An Editorial

There's more to the November 8 General Election than voting for candidates who were nominated in the Democratic Primaries.

There will be nineteen Constitutional Amendments which citizens will be called upon to express approval or disapproval.

The chances are slim that you will take time while standing in the voting booth on November 8 to read and study each of these nineteen Constitutional Amendments before voting for or against each one.

We believe that it is in the interest of our community and Georgia at large to focus attention now on Amendment Number Ten which will read like this on the ballot: This is an Amendment: " . . . to provide that the Commissioner of Agriculture shall be ex officio a member of the Board of Regents of the University of Georgia."

If approved this will mean that the Commissioner of Agriculture will automatically become a member of the Board of Regents, and the Board will then consist of sixteen members.

This means that "a political office" will be given a place on our Board of Regents, since the amendment specifies that "the Commissioner of Agriculture shall be ex officio a member of the Board of Regents of the University of Georgia." There's is no assurance given in the amendment to the people of Georgia that we'll always have a Commissioner of Agriculture to measure up to the stature of the present Commissioner.

It would be disastrous to ratify this amendment, thus providing state politicians with a tool with which to begin the process of undermining the effectiveness of the Board.

This means much to us here in Statesboro and Bulloch County, as well as to all the state of Georgia.

The record of the present fifteen-member board has been excellent. To introduce a sixteenth member whose membership is based upon the uncertainties of politics would breed confusion and weaken the very agency upon whose future our higher education system rests so heavily.

This is our carefully considered position. We hope that it is yours.

We do urge you to think carefully on it before you vote on it November 8.

Federal funds for new Armory to be released this fiscal year

Mayor W. A. Bowen has announced that federal funds for the proposed new Statesboro National Guard Armory will be included in the new money released by the Bureau of the Budget to the Department of Defense.

"A high authority in the Defense Department has assured me that federal funds for the Statesboro Armory will be released by the Bureau of the Budget during this fiscal year," he said.

The Mayor said that the total cost of the Armory is expected to be around $240,000 with the Federal government putting up half of this amount. The rest of the cost will be furnished by state and local funds which the City of Statesboro and Bulloch County already have available and earmarked for the Armory.

Mayor Bowen recalled that Georgia's Adjutant General, George J. Hearn, had assured local officials that as soon as the federal funds are provided, the state will put up its share of the money.

On receiving the new information about the availability of federal funds, Mayor Bowen immediately wrote Governor Ernest Vandiver that the City of Statesboro and Bulloch County had their share of the money ready and that he was most anxious for the state of Georgia to expedite the payment of its share as soon as the federal funds were released.

The total gross income of these tourist facilities is $6,607,300 a year.

Five hundred and fourteen citizens of this community are employed in the tourist industry with a weekly payroll of $21,520, to average $42.00 per week per individual. There are 234 male employees and 280 female employees. These figures do not include salaries or drawing accounts of the owners.

"This weekly income of $21,520 is spent right here in Statesboro," Mr. Gibson pointed out. "It buys a lot of clothes, a lot of furniture, a lot of many things," he added.

These figures, carefully compiled, indicate that the tourist industry touches nearly every segment of the local economy, Mr. Gibson pointed out. "It is one of the community's most important industries," he said.

Statesboro has a good reputation with tourists who use these federal highways and it is desirable that we continue to build that good will.

The state highway department figures show that an average of 6,600 automobiles pass through Statesboro every twenty-four hours.

The city is now completing a one and one-half million dollar water-sewer expansion and improvement program including a new water tank and new sewage disposal plant. The water supply is one of the finest in the southeast with the water tested regularly by the state department of state. It is bacteria free and chlorinated. The program is financed by revenue certificates, constituting no general obligation against the municipality.

Constructed in 1955, the city has a fine natural gas system which is financed by revenue certificates with no general obligation against the municipality.

(Note—Next week we will continue looking at the assets Statesboro has to offer industry seeking a site here).

The October meeting of the Statesboro Woman's Club will be held at the Recreation Center on Fair Road on Thursday afternoon, October 20, the program will be on "Togetherness — Learning in Realms of Books," the program theme will be highlighted by Miss Isabel Sorrie, regional librarian, who will discuss the library service of the Statesboro Regional Library.

The Education committee, Mrs. J. Robert Smith, chairman, will have charge of the program. Hostesses will be the public affairs committee, Mrs. L. M. Durden, chairman.

Tourist industry is 'big industry' here

The impact of the tourist industry on Statesboro and Bulloch County was revealed in figures released this week by Mr. Albert Gibson, executive secretary of the Statesboro and Bulloch County Chamber of Commerce, furnished him by Mr. Charles Bryant and Mr. Ralph White. Mr. Bryant is a member of the board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce and is chairman of the tourist committee.

Working over a period of six weeks, Mr. Bryant and Mrs. White carefully checked with every business along U. S. 301, U. S. 80 and U. S. 25 which is in direct contact with tourists using these highways. The figures are not estimates but are from the books of those cooperating in the survey.

The figures reveal that there is a total of $5,797,000 invested in tourist facilities in Statesboro including seventy-three motels, motor courts, hotels, restaurants and service stations. There are 450 motel units, 103 hotel rooms, ten restaurants (including three barbecue units) and service station.

The total gross income of these tourist facilities is $6,607,300 a year.

