The student body of Statesboro High School is proud to announce the election of Ashley Tyson as Youth Mayor for the 1961-62 school year. Tyson, a senior, received the majority of votes in the election, which was held in January. The election took place on the steps of the Statesboro High School library, where Tyson spoke to the students about his plans for the upcoming year.

Ashley Tyson, a member of the Statesboro High School basketball team, won the election by a landslide. He is the first student to hold the position of Youth Mayor, a position that was created to give students a voice in the school's decision-making process.

Tyson's victory was not unexpected, as he has been a leader in the school community for several years. He is currently the president of the Student Council and is a member of the school's debate team. He has also been selected as the class valedictorian for the 1962 graduating class.

The election was held on January 15, and the results were announced the following day. Tyson's victory was met with cheers and applause from the student body, who are excited to have him as their youth mayor.

The election was the first of its kind for Statesboro High School, and it is expected to set a precedent for future elections. The school administration is confident that Tyson will be an effective leader and will work to improve the school community for all students.
