WHAT IF "LITTLE JOE"
SHOULD ENTER?

A persistent effort on the part of a few politicians in Georgia may result in the entry of Ex-Governor Joseph M. Brown into the gubernatorial scramble. The announcement comes that he "is sure to enter" at an early date. We have believed all the while that Gov. Brown would hesitate a good while before he entered this race; he has more to lose by running and getting defeated this time than any man we know of. He would wear the inevitable distinction of being not only the only governor in Georgia who failed to come back, but would bear the record of being the only one who has made three races for the same term and defeated each time.

Gov. Brown was defeated by Gov. Smith in the August primary in 1910 and then allowed Mr. Watson and a few others to use his name in the regular election of the same year. This will be denied by some of the Governor's friends, but is true just the same. He was defeated again on that occasion, being the second time for the same term. Now that Gov. Smith has vacated the place to accept the senatorship, Gov. Brown is going after his same term the third time. He evidently believes in the doctrine of "if at first you don't succeed, try again."

It had been the intention of Governor Brown to enter this race earlier in the game, but Judge Russell's declaration for local option at Lyons put "Little Joe" to thinking some. If there is one question in Georgia that Joe Brown is sincerely afraid of it is the whiskey question, and he bears the distinction of having straddled it more than any other man we know of, with the possible exception of Governor Smith.

The entry of Gov. Brown will mix up things. In our opinion it will change the political complexion of the state, it will settle the whiskey question for good and all ways by the overwhelming election of Pope Brown on the prohibition-Hoke Smith ticket.

It couldn't possibly mean anything else, for the reason Judge Russell already being in the race, pledged to the local option view, would of course draw more largely from the Joe Brown element than he would from the Hoke Smith element. Russell has always supported the Brown faction, and it is an acknowledged fact that Gov. Brown has always had the whiskey support in all his races. He will not have it this time, while he may have some of it, if he cuts much of a figure he will cut the thing up so that Pope Brown will have a walk over.

If the prohibitionists can't win against such a divided house as that which they may just as well call off the dogs and quit; they could run anywhere or under any circumstances. The News is taking to active part in this race, we believe either of the gentlemen named would make a splendid executive, but if Joe Brown enters the race and Judge Russell continues in it, you will see that excellent gentleman "the farmer from Plakiski" occupy the Governor's mansion the next term. He will make a splendid Governor, and in that case the legislature at its next session will very promptly spread the Tipping's bill on the statutes or something even more drastic than that. In that case you couldn't buy a bottle of cognac to court to swear against the man who sold it to you; and as for a drink of booze, that would come in handy. It would make things better, and maybe it wouldn't; in any event we would all have the pleasure of testing its benefits.

In the meantime we will watch the game as it progresses.

MADERO MOB STONES REYES

Serious Political Riot in Mexico City Streets.

AGED GENERAL IS FORCED TO FLEE.

Many Are Wounded. Partisan Police Deal Gently With Rioters.

Mexico City, Sept. 3.—Stunned and forcibly robbed of 3,000 pesos today by a mob of Maderistas, in the principal thoroughfare of the capital, Gen. Bernardo Reyes, candidate for the presidency in opposition to Francisco I. Madero, was forced to abandon an effort to address his constituents and to run the gauntlet of a jeering crowd upon whom the police had received orders not to fire except as a last resort.

Repeatedly the police charged the turbulent element, however, and the records of the Red Cross, the White Cross and the commissaries account for forty-three wounded as a result of the day's disorders. Most of these were injured by stones, but many show bruises and gashes made by the savers of the mounted police.

The stoning of the aged general was the climax of a riot that began about 10 o'clock this morning and had not been entirely quelled at a late hour tonight. Since its beginning police and soldiers have patrolled the streets at short and regular intervals, but on account of the government's desire not use the iron hand, the heavily armed horsemen had but an intimidatory effect on the rabble.

Call Open Air Meeting.

Placing their faith in the word of government that equal guarantees would be given all parties in the campaign and trusting Madero's word that he would welcome honest opposition the backers of Reyes last week called an open air meeting for today. It was announced that Gen. Reyes would make his initial speech of the campaign, the site selected being in front of the big $10,000,000 national theater in course of construction.

