Faculty Sponsors Selected

Faculty sponsors for the four classes and the two religious organizations on the campus selected by the Administration for 1944-45 follows: Seniors — Robert Donaldson, Miss Wilma Baugh; Juniors—Miss Frances Grove, Jack W. Broucek, Dr. J. E. Carruth; Sophomores—Dr. Ronald J. Neil, Miss Ruth Bolton, Miss Hester Newton, W. B. Moye; Freshmen—W. S. Hanner, Miss Edith Guill, Miss Malvina Trussell, R. J. Coltharp; Y. W. C. A.—Mrs. Marjorie Guardia, Miss Marie Wood; Y.M.C.A.—W. S. Hanner, J. B. Burks, Miss Sophie Johnson.

In addition to these sponsors others have been asked to help with the organizations. For the seniors they are Miss Viola Perry, Richard Starr, Mrs. Beth King Duncan and R. L. Winburn; for the juniors, Miss Mae Michael, Miss Bertha Freeman, Miss Mamie Veasey; for the sophomores, Miss Queen Collins and Miss Sara Esther Jones; for the freshmen, Mrs. R. J. Coltharp, Dr. M. S. Pittman and Miss Geneva Hodges; for Y.M.C.A., Mrs. Everett Barron, Miss Wynelle Johnson and Mrs. Oscar Joiner; for Y.M.C.A., Miss Hassie McElveen, Mrs. Veda Gibson and Dean Z. S. Henderson.

War Relief Drive Now in Progress

The United War Relief Fund, a national undertaking which was begun throughout the United States last week, is one in which every citizen should have a part, and students and faculty of Georgia Teachers College are being called upon to do their part in the campaign.

Dean Z. S. Henderson is in charge of the drive. On the campus the drive began last week, however, those who have not contributed are urged to see Dean Henderson at once.

For the benefit of those who are not acquainted with the United War Relief Fund, the following agencies will receive benefits from the drive:

United Service Organization,
United Seamen's Service,
War Prisoners' Aid,
Philippine Relief Society,
Belgian War Relief Society,
British War Relief Society,
United China Relief,
American Relief for Czechoslovakia,
American Denmark Relief,
American Relief for France,
Greek War Relief Association,
American Relief for Italy,
United Lithuanian Relief,
Friends of Luxembourg,
American Relief for Norway,
Polish War Relief,
Queen Wilhelmina Fund,
Russian War Relief,
United Yugoslav Relief Fund,
American Field Service,
Refugee Relief Trustees,
U. S. Committee for the Care of European Children.

Of special interest in the drive to the faculty and students is the fact that President Marvin S. Pittman is director of the drive for a large area in this section.

Class Officers Are Selected

Class elections for 1944-45 were held September 29. Each class met separately with its sponsor; class officers and student council representatives were chosen.

The seniors chose Dot Culbreth as president; Henry Shearouse, vice-president; Margaret Bunn, secretary, and Margaret Strickland as treasurer. President Culbreth will represent the class at Student Council.

Junior class officers are: Melba Huggins, president; Lee Branch, vice-president; Juanita Wyatt, secretary-treasurer, and Helen Rowse as Student Council representative.

Alethia Brown was chosen as president of the sophomore class; Ann Smith, vice-president; Betty DeLoach, secretary; "Pete" Phillips, treasurer. Student Council representative is President Brown.

Freshman officers will not be elected until after the first six weeks of fall quarter. The election was delayed so that members of the class might become acquainted with possible leaders.

Neil Returns With Doctorate

Ronald J. Neil, who since 1937 has been head of the Department of Music at T.C., and who has been on a leave of absence for the past year, returned to the campus this fall with his doctor's degree in music.

Dr. Neil, who was warmly welcomed back to Teachers College, has attracted southwide attention for his work with choruses and choirs. He received his A.B. degree and bachelor of music at Kansas Wesleyan in 1925, master of music from Syracuse University in 1931, and his master of arts from the University of Iowa in 1936. His doctorate in music was granted at Peabody College this past summer.

