

Baseball at the Recreation Center

The Junior League got off to a good start last week with a double-header on Friday.

The Pilots defeated the Crackers in a close game by a 2 to 1 score. Jimmy Williamson and Billy Rice were the big men for the Pilots. Johnny Martin did the hitting for the Crackers in their loss.

In the second game, the Peaches defeated the Eagles 3 to 0. Billy Davis collected a double and triple to drive in two of his team's runs. John Lee got the only hit for the Eagles with booming double. The Junior Leaguers play three days a week with games on Monday, Wednesday, and Friday at 4:00 P. M.

JUNIOR AMERICAN LEAGUE OPENS SEASON THIS WEEK

The Junior American League opens the new season with two games this week. They play Brooklet Tuesday and Thursday April 19 and 21, at 4:00 P. M. The game Tuesday is and the game Thursday will be played at Brooklet.

The American Legion team has looked impressive in their outings and should be stronger than they were last season. Pitching is the big question mark. Three 15 year-olds make up the pitching staff. All three pitchers are promising youngsters with experience in the Pony League.

The Men's Softball League held its first meeting last week with seven teams registering for the 1960 season, which opens May 3.

Plans are set up for an eight team league which will play two games a night, three nights a week. One more entry is needed to round out the league. If another team is interested in playing, they should contact the Recreation Department right away.

The seven teams that have already registered for the 1960 season are: National Guard, College Pharmacy, Cobb Vets, Nic Mac, Jake's Amoco, Rockwell, and Brooklet.

Another meeting has been set up for next Thursday night April 21, at 7:30 P. M. The meeting will be held at the Recreation Department.

How to treat a heat stroke, 'golf-type'

By JOHN MOONEY JR.

With the approaching warm days and the rapidly improving fairways at the Forest Heights Golf Course, a stampede of ambitious clobberers will be out there flailing mightily at the little dimpled pellet in the ceaseless, but usually futile, attack on the shadowy monster called "Par."

That some of these overzealous athletes may become victims of heat stroke is an ever-present hazard. It occurs to the Sports Department of this newspaper that a few suggestions concerning the proper way to handle such emergencies should be helpful to the FHCC golf committee.

Here they are:

1. When a golfer suffers an acute heat stroke, he will be lifted out of the sand trap or rough and the body placed in a longitudinal direction, in the fairway, parallel to the long axis, head toward the tee, face down. In this position the top of his skull, which is the least vulnerable portion of a golfer's anatomy, will be the area exposed to approach shots from the following foursome. Any ball striking his head is likely to bounce to one side. Rarely will a ball die against the head.

However, if the body is lying in the opposite direction, the ball could pass between the feet and come to rest between the legs, making the next shot difficult or even impossible. If the body is lying on its back, a ball could drop into the mouth. Heat stroke would then be complicated by strangling, a combination which is dangerous even to golfers. Two, the ball might be lost.

2. As soon as the diagnosis of heat stroke is certain, the other members of the foursome or twosome, or the members of the following group, if the victim is playing alone, will proceed with resuscitation measures for six minutes, which is the time allotted for looking for a lost ball, unless a group of D. P.'s (deliberate putters), known also as the Moonlight Brigade or Candlestick Squad, Jimmy Redding, Commander, and Arnold Rose, Assistant, is on the green ahead. In that case an additional fifteen minutes will be allowed for revival attempts.

3. If the victim does not regain consciousness, the course should be searched for a physician who will then proceed immediately to the scene of the emergency provided he is not more than six holes behind.

A doctor on such a call will be given priority on all shots. His transit will be expedited on every hole. No one will kid him about his form or ask him questions about his mission. He will be permitted to play over the lake on Nos. 9 and 18 from the lady's tee without comment.

