Men of good will are being forgotten

What are we to do? The Supreme Court has under-cut all hope of our ever working out our racial problem in the light of our experiences and our desire that our children, both white and Negro, not be hurt. The court's recent action has, without a doubt, laid the foundation for wrecking our system of public education, to include the communities which have gone deeply into debt to provide fine facilities for all children whom we have neglected for decades. Yet, the court's decision was inevitable in the face of its 1954 decision.

From the beginning the court has completely ignored the feelings of all people in the states and communities which are bearing the brunt of their rulings. They simply cannot understand our relations with the Negro. They cannot understand that we were moving steadily toward helping the Negro attain status, and providing means for the determination of his very best interests. Many communities were succeeding in establishing communication between the races with a resulting growth and satisfying relationship. These goals were being set and the effort to attain them was the work of the men and women of good will in both races.

But now a terrific barricade is being thrown up before these people by our Supreme Court, which seems to be determined that a social revolution must come about through judicial tyranny and force of arms. Because of the court's decisions responsible men, in whom the people of our South have placed the business of running our state government, are, in turn, throwing up barricades against the court's rulings.

Last week the Supreme Court dispelled any hope of a breathing spell in which we might begin anew to heal the racial tensions that have built up by its original 1954 decision. It now says that there will be no such thing as orderly process of social evolution. It now arrogantly tells us it will must be obeyed.

Because the Federal Government will not permit our state governments to conduct our own affairs, in a manner designed to be most beneficial to all our people, we are approaching a most tragic era.

If the goal, set by the determination of the Supreme Court to completely integrate our schools, is attained, then their victory will be a hollow one indeed — one without dignity to both races. Nothing good can come from judicial edicts enforced against our will and our conscientious convictions, especially when done by force of arms.

People of good will of both races are being forgotten and forced into positions incompatible with our place in this great nation we call ours.

A man of strength

In one of the most convincing gubernatorial victories in the recent history of Georgia politics, Ernest Vandiver was swept into the office of governorship of the state in the September 10 primary.

Winning all but three of the state's 159 counties, the new governor will carry into the capitol convincing authority with which to implement his program for the people of Georgia.

And we're sure that Mr. Vandiver realizes that his work is cut out for him. There is increasing pressures surrounding the problem of education in Georgia. There is the frightening problem of satisfying the demands of the people for expanded services with the attending problem of financing them. The demand for paved roads and highways never diminishes. And then there are the thousands of little things which must plague the men in the highest position in our great state.

But he is a man of strength and character and with a cooperative Legislature and a vocal people he must be challenged by the high honor Georgians have conferred upon him.

May his term of office be blessed and his service to the people be dedicated.

His stature still grows

Thirty-five thousand, two hundred and sixty-sixty votes of the 60,056 citizens in the First District who voted in the congressional race on Wednesday, September 10, voted for Congressman Prince Preston. This is 10,476 more votes than were polled by Candidate Elliott Hagan, who received 24,790 votes.

This Week's Meditation

By The Rev. L. E. Houston Jr.

AS YOU WOULD HAVE THEM

I MISSED some bright, eager, young faces in my congregation on yesterday. I am sure that my fellow pastors experienced that same feeling, for all of us miss our older youth as they leave each September for nine-months of college training. And, as we like to see them leave, we delight to see them return at Christmas vacation, and then again for the summer rest.

These youth mark the leadership of our nation in the very near future. How heartening it is to talk with them and watch as they gain maturity in their thinking and in their actions.

WE WHO LIVE in Statesboro and Bulloch County have a blessing that other communities lack. While other towns and counties must share their young people with someone else, and longingly wait for a vacation period to have them home again, we have the privilege of having countless young people to live in our community for nine months whose homes range from the hills of Habersham to Tybee Lighthouse.

Library now has 35,098 books on its shelves

According to the annual report recently released by the Statesboro Regional Library, the library now has 35,098 books, 1,100 film strips, 800 recordings and a budget of $25,000. The library not only serves Statesboro and Bulloch County but also the neighboring county of Bryan. Total circulation of materials came to 129,000 during 1957-58.