During the first week of August the music division of Peabody College presented Dr. Neil in a voice recital as one of the highlights of the summer session faculty series at the college.

Six New Names On Faculty

Six new names appear on the faculty list of Teachers College for the fall quarter.

A newcomer to T.C. this fall is Jack Wolf Broucek. Mr. Broucek holds an A.B. degree from the Baldwin Wallace College, and a Masters in Music from the University of Michigan. He comes to the college from the music staff of the University of Connecticut. He plays the organ, piano, violin, trombone, clarinet and French horn. Since the college is specializing in the preparation of directors of bands and orchestras, Mr. Broucek will fill a place which has been needed for the past two years. He will have charge of the instruction of band and instrumental music.

Miss Vivian Baugh is T.C.'s new teacher of speech. She comes from the Woman's College of Alabama and holds her B.S. from the State Teachers College in Missouri, and her M.A. from Northwestern University.

During the summer school Mrs. Veda B. Gibson had charge of the commercial work. She returned to the college this fall as a member of the regular faculty. Mrs. Gibson has an A.B. from Winthrop College, M.A. from Columbia University, and was a member of the staff of Martha Washington College before coming to the campus here.

In the Laboratory Schools, Miss Wynelle Johnson is in the department of home economics, and Mrs. Beth King Duncan and Richard Starr, recent T.C. graduates were added to the staff.

STUDENTS' LEADER

BETH STANFIELD.

Stanfield Heads Student Council

Miss Beth Stanfield, of Glennville, has been selected to head the Student Council for 1944-45.

Miss Stanfield, upon assuming office, issued the following statement to the students:

"Probably many of you freshmen and also upperclassmen would like to know more about the Student Council. Who are the members? What is its purpose?"

The Student Council is composed of ten students, elected by the student body, whose purpose is to co-operate

District Teachers Meet Here Wednesday

Eleven Honor Grads on Campus

Honor graduates! Yes, there is a large number on our campus. The student body as well as the faculty should be very proud of this group. As yet, the list is not complete, but here are some:

Marjorie Anderson, Nevils; Lavana Daves, Brooklet; Allene Drury, North Camden; Elizabeth Free, Byromville; Kizzie Jones, Portal; Sibyl Newton, Hilltonia; Frances Reeves, Fitzgerald; Janelle Robinson, Sardis; Juanita Tillman, Surrency; Gussie Wilcox, Broxton; Sara Beth Woods, G.T.C. High School.

Freshmen, keep up the good work. (If your name should be on this list and does not appear, call by the registrar's office and find out the reason.)

The University System of Georgia offers a scholarship for one session in any unit of the system to all honor graduates from accredited high schools in the state. Georgia Teachers College usually gets her share.

Porter Carswell To Be Speaker

The First District Georgia Education Association convention will be held here Wednesday, October 18th, with teachers and administrators from eighteen southeast Georgia counties attending. The theme of the meeting will be "Building a Better Georgia Through Education."

The program here will begin at ten o'clock, Eastern War Time, in the college auditorium with J. B. Scoggins, First District director presiding. Hosts for the meeting will be President Marvin S. Pittman, W. E. McElveen, Bulloch county school superintendent, and B. L. Smith, city of Statesboro school superintendent. District vice-presidents expected to attend are Miss Ruth Folger, of Savannah; R. W. Stephens, of Reidsville, and C. B. Landrum, of Millen.

A music program under the direction of Dr. Ronald J. Neil will open the program and Rev. L. E. Williams, of the Statesboro Methodist church, will give the invocation. This will be followed by the president's address, Mrs. S. C. Patterson. Dr. M. D. Collins, state N.E.A. director, will talk on N.E.A. memberships, and Dr. O. C. Aderhold will talk on "Educational Planning and Development in Georgia." R. L. Ramsey, former secretary of the G.E.A., will discuss the Teacher Retirement plan, and J. Harold Saxon, newly elected secretary of the association, will make the announcements. The principal address of the morning will be given by Porter Carswell, past district governor of Rotary. Following the roll call of counties the meeting will adjourn for lunch.