Services will be held twice daily, through Friday, October 28, at the regular hours on Sunday and at 7:30 a.m. and 7:30 p.m. during the week.

Dr. Burrell is in his eighth year as pastor of the First Baptist Church of Bainbridge. He is a graduate of Mercer University and the Southern Baptist Theological Seminary, Louisville, Kentucky. Prior to his Bainbridge pastorate he served as pastor of the First Baptist Church of Paraghy, Georgia. He is a member of the Georgia Baptist Executive Committee and has held a number of other denominational positions.

Bernard Morris is a native of Statesboro and received his education at Georgia Southern and the University of Georgia where he was a member of the Glee Club. He is in business with his father locally and has served as Director of Music at the First Baptist Church for the past year and a half.

The week day services will be broadcast over the local radio station WWSN. The morning services during the week will be for only 30 minutes each morning beginning at 7:30 and concluding at 8:00. The church nursery will be open for the Sunday services and for the night services throughout the week.

All members and friends of the First Baptist Church are hereby extended a cordial invitation to attend these services.

The Chamber of Commerce reports nine additional checks have been received since Thursday, last week. This brings the total for the year to 228. All prospective members are urged to send in their checks immediately, as this figure is still short of the number of members needed for the completion of our program during the 1960-61 year.

Mr. and Mrs. Bunce return from well-planned tour

Dipping into the Midwest, flying over Niagara Falls, a quick look into Canada, a more leisurely pace through the New England States, plays and a trip around Manhattan and the North Atlantic States, Isaac and Nona Bunce traveled.

They revelled in color, the quaint, the ancient and the modern, with brief visits to relatives along the trek.

Primarily, the main objective as far as Mr. Bunce was concerned was the Farm Project Show in Joliet, Ill., where all new farm machinery was on display representing millions upon millions of farm equipment. There was a model farm home. Nona declared that her husband stopped at every cow barn where stock was being fed.

However Mr. Bunce was equally appreciative of the arts that Nona enjoyed. The beauty of the Catskill and the Mohawk Valley, the red apples.

In Boston they visited Longfellow's home and the Old North Church, where Paul Revere received the signal of light from its steeple to send him on his ride crying "The Red Coats are coming." They even crossed Lake Champlain on a ferry. In New York they visited Greenwich Village. They saw the Royal Danish ballet in the Opera House in St. Louis and saw Vivien Leigh star in "Duel Between Angels" in Chicago.

In St. Louis they visited Nona's brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Quinn, and Isaac's brother and his wife, Major and Mrs. James Bunce, in Kansas City. They had a chat with the former Miss Isabelle Cabanis, now Mrs. Hassinger, a teacher at Stephen's College.

Even coming home was pretty special as they lost no time in bringing Sophy home from Washington, Ga.

Dogwood Garden Club meets at Ga. Southern

On Wednesday, October 5, the Dogwood Garden Club met at Georgia Southern College in the lounge of the Homemakers' Department.

Miss Betty Lane, head of the department, had two tables set up—one, a tea table with a white cloth and china, the latter a gift from Harry W. Smith, jeweler, a centerpiece of lilies and coral vine arranged in a bowl holding a candle, unlighted, as Miss Lane explained, "a candle is not lighted until after five." The dinner table was set for six. A green cloth covered the table which was centered with a free standing arrangement which is generally visible from all sides.

The members were shown the wonderfully equipped new kitchen. Miss Lane was assisted by two students in her department.

In the absence of Mrs. Edna Hoefel, Mrs. Belton Braswell, first vice president, presided.

Mrs. E. L. Cone read the club letter.

Hostesses were Mrs. I. A. Brannen, Mrs. James Sharpe and Mrs. Bobby Smith. Lovely gift packages were auctioned off to the highest bidder, and the proceeds added to the Mite box for cards and remembrances.

The hostesses served coffee, cookies and mints.

Others present were Miss Viola Perry, Mrs. Grover Brannen, Mrs. Ralph Tyson, Mrs. Dew Groover, Mrs. Charlie Simmons, Mrs. W. C. Higgins, Mrs. B. W. Twitty, Mrs. George Prather, Mrs. W. G. Cobb Sr., Mrs. J. A. Addison and Mrs. Comer of the GSC homemaking department.

Two sons, DeLoach Hagins with Eastern Air Lines, Atlanta and Aldrich Hagins in service, stationed at Fort Riley, Texas, were unable to attend.

Deborah and Jerry Hagins, children of Mr. and Mrs. George C. Hagins Sr., assisted their parents in entertaining the young girls and boys who were quite happy at their grandmothers birthday dinner.

Her guests were Jannell Riggs, Mary Ann Lane, Kay Crowley, Kathy Nasworthy, Ann Brogdon, Terri Thomson, Beth and Anne Smith, Lynn Newsome, Anne Larkey, Debra Brunson, Deborah Hodges, Angie Long, Tassie Wofford, Donna Newton, Ellen Hooley, Julie and Marcia Anderson, Gwen Webb, and Becky Tucker.

On April 8, 1864, the Order of the Knights of Pythias was the first American Order ever chartered by an act of the Congress of the United States.