The budget of $25,000 reveals some interesting facts—that 50 per cent was used for salaries and the rest was used for Bookmobile operation, supplies for processing and mending materials, lights, heat, telephone, insurance and only $75 was available for increasing shelving capacity for the 2,000 books added to the library collection during the year.

The outstanding accomplishment of the library during the year was the establishment of a branch library for Negroes at the Blitch Street Recreation Center. Quarters for the library were furnished by the Statesboro Recreation Department. The library opened for summer reading under the direction of Grace Smith, sixth grade teacher at William James School. The library has approximately 2,000 volumes. Work will continue during the coming year on this library. This project was made possible through a special library allotment from the State Department of Education, as a result of the Federal Aid to Libraries Bill.

The circulation desk in the library, in charge of Mrs. Nan Edith Jones, has a circulation of 40,000 each year. Satisfaction between the library patrons is the slipping of shelving of books, calling and sending cards to people who have forgotten to return their books on time, filing catalog cards of new books, and the library is filled each year so people may find the author, title or subject that they wish to locate. All staff members are available to help out if the phone rings too frequently or if numbers of people are asking for help at the same time.

The Editor's Uneasy Chair

EVERY TIME we pass the home of Walter Groover on College Boulevard at the corner of East Grady Street we are filled with nostalgia for our boyhood days. We remember sitting on our front porch in a high-back rocking chair with our bare feet high on those porch posts. What set us back in our memory are those seven big, high-back rockers which stand, unrocking, on Mr. Groover's front porch.

On Thursday morning of last week we discovered that on the front porch of the home of Mrs. Frank DeLoach on South Zetter Avenue at East Grady Street, there are three or four of these wonderful chairs. And if that were not enough, on the front porch of Mrs. Ethel Floyd on Broad Street, there were more of these wonderful chairs. There are still two on the front porch of our mother's home on South College.

According to David Lawrence, editor of United States News and World Report, we can now look to the Supreme Court as our Supreme School Board in all matters pertaining to education.

Perhaps it might be able to solve the school crisis in Chatham County by simply passing a law upping the taxes. This wouldn't be any different from the school measures they are attempting to enforce.

JESUS ONCE framed a Christian principle that we have named "The Golden Rule." It says something about doing unto others as you would have them do unto you. Surely, as we have the residents of other college communities will treat our own as their own, we will express many ways to the college students, our professional people for the privilege of being a "college town."

THE STATE Board of Education meets today in Atlanta to decide at what age a child should be allowed to enter school. My personal feeling doesn't have any bearing on the case but it seems to me that the way to solve this problem would be to ask the opinion of the people most qualified to bring about the recognition of the problem. Surely there must be a way to convince the Justice Department of the Federal Government that we really do not want to go to court to accept this act of the Supreme Court as the law of the land.

There may come a time in the near future when the Southern States will be compelled to resort to passive resistance to bring about the recognition of states rights by the Federal Government. For the first time in my life I feel a little of fear as I hear and write the words, "Federal Government."

THERE ARE some who believe that the rulings of the court have a sinister reason behind them. There are those who

DO YOU LONG to be a little different, to have a house a little different, in short to create something not exactly like everybody else's?

If so, you understand what Walter Gropius in his "Curse of Conformity" in the September 6 issue of the Saturday Evening Post has in mind.

Dr. Gropius admits that the world looks at America's material and civic standards as they have been raised to "undreamed-of heights." But he says that the world also fails to accept our way-of-life as the good way-of-life.

DR. GROPIUS discusses the curse of conformity from his angle of architecture to a great extent. He bemoans the fact that beautiful countrysides have been ruined by commercial exploitation. (I could not help thinking of our own town—the telephone and utility companies which take the tops out of beautiful trees, trees that take fifty to a hundred years to grow. The city chopping down beautiful trees to pave a road. Fire plugs being placed wherever the engineer decides, without regard for beauty. Oh, I know the arguments! But that's what Dr. Gropius means.

It began the first half of the season for dove hunting.

IT FLATTERS us when our traveling friends bring us copies of the newspapers they buy while touring our nation. Mr. and Mrs. Bob Winburn have just returned from an extended tour to the West Coast. Mr. Bob brought us issues of newspapers from forty-three towns and cities which they visited. We are fascinated by them, and they are providing us with many hours of delightful browsing.

