The Bulloch Herald

Statesboro, Georgia, Thursday, December 3, 1959

TO THE VOTERS OF BULLOCH COUNTY:

I would like to take this opportunity to express my sincere appreciation to each of you who saw fit to vote for me in last week's primary. It was indeed gratifying to learn that some 2,000 of you felt that I was qualified for the job which I sought and I shall be forever grateful for your support.

I would also like to offer publicly my congratulations to Mr. Neville for his victory and to wish him every success during his term of office. The campaign which he waged was clean and above-board and one of which he can certainly be proud.

I would like to give my special thanks to those of you who spent time and effort on my behalf and assure you that I am aware of your efforts and will never forget your kindness.

HOW MUCH IS YOUR TV SET WORTH?

It would take a lot of money to make most folks forego the entertainment they get from their TV sets. But how about when your set goes dead? How much will it be worth then?

If your only interest is getting back a picture without regard for the quality of that picture, you can save money by buying a cut-rate, off-brand picture tube. But nationwide tests show that the average brightness of cut-rate tubes is so low, you might set your TV reception back as much as five years.

If you want up-to-date performance—pictures that are brighter than when your set was new—we recommend a Sylvania Silver Screen 85 picture tube.

Pictures tubes used in today's TV sets are much brighter than they were five years ago. And seven out of ten leading TV manufacturers use Silver Screen 85 picture tubes in their new TV sets.

VOLUME XIX—ESTABLISHED MARCH 26, 1937—P. O. BOX 210 STATESBORO, GEORGIA, THURSDAY, DECEMBER 10, 1959

Four 4H Club boys honored by Ga. Power

Four Bulloch County 4-H Corn Club members and their dads, and extension agents were guests of the Georgia Power Company, at the Honors Day Luncheon, Tuesday, in Hapeville, Georgia, according to Tom Martin, district manager of Georgia Power Company.

This group included 4-H members Charles Deal, John Thomas Hodges, Paul Nesmith, Jr., and Bill Smith, their dads, Charlie R. Deal, Raymond D. Hodges, Paul Nesmith and William Smith, and Extension Agents Roy Powell and Jones Peebles.

The program began for the day with a tour of the Ford Motor Plant in Hapeville, where the group observed new cars being assembled. This tour was followed by a luncheon at the Ford Motor Plant, where the group was entertained by the Ford Motor Company.

Lamar Wynn, Rural Manager, Georgia Power Co., as master of Ceremonies and W. A. Sutton, Director of Extension Service, speaker.

Prizes were awarded, first through fourth place were: Electric Drill Set to Bill Smith, Radio-Chair Deal, Electric Drill to John Thomas Hodges and 4-H Club Jacket to Paul Nesmith, Jr.

This special 4-H Hybrid Corn program was inaugurated in 1947 by the Georgia Power Co., and the Extension Service, and the program began in 1947, less than a year after the war.

Of the Six Extension Districts of the State are selected to participate in the program. When the program began in 1947, less than 20 percent of the corn planted in Georgia was hybrid corn. Now, better than 80 percent of the corn planted in the state is hybrid, and this 4-H program has had a great bearing on making this possible.

Counties invited to participate this year were: Dade, Murray, Dwyer, Pulaski, Mitchell, Dooly, Monroe, Carroll, Wilkes, Columbia, Screven and Bulloch.

The sponsor of the program provided the prizes, and the transportation for the Bulloch County group was arranged by Tom Martin, who also accompanied the group to Hapeville.

After the Japanese surrender, the John Wiley BROCK became part of the occupation force of that country until November 1945 when she was ordered back to the United States for a short period of much-needed repairs at Boston Naval Shipyard.

The transport arrived at Green Cove Springs on April 13, 1946, where she was inactivated.

Three years to the day after the death of her heroic namesake, June 4, 1946, the United States Navy's John Wiley BROCK was placed on conversion to a high-speed transport at the Philadelphia Naval Shipyard. Reporting to the Pacific fleet in January 1945, she served as anti-submarine and anti-aircraft escort for 109 continuous days during the battle of Okinawa.

DOGWOOD GARDEN CLUB MEETS WITH MRS. I. A. BRANNEN

The Dogwood Garden Club met Wednesday afternoon of last week at the home of Mrs. I. A. Brannen on Savannah Avenue with Mrs. J. A. Addison and Mrs. J. W. Ray who were co-hostesses at the Christmas party.

The members exchanged gifts. Fruit cake and coffee were served.

Each of the members brought Christmas arrangements which were voted on by the members. The winning arrangements were those done by Mrs. I. A. Brannen and Mrs. Cecil Waters.

All arrangements were very attractive.

Members attending were Mrs. Grover Brannen, Mrs. Raleigh Brannen, Mrs. Belton Brannen, Mrs. Wallis Cobb Sr., Mrs. C. E. Cone, Mrs. Dew Groover, Mrs. Edna Hoelke, Mrs. W. C. Huggins, Mrs. J. M. Jackson, Mrs. Viola Perry, Mrs. Roy Powell, Mrs. B. H. Ramsey, Mrs. Bobby Smith, Mrs. B. W. Twitty, Mrs. Acquilla Warnock and Mrs. Cecil Waters.

HOE AND HOPE GARDEN CLUB MEETS DECEMBER 1

The Hoe and Hope Garden Club met Tuesday, December 1, at 3:30 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Jack Averitt. Mrs. Jack Averitt was co-hostess. Other members were Dot Simmons, president; Claire Macon, a new member; Joyce Mays, Frances Curry, Martha Redding, Evelyn Johnson, Corinne Sorrier, Mary Watson, Helen Dupree and Claudia Tinker.

Two beautifully appointed Christmas buffet tables were displayed. The hostesses arranged the elegant dining room buffet table from which the guests were served angel food cake with green icing, whipped cream, bright red strawberries and coffee.

Mary and Reba were responsible for the other buffet table which carried out the Christmas theme. The arrangements throughout the home were beautiful.

The program consisted of a talk by Mrs. Hannah of GTC on Christmas plants, their legend and tradition.

SPADE 'N' TROWEL GARDEN CLUB MEETING

Mrs. Walker Hill Jr. and Mrs. Charles Olliff Jr. were hostesses to the Spade 'N' Trowel Garden Club for its meeting on Tuesday, December 1, at the home of Mrs. Olliff. Coffee and coffee-cakes were served as the group gathered informally about the Christmas tree.

