Mayor Bowen helps tourist correct error

Recently Mayor W. A. (Bill) Bowen received a letter from Mr. Smith of 208 West Bessmer Avenue, Greenwood, N. C. Mr. Smith was on his way home from a vacation in Florida. Since he was using U.S. 301 he drove home through Statesboro. He stopped here to buy some odds and ends, including a pair of shorts.

"The Mayor," "Statesboro, Georgia." "May I enlist your help in correcting an error?" "Yesterday I came through Statesboro on the way to vacation and stopped to buy some odds and ends, including a pair of shorts."

"The next morning at the motel I found that the package included three pairs of shorts. As I can figure it out someone is due a dollar, which I enclose, and hope you can effect proper delivery."

"Don't recall the name of the store, but if my recollection is right that 301 goes North through Statesboro, it's on an East-West street, in the first block east of the highway, opposite and south of the courts house. It's a block due north of the Western Union office which I reach by a devious path through alleys, with help and directions from the very courteous proprietor of the clothing store."

"If, by any chance, you can't identify the merchant, please turn this over to your Community Fund."

"Yours very truly,

..... SMITH"

Mr. Bill Bowen recognized the store and gave the letter and the dollar bill to Mr. Lawrence Mallard of the Men and Boys' Store on East Main Street.

It was commendable that Mr. Smith sent the store here in Statesboro the dollar he figured he owed for the extra pair of shorts he found in his package. And we hope that Statesboro will always attract this kind of traveler to stop and visit with us and trade with our merchants. But we must be constantly alert to deserve their kind.

Read 1 Thessalonians 5:11-18

Always and for everything giving thanks in the name of our Lord Jesus Christ to God the Father. (Ephesians 5:20, RSV.)

Paul was in prison when he wrote our text. What a soaring spirit they reveal! When he and Silas were imprisoned, they sang hymns and praised God, and the prison doors were opened.

During the Thirty Years' War in Europe, Martin Rinkart wrote the words of the hymn: "Now thank we all our God, with heart and hands and voices."

The Pilgrims who came to America aside a day for thanking God. Surely their situation was not enviable; things were far from perfect. Yet from such a background in prayer, they gave thanks. In our Lord's name we ask Amen.

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY
Everything that happens to me can be a blessing if I have a thankful spirit.

I've Been Thinking...

THE GEORGIA PLAN

IT SEEMS TO me that many college students are critical of Georgia as a state. Its political, economic, and social conditions are the subject of their criticism. This is not surprising, for Georgia is a state of many contrasts. It is a state of many contrasts. It is a state of many contrasts.

FOR THE FIRST time in the history of the state, Atlanta banks have sufficient capital to develop Georgia's resources. We are in the beginning stages of a transitional period from an agricultural to an industrial state. Our climate is one of the most favorable in the union. Our coast line and harbors have not really been adequately developed. Can Canaveral is here to stay, and Georgia is bound because of its water supply and location, to receive more of its share of space age industry. In short Georgia's economy will expand truly, the next twenty years will see the title, "The South of the South" no longer a mockery but a concrete reality.

A REPLY to this statement, "A man would have to be a fool to leave this state. The potential for growth in Georgia is greater than any other southern state. The next twenty years will see Georgia an industrial state, and I am going to stay around and reap the benefits." Despite the pessimistic outlook of some, I think this statement represents the majority opinion. Georgia is a state in the move.

It is true that the state's economy is not as highly developed as the majority of the states in the union. It is also true that per capita income in Georgia is below the average for the nation, but these attributes are a disadvantage in one respect, then they are advantages in another. To me it all adds up to a higher potential ratio for success. For the producers for those with initiative, for the molders of industry, for the skilled, industrious, and ambitious, Georgia is the place to be for the next twenty years.

Notes:
TALKING to Ike Minkovitz and Brantley Johnson the other night about Statesboro. Agreed this is a wonderful town. Our weekends of traveling take us to many places, some larger, some with single conspicuous attractions which outline any of ours. But none with the overall attractiveness, friendliness and general look of prosperity none with the same delicate balance between the austere and the carefree that we see in this city.

Ike, who has been a major figure in the industrial development of Bulloch County, remarked that the character of Statesboro is reflected in the caliber of the newcomers. The people who are attracted to Statesboro by our industries and Georgia Southern College quickly become part of the city's personality and in turn, attract others to us and trade with our merchants. But we must be constantly alert to deserve their kind.

