SELF-CARE

"In times of great stress or adversity, it's always best to keep busy, to plow your anger and your energy into something positive."

- Lee Iacocca

PROMOTING POSITIVITY

As the site coordinator for the Alternative Breaks program, I've been organizing a new online initiative, the Community Engagement Showcase. The AB Board wanted to use this showcase to help spread some positivity and share stories of strength and resilience. More importantly, we wanted to share some ideas of how breakers, and all students in general, could get involved. While these organizations are hard at work year-round, many of them have stepped up during this time of need to help support their local communities, and we wanted to highlight the wonderful work that they are doing. A major component of AB is the reorientation phase in which breakers take the lessons learned on their breaks and continue doing service. Whether that means volunteering with the community partners here in Statesboro or back in their hometown, we hope that this showcase inspires students to continue serving others. The AB program and the OLCE have opened me up to so many opportunities within Statesboro, which eventually led me to realize my goal of serving those in medically underserved communities. I am so grateful to have had the opportunity to be a member of the AB board and help other students realize their passions! To check out our Community Engagement Showcase and get some ideas on how to continue volunteering (while still staying safe and practicing social distancing), students can check out the AB Instagram page @gasouthernbreakers!