The afternoon session will be in two parts. Part one will be Questions and Answers on Administrative Problems and Teacher Retirement. This discussion will be led by Dr. J. I. Allman of the state department of education, and R. L. Ramsey, of the Teacher Retirement system. Part two will be on "Planning for Post-War Development in Georgia." The discussion will be led by Miss Johnnie Cox, staff member of educational panel, Agricultural and Industrial Development Board, and a group from Bulloch county.

Big Demand For Teachers

A report from the Placement Bureau shows that the demand for teachers is greater than ever in this and adjoining states.

Dean Z. S. Henderson reported last week that approximately 350 requests were made for teachers from this institution. The dean stated that 217 requests came directly through his office and were for definite jobs. This figure does not include such requests as one system asking for forty teachers at one time. Of the 217 asking for specific teachers, 38 were for primary teachers, 35 for elementary teachers, 118 for high school teachers and 26 were from out of the state.

Teachers College graduated 29 students in 1944 and had 35 available teachers to recommend for approximately 350 places.

Russell On Leave Of Absence

Fielding Russell, head of the Division of Languages, left last week for Washington, D. C., where he will work on his doctor's degree.

Mr. Russell, who is on leave of absence from the college, is expected to complete work on his degree during this school year and will return to the college as "Doctor Russell."

To the Students and Faculty Of Georgia Teachers College

In the Fourth War Loan Drive alone, college students bought or sold to others over $5,000,000 worth of War Bonds. Student and faculty Minute Man flags, indicating regular investments in War Savings by 90 per cent of the group, fly over campuses throughout the country, but not over the campus of Georgia Teachers College.

Students know that they have an important stake in the War Savings program. They realize that only by winning the fight against inflation can they insure some measure of post-war security for themselves and our returning armies.

The mounting cost of war brings new challenges to students and faculty members, as to all Americans. Our college does not have an organized War Savings program and undoubtedly we will want to start one now. The organization of a program presents an opportunity for college students and faculty members to participate vicariously in the winning of the war. It is more than an opportunity, however; it is really an obligation for those of us on the home front to give our unstinted support to the armed forces in this struggle for freedom, justice, and righteousness.

Why should our college establish a good War Savings program? Because this is one way in which every person on our campus can help in the war effort. Because students want to assume their share of the responsibilities of citizens in a Democracy. Because our college can provide leadership in this nationwide campaign to increase savings and decrease spending.

What makes a good college War Savings program? An educational program on how and why of War Savings as a measure to combat rising prices, to help pay for the war, and to provide future security and a lasting peace.

What should a college War Savings program achieve? The program should achieve regular participation of every student through the purchase of stamps and bonds; should achieve enrollment in the payroll savings plan by faculty members, staff members and working students; and should achieve greater understanding of the need for War Savings among members of the entire community.

Someone has said, "But what if students and faculty members don't care, in spite of appeals and campaigns?" This question is purely academic. College students and faculty members of Georgia Teachers College do care and the George-Anne believes that a systematic War Savings program can be carried on on the campus of T. C. as it is on most of the college campuses in the country.

This is a challenge to some wide-awake organization on the campus to take over this important program and see that it operates successfully at Georgia Teachers College. The George-Anne pledges support and co-operation.

WHAT DOES T. C. MEAN TO YOU?

We imagine that T.C. means something different to each person here.

To some of us, T. C. is a place where our parents have sent us. It is a school; we're supposed to study and try to make a grade in our classes that will please our parents.

To some of us, it is a co-ed school—a place to have fun. We came expecting to have part in a lot of excitement and to get a taste of dormitory life.

To some of us, T. C. is a sort of boredom—especially the classrooms.

And to some of us, it is a good college—a college to which we expect to attach ourselves faithfully and give generously of ourselves so that we in turn will gain generously in growth and development from the college.

This may not be the proper and complete classification of the T. C. students, but the last group named does exist. It is this group that means the most to T. C.