Early this morning groups of Maderistas began forming and threats of interference with the Reysta meeting were heard. Shortly before 10 o'clock the partisans of Reyes began to gather in Avenida Juarez, and clashed near the western end of the Alameda. Into this turbulent scene Gen. Reyes, his son, Rodolfo, and a group of party leaders drove in an automobile.

Far outnumbering his supporters, the Maderistas crowded about the machine, making further progress difficult. Stepping from the car the general rebuked the mob for its conduct, but his words provoked a rain of stones, and other missiles. The automobile walked the length of the Alameda to the scene of disturbances, a distance of 4 blocks, the rowdy following and throwing stones the while.

Police Act Gently.
Mounted police who had been trailing the crowds now rode their horses into the center of the mob which gave way before them. Entering a building facing the theater, Reyes and his escorts went to the second story from where Reyes stepped onto a balcony with the intention of addressing the crowd, now grown to great proportions.

Such was the disorder, however, that Reyes' escort attempted to dissuade him from making the effort. The old general would not be deterred and raised his hand for silence. Instead the tumult grew and chunks of marble and rocks gathered from the grounds about the new theater were hurled at the white-haired figure.

A number reached their mark and yet Reyes stood despite the efforts of his son to induce him to seek shelter. For twenty minutes he remained there dodging missiles which wrecked the windows and signs covering the front of the building.

The police, hated by the populace as the instrument used by Diaz to maintain order, had drawn their sabres and charged the crowd. Content with momentary success and remembering their orders to deal gently with the mob, the police reformed following the charge and took up their position on the opposite side of the street.

Rabble Stone Police.
Emboldened by the knowledge that the police did not attempt drastic measures, the rabble turned their attention to hurling upon their ranks a shower of stones.

For more than an hour the fight between police and mob continued. For the most part the police took their medicine stoically, riding into the mass of shouting humanity, trusting to the force of the rush to keep the crowd moving.

Inside the building Reyes' friends had succeeded in convincing him that it was useless to try to carry out his programme. The party had an automobile brought to the entrance and in it they started for the Reyes home in Santa Maria.

The chauffeur drove the car down Avenida Juarez at racing speed and the troop of mounted police which had been detailed to act as Reyes' escort galloped far in the rear. The flying automobile escaped most of the rocks hurled at it, but the escort of police in the rear were stoned at every jump by the crowd which now lined the avenue of the Alameda.

Less than a hundred yards away in the center of the Alameda the usual Sunday band concert was in progress and the hundreds of promenaders were in ignorance as to what was transpiring until a squad of mounted police clattered almost into their midst and reined their horses onto their haunches, facing the avenue into which the rioters had begun to pour.

Several Reystas Victims.
Once free of the crowd, Reyes made the discovery that he had been robbed of 3,000 pesos ($1,500 gold). Rodolfo Reyes felt for his watch and it was gone. Notes were compared and it was found that at least a dozen of the Reystas contingent had been the victims of pick-pockets.

By a circuitous route the party went to police headquarters, reported their losses and then proceeded to the Reyes home. There the general rested during the remainder of the day, denying himself to almost all callers. A few blocks away in the home of his son, indignant partisans discussed the events and considered the advisability of pursuing the campaign in the face of such odds.

Meanwhile, in the center of the city, the authorities still had the problem of dealing with the rabble. Orders were sent to the army headquarters and soon a troop of cavalry appeared on the scene, ostensibly to assist the police in restoring order. The army is not intimidated by the lower element as are the police. The khaki-clad horsemen were greeted with half-hearted cheers although with sabres in hand and cartridge belts filled they presented no reassuring aspects. In an effort to clear Avenida Juarez, and San Francisco, into which the rabble had fled, the troops were set marching up and down the thoroughfares.

Representatives of Red Cross and its rival, the White Cross, appeared in the streets at the beginning of the rioting. In automobiles, nurses and doctors penetrated the mob, following every charge and gathered the injured, giving first aid to many and bearing to the hospitals all whose injuries were of a serious character.