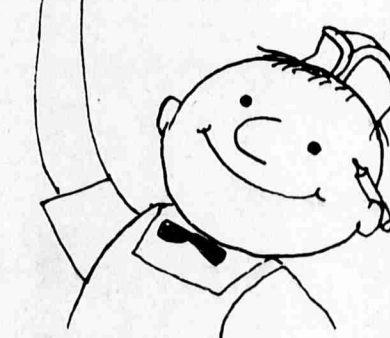

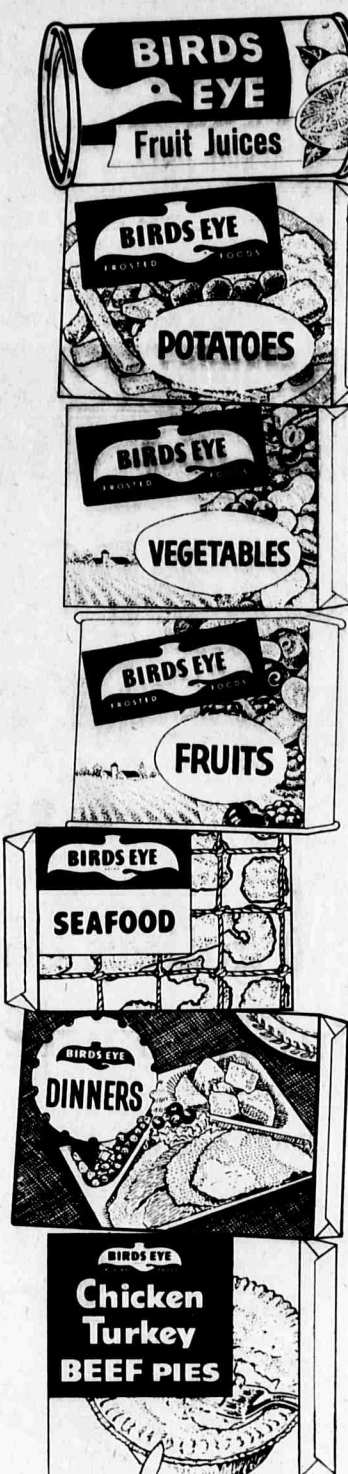

All of his putts of less than 12 inches will be conceded. He may not play out of the woods but will lay out in the fairway with a penalty of only one stroke.

Others golfers will assist him wherever possible. Drivers of electric vehicles will carry him and his caddy cart without charge while he is in their area. No golfer will impede his progress in any way. Members caught doing this will have three strokes knocked off their handicaps by the golf committee. After treating the victim, the doctor will sit down on a bench and wait for the other members of his group to catch up. He is on his honor and his stroke count will be accepted unless there is positive evidence to the contrary.

4. In the event the victim expires, or is otherwise unable to finish the match, he will, for wagering purposes, be assumed to have played all holes, including the one on which he was stricken, even with his opponent.

This department believes that these suggested regulations will benefit all players by promoting safety on the course without interfering with the smooth progress of the game.

Miss Lamb and Miss Hart share honors

On Saturday afternoon, Mrs. Gordon Franklin, Misses Jane Richardson and Sylvia Zetter, were hostesses at a delightful party at Mrs. Franklin's charming apartment honoring Miss Anne Lamb and Miss Carolyn Hart, whose engagement is to be announced at an early date.

The Easter season was reflected in the decorations and refreshments. Yellow and purple iris and varied hues of Easter eggs, which were later given as favors, and a most attractive modernistic Easter tree were used in the decorations.

The guests were served chicken salad sandwiches, chicken straws, punch and cake. The table which was decorated in Easter motif.

The honorees each received a set of Libbey tea glasses.

Those present were Misses Anne Lamb, Carolyn Hart, Mrs. Irvin Brannen Jr., Mrs. Ralph Turner, Mrs. Joe Walters, Mrs. Joe Hart Jr., Mrs. Bill Trunell, Mrs. Cochran, Mrs. Jimmy Blitch, Mrs. Aubert Brannen Jr., Miss Alice Hart, Miss Faye Hagan, Miss Pat Lamb, Miss Mary Alice Cheney and Miss Willette Woodcock.

Miss Lamb is honored at luncheon party

Mrs. Maurice Brannen and Mrs. Ray Howard were hostesses Saturday at a luncheon at Mrs. Bryant's banquet room honoring Miss Anne Lamb, who is being feted at many parties prior to her wedding this week-end.

A color motif of pink and white was adhered to in the decorations and table appointments. Centering the table was a massive arrangement of pink carnations cascaded with greenery.

A corsage of pink carnations marked Anne's place. Place cards for others were dainty white booklets, lined with pink net and pink ribbon bows in which valley lilies nestled and attached to the handles of the baskets.

Anne's gift was a beautiful towel set.