Brantley, president of the Rotary Club was impressed with the willingness to serve exhibited by every one of the ninety-eight members of the club. I happen to know that the same spirit of civic responsibility exists in the Kiwanis and Lions Clubs.

DO YOU HAVE CIVIC PRIDE? By that I mean, do you feel comfortable and happy about being a part of this community?

This afternoon in your way home from work take fifteen minutes and drive out to Georgia Southern. Then come back 301, through town and up North Main if it affects you like it does, you will have the feeling that Statesboro is no longer a country town. It has, indeed, become a city. There is a warm glow of pride.

At first this pride will be mainly a feeling of satisfaction. But then it will become critical and you will see defects which need not be that way. And if you have true civic pride you will feel a desire to correct them. You may even want to take an active part in the bettering of the city. This is the ending program of civic betterment.

THIS YOU CAN DO by joining or becoming more active in one of the organizations devoted to making this community a better place to live in. There are many organizations in the city, the churches, the PTA's, the YCA's, the Chamber of Commerce, the civic clubs, the garden clubs and all the others.

You will meet people who spend as much time working for state agencies and providing improvement of Statesboro and Bulloch County as they do on their own businesses. Like the bridge across the Savannah River at Burton's Ferry and the one way for US 301. Or the market and later our industries, and the many others who have served and succeeded in special areas.

True, Statesboro is a wonderful place to live in, due to the devotion by many to the motto: "He profits most who serves best."

Outside the House

OF HUNNICUTT

I guess the biggest thing I was thankful for over the Holiday was the fact I was able to use my money to help others. Everybody with a gun was out shooting Thursday, I do believe.

I have really enjoyed helping Emma with several shows down at Stewart for the thousands of troops moved in for the "Cuban Crisis." They've been panned up for six weeks and are so appreciative of the entertainment we've been down with. Had Linda Denmark and a group from Savannah down for the Holiday Show Thursday night. Enjoyed seeing Beverly Angel the Miss Central Georgia Winner and Jeane Morgan, our official Hostess of the Miss Southeastern Pageant on hand with talent offerings.

If you caught Pat Henry and Faye Waugh's picture with her sister last week you know why the Alpha Omega Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi has been so busy and working so hard to raise money. They've really come up with a purchase we personally believe was long overdue as a service to the community. They have a real name for the Holiday Auto-box but it's actually an outside depository for library books. Bless their hearts for selling a whole lot of old clothes . . . having Tills' fall Show . . . and making their after hot dog to raise the necessary funds.

I'm not completely prejudiced when it comes to girls and their work so please let me pass on a plug for another hard-working crew of civic-minded ladies. The Junior Woman's Club will be holding their Benefit Bridge at the Center on Thursday, November 29. It's just 50 cents per player and they have a host of prizes. If you play Marguerite's the other night but the dish that stole the show was afternoon out . . . get up a table and make your reservations now at Ann Nevil (Mrs. Lem) or of Marguerite's sister and Connie Averitt (Mrs. Hal). The husband being in town from girls have one pet project, the Connecticut.

MISS JULIE BELL

Julie Bell honored on seventeenth birthday

The Forest Heights Country Club was the scene of a semi-formal dance Monday evening, November 19th, for the birthday of Julie, on her 17th birthday.

Huge letters, silver sprinkled, spelled out the "Happy Birthday" greeting over the entrance to the dance floor. From the central candelabrum varicolored streamers formed a canopy for the brilliant scenes as the guests in semi-formal attire danced to records with Ray Classens in charge.

Autumn colors predominated throughout. There were corn stalks, pine boughs and dried arrangements on refreshment tables. The three tiered birthday cake topped with 17 lighted candles and other cakes and punch were served.

Bill Bryant from the radio station called the dances.

Julie was lovely in a semi-formal evening dress, with black lace bodice and white satin bell skirt. 100 guests attended the party.

Woman's Club hear Dr. Averitt on Internat'l Relations

The Statesboro Woman's Club met at the Recreation Center on November 15 at 3:30 p.m. The highlight of the meeting was a talk on International Relations by Dr. Jack Averitt who was introduced by Mrs. W. G. Nevil who is chairman of the International Affairs Committee.

When we like people, we understand them. International Relations means getting to know people as they are. The ultimate aim of a country is to harmonize ed to live in peace. However, we cannot live as an isolated country anymore. Our national barrier is gone. The Cuban incident shows that, but nothing has come to bridge the gap of differing people.