NOW THAT the election is over, we expect all the candidates to send their "road" men out into all the counties and remove their pictures from the telephone poles, the fence posts, the pine trees, the stumps and barn walls. Well now, we're just wishing, for you and we know that they'll do no such thing. But they should be made to clean up their campaign mess, win, lose or draw.

South Magazine reports:
"S&H GREEN STAMPS are helping Dixie grow"

"During the past few years a major addition to business in the South has been the fast-growing trading stamp industry."
"Proof of the growing importance stamps play in bolstering the area's economy is found in the Southern operations of The Sperry and Hutchinson Company, distributors of the widely-known S&H Green Stamps."
"In 1957 alone, S&H purchased more than $12 million worth of merchandise from Southern manufacturers, providing many of the area's industries with increased outlets for their products and boosting Southern payrolls."
"Added to those figures is the $2,250,000 annual payroll written by S&H for its present and growing 866-person Southern personnel. The Company has invested hundreds of thousands of dollars in real estate to locate its modern redemption centers, indicating that the industry has become a permanent part of the area's business life."

MISS SUE ESTES WEARS MR. BURKE

Miss Mary Sue Estes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Estes and Mr. Eugene Burke, son of Mr. and Mrs. Marcus Burke of Garfield, Ga., were married Sunday afternoon, August 24, at the Seventh Day Adventist Church at Collegeville, Tenn.

The Rev. E. C. Banks performed the ceremony.

Mrs. J. W. Henson, organist, rendered a program of musical music and accompanied Miss Mary Rhodes and Chuck Petty who sang.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was attired in a chapel-length gown. The bodice of lace featured long pointed sleeves and self-covered buttons in the back. The full skirt was made with hand-clippled lace on tulle and the lace was accented with iridescent sequins and seed pearls over a full crystalline skirt. Her finger tip veil of illusion was attached to a coronet of seed pearls and sequins. Her cascade bouquet contained over two dozen pink and red roses.

James N. Estes, sister-in-law of the bride, was matron of honor. Mrs. Ronnie Nobel was bridesmaid. Both wore blue crystalline dresses and carried bouquets of pink and red roses on pink lace fans, cascaded with tube roses. Ruth Ann Rhodes, the flower girl, wore a long white ruffled net dress and carried a nosegay of pink roses and baby's breath.

Cliff Davis was best man and the groomsmen were Ralph White of Statesboro. The ushers were James Estes, brother of the bride, Mayo Crutcher, Richard and Lloyd Caudill.

Mrs. Estes, mother of the bride, was dressed in aqua lace with white accessories. Her corsage was of pink roses. Mrs. Burke, the groom's mother, wore a pink lace dress with navy accessories. Her corsage was of red roses.

Statesboro B. & P. W. Club resumes regular meetings for 1958-59

The two summer months of July and August were picnic months for the members of the Statesboro Business and Professional Women's Club.

The public affairs committee, Grace Waller, chairman, served the picnic supper in July, and the fellowship committee, Penny Allen, chairman, served the picnic supper in August. There was relaxation and fellowship at both picnics and very little business.

At the regular meeting on Monday evening, September 15, the club program got underway. The public affairs committee, Grace Waller, chairman, presented a chart of information, and conducted a five-minute "Night at the Movies" presentation. The first chart, dealing with useful tools for building spiritual, mental and physical strength, and a club and political calendar was presented. At the September meeting, a diagram of our Bulloch County and city government was presented.

By accelerating our efforts toward promoting and sustaining B. & P. W. aims "to promote interests of business and professional women" and "to create conditions that will assure to women and men the greatest opportunity for the development of whatever capacities they possess," the Statesboro B. & P. W. Club hopes not only to accomplish B. & P. W. aims, but also contribute to the potential resources of our nation.

In establishing a register of trained women who could be made available for full or part-time work in such fields as science, mathematics, education and teaching, the Statesboro B. & P. W. Club is confident of community interest and participation. Such a task is, of course, tremendous, but when the survey gets underway and is completed, we believe we will have information available which will be of value to business, industry, labor, government, etc.

A questionnaire is being prepared for the survey, and if each person will fill out the information desired, she will not only be doing the Statesboro Business and Professional Women's Club and our Federation a valuable service, but she will be contributing, perhaps, to the economic welfare and to the social and cultural status of the millions of women who work and those in the future who may assume the role of working woman.

