Rockwell tells of accelerated growth forecast for company

SPRINGFIELD, OHIO—An accelerated growth throughout the coming decade - that's the outlook for Rockwell Manufacturing Company as expressed here Monday, August 15, by Willard F. Rockwell, Jr., president.

Addressing the Springfield Rotary, Mr. Rockwell listed five major reasons why he believes the Pittsburgh company will continue to be a growth company during the sixties:

1. The fact that "most of our major customers are among the acknowledged 'growth industries' of the future" - industries such as petrochemicals, utilities, housing and natural gas.

2. The company's test formula of "related diversification" - or diversification only into industries which are related to Rockwell's special fields of experience in production and/or marketing.

3. Rockwell's research leadership in the fields in which it operates - a leadership maintained by continued expenditure of "2 to 3 cents of every sales dollar" for such research - about twice as much as the average company of its size.

4. Our up-to-date, increasingly efficient and economical production facilities.

5. The close personal relationship which we share and will continue to share with shareholders, employees and customers.

Rockwell is a leading manufacturer of control devices such as valves and regulators; measuring devices such as petroleum, water and water meters, pumps and water meters; and power tools for industry, schools and home use.

The Rockwell line of Delta and Walker-Turner industrial powder tools are made at their Bellefontaine, Ohio, plant. Another of the company's 22 plants is located in Norwalk, Ohio.

Sales of Rockwell for the first six months of 1960 were $57,775,000 - about the same as last year's first half. Earnings per share for the six-month period were $1.06 on net income of $3,747,000.

DIVERSIFICATION: "It has been said," Mr. Rockwell said, "that a truly diversified company is one that can survive in any economic climate."

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Beasley entertained with a fish fry at their landing on the river last Thursday. Those who enjoyed the occasion were Mr. and Mrs. Beasley, Mr. and Mrs. I. H. Beasley, Todd Beasley, Dell Beasley, and Harry Beasley. Also present were Mr. and Mrs. Bobbie Wells and children of Brooklet, Mrs. Magie Ennis and Mrs. Dan Harvey of Pooler, Mrs. Willie Ennis and daughter, Loretta Ennis, and granddaughter, Nancy Ennis of Richmond Hill.

Mr. and Mrs. B. E. Beasley had as guests last Tuesday, Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Wyatt of Tampa, Florida.

Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Beasley and little daughter of Alexandria, Va., visited his son, C. S. Proctor and Mr. Proctor, and other relatives here last week.

Mr. and Mrs. I. H. Beasley had as supper guests last Saturday night, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Bean and son, Michael of Port Wentworth, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Beasley and son, Mike of Savannah.

ADVERTISEMENTS FOR BIDS: 1. Sealed proposals for general contract for the construction of a new building for the University System of Georgia, owned by the State of Georgia, to be located on the campus of Georgia Southern College, Statesboro, Georgia, until 2 p.m. on September 1, 1960.

2. The grave international situation in the world today and the growing threat to American security require that experienced legislators be returned to the National Congress to cope with the red tide of Russia that has already rolled within ninety miles of our shore lines. The accuracy of this statement is borne out by the fact that only two in a hundred Democratic House members have pledged a continuation of my best efforts to deal with these serious and threatening problems. I pledge a continuation of my best efforts to deal with these serious and threatening problems. I pledge a continuation of my best efforts to deal with these serious and threatening problems.

3. Contract, if awarded, will be for a lump sum basis. No bid may be withdrawn for a period of 30 days after time has been called for the date of opening. Bids must be accompanied by a bid bond in an amount not less than 2% of the bid. The contract bond covering performance, labor, and materials, etc., will be a form satisfactory to the Regents of the University System of Georgia will be required in an amount equal to one hundred (100%) per cent of the contract price.

4. The owner reserves the right to reject any and all bids and to waive any technicalities and formalities.

THE BULLOCH HERALD

Dedicated to The Progress of Statesboro and Bulloch County

VOLUME XIX—ESTABLISHED MARCH 26, 1937—P. O. BOX 210 STATESBORO, GEORGIA, THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 1, 1960

AL. GIBSON, executive secretary of the Statesboro Lions Club at Mrs. Bryant's Kitchen on Tuesday, August 23. Mr. Gibson discussed the functions of the Chamber of Commerce, stating that one of the most important things in Chamber of Commerce work is that a community must have a program of work. "In the end, a Chamber of Commerce is people working together to create a better place in which to live and earn a living," he said.