Francisco I. Madero left town at 2:30 this afternoon for Puebla, the first stop in his itinerary through the south.

Mortgage Foreclosure on Land State of Georgia, Bulloch County.

In the Superior Court, April Term, 1911
A. A. Daughtry
vs.
Mortgage Foreclosure on Land State of Georgia, Bulloch County.

It being represented to the Court by the petition of A. A. Daughtry that by deed of Mortgage, dated the 15th day of November, 1908, C. M. Anderson, Jr. conveyed to the said A. A. Daughtry a certain lot of land, lying in West Statesboro, said county and state, bounded north 120 feet by Denmark street, east by land of J. J. Brannon, south by land of Tom Tidy, and west by land of Charlie Alderman, containing one-half acre, more or less, which mortgage was recorded on page 201 of Book No. 29, in the Clerk's office of said county, for the purpose of securing the payment of a promissory note made by the said C. M. Anderson, Jr., to the said A. A. Daughtry, on November 19, 1908, due on the 15th day of November, 1909, for the sum of four hundred and twenty-nine dollars and 80 cents, with interest from date at 8 per cent, per annum and 10 per cent, attorney's fees, which promissory note is now due and unpaid.

It is ordered that the said C. M. Anderson, Jr., do pay into this Court, by the first day of the next term, the principal, interest, attorney's fees and costs of said note and mortgage, or show cause, if any he has to the contrary, or that in default thereof foreclosure be granted to the said A. A. Daughtry, holder of said mortgage, and the equity of redemption of the said C. M. Anderson, Jr., be forever barred, and that service of this order be perfected on said C. M. Anderson, Jr., according to law.

This 24th day of April, 1911.

JEERS CAUSED FLYER'S DEATH

Norton, Kan., Sept. 1.—John J. Frisbie, the Curtis aviator, was killed by a fall today at the Norton county fair. Frisbie met with an accident yesterday and only went into the air again today when driven to do so by the taunts and jeers of the crowd.

Frisbie fell about 100 feet and the engine of his machine fell upon him, crushing his left side and chest. He lingered for an hour before he died.

Frisbie had been giving exhibitions at Elmwood Park for several days. Yesterday his machine acted badly and he had a fall of forty feet, but beyond bruises and a shaking up was not injured. He announced that he would not take the air this afternoon, but when his statement was communicated the crowd hooted and shouted "fakir" and refused to listen to explanations.

Wife Sees Him Fall.

Frisbie announced that rather than have the big crowd go away with that impression, that he was willing to do his best and would attempt a flight. He ascended from the track without difficulty and attained a height of 100 feet, but in attempting to make a turn the plane tipped and Frisbie lost control. As he came crashing to earth the spectators could see the aviator trying to right the machine, but as it approached the ground one of the wings crashed into a barn and the biplane, glancing off, struck the earth with Frisbie underneath. Frisbie's wife, son and little girl were witnesses of the accident and Mrs. Frisbie was prostrated when she saw her husband fall. Tonight she bitterly denounced the action of the spectators in forcing her husband to make the flight with a disabled machine.

CHASTAIN, THE MIRROR MAKER.
(Copied from the Miami Metropolitan.)

Mr. T. A. Chastain, the well known mirror maker, who practically has a national reputation in plating, etching, beveling and polishing mirrors, leaves Saturday night for Key West where he will do considerable work in his line. During Mr. Chastain's stay in Miami he has made in the neighborhood of five hundred mirrors of all sizes, ranging up to the immense plates in the Seminole Club and Zap's saloon. The mirrors in the Seminole Club are the largest in this part of the state and on them Mr. Chastain has put forth his best efforts, the workmanship of which can not be excelled. Two of these mirrors are 6 1/2 by 7 feet, while the others are two, though smaller, contain twenty-five square feet each.

Mr. Chastain uses nothing but pure silver in his work, which differs greatly and is far superior to the common mercury process of plating in general use. He will be absent about six weeks and upon his return will bring the finest stock of mirror glass ever brought to Miami, and at which time he will go to Palm Beach to work on the mirrors in the immense hotels at that place.