The business session was presided over by Mrs. H. P. Jones, Jr., vice-president, in the absence of the president. A main item of business was the report made by Mrs. Charlie Joe Matthews, finance chairman, of the very successful rose sale just completed by the club.

A report from Civic Improvement Chairman Mrs. Charles Olliff, Jr. and Mrs. Joe Robert Tillman disclosed plans in the making for new plantings of shrubbery at both Mattie Lively and Sally Zetterow Schools.

A timely tip furnished by Mrs. Mark Toole which was sent to her from the University of Georgia Extension School concurred the pros and cons of covering plants to prevent damage from freezing. The released stated that it has been proven that covering a plant damages the plant. It is better to let plants go uncovered.

Programs chairman Mrs. W. R. Lovett and Mrs. Julian Hodges announced ribbon winners among the club members for the various Christmas arrangements brought to the meeting for judging. The categories with ribbon winners were as follows:

Arrangement suitable for door, Mrs. Ed Olliff, blue ribbon; Arrangement for Entrance Hall,

PRESTON-NEVIL REHEARSAL PARTY

On Saturday evening, November 28, Mrs. J. Lemuel Nevil, the groom's mother and her sisters, Mrs. C. M. Robbins Sr., Mrs. Althea Adams, Mrs. J. R. Brewster, and Mrs. Alphonso DeLoach entertained the bridal party and out-of-town guests in the banquet room at Mrs. Bryant's Kitchen.

The U-shaped table seated 60 guests. The bride and groom and the bridesmaids were seated at the head of the table which was the focal point for a lovely arrangement in traditional bridal beauty. Two large golden wedding bands, veiled in misty net and tiny white flowers, were based on a plateau of bronze and yellow chrysanthemums from which garlands of fall leaves in tones of russet and deep yellow, highlighted by yellow candles, trailed the length of the table.

A festive smorgasbord wedding feast was served, colorful and bounteous, akin to the custom of the old South.

BRIDE'S LUNCHEON AT COUNTRY HOUSE

On Sunday, November 29, seventy guests dined at the Country House, of Mr. and Mrs. William Woodcock, Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Morris, Mr. and Mrs. B. B. Morris, and Mrs. J. B. Johnson were hosts at the bride's luncheon, honoring Miss Anne Preston on her wedding day. The guests included the parents of the bride and groom, their attendants, and all out-of-town guests.

The long table was decorated with small red chrysanthemums mingled with yellow mums in a large brass container. Dried fall arrangements and greenery were used in the living room. A smorgasbord luncheon was served.

JESSIE LOU CLARK AND JIMMY FRANKLIN HONORED AT OUT DOOR SUPPER

On Thanksgiving Day, Mrs. Archie Nesmith entertained at an outdoor supper at her country home honoring Miss Jessie Lou Clark and her fiancé, Jimmy Franklin.

The table presented an early Pilgrims Thanksgiving theme in the use of miniature pilgrims flanking the horn of plenty overflowing with colorful fruits of the Harvest season. Indians with bright head bands marked the places. The scene was lighted with hurricane lamps.

Supper guests were Miss Clark, Mr. Franklin, Miss Bonnie Clark and Lee Perkins, Miss Barbara Brunson and Al McDougald, Miss Rose Franklin and Snets Blitch, Miss Ginny Lee and Jerome Jones, Miss Janice Clark and Nicky Brown, Miss Kay Minkovitz and Pete Johnson, Miss Julie Jeffords and Hoke Brannen, Miss Sylvia Brunson and Don Anderson, Miss Joyce Veal and Al Allen, and Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Thompson.

Mrs. Lucy Franklin is honored at Boston University dedication

Mrs. Lucy Jenkins Franklin, of Brookline, Mass., a frequent visitor in Statesboro, has been signally honored by Boston University where she was dean of women from 1925 until her retirement in 1948.

Mrs. Franklin is the wife of Dr. George Bruce Franklin, retired professor of English, who grew up in the Register community. He is a brother of Dr. Paul G. Franklin, of this city, and of Mrs. E. A. Brannen, of near Statesboro.

On November 8 Mrs. Franklin was the key figure at the dedication of Boston University's new $2,500,000 women's dormitory, The Towers. A portrait of her painted by Richmond Knapp Fletcher, was unveiled in a ceremony attended by several hundred students and alumni. The portrait hangs in the Lucy Jenkins Franklin Lounge, furnished in honor by the University Women's Council.

University President Harold C. Case presided. Mrs. David D. Nickerson, of the Women's Council, spoke of Mrs. Franklin's stimulating influence, wise counsel and perfect leadership. Elizabeth Melville, the present dean of women, said several of Mrs. Franklin's innovations at B. U. were "copied across the nation even across the world."

Mrs. Franklin, now 82, said in her response: "There is no age limit to dreaming, and so I go on dreaming of the world and of Boston University's place in it. My thoughts go to the students, for they will have the greatest opportunities that have ever come to young people."

Boston University now has 11,000 fulltime students (more than 20,000 including part time and summer students.)

Senior Woman's Club hears Representative Prince Preston

By EDNA L. HOFFEL

The Senior Woman's Club, which met at the Recreation Center on Thursday, November 19 at 3:30 p.m., had an educational and inspiring program with the Hon. Prince Preston, who was introduced by Mrs. Jack Smith as the speaker. His topics were "Freedom—What is it under the United States Constitution?" and "Freedom Enjoyed—Freedom Threatened." He said he had a deep reverence for the Constitution and that this reverence was second only to that he has for the Bible. He told how the Constitution was made, how we have the freedom of a choice in religion, where we live, etc. A Democrat, he asked, "Where did it originate?" and went on to tell how it developed to a great degree in our country than in any other country. It is because our nation is more flexible.

The Constitution is remarkable in that in 169 years, only 22 changes have been made. It fits today as well as when written. In 1778 it was agreed upon, and was ratified in 1789. The 22 amendments deal with the question of freedom. Ten of these are called the "Bill of Rights," were adopted September after the Constitution was ratified in March. So in 169 years, there were really only 12 changes, and two of those were the 18th amendment, and the abolishing of the same. This brings the number of changes down to ten. Ten changes in 169 years.

The Constitution was written based on past human behavior. The best England had to offer was taken and improved upon. The first ten amendments, or the "Bill of Rights," give us the safety and security we enjoy. The only one abused is the Freedom of the Press. This should be a freedom in which the people can express themselves, not just the ideas of one person. Henry VIII saw how influential the press could be, and put a "muzzle" on it.

