CITY TAX RATE.

Raised this Year from $3.50 to $5.00 On the $1,000.

The city tax rate this year has been fixed by the city council at $5.00 on the thousand dollars' worth of property. This is an increase of $1.50 over the rate of last year, and is occasioned by heavy expense incident upon the installation of our present light and water system as well as by the vote last week in favor of a free school system for the town. Each of these purposes calls for an increase of $2.50 per thousand, whereas last year the general tax rate was $3.50. For the benefit of those who might be inclined to express surprise at the great increase over last year, we will state a few facts:

Eighteen months ago the city was bonded for $30,000 for electric lights and water works. When these improvements were being placed it was found that the town had expended since the survey of two years before, thereby increasing the expense of laying water mains, placing poles, wiring, etc., and that incidentals had come up necessitating the expenditure of something like $8,000 above the funds in hand. To proceed with the improvements the councilmen gave notes for the funds needed, and this is the occasion for the increase of the additional $2.50 per thousand in the general tax. Even this will leave a deficit to be looked after next year.

As to the $30,000 bonded indebtedness of the town, it is a small matter to the taxpayer. The water works and light plant is almost, if not quite, taking care of those bonds. The indebtedness of $30,000 is payable in annual installments of $1,000, with 5 per cent. interest. This interest for the present year will be $1,500, making a payment of $2,500 interest and principal to be made.

At present the income from lights and water is about $450 per month. Take from this the actual running expense of the plant, about $250, and the net profit from the operation of the plant will yield about $2,400 per year—enough, as stated above, to almost meet the demands against the bonds.

In addition to the increase in the city tax rate, the state and county rate is slightly up this year, the two being $11 per $1,000 of property. Thus it will be seen that city property-holders will pay this year a total of $19.50 on every thousand dollars' worth of property.

RAWLINGS ANNOUNCES.

Will be a Candidate to Succeed Himself on the Bench.

To the Voters of the Middle Circuit: I think it proper at this time to announce the fact that I will be a candidate to succeed myself as Judge of the Middle Circuit. For eight years I served the people of the Circuit as Solicitor General, endeavoring at all times to discharge the duties of that office with fairness impartiality and courtesy. Upon the promotion of Judge Evans to the bench of our Supreme Court I was an unopposed candidate before the people for the Judgeship to fill out his unexpired term of two years. My unanimous election to this office necessitated a complete abandonment of my law practice. I submit that I am fairly entitled to at last a full term, if, in your judgment, I have made an efficient and impartial Judge. On that subject, of course, I can say nothing on my own behalf, expect that I have labored earnestly in presiding over your courts, to do so impartially and to render efficient service to the people. Whether I have succeeded or not others must say. If so, I am fairly entitled to an endorsement of my administration and of my record.

NEW SPECIES OF GRAFT.

Fifteen Young Men Make Contribution to Friend.

BALTIMORE, Md., Oct. 7.—Each of 15 men today contributed two pieces of the skin of his leg in a remarkable skin grafting operation, performed at the Maryland University hospital, which will, the physicians say, save the life of James B. Hughes, who seven weeks ago fell into a tank of hot water while at work in Washington. The accident took every vestige of skin from one of Hughes' legs and the most persistent efforts of the doctors since have brought not the slightest indications of healing. As the only means of saving the man's life skin grafting was resorted to and two pieces of the outer skin, each piece one by six inches, were today transferred from each of 15 of his friends to Hughes' injured leg. The operation lasted an hour and a half and none of those who contributed was anesthetized. Each of the 15 men will be in the hospital for the next ten days.

100 Dollars Per Month for Life.

Does it not stand to reason that an inexperienced woman or child is better off with an income for life, than with a large sum of money? Therein lies the superiority of Annuity Insurance over lump-sum payment policies, and over property wealth.

Our method of paying the money as an income prevents all disastrous losses by theft or through errors of judgment. Even if one installment is dissipated, the others come on with the regularity of time itself, month after month, year after year, without costs, fees or worry of any nature. HOKE SMITH IN TOWN; WILL RETURN NEXT MONTH

Hon. Hoke Smith, candidate for governor, was a visitor to Statesboro last Friday.

His coming was unlooked for, and was a pleasant surprise to the people of the town, at least three-fourths of whom are his enthusiastic supporters.

