Farmers to get census forms in few days

Willis, a senior music education major from Albany, is married to the former Pat Garrett and now resides in Statesboro. He is manager of the Professors Dance Band, a member of the band, and is past president of Phi Mu Alpha. Besides these activities, he has been on the Student Council, Social Committee, treasurer of the Music Educators Club, a member of the Philharmonic Choir, and an officer of the band.

The farm census questionnaires are being mailed from Chicago, Illinois, with the distribution timed so that the report forms will reach farmers about a week ahead of the date when census takers will begin the field canvass. The advance mailing is for the purpose of giving farm operators time to consult their records before filling in the answers required by the questionnaires and getting them ready for the census takers to pick up. This procedure is designed to insure greater accuracy of reporting and to save time both for the farmer and the census taker when the latter calls at the farm.

The 1959 Census of Agriculture questionnaire is designed to provide information on the number and size of farms, acreage and harvest of crops, livestock production and inventories of selected farm facilities and equipment, selected farm expenditures, farm values, and mortgage debt. On the average, each farmer is asked about 100 questions, many of which can be answered by simply checking "yes" or "no."

The band under the direction of Fred K. Grumley will appear on Tuesday evening, November 24, at 8 p.m. in McCran Auditorium. The public is invited to attend.

BROWNIE TROOP NO. 3 VISIT JULIETTE LOW HOUSE IN SAVANNAH

The Brownie Troop No. 3 made an all-day trip to Savannah on October 24. They visited the Juliette Gordon Low birthplace, enjoying seeing all the rooms in the house.

Mrs. Low's niece told them many things about Mrs. Low and her life there.

The group then had lunch at the Pirate's House. They then visited the Youth Museum.

Accompanying the Brownies on the trip were Mrs. Hazel Bazemore, Mrs. Rudolph Hodges and Mrs. Hayden Carmichael.

Go to the polls on Wed. Nov. 18 and VOTE!

Because we feel deeply about our right to vote in free elections, and because we have a profound respect for the power of the ballot, and because we are concerned about the seeming apathy on the part of the people of Bulloch County to go to the polls and vote on election days, we are making a special effort to put the Bulloch Herald in the post office on Tuesday in order that our readers be reminded that Wednesday, November 18 is ELECTION DAY.

According to the records approximately 10,000 citizens of our county are eligible to vote in the November 18 primary. On September 10, 1958, the last election held in the county in which our state officers were elected, only 4,770 citizens voted. In the last county election held in 1955 in which local officials were elected a total of 5,912 voted.

In the 1958 election the percentage of qualified voters who exercised their right to cast a ballot was less than 50 per cent. In the 1955 election the percentage was higher because it was a county election to name officials, but even so, the percentage was approximately 60 percent.

There's no reason this percentage should not run as high as 80 to 90 percent of the total eligible electorate.

Our government is a people's government, made for the people, made by the people, and answerable to the people. But when only one-half or less of the people take a hand in making their government, there exists a danger that it will no longer be a people's government.

We call our government, even

TB plays no favorites—Buy your Xmas Seals

You may have heard that tuberculosis gets its stronghold mostly among the underprivileged. But case records show that TB can strike anyone, anywhere. That's because everyone with undiscovered TB is a potential source of infection.

The man at the next desk, the woman next in line at the supermarket check-out counter, the teenager holding on to the adjacent strap in the bus—these may be harboring the deadly TB bacillus. Anyone of them may have active TB, unaware that he is spreading the disease. Christmas Seal funds are used to protect you and yours from this ever-present danger of tuberculosis.

Go to the polls on Wednesday, November 18, and cast your ballot.

The people we elect on Wednesday, November 18, are the people to whom we entrust the affairs of Bulloch County.

We are in the fortunate position that all the candidates who are offering themselves as our representatives are qualified for the office each is seeking. They all are citizens of our community and we've known them for a long time. There are no county-shaking issues at stake.

Go to the polls on Wednesday, November 18, and cast your ballot.

To us, it matters not for whom you vote. The big thing is that you take time out and go to the polls and VOTE.

lois. Your Christmas Seal money helps to inform people about TB itself and about the need to have tuberculosis tests and chest X-rays. Christmas Seals help to get active cases into TB hospitals—and out again, cured. Christmas Seals are behind the search for better drugs, for methods of prevention. You have received a letter containing Christmas Seals from your Bulloch County TB Association. Send in your Christmas Seal contribution today and use those Seals on every piece of Christmas mail you send out, as a reminder to others to protect themselves—and automatically, you and yours—against tuberculosis.

AS A MATTER of fact, with our beginning band students, and the advanced grade school students, there will be approximately twenty-five new band next year. This will give us a band of over sixty. This is encouraging, but a little frightening, too. We were expecting growth, but not quite this fast, and we are not prepared. We need more instruments, and uniforms, and music. The new uniforms that we are getting this week will just barely cover this year's band, and next year's group will have twenty more in it than this year. That means twenty additional uniforms, as well as every one that we now have. Also, that size band needs more drums to sound good on the march, and more bass instruments. We will have to get a tuba, a baritone, a tenor saxophone, and a bass clarinet.