The 11th and 12th amendments are amendments to the 13th, 14th and 15th. The 13th abolished slavery. The 14th and 15th are about States Rights. The Hon. Prince Preston says the States granted the powers. In Canada, it was just the opposite. All the power was given to the Federal Government and the states kept only a little for themselves. The Australian Government is like ours. Because the State has power in the United States, Congress has refused to step in about the school question.

The 17th amendment was about Woman Suffrage. The Constitution guarantees the rights we had as states before the United States Constitution was made. We have the freedom of a choice in religion, where we live, etc. A Democrat, he asked, "Where did it originate?" and went on to tell how it developed to a great degree in our country than in any other country. It is because our nation is more flexible.

A person charged with a crime is entitled to be tried by his peers. The Federal Government has encroached on this area in regard to income tax, and this is an encroachment on individual liberty. Hon. Prince Preston introduced a bill in the House to rectify this, and the bill was adopted.

In regard to the Freedom of the Press, it has been abused by newspapers. The Freedom of Religion has not been threatened. The Government has to take care of the public. There are some shrewd, clever and designing people who could gobble up all of the freedoms. They think the Constitution is out dated. The Free-Lance people are also doing this.

It is difficult to amend the Constitution. Someone asked why a Congressman's term was only two years' duration. Hon. Preston believes that our forefathers knew that having to come back home to get another term will keep a Congressman honest. The people he represents, and he will therefore

Bulloch Home Demonstration Club holds Thirteenth Annual Banquet

The Bulloch County Home Demonstration Council held its 13th Annual Banquet at Mrs. Bryant Kite's home on November 16 at 7:30 with the theme of "Service as Hostess Club." The tables were beautifully decorated with an arrangement of chrysanthemums in a globe shape. Cards with the council's name and seal marked each guest's place. During the turkey dinner, Miss Judy Nesmith, program, "Count Your Blessings," was on the table, and as each person came up and deposited her gift for "Care" in a box, she lit a candle and placed it on the table. Needless to say, some candles had to be taken off to be replaced by others.

Mrs. Georgia Brett furnished the music during the social hour. Mrs. A. J. Trappnell, 1959 Council President, gave a vote of thanks to the Council, Club members, and Agents. Mrs. Gertrude M. Gear, Mrs. Beatrice

Vote on Cotton quotas set for December 15

Tuesday, December 15, has been set as the date for cotton farmers to vote on marketing quotas for the 1960 cotton crop, John F. Bradley, Administrative Officer of the Agriculture Stabilization and Conservation State Office, announced today.

Upland cotton quotas must be proclaimed by the Secretary of Agriculture whenever the supply exceeds normal. The current estimated supply of 23,154,000 running bales for 1959-60 exceeds normal by 4,434,000 bales.

In proclaiming quotas the Secretary also announced that Choice (B) allotments for 1960 - provided quaters are in effect for the crop - will be 40 percent larger than the "regular" Choice (A) farm allotments.

The December 15 vote is an important one, Bradley emphasized, because its outcome will determine whether marketing quotas become effective for 1960, the kind of allotment program in effect for the level of price support available for next year's crop.

If the quotas are favored by at least two-thirds of the growers voting in the referendum, marketing quotas with penalties on "excess" cotton will be in effect for the 1960 upland cotton crop. Growers will have a choice between the "A" and "B" allotments and price support will be available at not less than 75% of parity for "A" cotton and 60 percent of parity for "B" cotton. If more than one-third of the growers voting in the referendum oppose the quotas, there will be no marketing quotas or penalties in effect for the 1960 upland cotton crop. Only the "regular" Choice "A" - allotments will be in effect and price support will drop to 50 percent of parity for cotton grown in compliance with allotments.

Bradley pointed out that the 40-percent increase permitted to growers who choose to grow their 1960 - crop upland under the Choice (B) program - under a marketing quota program - is the same percentage increase provided under the 1959 program. By law, the price support under Choice (B) would be percent of parity lower than under Choice (A).

SHS 'Y' Clubs sponsor big party Dec. 21

Statesboro High School "Y" Clubs are sponsoring a Holiday Ball to be held in the High School Lunchroom, Monday evening, December 21, from 8 to 11 P. M. All students, faculty, and alumni are invited and may bring any guest of their choice.

Tickets, 50c per couple and 35c sing, may be purchased from Mr. J. H. Hagin, Jim Alderman, J. H. Hagin, or may be obtained at the door. Dress is formal or semi-formal.

Highlighting the evening will be the presentation of "Mr. and Miss Christmas Spirit," selected by a student body prior to the dance. A contest will be composed of the 8 runners-up, 4 boys and 4 girls. In addition to an entertaining program, valuable door prizes will be given away.

Committees and chairmen are: Refreshments, Kay Preston; Decorations, Joyce Clark; Publicity, Kay Minkovitz; Entertainment, Hugh Burke; Tickets, Marsha Cannon and Mary Emmy Johnston.

tary schools, as well as the Statesboro High School Band.

Mr. Dale Jensen, the director of these groups, states, "One of our main features will be a Tuba solo played by Hugh Burke, an outstanding bandman for many years, and last year was selected to attend the All-state Band in Atlanta."

"If you are unable to get downtown on Saturday and wish to contribute to the band's growth, simply mail your contribution to me, in care of Ken's Print Shop, or on Saturday, call 4-3013 or 4-3150, and someone will come to your house and bring your dollar and ticket," Mr. Witte said.

"The Blue Devil Band provides pleasure for many, in their performances in performances in ball games and concerts, as well as teaching our school children an appreciation of good music. Now is the time to show your appreciation for this fine work. Support your band on Band Booster's Day, Saturday, the 12th of December," he added.

Make sure your Christmas tree is fire safe for Christmas season

By Roy Powell, County Agent

The Christmas season for most of us has been a season of happy memories, but this might not be so. Many tragic fires are caused each Christmas season as a result of negligence in Christmas tree decorating. These fires are avoidable.

An important precaution is to use lights and cords bearing the Underwriter's Laboratories Label. This label means that the product has been manufactured under rigid safety regulations.

Light sets that have frayed cords faulty, ill-fitting sockets, or loose connections should not be used in decorating the tree, and care should be taken not to overload the electrical circuit.

Other don'ts for safe Christmas decorating are: On outside decorations, don't hang sockets so they will collect water; don't use candles on tree lights on white gone from home.

To keep your Christmas merry, let's follow these safety suggestions:

HEAT FOR POULTRY
Heat is considered by many poultry experts to be the most important single factor influencing the health of a broiler during the winter months. Feed consumption and growth rate may be decreased by too little heat in the broiler house. Susceptibility to disease is also increased.

