Augusta's Largest and Best Store Grows Larger and Better Always

Our splendid staff of buyers, men and women, who give their constant thought to your requirements, have just returned from the market, and have provided assortments that far surpass in magnitude and value-giving that of our heretofore best efforts, to give the people of Augusta and trade territory the best that money can buy.

32 SEPARATE DEPARTMENTS

While we are not fully prepared for our Fall Opening, we nevertheless have on display numerous styles of the very snappiest sort of merchandise, and we invite your attention to them.

We want you to shop here for a two-fold purpose, to become acquainted with the New Fall Styles and to realize in a thoroughly convincing manner the economy of shopping at this store. Day by day, in most lines sold here, White's Prices are lower than prices outside this store. No matter what the price, QUALITY of White's Goods may be depended upon. Make comparisons, study the styles, note the prices, then you'll understand why the Big Store stands pre-eminently the Shopping Center of the Two States.

New Music Department fourth floor. Full line of Victor and Victrola Talking Machines. Beautiful line of Pianos, sold on liberal terms to responsible parties. Rest and dressing rooms for convenience of ladies and children. Green Trading Stamps given with every purchase.

"VERY DRY" IS THE NEWS

Early Returns Indicate That Maine Will Stand by Constitutional Prohibition. About 3,000 Majority for Prohibitionists.

Portland, Maine, Sept. 11.—Returns from 533 out of 629 election districts in the state give: For repeal, 57,180. Against repeal, 59,009.

As a majority of the towns yet to be heard from are conceded to be for prohibition, a victory for the retention of constitutional prohibition is indicated by about 3,000.

Portland, Maine, Sept. 11.—Bath, the first place to count the vote in today's special election, favored repeal of the prohibition law 1,138 to 463. In 1884 Bath voted for prohibition, 90 to 414. The city of Rockland today voted for prohibition by a large majority, the city of Saco did likewise.

WINS BATTLE WITH SNAKE.

Dallas, Texas, Sept. 8.—E. W. Copley saved himself from death in the folds of a python by breaking the snake's neck.

The snake was sixteen feet long, weighed 250 pounds and was angry. Copley had had the snake on exhibition in a museum and took it to his home to give it fresh air.

The owner and an assistant started to carry the reptile away in a basket. The assistant stumbled. The snake was aroused, wrung itself around Copley's legs and was preparing to throw coils around the man's body when Copley seized the snake's head above the jaws, snapped it suddenly backward and killed the reptile.

Attack Like Tigers.

In fighting to keep the blood pure the white corporeal attack disease germs like tigers. But often germs multiply so fast the little fighters are overcome. Then see the pimples, boils, eczema, salt rheum and sores multiply and strength and appetite fail. This condition demands Electric Bitters to regulate stomach, liver and kidneys and to expel poisons from the blood. "They are the best blood purifier," writes C. T. Rudahn, of Tracy, Calif. "I have found 'em' hey make rich, red blood, strong nerves and build up your health. Try them 50c. at W. H. Ellis Co.

PUPILS RETURN TO SCHOOL.

This morning a number of college boys and girls returned to their respective schools after a summer vacation spent at home. Those who left this morning were: Clyde Franklin, Grady Franklin, Willie and Edward Proctor, and Basil Jones to Stone Mountain. Herman Proctor, Sharon, Misses Minnie Reid and Janie Bessley, Little Lou Olliff and Mary Beth Smith to Bessemer, and Miss Nellie Jones to Wesleyan. There was a large number of friends at the depot to bid them good bye.

TWINS ARE BORN IN DIFFERENT TOWNS.

Springfield, Mass., Sept. 9.—Girl twins were born in different towns to Mrs. Plakor Strenessurn of Agawam. Mrs. Strenessurn left to visit Springfield friends. The first manifestation of the stock was under a strange roof in Agawam, four miles from here. A taxicab brought Mrs. Strenessurn to Springfield. The second twin was born in this city.

Dr. E. C. Collins, the attending physician says the incident has no counterpart in his experience in 3,000 births. Moreover, he is sorely perplexed as to how he is to fill out the birth certificates required by law, but to be on the safe side has practically decided to file certificates of birth in both Agawam and Springfield.

"At that," said Dr. Collins, "the authorities of each will telephone me to ask 'Where is that other twin?'"

"The legislature may have to pass a special act to straighten out this tangle."

Seemed to Give Him a New Stomach.

