Bielski's Painting Accepted to Indiana University Art Exhibition

May 29, 2015

Getting to Third, Sarah Bielski

Sarah Bielski's painting, Getting to Third, was featured in the catalog for the show 2015 Indiana University East Inaugural Juried Art Exhibition: Gender. The exhibit will be open from April 9-June 19 in the Whitewater Hall Art Gallery. The juried art exhibit is supported by the IU East School of Humanities and Social Sciences and the Diversity Commission. The exhibit coincides with the 27th Annual Indiana University Women's and Gender Studies Undergraduate Conference being held at IU East April 9-10.

The exhibit includes 2-D, 3-D and video. The artwork selected for the exhibit specifically deals with the fluidity of gender and sexuality; commentary on and/or challenging the conventional gendered language in visual art; reworking the conventions of representing gender and gendered bodies; investigating the shifting gender roles in today's society; questioning the stereotypes of femininity and masculinity; the state of today's parenthood; and promoting greater understanding of the LGBTQ community.