For flocks of 10,000 birds or more you should use a central heating system; however, for less than 10,000 birds hover type heating units are satisfactory. Sufficient heat should be applied to make the birds comfortable until they are marketed. Birds are comfortable when evenly distributed over the area. They should not be bunched together.

The recommended temperatures for brooding are: first week, 85 degrees F; second week, 90 degrees F; third week, 85 degrees F; fourth week, 80 degrees F; fifth week, 75 degrees F; and sixth week, 70 degrees F.

Temperatures under the hover should be taken at the edge of the hover three to five inches above the litter. House temperature should not be less than 50 degrees F. Maintaining this 50 degree temperature during severe cold weather may require auxiliary heating units.

The maximum number of chicks per hover should be 800 for a 96-inch hover and 600 for a 84-inch hover.

PLANTING TREE SEEDLINGS
If you're planting forest tree seedlings this winter, or early spring, remember to keep root system moist. And that means

Mrs. Jean Bachelor of Portsmouth, Va., and Savannah visited Mrs. D. L. Morris and other relatives and friends here. Mrs. Johnny Roberts returned to Savannah with her mother, Mrs. D. L. Morris, and her sister, Mrs. Johnny Roberts, who is visiting here.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Morris and Mrs. Lillian Morris, were spend-the-day guests of Mr. and Mrs. James H. Morris and Gary in Savannah last Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. William H. Morris and son, Billy Joe of Brooklet, visited Mrs. D. L. Morris and Mrs. Johnny Roberts last Sunday night.

Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Kennedy of Savannah spent last Sunday visiting her mother, Mrs. D. L. Morris, and her sister, Mrs. Johnny Roberts, who is visiting here.

Mr. and Mrs. Lavern Sanders of Chatham City spent the weekend visiting her parent, Mr. and Mrs. H. N. Shuring.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest McDonald of Denmark visited Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Morris and family and also Mrs. D. L. Morris last Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Willie Gene Morris and Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Ray and Frankie Ray of Eldora visited Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Morris last Sunday evening.

BELIEVE IT OR NOT—We have a pear tree that has its second crop of pears on it this year. Along about the last of July and August, we picked and pears off of our pear tree, and now on Dec. 5th there are three pears—second crop of this year—on the same tree. I have never known of two crops of fruit on a pear tree before. The fruit is miniature in size.

Mrs. B. E. Beasley spent a few days last week in Savannah where she visited relatives.

Referendum on peanut quotas set for Dec. 15

A national marketing quota referendum of peanut growers—the first in three years—will be held December 15, Bulloch Agricultural, Stabilization and Conservation Committee Chairman V. J. Rowe, announced today. The balloting will determine whether or not marketing quotas will be in effect for the next three crops of peanuts.

If at least two-thirds of the voters are favorable, quotas will be in effect for the 1960-1961 and 1962 crops of peanuts, penalties will apply to "excess" peanuts, and price supports will be available to growers who comply with their acreage allotments at the full level of support announced.

If more than one-third of the voters oppose, quotas and penalties will not be in effect for the 1960 peanut crop, and the level of price support to eligible growers will drop to 50 percent of parity. In such a case, another referendum would be held in 1960 for the following three crops.

A grower will be eligible to vote in the December 15 referendum, Mr. Rowe said, if he is entitled to share in 1959-crop peanuts planted for harvest as a farmer having more than one acre of peanuts planted.

Peanut marketing quotas have been in effect each year since 1949. In last year's referendum, quotas for the 1957, 1958 and 1959 crops were favored by 93.5 percent of the growers voting.

4-H Club puts welcome signs on highways

Roadsigns to greet passing motorists and to extend a friendly welcome from the fourteen 4-H Clubs in Bulloch County were erected by the 4-H Council members on Saturday afternoon, November 21, on the seven main highways leading into Bulloch County.

4-H members, Bill Smith, Larry Thompson, Kelly Jones, Ronald Deal, Luecia Smith, Billie Alderman and Linda Woodard were assisted by Extension Agents Mrs. Beatrice Davis and Jones Peebles.

4-H Clubsters and Leaders will express their appreciation to the following business concerns for making these signs possible:

A. B. McDougald, Bulloch County Bureau, Gold Kist Peanut Growers, Bulloch County Bank, Sea Island Bank, Producers Co-op and Bulloch Tractor Company.

Fox trapping to continue in Bulloch county

Announcement was made this week by Jack Wheelchel, public health engineer of health district number seven, that the control measures designed to curtail the recent outbreak of rabies in the fox population to the southeastern section of Bulloch county, are continuing and have "met with fair success."

To control completely the possibility of a rabies outbreak, "we must continue our all-out effort in the area toward trapping and begin some trapping in other sections of the county," Mr. Wheelchel said.

He stated that the success of the fox trapping program to control rabies depends upon daily inspection by the citizens in the county who place traps on their property.

Mr. Wheelchel said that the health department urges all the people interested in doing some trapping of foxes to contact the local health department for traps and instruction on the trapping procedures.

Smith-Tillman Mortuary was in charge.

Editorials

There'll be times to be remembered

The coming days between now and Christmas will be filled with times to remember, things to recall, incidents to smile over in recollection.

And the ones which will linger longest will be those which concern your children.

There'll be the first Christmas tree, with all its bright and glittering tinsel and twinkling lights. There'll be the curiosity which is generated by the pictures of Santa Claus and the talk of what he'll bring. There'll be the problem of the stockings to be hung. There'll be the faltering in the faith in Santa Claus by the older ones and the problem of restoring it.

There'll be the Story of Christmas to be told or read to the little ones. And the racking of brains to answer the myriad questions put by them about the Christ Child. And all the while you'll be given the wonderful opportunity of giving your children the greatest gift of all—Faith in God.

When you give Faith, you give them the world and all. And the wonderful part is that Faith is yours to give, no matter who you are, what you do for a living, how much you have in the bank. And for some, the Faith you give them will remain brilliant throughout the year, and if nurtured properly, it will remain a light for all for the future.

Christmas is for children. Don't let it get involved with the commercialism with which we adults surround it. Keep it warm, and wonderful for them. It's theirs to dream about, to wonder about, to experience.

Aging—a problem which touches us all

Recently a group of Bulloch County citizens gathered together to talk about the problem of Aging. The group is keenly aware that a problem exists in our land—the problem of growing old.

Awareness that a problem exists is the beginning of its solution.

Back in September, 1958, an Act of Congress was signed by President Eisenhower, authorizing a White House Conference on Aging to be held in Washington on January 9-13 in 1961.