Mr. Chastain is now in Statesboro for a short stay.

Fine pebble land. Twenty acres cleared and under fence—mostly wire. Good dwelling, with barn, out-houses, etc. This is one of the best little places around Statesboro, and is a bargain at the price.

Terms: $800 cash, one year on balance.

List No. 103.

$1,750, 22 Acres,

2 1/2 Miles from Port on Public Road. A real bargain—will bring $50 an acre by December.

Thirty-five acres of the very best land—forty acre tillable, with twenty-five acres cleared and under new wire fence. Good tenant house on place.

Terms: Cash.

List No. 701.

$7,200, 144 Acres.

Six Miles North of Statesboro, on Public Road.

75 acres in high state of cultivation, with over 100 acres of fine tillable pebble land. Nice two-story dwelling finished throughout, two exceptionally good tenant houses, good barns and other necessary farm buildings. No better place for a home in Bulloch County.

Can arrange terms.

List No. 1001.

$45 an acre

24 1/2 Acres, Five Miles East of Statesboro.

90 acres in high state of cultivation, with 160 acres tillable—all fine pebble land. Good 7-room dwelling and one good tenant house. Fine stock range around property, suitable for both hog and cattle raising.

List No. 201.

$15 an Acre

135 Acres Nine Miles North of Statesboro.

3 1/4 Mile from Railroad Station.

75 acres of good tillable clay subsoil land, with 20 acres under cultivation. Has small five-room dwelling, with barn and outbuildings. No finer stock range to be found in Bulloch County. With a little improvement, this place can be made to bring double our price.

Terms: $1,000 cash, balance to suit purchaser.

List No. 1201.

1,800 acres, suitable for Farming and Stock Raising, for $12,500.

Located on Ogeechee River 14 Miles East of Statesboro.

Nearly all the entire 1,800 acres under wire pasture fence—100 acres under cultivation—750 acres of good tillable land. Small four room dwelling, but good large barns, cow sheds, etc. One tenant house. Plenty of timber for all plantation purposes—for building houses, barns, fences, etc.

With a place like this, you will not have to depend on cotton alone, or any other one crop. Stock raising is coming to be one of the most profitable businesses of the day, and in this section is proving more profitable every year, with future possibilities that are almost unlimited. Places of this kind are going to enhance rapidly in value. Can arrange satisfactory terms.

CAN CANDIDATES STRADDLE ISSUE

Advice From An Atlanta Wag to Ex-Gov. Brown, Prohibition As A State Issue Now.

Atlanta, Aug. 30.—With this unique invitation, "Be game, colonel, come on in; the water's fine," a local wag has the following to say of the gubernatorial situation:

If Hon. Joseph M. Brown wants to remove his loneliness in being the only governor since the adoption of the constitution of 1877 who did not serve twice, omitting the succession of Judge Boynton of Griffin to Governor Stephens, why then let the distinguished Cobbite get into the ring.

If his friends think he can run in this race and straddle the local option-prohibition fight, as he did in the first race, then they will have a few things about the present temper of the people that they don't know now.

For Local Option. Judge Russell knew that the only chance he had for the governorship was to come out squarely for local option. He already lived that way, but for a while doubted the political wisdom of injecting it in the campaign, but the astute judge put his ear to the ground and he heard a rumbling, and the judge was glad that Judge Mann asked him the point blank question down at Lyons, so that he could declare himself.

Hon. J. Pope Brown had his ear to the ground, too, and, being a "prohi," he decided that it would be better for him to join issues with the judge, and he did.

Must Come Out. And if Mr. J. M. Brown wants to run again he'll have to toe the mark and declare himself one way or the other. There'll be no blowing hot and cold in this campaign. The issue is square cut, and the candidate that tries to shy the issue will not get very far more than a corporal's vote. Be sure "Colonel" Brown come out in the water's fine."

May Be Issues, Not Men. It remains to be seen, however, whether the wag is right on the question of prohibition cutting a great figure in the coming campaign. The position of the candidates may be known, but the question may be relegated for bigger issues.