Mr. Smith had been at Dublin the day before, and in company with Mr. Milt Saul, of the Journal staff, stopped off here Friday on his way to Atlanta. Two or three dozen of his friends were soon made aware of his presence, and called in a body on him at the Hotel

Jaekel. Afterwards he spent several hours on the streets being introduced to the business people of the town and a great many representative countrymen on the streets. Later he was taken for a carriage drive about the town.

Mr. Smith will be in Statesboro again about the middle of November, the exact date of his coming to be announced later. He is strong in Bulloch, even the supporters of his opponents conceding the county to him by at least two to one. His friends claim five to one.

SMITH AT DUBLIN.

Was Greeted by Three Thousand People.

DUBLIN, Ga., Oct. 19.—Hoke Smith spoke here today to a large crowd. His address was along the lines of his former speeches. Seats were provided for 3,000 people.

Mr. Smith said he was a candidate for Governor at the request of the people of Georgia, who wanted to break up the ring rule in this state. He said that the tendency in some of the states was to graft. He declared Albert Howell was for ten years in the employ of the Equitable Life Insurance Company to influence legislation in the state. He said that the ring was composed of Gov. Terrell, Hamp McWhorter, Clark and Albert Howell, and that it was intended by the ring to have Clark Howell for Governor.

He said that he was going to put Joe, Hamp, Clark and Albert out of business. He charged that the present

Railroad Commission was not working in the interest of the people and that he wanted a railroad commission which would work for the people. He spoke a little in favor of the disfranchisement of the negro.

Mr. Smith's address was delivered in a grove near Dublin, where a platform had been erected and seats arranged. He was introduced to his audience by Lucien Stubbs, former member of the Legislature. Besides his criticism of railroads and the free pass evil, Mr. Smith spoke against the corrupt management of the life insurance companies, and outlined certain legislation which he said should be enacted in Georgia for the protection of policy holders and the people.

HANGING NOT TOO SEVERE.

So Says Recorder in Sentencing Pick-Pockets.

(Atlanta News, 19th.)

In the preliminary examination this morning in police court of John Smith, of Jacksonville, Fla., the alleged crook and pick-pocket captured after an exciting scene in the great crowd at Peachtree and Marietta streets yesterday, Recorder Nash Broyles declared that pick-pockets ought to be hung.

The evidence against Smith was conclusive and Judge Broyles bound him over to the superior court on the charge of robbery, fixing bond at $2,000. In default of the bond, the prisoner went to the Tower.

Smith was caught red-handed in the act of robbing G. W. Eison, of Gem City, Alabama, just after the presidential parade had passed. Policeman Hannah seized Smith, as the latter had his hand in Eison's vest and was taking out a pocket-book containing $45.

The officer has an injured hand and on this account could not hold the man, who jerked loose and ran into the crowd. He was finally captured, however, by Policemen Hannah, Will Phillips and Boggus, and Fred L. Williams, a Decatur street jeweler.

Smith knocked down several people in his efforts to escape and during the melee, an accomplice struck Officer Hannah in the head and knocked him down. Two other men, supposed to be confederates, also tried to aid Smith in getting away. After the arrest, a big crowd wanted to mob the prisoner.

Smith was represented in court by Attorney T. W. Rucker and R. W. Wall, and they tried to induce Judge Broyles to bind the prisoner over for larceny from the person, a lesser offense than robbery. The recorder refused, however, and sent the case to the superior court.

"I am also inclined to send this man to the stockade for thirty days for disorderly conduct in knocking these people down, but I am afraid he will escape. This man must be punished, and I will take no chances with him."

An officer suggested that the prisoner might be double shackled and kept in the stockade. "I am afraid double shackles might fail to hold such a man as this prisoner," replied the recorder. "The full extent of the law ought to be imposed in this case. Hanging would not be too severe for a man guilty of an offense like this, boldly robbing unsuspecting people in a crowd. We have no need of such people and the quicker we get rid of them the better. They are bad citizens."

Smith made no statement and offered no defense whatever.

BARTOW WINS PRIZE.

Bulloch Gets Second, Which is $1,200

ATLANTA, Oct. 19.—Bartow county took the first prize of $1,600 at the state fair for the best and most artistically displayed county agricultural display. When Hon. Dudley Hughes, president of the State Agricultural Society, made the announcement in the center aisle of the agricultural building at 11 o'clock this morning an immense crowd was present and as Bartow was named the winner a big shout went up.

