was because of the number of pieces that suffered that the total property loss is bound to run high.

The streets are littered with twisted signs, broken telephone telegraph, electric and trolley wires; uprooted trees, limbs of trees and sections of chimneys. Fences are down and the brand of the hurricane is in evidence wherever the eye rests. Yet strange to relate there was little tin in evidence on the streets. Occasionally the wind managed after hours of labor to rip off a section of a shed or automobile house, but there was no unroofing of dwellings. With the wind blowing at such a velocity for so long a period it is regarded as remarkable that the damage was not of more consequence. That the hurricane was not more destructive on the water front and at the resorts was due to the fact that the wind was from the west instead of the east and there was no backing up of water.

Business at a Standstill.
Business was suspended in yesterday. Numbers of places did not open up at all and some of those that did open closed during the afternoon. The streets were practically deserted and practically no business was done by the few places that were open. Monday is usually one of the busiest days of the Savannah retailer, but even the cigar stores closed early in the evening. There was nobody to serve, ice cream parlors that are open every day in the week suspended business for the entire day.
There was a driving rain all day and the wind remained high until well into the night. There were many anxious inquiries at the Morning News office as to whether the hurricane had really passed and hundreds of Savannahians wouldn't retire, although they had gotten little or no sleep the night before, until they were assured the storm center had passed Savannah and there was no further danger of a return on-coming. When the weather bureau closed at 9:40 o'clock the wind had dropped to 36 miles an hour. It was still raining. The rainfall for the twenty-four hours was 2.52 inches.

A Farmer's Logic
Two farmers were discussing the advantages of a bank account from a farmer's standpoint. "But," said the first, "I am so far from town it is inconvenient for me to come in to do my banking." "All the more reason," his companion replied, "why you should have an account. When you have a check to deposit simply endorse it over to the bank and mail it to them. They will credit and receipt you. Then when you buy anything, pay by check. That's up-to-date business." Is the argument not logical?

The windows of S. F. Smith's store at the Postoffice Station were blown in and the stock damaged several hundred dollars.

The cottage of J. J. Joyce was blown off of its supports and deposited on the ground.
