Political Statement

Subject to the rules of the State Democratic Executive Committee, and the First District Democratic Executive Committee, I hereby announce my candidacy for re-nomination for the position of representative from the First District of Georgia in the 86th Congress in the Democratic primary to be held on September 10, 1958.

It has been a high privilege to serve the First District for the past twelve years and during that time I have sought at all times to achieve a posture in the Congress of the United States which would enable me to make the voices of those I represent as effective as possible in Washington. I am now one of the senior members of the House of Representatives and am in a position to accomplish any reasonable undertaking. Should you see fit to return me for another term of service, I shall dedicate my efforts to the best interests of those I represent. I respectfully solicit the endorsement of the people of the First District.

Sincerely,
PRINCE H. PRESTON

Editorials

This thing 'Elan'

On this week's editorial page we write of the tragic situation at Summerville regarding the opening of their new $200,000 Recreation Center.

To us this seems an indication of the tendency these days to think that money alone is the answer to all our problems. It is indeed true that money does provide quick action, particularly where community development is concerned.

But here is a case of plenty of money, yet there's something lacking. The problem of providing Summerville with a recreation center is a long way from being solved.

Money alone cannot give what we want and need as individuals or as a community. There must be something else.

People who visit Statesboro tell us we have "community spirit." An editorial writer for the Atlanta Constitution recently calls the "something else" possessed by some communities—"elan." Webster defines "elan" as "eagerness for action; dash."

The Constitution writer says: "The wonderful thing about elan is that it benefits not only the community at large but surcharges as well the citizens who open their circuits, so to speak, to the electric, invisible force that brings new life and vigor to both the community and the individual."

There is something exciting about the growth of our community. It excites our imagination. It challenges our citizens, our leaders and the challenge is translated into action.

Statesboro has this "elan." A city administration with a feel for progress, working with a citizenship devoted to the community in which it lives, gives body to this spirit forming pride and eagerness for action.

Yes, money is important. But money alone is not the answer. We here in Statesboro and Bulloch County have placed our values on a proper place which has developed a spirit which supplies the dynamics of progress. We must keep it so.

Jubilee Dollar Days

This is a special week in Statesboro and Bulloch County.

Many of the merchants and businesses of Statesboro are joining hands in the promotion of a community-wide "Jubilee Dollar Days" event to continue through Saturday, August 23.

It got underway on Monday of this week with citizens invited to play "Scramble" during the first three days of this week, in which cash prizes go to the winners. During the next three days the participating merchants are offering opportunities for savings for shoppers in our area.

The idea is to stimulate additional trade in Statesboro by the people in this section, with emphasis on trading at home.

This makes good sense to us. Money paid to citizens by local merchants, businesses, industries, should be spent with other local merchants and businesses. These in turn help support our churches, our schools—all our community activities designed to keep Statesboro and Bulloch County on the march.

You save money by buying from your local merchant. You save wear and tear on your automobile and your disposition by doing your shopping at home.

Make it a point to visit your home merchant during these Jubilee Dollar Days.

A good practice

He gives his first bale of cotton to the Lord. That's the practice of J. W. Robinson, Burke County cotton farmer.

Each year upon selling his first bale of cotton Mr. Robinson gives the proceeds to his Lord, through his church. He has been a member of the Sardis Methodist Church for sixty-one years. He began giving the Lord his first bale of cotton twenty years ago.

"I feel that the Lord is responsible for all that I have acquired in the way of worldly possession. This is one way in which I can express my gratitude for His continued help," says Mr. Robinson.

He gives credit to God for allowing him to begin with little or nothing and prosper until he now farms 1,000 acres of land near Sardis.

More of us need to take up Mr. Robinson's practice.

A tragic situation

It's a tragic situation. Plans for opening a new $200,000 recreation center at Summerville, Georgia, are being held up until the City Council can furnish funds for hiring a director and financing the center.

Summerville approved a $200,000 bond issue on October 1, 1957. Approximately $102,000 went into the main recreation building and $44,000 went into a swimming pool.

The plans call for facilities for both white and Negro citizens.

Perhaps this is an example of inadequate planning. We don't know.

But under the recently approved Georgia Recreation Commission, set up by the Georgia Legislature, planning for recreation centers now can be made and such situations as has developed at Summerville can be avoided.