Who, if not we, should be interested in making such a survey? With approximately 181,000 working women at the fingertips of our Federation, it CAN be done.

Today, there is an urgent need for womanpower, and the availability of that womanpower is the key to the future. Today we are told that the future of our country is in the hands of women.

MISS BRANNEN IS BRIDE OF MR. BLITCH

Beauty and Solemnity were blended in the candlelight ceremony performed Sunday afternoon, September 7, at the First Presbyterian Church in Statesboro as Miss Patricia Brannen became the bride of James Mathews Blitch.

The Rev. J. Robert Smith officiated before a large assemblage of society.

The decorations of the bridal area began at the huge sunburst arrangement of orchid chrysanthemums, white gladioli, centered with orchid pom-poms placed before the most sacred spot in the church, the Baptistry.

Descending from this focal point were the trim-shaped boxwood trees, three on each side, their clear cut beryls revealed in the light of burning tapers in the cathedral candelabra. The choir rail was lined with garlands of Smilax, gracefully draped and attached to bouquets of white carnations. The purity of white satin covered the prie dieu, caught at each side with carnations. Similar arrangements adorned the width of the church.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Lanier Brannen. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Smith Blitch, all of Statesboro.

Mrs. William Smith, organist, played traditional wedding music as the guests were entering the church and accompanied Dr. Jack Averitt as he sang "At Dawning." "O Love Thee" and "O Perfect Love," the concluding prayer.

BRIDE IS LOVELY IN PEARL EMBROIDERED GOWN

The bride, entering with her father, who gave her in marriage, wore a dress of pure white with pearl embroidered, hand-clippled lace over outlining the decollete and brief sleeves of the princess design. The chapel-trained skirt, aproned in lace was marked by wide diagonal bands meeting in a center back V. Her illusion veil of four hand-held tiers was caught to a Mary Queen of Scots cap of pearls with illusion. Her bouquet was fashioned of white orchids with long white velvet stems.

Miss Beverly Brannen, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. She wore a sheath dress of amethyst peat de soie with a back swept overskirt of harem fullness, and a delicate matching chapel of horse hair braid entwined with pearls and veiled in illusion. The bridesmaids, Misses Faye Bennett Brannen, sister of the bride, Jane Brannen, Sylvia Brunson, Ann McDougald, Willette Woodcock, all of Statesboro, and Miss Sue hCance of Hawkinsville, wore dresses identically like that worn by the bride.

The maid of honor and the bridesmaids carried arm bouquets of purple orchids with long stems wrapped in orchid velvet. Lanier Brannen and Belle Blitch, flower girls, dressed like Beauty and Solemnity were blended in the candlelight ceremony performed Sunday afternoon, September 7, at the First Presbyterian Church in Statesboro as Miss Patricia Brannen became the bride of James Mathews Blitch.

The Rev. J. Robert Smith officiated before a large assemblage of society.

The decorations of the bridal area began at the huge sunburst arrangement of orchid chrysanthemums, white gladioli, centered with orchid pom-poms placed before the most sacred spot in the church, the Baptistry.

Descending from this focal point were the trim-shaped boxwood trees, three on each side, their clear cut beryls revealed in the light of burning tapers in the cathedral candelabra. The choir rail was lined with garlands of Smilax, gracefully draped and attached to bouquets of white carnations. The purity of white satin covered the prie dieu, caught at each side with carnations. Similar arrangements adorned the width of the church.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Lanier Brannen. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Smith Blitch, all of Statesboro.

Mrs. William Smith, organist, played traditional wedding music as the guests were entering the church and accompanied Dr. Jack Averitt as he sang "At Dawning." "O Love Thee" and "O Perfect Love," the concluding prayer.

BRIDE IS LOVELY IN PEARL EMBROIDERED GOWN

The bride, entering with her father, who gave her in marriage, wore a dress of pure white with pearl embroidered, hand-clippled lace over outlining the decollete and brief sleeves of the princess design. The chapel-trained skirt, aproned in lace was marked by wide diagonal bands meeting in a center back V. Her illusion veil of four hand-held tiers was caught to a Mary Queen of Scots cap of pearls with illusion. Her bouquet was fashioned of white orchids with long white velvet stems.

