The innocent suffer with the guilty

Accusations of operating speed traps are being hurled again at counties in Georgia through which U. S. Highway 301 passes.

State automobile associations get what they call "complaints" from their members to the effect that the members are being trapped for speeding by fee-hungry officers in certain counties, and forced to put up cash bonds the officers know will be forfeited. The automobile associations then put out "the word" and suggest that the tourist seeking the sunshine in Florida either avoid Georgia altogether or use some other through highway.

Bulloch county is not included in those counties so accused. But it is true that because our county includes U. S. 301 we feel the effect of the so-called speed traps operated in other counties.

We have been building up tourist good will for years, and our relations with the touring citizens have been excellent. But the recollection of scores of favorable impressions can be clouded by one county officer along our 301 who sets up a trap to catch tourists.

We believe that the race-track driver should be speed trapped. We believe in using any means at hand to stop the person who uses our highways as a speed test track endangering the lives and property of those who use the highways properly. And if automobile associations ignore the fact that many of their complaints come from these potential highway murderers, then they are doing their membership an injustice. And if they fail to admit that many of the bond forfeitures which they pay as part of their service to members' are for legitimate, run-of-the-mill speed limit violators then they are doing the communities through which our highway runs an injustice.

We are concerned about speed trap labels attached to some of our 301 neighbors. But we are concerned also about highway safety and endorse any method of reducing the terrific slaughter that continues on our highways.

Our neighbors on the Claxton Enterprise suggests that the biggest part of enforcing highway safety should be delegated to the state patrol. "County officers should not be allowed to make arrests on highways unless they can definitely prove recklessness and danger to other lives. Town policemen would be regulated accordingly. If a motorist is a menace, he should be arrested and punished, but he should have the benefit of a doubt—as the law also provides," writes the newspaper's editor.

Something must be done and done soon, or our tourist business will be in the same fix as our farming business.

They're satisfied

Students at Georgia Teachers College expressed complete satisfaction with the selection of Miss Kerstin Pihl as "Miss G.T.C." to reign over the college's beauty festival held as part of the Golden Anniversary celebration at the college.

The editors of The Georgian, student publication, interpreted this feeling as a boost in international relations among students at the college. Miss Pihl is at G.T.C. as a Rotary International exchange student from Stockholm, Sweden. She is sponsored by the Statesboro and Millen Rotary Clubs.

Miss Pihl has appeared before many groups in Bulloch County and our neighboring counties. She makes a fine impression and all who have met her and heard her talk have fallen under her charm.

It is a compliment to her that her fellow students applaud the honor conferred upon her.

Safety Good Turn

During March, April and May, the Boy Scouts of Bulloch County will join Boy Scouts over the nation in the promotion of traffic safety. Then in June, July and August they will promote outdoor safety. In September, October and November their safety emphasis will shift to home safety.

During National Boy Scout week, which was observed February 7-13, Scouts distributed safety literature to highlight their Safety Good Turn campaign.

This Safety Good Turn effort can be far reaching in its objective to help reduce death and injury and destruction of property on our highways.

It deserves the complete support of every adult and every teen-ager who holds and enjoys the privileges of a driver's license and who attaches a high value to living.

We commend these young people upon adopting this type of project for this year.

To eradicate screwworms

If you are a farmer whose livestock has been subject to the screwworm an opportunity is being offered by the State Department of agriculture to cooperate in a program to rid Georgia livestock growers of this killer.

All farmers are being urged by Commissioner of Agriculture Phil Campbell to report screwworm cases to their county agents immediately after cases of screwworms are discovered. In addition farmers are being asked to collect at least ten of the screwworms, place them in a small bottle of water and take them to the county agent's office for identification.

Commissioner Campbell states that farmer cooperation will be of great value to the Department of Agriculture in its effort to eradicate screwworms in the Southeast.

This Week's Meditation

By The Rev. L. E. Houston Jr.

IT'S THE MOTIVE THAT MOVES

We're a mile and a half from church, you know, and it rained today, so we can't go.

We'd go ten miles to a party or show, though the rains should fall and the winds blow.

But the church is different, we'd have you know.

