

Providing fun for the whole family, and individuality for Mom and Dad, the top offering in Ford's 1963 station wagon line, the Country Squire, will have optional bucket seats, a nine-passenger car, the Squire has the only forward-facing third seat in the low-priced car field, and one of the widest tailgate openings in the industry—more than 50 inches.

Described as "the most service free standard-size American car ever produced," the 1963 Ford Galaxie features complete re-styling, a new 200-cubic-inch Challenger V-8 engine, 36,000-mile major lubrication intervals and 6,000-mile minor lubrication intervals, and "cushion link" suspension. Through use of improved lubricants, a complete "run-in" of each engine while it is being electronically analyzed, and an engine flush procedure, Ford has been able to eliminate the historic 1,000-mile inspection on all of its 1963 cars, except the three van-type vehicles in the Falcon line.

The 4-door hardtop (bottom), is one of the 14 models in the 1963 Galaxie line.

Opinions and Observations

Go to the polls and Vote on October 16

Bulloch County voters will have the opportunity to go to the polls again on Tuesday, October 16, to name a senator for the newly created Fourth Senatorial District.

Bulloch, one of the six counties making up the new district is offering Horace Z. Smith as a candidate to fill the seat in the Senate in the Georgia Legislature.

Since there are two other candidates in the race, one from Screven and one from Tattnall, it becomes imperative that the more than 9,500 registered voters of Bulloch County turn out and cast their vote for Mr. Smith, if we are to have a home-county senator in Atlanta next year.

We believe that Mr. Smith would serve Candler, Effingham, Evans, Screven and Tattnall counties with the same degree of consideration as he would serve his home county. With problems common to all six counties, his interests would become common with the interests of our neighbors.

Let it become your duty to vote that day.

National Newspaper Week is Oct. 14-20

Newspapers make a BIG difference in people's lives.

Newspapers place a record of the outstanding news of the day in the hands of their readers. In this way newspapers have a definite bearing on the public's opinions on moral and civic issues of the day.

This power of the press and its product brings with it tremendous responsibility to present fundamental truths through factual reporting and prudent editorial comment.

Georgia's citizens are better educated today because of our state's 235 newspapers.

Georgia's cities are better cities because her newspapers help create civic pride and an image of loyalty and progress basic to growth.

Georgia's government is better understood because her newspapers spread their advertisers' wares before Mr. Public's eyes the better for him to buy.

Through the years Georgia's newspapers have altered the Georgia way of life by influencing the food her citizens eat, the clothes we wear, the houses in which we live, and more important — the beliefs we hold, the opinions we express — yes, even the dreams we dream.

In our world that moves swiftly — not sound nor other media can compete with the newspaper in the depth of news coverage presented. The written word is PERMANENT — it is available for study and close scrutiny at any time.

The challenge of today for newspapers is that the power of the press must be used responsibly, justly and intelligently so that this power can remain the cornerstone of democracy. The newspapers of our great state accept this challenge!

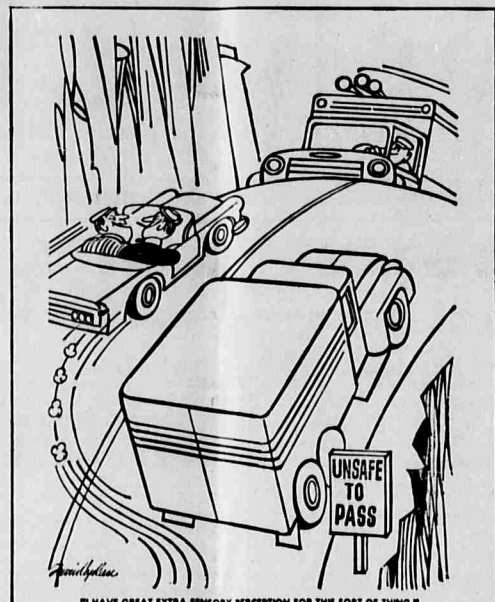

GEORGIA FORESTRY PRODUCTS

Georgia landowners currently are selling some 5 million cords of pulpwood and over 1 billion board feet of sawtimber each year. These landowners produce over 80 percent of all the turpentine and rosin produced in the United States, according to Extension Forester George D. Walker.

FLOWERING CRABAPPLE FOR LANDSCAPING

One of the most colorful trees for landscaping is the flowering crabapple. It features a wide range of color in flowers and fruit and offers a variety of heights and shapes. Almost all flowering crabapple trees produce large quantities of fruit, most of which can be used for jelly, says Extension Landscape Specialist T. G. Williams.