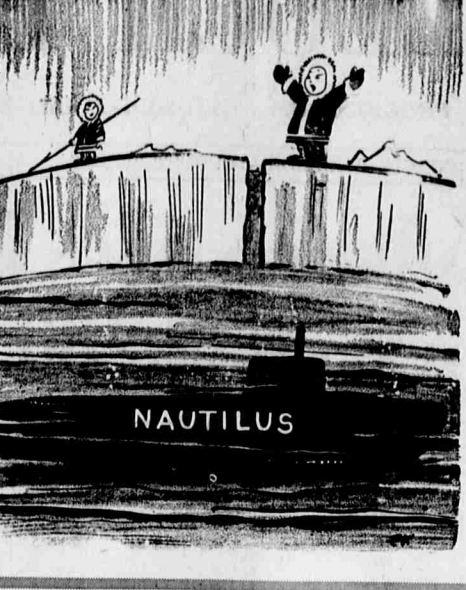

Six mistakes

More than 2,000 years ago Cicero listed the six mistakes of man which are still good today, to wit:

1. The delusion that individual advancement is made by crushing others.
2. The tendency to worry about things that cannot be changed or corrected.
3. Insisting that a thing is impossible because we cannot accomplish it.
4. Refusing to set aside trivial preferences.
5. Neglecting development and refinement of the mind and not acquiring the habit of reading and study.
6. Attempting to compel other persons to believe and live as we do.

"Biggest Fish I've Ever Seen!"

This Week's Meditation

By The Rev. L. E. Houston Jr.

YOUTH ACTIVITIES WEEK
One hundred and forty young people listening with rapt attention to Rev. Edward Caruth, Ed., one-time resident of Statesboro, was the Thursday night speaker at the Youth Activities Week sponsored by the First Methodist Church, Valdosta, Georgia. It was my privilege, along with the Caruth twins, to form the leadership team for this effort.

SOME SAY—"Young people are worse than they used to be." After this week, and after watching my own group from Sunday to Sunday, I know they are wrong. To be sure, young people have all the zip and zest, the vim and vigor that most adults lack. But, channeled in the proper direction, this enthusiasm can build Christian character and build a better world.

What is a Youth Activities Week? It is a week in which the church seeks to provide for its youth serious study, friendly fellowship, and recreation, coupled with the challenge to Christian commitment.

During the entire week we discussed phases of Love, Courtship and Marriage. One parent objected to his daughter being exposed to a frank discussion of this subject, but the overwhelming majority felt that it was proper and desirable for this type of training to come under the guidance of the church. And why shouldn't it? Love, Courtship, and Marriage are tremendously important subjects for young men and women. Where could they learn the "facts of life" to better advantage than through Christian leadership?

IN THE GROUP of older youth we discussed such topics as "How Do You Know It's Love?" "What is the Meaning of Engagement?" "Who's Boss?" and "Family Finance." In particular, we talked about the measure of true love, the couple's attitude toward money, friends, children, religion, etc. Of course, we never exhausted any of these subjects, but we at least opened them up for consideration.

AS I LEAVE today for Statesboro, I have gained several new convictions: One: Our youth day are the "best yet." Two: It is the priceless privilege of the church to guide youth in choosing life's partner. Three: A Youth Activities Week is worth the effort.

Herman Talmadge
Reports From Washington

EXTRAVAGANT CLAIMS of accomplishment for the Second Session of the 85th Congress should be taken with a grain of political salt.

This being a Congressional Election year, the Session was dedicated to political bickering and maneuvering for partisan advantage. Proposals, bills, speeches and votes were calculated for maximum impact upon the voters. It was the more expensive peace-time Congress in the nation's history and, while much worthwhile legislation was passed, an open-minded evaluation affords no conclusion but that the actions taken effected no permanent solutions for any of the country's pressing problems and, at best, only postponed the day when they must be faced realistically and resolved decisively.

OUR DEFENSE POSTURE was improved with the reorganization of the cumbersome Defense Department and the appropriation of additional millions for research and development and production of missiles. However, the Russians still are ahead of the United States, perhaps as much as three years, in the space weapons race and it remains to be seen whether enough has been done to assure overtaking and surpassing them in time.

Secretary of Agriculture Benson had his way and effort to write a bold, new national farm program to rescue the agricultural economy were thwarted. Between the Eisenhower Administration and Congress, programs of relief and assistance were proposed and initiated for virtually all segments of the economy except the farmers and the taxpayers.

WHAT STARTED out as a limited drive to cure the recess-

The Editor's Uneasy Chair

RECENTLY we wrote an editorial in which we urged a more active STOP sign on East Jones Avenue where Park Avenue crosses it. We said that East Jones Avenue is a through street from South Main Street. We were in error. It is a through street from South Zetterower. But the point we made in the editorial still stands—that traffic bowling along on East Jones Avenue, in both directions, needs more warning that they are approaching a STOP sign. We use Park Avenue regularly and we always worry about the traffic on East Jones Avenue, making us stop as we approach the crossing, for we have seen too many drivers run through the stop sign on East Jones Avenue. May be we're just over cautious and just don't trust the other driver.