So, when it rains, we can't go. But we always go to things we like, and we ride if we can, if we can't we hike. We're a mile and a half from church, you know, and a tire is flat, so we can't go.

But we'd fix it twice to make a visit, and if there's a ball game we wouldn't miss it.

We'd mend the tire if at all we could, and if we couldn't, we'd go afoot.

When we have pleasure in all the style, the church will have to wait awhile.

We're a mile and a half from church, you know and our friends are coming, so we can't go.

To disappoint our friends would seem unkind, but to neglect our church, we don't mind.

We want to please our friends on earth, and spend a day in feasting and mirth.

But sometimes, when we come near the end of our days, we'll go to church and mend our ways.

—George C. Degen

I have stopped begging people to come to church. My experience, I think, has been the

ON TWO OCCASIONS last week we were completely at peace with the world. We were devoid of ambition, of envy, of anger, of pride. We were simply at peace with all.

For an hour early on each of the two mornings last week when our community waked to find itself blanketed under a cover of white softness we sat at our window and looked upon a scene of complete loveliness.

Except for the few mocking birds which make our neighborhood their world there was absolute stillness. The magnolia tree stood there in majesty with its leaves crowned with a white coronet. The limbs on the dogwood trees stretched out under tiny white sheets, as if that were all the cover they needed before blooming.

Like the blooms on the Debentella camellia bush were pinker as they struggled among the snow-covered leaves. The honey locust trees, gaunt against the background of white, managed to accumulate a tiny layer of the snow on their limbs.

IT WAS A great day in the Georgia General Assembly on Thursday last week when pandemonium reigned in the House of Representatives. One representative cried. Others came to near blows, and bedlam broke out generally. It's a rare session of our Legislature when it doesn't break into a knock-down drag-out fracas. JOYCE KIRKLAND,
EDDIE HODGES
MARRIED FRIDAY

Miss Joyce Kirkland, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry A. Kirkland, formerly of Vidalia, became the bride of Eddie Hodges, son of Mr. and Mrs. Rex Hodges of Statesboro, Friday evening at 6:30 o'clock at the First Baptist Church. The Rev. O. Ted Page performed the ceremony in the presence of relatives and close friends of the family.

A tall white column filled with white snapdragons, white stock and carnations was the central altar arrangement against a background of fern trees interspersed with standing candles holding white burning candles.

Mrs. O. Ted Page, organist, presented a program of nuptial music prior to the ceremony and accompanied Miss Frances Smith, a student at Georgia Teachers College, as she sang "I Love You Truly" and "A Dawning" followed by "The Lord's Prayer" at the conclusion of the vows.

The groom's father served as best man. Ushers were Jappy Akins, Earl Edfield, Windel Marsh, Bennie Brant, and Gene Hodges, cousin of the groom.

The bride, a lovely blonde, wore a ballerina-length cream lace sheath dress with matching chiffon cummerbund and drape. Her hat and long gloves matched her dress. She carried a white orchid on a white ribbon.

Miss Virginia Kirkland, her sister's maid of honor and only attendant, wore a light blue chiffon dress with fitted bodice and bouffant skirt with chiffon drape. She carried a heart-shaped bouquet of pink carnations.

The mother of the bride chose for her daughter's wedding a figured taffeta with round neck-

BOB HOOK FETED ON FIFTH BIRTHDAY

Mrs. Frank Hook came up with some very good party ideas when she entertained for her son, Bob Hook, on his fifth birthday.

The boys were asked to wear blue jeans and the girls were to wear pedal pushers.

Mrs. Hook, assisted by Mrs. Charlie Joe Mathews, Mrs. Julian Hodges, Mrs. Hobson DuBoise and Mrs. Jake Smith, served chocolate cake and ice cream.

The birthday cake was a pineapple cake, though it was elstening white with five white candles. A fence around the cake kept the cowboy and Indians from roving off the range. The boys received cowboy watches, and the girls were given watches a bit daintier than those presented the boys.

There were forty-five of the younger set present. Mrs. Bob Brant assisted in games which were played in Mrs. Hook's back yard.