"I suffered intensely after eating and no medicine or treatment I tried seemed to do any good," writes H. M. Youngsters, Editor of The Sun, Laake View, Ohio. "The first few doses of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets gave me surprising relief and the second bottle seemed to give me a new stomach and perfectly good health." For sale by all druggists.

IN TAX RETURNS.

Atlanta, Ga., Sept. 12.—According to figures compiled by Capt. W. H. Harrison in the office of the comptroller general, the tax returns for 1911 show an increase of $38,299,995 over 1910.

The total returns for 1911 exclusive of the returns from railroads and other corporations amount to $50,850,117, as against $32,550,122 for 1910.

In 1910 the gain over 1909 was $38,211,914, so that the gain for this year is approximately $88,000 over the gain made last year.

The counties which showed a loss in tax returns this year are as follows: Cherokee, Duval, Gilmer, Glascock, Gordon, Gwinnett, Heard, Jackson, Laurens, Lincoln, Putnam, Quitman, Rockdale, Towns, Walker, Walton and Webster.

NEGROES HELP TO LYNCH A NEGRO.

He Was on a Rampage, Arkansas Demon Kills Several of Both Colors.

Augusta, Ark., Sept. 9.—After he had slashed the throat of Mrs. Albert Vaughan, daughter of a white farmer, shot and killed one of his own race and assaulted an aged negro, Arthur Dean, a negro, was taken in hand by a mob of white men and negroes today and hanged from a mill shed on the principal street of Augusta.

Dean started on his rampage early yesterday. Gaining entrance to the home of Tom Lignon, a negro farmer, he drove Lignon's children from the building and attacked and aged relative of the farmer. Next he made his way to the dwelling of Dennis Clark and firing from the roadway killed Clark, who was seated at a window.

At the home of J. T. Bostleman, a farmer, he encountered Mrs. Vaughan, and when she resisted his attack drew a razor across her throat. Mrs. Vaughan died several hours later.

The negro then made for the woods, but was captured this morning near Bald Knob and returned to Augusta. A mob was in waiting and the lynching followed.

NEGRO ENTERS LADY'S HOME

Crouches Under Door Steps and Pulls Mrs. Johnson's Foot--Bloodhounds Fail to Find His Trail.

On Tuesday night about 10 o'clock, when Mrs. Vonie Johnson, living about two miles from town, was sitting on her door steps, she noticed a slight shaking of the steps but paid no attention to it, and a few minutes later she thought she felt something touch her foot, and an object of some kind jerk itself back under the steps. Before she could raise an alarm a negro stuck his head out from under the steps and grabbed her by the foot. She then screamed, calling to her son who had retired for the night, and the negro ran out from under the house and escaped through the field. A telephone message brought Sheriff Donaldson and Deputy Sheriff Jones to the scene.

The blood hounds had been called but refused to follow the trail which had grown cold in the meantime. The sign of where the negro had crouched under the steps and crawled under the house and ran off through the field was clearly discernable but the trail being cold the dogs refused to follow it a very great distance.

SEVERE WINDSTORM

SWEEPS ILLINOIS.

State House Damaged. Property Loss Will Amount to Hundreds of Thousands.

Springfield, Ill., Sept. 13.—Spreading ruin in its wake, one of the most disastrous wind storms ever experienced in this city held Central Illinois in its grip for three hours this morning. The damage will total hundreds of thousands of dollars.

One death is reported from Taylorville, where Raymond Ives, a lineman, was electrocuted while repairing broken wires.

By far the largest single loss was that sustained by the state when he wind carried away a large portion of the new copper roof of the capitol. The loss at the state house is estimated at $50,000. The wind in this city reached a velocity of nearly 70 miles an hour.

STATE OF GEORGIA—Bulloch County.

To the Superior Court of said County:

The petition of W. T. Womack, Mollie Denmark, B. L. Hendrix, B. T. Mallard, A. L. Smith and C. C. Pennington, all of said state and county respectfully sheweth:

1. That they desire for themselves and such other persons as may be associated with them, to be incorporated under the corporate name and style of Farmers Drug Company.

2. That the principal office of said company will be at Portal, Bulloch county, Georgia, but they desire the right to do business elsewhere within and without the state, at pleasure.