WITH THESE things in mind, our Band Parents' Club has already begun several projects to help meet our needs. The band members at Sallie Zetterower and Mattie Lively elementary schools are selling boxes of Breakwater Soap, to raise money for an instrument in each school. This soap sells for $1.10 for a big box with eight bars in it. The soap is scented, and very finely milled, which means that it is good quality soap. It is attractively packaged, and would be ideal for a gift at Christmas, or any time of the year.

THE THAT HATH ears to hear, let him hear. This exhortation tumbled from Jesus' lips more often than one chooses to count. Perhaps his use of the phrase was grounded in the Old Testament prophet's conception of God's golden age. Among the gifts of the Messiah was the restoration of hearing. Said Isaiah: "The ears of the deaf shall be unstopped. When John the Baptist was puzzling over the fact of Jesus as the Messiah, the Master sent his disciples back with the conclusive proof: '... the deaf hear.'"

HEALING of the deaf has primary appeal in our day. Between ten and twenty millions of North Americans, it is estimated, suffer from some sort of impaired hearing.

Much more distressing, however, are those with normal physical hearing who are morally and spiritually deaf. How God must sigh when He sees this unnecessary spiritual deafness. This is our Father's world, yet to how many of us does "all nature sings and round us rings"

Football season is over, and what a way to end! The team did itself proud. The band presented their members from the grade schools, as an introduction to next year's band. All but three of them were in the seventh grade, so will be in the high school band next year. They are already playing very well.

The Editor's Uneasy Chair

On November 10 Morris McLemore, son of Mr. and Mrs. O. L. McLemore of Statesboro, left Washington D. C. in a group of six newsmen with a plane-load of men for Christchurch, New Zealand, from where they went to the U. S. Navy's base at McMurdo Sound (800 miles from the South Pole)—a 2,000-mile flight—by an Air Force Globemaster that weighs 90 tons and will land on ice sixteen feet thick.

On November 9 Mr. McLemore began a series of stories on his trip which are appearing in the Miami News, Miami, Florida. In his first story dated from Washington on November 10, Morris wrote:

"Capt. Robert F. Scott, the British explorer, was one of the most valiant men in history. He and four companions reached the South Pole in January, 1912, after hand-hauling their sledges across the plateau of the towering Queen Alexandra Range."

"They had started from the region of McMurdo Sound, 800 miles away... and returned to that general neighborhood but died of exposure and cold, when eleven miles of a supply dump. 'Capt. Scott didn't need that trip to make himself a reputation. He already had a brilliant one. And his goal was lost. The Norwegian explorer, Ronald Amundsen, had been to the Pole and departed a month before his own momentary victory."

IN A RECENT issue of Harper's magazine, Sean O'Casey, the famed Irish author, writes on the "delicate art of growing old." A paragraph: "We must begin at school and in college to learn to absorb life so that when we grow old we may be filled with its colors, thoughts, and sounds and so spend our last years in the melodies of sound, and play. If we don't then the old seek relaxation in a misery to themselves and a nuisance to others."

IF IT COMES by mail and you didn't order it—DONT PAY FOR IT.

A petty chiseler to watch out for is the mailbox racketeer. If you have a name and address, it is almost inevitable that sooner or later he will mail you something you did not order and do not want, along with a letter asking that you pay for him for it. If you then do not pay, he may send you follow-up letters threatening legal action. This perennial mail order trick is frowned on by Better Business Bureaus and bona fide charities but usually operates within the law. However, you are under no legal or social obligation to pay for or return the merchandise or to answer the letters.

THE PIONEERS appeared foolish to millions at one time—and no doubt their families got sick and tired of their wandering off to nowhere in fur suits—but in our relations with Russia alone, we would be in a twit, indeed, if these men had not fed our knowledge with their bravery."

Morris writes that there are eight ships three-dozen airplanes and 3,000 men on the U. S. Navy control in today's "Operation Deep Freeze 60" which is the title attached to the operation on which he is going as a newspaperman and "hope to... come closer to the answer to what makes these brave men tick," he says.

WHICH we can point in our state and say that county is controlled by a machine. The end result in that county which is so controlled has been government by the few for the few. It is a long and painful process to correct an evil such as can be brought about by public indifference. The surest way to keep men who are interested in this kind of government from ever attempting to take control is for them to know that the great majority of our registered voters are going to the polls on election day. They realize the impossibility of controlling the vote when most of the people are going to weigh the issues involved and cast an intelligent ballot.

IN THE election being held in Bulloch County here Wednesday, Nov. 18, there is another reason why all of us should vote. We are extremely fortunate that men of great quality and responsibility have volunteered themselves to public service. Year after year we owe it to these men to show them the courtesy of consideration and in so doing will encourage others in future years to offer their services through public office.

Here in Bulloch County, over the years, we have had good government. We have had men of quality in most of our positions of leadership. The result has been years of progress, years without bickering in which the community itself profits. There are few counties in the state which can match our approach to good government. Can you imagine the time in Bulloch when we will have to have "Watchers" at the polls? In many counties throughout our state all of the candidates for office have appointed representatives at the voting places to watch the counting of the ballots. In those counties it is standard procedure to do so. Why? Well, quite obviously they do not trust those who have been entrusted with the counting of the votes.