The meeting of the group here on Tuesday night, Nov. 10, was the first step toward that conference. Three of the group went to Savannah Friday, November 20 to a meeting to help plan Georgia's participating in the White House Conference in 1961.

Life spans are growing longer. Housing, sizes of pensions, and other resources needed by the elderly are not keeping up.

It is to study these problems that we are now directing our efforts. The objectives deserve the support of all. The problem of the Aging is one which will touch us all.

Let's trade at home

This is the time of the year when editors of newspapers in a town like ours go all out to help the hometown merchants sell the citizens of their communities on the idea that it's good business to shop at home.

The advantages are so obvious that one would think it would not be necessary to express concern over the problem. But 'tis not so. About this time every Christmas season citizens get in their cars and take off, on crowded highways, to our metropolitan neighbors, lured by the glamour of big city shopping. And in many cases end their trip back home in disappointment, only to learn that had they shopped at home with their neighbor shop keeper they could have found what they wanted for less money.

Just a casual visit to the stores in Statesboro and Bulloch County will reveal that they are well stocked with the same items carried in the big stores in larger cities. Brand names are the same. The quality the same. The prices lower. The service more personal.

Your friends, your neighbors, your relatives, your acquaintances here in Bulloch County depend upon your trade here. You may, in turn, depend upon them for their trade with you and yours.

We are all dependent upon each other. And when you take your money out of Bulloch County to do your trading you are not helping your community.

Think twice, do your shopping at home.

Happy birthday

Our neighbor, The Claxton Enterprise, had a birthday recently—it's forty-eighth.

We like the way the editor, Fred

Eden, put it in looking forward to becoming fifty years old. "We're getting Younger All the Time." He puts his readers on notice that when the Enterprise gets to be fifty that'll "be something to brag about" and he hints that there'll be a doozy of a celebration.

We congratulate the Claxton Enterprise on its forty-eighth birthday, even if a little late, it's former editor and owner, R. E. L. (Mr. Bob) Majors is one of Georgia's outstanding newspapermen and one who helped us in our struggling youth and gave us strength with his encouragement. Though retired, Mr. Bob's influence is still strong in the Georgia press. And he has a worthy successor in Fred Eden.

We're looking forward to that Golden Anniversary.

"Profs"—giant killers

First it was Georgia Tech and now it's the University of Georgia. Both giants given the works by the Professors of Georgia Teachers College.

On December 1, of last year the GTC basketball team defeated Georgia Tech in Atlanta 72 to 64. Then on December 9 the Profs defeated the University of Georgia here 82 to 73.

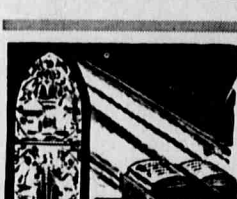

GTC fans feel completely justified in referring to the Drows as "giant killers." And the title fits. We commend the Profs and their coaches upon their basketball successes. And we suggest that you go out to see them when they play Pembroke State College here Saturday night.

Right now, every uniform that we own is being used. So is every instrument. This means simply that next year we will have 23 youngsters marching down the street with no uniforms. And it means that next year's band will be top-heavy; lacking, that is, in bass instruments such as tubas, baritone, and the lower reeds. This is something like hearing the Statesmen quartet without their bass singer, or building a large structure without a foundation.

Instrumentally speaking, we would need two tubas and two baritones, in the brasses. In the woodwinds, we need a bass clarinet, a tenor saxophone, a bassoon and an oboe. In the drums, we need one parade snare drum, two parade tenor drums, two pairs of cymbals, and a concert snare drum. Altogether, these instruments cost around $4,000. That's right, $4,000! And the uniforms will be about $1,800.

That is a great deal of money. But we feel that it is wisely

BUT BOYS, IT'S GETTING HEAVY...

CHARLES WESLEY'S CHRISTMAS MESSAGE

The greatness of a man is often obscured by the brilliant success of another. Such a man was Charles Wesley, poet, preacher, and singer in the Evangelical Revival of the eighteenth century.

While he was perhaps a more appealing preacher than his brother John, his enduring fame rests upon the nearly seven thousand hymns which he wrote. He said: "I began a hymn on my conversion."

Mr. Wesley's contribution to the Christmas season is found in the familiar "Hark, the Herald Angels Sing," and the less familiar but meaningful, "Come, Thou Long Expected Jesus."

When Charles Wesley pondered the desires and hopes of the Jewish nation for a Messiah, he discovered the prospect of the coming of Jesus, running like a golden thread throughout the Old Testament. So he began to write: "COME, THOU LONG EXPECTED JESUS."

To him, Jesus did not burst on the stage of human life "out of the blue." Prophet, priest, and peasant had long looked for His coming.

As he meditated on the wiles and woes of the Hebrew nation, their agonizing existence under Pharaoh's whip-lash, their fluctuating loyalty to God; and their cruel captivity at the hands of pagan powers, he wrote these words: "ISRAEL'S STRENGTH AND CONSOLATION." The coming strengthen His people in trial and console them in sorrow.

Next, he made a present-day application by calling Bethlehem's Babe the "HOPE OF ALL THE EARTH," and when that failed to express fully his thought, he added: "DEAR DESIRE OF EVERY NATION."

In this Singer of Methodism's mind, the prospect of Christ's Coming was only a prelude to the purpose in His coming. In both these hymns we find the keen intellect and warm heart of Charles Wesley at work.

This Week's Meditation

For him, the coming of Jesus was to free His people. He phrased it like this: "BORN TO SET THY PEOPLE FREE FROM OUR SINS AND FEARS RELEASE US LET US FIND OUR REST IN THEE."

What pointed truth for a fear-obsessed twentieth-century whose mind is more on satellites than sanctity, and more on Khrushchev than Christ.

He indicated another reason for His coming thus: "LIGHT AND LIFE TO ALL HE BRINGS." He remembered the words of the Master: "I am the light of the world," and also, "I am the life."

Still again, he wrote: "BORN TO RAISE THE SONS OF EARTH, BORN TO GIVE THEM SECOND BIRTH." Charles Wesley and his brother John had witnessed a near revolution in their native England. For them human nature had a bent to sinning. So they saw in the coming of the Christ, help for a struggling, stumbling, humbly groping for God.

Furthermore, Wesley pondered the purpose of His coming, he remembered the significance of the Resurrection, and wrote: "BORN THAT MAN NO MORE MAY DIE." Like a ray of brilliant sunlight piercing the darkness of a dismal day, comes the truth that in Jesus life can be lived in God forever.

