Vote in the general election November 4

People of Bulloch County have been inclined to ignore the General Election which follows our state primary. To us the primary election is the important and big one.

But oftentimes the general election deserves more attention. This is one of these times, for there is more at issue in the November 4 general election than our voters may realize.

While there is little, if any competition as far as candidates are concerned, for we named those in our primary, there are seventy-two proposed amendments to be voted upon.

And of the seventy-two, sixteen are of general, or state-wide importance and deserve the attention of the people in Bulloch County. The other fifty-six are "local," pertaining only to certain counties and will be voted on only in those respective counties.

One of the proposed amendments, the fifth, would empower the General Assembly to authorize any county to levy a tax for school lunch purposes. Another, the fourteenth, would extend the Legislature's power of taxation over the entire state to include a state tax for the lunch program. State educators say that this proposal would make it possible for the use of tax money for some vital school lunch purposes, it is "no new tax... just permission to use the tax we already collect."

The Georgia School Food Service says that the amendment would make it possible for local authorities to use tax money to buy more equipment, pay utilities, haul surplus foods from distribution points, hire capable personnel, and keep books and audit funds. It is explained that the amendment does not permit spending tax money to buy food, "but the things it does provide will give you a better school lunch program for your children," say the food service group.

Another amendment would empower the General Assembly to tax for purposes of paying pensions and other benefits under a retirement program for county officers.

Another would authorize the levying of taxes for the benefit of paying retirement benefits, costs of administration and other benefits to the peace officers of Georgia.

The other proposals of a general nature about which the people of Bulloch County, as well as the other counties in Georgia, should concern themselves are:

Homestead exemption for certain disabled veterans.

Authorization for the Board of Regents of the University System of Georgia to grant scholarships to qualified students who haven't the money for college.

Authorization for state departments and agencies to match federal funds with state funds for post graduate educational scholarships for employees and for use in other federal education programs.

Authorization for the General Assembly to create the Brunswick Port Authority.

Authorization for the State Board of Education to grant scholarships to Georgia students who are to become teachers.

Authorization for granting scholarships to physicians and others for specialized training in psychiatry.

Authorization for the chief justices emeritus and justices emeritus of the State Supreme Court and State Court of Appeals and for judges emeritus of the superior courts to preside over those respective courts.

Authorization for any county, municipal corporation or political subdivision to issue revenue certificates for purchase, sale and lease of buses, trolleys and other transit equipment.

Authorization for the payment of $100,000 to the first person or company to develop a practical method for eradicating the boll weevil at a reasonable cost.

Authorization for granting scholarships to physicians and others for specialized training in psychiatry.

Authorization for the chief justices emeritus and justices emeritus of the State Supreme Court and State Court of Appeals and for judges emeritus of the superior courts to preside over those respective courts.

Authorization for any county, municipal corporation or political subdivision to issue revenue certificates for purchase, sale and lease of buses, trolleys and other transit equipment.

This Week's Meditation

By The Rev. L. E. Houston Jr.

THE POWER OF A WORD
A WAVE of suspicion has thrust itself over the entire nation in the past two weeks. The recent bombings of places of worship, schools, and other public institutions has everyone "on edge."

Just the other day someone remarked to me—"Why, you don't know but that you will be blown to bits before you see another dawn." And then he asked—"What do you think has caused this wave of terrorism?"

I am not sure that I ever tried to answer his question, but I have been a great deal of thinking about it, and have concluded at least this: "Whatever a man soweth, that shall he also reap," says the Word of God. And we can also affirm, without doing violence to the Scriptures, that "whatsoever a state or nation sows that shall it also reap."

Caught up in the midst of terrible tensions, we have heard words of hate, emotions of anger, and threats upon the lives of people. And, as long as they were words, we were content to be at ease. But, now that they have helped to inflame the twisted and perverted minds of some, we have rising all over the nation acts of violence against all kinds of classes of Americans.

I HAVE just stressed the importance of words and their influence on the thinking and the actions of men. Let me recall with you some other words. Of course, we have heard them all our lives, but they find special appropriateness in this hour: "You shall love the Lord your God with all your heart, and

"And now abides faith, hope and love, but the greatest of these is love."

Late one summer afternoon, while living in Savannah, I heard the fire trucks screaming their way to the scene of a blaze, and following them, I discovered that Wesley Monumental Methodist Church was in flames. I stood with the curious crowd of onlookers in awe and wonder as I watched the fire department in action.