Rockwell stock growth is fairly common among the so-called "glamour stocks," Mr. Rockwell added, "such as nuclear, electronics, etc. Rockwell has one that does not take a back seat to anyone."

"The purchase of 100 shares of Rockwell stock in 1957, at $80 a share, has become - as of this spring, 7,138 shares. The present market value is almost one-quarter of a million dollars - an increase of 3100%."

"In addition, the original $8,000 investment would have returned more than $100,000 in cash dividends... an average yield per annum, based on the initial market price, of more than 50%."

In the period since 1937, there have been eight stock dividends and stock splits - including 4 per cent stock dividends in 1956 and 1957, a 3 for 2 stock split in 1958 and a 2% stock dividend last year."

Jaycees to promote 'Get Out the Vote' on September 14

"Khaki" Herrington, president of the Statesboro Junior Chamber of Commerce, announced this week that the Jaycees will conduct its annual "Get Out the Vote" campaign again this year for the September 14 primary.

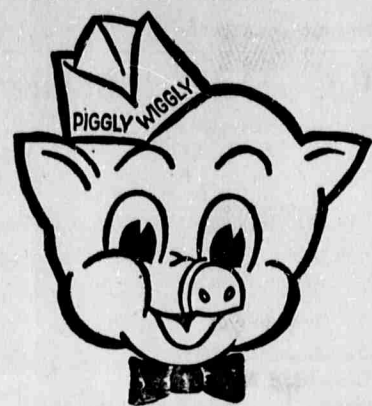

He stated that he had named Wyatt Johnson as chairman of the campaign with the committee including Don McDougald, Bucky Atkins, Robert Lanier, Jeff Owens and Bill Olliff.

"We want to make the people of Bulloch County aware of the forthcoming election," Mr. Johnson said. He deplored the fact that of the approximately 10,000 registered voters in the county less than 5,000

By MARY ANN SMITH
On August 22-26, over 700 officers of Hi-Y and Tri-Hi-Y Clubs from some 200 Georgia communities assembled at Rock Eagle Park, near Eatonton for their annual Summer Training Conference.
The purpose of the Conference is to train the newly-elected officers of the various Clubs in carrying out their duties during the school year 1960-1961. The professional staff of the State Y. M. C. A. of Georgia, under whose auspices the "Y" Club program of the State is conducted, directed the operation of the Conference.
Among the highlights of the program were The Project Assembly, Talent Show, and Drama. Other items on the program were vespers services, installation of officers, and other events of interest to the delegates.
Miss Marsha Cannon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hollis Cannon of Statesboro, was elected State Secretary of the Y Clubs for this year. Marsha has been vice president and is now President of the Junior Tri-Hi-Y Club at Statesboro High. Others who attended the Conference from Statesboro were: Roger Appel, Dottie Donaldson, Janey Everett, Lucy Holloman, Janet Kraft, Judy Renfrow, Brenda Scruggs, Cheryl Whelchel, and Miss Bobbie Ann Jackson, who chaperoned.

One of the other events of the week was the installation of the Southeast District Y Club officers. Cheryl Whelchel of Statesboro High is co-president for this district. Clubs have been given the privilege of presenting the Drama at the Christian Life Conference which will be held in April at Epworth by The Sea. We are especially proud of this responsibility since the Drama is the highlight of the Christian Life Conference.

Miss Faye Hagan is bride of John Edgar Pirkle

Miss Frances Faye Hagan, daughter of Mr. Logan Hagan and the late Mr. Hagan, became the bride of John Edgar Pirkle, son of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Pirkle of Cumming, Ga., on Sunday, August 24, at 3:30 p.m. at the First Baptist Church.

The Rev. J. Robert Smith officiated. Music was presented by Mrs. William Smith, organist, and Mrs. Kenneth Tapley of Vidalia, who sang "The Song of Ruth," "The Sweetest Story Ever Told" and "The Wedding Prayer."

The church was decorated with a large central arrangement of white gladioli and white chrysanthemums, lighted with candles in tree and spiral candelabra against a background of emerald palms.

Family pews were marked with mums and white satin bows.

The bride, given in marriage by her brother, T. L. Hagan, wore a wedding gown of peau de soie with Point d'Angle lace medallions enhancing the Sabrina neckline and sleeves. The chapel train swept from a peau de soie pouf in the back. Her finger tip veil of silk illusion was attached to a crown of seed pearls. She carried her lace-covered Bible centered with white orchids.