He concludes his reasons for Christ's coming by saying: "He was 'BORN TO REIGN IN US FOREVER.'" Not only to free us, release us, rest us, but to reign in us, and to give us new birth, and assurance of immortality, but to reign in our lives forever.

Is there any wonder, then, that these hymns hold a message for us today, and that we can join in praising the "NEW BORN KING?"

So many people seem to be concerned as to whether or not the people who receive these articles appreciate them. In most instances they do, but the real joy is in the giving and in nothing else.

For years I have held on to one of those red heavy army overcoats. I wore the thing

TAKE TIME OUT Saturday night, December 12, and go see the GTC Professors play Pembroke State College of Pembroke, N. C., in a good, fast basketball game. We make this suggestion for two reasons.

First, it'll be a good basketball game. The Profs are on the Go! And then, and this is just as good a reason as the first, it is "Youth Night" when the Profs will play host to kids from fifty-eight high schools in this section of Georgia. And, here's the clincher, all the proceeds, beyond the expense of the game, will go to the youth of Statesboro and Bulloch County through the Statesboro Recreation Department, GTC Coach and Athletic Director J. B. Scarce, Jr. and Rec Superintendent Max Lockwood worked out the details for the game.

And this will be the last time local fans will get to see the Profs play this year. Their next home game will be January 9 when they will play Stetson University here.

MEMO TO FOOTBALL Bowl fans: Here is a schedule of the football bowl games: Saturday, December 12, the Blue Grass Bowl at Louisville, Ky. Saturday, December 13, the Blue Bonnet Bowl at Houston, Texas; the Liberty Bowl game at Philadelphia, Pa.; the Holiday Bowl at San Diego, Calif. Thursday, December 31, the Sun Bowl at El Paso, Texas. Friday, January 1, the Cotton Bowl, Dallas, Texas. The Sugar Bowl, New Orleans, La.; the Rose Bowl at Pasadena, Calif.; the Orange Bowl at Miami, Fla.; the Tangerine Bowl at Orlando, Fla.; Saturday, January 2, the Gator Bowl at Jacksonville, Florida.

NEW MEMBERS of the Statesboro Junior Chamber of Commerce are: Charles Brannon, John Ed Brannon and W. A. (Bill) Youngblood.

WE SHALL HAVE music during the Christmas season. This writing three of the Statesboro churches have announced plans for Christmas music. The First Baptist Church will present its choir in the Hallelujah Chorus from Handel's oratorio, "The Messiah" on Sunday evening, December 13, at 7:30 o'clock. It will be directed by Bernard Morris. The Pittman Park Church Choir will present "The Story of Christmas" in song that same night. The choir will be under the direction of Mrs. Fred A. Wallace. The Calvary Baptist Church Junior Choir, under the direction of Mr. George Dwinell, will present a program of Christmas music on Sunday evening, December 20, at 7:30 o'clock. We will announce others as they are reported to us.

IF THE SPADE 'N TROWEL Garden Club has its way Statesboro can become another City of Roses. A report on the Club's annual rose bush sale reveals that homeowners in our town bought 590 rose bushes. And if you're interested the favorites included 65 Charlotte Armstrongs, 48 Doctors, 39 Eclipses, 38 Mirandys and 37 Garden Party.

Mrs. Albert Braswell, club president, expresses the appreciation of the club members for the complete cooperation all gave to the sale. Profits are being invested in beautifying the school grounds of the Sallie Zetterover and Mattie Lively elementary schools.

Rockwell's diversification is based upon basic objectives

DIVERSIFICATION

By W. F. Rockwell Jr., President, Rockwell Manufacturing Co.

Diversification has become a very fashionable word with a sometimes misleading connotation. To say that a company is diversified has come to mean, for many, that it is on that account alone a good investment. If that were true, life would be simple.

Actually, of course, diversification can be had as well as good. It can destroy the equity of shareholders as well as enhance it. The long term value of any company's diversification program can be judged only with a knowledge of how it is diversified, and why.

This is not always easy because there are probably as many kinds of diversification as there are kinds of companies. Diversification by different markets for the same product, by different products for the same market, by products unrelated except that they utilize the same type of manufacturing industries... water meters, valves, parking meters, and voting machines for local and state governments... power tools and measuring instruments and control devices for general industry. Such diverse measuring devices as taximeters, instrument clocks, voting machines, and parking meters are related in the production know-how and facilities—it would be possible to go on and on.

And there is that indefinable type which has been called diversification regardless of products, markets, or management skill required—as long as it looks like a bargain.

Our own diversification has been called "related diversification," and that is probably as good a label as any. We make three kinds of products: measuring devices, control devices, and power tools. These products (a total of 25,000 types, models and sizes) are related in many ways. Some are related by the markets they serve: power tools and driver training devices for schools, lubricated pit valves, petroleum meters, gas meters, unrelated except that they utilize the same type of manufacturing facilities. This is not always easy because there are probably as many kinds of diversification as there are kinds of companies. Diversification by different markets for the same product, by different products for the same market, by products unrelated except that they utilize the same type of manufacturing

W. F. ROCKWELL JR.

PITTSBURGH, Pa.—Willard F. Rockwell Jr., president of Rockwell Manufacturing Company, has been elected president of the Pittsburgh Better Business Bureau.

The appointment was announced by the Bureau's Board of Directors.

In accepting the office, Mr. Rockwell pointed to the need for an ethical renaissance to match Pittsburgh's brick and stone renaissance and asked that Pittsburgh area business firms re-dedicate themselves to the principles of "Truth in Advertising."

Referring to the widely publicized exposes of TV quiz shows, Mr. Rockwell stated that it was becoming apparent that if advertising does not clean up its own house, some body else will.

"The Better Business Bureau, as the voluntary agency of decent business, will devote a major portion of its 1960 activities in getting all local advertisers to comply with the Pittsburgh Advertising Code," Mr. Rockwell stated.

"American industry has done its work well in the economic market—it now needs to set itself in the social market by demonstrating its interest in its customers and its employees. Our business supported Better Business Bureau is strong evidence that legitimate Pittsburgh business is concerned with the well-being of our citizens."

Mr. Rockwell is past president and director-at-large of the Pennsylvania State Chamber of Commerce, and a member of its Executive Committee, as well as a director of the Pittsburgh Chamber of Commerce.