The saying, "One gets out of something what he puts into it," is certainly applicable to a student at college.

The group of students who plan to put something into Georgia Teachers College will profit, and before long, all the students, new and old, will realize that and clamor to become a member of that group.

Each time it is possible, a student should work for or contribute to the school in some way. There are many opportunities—one may become an active member of some of the organizations, accept any chance and search for chances to take part on programs, etc., etc.

T. C. will mean to us only what we allow it to. Remember that T. C. and we have a reciprocal arrangement. We draw from the school in accordance with what we put into it. T. C. is ours if we are T. C.'s.

THOSE IN SERVICE

A noticeable omission in this issue of the George-Anne will be items concerning boys and girls in the armed services.

It is a difficult job to decide which items concerning our former students now in the armed services to use from issue to issue. A committee composed of Miss Viola Perry, Miss Malvina Trussell, Miss Mae Michael, Miss Sophie Johnson and Robert Donaldson has been appointed by the college to keep up with the records of former students in the service. This is no small task. Students and faculty members are urged to give all the information they have on those in the services to members of this committee.

When the committee begins to function the George-Anne hopes to begin a "Students in the Service" column.

OUR STAFF

The 1944-45 George-Anne staff is complete by no means. For the first time in the history of the printed George-Anne the name of a woman appears at the top as editor.

For the past two years male editors after male editors left the paper to enter the services of our nation. Last year the paper started with an editor, lost him to the teaching profession at Christmas, used an acting editor for the remainder of the year and this acting editor did not return to the campus this fall.

Miss Adelle Callaway is now the acting editor of the George-Anne. With the aid of a volunteer staff of more than twenty, the paper will be published regularly, despite the fact that certain government regulations will not permit many of the things the paper would like to do. The names appearing in the first issue are students "on trial." Those who work will remain on the staff, the names of those who do not work will be dropped and others who become interested from issue to issue will be added. The George-Anne welcomes the services and help of all students.

WHAT NOW?

The college year is now well begun. The attendance is better than we had reason to expect. The demand for teachers and other employees has been so great that a smaller attendance would have been the natural result, but some seniors and juniors were heroic and resisted the financial temptation. They are wise enough to foresee a different situation that will confront us soon. They are preparing to meet that changed situation. They deserve credit for their wisdom, courage, and their ambition. They are fortunate also because the present situation will provide many opportunities for each and all of them which they might not have under normal conditions.

The Sophomore Class is an outstanding group of young people. They are the best of what was a most excellent Freshman Class of a year ago. They possess the talent out of which will come teachers and leaders of superior worth.

The Freshman Class is a source of much satisfaction and inspiration—young, good looking, happy, and purposeful. They have about recovered from the early attacks of homesickness inevitable for well-reared young people who are away from home for the first extended period of time. Already they are beginning to have that new feeling, "love of college and college life." New interests are developing, expanded horizons are appearing, enlarged purposes of life are emerging.

All right, now that these Rubicons have been crossed, the past has lost something of its pull, and the future is beginning to beckon; just what will be your goal? and yours? and yours? Is that goal clear? Is it attractive? Does it have a pull for you? Have you the stuff that it takes to attain it?

Your parents and teachers of the past have done their best for you. Your parents and your present teachers will do their best to help you now, but now, more than ever before, your success will depend upon you, YOURSELF. Education is a process of learning self-direction. The wind of social environment can assist you, but you must set the sail, select the goal, and choose your dock for landing.

You have pushed off from shore; you are on the high sea; you must be captain of your ship, your life's bark; it is your destiny that is now being fixed; you must and will determine whether you will drift with the tide, or keep to your chosen course in spite of tide and waves.

It is the hope of all of us that you will prove a good seaman and will make a happy landing.

MARVIN S. PITTMAN.

"Heroes of the Hayfield"—Dean Z. S. Henderson, W. B. Moye, W. S. Hanner, Dr. M. S. Pittman, Cleveland Thompson, and Billy Hendry—receive orchids from the George-Anne.