3. That the objects of said corporation are pecuniary gain and profit to its stockholders, and the particular business it proposes to carry on and the corporate powers here sought are: To conduct a general business, wholesale or retail, or both, in chemicals, drugs, medicines, tobacco, optical and surgical instruments, toilet articles, fancy goods, stationery, and other articles of general merchandise of any and all kinds whatsoever; buy and sell personally of any and every kind and description; To manufacture and to sell chemicals, drugs, medicines, and other articles whatsoever; To act as a general or special agent for the sale and distribution of such articles and things heretofore enumerated; To conduct, publish and sell periodicals; To conduct and operate soda fount and ice cream parlors, and to manufacture and sell all articles and things as are usually sold therein and generally to do and perform all acts necessary and proper for the carrying on, furtherance and maintenance of said business in all of its branches, so as to produce gain and profit to its stockholders.

4. Petitioners desire the right to sue and be sued, to plead and be impleaded, to have and use a common seal, to make all necessary by-laws and regulations, and to do all things that may be necessary for the successful carrying on of said business, including the right to buy, hold, and sell real estate suitable to the purposes of the corporation, and to execute notes and bonds of indebtedness incurred or which may be incurred in the conduct of the affairs of the corporation, and to secure the same by mortgage, security deed, or other form of lien under existing laws.

5. The capital stock of said corporation shall be Three Thousand Dollars divided into shares of Ten Dollars each, Twenty per cent (20 per cent) of which amount has already been actually paid in.

6. Petitioners desire the right to increase said capital stock, from time to time, to an amount not to exceed Fifteen Thousand Dollars.

7. Petitioners desire the right for said corporation to exist for the term of Twenty Years, with the right of renewal as is now or may be hereafter provided by law.

Wherefore petitioners pray to be incorporated under the Name and Style aforesaid, with powers, privileges and immunities allowed by law. And petitioners will ever pray.

FARMERS DESIRE FOR 15c. COTTON

Montgomery Convention Delegates Say Staple Is Worth It.

IS 12,500,000-BALE CROP.

All Cotton States Will Be asked to Ratify Action.

Montgomery, Ala., Sept. 13.—Five hundred farmers, and many bankers, congressmen, United States senators and business men representing every cotton growing state in America, declared in convention today that the farmers' cotton is worth 15c. a pound and resolved that the farmer should hold his cotton for that price. The resolution followed a committee report that the crop in America would not exceed 12,500,000 bales.

For financing the crop of this year, a resolution was adopted to the effect that the farmer should deposit his cotton in a warehouse and use his receipt as collateral until he could sell his cotton at not less than 15c. There was also a resolution urging that the several state legislatures provide for a system of bonded warehouses.

Declaring that organization among the farmers and co-operation among them with the bankers and financiers was the solution of the problem, the convention resolved itself into a permanent organization to be known as the Southern Cotton Congress, and adjourned to meet in Atlanta at the call of the president, E. J. Watson, commissioner of agricultural of South Carolina.

States Will Act.

The meeting in Montgomery is to be followed by a similar convention in every Southern state to be called by the commissioner of agriculture of each state. By these conventions the action of the congress is to be ratified and reinforced by further steps toward securing a better price for cotton.

Among the speakers at the convention today were Senator E. D. Smith of South Carolina, Congressman J. Heflin of Alabama; Congressman Henry D. Clayton of Alabama and Dudley M. Hughes, congressman from the Third district of Georgia. Oscar W. Underwood, majority leader of the house of representatives, chairman of the ways and means committee, sat in the audience.

It was Senator Smith who perhaps made the speech which decided the congress in its naming the price of cotton at 15c. for Congressmen Heflin wanted to make the price 15 or 14 cents with 14 cents as the minimum. Congressman Clayton in his speech declared his belief that in years' time the world would be using 25,000,000 or 30,000,000 bales of American cotton.

Dr. W. E. Hinds, state entomologist, delivered a very instructive address on the destructive work done by the cotton caterpillar.

Only an Average Crop.

W. P. G. Harding, president of the First National Bank of Birmingham, Ala., was down on the program of the cotton growers' convention for an address on financing the cotton crop, but he not only touched on this subject but went deeper, discussing every phase of the situation.

Market Crop Gradually.

As to financing the present crop Mr. Harding said: "My advice as to the financing of the present crop of cotton is to fix no figure at which you will sell your crop, but to market it gradually. If the price is not satisfactory and you are obliged to pay an urgent debt, sell just enough to meet your needs but hold on to the balance of it, letting it go month by month until the entire crop is sold."

Mr. Harding gave it as his opinion that it would be difficult for banks in the larger cities to aid directly in the holding back of the cotton crop, but declared the merchants and local banks must do their part.