National Guard offers plan for 17-year-olds

Your son, if he is 17, or older may soon be faced with military decision regarding military service. He can take his chance on waiting to be drafted. This, however, may make it difficult for him to plan ahead for his education or his civilian career.

On the other hand, he can if he acts now—make practical plans which will permit him to complete his education and enter upon a civilian career with a minimum of interruption. Here is how:

Your son may enter the Statesboro Army National Guard and undergo the active duty training for six months. This will include basic training and some technical training. If he is in high school when he enlists, he may arrange to take his active duty training at any time within a year of his enlistment; thus, if he is a senior, he may defer training until he is graduated from high school. When he enlists, he may expect to enter training within 120 days of his enlistment.

Now, when he leaves for active duty training, he will still be a Guardsman. In fact, he may be given a regular Army basic course, followed by a period of individual training in skills which will be useful to him in his civilian career. During his six months period of active training, your son will have leave to come home.

Upon completion of this active duty training, he will return home to complete his Ready Reserve service by attending weekly Monday night drills with the Statesboro Georgia Army National Guard at the National Guard Armory, and participating in two weeks of summer training each year. He can still attend school or his job while training with the Guard. The total of his six months active duty training and subsequent Ready Reserve training is 3 and one-half years.

Upon completion of his Ready Reserve service, he can request transfer to the Standby Reserve and will not be subject to further call unless an emergency is declared by Congress. The ideal time for your son to join the National Guard is as soon as possible after his 17th birthday, and certainly before he reaches 18 and one-half. While this particular bit of information applies to men between 17 and 18 and a half, there is also opportunity for men between 18 and a half and 26 years of age to take active duty training with the National Guard.

Up until the last few weeks, the Statesboro National Guard had very few vacancies for any new men. However, due to a recently granted increase in strength authorization, new men can now be enlisted until the new figure is reached. Now is the time for young men to apply for enlistment before the quota is reached. All applicants must pass a prescribed qualification test. Parents are encouraged to come out to the Armory, or call 4-2780, for any additional information desired.

Major portion of its 1960 activities in getting all local advertisers to comply with the Pittsburgh Advertising Code," Mr. Rockwell stated.

"American industry has done its work well in the economic market—it now needs to set itself in the social market by demonstrating its interest in its customers and its employees. Our business supported Better Business Bureau is strong evidence that legitimate Pittsburgh business is concerned with the well-being of our citizens."

Rev. Dan Williams talks at Kiwanis Club on Youth Problems of Today

By MRS. JOHN A. ROBERTSON

At the meeting of the Kiwanis Club last Thursday night the guest speaker was the Rev. Dan Williams, pastor of the First Methodist Church in Statesboro, who gave a most inspiring discussion on "The Youth Problems of Today."

During the business session Sylvester Parish, president of the club, appointed the committee to light the Christmas tree on the town square, that has been used for several years. This committee, consisting of Joe Ingram, John McCormick, Posie Floyd Akins and Raymond Posie, has completed the tree and the committee is to bring a pie or a bowl of salad.

The president also appointed Rev. Kent L. Gilenwater, Rev. W. E. Chapple, L. Minnerbrook, Ed Wynn, the committee to arrange for Christmas baskets to be distributed to the shut-ins of the community. Plans were completed for Ladies Night to be held December 10, when the guest speaker will be Dr. Jim Park of Teachers College. A town election was held December 2, and the following town officials were elected: Mayor H. M. Robertson; councilmen, T. E. Davis, Joe Ingram, J. L. Parikh, F. C. Rozier and H. G. Parikh.

Future Nurses at SEBH to make dolls to give children at hospital

By MRS. E. F. TUCKER

The Future Nurses of South-east Bulloch met in Mrs. Clontz's home recently. Margaret Mitchell, president, presided. The group gave a report after the reading of the minutes. The club then decided to make dolls out of wash clothes to give to the children at the hospital for Christmas. Donnie Anderson and Mary Ellen Lanier gave a demonstration on how to make the dolls.

Mary Alice Belcher thanked the club for sending her flowers when she was sick.

After the business, Ann Atkins gave an inspiring devotional. The meeting was then adjourned and delicious refreshments were served.

Homer Frawley of Ft. Jackson, S. C., spent the week-end, at home.

Mr. and Mrs. J. O. White of Statesboro, were visitors here.

Nevils WSCS meets at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Walton Nesmith Thurs.

By MRS. JIM ROWE

The Nevils WSCS met in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Walton Nesmith on Thursday afternoon of last week to plan for the annual Christmas program which will be presented at the Nevils Methodist Church on Tuesday evening, December 22 at 7:30 o'clock.

All the children of the church school will have parts in the program. The program will consist of three scenes. The children in the Beginners, the Primary and the Junior classes will be in the first scene. The Inter-mediate and MYF will present the second scene and the third scene will be the ceremony of Jesus' birthday.

A large birthday cake holding one huge candle will be the centerpiece for the large round table. It will be surrounded by twelve smaller candles. All persons whose birthdays come in January will go forward and place a "love offering" on the altar. Birthdays for the month in the year will follow.

The funds contributed will be used for equipping the new annex to the church. The WSCS members will serve coffee with the birthday cake. The children will be served Santa Claus cake and fruit punch after the program.

There will be no exchange of gifts in the church this year. It is announced, but the amount one might have spent on gifts will be presented as the love offering.

The public is invited to attend the service.

The Bulloch-Candler Food Service Association will hold its regular monthly meeting Monday, December 14th, with a Christmas party at the South-east Bulloch High School at 3 o'clock, with Mrs. Virgie McElven and Mrs. Morgan Waters as hostesses.

MRS. JAMES LEMUEL NEVILL JR., the former Miss Anne Christian Preston, daughter of U. S. Representative Prince H. Preston and Mrs. Preston, whose wedding was an event of November 29.

MISS ANNE PRESTON BECOMES BRIDE OF MR. NEVILL

The First Baptist Church of Statesboro was the scene Sunday afternoon November 29 of the wedding of Miss Anne Christian Preston, daughter of U. S. Representative and Mrs. Prince H. Preston, and James Lemuel Nevill, Jr., son of Mrs. James Nevill, Sr. of Metter, and the late Dr. Nevill.