STATESBORO WOMAN'S CLUB FETES MEMBERS OF ALUMNI AND FACULTY

One of the outstanding social affairs given by the women of Statesboro who are members of the Senior Woman's Club, the Junior Women's Club and the garden clubs, was a tea at Lewis Hall, Friday afternoon, February 7, honoring the former teachers and Alumni of Georgia Teachers College.

The imposing facade of Lewis Hall on the G.T.C. campus featured an emblem of white and gold, the Golden Anniversary motif, which prevailed in wondrous beauty in the spacious lobby.

The guests who came in continuous groups between 4 and 5:30 p. m. were greeted by Mrs. W. A. Bowen and Mrs. Everett Williams who introduced the callers to the receiving line.

High on the list of business disposed of was the contribution of $25 to the Beta Sigma Phi International Endowment Fund, which in turn supports many organizations such as cancer research, polio foundation and the girls' town, U.S.A. The chapter of the Beta Sigma Phi, Mrs. F. W. Darby, president of the Council of Garden Clubs; Mrs. Zech Henderson, Mrs. Paul Carroll and Mrs. L. C. Glendon, president of the Faculty Dame Club.

The fabulous decor of gold and white was carried out in the flower arrangements and other appointments.

The tea table, covered with a white linen cloth, was cascading from a brunched silver candelabrum accented by candlelight.

Presiding at the elegant silver services at each end of the table were Mrs. Bruce Olliff, Mrs. Roger J. Holland Sr. Both had taught at the college. Silver trays and bon bon dishes held decorated cakes, chicken salad sandwiches, and nuts.

Mrs. E. L. Barnes kept the registration book, which was in itself a work of art, placed on a lectern with a raised gold section for the book. The decoration was a tall arrangement of yellow chrysanthemums with brown cattails and clusters of gold drapes in a footed brass container.

Members of the Senior and Junior Women's Clubs and members of the garden clubs were assisted by many of the college girls, under the direction of Dean Helen Duncan in serving the guests.

Five hundred women attended the reception. Mr. and Mrs. Lester E. Brannen Jr. entertained the Fortnight Club at a quail supper Thursday night at the Country Club. The table was centered with an arrangement of pink carnations in heart-shaped design encircled with greenery.

CHARLIE LOCKWOOD HONORED ON EIGHTH BIRTHDAY

Saturday afternoon, February 15, wasn't exactly a day to celebrate a birthday, but with some changes made Charlie Lockwood, son of Mr. and Mrs. Max Lockwood, and twenty-seven boys had a very comfortable and jolly good time in whooping it up on Charlie's eighth birthday.

The shack at the Recreation Center was far better equipped to face the cold than were the shacks at Valley Forge. After relay races, and the awarding of prizes for the winners, the call for refreshments was greatly appreciated. Hot dogs and drinks of their choice, followed by slices from the big white birthday cake with eight candles on top, plus the bubble gum and balloons which were given for favors, the boys really thought they had had it. Then came the newest accessory for any bike rider, play goggles, which probably saved the guests from snow blindness.

THE BULLOCH HERALD

OUR SOIL • OUR STRENGTH
By E. T. "RED" MULLIS
Soil Conservation Service

Terracing operations have begun in earnest with cooperators of the Ogeechee River Soil Conservation District in Bulloch County. Last year's heavy rains brought out a very great need for properly planned and applied water disposal systems on many of our farms. They also pointed out inadequacies of many existing systems which have been applied in the past and allowed to go down.

The Soil Conservation Service in cooperation with the Ogeechee River Soil Conservation District is striving to keep water disposal systems modern. This is keeping pace with modern methods of farming. Our parallel terracing systems in conjunction with sided W-type or natural waterways will do the job of taking off excess water without carrying away valuable topsoil and fertilizer. Mr. Hines Smith is installing a complete system of parallel terraces and waterways on his father's farm in the Nevils community. His system of over five miles of terraces protecting over seventy-five acres of good Norfolk and Tifton class soil has only three acres of short row W-type sodded waterways (with bahia grass) and two W-types and one V-type, receive the water from the terraces and conduct it safely to the natural streams below without damage to the land.

Mr. T. W. Sowell is installing a beautiful system of parallel terraces and waterways on his farm about five miles east of Statesboro just north of U. S. 80. He is protecting about sixty acres of Norfolk and Tifton class soil and three soils with five miles of terraces and eight W-type waterways (with bahia grass to soil with). He will have six short row areas with all this terracing.