Mr. Harding advised the adoption of co-operative methods, even if they be "trust" methods of producing and marketing the crops. "I have heard some intimation that the officers of your farmers' organizations may run a risk of prosecution under the Sherman law when they ask you to organize, to limit your production, to diversify your crop, to hold back a portion of your products and to market them in a sane and scientific manner. I do not believe you are violating any law of God or man when you combine in an attempt to secure full value of the products which your soil has yielded as a result of the sweat of your brow and your brawn and muscle. No law can stand that seeks to deprive an honest man of the fruits of his labor which enriches not himself alone, but his state, his section and his country."

Bumper Crop Report Untrue.

President C. S. Barrett of the Farmers' Union, in addressing the Southern Cotton Growers' Conference today declared that all reports of a bumper cotton crop are absolutely baseless. He likewise denounced as false any statement to the effect that the Farmers' Union is a combine to hold up civilization, and before he concluded he charged the existence of a conspiracy to hamper down the price of cotton.

After a few introductory remains Mr. Barrett said in part: "I state unequivocally that reports, government or otherwise, forecasting a large cotton crop this year are absolutely unfounded in fact. I can speak with authority for the machinery employed by the Farmers' Union has ascertained that cotton conditions virtually in every state are different. The crop will not come up to expectations in volume. The man who is looking for a bumper crop is deceiving himself or has been deceived."

"If I correctly interpret the purpose of this meeting, it is to stand between the farmers of the Southern states and the loss of several million dollars through unwise marketing of cotton. The Farmers' Union has just concluded its annual convention at Shawnee, Okla., and I am confident that there the representatives of more than 2,000,000 farmers formed plans that will bring to naught any conspiracy that may exist to secure for less than its real worth the staple that is still the South's main dependence."

He invited the co-operation of every man in a movement to bring for cotton what it is worth.

Estimate of Cotton Crop.

Montgomery, Ala., Sept. 13.—Estimate of this year's cotton crop recommended by the committee on statistics and adopted by the Southern Cotton Growers' Convention at the morning session Wednesday is approximately 12,500,000 bales.

This estimate was reached on figures presented to the committee by the call of states, each state being represented by its agricultural commissioner or his authorized assistant and by figures submitted by "President Barrett of the Farmers' Union."

On the call of states the estimate arrived at reached only 11,271,000 bales. The estimate as made by the Farmers' Union at Shawnee, Okla., was 11,747,000 bales, and revised estimate by President Barrett was 12,052,000 bales. An average was made of these three estimates and a percentage added for increased acreage, improved conditions, etc., and a general estimate of 12,500,000 bales made.

On the call by states the following figures were submitted: Alabama, 1,100,000 bales; 10 per cent less than last year. Arkansas, 900,000 bales; a slight increase over last year. Florida, 60,000 bales; slight increase.

Georgia, 1,800,000 bales; 28 per cent deterioration since July 25 last. Mississippi, 1,200,000 bales; 5 per cent less than last year. North Carolina, 650,000 bales; 650,000 bales; 16 per cent less than last year. Oklahoma, 600,000 bales; 30 per cent off from last year.

South Carolina, 1,215,000 bales; condition, 69; 5 per cent less than last year. Tennessee, 350,000 bales; 15 per cent increase over last year. Virginia, estimated crop, 16,000. Texas, estimated, 2,450,000 bales; condition 67, crop 3 to 5 per cent less than last year. California, estimated, 12,000 bales.

Louisiana, 300,000 bales. All other states, estimated crop, 4,000 bales.

Must be relieved quickly and Foley's Honey and Tar Compound will do it. E. M. Stewart, 1034 Wolfram St., Chicago, writes: "I have been greatly troubled with Hay Fever and find that by using Foley's Honey and Tar Compound I get great relief." Many others who suffer similarly will be glad to benefit by Mr. Stewart's experience.

ETNA'S ERUPTION A REAL DISASTER.

The Entire Crest of the Mountain in State of Ebulition.

Catania, Sicily, Sept. 13.—The eruption of Mount Etna assuming the proportions of a real disaster. The lava stream whose path crosses the railway line circling the volcano, is approaching the railway station to the north and especially threatening the depots at Moio and Alcantara, which were abandoned today.

Squads of laborers were at work today taking up the railroad tracks and removing all portable material to places of safety.

The entire crest of Mount Etna appears to be in a state of ebullition. An exact count of the number of fissures is impossible because of the smoke which shrouds the whole mountain, but there seems to be more than thirty openings, all belching smoke and lava.