WE DO OF course have men and women who are present when the votes are tallied. They are present out of interest in the election and not with the will or the fear that the votes will not be correctly tabulated. This is just something which we take for granted in Bulloch. It is something which cannot be taken for granted always and only with the interest of a great majority of our people can we keep it that way. We have the design for the best government for the majority of our citizens.

IT is not only your privilege to vote it is your responsibility to do so.

Buster Bowen opens new Econ-O-Wash

ECON-O-WASH, a new 24-hour, coin-operated, self-service laundry, begins operation this week at Statesboro on South Main street. The event will be marked by a two-day Grand Opening Friday and Saturday, November 20 and 21. Free washing and drying will be offered to customers on each of these days between 9 A. M. and 8 P. M.

The new ECON-O-WASH will be unattended day and night. Customers can use as many of the laundry's agitator type washers as they need to do the whole week's wash at once. Drying is a speedy operation, too, with each big commercial dryer holding up to four washer loads of clothes. Experience has shown that an average week's wash can be done in less than half the time and at a fraction of the cost. Soap and bleach are dispensed in handy packets, or customers can bring their own.

The coin-operated laundry is currently the fastest growing innovation in the laundry industry. Businessmen find them profitable to own, easy to operate. Consumers find them convenient and economical to use without the investment and upkeep of a home laundry.

In a statement by Mr. Bowen, the ECON-O-WASH is an additional service offered to the public and that the same laundry and dry cleaning service afforded by the Model Laundry at the College Laundry and Laundrette will continue.

The new ECON-O-WASH at Statesboro is owned by Buster Bowen, owner and operator of the Model Laundry.

To People of Bulloch County from W. G. Neville

As a candidate for Solicitor of the City Court of Statesboro in the Primary Election, November 18, 1959, I will very much appreciate your vote and support.

From working with you in the past, and dwelling among you for many years, I feel that I know the conditions in Bulloch County and the desires of our people in upholding justice, law and order.

My life has been here among you, except while in school at Brewton-Parker College; and Law School at Mercer University in Macon, Georgia.

The Public Service you have helped me to render has been in Georgia Law, and in Georgia Courts for our people.

It is my earnest desire to render a full measure of Public service to all of you, with fairness and respect to all; and to cooperate fully with our Courts, peace officers and probation officers; with first duty always to the public, as Solicitor of City Court of Statesboro.

SOIL CONSERVATION

By E. T. "Red" Mullis
Soil Conservation Service

Complete soil and water conservation plans have recently been developed for the farms of Lincoln Womack and W. C. Hodges in the Middleground Community. For Mr. Hodges this was a plan on his individual farm which he acquired in the last few years. He already has plans on his other farms which he last recently had revised. Mr. Womack had complete plans made on all his farms for the first time.

Mr. Womack is rapidly converting his farms into pine trees, with cattle, some row crops, and wildlife rounding out his program. Under the Soil Conservation Service, he is diverting cropland out of cultivation into timber production and reduce surplus. However, Mr. Womack has decided to stay in the cattle business. He has a good setup of pastures, and plans to provide for wildlife with bicolored and service which will also act as a windbreak in the late winter and early spring.

Mr. Hodges is also planting pines on old areas and eroded steep land. He plans to manage his woodland for maximum returns including proper thinning, harvesting, and release cutting.

Mr. W. C. Hodges is looking to good conservation crop rotation which include cover crops turned, and a 11th stubble left on the land, and terraces with properly sodded outlets will do the job. He also plans to provide for wildlife with bicolored and service which will also act as a windbreak in the late winter and early spring.

1000 BUSHELS CORN CLUB

Agronomists, Agricultural Extension Service, cite figures as inducement to Georgia farmers to work for membership in the 1000 Bushel Corn Club. In 1953 the average Georgia farmer received only 14 cents net profit per bushel from growing corn. The average farmer in the 1000 Bushel Corn Club received 70 cents net profit from growing his corn.

25,000,000 Americans use Rockwell voting machines

by W. F. Rockwell, Jr., President

Rockwell Manufacturing Co. This month, about twenty-five million Americans have used one of our products: voting machines. In so doing, they have demonstrated several things very important to free people.

First, they have voted in absolute secrecy, with no possible way for anyone ever to tell how they voted, and with no possible chance of their vote being thrown out because of a technical error. (If you make a mistake on a paper ballot, such as voting for six councilmen instead of five, your vote is thrown out and you never know it. This is impossible on our voting machines. You can even "erase" and change your vote before leaving the booth, without jeopardizing it.) And they will have voted in far less time used the cost of an election is reduced by from one-half to one-third due to savings in number of polling places needed, number of paid officials in each place, in printing millions of official ballots, and in the long task of vote counting.