In a speech August 16th of this year in Roanoke, Virginia, made by Leo A. Hoegh, Director, Office of Civil and Defense Mobilization, he said: "The Knights of Pythias have been passionate foes of all forms of tyranny since its beginning in 1864. I am proud to be associated with a fraternal order that recognizes and adheres to that principle. Soviet Russia's drive for world domination is waged in terror and threats of terror. It has exploited discontent in the newly emerging Nations. It is domestic and devious. And it disdains the rules of law. How foreign it is to the distinguishing principles of the Order of Knights of Pythias—FRIENDSHIP, CHARITY and BENEVOLENCE."

Statesboro Lodge No. 97, Knights of Pythias, will hold their annual "Ladies Nite" Friday night, October 28th, in the Cafeteria of the Sallie Zetterweber Elementary School. PTA members will prepare and serve the dinner. Hon. A. O. Overman, Grand Vice-Chancellor, of the Georgia Grand Lodge of Knights of Pythias, will be guest speaker. Other parts of program is incomplete.

Statesboro Lodge was organized in 1897. The first Lodge of the Order was founded in Washington, D. C. on February 19, 1864. After being told of its teaching, President Lincoln said: "The purpose of your organization is most wonderful. If we could but bring its spirit to all our citizenry, what a wonderful thing it would be. It breathes the spirit of Friendship, Charity and Benevolence. It is one of the best agencies for the upholding the government, honoring the flag, for re-uniting of our brethren of the North and of the South, for teaching the people to love one another, and portraying the sanctity of the home and loved ones. I suggest that these great principles be perpetuated and that you go to the Congress of the United States and ask for a charter, and so organize on a great scale throughout this nation, and disseminate this wonderful work that you have so nobly started. I will do all in my power to assist you in this application and with your work."

Special classes for adults are offered

A special effort is being made in Bulloch County to begin classes in adult education designed to teach adults to read and write, who were deprived of this opportunity in earlier life.

This course is being offered for the purpose of teaching the basic reading and writing skills so that from this point forward he can teach himself with little or no assistance.

The Bulloch County Board of Education is extremely anxious to be of assistance to anyone who needs further aid in learning to read or write, which is so badly needed in the business world of today.

Employers are urged to give information on the name and address of any employee who is interested in attending classes in reading and writing please contact the director of adult education program, Bulloch County, Miss Maude White, Statesboro, Ga. or call at 4-2233 after 4:00 o'clock p.m.

The Bulloch County Department of Education is now offering a math class in adult education for those interested in general math, advanced math, or drafting and drawing. If you are interested in math please contact the Director of the Adult Education Program, Bulloch County, Miss Maude White, or call her at PO 4-2233 after 4:00 p.m.

It is necessary to have a minimum number of 15 students for the class to be organized.

We can not protect our children from problems. What we must do is to prepare them to meet and solve problems adequately, says Miss Audrey Morgan, head of the Extension family life department.

THE BULLOCH HERALD

Farm and Family Features

More answers on nematodes given

If you see a man walking over your own or a neighbor's farm carrying a board and what sort of looks like a walking stick with a big corkscrew on the end, don't be alarmed.

The man is a soil scientist for the Soil Conservation Service.

He and other trained men like him are busy these days making maps of Bulloch County farms. These men are the "scouts" of the Soil Conservation Service. All recommendations made by the Service for improving the soil are based on the soil and capability maps made by the soil scientist after a careful survey of the farm.

Scientists are usually thought of as men who spend most of their time in laboratories looking through microscopes, but the soil scientists carry their tools into the field and spend 80 percent of their time in the open.

Farmers often ask Jack Brown, soil scientist in the Ogeechee River and Briar Creek Soil Conservation District, if he is drilling for oil when he is using his soil auger. He explains that he bores the hole to determine the depth and texture of the soil. This tells him the type of soil present and the amount of erosion that has taken place. By adding this information to the percentage of slope obtained with a hand level, he has the three factors by which the soil scientist classifies the land, soil, slope, and erosion.

"To develop an effective conservation plan, it is necessary to know what kind of soil is present on a field, the slope of the land, how badly the soil washes away, and how much of it is already gone," Brown says.

"Even within a single field there is often a big difference in soil and the extent of erosion because usually over a field there are steeper slopes from which practically all the topsoil has washed.

"A careful study and survey of the soil and erosion conditions on the farm has proved one of the most important steps in the whole-farm approach of controlling erosion that is now being carried out by the Ogeechee River Soil Conservation District.

"That is why detailed conservation surveys are required of each farm in the district for which a conservation plan is to be developed," Brown says.

NEMATODE QUESTIONS

During the past two weeks, answers to frequent questions about nematodes have been given in this column. Most of the questions so far have been general. This week, however, we take up questions on how to control nematodes.

As you may know, agricultural scientists estimate that nematodes take about 1/10 of everything you grow unless they are controlled. So, answers to the following questions may help you make money.

Q: Are there optimum for collecting samples for sending to laboratories to be checked for nematodes?

A: Yes. Generally during the active growing period of the crop nematodes can be found and collected better from soil and root samples. Under normal conditions, nematodes are most numerous in the soil during the growing period of the crop. During the dormant periods or winter months, nematodes are less numerous.

Q: Can nematodes be effectively and economically controlled?

A: Yes. Chemicals, known as nematocides, are now on the market which will effectively control nematodes. Other measures which will reduce populations are flooding, sanitation, crop rotation, fallowing, and flooding. Certain other measures will help, such as sanitation and selection of planting stock.

Q: Can a person determine if a nematode problem exists?