Figures released by the University System of Georgia show that the increase throughout the system in civilian students over last year was eight per cent, while the increase at Teachers College was thirty per cent. T. C. is on the way up.

The George-Anne will miss Miss Zulieme Lane. Good natured and very accommodating in the college library, Miss Lane, was beloved by faculty and students. She had dusted every book in the library many times. She knew the library by heart. We wish for her many happy days.

"Reaching"

By IVY BACON

When a small child my every want
Was placed at my tiny feet.
But now I find on growing up
I walk on a different street.
I go around and reach for things
So far—yet somehow near.
It seems the things I cannot have
Are the things I hold most dear.
Will the things I long and ache for
Be always on the distant lea?
Or if I keep on reaching out,
Will they some day come to me

"Wanted"

By IVY BACON

Intelligent, earnest, always true,
With a face extremely grave;
Tall, dark, and oh, so handsome,
Is the man for whom I crave.
He must be nice and thoughtful,
With me always on his mind.
(When I was not yet sixteen,
That's the man I thought I'd found.)
Now that old age is coming fast,
My best years left behind,
I'll be perfectly contented
With just any man I find.

DIGGIN'S

"Hasco" tells tall tales, and let's hope they aren't all true. Marriage, dates and letters seem to be his favorite topics of conversation. Yes, you can bet these "Ouija boards" are quite the thing. Just in case you're interested in your past or future, the girls of East or Lewis will be glad to find out for you.

The heart-throb of the campus this year is a "double feature"—you never know whether it's Billy or Bobby, but Iris says it makes no difference.

The barrier between the North and South is gradually being lifted. Thanks to Cecelia, the cute freshman from Illinois. But when the third party steps in there's always difficulty. So watch it, folks, to see whether John and his trumpet or Kenneth and his golden voice wins the final battle of the civil war.

Daniels, rather than collecting charms for a bracelet these days, has gone into big time and now has quite a collection of engagement rings. How many does this make, Jeb?

If "Hutch" would let her hair down, or rather her bangs, she would even have Veronica outdone. In other words, "Hutch," the bangs are glamorous.

Quite a man, this Woodward! Time changes everything, and everyone is beginning to believe in this since Winton has turned into such a Casanova. Could summer school have done it?

It's very obvious that the freshmen girls are cute, but then on the other hand the upperclassmen aren't too bad. Boys, why not give them a break?

Miss Grove, don't tell us you aren't patriotic any more. There has been a sudden change of affection from soldiers to civilians.

Our own "crooner star" has become a Prof. this year, but he still seems to have his charm for the girls. What about it, frosh lassies?

Betty Jones is at it again, but we'll wait and see if she succeeds in winning A. G.

For further gossip, watch this column.

Audio-Visual Music Hour

The music hour is held in the audio-visual room each Wednesday and Friday evening at 7:30 o'clock.

Each music hour program presents many interesting selections of varied types. At the end of each program the guests are given a chance to have request numbers played.

All students are invited to attend these programs.

Soldiers' Parents Get Letters

Letters went out from the office of Dean Z. S. Henderson last week to the parents of all degree graduates seeking information of alumni in the armed service.

The letter stated that records show 203 of the 368 men graduates are in the service. Included with the letter was a questionnaire concerning the whereabouts of graduates, rank, decorations, citations, etc.

PASSING THE BOOK

READER'S CHOICE

With oodles of ambitious new freshmen and several wise upperclassmen, the House of Knowledge, at the beginning of this term is being used advantageously.

T.C. students go to the library to get the next day's assignment in social studies, to "cram" for an education quiz, to catch up on biology reading, to study the dictionary for their English composition class, to take notes on American history, to gather material for a three-minute talk in speech, and even to draw a floor plan of the library for library science class. These missions are required of the students, but not only do they do this required study, they read further. They go to the library to read the daily papers and to read the periodicals.

Furthermore, the librarian finds that the T.C. students check out many books that are outside reading for interesting novels and other good them. This, it is agreed, is a good indication.