Also—and this is very important—the American Institute of Public Opinion (Gallup Poll) has documented the fact that a higher percentage of eligible voters vote where machines are used than by the hand method. While many Americans have never used a voting machine, others have been using them for many years. Our subsidiary, Automatic Voting Machine Company, has been designing and building voting machines for more than sixty years. This has become a more and more exacting job as our lives, our government, and our election laws have become more and more complicated. The perfect coordination of more than 23,000 working parts enables our voting machines to accommodate the widely diverse regulations of every state, county, and city in the nation.

As a measuring device, the voting machine makes more demands on accuracy, perhaps than any meter or other registering device we make. At stake, in its use, is more than product or money—the vote of free men and women.

Since it took us more than thirty centuries to win the right to vote freely, and in secret, this is probably our most precious possession. Our people who make and service voting machines never forget that.

The first use of our machines in a union election was in 1922. During the thirties, because of the privacy and accuracy of machine voting, the National Labor Relations Board urged their use in holding referenda to decide the bargaining agencies for a whole new field for them in industry.

New York, N. Y. — Col. Willard F. Rockwell, chairman of the board of Rockwell Manufacturing Company was reelected a member of the National Industrial Conference Board for a one-year term.

The reelection of Col. Rockwell, who is also a trustee of the Conference Board, was made recently at the Board's 39th meeting in New York. Founded in 1916, the Conference Board is an independent and nonprofit institution for business and industrial fact-finding through scientific research. In terms of everyday usefulness, the Board is a source of facts and figures bearing on all aspects of industry. It has more than 3,700 subscribing associates including business organizations, trade associations, government bureaus, labor unions, libraries, individuals, and colleges and universities. The work of the Board is made possible through the support of more

"Library Service in the School and in the community," was the subject of the program at the Mattie Lively PTA meeting on Tuesday night, November 10. The program was a question-and-answer discussion with Mrs. Charles Oliff Jr., program chairman, asking questions about library services at Mattie Lively and the other schools in the county. The questions were answered by Miss Isabel Sorrier, regional librarian, and by Miss Elizabeth Sorrier, who is librarian at Statesboro High School and supervisor of all the elementary school libraries in Bulloch County. Mrs. Carroll Herrington introduced the guest speakers.

In 1936, Alexander Calder, president of the Union Bag and Paper Corporation, stated that his corporation had come to Savannah as a result of the work of the Herty Laboratory. Before the construction of this mill was completed, 14 new pulp and paper mills were being built in the South.

Dr. Herty established the Savannah Pulp and Paper Laboratory where he performed experiments with newsprint. On November 20, 1933, nine leading Georgia newspapers appeared on paper from young Georgia pines. Testimonies of the publishers made public by the Associated Press the following day revealed a satisfactory behavior of the paper in the pressroom. ## An Open Letter To the Voters of Bulloch County:

Subject to the rules of the Democratic Primary to be held on Wednesday, November 18, 1959, I hereby announce my Candidacy for the office of Chairman of the Board of County Commissioners of Roads and Revenues of Bulloch County.

Though it will be impossible for me to see every voter before election, I want the general public to know through this medium that if I am elected I will diligently and earnestly discharge the duties of this office and always to the very best of my ability.

For more than 20 years I have served in various executive capacities in the Armed Forces. This experience coupled with my years of service both as an employee and as the owner of a wholesale grocery and notions business, I feel, helps qualify me in being able to discharge the duties demanded of this office. I have worked over the years with the various church, civic and service organizations of the community and have been an active supporter of the Chamber of Commerce and its program.

If honored with this office, I pledge myself to conduct its affairs in a fair and impartial manner to all of our citizens and to apply my best efforts towards getting the most for or county that is available through state and Federal agencies.

I will appreciate your support and your vote. If I am elected I will be humble and grateful and will constantly strive to merit the confidence placed in me.

Respectfully,
HENRY J. ELLIS

GTC George-Anne Editor

It wasn't too many years ago that Dr. Charles Holmes Herty, a famous scientist, used what is now the Georgia Teachers' College campus for his experiments with pine trees that led to his invention of the Herty turpentine cup.

Today the classroom building, now nearing completion on the campus, has been named in his honor. The new Herty Building will house the science, business education, and the home economics divisions. Other places in this area named for Dr. Herty include Herty Drive located in the Pittman Park area, the Herty Gates at the back entrance of the college, and the Herty Pines located near Sanford Hall.

Dr. Herty born in Milledgeville, Georgia in 1864, graduated from the University of Georgia in 1886 and received his Ph. D. from Johns Hopkins in 1890.

Following his work with the Georgia State Experiment Station and the Bureau of Forestry under the United States Department of Agriculture, Dr. Herty became professor of chemistry at the University of North Carolina from 1905 until 1916.

Editor of the "Journal of Industrial and Engineering Chemistry" between 1917 and 1921, Dr. Herty was chairman of a committee of noted scientists that published "The Future of Industry" in 1918. The publication of this report, which pointed out the need for intensive chemical research devoted to the alleviation of human suffering, led to the appointment of a committee of the American Chemical Society.

Let's go 1st class on concrete!

AT NIGHT YOU SEE LIKE A CAT when you drive on light-reflecting, modern concrete!

On light-colored concrete you can really see where you're going and you won't find yourself constantly "outdriving your headlights." Concrete gives you far better visibility at night than any dark surface.