A delicious four course luncheon was served. Seated at the table were Miss Anne Lamb, her mother, Mrs. B. P. Lamb, her sisters, Mrs. Pat and Martha Lamb, Misses Ann Fulmer Willette Woodcock of Atlanta, Jane Richardson of Jacksonville, Mrs. Ralph Turner, Mrs. Gordon Franklin Jr., Mrs. Edith Curry of Savannah, sister of the groom, Mrs. Frank Rushing, Mrs. Chris Lanier of Jacksonville, and the hostesses, Mrs. Brannen and Mrs. Howard.

THE ONE AND ONLY PATIO KING

Versatile Aluminum and Redwood Folding Barbecue Set

Here's a barbecue set that really belongs in the what-will-they-think-of-next category. Want a picnic bench and table set? Two tables with a bench apiece? Or maybe you'd like to have two park-type benches for outside loafing. The Patio King is all of these and more. Its frame is heavy 1" gauge aluminum that's rust-resistant, of course, and the tops are clear kiln-dried heart of redwood that's almost impervious to weather. All parts lock firmly and securely in place and best of all, it folds flat for storage.

Judy Nesmith and Sandra Williams give piano recital

A beautiful event of the season was the senior music recital of Miss Judy Nesmith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walton Nesmith of Nevils, and Sandra Williams, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Williams of Stillson on Wednesday evening, April 6, at the Southeast High School.

The gymnasium was decorated with large arrangements of white glads and greenery in keeping with the color scheme of mint green and white, also carried out in the refreshments. Judy's recital dress was sleeveless of two-tones of green, torso style, full flared and decorated with narrow net frills. Sandra's dress was of white sleeveless taffeta waist, with full flared skirt, tiered in net ruffles.

Both these young ladies gave piano selections. They each played solo and then played duet. Judy also played the xylophone and Sandra played the accordion.

A twelve-member choral group dressed in evening dresses of pastel colors, and a trio sang several numbers to give variety to the program.

Users were Mary Kent Gilman and Walter Low Scott. After the program, delicious ice cream punch and white ice cream cakes, embossed in green musical notes, were served from the elevated bowl, encircled with lace fern and white flowers.

Ann Crowley and Pat Moore served the punch and cakes. Judy's little sister, Sonia, and Sandra's little niece, Brenda, handed out the napkins.

More than one hundred guests from Nevils, Stillson, Brooklet, Statesboro, and Savannah and Pembroke attended.

Engagement of Miss Rebecca White is announced.

Mr. and Mrs. H. J. White of Ponce de Leon Beach, Florida, announce the engagement and the coming marriage of their daughter, Rebecca, to Mr. Jack R. Chester. Miss White is presently making her home with her aunt, Mrs. W. V. Morgan.

Mr. Chester, the son of Mr. Dorce Chester, of Statesboro, is a graduate of Marvin Pittman High School and is employed at Rockwell Statesboro Corporation.

Miss White is a student at Southeast Bulloch High School. The wedding will be held at the Nevils Methodist Church on June 11 at 3 o'clock in the afternoon. No invitations will be sent out but friends and relatives are invited.

GSC Faculty Dames name new officers

On Wednesday evening, April 6, the Faculty Dames Club of Georgia Southern College met at the Frank I. Williams Student Center. The following officers were elected for the new year:

Mrs. William Dewberry, president; Mrs. Tom Smith, vice president; Mrs. Lawrence Huff, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Ralph Tyson, recording secretary; Mrs. Fred Grumley, treasurer and Mrs. George Rogers, historian.

The hostesses were Mrs. Edgar Godfrey, Mrs. Robert Pound, Mrs. Burton Bogish, Mrs. Robert Overstreet and Mrs. Bird Daniel. Mrs. L. D. Smith, mother of Mr. Tom Smith of the science department, was a visitor.

Refreshment were served by the hostesses.

ENGAGEMENT OF MISS CAROLYN FAY HART IS ANNOUNCED.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Addison Hart of Statesboro announce the engagement of their daughter, Carolyn Fay, to Mr. Dewey Richard Bryant son of Mrs. William B. Bryant and the late Mr. Bryant of Patterson, Georgia.

The wedding is planned for June 12 at the First Baptist Church in Statesboro.

Miss Hart graduated from Georgia Southern College and received a B. S. degree in Business Education. She is employed by the Cochran Board of Education.

Mr. Bryant graduated from Georgia Southern College and received a B. S. degree in Health and Physical Education. He is employed by the Meriwether County Board of Education.