BRIDES ATTENDANTS
WEAR TURQUOISE TAFETTA
Mrs. Levin Metts, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. Her bridesmaids were Mrs. Don Wolfe of Hawkinsville, Miss Jane Ottwell of Cumming, both the bride, was matron of honor. Her bridesmaids were Mrs. Don Wolfe of Hawkinsville, Miss Jane Ottwell of Cumming, both Flower girls were Patricia Metts, niece of the bride, and Deborah Hagan, the bride's cousin.

All wore identical dresses of radiant turquoise chiffon taffeta, styled with scoop neckline and low waist, accented with crushed folds and back bow of frosted teal. Their headpieces were pleated bandeaus of matching teal with rosettes centered with seed pearls. They wore matching shoes. They carried white baskets filled with rose coratations and roses.

Mrs. Hagan chose for her daughter's wedding a sage green ring with a central diamond, a side bow and graceful panels. The groom's mother wore French blue lace with matching accessories. Both mothers wore white orchid corsages.

Mr. Pirkle was his son's best man.

The usher - groomsmen included Wayne Barrett, Buena Vista, John Merritt, Cumming; Jerry Souver, Success, Julian Erickson, Cumming and Al DeLoach, Statesboro.

Junior ushers were Tommy Hagan, nephew of the bride, and Emory Pirkle, the groom's brother.

RECEPTION AT RECREATION CENTER
Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held at the Fair Road Recreation Center.

Mrs. LeRoy Shealy met the guests and Mrs. Fred Beasley introduced them to the receiving line, composed of the parents and the bridal party.

The bride's table was overlaid with a floor length organza cover with the three-tiered wedding cake separated with white columns and topped with a miniature bride and groom at one end of the table. A silver can delabrum on the other end held lighted candles and cascading pink carnations that trailed down the center of the table.

The punch table was decorated with pink carnations and white pompons and the cut crystal punch bowls were wreathed with ivy. Pouring punch were Mrs. T. L. Hagan and Miss Sandra Harrison of Savannah. Those serving cake, mints and nuts were Misses Beverly Lane, Edith Stewart, Peggy Adams, Lela Rice, Kay Moseley, Patricia Grinn and Claire Sack. Miss Sandra Lee passed the napkins.

Mingling with the guests were Mrs. Stoddard Deal, Mrs. Freeman Brannen, Mrs. Guy Freeman, Mrs. Edgar Hagan, Mrs. Dan Lester, Mrs. George Lee Sr., Mrs. W. H. Chandler, Mrs. D. P. Waters and Mrs. Wilbert Semmel.

Mrs. E. L. Barnes and Mrs. Henry Waters alternated at the piano with selections in keeping with the bridal theme. Mrs. T. J. Hagan and Mrs. Erma Pirkle bade the guests goodbye and reminded them to go by the home and see the lovely wedding gifts.

Hostesses at the house were Mrs. Henry Lanier, Mrs. Wiley Mikell, Mrs. B. W. Cowart, Mrs. W. B. Beasley, Mrs. Erastus Mikell and Miss Lucile Brundage.

When Mr. and Mrs. Pirkle left in the evening for a wedding trip the bride was wearing a smart chanel costume in blue and white, the printed wool blouse was in brown and grey, edged in matching wool. Her tiny hat was of fur and velvet.

from the branches, on to the table was cut by Mrs. Preston Turner and Mrs. Ray Trappell. Yellow and white mints in silver bonbons were placed a interval on the table. The punch table was covered with a white linen cloth and held a crystal punch bowl, encircled with green fern and green grapes. Ida Jane Nevil served punch.

Assisting at the reception were Sandra NeSmith, Kay Hendrix, Sherry Lanier, Penny Trappell, Mrs. H. C. Burned, Mrs. Ray McCorkie, Mrs. G. A. Lanier, and Mrs. Donald Martin.

The bride's book was kept by Mrs. W. S. Lanier.

Hostess at the bride's home and presiding in the gift room were Mrs. R. Bule NeSmith, Mrs. J. P. Mobley, Mrs. L. D. Anderson, Miss Lucille White and Mrs. James Lanier.

When Mr. and Mrs. Smith for their wedding trip, the bride was wearing a navy blue linen, two-piece suit with a fitted jacket, featuring pleats in the bow of the jacket giving accented fullness. The white orchid lifted from her bouquet completed the ensemble. Upon their return, they will reside in Nevils, Georgia.

