Welcome Regents

The citizens of Statesboro and Bulloch County welcome the members of the Board of Regents of the University System of Georgia when they meet here on Tuesday and Wednesday of next week.

The meeting here has special significance for us since our own Everett Williams is a member of the Board, and we want to help him make the other members happy while they are here.

This is their first meeting in Statesboro, the home of Georgia Teachers College which is a unit of the system. We want them to know that we are proud of it and appreciate what they have done for the college. We would like for them to know that the college has the complete and enthusiastic support of this entire section of Georgia and owe them much for the college's progress.

For Dr. Allen Bunce

Dr. Allen H. Bunce of Atlanta and the son of Mrs. J. A. Bunce Sr. and the late Mrs. Bunce, was selected on Wednesday, April 30, to receive the first Distinguished Service Award ever offered by the Medical Association of Georgia to one of its members.

Though having lived in Atlanta most of his life, Dr. Bunce still calls Bulloch County his home and we join his friends in Atlanta and all over Georgia in rejoicing with him over his award.

Dr. Bunce has made great contributions to the field of medicine and has played an important role in helping bring before the public a better understanding of medical problems.

A past president of the Georgia Medical Association, he is now honorary president of the Fulton County Medical Society.

We toss our hat high into the air for his achievements and the recognition given them by his fellow doctors.

Congratulations, we say to Dr. Bunce.

Play day?

Are we old fashioned?

We put the question to ourselves and came up with the answer—the older we become the older fashioned we become.

So this accounts for our reaction to "Play Day" as observed by the Statesboro High School on Friday of last week. It's a day set aside when all the boys and girls are given the day off and they go to the Recreation Center "to play."

Well back in 1923 when we were a senior in high school under Mr. R. M. Monte and Mr. Ralph Huckabee, and "Miss Lillie" Deal and "Miss Mary Lou" Carmichael we would have applauded "Play Day" and welcomed the opportunity to get out of school for a day.

Today, we're not so sure we applaud the idea.

Perhaps the high school boy driving the big Oldsmobile filled with his school mates who passed us like the proverbial bat out of hounds on South Zetzerow Ave. dampened the idea for us. His idea of "Play" and ours failed to coincide.

This Week's Meditation

By The Rev. L. E. Houston Jr.

CHILDREN ASK THE HARDEST QUESTIONS!

"Daddy, doesn't the Holy Ghost live in my stomach?" This she asked as she downed a bit of peanut butter and jelly sandwich. When I had finally gained my composure after such an onslaught on my intellect, I replied rather indignantly to my five-year-old daughter, "Why not Debbie?" And then came that which I feared most, "Then where does he live?" Prolonged silence filled the air as I grappled with doctrine and theology as I scrambled in my mind for the answer on page forty-two of my notes in a class on the Trinity.

Here impatience ended my frantic search. "Oh! you don't even know!"

NOW, BEFORE you enjoy a good laugh at the expense of the preacher, just tell me how to explain to a five-year-old where the Holy Ghost lives. It is easier to laugh at what they say than to answer what they ask.

Like all other parents, I had been warned about such questions. Yet, when the time arrived, I would not "give a reason for the hope within me."

The Apostle Paul wrote—"All things work together for good," and after dealing with my own humiliation, I began to work at this problem. Now, I am not going to answer the above question for you, but I will share with you the titles of three books, two of which I possess and the other I surely want.

MARGUERITE HARMON Bro has written, "When Children Ask." This is a life-saving volume for all parents who are befuddled and baffled by their children's queries. Here are some of the questions: "Why should I cooperate?" "What are the stars made of?" "So you think prayer works?" "Couldn't Davy Crockett have made the stars? How can you prove we live after we die? Who made the weather? Why should I divide up? Is God really?"

THE OTHER VOLUME is entitled "Before Children Ask." Both of these books can be ordered from the book store of your particular denomination or from The Methodist Publishing House, 201 8th Ave. South, Nashville 2, Tennessee.

The third book has been in your house for a long time. Maybe you have marked it as "dust collector's item," but it is rich in material for bothersome questions by children and adults. The Bible is still the best seller, but until it becomes the "best read" its riches will remain a mystery.

Many issues in life can be dodged, but children demand an answer to the hard questions which they ask.

Herman Talmadge Reports From Washington

Many farmers have urged me to offer a bold new national farm program to rescue this nation's agricultural economy and, after much study, I have formulated what I consider to be such a program.