AAUW observes 25th Anniversary at Tea on April 16

The American Association of Women observed its twenty-fifth anniversary Tuesday afternoon of last week at a tea at the home of Mrs. C. P. Olliff Sr., with Mrs. Marjorie Guardia, Miss Helen Collins, Mrs. W. G. Neville and Miss Ella Johnson as joint hostesses.

The tea was arranged with spring cut flowers and an occasional potted plant. The dining table had as a centerpiece an arrangement of dainty white flowers with burning tapers on the outside.

Miss Olliff greeted the guests at the door and introduced them to the receiving line composed of a number of members who have held various offices in the organization.

The Statesboro Branch of the AAUW was organized in 1915 with the following ladies as officers:

Miss Hester Newton, president; Mrs. W. S. Hanes, secretary; Mrs. Viola Perry, treasurer.

There were three charter members present at the tea on April 6: Miss Marie Wood, Miss Ruth Bolton and Miss Viola Perry. Mrs. Audie Edge joined soon after the group organized.

The following past presidents were present:

Miss Ella Johnson, Miss Ruth Bolton, Miss Maude White, Mrs. H. J. McCormack, Miss Bertha Freeman, and Miss Grace Cooper, the present president.

The organization made plans for the State Conference to be held in Statesboro on April 22 and 23, in the F. I. Williams Building at Georgia Southern College.

Punch and anniversary indigestion were enjoyed during the afternoon.

Miss Bertha Freeman presided at the punch bowl.

Miss Blitch is inspiration for afternoon bridge

On Friday afternoon, Mrs. R. L. Cone Sr., Mrs. Everett Williams and Mrs. W. A. Bowen were hostesses at a bridge party at the Bowen home honoring Miss Charlotte Blitch popular bride-elect of May.

A motif of yellow and white predominated in the decorations and table appointments in the living room and dining room. Spring flowers, in lovely arrangements, were linked with the lovely vista seen from the family room picture window, where shrubbery, flowering plants and garden paths enhanced the party scene.

A salad plate was served with coffee.

The hostesses presented Charlotte aqua sheets and pillow cases.

Mrs. Isaac Buncie won a pair of pillow cases for high score. Miss Roxie Remley received toilet water for low. Darning powder was awarded Mrs. Cecil W. Brannen for cut.

Miss Blitch is feted at Breakfast

Among the lovely parties honoring Miss Charlotte Blitch, popular bride-elect of May, was a breakfast Saturday, at 10 a.m., at Mrs. Bryant's kitchen, with Mrs. Fred Smith, Mrs. Harry W. Smith, Mrs. Dan Lester, and Mrs. Frank Williams as hostesses.

The table was centered with a beautiful arrangement of white snow azaleas in a white compote. Trailing ivy interspersed with white wedding bells extended from the centerpiece on each side, enhancing the beauty of the exquisitely appointed table.

Charlotte's place was marked with a wedding bell and a corsage. The hostesses presented the honoree a crystal goblet in full flared china.

Breakfast guests were Miss Blitch, Mrs. W. H. Blitch, Mrs. Charles Rockett, Mrs. W. M. McGlamery, Miss Shirley Akens, Miss Maurice Martin, Miss Freida Gernant, Miss Faye Hagan, Mrs. Everett Williams, Mrs. Billy Deal of Savannah, Miss Jane Beaver, Mrs. Reppard DeLoach, and Mrs. Jim Bland of Atlanta.

Three O'Clock meet with Mrs. Honey Bowen

Mrs. W. A. Bowen and Mrs. Everett Williams were co-hostesses Saturday afternoon to the Three O'Clocks bridge club at Mrs. Bowen's home on Savannah Avenue.

Lovely spring flowers decorated the home.

The guests were served a salad plate.

Miss Elizabeth Sorrier won a box of candy for high. Mrs. Robert Donaldson received dusting powder for second-high. For cut, Mrs. Waldo Floyd won a pair of pillow cases and Mrs. Sam Franklin received lingerie for low.

Mrs. Leodel Coleman and Mrs. Virginia Evans and the hostesses made up the two tables.

Mrs. George Johnston joined them for refreshments.

Miss Robertson

FHA singing

Miss Amelia Robertson, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Hunter Robertson, has been selected to lead the opening songs at the state meeting of the Future Homemakers of America in Atlanta beginning today and continuing through Saturday.