A: The soil and plant roots can be analyzed for the presence of plant parasitic nematodes. Also, a person can treat a small part of the land to see if economic responses are obtained.

This concludes our series of answers to questions about nematodes. If you believe you have a nematode problem and would like to have more information, stop by at our office.

STORING GRAIN

Each year farmers lose enormous quantities of their farm-stored grain to a group of insects that live on dry seeds and vegetative products.

Farmers don't have to stand to this burglary in the grain bin if they use successful methods of preventing or controlling this kind of infestation.

Here are a few simple answers to a big problem:

1. Store only grain of 12 percent moisture or less (dry grain).
2. Store in weather-tight, rodent-proof bins.
3. Clean out all bins before loading with grain.
4. Spray walls, floors, and woodwork of bins, as well as the surrounding ground area with a residual type of spray.
5. Clean up and dispose of litter, waste grain, and feed that have accumulated in and around farm buildings.

Q: Can nematodes be eradicated from soil by chemical treatment?

A: No. Although the percent nematodes killed may approach 100 percent, a total kill is almost impossible to obtain. This is due to nematodes escaping in clods of soil, in plant roots, etc. The unkillable nematodes are capable of reproducing rapidly.

Soil Man of the Year to be named tonight

Final plans have been completed for holding the tenth annual meeting of the "Man of the Year in Soil Conservation" for 1960 sponsored by the Bankers and Supervisors of the Ogeechee River Soil Conservation District.

This meeting will be held at the Community House, Metter, Georgia, Thursday, October 20, 1960 at 5:00 p.m. Hon. Phil Campbell, Commissioner of Agriculture, will be the guest speaker.

An outstanding soil conservation farmer will be selected from each of the following counties: Bulloch, Candler, Effingham, Evans, Screven and Tattnall.

Have plenty of help, tools and water on hand before burning trash, brush, or grass, warn engineers with the Agricultural Extension Service.

To straighten fabric and restore the right angle structure, pull the fabric along a true bias, advises Miss Peggy Ott, Extension clothing specialist.

MR. AND MRS. JAMES E. BATCH

Miss Prosser and Mr. Batch are married here

The First Baptist Church was the scene Sunday, October 9, of the wedding of Miss Myra Alice Prosser, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Russle Lee Prosser, and James Earl Batch, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard M. Batch of Oak Ridge, Tennessee.

The Reverend J. Robert Smith, pastor of the church, officiated at the ceremony. The altar of the church had a background of palms centered with a massive arrangement of white gladioli and white chrysanthemums, illuminated by tree candelabra holding numerous lighted candles. The bride and groom knelt at a white satin prie-dieu. The pews were marked with white satin bows and mums.

Preceding the ceremony, Mrs. E. L. Barnes, organist, entertained with a selection of wedding music. Mr. Bernard Morris, soloist, sang "I Love Perfect Love" by Barnsley and the couple knelt at the altar.

Mr. Richard M. Batch, served his son as best man. Those serving as usher-groomsmen were Mr. Marvin Prosser, of Bremen, and Mr. J. Mooney Prosser, of Statesboro, brothers of a bride, and Mr. Wayne Hillis and Mr. Mick Magulias, of Savannah.

Mrs. Robert F. Whitaker, of Fernandina, Fla., served as her sister's matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Beverly Joyner, Statesboro, and Miss Norma Rushing, Register.

They were lovely in models of emerald green and royal iridescent silk organza with crushed bodice, a modified scoop neck in the back with the self fabric forming a beautiful crushed collar, and a very full skirt. They wore matching bandeaux with nose length veils and emerald satin shoes. Their bouquets were fashioned of shades of bronze chrysanthemums with matching ribbons.

Myra Lou and Melanie Carey, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Carey, of Lexington, Ga., nieces of the bride, served as flower girls. They wore emerald green dresses and bandeaux and

Following the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Prosser entertained at a reception in the social hall of the church.

The bride's book was kept by Mrs. Bill Green of Atlanta. As the guests arrived they were greeted by Mrs. Jim Spiers who presented them to the receiving line composed of the bride and groom, their parents, and the bride's attendants.

The bride's table, arranged by Mrs. Ralph Tyson, was covered with an imported linen cloth, centered with a beautiful, embossed tiered wedding cake. On each end were three branched candelabra holding burning Jimmy Prosser, son of Mr. and Mrs. Mooney Prosser of Statesboro, served as ring bearer.

Entering the church with her father, by whom she was given in marriage, the bride wore lovely in her wedding gown of traditional white satin. The fitted bodice was designed with a scalloped neckline applied with lily of the valley lace, featuring sleeves and waist line fastening with numerous tiny satin covered buttons. The front of the gown was of illusion, with satin cascading on each side to form the cathedral length train. Her shoulder veil of illusion was attached to a princess cap of lace and seed pearls. The bride carried a white chandelier lace covered prayer book centered with a white orchid, white tulip and stephanotis.

Mrs. Prosser wore for her daughter's wedding, a royal blue chiffon over taffeta featuring a boat neckline with three quarter length sleeves, and matching full skirt, and matching accessories. A purple orchid completed her outfit.

Let's say thanks for our tourist industry

This week on our front page we focus attention on the findings of the Tourist Committee of the Statesboro and Bulloch County Chamber of Commerce.

Because we found them amazing we believe that they are worthy of your study.