The other prize winners were as follows: Bulloch county, second prize of $1,200 for the second best county display. Gwinnett county, third prize of $800 for the third best county display. Cobb county, fourth prize of $500 for the fourth best county display. Houston county, fifth prize for the fifth best county display. For the next five counties making the next best displays prizes of $300 each. Worth, Dodge, Habersham, Greene and Twiggs were the lucky ones. For the next three counties making the best displays, prizes $200 each, Camden, Bibb and DeKalb were winners.

PRISONER DRAWS PAY.

Has Drawn Over $100 for Four Months' Confinement.

(Augusta Herald, 5th.)

As a general thing in a jail is not a very prosperous place for a person to be placed, but the Richmond county jail has a prisoner, or a person, confined in it who is receiving $1 per diem and his meals for remaining there.

The person who is being held in the county jail is the alleged peon, in the case of the United States vs. Tabb, charged with violating the peonage laws. The negro who is being held is Ed Smith.

This morning the peon received a check for his last month's work, or confinement. It was a piece of paper worth $30. This is probably the best time that Smith ever had. He has been in jail for the past four months and he has received $1 per day since his confinement. He stated that he was afraid to get out as he thought Mr. Tabb would bother him.

The negro Smith has received more than $100 since his confinement, and he has ever seen at one time. He is a country negro and has never worked for over $10 and his "relatives." This is generally the price. According to his own statement he has been working for several months without anything to show for it.

Smith will be held in jail until the next session of the United States court and it is the general opinion that this will be held this fall. By having the large expense of keeping Smith in jail it will probably cause Judge Spear to come and hold a special session.

The case of Smith is a very unusual one for this section, but it is true nevertheless, and he is receiving money to stay in jail. He preferred it and he will be held until the next session of court.

MARRIED HIS NURSE.

Wealthy Business Man of Boston Shocked and Surprised Friends.

Boston, Mass., Sept. 26.—Frank R. Kimball, one of the wealthiest residents of Salem and a Boston business man, has surprised Boston and Salem society circles by his marriage to Miss Katherine A. Arnold, a beautiful Nova Scotia girl.

The surprise is not only because the bride is not of the fashionable set in which the Kimballs have moved, but because Mr. Kimball was married by the Rev. Father J. J. O'Keefe, of St. Cecilia's church, under a dispensation, the bride being a Roman Catholic while he is a Protestant.

The first Mrs. Kimball died, and the shock of her death made Mr. Kimball so ill that he came to a Boston hospital for treatment. After being discharged he was nursed by Miss Arnold. When he recovered he induced her to give up her profession to become his housekeeper. The marriage followed last week, and was a secret until today.

BIG DAY AT MILLER.

Jenkins County Celebrated With Big Barbecue.

Last Thursday was a big day in Miller, the occasion being a barbecue in celebration of the formation of Jenkins county. The celebration was a brilliant success. Not only was the citizenry of Jenkins present, but there were in attendance many persons from the surrounding counties of Burke, Screven, Emanuel and Bulloch.

There were barbecue and speeches, the principal speakers being Col. W. V. Tyler, of Miller, and Hon. P. A. Stovall, of Savannah. Jenkins county was named in honor of Charles Jones Jenkins. In the New County Edition of the Savannah Press, recently published, Sam Small has an entertaining sketch of Governor Jenkins. He begins his article by saying:

"Hon. Joe Hill Hall, of Bibb, chairman of the house committee on new counties, forcibly expressed his desire that one of the new counties should bear the name of Jenkins, in honor of the Honorable Charles Jones Jenkins of Richmond county, the first Democratic governor of Georgia elected after the civil war. The managers for Dixie county were shrewd enough to seize upon this point and changed the name to Jenkins, thereby securing for it the unanimous favor of the committee."

Hoke Smith's Boom.

"Put not your trust in booms, they are fearfully and wonderfully made. As for man his booms are grass; as flowers of the field they flourisheth. The wind passeth over them, and they are gone; and the place thereof shall know them no more."

The above from the Macon News a reference to Hoke Smith's candidacy is intended to discourage Smith and his friends. It is a plain admission that Smith's cause is coming, but it says, "the wind passeth over them and they are gone."

How terrifying this must be to those who are afraid of wind! But who are the weak-kneed ones? Certainly not among Smith's supporters. Indeed, they are of the terrified kind. They expect "wind" to come the machine, and the threat that is coming is only amusing.