The gravity of the eruption of Mount Etna is indicated by the abandonment of the railroad stations of Moio and Alcantara at the north of the volcano. Alcantara marked the limit of the lava flow in the eruption of 1879. Moio was threatened at that time, but escaped.

The eruption means great suffering for the peasantry. The slopes of Etna with an area of more than four hundred square miles, support a population more dense than that of any portion of Italy.

There are sixty-five cities and villages in the entire area and the number of inhabitants which obtain an excellent agricultural living from the fertile lava beds total more than 300,000.

John T. Brannen Lands FOR SALE AT BARGAIN PRICES

Located Six Miles West of Statesboro, on Clayed Public Road. 570 Acres Finest Pebble Land. Will Cut in Tracts to suit Purchasers.

Practically no waste land on this entire tract. Every acre can be utilized and made to bring returns on the investment. One hundred and fifty to two hundred acres cleared. Balance can be cleared with little trouble or expense. Four settlements, with barns, outhouses, etc. Lot of saw mill timber. Two public roads running right through property.

We have a contract on this property, running for several months, that enables us to offer it at a price much below its market value. However, at the prices which we are in position to make, we know that these lands cannot remain on the market long, and we expect to close them out at once.

Parties desiring all or part of these Lands should see us at once,

As we expect to close the proposition up by the latter part of next week.

TERMS: One-third cash; balance in one, two and three years, with 8 per cent. interest from January 1st, 1912. However, we can make arrangements with responsible purchasers to give them until January 1st, to raise the greater part of the one-third cash, if desired.

FIELDS & CHANCE,

Office: Holland Building,

STATESBORO, GA.

NOTE—We are not speculating on this proposition, but handling it on straight commission basis at owner's net prices.

Augusta's Largest and Best Store Grows Larger and Better Always

Our splendid staff of buyers, men and women, who give their constant thought to your requirements, have just returned from the market, and have provided assortments that far surpass in magnitude and value-giving that of our heretofore best efforts, to give the people of Augusta and trade territory the best that money can buy.

32 SEPARATE DEPARTMENTS

While we are not fully prepared for our Fall Opening, we nevertheless have on display numerous styles of the very snappiest sort of merchandise, and we invite your attention to them.

We want you to shop here for a two-fold purpose, to become acquainted with the New Fall Styles and to realize in a thoroughly convincing manner the economy of shopping at this store. Day by day, in most lines sold here, White's Prices are lower than prices outside this store. No matter what the price, QUALITY of White's Goods may be depended upon. Make comparisons, study the styles, note the prices, then you'll understand why the Big Store stands pre-eminently the Shopping Centre of the Two States.

New Music Department fourth floor. Full line of Victor and Victrola talking Machines. Beautiful line of Pianos, sold on liberal terms to responsible parties. Rest and dressing rooms for convenience of ladies and children. Green Trading Stamps given with every purchase.

WHAT HANDBOOKS URGED FOR PROHIS.

WHAT HANDBOOKS URGED IN MAINE'S LIQUOR FIGHT.

(Athens Constitution.) Last Monday's election in Maine on the question of constitutional prohibition, after a trial of many years, excited more general interest than any state constitutional referendum in the United States. More than any other state Maine has furnished arguments for both "wets" and "drys." As a matter of national interest, the Constitution reproduces the pre-election arguments of each side, as stated in their respective campaign handbooks.

THE DRY SIDE.

"Vote 'No,' and keep the liquor question under control of the people. Repeal of constitutional amendment would be understood by the Maine people and the Maine legislature and by the whole world to be a popular mandate for the repeal of statutory prohibition also, and the substitution of a high license law, with local option.

"The voters of Maine on September 11 through the direct question submitted to them in order of the constitution shall be asked whether the prohibition amendment is really to decide whether the prohibitory policy maintained with but one short break since 1851, shall now be abandoned, and the rumbling for which hundreds have been fined and imprisoned as criminals, shall be legalized, a larger or smaller share of its profits shall be accepted as legitimate tax by the state, with twenty fold offset in cost of drink and its consequences.

"No doubt the state legislature would allow local option, but the National Liquor Dealers' Association would fight for the legalization of the saloon in every county and every town of Maine, just as they are now fighting to capture the state, and would capture, as in other states, not only cities but smaller towns.