This high night visibility level saves tax money on lighting. Fewer fixtures are needed. It cuts the highway electric bill, too—up to $720 per mile per year.

Concrete also gives you a grainy surface for dependable skid resistance and a smooth, flat ride. Initial cost is moderate, yet modern concrete will last an expected 50 years and more. Upkeep costs will be as much as 60% less than for asphalt.

No wonder modern concrete is the preferred pavement for the Interstate System. A new booklet about highways is yours for the asking.

120 Days Around the World on The Flying Hawk....

BY GUY H. WELLS, STATESBORO, GEORGIA

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is one of a series of accounts written by Guy Wells of Statesboro about the trip he and Mrs. Wells made around the world aboard the freighter "The Flying Hawk." They left the U. S. on February 26, 1959 and returned July 7, 1959.

Mrs. Wells and I left Statesboro about the last of February for New York to board the ship named "The Flying Hawk" for this tour. The ship is known as a passenger cargo and is owned by the Interbrand Company of New York. It is a C-2, built in 1941, at a cost of about seven million dollars.

The company sails a similar ship every two weeks from New York carrying twelve passengers, and a cargo usually bringing in approximately a million dollars, at a cost of about half this amount for expenses. There are forty-four members of the crew. Several nationalities are represented in this number. Our Captain is a Mr. Shivers from Georgia. The ship is 452 feet long, and draws about 32 feet of water when loaded. There are four of five stories or floors beneath the passenger cabins.

Each ship has four large double cabins and four single cabins, all with private bath and ample closet space. There is a large dining room for the passengers and officers of the crew, also two public lounges on each side of the dining room for games and convention. The decks contain deck chairs, shuffle boards, tennis, and pingpong. Our chef is very good. He was formerly chef on the CONSTITUTION, a very large passenger liner, and he quit to accept an easier work. Our food is excellent and varied. The menu today is as follows:

FOR BREAKFAST:
Fresh milk, stewed evaporated figs, dry cereals assorted, hot cereal, oat meal, grilled bacon, eggs to order, Vichy omelets, saute potatoes, griddle hot cakes and syrup, corn bread, toast and preserves, tea and coffee.

LUNCHEON:
Dill pickles, soda crackers, minestrone soup, roast fresh ham, brown gravy, applesauce, chicken a la king, braised red cabbage, home fried potatoes, apricot cobbler, tea and coffee.

SUPPER:
Fresh milk, sliced cucumbers and onion salad, mayonnaise, pickles, soda crackers, consommé, w/e/gg dogs, Snishia Hungarian Veal Cutlets and tomato sauce, crole, frankfurters, Vienna macaroni, buttered kale greens, fresh garden carrots, German fried potatoes, cakes and fresh fruit, tea and coffee.

One of the most interesting features of the trip was the varied personnel of the ship. I wish I had space to copy what each one wrote about his or her history. I have this and will copy or type up when I return. I give three as samples:

MISS MARY FOREMAN:
I was born in 1921 in Corinth, Kentucky. At present I am unemployed, without a home, unmarried, and by the time the trip is over will be penniless. All donations should be sent to my sister's address: 3121 S. W. Place, Ft. Lauderdale, Florida.

"However, I do not feel all is lost. For two days now I have been practicing on a new accordion and hope to have mastered 'God Rest You Merry Gentlemen' by Christmas (which is 1959). This may be too optimistic and this date is subject to revision. Also if the donations are large enough I am subject to inducement to forget the whole thing."

"My previous musical experience is limited to teaching a canary to whistle 'Yankee Doodle.' This I don't quite excel since I don't whistle very well myself. If any one has a special musical request I will be glad to oblige provided it is in the middle octave and without sharps or flats."

MRS. RITA WOOLEY is from Washington, D. C., the wife of a former medical doctor and commander in the Navy. She is related to several people in Middleburg, Georgia. She writes as follows:

"Rita Wooley, niece Henrietta Cretz, Bernard College, M.A. Columbia University, Editorial and Research for National Geographic Society, married Herbert Wood, M.D., Diplomat American Board of Psychiatry and Episcapian; Clubs: American Association of University Women, D.A.R., Holly Garden Club, and Sea Girl Community Club. Hobbies: Reading, Writing, Mental Health Clinic, gardening, flower arrangement, swimming, boating, traveling.

One other passenger: MISS ANGELA CHRISTY:
"I was born in Hovehill, Mass., to two of the necest parents on this earth, but, wittingly or unwittingly, I have not ceased to bring them worry since the age of two months when I was supposed to have died of poisoned lymphatic glands. My Greek Orthodox Christening, therefore, was an impressive event with several priests attending the emergency call to conduct baptismal service. In spite of the zinc tub

GTC Professors Have Just Two Weeks To Prepare Cage Lessons

Coach J. B. Seacare and his 13th edition of the Georgia Teachers College Professors have just 19 "working days" before they square-off with the University of Georgia Bulldogs here on Wednesday, December 2.

The locals began workouts on Monday, October 18. Practice scrimmages this week began to show the effects of the drills, and the outlook for the season begins to be downright bright and sunny.