Miss Beverly Brannen, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. She wore a sheath dress of amethyst peat de soie with a back swept overskirt of harem fullness, and a delicate matching chapel of horse hair braid entwined with pearls and veiled in illusion. The bridesmaids, Misses Faye Bennett Brannen, sister of the bride, Jane Brannen, Sylvia Brunson, Ann McDougald, Willette Woodcock, all of Statesboro, and Miss Sue hCance of Hawkinsville, wore dresses identically like that worn by the bride.

VITAMINS
The two vitamins most likely to be found short among farm people are A, found in dark green and deep yellow vegetables, and the citrus fruit vitamin C, according to the U.S.D.A. survey on food consumption. Farm folks have more than any families of all other nutrients.

The grade of an egg refers to its quality, says Extension consumer information specialists. During 1957, only 19 of Georgia's 159 counties had no commercial broiler production, Extension poultrymen report.

Extension agronomists point out that because Bahia grass seed are easily spread over a farm by cattle the grass may become a pest in cultivated fields.

In Georgia, 149 counties have organized fire protection units, according to Extension foresters. Georgia leads the South in pulpmaking production harvesting about 4 million cords annually, report Extension foresters.

STORAGE IN WOODEN BINS

The following fumigants and dosages are recommended for storage in wooden bins. In steel bins these dosages may be reduced 50 per cent for small grains and 20 per cent for corn and grain sorghum.

Fumigant No. 1 — 4 parts carbon tetrachloride plus 1 part carbon disulfide—dosage in gallons per 1,000 bushels—small grain, 3; sorghum, 8; shelled corn, 6.
Fumigant No. 2 — 1 part carbon tetrachloride plus 3 parts ethylene dichloride—dosage in gallons per 1,000 bushels—small grain, 6; sorghum, 10; shelled corn, 4.

Both these mixtures are available commercially. If the grain is to be used for seed, use fumigant No. 2. Some injury to germination may result when Fumigant No. 1 is used if moisture content of grain is over 12 per cent.

The door of the bin should be sealed after the fumigant is applied and marked so that no one will enter and be exposed accidentally to the vapor. After 72 hours open the bin and allow grain to aerate thoroughly.

TREATING SMALL AMOUNTS

Small quantities of grain, beans, or peas can be fumigated effectively in drums, barrels, or lard cans. In a 50-gallon drum or barrel use one-half pint or a one-third mixture of carbon tetrachloride — ethylene dichloride or use two tablespoons of this mixture in a 50-pound can. Sprinkle the appropriate amount of fumigant over the surface of the grain and cover with canvas or sacks. Allow 72 hours for fumigation and then aerate thoroughly.

County agent gives advice on handling stored grain

By ROY POWELL
County Agent

FUMIGATION OF STORED GRAIN

With corn harvesting time at hand it will pass along this information on the fumigation of stored grain from Extension Entomologist C. R. Jordan.

Grain in storage should be fumigated to kill various insect pests which destroy the grain or make it unfit for human consumption. Remember that the fumigation kills the insects present but does not protect grain against reinfection.

Therefore, grain should be inspected frequently to see when additional fumigations are necessary.

Storage bins must be airtight for effective and economical fumigation. Loosely constructed buildings can be made tight by lining with builders paper. A tarpaulin or other cover spread over surface of the grain after fumigation is applied will help.

To be fumigated properly, corn must be shucked and shelled. The top surface of the grain should be level and not closer than six inches to the ceiling.

Gordon Hensen, Lieut. Governor of Kiwanis Clubs speaks in Brooklet

By MRS. JOHN A. ROBERTSON

At the meeting of the Kiwanis Club, the night of September 5, at the community house, a delegation from the Savannah Kiwanis Club, headed by Gordon Hensen, Lieut. Governor of the Kiwanis Clubs, visited the meeting. Six or eight young men from the Groves High School Kiwanis Club, that are sponsored by the Savannah Kiwanis Club, also attended the meeting. These young men presented a program as to the meaning and activities of the Key Club for the benefit of twelve young high school boys from Southeast Bulloch High School, guests of the Brooklet Kiwanis Club.