It is my conclusion that our farm problems cannot be solved until the Federal Government is removed from the business of buying, storing and selling agricultural commodities and the responsibility of marketing farm products is returned to the farmer and private enterprise where it belongs. It is in that light that I propose to let the farmer plant what he wants to plant and sell his crops for the best prices he can get with the Federal Government paying him the difference between the prices he receives for commodities sold for domestic consumption and 100 per cent of parity.

MY PROPOSED farm program has five points which are as follows:

1. Eliminate all acreage controls and government loans.

2. Assign each farmer growing basic commodities a Domestic Production Quota to be expressed in terms of unit measurements (pounds, bushels, bales, etc.) which would be the same percentage of the national consumption of each commodity that the farmer's historic acreage base bears to the total national acreage base.

3. Guarantee and pay to each farmer a Sales Price Support of the difference between the price he receives for his domestic production quota and 100 per cent of parity.

4. Require each farmer to submit a bill of sale with his application for Sales Price Support payments.

5. Impose a maximum of $25,000 on the amount of Sales Price Support Payments which any individual farmer could receive.

Such a program would eliminate red tape, end the accumulation of surpluses, cost taxpayers less and once more let the farmer be the master of his own destiny. It would give consumers a price break and would serve to put both rural and manufactured farm products back on the world and competitive prices. Because it is geared to domestic production, it would amount to no more than giving the farmer the same protection which labor gets with the minimum wage and industry with the tariff.

ALTHOUGH IT is generally agreed that any new farm plan to be successful must be one which lets the farmer farm and guarantees him his proportionate share of the national income, there is no such consensus as to how these objectives should be achieved. Therefore, in announcing my ideas about what a new farm program ought to be, I am asking Georgia farmers to write me what they think about them.

I want to hear from every farmer in Georgia and hope each will drop me a line at the Senate Office Building in Washington. A tabulation of the replies I receive will determine whether I offer legislation to write the Talmadge Farm Plan into law.

VEGETABLES CAN DROWN

It is important to make sure there is good drainage in a garden plot. Cecil Blackwell, horticulturist, Agricultural Extension Service, Vegetable Plants will drown if allowed to stand too long in water, or in really wet soil. Too much moisture in a badly drained garden deprives the roots of air and nutrients needed for healthy development.

The Editor's Uneasy Chair

Max Lockwood, superintendent of the Statesboro Recreation Department, announced today that Memorial Park Swim Center will open at an earlier date this year than has been the custom in the past. The swimming pool is being made ready now and the opening date will be announced soon.

The Pavilion area is already open for use by all groups and individuals.

Mr. Lockwood stated that, in evaluating our summer program the Recreation Board feels that we should get the maximum use of all our facilities. Since the Swim Center is a $60,000 investment it is felt that the area would attract participants and spectators for a longer period than just the three short summer months. So the board has approved plans to extend the operation of the Swim Center from early May through the month of September of this year, making the swimming season five months.

The Swim Center is more than just a swimming pool. With the Pavilion it is a center for swimming, wading for the tiny tots, and area for skating, dancing, picnicking, tennis.

Admission prices will be the same as last year.

He stated that for the price of seven dollars for individual tickets and ten dollars for a group of ten, you can get an additional two months use of the Swim Center facilities.

We love to read "Letters to the Editor."

And the writer of this column adds his "Amen." And to those who have youngsters who would make the point that we have none, may we say, we can observe objectively and we've said our piece and our columns are open for you to speak yours. Letters are welcome, but keep them of reasonable length and sign them. Unsigned letters will be discarded. GROW UP, quit being a cry-baby; get out of your dream world; develop a backbone, not a wishbone; and start acting like a man or a lady.

"I'm a parent. I'm tired of nursing, protecting, helping, appealing, begging, excusing, tolerating, denying myself needed comfort for your every whim and fancy, just because your selfish ego instead of common sense dominates your personality, and thinking and re-questing."

Gen Shapley has directed this article be placed on the bulletin boards of all Marine Corps Reserve units.

This article also expresses my feelings on the subject. If that makes me a square, I'll gladly be first in the square line.

Spotlight on Statesboro B.P.W. Career Women

The career of Mamie Lou Bondurant has been three-pronged—business, public life and home life.

For thirteen years she was associated with Howard Lumber Company of Statesboro, as bookkeeper and secretary.

Mrs. Bondurant has been active in public life, serving her town and community unselfishly. For the three years 1954-56 she was president of the Woman's Club. She is Past Matron of the Order of the Eastern Star. In addition to her business activities, which now include serving as agent for North America Accident Insurance Company, Mrs. Bondurant is a housewife, mother and, happily, the grandmother of five. She is married to R. S. Bondurant, and lives at 15 Woodrow Avenue.