Virtually the same team that reached the N. A. I. A.'s final round of eight at Kansas City last March returns. Add to this 19 junior center Jim Long, junior college transfer Tracy Rivers and J. E. Rowe from Brewton-Parker, the added years of experience to the seven letter winners, and basketball buffs cannot fail to await this season with relish.

Coach Seacare says "Our long suits this year are depth and overall squad height. Unfortunately for us, however, every team on our schedule seems to have made up its mind to play ball and dancing in the circle, at least three times each year."

"My hobby: symphony and opera; museums and are galleries; conversation (which in many circles is out of style); ballet and dancing; and falling in love, at least three times each year."

"The other passengers are: Mr. and Mrs. Howard Tulin of Carrollton, Georgia; Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Meier of New York City; Mrs. Welch of Washington, D.C.; Miss Anna Watson of Philadelphia, and Mrs. Mason of Boston."

I assure you these people, too, are very charming people, but lack of space prevents more biographies. The next time I may write you of our visits to Istanbul, Athens, Beirut, Damascus, Jerusalem, Cairo and Alexandria. We are now in Turkey.

—Guy H. Wells.

Forty Faculty Members Start Investment Club

Forty members of the faculty and staff of Georgia Teachers College have formed the College Investment Club.

Officers for the initial six-months period are: Dr. Lloyd Toumey, president; Mr. W. S. Hanner, vice president; Miss Helen Taylor, secretary; and Dr. Herbert Bice, treasurer-agent.

The purpose of the club is to educate its members concerning investments. A monthly meeting is held and reports are given on from three to five companies or industries. Then, following a vote, a specific Mr. John Connolly of the Savannah office of Merrill Lynch, Pierce, Fenner and Smith is the club's broker. He addressed the opening meeting of the club, held in the Williams Center on Oct. 29.

The College Investment Club voted to affiliate with the National Association of Investment Clubs, a group with 10,000 clubs and 60,000 members.

Ironically, the opening meeting was held on the 30th anniversary of the famous Stock market Crash on Wall Street on Oct. 29, 1929, the event that triggered the depression of the thirties.

GTC Band To Make Tapes Of Pop Selections For High School Study

The GTC band will make tapes of the more popular band selections during the latter part of November for the benefit of high school band directors and band members. This is an honor for the well-organized campus band.

The state has asked them to tape these selections which will be studied by the bands in Georgia. The band under the leadership of Mr. Fred K. Grumley, assistant professor of music and band director at GTC.

Mr. Grumley came to GTC September 1, 1958. He attended Columbus High School and received his Bachelor of Music Education degree from Capital University Conservatory of Music in Columbus, Ohio, where he was Brass Instructor on the staff and a Phi Mu Alpha Sinfonia member.

He was band director and Supervisor of Music for consolidated schools in Anna, Ohio, and did his graduate work at Miami University in Tallahassee, Florida where he received his Masters of Music Education degree.

Mr. Grumley was privileged to have studied conducting from Wilbur Doherty, one of the two Disciples of Pierre Monteux, the former conductor of the San Francisco Symphony and from Ernest Doherty, the contemporary composer and former conductor of the Budapest Symphony.

During the summer of 1957, Mr. Grumley was assistant director of the Georgia State Art Study Tour sponsored by the Capital University Conservatory of Music. The group spent two months studying and observing musical and theatrical productions throughout eight different European countries.

The evening concert scheduled for November 24, has been cancelled due to the tape recording series.

The band will make their next appearance in assembly Monday, December 7, at 10 a.m. in McCrann Auditorium.

There's nothing like a new car—and no new car like a Chevrolet. This is the 1960 Chevrolet Bel Air Sport Coupe!

PEOPLE SAY THESE ARE THE THINGS THEY WANT IN A CAR...and CHEVROLET '60 comes closest to meeting every need!

Interviews with thousands of car owners across the country show clearly what they like or dislike about their present cars...and what they want most in their 1960 cars. Here's what the people tell us they want...and here's how Chevrolet meets their needs.

"Price, that's what's uppermost in my mind." All Impalas and Bel Airs with V8 engines are lower in price, as are automatic transmissions and many other popular options. Also Biscaynes now include as standard equipment conveniences formerly optional at extra cost.

"And how about operating economy? And resale value?" You keep right on saving after you buy your favorite Chevrolet, too. And Chevrolet's traditionally higher resale value means you'll get more back when you trade.

"Give me plenty of good old-fashioned comfort." There's comfort and then some in this one. Chevy's long on space, for one thing. Once you're under way you'll know just how comfortable Full Coil suspension makes your ride.

"Safety—don't forget safety!" You're surrounded by safety features in a new Chevrolet. You've got big, sturdy brakes underfoot, for example, that last longer. As it has been for years, automatic transmission and many other popular options. Also Biscaynes now include as standard equipment conveniences formerly optional at extra cost.

"Let's keep up the road, too." More than ever, Chevrolet for 1960 is built to stay on the road and out of the repair shop. You can tell that from the solid think of Chevy's big doors. Of course, if you should need service, Chevrolet's traditionally efficient, economical attention to your needs.