Most citizens have let themselves think that money spent by tourists in our community has little or no impact upon its economy. The general conception being that only the motels, the hotels, the restaurants and service stations benefit from the tourist industry. Oh, they conceded that a little bit of it might be trickling into the cash registers of the department stores or drug stores or other places of business in our community.

Now comes a report which puts an entirely new light upon what adds up to be one of our biggest "industries"—the tourist industry.

Seventy-three hotels, motel and motor courts, with a total of 450 units and 103 rooms, ten restaurants, together with service stations, all employing a total of 514 employees with a weekly payroll of $21,520—and these figures do not include what the owners draw for their work. And an investment of $5,797,000 and a gross income of $6,607,300.

Do a little hard thinking on these figures and then let there be concerted and enthusiastic support of what our community does to encourage and promote our great tourist industry.

Let's all get together and say thanks for U.S. 301, U.S. 80, and U.S. 25, as well as Georgia 67, Georgia 26, and Georgia 73.

Jaycees are just for getting out the vote

Members of the Statesboro Junior Chamber of Commerce are extending their "Get-Out-the-Vote" campaign to include the General Election on November 8 and the City Election on December 2.

The officers, the directors and the members of this young businessman's organization believe that it is the duty of every citizen who is qualified to go to the polls on election days and exercise his and her right to vote.

While urging citizens to vote these Jaycees make it perfectly plain that their "Get-Out-the-Vote" activities are exactly that. They do not endorse nor support any individual candidate for any public office. On this position they stand firmly. Their sole objective is to see that as many voters as can get to the polls on election days to vote.

They care not for whom you vote—they just want you to vote.

We commend these young businessmen for their interest in promoting greater numbers of voters to go to the polls. It's a worthy objective and one not to be taken lightly for it represents an awareness of their responsibilities as citizens of the community in which they live.

It matters not to the Jaycees for whom you vote—but they do say vote on November 8 and December 2.

Join you Chamber of Commerce today

The Statesboro and Bulloch County Chamber of Commerce is taking steps to protect the businessman and citizens who live in Statesboro from the nuisance created by the seemingly unlimited number of solicitations by all sorts and kinds of people and organizations.

This is one of the dividends which comes from becoming a member of the Chamber of Commerce.

Have you mailed in your membership fee? If not, do so today.

Read The Ads And Save

By LAWRENCE E. HOUSTON JR.

A NEW YORK newspaper sometime ago ran this ad: "Wanted — Housekeeper for family of four. Every modern convenience in the home. Good salary. Must be a Christian—A CHEERFUL CHRISTIAN, IF POSSIBLE."

We are often forgetful that laughter is God's soothing touch on a fevered world. As an archer untrains his taut bow so that it will not lose its vibrancy, so a sense of humor keeps the tensions from building up to strongly in one's life.

IN THE FIRST CONGRESS, a member introduced a resolution limiting the Federal Army to three thousand men. George Washington then arose to suggest an amendment which provided that no enemy should invade the United States with more than two thousand soldiers. What better antidote for the tensions of a tired and distraught world than laughter and a sense of humor?

The ability to laugh at one's self is a mark of maturity. Early in a marriage the husband practiced the habit of breaking a plate every time he became angry with his wife. Soon his wife was breaking plates with him. They ended up laughing at each other and themselves, and their tensions eased. Laughter helps destroy self-pity, pride, and pomposity.

At this point in our discussion of alcoholism I think it is a good idea to find out just who the average alcoholic is. What does he do? What does he cost us? Is he a bum?

ACCORDING to information released by the Alcohol Rehabilitation Service of the Georgia State Department of Health he is certainly not a tramp. On the contrary, the typical alcoholic is a most important fellow in our society.

Quoting researchers, "He is found in the middle-grade, usually a skilled or semi-skilled person, ranging in age between 35 and 45, married, maintaining his own home, having two or three children. In other words a respectable member of the community."

Skilled and semi-skilled workers (mechanics, electricians, plumbers, painters, farmers, etc.) account for 48% of the alcoholics. Unskilled workers represent 29%. Ten per cent come from the ranks of the professional, managerial, and proprietary people who include doctors, lawyers, business owners, clergymen, executives, engineers, etc. and the white collar class.

THE SKID ROW BUMS, who for decades have been considered typical alcoholics, make up only three per cent of all alcoholics.

These figures enable us to make a general conclusion about what the average alcoholic is doing. He is not hopped up in a shabby room drinking. He is WORKING! That is, most of the time he is working. Dr. E. M. Jellinek and Mark Keller of the Yale University School of Alcohol Studies say there are about four and one-half million alcoholics in the United States. Of these, two one's self. When I was a teenager I owned a Model T Ford. Once when the motor was missing I foolishly tested the spark plug with a monkey wrench. The electric shock flooded me as if I had been bombed in the boxing ring by the likes of Floyd Patterson. It took a long time for me to recognize that as a humorous incident.

A sense of humor also wins the respect of our friends. Jimmy Durante's mother once dressed him in a Buster Brown suit with a large flower collar. He tried to hide from his friends for he knew they would laugh at him. He happened to look in a store window and saw his reflection and started laughing at himself. He laughed until the gang came along and demanded to know what was so funny. He pointed to his reflection: "Look, a guy dressed like a sissy, and with a face like a horse." Soon they were laughing too.