"Every year, or at frequent intervals, at great cost of time and money, and social strife, a question long since put into the constitution as settled, namely whether the liquor traffic is a legitimate business, would have to be reconsidered, and fought over against great odds, which would be as absurd as to reconsider annually emancipation of slaves or trial by jury.

"In some cities, the ignorant and the base in league with politicians, would license saloons, which would occupy, not attics and cellars and back rooms, but some of the locations now occupied by banks and dry goods houses, and would pay from one to thousand dollars more rent than now, and as much more in license fees, all of which they would collect, necessarily, by drawing at least some more of the spending money of the people to a traffic that gives back nothing in 'comforts of life.'

"In the 'respectable' and legalized saloons not alone those now the slaves of the appetite would drink, but young men of the best families would then begin the drink habit. Criminal drunks would increase fourfold no doubt, as in New Hampshire, where a weaker prohibition law was changed to high license and local option by the legislature. The taxes received would be but a mere fraction of the cost of drink and of the crime and poverty it causes, and the lost industrial efficiency. It would be paying dollars for nickels so far as revenue is concerned.

"But many smaller cities and towns also would probably be captured by the ceaseless efforts of the liquor traffic. The rumsellars would hold on to their rents, even when a town voted 'dry,' as in other states, and by a process of lawless terrorism, added to bribery, constrain the voters to restore them. Meantime there would be as in all license states, as many speak-essies as there are in Maine, in periods of official perjury and non-enforcement.

"The theory that by forbidding a wrong more harm is done through law-breaking and officials perjury than if it was legalized should be met by that eternal axiom:

"Right Wrongs No Man." "The escape from liquor lawlessness is not in surrendering, but in persistent fighting, till this habitual criminal is conquered here and everywhere.

"Meantime, three things promise better law enforcements in future. 1. This great campaign of education if followed by a reaffirmation of prohibition will put behind the law a stronger public sentiment. 2. As putting prohibition into the constitution takes it out of state politics, the new non-partisan 'commission plan of local government,' now sweeping the country, promises to take out of local politics by providing non-partisan officers, to enforce it. 3. There is good prospect of relief by the passage of an interstate liquor law in congress.

"If a majority votes 'No' on September 11, Maine will promote every moral and material interest of the state, and 'lead' the world once more in a new advance toward a higher and happier social life."

THE WET SIDE.

"The Only Issue. 'A yes' vote restores rule of the people. 'Repeal of amendment does not repeal prohibitory law. 'The voters of Maine in September are to decide, whether prohibition shall be taken out of the constitution of the state. That is the only question in relation to prohibition to be voted upon.

"Repealing the prohibition amendment to the constitution does not repeal the liquor law. 'Maine had prohibitory laws for nearly forty years before the prohibition amendment was added to the constitution. 'All the laws passed by the legislature to prevent the sale of liquor will be in force after the repeal of the amendment.

"Taking the amendment out of the constitution does not in any manner change the prohibitory laws. 'But if the amendment is taken out of the constitution, the legislature can change the liquor law, subject to the approval of the people.

"The legislature, for example, can pass a local option law. To day the legislature could not do that because the constitution forbids it. 'But the legislature cannot impose a law upon the people against their will. The people have the veto power. If they do not want to accept a local option law passed by the legislature, they can vote it down under the referendum.

"In that case all the present state-wide prohibitory laws remain in force. If the legislature passes a local option law and it is accepted by the people, Maine will continue to have prohibition with the towns and city as the unit instead of with the state as the unit.

"Communities which want prohibition will get it in more effective form than they have it to day. 'Communities in which public sentiment does not support prohibition will have the power to honestly and efficiently regulate the liquor traffic under a system that limits the number of licenses. 'The people of each community will have under local option the right to determine whether they will or will not have prohibition.

"Local option thus restores to the people the right of local self-government.

"Those who oppose local option take the ground that the people of the different communities in the state of Maine cannot be trusted to manage their own affairs.

"Those who favor local option declare that the people of Maine towns and cities are capable of intelligently settling local questions in accordance with general laws passed by the legislature.

"But the people are not to vote on local option in September. They are to vote on the question of repealing the prohibitory amendment to the state constitution.

"If the amendment is repealed the present liquor laws are still in force but the legislature may change them and establish local option if the people want it.

"If the amendment is not repealed, the state-wide prohibitory system cannot be abandoned. It must be continued not only in places where prohibition is a necessity but in all other places in the state."