"I want a car that will stand up to the driving I do." For proof of Chevy's staying power, just spend a minute watching the nearest road. You'll see more Chevrolets traveling on it than any other car—evidence on wheels of Chevrolet durability. (And that higher resale value attests to it, too.)

"Me for a sweet-handling car." Handling's always been Chevy's forte, and 1960 is no exception. But really, this kind of lightness and precision you've simply got to enjoy for yourself.

"...a car you can look at and be smug about buying it." Chevrolet for 1960 leaves the low-price field far behind when it comes to fashion. But you're the best judge of styling, so take a good close look at Chevrolet. We warn you: you're about to fall in love.

"And performance. Let's have a hot one!" Chevy's spirited V8's have set the standard for ultra-efficient power in American-built passenger car engines. You've got a long list of performance-minded transmissions to pick from, too.

So that, friends, is what you told us you want. We think it can be summed up rather well in just one word: value.

Get the full story of Chevy's brand of value soon at your Chevrolet dealer's.

A Message to the Voters of Bulloch County

Since it is impossible for me to personally contact each voter in the county, I want to convey this message in soliciting the vote and support of the voters for the office of Clerk of the Superior Court of Bulloch County. I will begin with the reason why I have announced for this office. I feel that it is the duty of every American who desires political office that are in good standing mentally and morally, to offer himself as a public servant at some time during his life. Also to promote during that service in office as well as out of office a better government by which we should live, and above all, to protect the Constitution of their country and the individual rights of its people. MY PLATFORM is to, if possible, make it easier for records to be traced. To give quick efficient service to the public when they come to this office for help. To execute all the duties of this office to the fullest capacity. MY BACKGROUND—I was born and reared in Bulloch County. My ancestors were among the first settlers that came here at the end of the Revolutionary War. My father is Mitchell M. Rigdon, the son of the late David L. Rigdon and Mary Jane Lester Rigdon. My mother was Belle Brannen Rigdon and the daughter of the late J. Austin Brannen and Carrie Darden Brannen. I attended Statesboro schools and graduated from Statesboro High School in 1940, after which I spent two years in college in Atlanta. World War II interrupted my college training and I saw service with the United States Army Signal Corps in the Atlantic theater of war and the North African campaign. Due to the injuries received in the service I was returned to the United States and was honorably discharged. I returned to Bulloch County and later worked with the Department of the Navy at Savannah, Ga., until the end of the war. After the war I returned to Bulloch County and started in the plumbing and electrical contracting business, which I have been engaged in since 1946. I am married and have four small children. We live in Brooklet, Ga. My wife is the former Sally Fordham, the daughter of Beulah Akins Fordham and the late Robert Dewey Fordham. PROMISES—I wish to say concerning promises, if elected, to fulfill the duties of this office in general benefit to all the people of Bulloch County and not for any one group or special individual. I urge you, the voters to turn out and vote on November 18th for the candidate of your choice. It is our duty to vote and we certainly should exercise this privilege. I hope if it be the will of God, you will select me as your next Clerk of Superior Court and if I am, I pledge to you honest and faithful service.