PATRONS of the Clerk's office in the county courthouse may now work among the big record books with a new degree of comfort. The county commissioners have purchased and placed in the Clerk's office an important subject to be worked in the Clerk's office fan circulates "God's good free air." We commend the commissioners upon their consideration of those who work in that office—though a little belated.

THE OTHER DAY in far off Lebanon, New York, made a significant statement. He was remarking on the fact that in some areas where were occupied by the Marines there had appeared some signs which carried the following invitation, "Yanks, come home." His remark was "I don't know where they get all of this Yankee talk from. Most of the boys over here seem to be from Georgia."

Little did he know or understand that this has been true for a long, long time in the history of America. Georgia has always been represented, and well too, in every area of the development of this great nation of ours.

IT IS a source of deep concern to me to know and realize that there are so many of our young people and our elders, too, who know so very little about the tremendous role our state has played in the building of this nation. It is lightly given nor did it lightly accept the title, "Empire State of the South."

Since Oglethorpe landed in Georgia on the Bluffs of Yamacraw, Savannah, on the 12th of February in 1733 the people of this state have labored to build not just a greater Georgia but a stronger, freer United States of America. I am not to be listed as one of the more radical America Firsters nor could you call me an America Firster. I am an American.

THERE ARE those who laugh at our courts and our ways of law but only a few of them know that perhaps the greatest lawyer in our nation's history was admitted to the bar in Georgia. The one and only, the father of the United States concept of government, President Woodrow Wilson.

WE SAT in a church parlor on the right of the church and the room. There is the unit room we could look through the glass door of the lighted auditorium and see the guests as they were being seated. We were the mother and father of the groom, and the groom.

THE GROOM said, "Mamma, I want you to cry." "How silly," I thought. I had no intentions of crying. If there was any need for crying it should have been long since.

COUNTRY CLUB SCENE OF PARTY FOR MISS LANIER

Mrs. W. K. Jones and Mrs. C. E. Bohler of Brooklet were co-hostesses at a dinner party Wednesday evening 8 o'clock, August 6, at the Forest Heights Country Club, honoring Miss Madge Lanier, who has been winning from party to party prior to her wedding.

The linen covered table was centered with a beautiful arrangement of Easter lilies in classic white, with white place cards. The bride's place was exceptionally attractive with a bride doll as an accessory to the beautifully wrapped gifts, a plate in her china, and a dinner knife in her silver.

The guests were served filet mignon, tossed green salad, whipped potatoes in the jackets and lead tea.

Dinner guests were Miss Lanier, Mrs. James Lanier, Mrs. Joe Edwards, Miss Peggy Edwards, Mrs. J. T. Minick, Mrs. J. F. Spence, Mrs. F. C. Rozier, Mrs. Joe Ingram, all of Brooklet; Mrs. Leroy Shealy, and Mrs. Roy Reese, Statesboro; Mrs. John Reese, St. Simons; Mrs. W. D. Sands, Mrs. Tom Edwards, Mrs. N. A. Thagard of Claxton and Mrs. B. J. Calhoun of Bakley.

Mrs. Ernest Brannen, Editor and Miss Ginny Lee entertained for the popular bride-elect at their home in Brooklet.

An appetizer was served on the cool porch before the guests were directed to the dining room. The luncheon table covered with white net ruffles, cover over pasted pink linen. Exquisite arrangements of pink summer flowers centered the table and a similar arrangement was used on the buffet.

The bride's place was marked with a miniature white Bible encircled with white net ruffles. Other places were marked with small sprays of white lilies with wedding bells attached.

The gift to the bride was a knife in her silver pattern. For this party, the honoree wore a black and white summer cotton with matching accessories.

Luncheon guests were Miss Lanier, Mrs. James Lanier, Mrs. Joe Edwards, Miss Peggy Edwards, Mrs. J. R. Edwards, Mrs. Carl B. Lanier, Mrs. Franklin Lee and Miss Frances Lee.

TOWN AND COUNTRY AT CLAXTON SCENE OF PARTY FOR MISS LANIER
Mrs. W. D. Sands, Mrs. Carson Sands and Mrs. Tom Edwards Jr. were co-hostesses at a luncheon August 8 honoring Miss Madge Lanier of Brooklet, who will become the bride of Joe Edwards Jr. of Claxton.

The Plantation Room of the Town and Country Restaurant was the scene of the luncheon. The table was centered with a long low arrangement of pink gladioli and asters. Attached to the place cards were strings of pearls made in the shape of a horse shoe interwoven with lilies of the valley. The gift for the honoree was a dinner plate in her fine china.

A four-course luncheon was served. Those attending were Miss Lanier, honoree, Mrs. James Lanier, Mrs. Joe Edwards, Mrs. W. K. Jones, Mrs. C. E. Bohler, Mrs. F. C. Rozier, Mrs. E. O. Denmark Sr., Mrs. J. R. Edwards and Mrs. J. R. Edwards.