Do not allow your kidney and bladder trouble to develop beyond the reach of medicine. Take Foley Kidney Pills. They give quick results and stop irregularities with surprising promptness.

SMITH RESIGN EARLY IN NOV.

Said He Will Give 30 Days' Notice of Resignation to Committee. Primary in December.

Atlanta, Ga., Sept. 3.—Governor Hoke Smith will resign as governor between November 1 and 15 and be ready to assume his duties as United States senator when congress convenes. The governor, it was stated, authoritatively last night, will give thirty days' notice of the date of his resignation, to enable the state executive committee to arrange for a primary for the naming of his successor.

The primary probably will be held about the middle of December and the election is expected to be set by John M. Slaton, who will be acting governor for the first week of January.

Hay Fever, Asthma and Summer Colds

Must be relieved quickly and Foley's Honey and Tar Compound will do it. E. M. Stewart, 1034 Wolfram St., Chicago, writes: "I have been greatly troubled with Hay Fever and find that by using Foley's Honey and Tar Compound I get great relief." Many others who suffer similarly will be glad to benefit by Mr. Stewart's experience.

Telegram Sent to Smaller Organizations Announcing This Fact and Urging Dissemination of Information Dealing With the Situation.

Atlanta, Ga., Aug. 26.—It is almost certain that the South's cotton crop will be held, at least until after the national convention of the Farmers' Union meets at Shawnee, Okla., September 5, 6 and 7.

Emmett Cabanis, former president of the Georgia Farmers' Union, and A. C. Davis, secretary of the national organization, arrived in Atlanta from the East this morning and went into conference with Charles Barrett president of the union.

Both Mr. Cabanis and Mr. Davis report their trip to the money centers as successful—so successful in fact, that they say $200,000,000 will be placed at the disposal of the Farmers' Union to hold the price at approximately 13 cents.

Telegrams to the president of the state organizations were sent out from Atlanta Saturday urging the state forces to be ready to distribute circulars to the members of the union—circulars which are being prepared at the national headquarters.

Although Mr. Barrett dwelt in generalities Saturday and consistently declined to discuss the details of the gigantic scheme by which the cotton crop is to be held, it is known that at least one Eastern firm stands ready with $60,000,000 to back the deal.

Mr. Barrett is also making an effort to have the date of the convention of the commissioners of agriculture, recently called, to be changed until after the national convention in Oklahoma. He hopes to have the commissioners meet at Memphis on September 12, so that many of the delegates returning from Oklahoma can attend the commissioners' convention also.

DIES FOR MURDER OF BILL BAILEY.

Rouse Brave on Scaffold. Sylvester Man's Crime Was Unusually Brutal.

Sylvester, Ga., Sept. 1.—William Rouse today paid the death penalty for the murder of William Bailey in 1909. He was hanged at the jail here while a crowd estimated at 500 people surrounded the building.

After a long visit from a clergyman, Rouse walked to the scaffold unassisted and without a quiver. In a brief talk to inmates of the jail and officers he stated that he was prepared to meet his judge.

The crime for which Rouse was convicted was one of the most brutal in the state's criminal annals. According to the state's evidence, Rouse attacked Bailey after a quarrel in the former's home and while the latter was unarmed. After wounding his victim, who fell prostrate on the floor, Rouse is said to have severed Bailey's jugular vein and windpipe with a knife. Rouse then placed a pistol in Bailey's right hand overlooking the fact that Bailey's right arm had been shattered by a bullet.

Having made sure of Bailey's death, Rouse set above the body and imbibed a bottle of whiskey while he sang "Bill Bailey Won't Come Home."

WATSON FAILED TO SHOW UP.

Large Crowd at Reidsville Disappointed at Failure of Populist Leader to Appear.

One of the largest crowds ever assembled at Reidsville was that which met to listen to an address of Hon. Thomas E. Watson on Thursday. All railroads entering the town brought in extra cars loaded to the platforms and the wagon roads fairly belched their loads into town. At eleven o'clock the large court room was crowded to suffocation and others were waiting outside.