LATER HE LEARNED that if he laughed he could be safe from the world and safe from himself. He said: "All of us have sneezes and are ridiculous in one way or another, if not in our faces, then in our character, minds, or habits. When we admit our sneezes, instead of defending them, we begin to laugh, and the world laughs with us."

Most of us would find a new life for living if we employed a sense of humor.

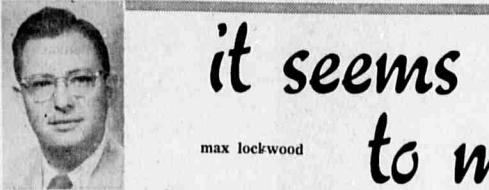

God intended for us to laugh.

Here is more on the U. S. Weather Station at Brooklet, which will be of interest to the old-timers.

The cooperative weather station was established at Brooklet in August 1907, and there has been no break in the record since that time. Stations were operated earlier in Bulloch County, first at Brag and then at Statesboro, and the Brooklet record has commonly been considered a continuation of these records; however, due to the distance of several miles between the different locations, the records are not likely to be entirely compatible. The Brag station was six miles east of Statesboro and the present location is nine miles southeast of Statesboro.

THE BROOKLET WEATHER station has had only one location since its establishment in 1907. It is located at the home of Mr. Will Cromley, the weather observer, about one and one-

NO ABSOLUTE military defense exists today or is likely to exist in the near future which can keep an aggressor from delivering a part of his bombs on American cities.

We have bombs which may be 1000 times as powerful as the bomb used at Hiroshima but these bombs will cause damage not 1000 times greater but only 10 times as great.

There are practical limits which determine the amount of destruction any bomb can cause regardless of its size. The best means of protection from the immediate effects of atomic or hydrogen bombs are distance from the center of the explosion and the protection of suitable shelter.

YOU SHOULD DECIDE now to cooperate fully with your local civil defense authorities. They want to help you learn how to survive, if we are attacked. What you do before the explosion can save your life. What you do after the explosion can also save lives, including your own.

In this area we live beyond the immediate danger of the explosions of the bombs, assuming of course that Savannah and Fort Stewart would be targets. We do all need to learn first aid, know how to feed the hungry, shelter the homeless and aid others less fortunate.

LIFE IS FULL of surprises. Man's plans don't always work out the way he intends them.

My plans called for the production of the fifth - graders' yearly chapel program. Instead, I completed an inspection tour of the hospital personnel from Room 322 in the Bulloch County Hospital, and from the halls leading to it. A tour of a day will only get a dead-pan look and no answer if she turns the questions around and asks, "What is my temperature?"

From my bed I inspected the white - uniformed army, fighting to restore the patients' health. The routine is a psychological one. The day begins with breakfast is served in bed by smiling, cheerful persons who pretend to have no problems and that yours are theirs and they will gladly listen to yours.

ONCE YOU HAVE breakfasted, even though it may have been only a cup of clear, chicken broth and a glass of orange juice, you may lie down and restore your energy loss in this exertion. (If you don't rate more than such a diet, it isn't the hospital's fault — the fault lies in your body. Of course, he'll try to pass the buck to the patient's digestive system.)

If the patient is lucky enough to have a kind friend who has left a newspaper, this is the time to read the news. BEFORE THERE is time to become bored, some more pleasant white-uniformed folks are there to get a bath ready. Once the patient is clean, the bed is

Through his long period of service, and the consistently high quality of his records, Mr. Cromley has rendered an invaluable service to his government and his fellow citizens.

THAWING FROZEN FOODS more frozen fruits and vegetables at one time than is actually needed, says Miss Nelle Thrash, food preservation specialist with the Georgia Agricultural Extension Service. Once food is thawed it spoils more rapidly than fresh food, she explains. To thaw foods, she advised placing the unopened package in a refrigerator for six to 12 hours, on a table for three to four hours, before an electric fan from one-half to one hour, or run cold water over the package.

When serving frozen fruits for dessert, open the package just what you need ready to serve and while there are still a few ice crystals in the fruit, advises Miss Nelle Thrash, Extension food preservation specialist.

Rep. Preston says "Thanks" to district friends

Congressman Prince H. Preston expressed a warm "thank you" to the many thousands of friends who stuck by him during his 14 years in Congress, the longest tenure ever enjoyed by a First District Representative in modern times.

Mr. Preston, who piled up more popular votes than his opponent but lost the county unit votes in his recent bid for re-nomination, said: "I wish to express my sincere appreciation to the many thousands of friends and supporters who put their trust in me and made it possible for me to represent the First District in Congress for the past 14 years. Without the untiring efforts of those who assisted me in my most recent, and past campaigns, such a long tenure as I enjoyed would not have been possible."

"I always endeavored to represent the majority viewpoint of my District and to make decisions in the best interest of the nation on matters of National concern."

"My most gratifying experience in public life was in being able to help so many wonderful people with their personal problems."

"The most rewarding aspect of my public service, however, has been the countless thousands of friends I have made. I cherish these friendships and hope that in the future I shall be able to share even closer relationships with these good people."

Know your schools

EDITOR'S NOTE—This is another in a series of articles entitled "KNOW YOUR SCHOOLS." It is in the form of questions asked by parents and teachers of Bulloch County and answered by members of the Bulloch County Education Association. We continue this week the discussion of the physical school bus and transportation program with Mr. Leffer Akins answering the questions.