The lovely bride, entering with her grandfather, Mr. J. Dan Lanier, by whom she was given in marriage, wore a wedding gown of embroidered taffeta, designed with flowing princess lines, the bodice bice draped in folds, the sleeves brief. Folds of decolletured taffeta formed side panels on the full skirt, which formed a chapel train. Her circular veil, shoulder length, was of imported illusion and fell from a crown of embroidered tulle, accented sequins and pearls. She carried a cascade bouquet of white carnations, lilies of the valley centered with a white orchid, from which white satin streamers were accented with Easton lilies.

Miss Donna Sue Martin, cousin of the bride, of Nevils was maid of honor. She wore a street length dress of ice blue silk organza over taffeta. The bodice emphasized a round neckline, the midriff was trimmed in a cock blue silk organza which crossed in the front and formed floating panels in the back, accented the full, bouffant skirt. Her hat was a hand made ice blue horsehair braid, topped with a flat rose with satin and velvet petals, alternating, with a matching circular veil. She carried a cascade bouquet of yellow chrysanthemums, encircled with lilies of the valley, showered with yellow satin ribbon and puffs of yellow tulle net.

Bridesmaids, gownned like the honor attendant and carrying identical bouquets, were Miss Betty Sue McCorkie of Nevils and Miss Glenda Harden of Stillson, Georgia.

Debbie Ann Smith, niece of the groom, of Statesboro, Georgia, little flower girl, wore a dress fashioned as the attendants and carried a white basket trimmed with a yellow chrysanthemum corsage, filled with white and yellow petals.

The ring bearer, Jerry Mobley, cousin of the bride, of Savannah, Georgia carried the rings on a white satin pillow trimmed with lace and yellow chrysanthemum corsage.

Mr. Robert Smith, father of the groom, served as best man. Usher-groomsmen were Jackie Anderson, Gene Nevil and Bobby Williams.

The bride's mother wore a street length dress of light blue imported Swiss veil featuring a tucked bodice with matching embroidered lace trim. She chose a corsage of white carnations and wore matching accessories.

The groom's mother chose a dress of pale pink imported Swiss veil, with a low neckline which formed a wide collar. Her accessories were of matching pink and she wore a corsage of white carnations.

THE RECEPTION
Immediately following the ceremony Mrs. Lanier entertained at a reception in the church annex, which was decorated with white and yellow chrysanthemums, gladioli, Easter lilies and greenery of magnolia leaves and Southern smilax. The receiving line was formed against a background of greenery. Miss Maudie White greeted the guest and introduced them to the receiving line.

The bride's table was covered with a white cut work cloth. The four-tiered white wedding cake topped with wedding bells flanked by three branches of greenery. Miss Maudie White carried candelabras holding burning white candles and yellow chrysanthemums cascading

A happy home was once enjoyed.

How sweet the memory still. Your death, has left a loneliness This world can never fill.

We miss you, son, oh so much. We do not need a special day To bring you to our mind. The days we do not think of you, so often.

Are very hard to find. Though pain can be forgotten As time goes swiftly by. Just the hours of loneliness That sometimes make us cry.

SAWDUST FOR MULCH

There are several misconceptions about the use of sawdust as much for flowers and shrubs, according to Gerald Smith, Extension horticulturist. It does not cause soil to become excessively dry, nor does it contain toxic materials which will injure shrubs. It will, however, rob soil of its nitrogen to some extent, thus causing shrubs to be yellow in color if adequate fertilizer is not applied, he said.

The Second Annual Tobacco Tournament at Forest Heights Country Club ended in a three-way tie on Sunday, August 14, in the men's division.

The tournament, played under the Callaway Handicap System, attracted 47 participants. Men winners were Duke Renfrow, 74-4-70; Joe Robert Tillman, 76-6-70; and Arnold Rose, 81-11-70.

Mrs. Reba Barnes won the ladies division with a net 69, and Mrs. Mary Storey was second with a net 72.

Ed Alyea of Georgetown, Kentucky, posted the best low gross among the tobaccoists in the tournament with an 83. High gross went to Tom Mann of Durham, North Carolina with 104.

Closest to the hole on her tee shot No. 6 was Mrs. Ann Rock, and Joe Robert Tillman's tee shot was closest to the pin on No. 12. Special awards were made to both players.

Ga. Southern awards 135 degrees Aug. 18

Georgia Southern College awarded 135 degrees August 18 at its annual summer commencement program held in the McCroan Auditorium.

Among the degrees were the first master of education degrees ever conferred by the college. The institution awarded its first four year degrees in 1929.

Speaker was Dr. W. Earl Strickland, president of Wesleyan College in Macon. Dr. Strickland said one of the basic problems of education today is to enable the student to determine just where he fits, in today's troubled and complicated world. He cautioned: "Do not underestimate the importance of a liberal arts education with additional special training, in place of what most Americans now stress—that only an education for 'real life' is important."