ENTRANCE OF LOVELY BRIDE
The bride, entering with her father, by whom she was given in marriage, wore an exquisite gown of rose point Chantilly lace fashioned with a close fitting bodice and a sweetheart neckline of scalloped lace, and long sleeves which ended in points over the hands. Her tremendously full skirt, alternated with lace and net ruffles embroidered by delicately embroidered sequins and pearls, flowed luxuriously into a full chapel train. Her three-tiered veil of silk illusion fell from a half-Juliet cap of matching lace and seed pearls. She carried a cascade bouquet.

The bride's sister, Miss Patricia Rocker and maid of honor was gown in a mint green ballerina sheath of Chantilly lace with a harem over of matching tulle. She wore a bandeau of matching green leaves accented by seed pearls.

COUNT FIVE...you save these ways and more buying Plymouth now at year's lowest prices!

1. YOU PAY LESS FOR YOUR NEW PLYMOUTH... BUT GET MORE FOR YOUR OLD CAR!

New Plymouth prices are at the year's lowest...and your Plymouth dealer needs used cars to sell. He'll trade high to get yours! Let him! He's offering top dollar! See now!

2. YOU POCKET A $400 SAVING ON RIDE ALONE!

Some competing cars charge up to $140 extra for their top ride...but in Plymouth you get top-luxury Toronado-Air Ride—same suspension as in $6000 cars—at not a penny extra! That cuts the "cost-per-mile" of driving Plymouth still more!

3. YOU'RE IMPORTANT DOLLARS AHEAD ON GAS SAVING!

Plymouth proved it can save you money on fuel by winning the Mobilgas Economy Run two years in a row! But gas saving isn't all! Along with its economy, Plymouth thrills you with terrific new GO!

4. YOU ENJOY THE EXTRA ECONOMIES THAT ONLY PROVED RUGGEDNESS BRINGS!

Maintenance costs are "way down" on Plymouth...the car that proved it ran like new after 58,000 punishing miles of coast-to-coast, cross-country driving in 58 days. At the end of the test, Plymouth's road veteran looked and acted like a factory-fresh car.

5. AND YOU'RE WAY AHEAD IN CASH VALUE AT TRADE-IN TIME!

Your new Plymouth, with its rangy, sweeping Silver Dart Styling, is so far ahead of the rest now that it will still look new and fresh when you trade it in. Bring a higher "trade-in" allowance! That cuts the "cost-per-year" of driving Plymouth still more!

See your Plymouth dealer today! You'll be amazed to learn how little it costs to own a brand-new '58 Plymouth... instead of worrying about the expense of tires and repairs and replacements on your present car!

'Miss Memorial Park' to be selected at Recreation Center Friday night at 8

The Miss Memorial Park Contest, an annual event in Statesboro, will climax the summer in the recreation program. Scheduled for 8 o'clock Friday night, August 22, the big event is expected to be a highlight of the summer activities.

Prizes are being presented to the winner from several of the Statesboro merchants and more than twenty contestants have signed up to vie for the coveted "Miss Memorial" crown.

The contest this year is being supervised by Mrs. Ralph Turner. Known to many of the Statesboro folks as "Sandy" Martin when she worked in the recreation program, "Sandy" is going all out to stage one of the most successful contests in the history of the annual events.

The judges will be well known Statesboro business leaders and the contest is scheduled to end not later than 10 p. m.

Following the crowning of the queen there will be a dance on the pavilion for all of the queen's court and friends. The Cycles will be present to present music for dancing and listening pleasure.

Another highlight of the show will be a special presentation of swimming and twirling by Miss Linda Bean of Statesboro. Well known to people in this area as an outstanding performer, Miss Bean is a senior at Florida State University where she is active in band and music activities.

Rep. Preston

R.F.D. policy

Rep. Prince H. Preston has called attention to postal policies which will allow an extension of rural delivery routes.

"Rural delivery routes may now be extended on the basis of benefiting two families per mile instead of the old requirement of three families," the First District Congressman said.

Mr. Preston, a staunch advocate of better rural mail service, urged rural citizens to obtain from their local postmasters the necessary forms to request an extension of their routes.

"These forms must be filled out and returned to the postmaster before any extension of these routes will be considered," he said.

"This new policy will greatly benefit the people of the First Congressional District, Georgia, and the nation as a whole," the Statesboro Congressman said.

The new policy is a result of discussions between officials of the Post Office Department, members of Congress and intensive studies made over a long period of time.

Postal officials said this policy reflects the improvements in the nation's highways, which make more people accessible to rural delivery services than before.