Read Ephesians 2:11-10

HE IS OUR PEACE, who hath made both one, and hath broken down the middle wall of partition between us. (Ephesians 2:14)

One of the most stubborn divisions of the ancient world was that between Jew and Gentile. This was made plain in the Temple by inscriptions on the middle wall of partition, which separated the inner from the outer court.

One inscription read: "No man of another race is to be enclosed within the partition and proceeding wall about the sanctuary; and anyone arrested there will have himself to blame for the penalty to death which will be imposed as a consequence."

THE MIDDLE WALL disappeared in the rubble when Titus destroyed the Temple in A.D. 70. But before that the division for which it stood was being broken down by the Christian church through the saving love of Christ.

Our world still knows many divisions, some of them bitter. But Christ is not divided. We cannot remove the walls of partition separating us from our fellows and menacing our peace. But Christ can. He is our peace. The nearer we draw to Him, the nearer we are to one another. As we love all men with love like His, divisions are overcome.

PRAYER: Save us this day, O Lord, from those things that separate us from Thee and so with one another. Baptize us with the Holy Spirit that we may be Thy disciples indeed. For Jesus' sake. Amen.

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY: Christ loves all men. So may you and I.

CHANCE DISCOVERY

As legend has it, Crawford Long performed the first painless operation under the shade of a mulberry tree. Like most legends, this one is founded in fact. Long was indeed the first surgeon to use sulphuric ether as an anesthetic. As for the mulberry tree, it grew outside his office and its branches overhung the window near which Long operated. Long's discovery of ether's anesthetic properties—which led to the operation in the first place—was the result of a casual observation.

Crawford Long was born in Danielsville, Georgia in 1815. By 1835 he had received a Master's degree from Franklin College. After teaching a year, Long studied medicine under a Dr. Grant in Jefferson. He then attended Transylvania College and took an M.D. degree from the University of Pennsylvania in 1839. Long established his reputation as a surgeon while in New York.

In 1841 Long returned to Jefferson, bought Dr. Grant's practice and married Mary Caroline Swain. The couple took an active part in Jefferson's busy social life and in the early 40's society was enjoying its newest fad—inhalant nitrous oxide or laughing gas.

One evening a group of young men in Long's office asked him for some nitrous oxide. Long did not have any but assured them that sulphuric ether would have the same effect.

As the doctor said, ether and laughing gas produced similar sensations. But if a person took the ether in larger amounts, he seemed to feel no pain if he fell or received a blow usually sufficient to cause injury. Observing this, Long felt ether might be useful in surgery.

An opportunity to test this theory came on March 30, 1842, when Long removed two cysts from the back of James Venable's neck. Two friends of Venable's were present and assisted Long. The surgery was successful; it cost Venable only $2.25, but the savings in human life and suffering cannot be calculated.

Today there is a memorial to Crawford Long in Jefferson. Built on the original site of his office is the Crawford Long Museum, operated by the Georgia Historical Commission.

In it is a diorama or three-dimensional representation accurately portraying the operation. Examples of early medical equipment, along with possessions of Long's and his family, are exhibited. Developments in the conquest of pain, from the tribal medicine man to today's advanced drugs, are also displayed.

The Crawford Long Museum is located on the town square in Jefferson. It is open every day except Wednesday and on Sunday is open from 2 until 5 o'clock.

On The Square

BY DR. JOHN MOONEY

ALCOHOLICS characteristically carry running battles with people who can't or won't fight back, like movie stars, governors and presidents, wives, heads of foreign states and children.

One man went after Hitler himself. When he got drunk he would spend hours trying to put a long distance telephone call through to the German Chancellor.

Once he made it to the secretary in Hitler's office. He was disappointed — for the American people, that is — that he did not reach Hitler personally as he figured he could have talked "Die Fuhrer" into giving up, thus saving the lives of millions.

The following article reprinted from the AA Grapevine describes a Californian's trouble with some prominent statesmen.

"MY FEUD WITH JIM FARLEY"

I want to make amends right here and now to Franklin Delano Roosevelt, James Farley and the whole New Deal administration.

"The trouble started with the glue. The glue on the United States postage stamps would not stick. On the first of every month, with a double highball at my elbow, I'd sit down at my desk to pay my bills. I'd lick a lot of stamps. And each Christmas, with a double highball handy, I'd lick a lot more stamps. But the stamps wouldn't stick.