In checking over some of the cards, the librarian found so many interesting books checked out by so many of the students that she could not possibly take note of all of them. It was noted that some of the freshmen were reading the following books:

Doris Pournell, (Bellman) Kings Row; Sybil Newton, (Douglas) Dr. Hudson's Secret Journal; Betty Edenfield (Field) And Now Tomorrow; Cathryn Arnold, (MacInnes) Assignment in Brittany; Nita Tillman, (Du Maurier) Rebecca; Janette Maltby, (Alcott) An Old Fashioned Girl; Billy Johnson, (Rawlings) Cross Creek; Cecelia Tillman, (Bailey) The Red Castle Mystery; Theresa Forehand, (Field) All This and Heaven Too. And listen to this, will you? Loretta Cook is reading Douglas' "Home for Christmas." Getting in the mood early, don't you think? Other interesting titles noted and their readers are:

Venice Clifton, (Aldrich) A Lantern In Her Hand. (Carrying the torch, Venice?)

Hazel Cowart, (Harsanyi) The Star Gazer. (A little out of date—the STARS have gone!!!)

Bobby Moore, (Washington) Up From Slavery. (It's a long road, Bobby.)

Winton Woodward, (Chiang Yen) Men Of The Burma Road. (He's reading a book about MEN!)

Hazel Wildes, (Douglas) White Banners. (No comment!!!)

Essay Contest
Interests Students

The attention of all students is called to an advertisement on page four of this issue of the George-Anne concerning the $5,200 essay contest of the Georgia Power Company on "5 Ways to Make My Community Better."

The first prize in the contest is a $1,000 bond. There will be sixty awards totaling $5,200. Separate contests for students under 18 and for adults, with identical prizes, have been arranged. According to the rules of the contest, all a student must do is to write an essay on "5 Ways to Make My Community Better" of not more than 1,000 words and send the paper to the Georgia Power Company, P. O. Box 1719, Atlanta (1), Georgia. Complete instructions may be secured from the Atlanta address. The contest closes October 31.

head. (Beth, do you have time to read this and practice teaching?)

Adell Callaway, (Aldrich) The Lieutenant's Lady. (Which lieutenant, Adell?)

Edith Bonnett, (Spence) Get Thee Behind Me. (Lucifer, push me!)

Harriet Grant, (Ethridge) This Little Pig Stayed Home. (Why?)

Genevieve Conner (Caskoden) When Knighthood Was In Flower. (Dreaming of the good old days.)

Jerome Hamilton, (Lewis) It Can't Happen Here. (Never be too sure, though!)

Edell Hinely, (Bromfield) Mrs. Parkington.

Janette Brinson, (Saroyan) The Human Comedy.

And there were many others besides these listed.

Students, wouldn't you like to know what the faculty members are reading?

each member is determined to do his part to make this year a success. However, this will be impossible unless you give your help. You must be willing to co-operate and participate in the various activities on our campus. This is your college, and what you do will determine the success we have. Some of you have leadership ability and other qualities that should be discovered. Take responsibilities and participate in the activities, so that you will not only improve that activity but yourself as well. We challenge you to help us to make this year the best year we have ever had at T.C."

THE LAB. SCHOOL

(By MARGARET STRICKLAND)

John Burks, principal of the Laboratory High School, states that many changes and additions are being made in the school's activity program for this year.

There are 250 pupils in the elementary secondary schools. To aid with their instruction, Richard Starr, Miss Elaine Johnson and Mrs. Beth Duncan have taken places on the faculty. This year there are fourteen college students who will do practice teaching.

Extra curricular activities hold an important place in the school's program this year. Physical education of many phases is being offered twice each week. Music also has a place. Mr. Broucek heads band work and Dr. Neil directs the chorus. Work in the field of photography is being offered for the first time with Miss Baugh's leader. Miss Marie Wood helps in the field of dramatics and Miss Grove and Miss Sara Jones supervise work in creative arts. Mr. Burks is offering special work in creative industrial arts for those who are interested.