Miss Robertson is director of the Junior Choir at the Statesboro First Baptist Church and sings in the regular choir. She was awarded a "Superior" rating in the district music festival held recently at Georgia Southern College as a vocal soloist.

She recently represented the Statesboro High School in the literary meet at the University of Georgia. Mrs. Reppard DeLoach will accompany Amelia to Atlanta together with Julia Brannen and Eloise Simmons.

rollment is 505 and that next year it'll be 522. He has ninety in the first grade.

The Sallie Zettertower school needs two more class rooms, the Mattie Lively School needs two more and the Statesboro High School needs five rooms — all by September 1 of this year. "Or else" all the school people agreed.

The destruction by fire in January of the William James Elementary School for Negroes complicates the problem, for provisions must be made for the more than 200 Negro elementary pupils who are now trying to attend classes in the Blitch Recreation Center and the new gym of the William James High School.

Several propositions were proposed and discussed. It was agreed that "some unhappiness" would be created by trying any one of them.

Out of the meeting last Thursday night did come the selection of a group of citizens to study the problem and help the community find an answer to this "acute and immediate" problem. They are:

Mrs. Jake Smith, Mrs. Jimmy Collins, Mr. C. B. McAllister, Jr., W. G. Cobb Sr., The Rev. Lewis (Bo) Hook, Mrs. Charles Oliver Jr., Mrs. Jack Wynn, Wm. H. Smith Jr., Harry Brunson and James Lane.

Rockwell Statesboro Corporation has been selected to build a new plant here. The new plant will be located on the corner of Main and Second streets, and will be a modern, two-story building. The plant will be used for the production of various products, including paper, ink, and other office supplies. The new plant will be a major addition to the Rockwell Statesboro Corporation's facilities in the area.

The program here at Statesboro is an eight week course during which the group visited various manufacturing plants of Rockwell to familiarize themselves with the various products produced at the plants.

This group was one of the largest to have completed the training course in recent years and is representative of world-wide sales coverage of Rockwell. The class was made up of salesmen from Holland, Venezuela, Argentina, Mexico, Canada, and all sales offices in the United States.

A. J. Kovich, Produce Sales Manager of the Petroleum and Industrial Metals, conducted the course here at Statesboro. He was assisted by Mr. E. H. E. Rittenhouse and various members of the Engineering Department.

As to the justice of certain minor features included in his complaint I would agree, but he greatly oversimplifies the general problem under consideration and bases his major contentions on more than one false premise. The people of Georgia SHOULD be allowed to vote on

First Methodist to open "Prayer Room" Sunday

The Prayer Room in the new building of the First Methodist Church will be officially opened Sunday. Located on the second floor of the entrance tower it will be called the Upper Room to symbolize the upper room used by the disciples when they gathered in prayer awaiting the baptism of the Holy Spirit on the Day of Pentecost.

This room is reached by a private corridor opening off the main stairway, and it will be used for private meditation and prayer. At the front is a stained glass window depicting a full figure representation of Christ standing with arms outstretched to the worshipper, and the meaning of the two positions is "Come Unto Me." To the left of the worshipper is a window depicting the Twenty-Third Psalm.

Furnishings and window treatments of oak, French style, are being installed. The room is being opened to the public for a period of one week. After that time visitors are requested to enter it for meditation and prayer, but they are free to enter it at any time it is not in use.

McGlamery wins district press award

The Youth Assembly Press report of the Fifteenth Youth Assembly held in Atlanta early in March, prepared by Joe McGlamery of the Statesboro Tri-Hi-Y and Hi-Y Clubs, was awarded first place in the First District and is now in Atlanta to be judged on the state level in competition for the Atlanta Journal-Constitution award.

R. T. Henderson, Southeast District Secretary of the State YMCA of Georgia, made the announcement this week of the district award.

In notifying Mr. McGlamery of his winning the award Mr. Henderson said, "I want to congratulate you for the outstanding coverage of the Fifteenth YMCA Youth Assembly."

Beginning Sunday after the Morning Worship Service, the Upper Room will be open to visitors for a period of one week. After that time visitors are requested to enter it for meditation and prayer, but they are free to enter it at any time it is not in use.

The problem is acute and immediate

The problem is acute and immediate. Which is to say something's got to be done and quick!