Thirty Years Together. Thirty years of association—think of it. How the merit of a good thing stands out in that time—or the worthlessness of a bad one. So there's no guesswork in this evidence of Thos. Aris, Concord, Mich., who writes: "I have used Dr. King's New Discovery for 30 years, and its best cough and cold cure I ever used." "Once it finds entrance in a home you can't pry it out. Many families have used it forty years. It's the most infallible throat and lung medicine on earth. Unequaled for laryngitis, asthma, hay-fever, croup, quins or sore lungs. Price 6c, $1.00. Trial bottle free. Guaranteed by W. H. Ellis Co.

CAME LONG WAYS TO SEE AGRICULTURAL SCHOOL. Hon. Emilio Castello, a representative of the Department of Agriculture of the government of Brazil, arrived in Statesboro, Wednesday and went at once to the Agricultural School. He came for the special purpose of seeing this, the largest and best Agricultural High School in Georgia. His special mission is to study at first hand the breeding and production of Sea Island cotton. His country is evidently interested in the growth of this staple. President Dickens turned the gentleman over to Farm Supt. Barr and Agricultural Professor Harper, who conducted him through the fields and laboratories, showing him the plant growing and the little gin at work cleaning the seed from the lint.

Mr. Castello expressed himself as greatly interested with the marvelous growth and management of the school in its every department. He predicts great results to the farmers and all people of Georgia under the influence of this practical education for boys and girls.

Secmed to Give Him a New Stom. "I suffered intensely after eating and no medicine or treatment I tried seemed to do you good," writes H. M. Young, Editor of The Star, Lake View, Ohio. "The first few doses of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets gave me surprising relief and the second bottle seemed to give me a new stomach and perfectly good health." For sale by all dealers.

Old mirrors resilvered and made as good as new. New ones made to order. All work guaranteed. Right or call, H. K. Hulst.

WILL BUILD BRICK OPERA HOUSE.

Mr. S. F. Olliff states that he has about closed a contract for the erection of a two-story brick opera house, to be located on the vacant lot just across the street from Messrs. J. W. & H. R. Williams' store and in front of the Jaekel Hotel. The Statesboro Amusement Co. will probably lease the building, and run their moving picture show in it, the site they now have being rather too small for the patronage. While he has not definitely decided Mr. Olliff states that he will probably build the Opera House.

WILL PUSH CASE AGAINST CHURCH BURNERS.

While there are no new developments in the matter of the burning of the Langston Chapel last Friday night, yet it is given out on the quiet that there is something sensational coming soon. A popular subscription has been taken up to form a nucleus for a reward that the state is expected to offer for the arrest and conviction of the guilty parties. Already there is said to have accumulated some very pointed charges in the case, and it may be that warrants will soon follow. The members of the church destroyed are not willing to sit down and nurse their sorrow and allow the guilty parties to escape without punishment. Some developments may be expected any day.

Miss Annie Olliff has returned to school at Milledgeville, where she will remain during the fall and winter term.

RAYMOND TURNER DEAD.

On Sunday last, at his home near Pulaski, Mr. R. J. Turner breathed his last, after a long illness with typhoid fever. Mr. Turner's death had been reported in town early last week but it turned out that he still lived, though his departure was daily expected. The end came on Sunday when his relatives and friends had gathered around the bedside and awaited the end. The funeral was at the home and the interment was in Lake Church cemetery on Monday afternoon. A large crowd of sorrowing friends and loved ones were out to pay him their last tribute of respect.

EARTHQUAKE FELT HERE.

On Sunday night when a severe earthquake shook the entire face of the globe it was plainly felt by a number of people in Statesboro. The quiver and jar following was distinct enough to be noticed by those who went through the shock in 1886.

SERIOUS WRECK ON R. & G.

On Saturday afternoon when the Register & Glennville passenger train had reached a point about half a mile south of Eastern station on its trip from Register, the baggage and passenger coaches jumped the track, causing a fatal wreck in which two lives were lost.

On the train were Messrs. J. A. Woodcock and Carl Easterling, two well known Tattnall county citizens who had boarded the train only a short while previous. Messrs. Easterling and Woodcock were standing in the door of the baggage car, when the train left the track. They saw there was going to be a wreck and jumped as they thought for their lives, but unfortunately leaped on the wrong side of the train. As they went out the passenger coach which was following close behind they leaped, fell upon them, crushing the life out of both.

Both young men had large family connections in Tattnall county and their funeral was attended by a large crowd of people. The interment was at Beard's Creek church.