Along with the regular classes, each child has a library period. This year there have been added such optional courses as home economics, shorthand and industrial arts. Vocational work is being introduced into this school for the first time.

One of the "pet prides" in the grammar and high school is the luncheon program. It is carried out along educational lines; each grade has practice in planning the menus, serving the meals, and acting as hosts and hostesses. In the high school, the health class assists with the meals.

There is felt a need for closer school-community relationship. A P.-T. A. is being reorganized so that students, parents and teachers will feel more as one group. A community meeting was held at the beginning of the year under the leadership of

WAR BOND
QUIZ

Q. How many coowners of a Bond can there be?

A. War Bonds may be issued in the names of only two individuals as coowners, and the registration must be in the alternative, such as "John X. Smith or Mrs. Mary Smith," without any qualifying words or phrases.

Q. If a person who already holds War Savings Bonds up to the limit for the current year should inherit additional Bonds, could they be registered in his name?

A. Yes.

Q. How can I be sure that I can get my money back if I buy a War Savings Bond?

By Gib Crockett

A. The full faith and credit of the United States Government are pledged for payment of both principal and interest. Your Bond is just as sound as the Government itself.

Q. If the owner of a War Savings Bond dies, how is collection made?

A. In the absence of a co-owner or beneficiary in the registration, the bond will form a part of the registered owner's estate, and will be paid to persons entitled to share in the estate under local laws as provided in the regulations.

Remember—the longer you keep War Bonds, up to 10 years, the more valuable they become.

FACULTY VISITS

President Marvin S. Pittman joined a group of Statesboro and Bulloch county citizens last week who visited the Cason Calloway Farms at Hamilton, Ga., in the interest of a better farm program for the state.

Dean Z. S. Henderson last week attended a meeting in Atlanta of the state committee of the Southeastern Association of Post-War Planning.

W. S. Hanner, of the division of exact sciences, will speak to the Kiwanis Club in Swainsboro next week on the malaria control program in Georgia.

T.C. Grads Work
In Bulloch County

Two T.C. graduates are now working in Bulloch county under the direction of the educational panel of the Agricultural and Industrial Board of Georgia.

Miss Johnny Cox, of the State Department of Education and a member of the Industrial Board panel, has been assigned to Bulloch county for the purpose of finding the present school situation in the county to see if it reaches the needs of the people.

Miss Sue Snipes, Bulloch county public school supervisor, is working with Miss Cox in this work.

Chorus Off To Fine Start

Georgia Teachers College chorus had its fourth meeting on Thursday evening, October 5th. In spite of a much smaller enrollment, this year's chorus is the largest in the history of the college.

Dr. Ronald Neil, director, is pleased with the work of the chorus thus far, and plans are being made for a short chapel program in the near future. Dr. Neil commented, "We have a very splendid beginning and the finest kind of spirit, and we are looking forward to a very successful year."

Dr. Deal continued, "The feature of this year's study will be the preparation of a sacred cantata that I have written, based on a chapter from Revelations. We hope to present it in a concert in early December."

There are fifty-four members of the chorus as follows:

Winton Woodward Heads I. R. C.'s

The members of the I.R.C. are anticipating a good year ahead, and at our first meeting some plans were made and material considered for the year's work.

The officers for this year are: President, Winton Woodward; vice-president, Beth Stanfield; secretary, Helen Hutchinson; treasurer, Henry Shearouse. Our faculty sponsor is Miss Hester Newton, who has shown unfailing interest in the work of the I.R.C.

For the benefit of the freshmen who aren't familiar with the International Relations Club, it is an organization devoted to discussing national and war problems in sociology, politics and economics. We are looking forward to having some of you freshmen who show an interest and ability in social science.

Seniors Hosts At Barn Dance

The senior class entertained the students Saturday evening in the gymnasium as a second week end party of the fall quarter.