Later, I learned that the Jewish Rabbi of the Mickve Israel Synagogue, located just across the street from Wesley Church, had visited with the Methodist pastor and had invited him and his congregation to share the facilities of the synagogue while the Methodist church was being repaired. This astonished me until I was told that this was the third time that Wesley Monumental had used the facilities of the Jewish synagogue. The last time had been when the Mickve Israel congregation had used the facilities of Wesley.

I THANK GOD for cooperation and understanding between the Jewish and the Methodist churches. There is a word stronger and more powerful than the words of hate and violence. It is the word of love.

BEN HAGAN, flashy Blue Devil back has taken over the lead in the South Georgia prep football scoring race from Melvin Lewis Davis, halfback of Atkinson County (Pearson), who held the lead for four weeks. Ben leads fifty-four backs with a total of 67 points. Davis is second with 63 points.

WE LIKED THIS ONE—Eugene Patterson told it Sunday in his column in the Atlanta Journal-Constitution.

A certain fellow owned the meanest bulldog in the world. That bulldog was so mean and so strong that he buried fire-plugs instead of bones in the back yard.

One day the fellow, out to walk his bulldog, was being dragged along in the dust when he met a little boy followed by an old slow-looking yellow mongrel.

The bulldog leaped to attack the mongrel. Whereupon with one snap of his jaws the yellow mongrel bit the bulldog's head clean off.

AT SOME time during the next few days the curriculum committee at the Georgia Teachers College will make a decision which will be of far reaching importance in the life of the college.

J. B. Scaree, head of the division of health and physical education, has presented a suggested outline of courses leading to a Bachelor of Recreation degree. The committee will decide if the Teachers College is ready to add such a course.

Recreation leaders all over the state have asked that such a course of instruction be offered at one of the institutions in the life of the college.

Since Georgia Teachers College is an institution which trains primarily with teacher training it is in an enviable position for establishing this course. Its physical plant, faculty and the courses of study are conducive to this new type program. According to Mr. Scaree only four courses will be added to the existing faculty in his division at the time the course is offered. It will be sufficient to handle the increased work load.

IT IS MY sincere hope that Georgia Teachers College can find itself in a position to serve the needs of the state in this important field. As Georgia looks to a future in recreation in which it is already leading the way nationally it is most imperative that some of our institutions help solve this very great problem of the training of qualified leaders in the recreation profession.

It was my privilege to talk with the young folks interested in studying recreation. A total of seventy-eight students overflowed into the area assigned to us. Nineteen of these were from Metter, seventeen were from Southeast Bulloch, two were from Portal and forty were from Statesboro. I think this indicates certainly that the young people of this area are definitely interested in careers in recreation and that the Teachers College can answer a real need in this field.

THE Bachelors of Recreation degree, as outlined by Mr. Scaree, calls for 195 quarter hours. This is three hours more than is needed for one of the other courses of study. The great need for well qualified students, trained in many areas of human conduct, accounts for these extra courses.

Red Cross to meet in Atlanta November 6-7

A Georgia state conference of the American Red Cross will be held in Atlanta, November 6-7, at the Hotel Baltimore, 111 N. Peachtree St., N. E. The conference will be presided over by Mrs. W. W. Jefferson, Atlanta, manager of the South-eastern Area.

Invitations have been extended to all volunteer and staff workers in each of the state's 15 Red Cross chapters. C. E. Beckwith of Savannah, disaster chairman, said. Representatives of state and local welfare, governmental, military and civic groups and agencies are invited.

The conference, which will be held at the Hotel Baltimore, will open at 2 p. m. November 6, with a luncheon by uniformed volunteers of the Greater Atlanta Chapter.

Mr. Tweedle, former chairman of the Macon Chapter, will preside. After welcome remarks by Hal Smith, chairman of the Greater Atlanta Chapter, and an address by W. W. Jefferson, Atlanta, manager of the South-eastern Area, the afternoon will be devoted to presentation on services to the armed forces and veterans, led by Evelyn Kirkland, disaster chairman of the Macon Chapter, and by Phillip Marvin, disaster chairman of the Savannah Chapter.