The Reverend J. Robert Smith, pastor of the church, officiated at the ceremony following a program of nuptial music by Bern and Morris, soloist, and Dr. Jack N. Averitt, organist. Massed palms formed a background for a central arrangement of bronze and yellow chrysanthemums in a brass candelabra, flanked by brass candelabra with yellow candles which extended to each side where large brass urns held arrangements of bronze and yellow chrysanthemums caught with gold lace. The choir rail was draped in garlands of greenery looped at intervals with clusters of chrysanthemums. The reserved pews were marked with croton leaves, yellow chrysanthemums and wheat, tied with gold lace.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of bouquet taffeta, with the bodice enhanced with chintilly lace following a scalloped Sabrina neckline, embroidered with miniature pearls and sequins. The long sleeves tapered at the wrists. From a large butterfly bow at the waistline, the billowing skirt was designed with taffeta simplicity in the front giving way to voluminous beauty of chintilly lace in the back, extending to a scalloped chapel train. Her full circular veil of pure silk imported English lilies was attached to a jeweled tiara. She carried a white Bible, a gift, and her bouquet of white orchids and lilies of the valley.

RECEPTION FOLLOWS AT PRESTON HOME

Immediately following the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Prince H. Preston entertained at a reception at their home on College Boulevard, Mrs. Bonnie Morris met the guests at the door Mrs. Herman Bland directed them to the receiving line which formed at one end of the spacious living room. Flanking the line were mahogany pedestals with alabaster urns filled with large yellow chrysanthemums. Mrs. W. A. Bowen introduced the guests to the line where Mr. and Mrs. Preston and Mrs. Nevill stood with the bride and groom and the bride's attendants. Mrs. Bernard McDougald oversaw the dining room. The bride's table was sheltered with an imported sheer linen cloth with alternating squares of embroidered flowers and exquisite cutwork. Fragrant chandeliers of hothouse similes extended to the corners of the beautifully-appointed table. A tiered arrangement of white carnations, white stock and lace fern rising from a large silver tray was the central decoration. Miss Helen Brannen cut the wedding cake, which was tiered and embossed with the names of the bride and groom. The bride's bridesmaids, wearing white with white veils, stood at one end of the table; from the other end, Mrs. Althea Adams served individual wedding cakes.

Mr. Averitt made flaming cake broil which was served with after dinner mint. Seated at the table were Anne Preston and Mrs. Preston, Mrs. J. L. Nevill, Mrs. Althea Adams, Mrs. C. M. Robbins Jr., Mrs. A. E. Lindsey, Mrs. Gilbert Roder, Miss Willette Woodcock, Miss Anne Lamb, Mrs. Mary Stover served punch from a beautiful Victorian silver bowl. Mrs. Ralph Turner was in the gift room and Miss Sylvia Brunson kept the bride's book.

The reception guests from out of town were the bride's maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. D. K. Robinson of Savannah; Miss Charlotte Blitch of Savannah; Mrs. Glenn Oselein of Freeport, Illinois; Miss Mollie Walker of Washington, D. C.; Mrs. Gilbert Roder of Los Angeles, California; Karen Roder, flower girl, wore a long taffeta dress designed like those worn by the bridesmaids. She wore a garland of aqua flowers in her hair and carried a bronze satin basket with gold lace trim.

Clark DeLoach served as the groom's best man and the ushers, groomsmen were Chester Hanberry of Dallas, Texas; Harold Spears of Lakeland, Florida; Tommy Preston of Douglas; Richard Shockley of Gainesville; and Bill Bland and Al DeLoach of Statesboro.

Mrs. Preston wore for her daughter's wedding an American beauty chignon with beaded trim featuring a side drapery with matching hat and shoes. Her corsage was a white orchid. Mrs. George W. Preston, the groom's mother, wore a gown of over olive satin. Her satin hat and shoes were olive green. Her train, her full circular veil of pure silk imported English lilies was attached to a jeweled tiara. She carried a white Bible, a gift, and her bouquet of white orchids and lilies of the valley.

Statesboro, Georgia, Thursday, December 10, 1959

MRS. REX HODGES HOSTESS TO BRIDGE CLUB

On Thursday evening, December 3, Mrs. Rex Hodges entertained the Lazy Ate Bridge Club at her home on Savannah ave. Christmas decorations in her party room were unique and lovely. The maitel had at each end old-fashioned oil lamps, re-finished by the hostess in burnished gold. The chimneys were filled with white and red poinsettias towering to a peak from which glitter roses cascaded in holiday splendor.

The rich color motif followed through in the refreshments and "able appointments. Lemon ice cream pie, with whipped cream, topped by red cherries was served with coffee and mints. Mrs. John C. Wilson won a sweater guard for him. A similar prize went to Mrs. Harry "Cone for visitor's high. Mrs. Lawson Mitchell received hand cream for low.

Other guests were Mrs. Ivy Spivey, Mrs. Glen Coleman, Mrs. Frances Brown and Mrs. A. W. Thackston. Mrs. Hodges played gram chairman, arranged the program.

The speaker of the evening was O. H. Joiner, area supervisor of Education. His subject was "The National Defense Act, Legislation and Education." Mr. Joiner compared the curriculum of the schools of Russia with the curriculum of our nation's school. "Both nations are making progress in educating their youth," said the speaker, but "each is educating for a different purpose."

The United States has more students on honor roll than all of Europe has in college, he pointed out.

The speaker named ten titles in the National Defense Act, then put special emphasis on the ones definitely related to the educational program.

At the close of his talk a short open forum was held during which time many questions of the following topics were discussed.

MRS. REX HODGES HOSTESS TO BRIDGE CLUB

On Thursday evening, December 3, Mrs. Rex Hodges entertained the Lazy Ate Bridge Club at her home on Savannah ave. Christmas decorations in her party room were unique and lovely. The maitel had at each end old-fashioned oil lamps, re-finished by the hostess in burnished gold. The chimneys were filled with white and red poinsettias towering to a peak from which glitter roses cascaded in holiday splendor.

The rich color motif followed through in the refreshments and "able appointments. Lemon ice cream pie, with whipped cream, topped by red cherries was served with coffee and mints. Mrs. John C. Wilson won a sweater guard for him. A similar prize went to Mrs. Harry "Cone for visitor's high. Mrs. Lawson Mitchell received hand cream for low.

Other guests were Mrs. Ivy Spivey, Mrs. Glen Coleman, Mrs. Frances Brown and Mrs. A. W. Thackston. Mrs. Hodges played gram chairman, arranged the program.

The speaker of the evening was O. H. Joiner, area supervisor of Education. His subject was "The National Defense Act, Legislation and Education." Mr. Joiner compared the curriculum of the schools of Russia with the curriculum of our nation's school. "Both nations are making progress in educating their youth," said the speaker, but "each is educating for a different purpose."

The United States has more students on honor roll than all of Europe has in college, he pointed out.