The seniors put on a "barn dance," and there was dancing and other features of the usual Saturday evening programs. The seniors interspersed the dancing with a floor show. The floor show consisted of a kick chorus featuring Dot Culbreth, Helen Hutchinson, Melba Huggins, Louise Tompkins, Margaret Strickland and Betty DeLoach; a shotgun wedding involving Venice Clifton, Margaret Bunn, Eldred Mann and Henry Shearouse, and vocal numbers by Betty Jones.

The social was the second of the year. Three weeks ago the W.A.A. had charge of the first Saturday night party which was "play night."

Y. W. C. A. Selects Miss Ann Smith

Miss Ann Smith, of Metter, was chosen to head the Y.W.C.A. at the first meeting of the fall quarter held last week.

Selected to serve with Miss Smith were: Vice-president, Edell Hinely; secretary - treasurer, Maggie Vann; recreation chairman, Jackie Anderson; publicity chairman, Aletha Brown; vesper leader, Winifred Seckinger; evening watch leaders, Hazel Sapp in East Hall, Sarah Ruggins in Lewis Hall; pianist, Mary Lois Jones.

The Y.M.C.A. meets every other Wednesday night at seven o'clock. Officers of the club urge all girls who are not members to join the "Y".

Eight Members Mu Sigma Return

Mu Sigma fraternity met last Friday. The meeting was short and informal and consisted of a general discussion of plans for the coming year.

There are eight old members who have returned to T.C. They are Richard Starr, Eldred Mann, Annie Ruth Martin, Genevieve Conner, Marjorie Odom and Jeroline Hamilton. With Mary Lois Jones as vice-president, and Betty Jones as president, and Dr. Ronald J. Neil as sponsor, prospects are good for a successful Mu Sigma this year with more than the usual number of talented students enrolled.

Home Economics Club Active

In the absence of Miss Donnie Jo Reagan, of Millen, who was chosen as president of the home economics club and who did not return to school this quarter, Miss Winnifred Seckinger, Springfield, is to lead the club this year.

The first meeting is scheduled for Monday evening and at this time Edith Bennett, Jeanette Brinson and Hazel Wilder, as the nominating committee, will present names of persons to be voted on for vice-president.

Other officers are Edell Hinely, Springfield, secretary Marjorie Odom, Arabi, treasurer, and Alice Ann Willcox, McRae, social committee chairman.

This club sponsored by Miss Ruth Bolton, is open to all girls on the campus interested in home economics. Interesting and constructive work is carried on by those participating.

Miss Lane Leaves Library

Miss Zulime Lane, who since before 1929 has been on the campus of Teachers College, resigned her position in the library this fall.

Miss Lane was graduated with the first degree class at T.C. in 1929. All during her school days here Miss Lane worked in the library. From 1929 to 1931 she was librarian at Middle Georgia College, attended Peabody College during 1931-32 and came back to T.C. in 1932 as assistant librarian. She held this position until her resignation this fall. Miss Lane had been a teacher in the public schools of Georgia before coming to Teachers College.

COLLEGE BAND BACK ON CAMPUS

For the first time in three years, the appearance of the traditional blue and white uniforms of the T.C. band will again be observed campus-wide.

Mr. Broucek, director, has many progressive ideas for the coming year. "I want to urge everyone who is interested in a musical instrument, whether or not he has mastered the art of playing it, to join," states Mr. Broucek. "The sixteen members, mostly freshmen, who have joined, comprise only the nucleus of the organization; I want a minimum of twenty-eight members."

Practice by the following students was begun in the auditorium Tuesday, October 10th: John Fletcher, Joseph Hart, Kenneth Smith, Carolyn Ellington, Sara Slaton, Lewis Moore, Ruth Quarles, Elizabeth Smith, Billy Holland, Bobby Holland, Imogene Groover, George Olliff, Thomas Swinson, Mary Dell Shuman, Anne Hendrix and Jerry Greene.

Nations have recently been led to borrow billions for war; no nation has ever borrowed largely for education. Probably no nation is rich enough to pay for both war and civilization. We must make our choice;