Following up this meeting, on September 11, another meeting was held after a report from W. E. Gear, principal of Southeast Bulloch High School, stating that the boys in the school were very much interested in forming a Key Club. The members of the Brooklet Kiwanis Club voted to sponsor such a move, and Edward L. Wynn and W. E. Gear were reappointed as a committee to get the Key Club at Southeast Bulloch High School organized.

On September 11, four members of the Hampton, Ga. Kiwanis Club attended the Brooklet meeting. The Hampton Club has a project, one part of which was to visit the Brooklet club on an interclub visit to all Mrs. W. D. Lee and Miss Irene the 107 Kiwanis Clubs in Georgia.

During the reception a musical program was presented by the club on an interclub visit to all Mrs. W. D. Lee and Miss Irene the 107 Kiwanis Clubs in Georgia.

Stilson News

Stilson community still waging big battle against rattlesnakes

By MRS. W. H. MORRIS

Last Thursday afternoon, September 11, at about 4 o'clock, a rattlesnake caused quite a bit of excitement at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Morris.

Their little daughter, Linda, age 9, went to the front door and looked out. She called excitedly to her mother to come back. Linda was sitting in their living room and immediately went to the door and looked to see this large rattler crawling in the road toward their house.

I called to Mrs. Morris to get the rifle and upon bringing the rifle, we found that there was a shell stuck in the barrel and we could not get it to shoot. So they got the shot gun and killed the rattler, (who was still coming for some of them to pick up the snake. Mrs. Morris and I stood guard while the rattler was being taken to the field, where the rattler was engaged in pecking for some of them to pick up the snake. Last week I heard about another outstanding event with still another rattler. This was not in this community, but was about six or seven miles away. This lady (a very nice dear friend of mine who didn't want her name given) told me she had an encounter with a rattler. She said he was crawling near her back doorsteps and she ran and got a hoe and killed him. He had ten rattles and must have been six or six feet long. At this home the killing of rattlesnakes is common about the yard and fields.

Judy Nesmith wins 3rd place in Georgia 4-H bread contest

Judy Nesmith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wagon Nesmith of Nevis, was declared to be a winner in the sixteenth annual 4-H Club Congress achievement contests held in Atlanta last week. Miss Nesmith was third place winner in the competition for the state championship in yeast bread making. Judy was the youngest junior in the competition.

The young 4-H Club girl had already won first place in Bulloch County in the yeast bread-making contest, and first place in the Southeastern Regional meeting at Rock Eagle.

While in Atlanta Judy, together with the other 4-H Club entrants in the achievement contest, was entertained by the Georgia Bankers Association, the Atlanta Journal and the Atlanta Constitution who were hosts at the 4-H Club Junior Leadership Banquet at the Dinkler-Plaza Hotel, the Savannah Sugar Refinery, and the Georgia Chamber of Commerce.

Nineteen years ago Judy's mother, Mrs. Lavada Martin Nesmith was winner of second place in the state 4-H Club health contest. She recalls, "I missed first place by one point" and explained "I let myself get three pounds overweight just before the judging took place."

for four and a first down at the 16.

The rest of the game was a punting duel between Shore and Hagan. Shore punted six times for a fine 37.5 average and Hagan's average was 30.7 on the same number of kicks.

WITH FIVE MINUTES left in the game, Statesboro had a mild threat stopped by a clipping penalty. McLamery had run to the Savannah 34, but the penalty nullified the gain. Joey Hagan then made the longest run of the night from scrimmage, for 21 yards, but Statesboro held the ball on successive one yard gains. Savannah's center Gene Cushman, and guard Johnny Wells made the stop.

Mr. Savannah took over and after three plays failed, Shore's punt was nearly blocked, the ball going under a Statesboro defender's arm. The game ended a few plays later.

Statesboro had the long end of the statistics, leading in every offensive department, and holding the Blue Jackets to just one first down.

DEFENSIVE HEROES were a dime a dozen in this one. For Statesboro, Ben Hagan, Jerry Tidwell, Sammy Brannen, and Billy Seacrest stood out. Seacrest, son of the Georgia Teachers College athletic director, was the lightest man on the field at 135 pounds, but his tackling at a linebacker spot was outstanding.

