Key Moments
Texas State (13-11, 9-2) jumped out to an 8-1 lead to start the match, ran off four straight points on three occasions in the second set and led the third set 15-2. It was the seventh straight win for the Bobcats.

Stat of the Match
Texas State hit .380 for the match while holding the Eagles to .122. The Bobcats also held a 5-2 edge in aces.

Quotables from Coach Chad Willis
"It was a disappointing result tonight. Credit to Texas State, I thought they came out with a ton of energy and pressured us early, and unfortunately, we couldn't find a way to respond. First contact and our overall team defense lacked tonight, which didn't enable us to find much rhythm offensively. We have an opportunity in front of us to respond Sunday - next match mentality."

Next Up