Becoming re-affiliated with the Statesboro Business and Professional Women's Club, in the past few years, Mrs. Bondurant has actively worked as co-chairman of Finance, to provide for necessary operating expende and club projects, and paid representation at state and national meetings.

On Thursday, April 24, the Evergreen Garden Club met with Mrs. William Z. Brown at her home on East Oliff Street with Mrs. Edna Rushing as co-hostess. Dutch iris and axaleas were used in the arrangements of the living room. Lime sherbet and ginger ale, sandwiches, and cookies were served.

The new officers for the club year were installed at this meeting. They are: Mrs. William Z. Brown, president; Mrs. Horace Forshee, vice president; Mrs. I. S. Anderson, secretary; Mrs. Edward Cone, corresponding secretary, and Mrs. I. S. Anderson, treasurer.

Dr. Jack Avery, guest speaker, used as his topic English Gardens. He showed slides of many famous gardens and their way into the waste basket and they'll lose the satisfaction of seeing them in print.

Hostesses were Mrs. R. L. Lanier and Mrs. Carlos Brunson. The refreshments consisted of delicious pound cake, topped with ice cream and Coca-Cola.

MISS LYNN COLLINS TO PRESENT PIANO RECITAL FRIDAY NIGHT

Mrs. Gilbert Cone will present Lynn Collins in a piano recital Friday night, May 9, at 8 o'clock at the Mattie Lively Elementary School cafeteria. The recital will also feature the pupils of Lynn Collins.

On Friday, Mrs. Virgil Donaldson, co-ordinator of Girl Scouts with Mrs. Benny Cone and Mrs. Lester Minkoff of Troop Seven, Girl Scouts, left Statesboro at 3:30 p. m. for the Boy Scout Camp, "Cliff Canyon," where they enjoyed the fine facilities there as they prepared for the night out and for Saturday with breakfast and dinner to be prepared.

The girls pitched the tents and were allowed freedom until they lay down to sleep, which they had brought with them. After supper they rustled around for wood for the camp fire. Singing and skits seemed more fun out doors. Since it was Mrs. Donaldson's birthday, Girl Scouts from another troop, Lucy Holloman, Martha Cannon, Becky Brannen and Carole Donaldson, brought out a lovely birthday cake and led in the singing. Mrs. Donaldson and they all joined in singing Happy Birthday.

Girls from Troop No. 7 were Sue Ellen Strange, Vicki Bryan, Barbara Deal, Elizabeth Everett, Janice Cone, Teresa Helmut, Mary Daniel, Florence Ann Robertson, Toy Yene Mikell, and Linda Findley.

Each year 144 boys from 12 counties participate in the Georgia 4-H Club Hybrid Corn Program sponsored by the Georgia Power Company in cooperation with the Agricultural Extension Service. Corn is important to Georgia. More acres are devoted to it than to any other crop, and it has the greatest dollar value.

Last year the state's corn yield, total and per acre, was the greatest in history. The 4-H Club members in the hybrid corn program grew three times as much corn per acre as the state's average. They have done this or better for 11 consecutive years.

S.E.B.H. Future Homemakers chapter gets top ranking in Georgia

By MRS. JOHN A. ROBERTSON

The Southeast Bulloch Future Homemakers chapter was one of those named as top ranking F.H.A. groups in Georgia, as the annual Honor Roll was announced at the thirtieth state convention in Atlanta, Saturday, April 26th. The honor roll chapters were announced by Mrs. J. M. Barber state advisor, after their records of achievement had been given diligent study by committees. The honor roll is one of the most coveted F.H.A. honors and the announcement of those chapters that have achieved it always elicits tremendous interest.

The local chapter, like the others that here merited this top distinction, has an outstanding record of genuine service to its community, school, and section of the state. Dr. Claude Purcell, state superintendent of schools, said this week that the Future Homemakers have made life in Georgia better by their widespread service throughout the state.

"It is a genuine honor to be named as an Honor Roll chapter," said the state's chief executive of education, "and I certainly congratulate those F.H.A. groups that have merited this award."

The naming of the Honor Roll chapters was one of the highlights of what many of the thousand delegates termed "the most interesting and exciting state convention we ever held."

Ann Cromley is Honor Roll chairman, Jeanette Cribbs is degree chairman, and Mrs. J. H. Hinton is advisor for the Southeast Bulloch chapter.

