

Library of Congress

American Memory

American Memory is an online archive of over 100 collections of rare and unique items important to America's heritage. The collections contain more than 7 million primary source documents, photographs, films, and recordings that reflect the collective American memory. They are a treasure trove of unique personal items from another period in time – perhaps old records, letters with exquisite penmanship and arcane language, clothing, keepsakes, or faded photographs. These collections are 'snapshots' providing a glimpse into America's past.

www.loc.gov

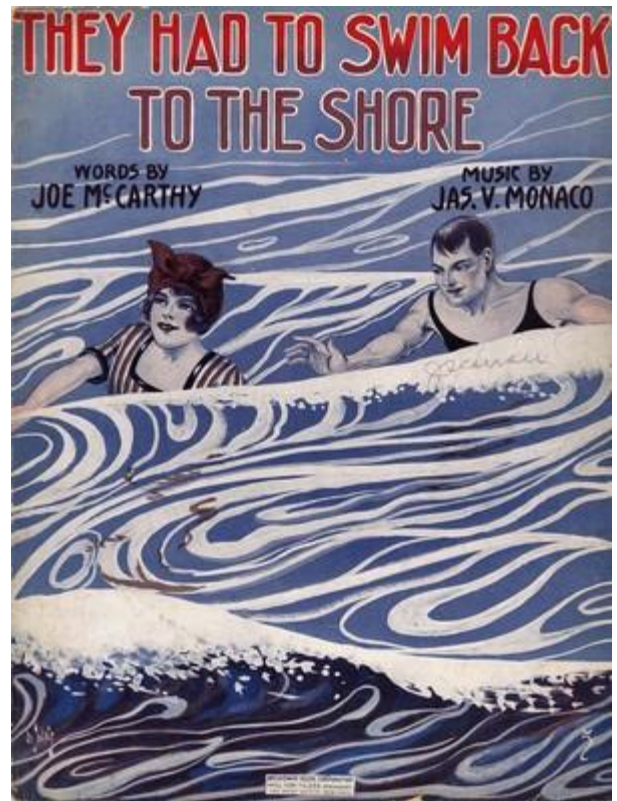

American Memory

More browse options lets you search by....

- Topic
- Time period
- Place
- Media
 - Maps
 - Manuscripts
 - Motion pictures
 - Photos, prints
 - Sheet music

Enter a keyword(s) in the search box.

Click Gallery View to see images.

Sheet Music, 1904

27-second movie filmed by American Mutoscope & Biograph Company in Honolulu, 1901.

Sample search:

Click on Early Advertising.

Type diver in the search box. Go.

Click on Gallery to view images.

Click an image to read bibliographic information about that image.

Click the image again to see an enlarged view.