The crowd was greatly disappointed at the failure of Mr. Watson to show up. A rumor was afloat that the speaker had spent the night before in Statesboro and his appearance was looked for, and the people refused to leave.

Late in the afternoon Dr. Pearson received a telegram from Mr. Watson which had been delayed on account of the wires down, stating that it might be impossible for him to get to Reidsville on account of the bad roads. The telegram had been mailed to Dr. Pearson and the crowd was kept waiting for Mr. Watson.

MILLIONAIRE'S SON WEDS CHORUS GIRL

Louis B. Ream Is Not Long Out of College.

New York, Sept. 8.—The paternal blessing was the only thing needed today to complete the happiness of Louis M. Ream and his bride, who was Eleanor Pendleton, a former chorus girl. Norman B. Ream, his father, one of the big men in the steel corporation and former partner of the late Marshall Field of Chicago, learned for the first time yesterday that his son, only three years out of college, had been married since September 1. The bride, whose real name was Davidson, formerly lived in Richmond and Baltimore.

Thompson, Conn., Sept. 8.—"I have nothing to say," said Norman B. Ream at his summer home here today. He declined to discuss in any way the marriage of his son, Louis M. Ream of New York, and Eleanor Pendleton, a former chorus girl.

W. J. Oliver and Party of Financial Backers Make Inspection Tour of the S. A. & N. Property.

W. J. Oliver and Party of Financial Backers Make Inspection Tour of S. A. & N. Property.

Mr. W. J. Oliver, owner of the Savannah, Augusta & Northern Railway, accompanied by a party of friends, who are said to be financial backers of the scheme to extend this road, passed through Statesboro on Wednesday. The party arrived here at noon from Augusta over the line of the S. A. & N. Ry. Messrs. Stevens of New York, and Seymour of the company were with Mr. Oliver. The party took dinner at the Jaekel, where they were joined by a number of Statesboro citizens.

Messrs. Brannen & Booth, attorneys for the S. A. & N. Ry., and Mr. L. W. Armstrong, general manager of the road, with headquarters here, joined the party in a trip to Savannah on a special over the Savannah & Statesboro Ry. General Superintendent Bacon of the latter line, also accompanied the party to Savannah.

Messrs. Oliver and Stevens made no attempt to conceal the object of their visit here. It is understood that Mr. Stevens, who is a man of large wealth, is taking an interest in the road and was looking over the property. Mr. Stevens expressed himself as being highly pleased with the property and the country through which the line runs. Of course we are all getting acquainted with railroad dope and one man knows about as much as another what is going to happen, but it begins to look like there is some signs of encouragement in what is transpiring in the S. A. & N. Ry. matter.

Messrs. D. J. Gay and R. E. Parrish Purchase Farm From N. L. Horn. On Thursday last Mr. D. J. Gay and Mr. R. E. Parrish purchased from Mr. N. L. Horn his place, consisting of about one hundred and forty-four acres, located six miles north of Statesboro. We did not learn the consideration. The sale was made by Fields & Chance, Statesboro's progressive real estate firm, and is only one of a number of deals they have making recently.

Notice to Confederate Veterans. Statesboro, Ga., Sept. 8, 1911. The members of Camp No. 1227 are requested to assemble at the court house at Statesboro on Monday the 18th of September, 1911, at eleven o'clock a. m., for the purpose of electing delegates to the State Reunion at Rome, Ga., to be held on the 20th and 21st of Sept. Also to attend to other business of importance. S. J. WILLIAMS, Commander Camp No. 1227.

A Farmer's Logic Two farmers were discussing the advantages of a bank account from a farmer's standpoint. "But," said the first, "I am so 'ar from town it is inconvenient for me to come in to do my banking." "All the more reason," his companion replied, "why you should have an account. When you have a check to deposit simply endorse it over to the bank and mail it to them. They will credit and receipt you. Then when you buy anything, pay by check. That's up-to-date business." Is the argument not logical. BANK OF STATESBORO, Statesboro, Georgia.