One question is, "What can we do to use the cost and physical destruction of war toward a lasting peace?" We must think beyond our shores. Dr. Averitt got to know the English people better when he went there this summer. One true incident that happened during World War II, gave him a better insight to the people of England.

It was night on November 4, 1940. Because a clear sky was a bomber's dream, the people were alerted. Attack was inevitable. The people talked and looked to keep up their morale. Sirens sounded. Four men took their stations on top of the St. Michael's Cathedral in Coventry. This was not their first experience. Clear nights were always to be feared, and preparations were made for bombardment. These men knew that Coventry would be the bomber's target. The Cathedral which they were protecting reflected the history of the ages. Bombs hit the roof, buckling it. One man over the altar. The men, even in the face of death, did not flinch. The force of an enemy bomb destroyed in one night what it took men centuries to build. One of the men said the building was majestic even in destruction, but he knew it would be rebuilt. Next day, all the businesses went on as usual, as though he had witnessed the crucifixion, and just as with Christ, there must be a Resurrection. Plans to rebuild the church were made. One million dollars were lacking to rebuild as they wanted and it was thought some changes should be made to come within a certain price. However, they decided to build it as first planned—they could not stint on the Lord's House. The new church was modern. Its altar was crude, with a cross made of two of the charred, misshapen timbers taken from the old Cathedral. This was to represent what man in his fury could do. One of the plaques in the church, neighbors Dr. Johny Deal and the Bulloch County Hospital Staff during our recent bereavement.

CARD OF THANKS

The family of Dr. B. Gay wishes to express their sincere appreciation for all the acts of kindness and condolences offered by friends, neighbors, Dr. Johny Deal and the Bulloch County Hospital Staff during our recent bereavement.

The Future Nurses Club of Southeast Bulloch met on November 9, 1962 in Mrs. Moore's home. They discussed the Christmas Party and decided to have it as a joint occasion with the FTA. A very inspiring devotional was given by Faye Baker after which the group played password.

The student council representatives took a trip on Wednesday November 14, 1962 to visit the student Council meeting at Marvin Pittman. The representatives were: Frank Rozier, Niki Ansley, Low Ann Trappnell, Kathleen Hodges, Morgan Nesmith, Danny Clifton, Kathy Moore, Phillip Mitchell, Linda Gail Knight, Linda Clifton, and Maury Lee Hill.

Tuesday night, November 13, the Southeast Bulloch Girls triumphed to a victory over Effingham County by a margin of 31-28. Faye Baker led the way with 15 points, followed by Kaye Harville's 10. The boys lost by a score of 53-37. Claisy Fordham and Scotty Anderson each had 13 for the boys. Friday night on our home court the boys and girls won. The Southeast Bulloch

The new Men's Dormitory which is to be completed for use by September of 1963 is shown as construction progress continues. Dr. Henderson said that the construction work for the new housing facilities is just about on schedule.

Construction work continues on the new women's dormitory which is located between Marvin Pittman School and Vezey Hall. This structure and the new men's dorm will have approximately seventy-five rooms each and will house a maximum capacity of 450 students.

Work on 2 GSC dormitories is progressing almost on schedule

Post Office window open 8-6, Dec. 15

The progress in construction of the new dormitories for Georgia Southern is reported to be almost on schedule, according to Dr. Zach S. Henderson, President of GSC.

The contract to begin the construction of the new housing facilities was awarded to River E. Worrell Construction Company of Savannah on March 16, 1962. The new dorms are scheduled to be ready for student occupancy by September of 1963. Dr. Henderson stated that if construction is kept at the same pace, the facilities would be ready by then.

The two seventy-five room structures will house approximately 450 students at maximum capacity when completed. The location of the new women's residence hall will be between the Marvin Pittman School and Vezey Hall. The new men's dormitory is located behind Sanford and Cone Halls on the hill facing the baseball field. Each building is approximately 300 feet in length.

An area-wide carpenter's strike in early September brought progress of the two dormitories to a standstill for a period of about three weeks. Before the strike, construction work on the buildings was on schedule, according to Dr. Henderson.

Others plans for campus construction in the near future include new tennis courts which are to be constructed in the area next to the W. S. Hanner Building sometime during winter quarter. Dr. Henderson stated that these courts will be refined and it is hoped that they will be ready for use during spring quarter.