Q. What is a school bus driver selected?
A. School bus drivers are generally selected by people of the community to be served, in most cases the Local Board of Trustees.

Q. What are the qualifications for a school bus driver?
A. They must be recommended by someone in the community where they live, and they must pass a complete physical eye and examination as required by the State Board of Education. They must be less than 59 years of age when they begin driving, and must retire at 65.

Q. How much does a school bus cost?
A. Prices vary according to what one buys, but a minimum cost for a rated 54 passenger bus is about $4,300.00. A rated 48 passenger bus is about $250 less.

Q. How long does a school bus last?
A. The State Board of Education recommends 5 years for a chassis and 10 years for a body. Bulloch County is having to use each chassis 7 years, and is buying 10 chassis each year, approximately. Most bodies we use 14 years. By putting a rebuilt body on a bus, the cost for each bus is reduced to about $3,000.00.

Q. How much does the county pay for gas?
A. Bulloch County is now paying 11 and 83/100 cents per gallon for gas plus 6 1/2 cents per gallon State taxes. We are exempted from 4 cents per gallon Federal taxes. Thus our gas is 18 33/100 cents per gallon.

Q. How are school buses insured?
A. Because of the excessive cost, Bulloch County School does not carry collision insurance. They carry liability insurance of $100,000.00 per bus and $20,000.00 per person, and $2000 per person medical expenses.

Q. What are the costs for operating school buses in our county?
A. On the old system of 66 buses in the county, the costs are as follows:

White Colored
Drivers $37,826 $24,935
Salary 22,528 8,844
Depreciation .. 39,244 31,583
Maintenance and Operation .. 2,330 1,646
Insurance $101,928 $67,010
Totals .. $183,328 $126,978

Q. How many miles do Bulloch County school buses travel?
A. Bulloch County school buses travel approximately 2036 miles twice a day, of which 691 are on paved roads. This totals about 774,770 miles per year.

Q. What are the per pupil and per mile costs for school bus operation?
A. Follows:

White Colored
Cost per pupil $45.00 $35.00
Cost per mile 24.44 19.84
Cost per bus 2486.00 2301.73

Q. What percentage of the county school expenditures is for transportation?
A. Attendance is measured in ADA, which means Average Daily Attendance. The State Board of Education allots our county money for school bus operation on the basis of our ADA. If a student is absent, he lowers the ADA, and thus cuts down the money that the State will allow us.

Q. How does our transportation system compare in size with others in the state?
A. It is one of the larger ones but not the largest.

Q. Why are Bulloch County buses without heaters?
A. A heater large enough to heat a school bus is so expensive to buy and to run, and in general our weather has relatively few really cold days, so that we feel it is wise to not have heaters.

Q. Are our school buses overloaded?
A. When any Bulloch County school bus loads beyond the legal limit the load or route is immediately adjusted to bring it within the limit.

Q. Are our school buses over-loaded?
A. When any Bulloch County school bus loads beyond the legal limit the load or route is immediately adjusted to bring it within the limit.

PLOW UNDER WEEDS

Plowing under weeds in the fall can be a big help in preventing weeds in the home garden and in commercial vegetable plantings next spring, according to C. D. Spivey, Extension horticulturist. The weed needs to be plowed under before their seed reach maturity so they won't germinate next spring when the ground warms up.

Farmers finishing peanuts, work corn

By MRS. W. H. MORRIS

Farmers are now about finished with peanut picking, and the direction of Mrs. Charles Knight and Miss Elizabeth Higginson, pianist, will meet for choir practice each Thursday evening at 5:00 o'clock at almes Church.

Folks who need to buy corn, can buy it cheaper than they can grow it. So the farmer who sells his corn now, at the primitive Baptist Church, under sent price, will lose money. Shelled corn is selling for $1.02 per bushel at Brooklet (it was selling for that last week) chances are, that within the next two months corn may get even cheaper.

Mr. and Mrs. James Morris and son, Gary, spent last Sunday in Savannah with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gary Jordan, and The James Hovers. They also visited Mrs. Anese Westberry and Miss Wanda Westberry on Sunday evening.

Mrs. Virginia Banks and three children of Savannah visited Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Morris and family last Sunday Mrs. J. L. Morris and family last Sunday evening.

Marjorie Neal: third grade teacher and power company owner

POWER COMPANY OWNER? That's right, Miss Neal, third grade teacher in the Good-year Elementary School, Brunswick, is a shareholder of the Georgia Power Company. That makes her one of our bosses.

You'll find power company owners in nearly every occupation. In fact, 134,770 men and women are direct investors in the Georgia Power Company and its parent firm, The Southern Company.

Many more than this are indirect owners. For example, when banks and insurance companies accept your money, they must invest it wisely. Much of it goes into electric utility, bonds and stocks. Almost everyone in the nation has at least an indirect financial interest in electric company operation.

So, you see, electric power companies, such as the Georgia Power Company, serving just about everybody, are owned by just about everybody.

It's the American way of doing business—a way that has served our nation well.

Progress Abounds On GSC Campus

by ROLAND PAGE

Construction recently completed, now underway, and planned for the future, should enable GSC to accommodate a student body of 1800, according to President Zach S. Henderson. Enrollment is now 1262.