For Savannah, end Don Hartley, tackle Mike Duggan, Cashman, tackle Dave Abernombie, guard Don Woelzton, and end Dickie Player, played a good defense.

Shearouse carried 14 times for 40 yards, and Joey Hagan gained 40 yards in 10 tries to lead Statesboro's ball-carriers. Ground-gaining honors for Savannah went to Shore, with 31 yards in 10 tries, and to Brown who ran for 30 yards in seven carries.

G.T.C. construction program includes five new buildings costing $2,247,000

The construction program at Georgia Teachers College currently includes two buildings now under construction, one recently approved, and one in "request status."

The total cost of these five buildings, including the completed warehouse, the three either under construction or approved, and the requested girls' dormitory is $2,247,000.

Buildings under construction include a Dining Hall-Student Center which has been named the "Frank I. Williams Building" after the late father of First District Regent F. Everett Williams. The other building now under construction is a combination classroom and science building.

Recently approved for construction to start within four or five months is an Arts Building, a 169 capacity girls' dormitory has been requested from an agency of the Federal Housing Authority. Final word is expected any time.

The Frank I. Williams Building will house a book store, snack bar, lounge, post office, offices for student organizations, and the dining hall.

The approximate cost of the new classroom building is $600,000, about the same as the Frank I. Williams Building.

The fitting will house the science, business education and home economics divisions. These three divisions now use classroom space in four different campus buildings.

Governor Griffin last week signed the budget request of the Board of Regents of the University System of Georgia for $450,000 with which to build a new Arts and Industrial Arts Building at G.T.C. Regent F. Everett Williams of Statesboro stated that it is anticipated that contracts for the new building would be let in four or five months.

The ultra-modern building will have 29,000 square feet.

Governor Griffin said, "This facility has been needed for a long time and when completed it will provide the teachers college at Statesboro with one of the finest industrial arts buildings in the South."

A warehouse was completed in June 1957 at a cost of $37,000. It houses under one roof all of the materials and equipment supplies for G.T.C.

One of the highlights of the year 1957-58 was the permission granted by the Board of Regents for us to offer a fifth year program. The enrollment in the graduate program during the summer of 1958 was 225 for the first session and 140 for second session. For some years graduate work will be offered during the regular term only on Saturday or in afternoon and evening classes. For the 1958-59 session graduate courses are being offered on Saturday.

Two new buildings are under construction at the college and one in "request status."

Dean Paul Carroll says extending welcome is a pleasant experience

Extending a welcome to students is always a pleasant experience. The familiar faces of those who have already established themselves as members of the college community are reminders of past achievements and happy associations, and the new faces give promise of stimulating associations and achievements yet to be attained.

Because of the complex problems of our time, we are this year perhaps a little more conscious than previously of the opportunities and the challenges of the college year ahead. The crowded campuses everywhere, including Georgia Teachers College, make it most mandatory for each student to justify his presence in college by his seriousness of purpose and his accomplishments.

Georgia Teachers College, your college, is in the most favorable position of its history to be of service. The expanded academic program, the professional competency of the faculty, the increased services in testing, guidance and counseling, the improved physical facilities, and the fine spirit and general excellence of the student body provide splendid conditions and environment for your intellectual, emotional, and spiritual growth.

What is done with the opportunity for growth is of course up to the individual student.

In surroundings different from those of the home and the home community, the character and the real ability of a person emerge. As you come to the campus for the first time or after the summer vacation, be assured that you are welcome and that the college is most eager to assist you in the furtherance of your educational objectives and in your personal development.

Mr. H. Preston entered the Bulloch County Hospital Monday night for surgery which he had been postponing until after the primary election.

The congressman underwent surgery Tuesday for a hernia, a condition which he has had for several months.

I expect it will take about two weeks of recuperating before I'll be back on active duty in my Statesboro office," he said.

Mr. Hubert Eugene McAllister will teach history with the rank of assistant professor of social science. He has been teaching history at Mercer University since 1956.

He received A.B. and M.A. degrees from the University of North Carolina in 1953 and 1955. Mr. McAllister spent six years in the Marine Corps and two years with the Federal Bureau of Investigation. He studied toward a doctorate at U.N.C. this summer.

