This Is The Story of Bulloch County

By BROOKS and LEODEL COLEMAN

EDITOR'S NOTE—This week we publish another installment of "The Story of Bulloch County" which we began on August 28, 1957. Due to pressures for space we have been unable to include the history for the past several weeks.

Chapter VII - Installment 7

The muster roll of Company D of the DeKalb Guards was included in a book entitled "From a Soldier's Story of His Regiment, the 61st Georgia," written by Private G. W. Nichols of Jesup, Georgia. In addition to the names of the company, the writer of the book makes a brief statement about many of the soldiers. The DeKalb Guards from Bulloch County served from September 9, 1861 to April 9, 1865. The roll, with the comment by Private Nichols, is as follows:

First Lieutenant S. H. Kennedy, promoted to captain after Seven Days' Battle, wounded at Manassas; promoted to lieutenant colonel in January, 1865; severely wounded at Deep Run on February 6, 1865. He was an excellent officer and brave soldier.

Second Lieutenant J. H. Wilkinson, resigned in 1862.

Third Lieutenant J. Hoyt DeLoach, discharged in 1862.

First Sergeant J. E. C. Tillman, transferred to Company K, elected third lieutenant.

Second Sergeant James Mincey, elected to lieutenant, wounded at Manassas, Gettysburg and Monocacy.

Fourth Sergeant J. L. B. Nevils, killed at Manassas. First Corporal E. J. Martin, wounded on Three Tops Mountain. A most excellent soldier.

Second Corporal William Lee, killed at Spotsylvania, courthouse.

Third Corporal W. A. Woods, wounded at Frederick City, Maryland.

Fourth Corporal William Holloway, faithful soldier, captured on the last retreat before the surrender.

J. W. Alderman, promoted to sergeant; missing at the Battle of Cedar Creek in 1864. John Anderson, killed at Gettysburg. J. R. Beasley, wounded at Gaines Mill; came home on furlough and never returned.

Thomas Boyet, was in nearly all the battles and was never wounded; surrendered at Appomattox, a faithful soldier. John Brannen, promoted to lieutenant; killed at Manassas.

W. H. Bland, captured at hospital in Frederick City, Maryland, in 1862, but was exchanged; was captured again at Morton's Ford in 1864; paroled March 7, 1865. Isaac Barrow, killed at Fredericksburg in 1862. B. F. Bird, died in a hospital at Staunton, Virginia in 1862. Adam Bird, detailed to a government bakery. Frank Butts, killed at Manassas in 1862. Banks died at Brunswick or Bethesda in 1862 (Note: The writer of the book must not have known the first name of this soldier Banks, since it is not given in a book).

J. A. J. Bruce, promoted to sergeant in 1861; killed at North Anna. Timothy Connell, missing in 1863. W. H. Collins, faithful soldier. Ziba J. Collins, transferred to Company K and killed at Monocacy, Maryland, July 9, 1864. G. A. Collins missing and supposed to have been killed at the Battle of Manassas. M. V. Collins, enlisted at the age of 16, and was the company's pet. He was in most of the battles. He was sick and got a furlough just before the war closed. Drew Chenut, detailed for a drummer and was transferred. J. J. Collins, wounded at Gaines Mill.

Farm and Family Features
Dependable supply of fresh pure water is a must for farming
By ROY POWELL, County Agent

BULWARK OF HAPPY FAMILIES
Miss Audrey Morgan, family life specialist, Agricultural Extension Service, says, happy, well-adjusted families are important for the sake of the groups and individuals. In addition, such inner-strength is a bulwark against crises and emergencies that strike at families from time to time.

PROFIT OR LOSS
The difference between profit and loss in an agricultural venture often is determined by insects, points out Dr. C. B. Jordan, entomologist, Agricultural Extension Service. Insects cost the people of Georgia an estimated $100,000,000 annually. The boll weevil alone has caused damage to cotton in excess of $50,000,000 during a single year.

Types of Pumps
The heart of a water system is the pump and its power unit. A shallow well pump may be used in wells which the water depth never exceeds 22 feet. However, if the water is likely to exceed 22 feet in depth a deep well pump must be installed.

Disadvantages—(1) most jet pumps must be repaired if prime is lost; (2) delivery will fall off rapidly with an increase in pressure or suction lift; (3) the jet unit may be subject to damage by abrasive materials and clogging.

Disadvantages—(1) capable of delivering large quantities of water against high heads; (2) has a relative high efficiency over a wide range of discharge heads; (3) operation is quiet. Disadvantages—(1) being located inside the casing and under water, the pump, after a period of time may be subject to a maintenance problem; (2) the well casing must be large enough to accommodate the pumping unit.

SIZE OF PUMPS
The ideal pump needed is determined by the recovery rate of the well and your daily water requirements. A pump with greater capacity than the well should never be installed. Either use a smaller pump or enlarge the well.

For profitable side-dressing
Use liquid ARCADIAN FERAN
Cotton grows profits when you side-dress with ARCADIAN FERAN Nitrogen Solution. To get plenty of big bolls that make a good yield, cotton needs extra nitrogen to supplement its natural fertility. The fast, easy way to apply this nitrogen is side-dressing with ARCADIAN FERAN, the ammonium nitrate solution.

THE EGGS WE EAT
For many years it was estimated that less than half of the eggs consumed in Georgia were produced in the state, according to Arthur Cannon, poultryman, Agricultural Extension Service. The condition is rapidly changing. Georgia poultrymen now are producing about 50 per cent of the eggs consumed in Georgia.

Learning the language of the atom
A STRANGE, NEW LANGUAGE is emerging as the uses of atomic energy in industry and research are pressed forward. These words and phrases have become familiar and meaningful to 35 Georgia Power engineers who are enrolled in a nuclear reactor engineering course. This is the first course of its kind ever offered employees by an electric company.

These engineers are also gaining knowledge through the company's participation in the construction of the developmental Enrico Fermi Atomic Power Plant near Monroe, Michigan. Atomic fuel someday will play an important part in producing electric power. We want to bring its benefits to you as soon as possible. That's why Georgia Power engineers even now are learning the language of the atom—the language of tomorrow.

A fresher car
Thunderbird-styled to stay in style
Inside or out, the 58 Ford has the distinctive Thunderbird touch. Power-Flow hood, sculptured rear deck, smooth, flowing lines... these are just a few of the features of the future that Ford has now. And Ford's Luxury Lounge interiors rival those in the most expensive cars.

A fairer price
Lowest of the low-price three
Sure, Ford offers the lowest-priced 2-door, 4-door, convertible and wagon of the low-price three. But look what this low price buys! Magic-Circle steering, easy as pointing... a built-in-luggage body... plus a ride that compares with cars costing hundreds of dollars more.