General Gruenther will address the extra point at 8 o'clock, which is open to the general public. This program will include presentation of colors by a color guard from Third Army Headquarters in Atlanta and a procession of uniformed Red Cross volunteers from Atlanta and neighboring chapters.

A reception is slated at 7:30 o'clock for General Gruenther. Formerly supreme allied commander in Europe and also commander-in-chief of the U. S. European Command, General Gruenther has been president of the American Red Cross since retirement from the U. S. Army in November 1956.

On November 7, five work shops are scheduled on Red Cross services.

Jack Kent of Rome, former chairman of the Red Cross chapter, will lead a session on chapter administration, to be attended by chapter chairmen, board members, and others.

Mrs. George Stellas of Macon, volunteer field consultant for Bulloch County schools, will lead a discussion group on volunteers in the Red Cross.

Charles F. Wood of Savannah, retiring chairman of the South Atlantic Red Cross Regional Blood Committee, will be in charge of a workshop on public relations in the organization's blood program.

Rockwell sets up Industrial Arts Award

In a recent letter to the principals and industrial arts instructors in Bulloch County, Rockwell Stateboro Corporation announced the continuation of its industrial arts award program.

Established in 1956-57 for the purpose of encouraging interest and originality in shop type work on a high school level, the program has continued to attract more interest each succeeding year. Last year a large number of attractive and practical projects were submitted for final judging.

Contest rules, which have been mailed to all schools, and work will probably begin in connection with these projects in the near future.

Along with a record student enrollment, the college this year added 20 new faculty members for a record total of 101. Dr. Zach S. Henderson, school president, has asked students to bear up under the burden of studies, three to a room. In two of the three women's dormitories, and both men's dormitories, three in a room is common.

To take care of the demand for graduate work, Saturday classes have been inaugurated this quarter. So far, 69 graduate students have enrolled.

S.H.S. TRI-HI-Y INSTALLS NEW OFFICERS AT OCT. 13 MEETING

On Monday evening, October 13, the Junior Tri-Hi-Y of Statesboro High School held their annual installation of officers and induction of new members.

The Rev. Robert Smith, pastor of the First Baptist Church, was the guest speaker.

Friends of the group and parents of the members attended. The sponsors, Mrs. Martha Johnston, Mrs. John Roach, and Mrs. Tyson, assisted in carrying out the service.

The past officers, Linda Cason, Patricia Harvey, Harriet Holleman, and Eula Nell Patten, installed the new officers who are Martha Faye Hodges, Harriet Holleman, Jean Holloway and Tessie Bryan.

After the service refreshments were served by Olivia Akins and Mary Emmye Johnson.

Nevils 4-H Club bookkeeping hears talk on

By JANIE WILLIAMS

The regular monthly meeting of the Nevils 4-H Club was held at the Nevils Elementary School on October 24, 1958. The meeting was called to order by the president, Kathleen Hodges. The pledge to the flags were led by Lou Ann Trappell. The program was then turned over to the program chairman, Sandra McDonald. The devotional was given by Virginia Futch. Shirley DeLoach, Linda Stewart and Sally Boatright led the group in singing.

The meeting then was turned over to Extension agents, Mrs. Gertrude Gear and Jones Peebles. Mrs. Gear gave a demonstration on making a picture frame and Mr. Peebles talked on the importance of keeping good record books and the selection of beef calves.

The family of Mrs. Susie G. Cook wishes to extend to each friend, relatives and neighbor, our thanks for his or her kindness and thoughtfulness during the short illness and at the death of our dear mother and grand-mother. We pray God will bless each of you with His richest blessings. Again, we thank you.

Register 4-H hears Extension agents at meet

By MELISSA OLLIFF

The Register 4-H Club held their monthly meeting at the Register Elementary School on October 24, 1958. The meeting was called to order by the president, Flora Anderson, after the reading of the minutes of the last meeting by the secretary, Delores Tucker. The meeting was turned over to the program chairman, Linda Cartee. The devotional was read by Beatrice Quick. Poems were read by Betty Wise, Randy Black and Lois Mae Pie. The club then sang songs about Halloween, led by Jan Black, Janice Carter and Kathryn Brown, the pianist was Jimmy Rieder.

The program was then turned over to the Extension agents, Mrs. Gertrude Gear and Jones Peebles. Record books were given out and Mr. Peebles talked on the importance of filling out record books and Mrs. Gear gave a demonstration on how to make a picture frame.