Like farmers' communities are now being measured up the year for those who are in this season. As far as can be seen, the highest yield is from those twenty bushels per acre. This is accounted for by reason of the delivery in this.

MRS. WILLIAMS ENTERTAINS

A few couples were most charmingly entertained Friday evening by Mrs. F. I. Williams at their home on South Main street, in honor of her sister, Miss Elsie Everett, of Excelsior. The rooms were beautifully decorated with ferns and cut flowers. Receiving with Mrs. Williams was Mrs. Rufus Brady. Upon arrival the guests were served with punch by little Miss Venie Lee Everett. Tables were arranged for twenty-four players and at the conclusion of the games a delicious ice course was appetizingly served to the following guests:

Misses Elsie Everett, Nannie Simmons, Ruth Lester, Ouida Williams, Elma Wimberly, Georgia Blitch, Pearl Holland, Nissie Jones, Annie May Olliff, Annie Olliff, Sarah McDougald, Cora Lee Rogers, Emma McCoy, Messrs. Purvis, Mays, Kingery, Barrett, Hubert Jones, George Williams, Eugene DeLoach, Ed Anderson, Earle Cummings, Dell Groover, Paul Simmons, Walter Johnson, L. W. Williams.

SAYS ROBBERY WAS MOTIVE.

Mr. R. L. Johnson was in to see today and stated that the impression that the negro who was found under his mother's door steps intended assaulting any one was probably a mistake. It was his belief that the negro, knowing that his brother was due home from the store in a short time, had crouched there for the purpose of robbery.

LESTER JOHNSON WAS SICK.

A preliminary trial set for the purpose of inquiring into the possible guilt of Lester Johnson, charged with retailing malt and spirituous liquors, etc., without the proper credentials, was brought to an abrupt end on Monday when the defendant in the case failed to show up. A showing was made that Johnson had suffered a bilious attack and was not able to appear in court. Another hearing has been fixed for Saturday of this week.

WANT SEA ISLAND COTTON EXHIBIT FROM BULLOCK.

A long distance telephone message from the traveling representative of the South Georgia Exposition which will meet in Tifton in a few days asks if it is not possible for the greatest Sea Island cotton growing county in the world to have a display at the Fair to be held in Tifton, where this is one of the products that is going to be featured and boosted and put before the home seekers who will visit the Fair. While the point is well taken, Bulloch ought to be represented, but if she is represented at all she ought to have a creditable exhibit, and at this late hour we doubt if the man can be found in this county who will go ahead and get up such an exhibit.

AUTO ACCIDENT AT METTER.

On Saturday last, Mrs. W. L. Jones decided to take a ride in her husband's new automobile, looking it up at the residence and taking her two children with her, she drove the machine down to the store at Metter, where her husband does business. She had no trouble guiding the machine until she struck a point in front of the store, when she lost control of the automobile, driving into the front door of the store with a force that crashed in the plate glass, badly cutting one of the children, the other one having leaped from the machine and escaped injury. Fortunately Mrs. Jones was not injured and the automobile was not injured very badly, neither was the building. The wounds of the child were doing as well as could be expected at last accounts.

MALLORY-RUSTIN.

On last evening at the home of the parents of the bride at Garard in Burke county. Mr. J. M. Rustin, of Bulloch county and Miss Beulah Mallory were united in marriage. The bridegroom has a large family connection in Bulloch and many friends who wish for him a happy married life. The young couple will make their future home in Montgomery, Ala.

APPOINTMENTS.

Wider H. B. Dalton, of Virginia, will preach at upper Mill Creek church Tuesday after 10:00 Sunday, last; Bethlehem Wednesday; Lower Lotta creek, Thursday, and thence to Upper Chascoches association. Will arrive in Statesboro Monday p. m. at 5 o'clock, the 26th.

COTTON TAKES SLUMP.

There was a decided slump in the local cotton market yesterday. Slump cotton was selling at 30 1/2 cents and the best Sea Island at 32 cents. The receipts were pretty heavy.

Mr. Blank's Mistake

"I made a bad mistake today," said Blank to his wife. "I went to pay that subscription to the daily, which was $5. I found out afterward that I handed the agent a $10 bill and didn't notice it until he was gone—guess he didn't either. I suppose the fellow is honest and I'll get my money back, but it'll be some trouble." "I've been telling you," said his wife, "that you should deposit your money in the bank and then pay by check. Then you won't be making such mistakes and having so much trouble."

Was she right? She was. We invite one and all to open a checking account at our bank.
