"We made 1,266 pounds more peanuts per acre, thanks to aldrin soil insecticide."

Report Reilly and Jack Hanna, Parrott, Georgia

Reilly and Jack Hanna tell it better than we can

"Aldrin fertilizer mix gave us complete insect control this season. We treated for wireworms, rootworms, white grubs, mole crickets and other soil insects. We also got a bonus in really good thrip control."

"We could actually tell to the row where our aldrin fertilizer mix treatment ended. The aldrin-treated peanuts had graded zero damage and yielded 2,500 pounds of peanuts per acre. The untreated peanuts had up to 5% damage and yielded 1,234 pounds—a difference of 1,266 pounds per acre."

"From the results we've gotten this year, you can be sure we'll continue to use aldrin from now on."

HUGH DEAL JOINS MARINES CORPS

A Statesboro man took the first step toward a career in Marine Corps aviation by enlisting in the Marines for four years, today, Hugh H. Deal, son of Mr. and Mrs. Horace G. Deal of Route 3, has reported to the Marine Corps Recruit Center at Parris Island, S. C., to begin 12 weeks of recruit training.

At the end of this training period, Private Deal reports to the Naval Air Station, Memphis, Tenn. for attendance at the Aviation Fundamentals School. He then chooses the branch of aviation he desires training in... and if qualified... is assigned to the appropriate school for technical training.

Before enlisting in the Marines, young Deal attended the University of Georgia. He went to the university on a football scholarship won after three years on the Statesboro High School gridiron.

Although Deal played tackle for the local schoolboy team, he holds down a guard slot for the Georgia frosh. The freshman team of the Georgia Bulldogs played three games during the past season, but the "football" was sent in for their constant.

Deal graduated from Statesboro High School last May. Before his enlistment he had completed three semesters at Georgia.

Miss Laurel Lanier becomes bride of Mr. Bynum

Miss Laurel Tate Lanier, daughter of Mrs. Sidney L. Lanier of Statesboro, became the bride of Dalton Powers Bynum, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clinton G. Bynum of Onata, Ala., at the First Baptist Church with the Rev. J. Robert Smith officiating.

A sunburst arrangement of Erabu lilies, high in the baptistery, marked the pinnacle of the altar scene. Woodwardia, the bride's white gladioli and chrysanthemums, completed the setting for the ceremony. White satin interlaced with valley lilies traced the prie-dieu. Receptacles were marked by bows of white satin ribbon and valley lilies.

Dr. Jack Averitt, organist, and Mr. Bernard Morris, soloist, presented a program of wedding music. Vocal selections include "Because," "Walk Hand in Hand with Me," and "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride, entering with her father, wore a floor length gown of white silk organza, designed with a fitted bodice of re-embroidered Alencon lace which extended to the hemline and terminated in a graceful chapel train. Her veil of bridal blue silk organza attached to a pearlized coronet. She carried a bouquet of stephanotis and valley lilies, centered with a white orchid.

Miss Peggy Allen was maid of honor and the bridesmaids were Miss Virginia King, cousin of the bride, and Mrs. William Sheppard. They were gown-like in blue silk organza, street length dresses with long streamers floating from bows in the back. Bouquets were of white carnations and blue valley lilies with blue net puffs intermingled. They wore bandeaux veiled in blue net, scattered with valley lilies. Tracy Griffin, niece of the groom, was flower girl. She wore a bouffant white organza dress and carried white petals in a basket decorated with white net and satin ribbons.

Mr. Pat Griffin, brother-in-law of the groom, was best man. Usher-groomsmen were Mr. Josh Lanier, uncle of the bride, Mr. Bill Emerson of Manchester, Ga., Mr. Billy McPherson of Onata, Ala., and Mr. William Jones of Atlanta.

The mother of the bride wore an afternoon dress of pure silk with a corsage of pink cymidium.

RECEPTION
Mr. and Mrs. Lanier entertained the wedding guests at their home on Lakeview Road.

Mr. C. P. Boyd greeted the guests, who were introduced to the receiving line by Mrs. Repard DeLoach.

The bride's table, overlaid with organza and lace over white satin, had the tiered wedding cake at one end. An arrangement of white tulips, snapdragons, valley lilies and gypsophila, in a tall epergne, was the central decoration. Erabu lilies and chrysanthemums were in the reception room.

Miss Karen Lanier of Waycross kept the bride's book. In the gift room were Mrs. Josh

LEHMAN FRANKLIN JR. MAKES DEANS LIST AT UNIVERSITY OF GEORGIA

Lehman Franklin Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Lehman Franklin of Statesboro, was one of the forty-eight students who was named on the winter quarter dean's list of the College of Business Administration at the University of Georgia.

PRESERVING FRUIT
Fruit for preserving should be in a firm-ripe rather than a soft-ripe stage, declares Nelle Drash, food preservationist, Agricultural Extension Service. Fruit pieces should be uniform in size and in thickness so as to cook evenly, she adds.

Assisting in serving and entertaining the guests were Mrs. Hubert Smith, Mrs. Charles Holler, Mrs. Cohen Anderson, Mrs. Clyde Yarber, Mrs. Earl Allen, Mrs. S. M. Wall, and Mrs. James W. Cone, Mrs. Jim Denmark and Mrs. Loy Waters.

When Mr. and Mrs. Bynum left for a wedding trip, the bride traveled in a two piece beige suit with a mink collar, a small beige feather hat and brown accessories. She wore the orchid from her bouquet.

Cakes should be cooked in shiny aluminum pans, says Miss Doris Oglesby, housing-equipment specialist, Agricultural Extension Service.

A delightful banquet dinner was given by the members and their guests by the eighth grade girls, who assisted Mrs. Frank Smith, manager of the lunch room.

Guest speakers of the evening were Jack Deal, the 1959 FFA president, who is now a student at GSC, and Mrs. Ann Anderson of Harville, 1959 president of the FFA. The topic for their speeches was "FFA-FHA Light and Our Way." Charles Anderson and Willie Mae Martin, secretaries of their respective organizations spoke briefly on "FFA-FHA Light our Way." Miss Janet Casey played a piano solo.

Highlight of the evening was the presentation of the FFA Mascot, which is determined by secret ballot and is made known at the Annual Banquet. Miss Crysta Dwinell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Dwinell, was named mascot for the 1960-61 year by Miss Janet Casey. She was presented a red felt purse bearing the FFA emblem, which was made by the FFA, and also a compact with the FFA emblem.

Miss Elaine Jardine, and James Atkinson are the advisors for the organizations.

Cotton grower A. E. Yelvington says, "Even with low germination seed, I got a strong uniform stand using ORTHOCIDE Soil Treater X. I left 8 rows untreated and you could really see the difference. In the early stages these 8 rows had more skips and dying cotton. In spite of the fact that we planted 3 or 4 days later than the year before, the cotton was a good 3 weeks earlier."

ORTHOCIDE Soil Treater X creates a protected zone in the furrow—allows tender seedlings to develop normally despite cold, wet, infected soil.

The image shows a black and white photograph of a bag of ORTHOCIDE Soil Treater X. The bag is dark with white text. At the top, it says 'ORTHOCIDE' in a large, bold, sans-serif font. Below that, 'Soil Treater X' is written in a smaller font. There is also a small illustration of a cotton plant on the bag. To the right of the bag is the ORTHO logo, which consists of the word 'ORTHO' in a bold, sans-serif font inside a horizontal oval. Below the oval is a stylized, three-dimensional looking 'M' shape.