Recent guests of Mrs. J. W. Forbes were Mr. and Mrs. Remer Brown of Augusta, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Brown and son, and Bob Gear of Savannah, Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Whitaker, Mrs. Allie Bell and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. P. Mills Jr., Mrs. Hester Waters, the Rev. Howard Cox, Carlton Sims, Robert Smith, Gay Sowell, Randolph Stalup, Ann Strozzi, Gilbert Williams, James Williams and Wilbur Wilson.

The faculty members going on the Hampden tour were James E. McCall and Jerry Kiklicker. The parents are Mrs. J. H. Deal, Mrs. Cohen Lanier and W. K. Lanier. The group will return Saturday.

GARDEN CLUB MEETS
The Brooklet Garden Club met last Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. James E. McCall, with Mrs. J. H. Hinton co-hostess. The program was arranged by Mrs. J. H. Wyatt who presented Miss Carlyle Lanier in a reading. The following officers were installed for a new year: president, Mrs. W. W. Mann, vice president, Mrs. Fred Bradford, secretary, Mrs. C. S. Jones, treasurer, Miss Henrietta Hall. Beautiful flower arrangements were shown by Mrs. J. H. Wyatt, Mrs. C. S. Jones and Miss Glenis Lee. The next meeting will be held the afternoon of May Lee, Karen Marting Clyde Miller, Derman Morton, Betty Sue McCormick, Beverly McCormick, Doris Nuburn, Duncan Sanders, 20, in the social hall of the Methodist Church, and each member will bring a flower arrangement for an "Impromptu Flower Show." Mrs. J. H. Griffith is program chairman for the May meeting and the hostesses will be Mrs. W. E. Gear and Mrs. Bob Mikell.

Soil Conservation Service

Next week, May 11-18, 1958, has been designated as "Soil Stewardship Week." It is sponsored on a national level by the National Association of Soil Conservation Districts in cooperation with churches of all faiths.

Governor Marvin Griffin has proclaimed this week also as "Soil Stewardship Week" in Georgia. The State Association of Soil Conservation District Supervisors in cooperation with all agriculture agencies in Georgia is promoting activities designed to acquaint all our people with the need for better stewardship of our soil and water resources.

On a local level, the Ogeechee River Soil Conservation District has taken on the job of getting this important subject before the people in the six counties of this district. It is our hope that with the cooperation of Ministers, local agriculture workers, newspapers, rural stations, farmers, business men and others, that our people will come to realize their dependence on the soil and become better stewards of this God-given resource.

This year is a good time for farmers to roll up their shirt sleeves and lick the problem of low-yield pastures that give up the struggle each year because of inadequate nitrogen.

Two or three dollars return for one dollar spent for nitrogen is good business.

Rockwell mgr. speaks twice to local groups

Last Monday night S. W. Brown, general manager of the Rockwell Statesboro Corporation, spoke to Pi Omega Pi, honorary scholastic business fraternity at Georgia Teachers College.

In presenting the business students with an insight into business and business philosophy, Mr. Brown touched upon business and business relationships; developing a business philosophy; and asked the students to consider what they expected of business. He advised the group that Georgia's industrial growth in the past few years was due to a mutual understanding and a mutual need of community and business, and that it was up to them to continue to provide a good business climate for Georgia. In closing, Mr. Brown advised the fraternity members that college was only a training ground for an education in business, that human relations are important in business philosophy, and that they would only receive from industry what they gave to it.

On May 6, Mr. Brown spoke to the Statesboro Chamber of Commerce during its regular luncheon meeting at Mrs. Bryant's Kitchen.

In commenting on the present status of operations at the local plant, Mr. Brown emphasized that there was no danger of the local plant closing, but that the next few months would be difficult and that "belt tightening" would be in order. Payroll has been reduced according to Mr. Brown, some people are on less than a five-day week, and supervisors are again working on the line. "We feel however," said Mr. Brown, "that the present economic decline will enable us to build a stronger organization for the future, and we should note that efforts are presently being made to keep the recession from going any further." In making these remarks, Mr. Brown emphasized that Rockwell is a part of the community and that the community has a right to know and understand what is going on. In closing, Mr. Brown stated that the community, Statesboro, and Rockwell were going to come out better in the long run than would have resulted had conditions remained normal.

These three boys have been very active in Troop 340 during the past three years and have held many offices in the troop. They are members of the Order of the Arrow, National Boy Scout camping society.

These awards will make a total of sixteen Scouts in Troop 340 to attain the high rank of Eagle Scouts since the troop was organized.