Mr. John S. Martin Jr., a Georgia Teachers College graduate of 1950, will teach industrial arts in the Marvin Pittman Building. He will replace Mr. Jones Peltis who recently resigned following eight years of teaching at Martin Pittman Building.

Since 1951 Mr. Martin has been a favorite dance team on television for a long time.

Pres. Henderson extends Greetings

Since this issue of The Bulloch Herald will be distributed to each student who registers at Georgia Teachers College for the fall of 1958, I appreciate this opportunity of welcoming you to the college. Many of you are here for the first time and you will receive many welcomes from the students, from the churches, from the city, and from many individual citizens of the community.

Georgia Teachers College is fortunate to be located in a city and county as wonderful as Statesboro and Bulloch County. For a number of years we have thought of Bulloch County as one of the most progressive counties of the state and Statesboro as one of the leading communities. You will find the people of Statesboro friendly, interested in your work as students at the college and always willing to help us as we try to develop a good college. In the years that I have been at the college I have never known of a time when the community failed to help us with any of the major needs at the college.

All indications point to an enrollment of more than 1,000. If this is true it will be the first time in the history of the college that a regular term enrollment has been this large. We have had summer sessions with an enrollment of over 1,000.

We appreciate the fine spirit of the college students living in crowded conditions. At the present time each of the five dormitories will have a least some rooms with three students per room. In East Hall and Lewis Hall, two of our women's dormitories there will be three students in each room. The usual comment from a student when we talk to them about three in a room is "We would not want to deny anyone an opportunity of a college education and we would be happy to live three in a room."

The college authorities realize that it would be best to have only two to a room but it is our hope that within a year construction will begin on a new dormitory for women and we plan during the year to make application for additional federal funds for another dormitory for women and an additional one for men.

One of the highlights of the year 1957-58 was the permission granted by the Board of Regents for us to offer a fifth year program. The enrollment in the graduate program during the summer of 1958 was 225 for the first session and 140 for second session. For some years graduate work will be offered during the regular term only on Saturday or in afternoon and evening classes. For the 1958-59 session graduate courses are being offered on Saturday.

Two new buildings are under construction at the college and one in "request status."

Dean Paul Carroll says extending welcome is a pleasant experience

Extending a welcome to students is always a pleasant experience. The familiar faces of those who have already established themselves as members of the college community are reminders of past achievements and happy associations, and the new faces give promise of stimulating associations and achievements yet to be attained.

Because of the complex problems of our time, we are this year perhaps a little more conscious than previously of the opportunities and the challenges of the college year ahead. The crowded campuses everywhere, including Georgia Teachers College, make it most mandatory for each student to justify his presence in college by his seriousness of purpose and his accomplishments.

Georgia Teachers College, your college, is in the most favorable position of its history to be of service. The expanded academic program, the professional competency of the faculty, the increased services in testing, guidance and counseling, the improved physical facilities, and the fine spirit and general excellence of the student body provide splendid conditions and environment for your intellectual, emotional, and spiritual growth.

What is done with the opportunity for growth is of course up to the individual student.

In surroundings different from those of the home and the home community, the character and the real ability of a person emerge. As you come to the campus for the first time or after the summer vacation, be assured that you are welcome and that the college is most eager to assist you in the furtherance of your educational objectives and in your personal development.

Rep. Preston criticizes the Supreme Court

Congressman Prince H. Preston strongly criticized the United States Supreme Court for nurturing a "socialistic revolution" and predicted the next session of Congress will pass legislation to curb the Court's power.

In an acceptance speech at his formal nomination by the First District Democratic Convention, the 12-year veteran of the House told the 500 delegates and visitors that "the people must rebel against the Supreme Court."

Through the chosen representatives of the people," he said, "laws must be enacted to curb the power of this court."

The Statesboro Congressman said that Senator Lyndon Johnson, majority whip from Texas, used his position of leadership to engineer a defeat, by one vote, a court-curbing bill which had been overwhelmingly adopted by the House of Representatives.

In predicting passage of a court-curbing bill by the next Congress, Mr. Preston said Congressmen from the "north, east and west have demonstrated that they, too, are alarmed by the actions of the court."

He said that historians of the future will describe the era through which we are passing as "the era of social revolution," one that is "inspired by the