Come school-opening time in September something's got to be done in order to take care of the ever exploding population trend which is enveloping communities like ours all over.

There'll be more school children to enter our schools, white and Negro, this fall than there is space to house them.

Statesboro High School needs five more classrooms.

Sallie Zetterower Elementary School needs two more rooms.

Mattie Lively Elementary School needs two more rooms.

And these are the minimum needs, and even if a solution to the problem is found it will, at best, be only temporary and for a year.

There are 597 children in Statesboro High School. Next year there will be 670 to 680. In 1962-63, there'll be 770. In 1963-64, there'll be 770, then 790.

In the Mattie Lively School there are 505 enrolled this year. There'll be 522 next year.

In the Sallie Zetterower School there are seventy eight in the seventh grade—thirty-nine in each of the two sections. When school opened last September the Sallie Zetterower school expected sixty-one in the first grade. Eighty-one turned up on the first day of school to enter the first grade! If as many as eighty-one turn up in September of this year there'll be no place to put them all.

Following the fire which destroyed the Negro elementary school, more than 200 Negro children in the elementary grades are trying to go to school in makeshift classrooms in the Blitch Street Recreation Center and the new gym at William James High School.

This problem is not unique to our community. It's one that is plaguing all school systems. It is an immediate problem and one which needs working at.

Out of a meeting last week comes a citizens study group to look close and hard at the problem and try to find a solution—even if it be a temporary one, it's that pressing.

Its successful solution will depend upon the understanding and willingness of parents and children and citizenry or our community to cooperate with those delegated to work out the problem.

Let it be that way.

It takes caution in seeking new industry

Our community is not unlike many Georgia communities which are aware of the necessity of seeking new industries.

We tend to be impatient and are tempted to go overboard in making unreasonable concessions in order to obtain our goal.

We have been extremely fortunate in our quest for stable industries to come in to supplement and complement our smaller industries.

Marydell's Styles was our first, though not our largest industry. It has been permanent and is now needing expanded facilities.

Rockwell's is our biggest and there can be no question of the place it now holds in our community.

So if you are among those chafe at the bit and worry and tend to become impatient, you would do well to examine a decision made by the Valley Industrial Council at a recent meeting in West Point.

It turned thumbs down on an opportunity for establishment of a manufacturing plant there.

This Week's Meditation

Lawrence E. Houston, Jr.

It was my best Easter, yet! Perhaps that sounds trite coming from a Christian minister, but it is true.

The reasons are several. For one, we explored the meaning of the stained-glass symbols of the cross that form the center of our worship in our sanctuary. For the four Sundays just preceding Easter Day, both morning and evening, we traced the steps of the Master during His Passion.

WE FELT His heartbeat in Gethsemane; we tasted the bitter cup of suffering; we faced our own sinfulness in the personalities of Judas, Simon Peter, and Pontius Pilate; we felt our kinship with the mob-like crowd that screamed, "Crucify him!"

On Thursday evening of Holy Week, we gathered to celebrate the Sacrament of the Lord's Supper. The Holy Communion, during this period is more real and meaningful than at any other time. The water is more like his body and the juice of the grape like his blood.

WE MOVED from the service of Holy Communion to attend the dramatic portrayal of "The Days of Christ." Directed by the modern dance class of Georgia Southern College. Nothing, in recent years, has had such a spiritual impact upon our life. It was both eye-opening and break-taking. It helped redeem the word "dance!"

AA helps those who come seeking help

By Dr. John Mooney

DECIDING and accepting the fact that one is an alcoholic, is a difficult, perhaps the most difficult, step in recovery from alcoholism. It is also one of the most important, for other steps are always ineffective until this has been accomplished.

Though a person may, in the opinion of all those around him, be a serious problem drinker who is wrecking his life, he can recover only when he is able to recognize this himself. The honest self-examination necessary to achieve this is long and arduous. It is complicated by resentments and by rejection of everything and everybody standing between the drinker and the pleasure of drinking, and that includes the advice of sober people.

MANY DRINKERS start coming to meetings of Alcoholics Anonymous for some other reason than a desire to stop drinking. They have been coerced and persuaded by a desperate wife or husband, threatened by a boss, or may just be curious, though this is rare, as an alcoholic has remarkably little curiosity about anything which might interfere with his drinking.