These two cooperators are really doing a fine job. They are building their waterways with motor grader that can do the job in one operation. V. E. Cressy is the contractor with C. O. Bohler the operator.

Farm Bureau

More profits from fewer acres is problem facing farmers today

More profits from fewer acres is a problem facing most farmers today. Continued emphasis is being placed on controlled production of several crops.

Proper use of fertilizer and lime can play an important role in maintaining or increasing profits in a controlled crop economy. Acres of crops can be reduced, but by improved fertilizer practices, the unit cost of production can be decreased and net profits increased.

To illustrate this point, assume a farmer needed 1,000 bushels of corn to feed his livestock or to sell. If his average production was 26 bushels per acre, it would require 38.5 acres to grow the 1,000 bushels and very little or no profit would be obtained.

But if adequate mixed fertilizer and lime and other good cultural practices were used and he applied 40 pounds of actual nitrogen per acre, he could increase his own yield to 54 bushels per acre. Then, it would require only 18.5 acres to produce the 1,000 bushels of corn, and he would have 20 acres more available for other crops.

Effort made to wipe out screwworms being farmers this week fully in an intense effort to wipe out the pest.

WINTER'S ALMOST OVER...

...and most of us will soon forget our heating troubles—and high costs—until next year. But there's another winter coming—coming every year. This is a good time to think about heating your home—now on with electricity. Thousands are. They're happy about it.

WE HAVE FACTS that prove electric heat for your home will cost less, at least no more, than old fashioned methods. Insulation should cost no more, probably less, than a conventional central heating system—including modern insulation which cuts operating cost no matter what fuel you choose.

ELECTRIC HEAT IS CLEAN! It's trouble free. It can be thermostatically controlled, room by room. Once installed, you forget it, even when away from home. You owe it to yourself to ask us about the economy of heating your home—new or old—with electricity.

YOU CAN HAVE a truly modern electric heating system in your home next winter, if you start planning now. Ask us for the facts on equipment, installation, insulation. They're available, without obligation, to our members. Another reason why we say...

C. of C. to see film on wage and hour law

A full discussion on the wage effects of wage and hour legislation on small business, followed by a film "Crossroads: Main Street and the Minimum Wage," will be the program for the regular meeting of the Statesboro and Bulloch County Chamber of Commerce at Mrs. Bryan's Kitchen, Tuesday, March 4.

The film explains how extension of the federal wage-hour law to retail, service and other businesses could weaken the competitive position of small business, bring new price increases and cause layoffs.

The film also highlights proposals of the major extension bills awaiting action by the present Congress. It has been pointed out to local chamber officials that the retail and service industries are the major targets of proposals to extend the wage-hour law. Jimmy Redding, president of the Chamber of Commerce stated that small businesses would suffer most if the law were extended. Mr. Redding said that every businessman in Statesboro and Bulloch County should see this film.

The question to be discussed at the March meeting of the Chamber is this: Should the Federal Wage and Hour Law which now requires employees in interstate commerce be paid a minimum wage of $1 an hour and time-and-a-half after 40 hours a week, be made applicable also to local businesses which heretofore have been specifically exempted from the law's coverage?

City gets check from Ga. Power for $9,771.54

A check for $9,771.54 was delivered to the city of Statesboro February 21, 1958 by W. Tom Martin, district manager of the Georgia Power Company.

This payment represents three per cent of the gross receipts in 1957 for the sale of electricity to the city of Statesboro. The three per cent tax is paid by the company in place of occupation and franchise taxes and is in addition to the company's property taxes. These taxes were paid to the city and city in December.

The Georgia Power Company's total tax bill for 1957 amounted to more than $24,900,000. Of this amount, more than $2,018,000 is being paid to the communities of Georgia under the Municipal Partnership Plan. This is an increase of more than $303,000 over 1956 and included for the first time payments to towns in the company's Valdosta division.

City, county, and state property taxes totaled $4,840,000 in 1957. The $24,900,000 total figure does not include the Georgia three per cent sales tax which the company pays on materials used in its operations.