Austin D. (Jiggs) Rigdon

Peanut growers referendum on market quotas for 1960 is Dec. 15

by Roy Powell, County Agent
The USDA announces that the referendum on market quotas for the 1960, 1961, and 1962 crops of peanuts will take place December 15. If as many as two-thirds of the growers voting, favor quotas, they will become effective in each of the 3 years. If more than one-third vote against quotas, quotas will not take effect in 1960, and another referendum will be held next year for the following 3 years. During cold spells many of us have used boxes, plastic bags, and other various fabrics to cover and protect valuable ornamental plants. Recent research at the University of Georgia indicates that if these covers are left over some ornamental plants too long they are harmful to them. In the tests to determine effects of the covers azalea plants were used. Damage to these plants increased according to the length of coverage time. Even three days of covering caused damage, and one week of coverage caused considerably more damage. In the 1-week test, 30 percent of the flower buds were killed on plants under black plastic, 35 percent when under clear plastic, 17 percent when under cardboard boxes, and 1 percent on the non-covered plants. In conclusion, the investigators say that although the tests dealt primarily with azalea plants, it is possible that other shrubs would react in a similar fashion to these covers. The researchers say that if covers are used at all, they should be taken off during the days. INCOME TAX MANAGEMENT Today, when cutting costs is so important to earning profit in farming, farmers should not only be experts on efficient farming practices, but also experts on income tax. With good management, income taxes—like many other costs—can be reduced. The government does not expect to receive more than the amount due. Managing farm business in such a way that the amount of taxes paid over a period of years is no more than the legal minimum is just good business. One important way of reducing taxes is to spread the annual net income as evenly as possible over a 5-year period. Methods of depreciation, and transactions involving non-business property are other important considerations. COASTAL BERMUDA More than 530,000 acres of Georgia farm-land are now planted in Coastal Bermuda. Farmers have found Coastal drought resistant, highly nutritious, and high yielding. In research tests over a 5-year period at the Coastal Plain Experiment Station, Coastal Bermuda produced a yearly average of 116 pounds more beef per acre than common Bermuda in adjacent pastures on the same soil type. None of these pastures were heavily fertilized. If you plan to plant some Coastal Bermuda, be sure to consider these points for best results: 1. Prepare soil thoroughly and wait for rain before planting sprigs. 2. Coastal Bermuda may be planted on uplands and well-drained lowland soils. In South Georgia, plant anytime; vines soil is moist. In North Georgia, plant in spring to mid-summer. 3. Apply lime and fertilizer according to soil tests. Keep sprigs from coming into contact with fertilizer. On soils of medium fertility or higher, fertilizer should be applied only once a year. 4. For chemical weed control, use two pounds of 2, 4-D acid-equivalent in 30 to 40 gallons of water per acre immediately following planting. After it is established, one-half to one and one-half pounds of 2, 4-D acid-equivalent in 30 to 40 gallons of water per acre will help control broad leaf weeds. 5. Plant fresh moist sprigs in 6-foot rows and 1-foot in drill. Plant immediately after a rain. The sprigs should be covered no deeper than necessary to keep them moist. Firm the soil by rolling. It is best to leave 1 inch of the top above the ground. Plant same day or by all means, within two days of digging sprigs. 6. Coastal sprigs may be planted by dropping the sprigs and pushing them into soil, or dropping the sprigs in a shallow furrow and then covering and firming by rolling. Another method is to have one man turn the land, with a second man following and dropping the sprigs. Plant transplanters and tree planters are considered best of the mechanical planters. 7. Apply 15 to 20 inches of actual nitrogen per acre along row when plants have made 6 inches of growth. 8. Cultivate to control weeds and grass. 9. Each year fertilize according to soil tests. Split applications of nitrogen are best. 10. Cut hay when 15 to 18 inches high. For quality grazing, keep mowed or grazed down. ## Elect Edgar Wynn For Chairman of the Bulloch County BOARD OF COMMISSIONERS

On Wednesday, November 18, the qualified voters of Bulloch County will go to the polls and elect their county officers.

It is only fair to expect that the citizens who will exercise their privilege of voting are interested in those who are offering themselves as candidates for the several offices.

I am a candidate to succeed myself as Chairman of the County Board of Commissioners. I have been seeing and talking to as many people of the county as my duties will allow. I have answered their questions with complete honesty and frankness. I wish to assure those who I have not yet seen, and who I may not be able to see, that I am never satisfied with the accomplishments of my Commissioners' office. If I should arrive at that point where I am satisfied, then there would be nothing left to be done. New problems, new goals continue to challenge us, and demand careful consideration and study.

I can assure you that your County Commissioners office has the prime objective of serving all sections of the county with prejudice to none.

You can know that your county has received it's fair and proper share of funds to perform the services you deserve and demand.

I stand on my record, believing that that is the best test of what a public official can do.

And on that record I seek your vote and support of

Aging recognized as a community responsibility

By Charles T. Brown
Medical Director, Seventh
District, Headquarters in Statesboro, Ga.

During recent months a renewed interest is being taken in our older population. Groups working locally are cooperating with state and federal agencies in an effort to determine what can be done on a community level to assist our older citizens in living a more productive and happy life beyond the years of retirement.

Growing old gracefully is not a virtue attained by all of us as the years come and go. Lack of hobbies, declining health, loss of income, and the feeling of not being wanted cause many to approach old age with fear and trepidation. Loneliness, rejection, and the feeling of being put on the shelf are some of the sociological factors which undermine the health of the elderly. Good health is far more than the absence of disease or infirmity. A state of well being socially and mentally must also exist if we are to be really happy and healthy. This situation applies to every human being especially to our older people.

The older citizens want essentially the same things that the rest of us want—to be loved, to belong, and to be a part of our society and to feel that their skills and talents attained after many years of experience will be used and appreciated. The vast majority of our older people do not want to be wards of anyone but rather retain their dignity and self-respect. They want a helping hand at times if needed but not a hand out. Any factor that undermines the self-respect of a man or woman undermines the health and saps the will of life.

To live fully and richly old people must care, but they will not care unless society makes it clear that it cares; that everyone in the community values the wisdom and experience of the elderly and is anxious to use them.

At the present time there are more than 15,000,000 Americans who are 65 years or older. As our population increases, the proportion of our older people will continue to rise also. If longer and healthier lives are to be a blessing, these added years must be full and rewarding. Our life span has increased twenty years but these twenty extra years of life are an empty gift if they mean nothing more than a prolonged exercise in grim endurance. Society must help prepare the individual through education for retirement and old age. Society must replace the compulsory retirement with a more flexible approach based on ability and not chronological age.

Communities must prepare to meet the older persons particular needs whether that be in housing, recreation, or community understanding and acceptance. This challenge will not be met over night and will take the cooperative effort of every segment of our population, every profession, occupation, industry, labor organization, religious denomination, civic groups, community, and most important of all our family unit.

If we continue to work together as we have in the past, the day will eventually dawn when we can all look forward to old age as a life of pleasure and one that we can cherish.