Most newcomers, however, have had experience while intoxicated which caused remorse or twinges of conscience. They have begun to wonder if, maybe, they are drinking too much.

THE FOUNDERS of AA thought alcoholics had to strike a bottom where there was "no more to go but up." Today AA has a new term, "high bottom." From this level, thousands of alcoholics have been profiting from the experience of others, been able to accept the First Step and go on to permanent sobriety, thus avoiding the agony and disgrace of the late stages of the disease. This group includes many teen-agers.

The Statesboro group of Alcoholics Anonymous has requested that this slogan be repeated: "IT'S YOUR business; if you want to stop drinking, that's OUR business." They are in the telephone directory.

the editor's uneasy chair

When Pioneer V took off like "Moody's Goose" from the launching pad at Cape Canaveral, Florida, recently, a son of Statesboro had an important part in its successful orbiting.

Phil Morris, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thad Morris, assisted John Morello, the engine monitor during the missile's terminal count in the blockhouse. Pioneer V was sent 900,000 miles into space and established a new record in deep-space communications. A radio, powered by solar-powered batteries is still sending back strong signals. The Thor rocket which took up the 95 pound Pioneer V Satellite was powered by a Rocketdyne engine built by North American Aviation Inc., Rocketdyne Division.

This problem is not unique to our community. It's one that is plaguing all school systems. It is an immediate problem and one which needs working at.

Out of a meeting last week comes a citizens study group to look close and hard at the problem and try to find a solution—even if it be a temporary one, it's that pressing.

Its successful solution will depend upon the understanding and willingness of parents and children and citizenry or our community to cooperate with those delegated to work out the problem.

Let it be that way.

Our community is not unlike many Georgia communities which are aware of the necessity of seeking new industries.

We tend to be impatient and are tempted to go overboard in making unreasonable concessions in order to obtain our goal.

We have been extremely fortunate in our quest for stable industries to come in to supplement and complement our smaller industries.

Marydell's Styles was our first, though not our largest industry. It has been permanent and is now needing expanded facilities.

Rockwell's is our biggest and there can be no question of the place it now holds in our community.

So if you are among those chafe at the bit and worry and tend to become impatient, you would do well to examine a decision made by the Valley Industrial Council at a recent meeting in West Point.

It turned thumbs down on an opportunity for establishment of a manufacturing plant there.

The concern, headquarters in a Western state, had indicated it would employ 500 persons.

The council investigated the demands made by the company in return for locating in the valley area and found them to be most

Those who read about our beautiful city last week came to the certain realization that they do not have to go to the gardens of Charleston, Savannah, Mobile, Pine Mountain, or any one of the many widely publicized gardens to find loveliness. It is theirs to have right here in Statesboro. The yards and parks have been beautiful. To mention those of Mr. and Mrs. Olan Smith, Dr. and Mrs. Bird Swint, Dr. and Mrs. Daniel, Mr. and Mrs. Everett Williams, is not to say that theirs are the prettiest. Only that theirs are the ones we visited during the week.

And the City, under the direction of Engineer James Bland had added beauty to our community in the city parks and the Eastside Cemetery. We'll stack Statesboro up against the prettiest of them all.

You know, we've never heard of this Margaret L. Colt. And having something accepted and published by Look Magazine does not make one a President-decider. Even being a Pulitzer Prize biographer does not give one divine powers to determine who is or who is not "worthy of consideration."

We're sure that Dick Russell placed and a new sewerage treatment plant with miles of connecting sewerage lines were bought and paid for by the people. The health of a community was important they said and thus they found the money needed to do the job.

Community leaders studying community needs made plans for the establishment of community services. These included a fine, new library, community centers, swimming pools, athletic areas, and other facilities.

And so hard work paid well. The community grew. The people prospered. All ages used the many community facilities made available to them. Youth problems and adult problems were handled carefully by parents and other interested adults and delinquency among all age groups was held to a minimum.

Parents became alarmed. Industry took a new look and new industry stayed away. Overcrowded community facilities could not do the job. The delinquency rate, long lower than the rest of the nation began a rapid climb. People panicked but it was too late. The cancer of indifference had been allowed to grow too deep and there was much doubt if the patient could be cured.

There were many communities across the face of America which had experienced this defeat. Other communities took a good look at some of them and the leadership renewed its efforts for in the heart of every one of them they said in silence to their own conscience, Would to God that this can never happen here.