To be candid, however, we expect more than "wind" from the ring. They are the trained politicians of the state, greatly skilled and fearfully cunning. No trick of politics is unknown to them and none too base for their use. The people knew this when Smith announced his candidacy in opposition to the ring. That is why they are adding daily to his boom. His is no boom to be driven away by the threatened "winds" from the ringsters. It will take more; even work—hard work. The ring candidate is ready to do his part of the work, but the people are against him. His "wind" is yet harmless, and his fight a feeble one. If he is to be a winner, his strength is yet to develop. His backers admit this, and their efforts to create a terrific wind are the work of men in desperate straits.

"Lillian Russell gets $2,000 per week for singing in a vaudeville theatre. That's about a dollar a note for each note she warbles and each woe the old girl wobbles," says the Savannah Press.

It may be true that Walter Shepard, Bob Hich, Col. Stovall and Maj. Meldrim, all from Savannah, are thinking of running for congress, but they would do well to get together and do a little fighting before getting in the race. Let one run at a time, and the race will be swifter.

The Stingiest Man on Record.

If being the stingiest man on record is any title to fame, then the late Alpheus Du Bois of New York is by all rights entitled to a conspicuous place in the encyclopedia. His life represents the highest point yet attained by man in the science of money-saving. Beside the career of Mr. Du Bois, even that of our parsimonious "Uncle Russell" Sage can be likened to nothing short of a mad orgy of dissipation and extravagance. Even Mr. Roosevelt, with his famous $4 suit, is compelled to go way back and sit down.

Here are a few of the things Mr. Du Bois did, in order to save up the fortune of $500,000 that he left behind him the other day when he died. He spent his last years in a cheap lodging house where he cooked his own meals and did his own laundering. Years before, so it is said, he quit his wife and child because it cost too much to keep them. Mr. Du Bois was a school teacher, once a principal, and his young lady teachers testify—in the suit that is being made over his will—that when he chanced to go home on the cars with one of them he always waited outside on the platform until the young lady had paid the fares. After which he would take his seat beside her.

Mr. Du Bois shone his shoes himself, though that may not be a sign of stinginess any more than is the further testimony that the old teacher shaved himself. Both these things are done by men who may in no means be said to be stingy. But Mr. Du Bois did one thing that is doubtful if any other modern man, born since the invention of the barbershop, has done. He cut his own hair? It is not related whether he used in the process the round bowl that mother used to use, according to the funny papers, or whether he merely went at the task slap-dash, trusting in providence and satisfied that if his appearance suffered his purse did not. He got his hair off, and to Mr. Du Bois' practical mind that was enough. The end justified the means.

Mr. Du Bois led a rather comfortable life. He sought neither pleasure nor fame. He collected his fortune in a quiet unostentatious way by the practice of economies under which a less determined man would have rebelled. He was willing to live his grudging little life in his own way, and, doubtless, the prospect of death saddened him more because of the fact that he would be compelled to leave his dear money behind him. The disposition of this money is now the subject of a legal determination, and the fame, the renown, the notoriety that Mr. Du Bois cared so little for in life, have clustered about him abundantly in death. He goes down to future generations as the stingiest man on record, the only man known who actually cut his own hair!

Those contributions from the life insurance companies to the republican campaign fund should be probed deep. Now, if they would only divide with us, that would be another matter.

A woman in New York is paying $10 to every man who gives her a seat in the street car, and even that bribe will not induce the street car boy to give up his seat. Better buy a camp stool and carry under her arm.

Iroquois, Ill., has only one man in its population of 5,000 who won't work. But the women of the town are raising a popular subscription to deport him. Their idea is to send him just as far as the money they collect will purchase a ticket.

"The congressional race in the First seems to be looming up with some half dozen aspirants. There is Hon. J. A. Brannen already announced, W. H. Davis almost in the race, Judge Seabrook just itching for an opportunity to do so, and Col. P. W. Meldrim of the old grand already bucking on his arms for the fray. Who can tell what's in sight?" asks the Sylvania Telephone.

The young man who has acquired a business education has far the advantage of his uneducated brother in securing employment; he not only can find a job more readily, but he can get better pay for his work. There is always a demand for stenographers, typewriters, and bookkeepers, at good wages. Would you like to learn either of these lines? Let us sell you a scholarship in a good business school at half price. Call at this office. Yours truly, L. G. LUCAS.

Cotton Seed Wanted.

LITTLE LOCALS

Another cool spell has brought a feeling of fall, and heavy frost was reported Monday morning, with ice in some localities.

Messrs. F. E. Field and A. O. Bland, who went last week on a prospecting tour to south Georgia, returned Friday, having purchased a turpentine location at Blackshear, of which Mr. Bland has already taken possession.