He asked the question "have we capitulated to materialistic goals? If we have then our underlying philosophy is very different from the Russia."

Dr. Strickland conceded that education is of little value if it doesn't train man to make a living, but preferred to hope that the well educated man should be able to meet all the problems of life—that education should serve to develop.

With reference to the recent controversy in Georgia between subject matter and technique courses, Dr. Strickland said that what is actually more important is for the teacher to learn the basic meaning of life and to determine for himself the actual importance of education. He added that education cannot function in a philosophical vacuum.

Dean Paul F. Carroll and Registrar Viola Perry presented the graduating class to Dr. Zach S. Henderson, president of the college, who conferred the degrees.

Reverend C. E. Cariker of the First Methodist Church, Statesboro, gave the invocation, and Mr. Don Coleman of Statesboro, president of the Georgia Southern College Alumni Association, welcomed the new graduates into the association. Mr. Jack Brounce of the CSC music faculty, served as organist.

The Spotlight is on the Kawanis Kapers for 1960 on September 7-8

ONE OF THE PRINCIPAL attractions offered by the Kiwanis Kapers at McCroan Auditorium on Wednesday and Thursday nights, September 7 and 8. This is the chorus made up of, left to right, Alison Mikel, Amelia Robertson, Julia Brannen, Elaine Scott, Rose Ann Scott, Donna Franklin, Jackie Kelly and Alice Brannen.

COSTUME FITTING TIME—Hope Bumpy Conner remembers she also needs an outfit for the Drill. Left to right are Reba Barnes, Dotti Allesandri, Bumpy, Willie Coleman, Betty Eckles, Myrtle Tillman, Fay Lanier and Tee Sorrier. Eight down and eight costumes to go for the sixteen girls to-m.

MISSING EVENING DRESS AND TUX—but that will all come in the staging of the beautiful waltz number being performed now by Jean Braswell, and Roger Carter, Jean and Frank Farr and Janice Joiner and Bill Thornton.

COKE time! Henrietta Giles, Sariyan Brown, AnnHolloway and Billie Alderman "take five" after a session as the French show girls.

LOTS OF THINGS happen in Central Party, in New York, that is. Here we catch two of soft shoe couples as Janice Joiner with Bill Thornton and Janette and Wynne Johnson rehearse the "Love and Marriage" production.

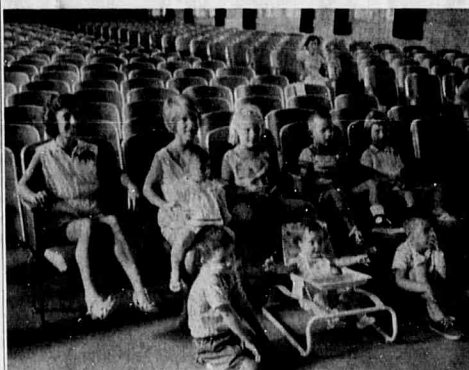

LEE—Come of the Rockettes get an idea of South American Rhythm from Dancer Jean Farr.

"NOW GIRLS . . ." Director Bill Letters says as he helps the "girls" of the "Flings" with words and action. Shown here with a director are Betty McClain, Alba Rowse and Mollie Komich who are featured in this segment of the Kiwanis Kapers. Dan Tooley is at the piano.

"GIRLS, IT'S one, two, three—KICK—Now try to do it ONE time together!"

Kitty Walters, Mary Alice Chaney, Reba Barnes, Tee Sorrier and Jean Farr get the beat for "Take Back Your Mink" from Pianist Dan Hooley.

Don't Miss Seeing The KIWANIS KAPERS OF 1960 McCroan Auditorium Wed.-Thurs. Nite, Sept. 7-8 8:15 P. M.

REHEARSAL begin for Kiwanis Kapers of 1960

Mr. Bill Letters, a director for the Jerome H. Carrell Theatre, New York, arrived Monday to start rehearsals for the Kiwanis Kapers of 1960, to be presented Wednesday and Thursday nights, September 7 and 8, in McCroan Auditorium.

Mr. Letters is making his third trip to Georgia to stage local talent variety shows having appeared before in Warner Robins and Jessup. His own theatrical background includes appearances on Broadway in "Seven Year Itch" and "Texas 11 Darlin'." Off-Broadway productions include "The City by Night" and "Thunder Rock."