Try to bring your parcels to the post office windows before 10:00 A.M. or between 1:30 and 3:30 P.M. to avoid the noon hour rush.

Secure free labels at the Post Office which read, "ALL FOR LOCAL DELIVERY" and "ALL FOR OUT-OF-TOWN DELIVERY." Then, separate your Christmas cards into two bundles, thus expediting handling and delivering of them at the Post Office.

Beginning December 15, service windows at the Post Office will be open from 8 A.M. to 6 P.M.

Try to get all of your Christmas presents mailed before December 10th. Christmas cards for out of town delivery should be sent before December 15th, and those for local addresses should be mailed at least a week before Christmas. The Postmaster reminds us that we can make it a merrier Christmas for everybody if we will "Mail Early - and Often!"

'Open House' at E. A. Smith Grain Co.

Mr. Horace Z. Smith and his sons, Bobby Smith and Zach Smith, announced this week that on Friday and Saturday, December 7 and 8, they will hold an "Open House" to visitors to the new building now occupied by the Smith Supply Company, a division of the E. A. Smith Grain Company on East Vine Street.

The E. A. Smith Grain Company was established in 1920 by the late Mr. E. A. Smith and his son, Horace Z. Smith and the new building is on the site of the original business.

The Smith Supply Company handles a complete line of building materials, fencing, roofing, cement, lime, plaster, brick, paints, millwork, doors, plywood, grates and dampers, sewer pipe, drain tile, fuel lining, window glass, screen wire, sheetrock, and every item associated with builder's supplies.

The owners of the Smith Company issue a cordial invitation to the citizens of Bulloch County and neighboring areas to visit them during their two-day "Open House." There will be refreshments, free gifts and door prizes.

The hours will be 9 to 6 on Friday, and 9 to 12 on Saturday.

Miss Maude White and her husband, Mr. W. B. Parrish, have already been installed by Mr. Parrish. In addition, Mr. Parrish plans to put more to make new. At the Statesboro High School Class, in which he was asked to participate, there was over 50 people who attended.

It is still "sold" on these classes as a means of educating our people not only to the horrors of radioactive fallout, but to the reality that something can be done about it. As F.D.R. so ably said, "We have nothing to fear but fear itself." I think we could logically substitute ignorance for the last "fear" and be correct for our generation.

W. B. Parrish's farm gets complete soil and water plan

Complete soil and water conservation plans have recently been developed for the farms of W. B. Parrish in the Port Community. Mr. Parrish is making plans for complete utilization and treatment of every acre on his farm for maximum returns.

Complete soil and water conservation will be realized by construction of terraced fields, sodded waterways, sodded field borders, ponds, pasture planting, and tree planting. In fact, many of these practices have already been installed by Mr. Parrish. In addition, Mr. Parrish plans to put more to make new. At the Statesboro High School Class, in which he was asked to participate, there was over 50 people who attended.

SERVING BULLOCH COUNTY... A LAND RICH IN AGRICULTURE, INDUSTRIAL OPPORTUNITY AND PROGRESSIVE PEOPLE

STATESBORO, GEORGIA, MONDAY, DECEMBER 3, 1962

Ga. Southern Foundation seeks funds

Last weekend marked the beginning of the Georgia Southern College Foundation drive here in Bulloch County, according to Mr. Ike Minkovitz and Mr. Tiny Hill, co-chairmen. The purpose of this organization is primarily for the promotion of higher education at Georgia Southern, stated the chairman. "We recognize the fact that by reaching our goal set here in Bulloch County, that the other state districts established by the Foundation, will feel a greater incentive in reaching their own."

Georgia Southern College long has been recognized as the greatest industry Statesboro enjoys. Statistics show that approximately one million dollars worth of salaries go into Statesboro each year. In addition to the salaries, student expenditures within the Bulloch County area exceed $245,000 each year. "Socially, culturally, and economically," Statesboro - Bulloch County have enjoyed the college," said the chairman.

"By reaching our goal, a start will have been made toward resolving many of the problems facing GSC, maintaining top personnel, supporting a student finance program, and starting an effective building program."

"There are many things to be considered. We have recognized the foundation in order that donations, gifts, or contributions may be tax deductible. Our goal is to accomplish through an all out effort for which Bulloch Counties are noted." If anyone is interested in contributing to the Foundation, simply mail in a check or money order to Georgia Southern College Foundation, Inc., P. O. Box 363, Statesboro, Georgia.