"AS TIME WENT ON the glue got worse. I developed a resentment that grew into a burning rage at our Federal government. I, a good Republican, had voted for Roosevelt and now I was stuck with these stinking, non-sticking postage stamps. I placed the blame right where it belonged — at the top. Franklin Delano Roosevelt and James A. Farley, were producing stamps with a glue that wouldn't stick.

"I bought a pot of my own glue and for years I kept it handy in my desk, as easy to reach as my highball and seethed with resentment.

"Then I joined AA and experienced a dramatic awakening. The quality of the glue on the postage stamps, after AA, improved at once. I remained suspicious for a time, still kept the glue bottle handy — but each time I licked a stamp I stuck!

I realize now that before AA a lot of things came unsaid. Trains left without me. I left without brief cases. Pockets got empty. Trash cans got full of empty typewriters. Plunks went out the wrong letters. Keys wouldn't fit locks, glasses spilled and badly designed stairs kept tripping me.

"Alcohol, not the Roosevelt Administration, was to blame for my long and bitter experience with nonsticking postage stamps.

"As Step Eight tells us, I have made a list of all the persons I have harmed and I have become willing to make amends. Franklin D. Roosevelt and James Farley head the list. If I ever meet them, here or in the hereafter I promise to make direct amends, as it says in Step Nine.

"Of course, there are always those who demand a rational, scientific answer for everything that happens in AA. Well, I'm ready for them, too. Before AA I never sat at my desk, without a well-filled highball glass.

Anything I ever did at my desk, I did while drinking. I never wrote from writing to licking stamps, was always punctuated by regular sips from the handy glass.

Enough alcohol on it to dissolve the glue from every stamp I licked."

"A big bankroll won't count when the roll is called up yonder."

BETTER HOGS, BETTER MARKET

A good way for hog producers to increase the price of market hogs in Georgia is to increase the quality of the animals they grow. This can be done by producing the right kind of hog, feeding an efficient ration and following a good sanitation program. If the right kind of hog are produced in large numbers buying competition should soon increase, says Extension Animal Husbandman James A. Christian.

A new sweet potato harvest recently demonstrated at the Coastal Plain Experiment Station will harvest about 100 bushels of potatoes an hour and also should reduce the number of damaged potatoes, reports Extension Area Horticulturist James M. Barber.

ATLANTA—Historic is the word most used to describe this special session of the General Assembly. In less than a two-week period, we changed the hundred year old system of Senate apportionment.

This change was brought about as a result of a Federal Court order, and while none of us particularly like being told what to do by the Federal Courts, the newly-created system of apportionment.

This change was brought about as a result of a Federal Court order, and while none of us particularly like being told what to do by the Federal Courts, the newly-created system of apportionment has some good points.

In the past, because of the rotation system about the time a change was brought about as a result of a Federal Court order, and while none of us particularly like being told what to do by the Federal Courts, the newly-created system of apportionment.

NEWS OF SPECIAL INTEREST FOR FARMING AND HOMELIFE

Pickens Selected To Play Russians

By Roy Powell, County Agent.

Bill Pickens, Georgia Southern's outstanding center, has been selected as one of twelve NAIA basketball stars to represent the United States NAIA All-Star team which will play the Russian Olympic Team in November, according to GSC coach J. B. Seacore.

Pickens was selected from among four hundred and sixty of the NAIA's top basketballers. Al Duer, Secretary of the National Association for Intercollegiate Athletics, expressed his congratulations to both Pickens and coach Seacore in a letter to the latter.

The 6'9" sophomore from Rochester, New York, finished second in team scoring and total points last season with 402 total points and an 18.6 game average. His highest game pointwise was against Mississippi Southern in Mississippi when he pumped in 41 points.

There are two games slated with the Russian Olympic Team. The first will be played at Albuquerque, New Mexico, on November 14; the second game will be held at Sioux Falls, South Dakota, November 16.

The coach of the NAIA All Stars will be John McLendon.

Coach Seacore commented, "I'm very pleased that Bill is going to play with this team. It will mean a great deal to him and the school."

Another top cage star from this district is GSC rival Roger Stockland of Jacksonville University.

We are probably more fortunate in the grouping than some counties. We share many common interests with all the other counties of the District. We are in the Judicial District with the counties of Screven, Wilkes, Wilcox and Wilkes.