Mr. Letters also appeared in Montreal presentations of "Sailor or Beware" and "Detective Story." He worked in straight and musical stock in Connecticut, New York, and Massachusetts.

In addition to staging hometown variety shows he has also stage-managed three industrial shows for Oldsmobile.

Overmachining of cotton can cost

By ROY POWELL
County Agent

Does the highest grade cotton always bring the most money? "Not necessarily," says Arthur B. Bond, cotton marketing and utilization specialist for the Agricultural Extension Service, University of Georgia College of Agriculture.

With the ginning season just around the corner, Mr. Bond this week warned cotton producers that measures to raise the grade of their cotton may actually cost them money.

"Higher grade certainly is a goal every cotton farmer should strive for, but he should take a careful look at how ginning practices to raise grade may affect his returns for the bale," he explained.

Excessive drying, elaborate seed cotton cleaning and double lint cleaning at the gin may raise grade, but at the same time it may reduce the weight of the bale by as much as 30 pounds. Whether such cleaning is profitable to the grower depends upon whether the weight loss, and in many cases shortened staple length, is offset by the higher price paid for higher grade cotton, he pointed out.

"Cotton is no different from other farm commodities when subjected to machine action. Just as peanuts, corn, small grains and other crops are damaged from overmachining, so is cotton fiber. Each time cotton is subjected to machine action, the possibilities of fiber abrasion, breakage and knotting are increased.

"To do anything to damage the inherent spinning qualities of cotton fiber to obtain higher grades is sheer folly," Mr. Bond declared.

He urged farmers to bring bahia grasses. His crop rotations will include mulch planting and with 3 farm ponds, irrigation, and good timber and livestock management, Mr. Bond and Mr. Mikel should make a fine showing on the "old place."

Results of tests at the Agricultural Research Center, Beltsville, Maryland, show that 30 percent of the milk a cow produces is determined by breeding and 70 percent by feeding and management.

These figures are further supported by the work of dairy research workers in Australia. In the studies there, 40 sets of identical twin calves were divided between high and low producing herds, and milked during their first lactations.

Results showed that regardless of the origin of the cows, they tended to produce at the same level as the herd in which they were milked; thus, indicating the effects of environment on their milk production.

Now that it's known that the most of her milk production, we need to know what factors in the environment are most important. The research indicates that (1) level of nutrition and (2) milking practices are the most significant factors.

These facts do not minimize the importance of breeding, but rather, they prove that good breeding shows up to a greater extent under a favorable environment.

With the importance of environment in mind, there are certain questions which a dairyman might ask himself.

1. Am I balancing the ration to meet the needs of the cows in my herd?

2. Am I planning ahead for my feed needs?

3. Am I doing a good job of milking—gentle handling, stimulating milk let-down, constant checking for proper machine operation and proper removal of the milking machine is one of the most important tasks in this operation. It requires some time and includes more than just pulling the machine off.

4. Am I maintaining a healthy herd? Remember to call the veterinarian before it is too late. You might even find it beneficial to employ him on a regular basis to help you maintain herd health.

If you can answer a definite yes to these four questions, you are certainly doing a good job. Some start doing a good job.

Margie Hendrix complemented in Savannah
On last Saturday afternoon the beautiful home of Mr. and Mrs. Don Row in Savannah was the scene of a lovely Luncheon Shower complementing Miss Margie Hendrix, a popular bride-elect.

The hostess Mrs. Row, used pink roses and the brides Doll were beautifully arranged for decor.

The honoree chose for this occasion a beautiful black imported Linen dress, countered by luxurious French eyelet bodice. Her corsage was of silver and pink carnations.

The color scheme was green and pink which was used in the favors and refreshments. The favors were pink mints and tulle tied with satin ribbon and pink rose buds. In keeping with the color scheme pink punch, dainty sandwiches, pinafores and assorted nuts were served.

The groom will have his brother, William Peterson of Richmond, Virginia, as best man. Groomsmen will be Dr. John B. Morris and Dr. Lynn R. Hamilton, both of Savannah. The wedding reception will be held immediately following the ceremony in the church social hall. No invitations are being sent but friends are cordially invited to attend.

The ceremony will be performed at the First Methodist Church on September 18 at 4:00 o'clock with the Rev. C. Eugene Carriker officiating. Dr. Daniel C. Hooley, organist, and Dr. Roger Houtland, soloist, will present the nuptial music.

Miss Lester will be given in marriage by her father. Her maid of honor and only attendant will be Miss Peggy Ann Herington of Claxton, Georgia.