The polio-fighting organization is expanding into a broad new force that will attack health problems on a wider front and no longer confines its activities to a single disease. A much greater research program will prove the mysteries of arthritis, birth defects and virus diseases. 1959 will set up a treatment program set up for children with rheumatoid arthritis and certain birth defects. Polio victims will continue to receive the best rehabilitation possible.

Soil testing

accurate lime and fertilizer recommendations.
Where Do I Send It?
The soil sample and the information sheet filled out may be brought to the county agent's office. The county agent will furnish mailing instructions. Soil testing is a free service in Georgia.

Soil samples can be taken any time of the year. The soil sample should be sent to the soil testing laboratories at least one month before planting time. This will allow sufficient time to obtain correct lime and fertilizer recommendations. Following soil test, lime and fertilizer recommendations should result in economical crop yields.

Soil testing does not take into consideration the physical condition of the soil such as poor drainage, hard pans, and excessive drainage. If these physical factors are limiting plant growth, soil testing will not correct them. Other factors limiting crop yields such as weather conditions, insects, nematodes and diseases will not be corrected by soil testing.

Soil testing is a valuable tool if used properly and the results interpreted correctly. It is the best method to determine the lime and fertilizer needs of a particular farm.

Blue Devils defeat Sylvania; play in Swainsboro Fri. night

Ben Hagan's placements were the difference here Friday night, October 24, as Statesboro won an exciting 14-12 victory over Screven County before an overflow crowd of 3,000.

All the scoring was crowded into the second and third quarters but the thrills continued throughout, as the Blue Devils remained in the thick of the region 2-A battle, one game behind the Sandersville Satans.

the holder's head, and Boykin was stopped at the one by Ben Hagan on an attempted run. The half ended with Statesboro leading, 7-6.

ANOTHER BAD SNAP, this one going over the head of a Screven County kicker, gave Statesboro the ball on the visitor's 39-yard line early in the third period. McGlamary and Shearouse moved the ball to the 24, whereupon Shearouse carried the ball six straight times, the last time going over from the two. Hagan converted and the Statesboro fans relaxed, but not for long.

The kickoff went to Boykin at the Screven County 15, and after fumbling it momentarily he dashed 85 yards down the left sidelines for the score.

The ball changed hands several times in the fourth quarter, Screven County winding up the game with the ball at the Statesboro 18 following a passing flurry that had the big crowd on its feet.

McGlamary gained 109 yards in 16 carries to lead the ball carriers. Fullback Shearouse gained 76 yards in 20 tries. Dan Davis was held to 27 yards in 12 tries for Screven County. Boykin lead Screven County with 46 yards in nine carries.

Defensively, for Statesboro, the line did a great job in holding a good Screven County backfield to a net of 75 yards. Statesboro amassed 245 yards rushing and none through the air, and Screven County made five completions good for 117 yards.

The Blue Devils will play Swainsboro there this Friday in a Region 2-A game. Swainsboro lost 14-6 to Claxton last week and have a 3-4-1 record for the year.

It is hoped that Sammy Brannen, Robbie Franklin, and Joey Hagan, all injured in the Black-shear game, will return to action.

For spring plantings, take samples of the Gamecock's Steve Jordan against the running of Statesboro's Wendell McGlamary and Fred Shearouse, and except for the missed conversions by Screven County, the game was a standing off.

Fred Shearouse capped a 67-yard Statesboro drive in the second quarter, scoring on a 16-yard run with 7:10 left. Ben Hagan's placement was good, and Statesboro led, 7-0.

Just five minutes later Screven County's Dan Davis went two yards for a score, following a 49-yard pass play from Jordan to Richard Boykin. The snap from center sailed over

City awards contract for first phase of sewer improvement

Mayor W. A. Bowen announced this week that the City of Statesboro has awarded a contract for construction for outfall sewers, the first sewer phase of the proposed 1 1/4 million dollar water-sewer improvement program, to J. B. McCrary Engineering Company of Atlanta, Georgia, whose low bid of $250,678.13 was accepted by the Mayor and Council on October 30.

Sealed bids were received from 12 bidders from all over the southeast, and were opened at City Hall on October 29 at 2:00 p. m. Following verification of figures by Wiedman-Singleton, consulting engineers for the city, the low bid was formally accepted