The other five counties are economically dependent on agriculture and small industries, just as we in Bulloch are. It can be no matter where he's from, we share our interests.

In addition to reapportionment, the special session passed (1) an amendment to a bill to speed up the interstate highway program, (2) a bill reorganizing the State Toll Bridge Authority, and (3) an amendment to a bill giving state aid to our municipalities.

We also passed a constitutional amendment resolution which you will vote for or against in November. This would provide for a county-wide vote for senators from the large counties which have more than one senatorial district.

I am sorry that my colleague, Wiley B. Fordham, did not choose to run for the 1963-64 term in the Legislature. I can sincerely say that he is highly respected and liked by all his fellow members. He will be missed in the House, where he has served for eight years. We all wish him success in the future.

We are fortunate to have another distinguished Bulloch Countyman, Phil McSmith, who is a leader in agriculture over the State of Georgia, to succeed Wiley in the General Assembly. I am sure I'll enjoy serving with him.

Observing people helps in understanding them

Hypnotist Coming, Tickets Available

Tickets will be available Wednesday in the Dean of Student's office for "Miracles of the Mind," a presentation of psychic phenomena, mind reading, photographic memory, and hypnosis by Dr. Franz Polgar according to Jack Broucek, chairman of the newly organized Campus Life Enrichment Committee.

Students may get reserved tickets upon presentation of their ID cards free of charge. Those students who do not do so before the night of the performance must pay full admission charge of $1.50.

The performance will be given at 8:15 p.m. on October 24 in McCroan Auditorium.

The Campus Life Enrichment Committee, a standing committee of the student personnel advisory council, is sponsoring the show.

This group was organized during the summer to bring cultural and informative programs to the campus.

Polgar is one of three attractions that have already signed a lecture in February by columnist Drew Pearson and a performance in April by the famed actor Basil Rathbone.

Broucek said that the committee hopes to sign at least two more varied attractions for this year.

Various classes, divisions, and organizations are represented on the Campus Life Enrichment Committee. Members are: Frieda Gernant, art division; Fred Wallace, science division;

ALSO: Don Nelson, student council; Jane Weatherly, freshman class; Sallie Bradford, sophomore class; Jo Carol Gettys, junior class; and Harry Reece, senior class.

The breakdown is as follows: 1961 faculty and staff members; 10 graduate assistants; six members on leave of absence and one doing part-time teaching. This makes a total of 177 members of the academic and administrative division of the college.

From telling someone else of mother's faults. This happens once, twice, three times and pretty soon we are able to see nothing but what someone does wrong. We have completely forgotten that there is anything good in people.

Frequently we are so engrossed in finding fault with others that we are blinded to the fact that we, too, have many faults. It would be well for us to stop and take a look at ourselves. We may see a satisfactory self, but most likely we will be displeased with what we see. However, all is not lost.

SERVING BULLOCH COUNTY... A LAND RICH IN AGRICULTURE, INDUSTRIAL OPPORTUNITY AND PROGRESSIVE PEOPLE

Oliver Declared Winner; Short 35
Votes, Run-off Election Ruled Out

THEY ALL ASPIRED TO the title of "Sweet Potato Princess" in the Princess Pageant sponsored by the Bulloch County Growers, Association at Marvin Pittman High School on October 13. Left to right they are, Sandra McCormick, Nancy Parrish, Jennie Brannen, Sharon Allen, Sherry Lanier, Mary Alice Belcher, Helen Waters, Juli Banks, Peggy Miller, Glenda Allen, Sue Aaron, Sandy Newman and Delores Bowen. Mr. J. L. Wynn is president of the Growers Association.

Clinton Oliver of Glennville has been declared the Democratic nominee for the senator of the Fourth Senatorial District composed of Bulloch, Candler, Effingham, Screven and Tattnall counties, despite the fact that, according to figures received by the Times, Mr. Oliver was thirty-five votes short of the required amount for a majority of the votes cast.

Mr. Oliver was declared official winner at the State Democratic Committee meeting held in Macon on last Wednesday at which time Senator Carl Sanders was officially nominated as the elected Democratic nominee for governor.

Early election returns Wednesday morning showed Oliver with a four-vote majority over the combined totals of Horace Smith of Statesboro, Gilbert Akins of Savannah, and Robert Hawkins of Savannah. But official returns sent to the party secretary Wednesday showed Oliver had failed to receive a majority by thirty-five votes.