Among our new announcements this week is that of Mr. J. G. Jones, for tax receiver. Mr. Jones is a man of wide acquaintance, thoroughly capable of performing the duties of the office, and will make a strong race.

We have the best ginner for sea island cotton and do good work. BULLOCH OIL MILLS.

Two real estate deals in town were consummated during the week. Dr. C. H. Parrish purchasing a house and lot on North Main street for $2,000, and Dr. A. Temple purchasing from Mr. J. F. Olliff his residence on College street.

Jenkins county's new ordinary, Mr. C. W. Sharpe, of Scarboro, came before Judge Rawlings here yesterday, and assumed the oath of his new office. He will proceed to put on foot the plans for the government of the new county.

An upward tendency in the local cotton market has enlivened sales this week, and the staple has been coming in in large quantities. Yesterday's best prices were 17½ for sea islands and 10½ for uplands.

At an election held on the subject Friday, both Metter and Brooklet adopted the system of school taxation unanimously. In Metter the vote was 60 for taxation and none against, and in Brooklet it was almost as large.

Bring us your cotton seed and get the top of the market. BULLOCH OIL MILLS.

Our readers will see in this issue the announcement of Mr. L. O. Atkins for the position of tax receiver. Mr. Atkins has had considerable experience in meeting the people and is a vote-getter "from his heart." He will make a swift race.

Country real estate is still being sold at a rapid rate. The latest transaction reported is the purchase of Mr. F. P. Register of Mr. Ed. Atkins' place at Clito—50 acres for $1,750. Mr. Register will establish his turpentine distillery upon the land.

At a poorly attended meeting of the Statesboro Guards held Monday night, it was decided to cease the struggle to keep the company in existence. Lack of interest among the members, and lack of encouragement by the people of the community is the cause of the suspension.

There is strong talk of Judge Martin being in the race for clerk of the superior court. The Judge served in this capacity a great many years ago, and was for a long time ordinary of the county. He has never been defeated for office, and his friends believe that he can sustain his former record if he wants the office of clerk.

We buy remnants of seed cotton. BULLOCH OIL MILLS.

There was much gossip of a political nature to be heard among the crowds Monday, and the wonder is that our columns are not adorned with a greater number of new announcements than they are. However, as the primary is probably eight months off, there is yet time for others to get into the race.

Among the new subscribers who have come our way during the week are: D. C. Barnard, J. R. Callaway, M. B. Marsh, Harman Ham, P. H. Cone, W. J. Brantley, J. G. Jones, M. Warren, W. H. Waters, Isaac Hook, J. F. Lee, Miss Ava Blackburn, D. A. Stewart, W. R. Howell, Mrs. Carrie Wright, S. W. Johnson, Jim Hendley, E. Jackson, and—but that is enough to show how they are coming. Get on the roll yourself.

PERSONAL POINTS

Among the attendants upon court crowds this week have been the unusual number of patent medicine and jewelry vendors, all apparently doing good business in their lines. In addition, the horse swappers have been more in evidence than formerly, and some excellent specimens of skin and bones have been on exhibition.

FIRE IN COURT HOUSE.

Was Discovered in Time to Prevent Conflagration. Fire in the county school commissioner's office in the court house at 6 o'clock yesterday morning was discovered just in time to be extinguished before it had gained sufficient headway to become uncontrollable.

Those early to their business on the square observed a faint smoke issuing from the ventilators under the court house, and the alarm was given. In a few minutes the hose was connected up and the stream of water turned into the commissioner's room through a window. No blaze was yet to be seen, but when the smoke had subsided sufficiently it was found that a hole was burned through the floor in the center of the room, and the sleepers under the house were about to blaze.

The actual damage by the fire is probably not over $25, though the water damage to books and papers in the office is probably more.

MT. PLEASANT ASSOCIATION.

Held Three Days Session at Bethel Church Near Here.

Mt. Pleasant Primitive Baptist Association, colored, was in session at Bethel church, three miles south of Statesboro, Friday, Saturday and Sunday, large crowds being in attendance throughout the meeting. The officers of the association are: A. Nunin, moderator, and Wash Hodges, clerk, besides whom there were present as visitors C. M. Moore, Athens; M. C. Cartwright and M. Barnard, Eatonton; Geo. Respass, Mansfield; A. Jackson, Collins; A. Eason, Quincy, and D. Cook, Bellville.

A great many white friends attended the meetings, Eld. Stubb favoring the association with a sermon on Friday.