Both Smith and Oliver acted on the official returns, which showed a shortage of thirty-five votes necessary for Oliver's nomination, began actively making campaign plans for a run-off election to be held on Tuesday, October 26.

The anticipated run-off election was turned into a political "hot potato" on Thursday of last week when it was learned that Clinton Oliver was declared the Democratic nominee for the Fourth District seat. Both candidates had already placed advertisements in the weekly papers asking for support and vote in the anticipated run-off election.

Acting on the final figures Horace Smith continued his campaign for the run-off election. Thursday afternoon after the state party officials had declared him the winner.

Based on the official returns showing a shortage of thirty-five votes, Mr. Smith felt that state party officials would reverse the ruling and order a run-off election.

On Friday, Mr. George D. Stewart, State Democratic Party secretary, notified Mr. Smith by long distance telephone that the original declaration of Oliver being the winner would be reversed and that there would be no run-off.

Following the information that Oliver would be the winner, Mr. Smith said that "in the election held on last Tuesday, October 16, there would be no run-off election. There were in my office by nine a.m. the state party officials received a majority of the votes cast. This fact was made known through regular channels to the Democratic Party officials of the state of Georgia. However, a winner was declared in violation of the rules set forth in the Georgia Democratic Party constitution. As of 4 p.m. October 19, the state party officials refused to order a run-off in the 4th Senatorial District."

MR. SMITH'S STATEMENT CONTINUES:

"It appears that the Democratic process used for the election public officials has been ignored by those responsible for the overwhelming majority of the registered voters in the 4th Senatorial District of Georgia. The known choice of only 14 percent has been needed. I have personal animosity against those responsible for this usurpation of the fundamental rights of the electorate, but I feel it my duty to point out this obvious abuse of power."

"The wrong done is not only a denial of one candidate's right, but is a denial of a fundamental constitutional right to the citizens of the 4th District. The sincere request by many prominent leaders of the district communicated directly to party officials that the election be held was summarily rejected. At this time, the uncertainty it makes it too late for a campaign to be organized, ballots printed, and voters asked to appear at a fair election. I wish to express my sincere appreciation to those who worked for and gave me encouragement to seek the office. I release all of my supporters from the final opinion with the people of this district."

The Bay District returns in ordinary's office 9 a.m., October 17

Contrary to information that was passed out that the Bay District (134th GM) of Bulloch County was late reporting the following telegram dated 10:52 a.m. on October 19 was sent to George D. Stewart, secretary, State Democratic Executive Committee in Atlanta, Georgia.

The Fourth Senatorial District Primary be advised that returns from all, repeat, all precincts including 134th (Bay) District were in my office by nine a.m. October 17, 1962 in accordance with instructions by Bulloch County Democratic Executive Committee. To my personal knowledge there is no foundation whatever to disqualify the Bay District returns. Newspaper releases in re same are false. (signed) R. P. Mikell, Ordinary, Bulloch County, Georgia.

The telegram was sent to the Executive Secretary of the Democratic Party of Georgia. Reports were out that the Bay District returns were not included in the early returns and that because of the lateness of receipt of the Bay District vote of the district should be disqualified.

The giving, by thoughtful citizens, to the Boy Scout Fund is a part of a national effort to prepare the youth of America for the vast responsibility of citizenship that they will soon be called upon to shoulder. In Bulloch County, the solicitation will begin on Tuesday, October 23.

Belton Braswell, Statesboro, and Joe Ingram, Brooklet, the chairman of the drive, announced that the drive will begin with a breakfast meeting of all workers at Mrs. Bryant's Kitchen on S. Main Street in Statesboro on Tuesday, October 23. The breakfast is scheduled for 7 o'clock in the morning.

About 100 volunteer workers are expected to attend the breakfast, after which they will begin their solicitations in the Statesboro area. Georgia Southern College will be covered by Dr. Ralph Tyson, Dr. William McKenny and Dr. William Hitchcock.

Belton Braswell reported that there were many advancements in the Boy Scout ranks, which indicates that the boys are eager to advance to positions of greater responsibility.

More boys need an opportunity to join this great organization he continued. This is the reason why 100 volunteer workers in the Statesboro area will be striving to raise the badly needed funds for the coming year.

Won't you give as freely as you can when called upon by your community solicitor, Scoutmaster, or Scout leader, along with the home, church, and school, in strengthening our youth for and conversion to the responsibilities of citizenship that they all too soon will have to assume.