Dr. Henderson stated that the new girl's dormitory, which is now under construction, will house 160 girls. He said that the $500,000 building is expected to be completed by the 1960-61 winter quarter.

Another half-million dollar project to be completed by the winter quarter is the industrial arts building. The president said that this building will be composed of fully equipped shops offering courses in electronics, woodworking, mechanical drawings, sheet metal working and others.

A third building now under construction is the Home Management House located behind the student center. This building will provide girls with practical experience in managing a home.

He said that a capacity of eight girls will live in the house for a quarter, doing their own cooking, sewing and washing. He added that this $85,000 building is expected to be in use during the winter quarter.

Dr. Henderson went on to describe other improvements made during the summer which included the addition of a fully equipped language laboratory on the ground floor of the Administration Building and complete remodeling of the second floor.

Dr. Henderson went on to say that Cone and Lewis Hall were repainted during the summer and the West wing of the second floor of Deal dormitory was remodeled.

Commenting on proposed construction and expansion in the future, Dr. Henderson said that proposals have been brought forward to build two more dormitories, one girls' and one boys', plus additions to Lewis Hall, the library and the Hanner Building.

MR. AND MRS. CHARLIE NESSMITH

Charlie Nessmith is named 'Man of Year' for Soil work

In special ceremonies held at the Community House in Metter on Thursday night, October 20, Mr. Charlie Nessmith was named Bulloch County's "Man of the Year in Soil Conservation" for 1960.

Agriculture Phil Campbell was the guest speaker at the ceremony. This was the tenth annual awarding of the honor. It is sponsored by the bankers and soil supervisors of the Ogeechee River Soil Conservation District. Bulloch County's "Man of the Year in Soil Conservation" for 1960 is a real dirt farmer. He has farmed all his life and would be completely lost in any other line of work.

He started farming in 1938 the year after he married. He farmed for two years standing rent before buying his own place. In 1940 he purchased the old Dan Atkins place in the Port Community which consisted of about 100 acres. The land itself was good, but there were no improvements. There were no houses, barns, or fences of much value.

With the financial assistance of the old Farm Security Administration, now known as the Farmers Home Administration, Mr. Nessmith was able not only to buy the farm, but build a new home for his family. He began immediately to build barns and fences. He now has a large barn for livestock and feed storage, a modern implement shed, and completely new-fencing over the entire place. He also has a fine 4" deep well for home and livestock use.

In 1946 Bulloch's "Man of the Year" bought an adjoining farm of 98 acres known as the Pleasant Atkins place, and it was at this point that he began his Soil and Water Conservation program. He first had a completed Soil and Water Conservation plan made for his entire farm of 198 acres. The plan called for terraces with sodded waterways, a farm pond, pastures of coastal bermuda grass, and conservation crop rotations, in addition to proper woodland management.

Mr. Nessmith immediately began applying the plan to the land. Most of his 130 acres of cropland was good Tifton soil which was washing badly. He completely terraced all this land with conventional terraces. He planted 12 acres of coastal bermuda pasture and constructed a farm pond for livestock and fish. He planted two acres of Arlington Strain Sericea Lespedeza furnished by the Soil Conservation Service for trial and observation.

Bulloch County's "Man of the Year in Soil Conservation" for 1960, Charlie Nessmith, is a good farmer, a fine sportsman, and a loyal friend.

He is married to the former Miss Blanche Atkins and has one son - Charles Ricky. He takes an active part in community and church affairs, and is a good neighbor to all who know him.

When asked what he attributed most of his farming success to, he immediately gave credit to his fine wife, Blanche. He then added that the financial help of the FHA, the Production Credit Association, and the Banks helped make it all possible. To the Soil Conservation District and the Soil Conservation Service he attributed most of his better farming methods and the stability of his farming enterprise.

Temperature ... Highs and Lows

The thermometer readings for the week of Monday, October 17, through Sunday, October 23, were as follows:

| | HIGH | LOW |
|--------------------------|------|---------|
| Mon., Oct. 17 | 86 | 60 |
| Tues., Oct. 18 | 89 | 60 |
| Wed., Oct. 19 | 90 | 68 |
| Thurs., Oct. 20 | 78 | 67 |
| Fri., Oct. 21 | 69 | 51 |
| Sat., Oct. 22 | 68 | 48 |
| Sun., Oct. 23 | 76 | 41 |
| Rainfall of the week was | 31 | inches. |

Then came parallel terraces which reduce the cost of all farming operations, and a motor man again requested assistance from the Ogeechee River Soil Conservation District to do this work. The Soil Conservation Service staked the terraces and waterways out and the Ogeechee River Soil Conservation District, operating a motor grader, leveled out the old terraces with 5 shaped and sodded waterways have been built in the past three years through this teamwork. These five waterways have been seeded to pensacola bahia grass. In addition to all this work, he completely rebuilt and deepened his old farm pond this year. And, in tune with the times, he tried his first match planted soybeans this year - about 20 acres and built new parallel terraces. A total of 6.3 miles of parallel terraces with 5 shaped and sodded waterways and enlarged the original home.

Gallon givers cross many lines—they are professional people, business people, farmers, men and women.

Those who would become blood donors at the October 31 visit of the Bloodmobile are invited to be at the Recreation Center on Fair Road Monday afternoon between the hours of 1 and 3 o'clock.

"It's so easy to give blood, and there's a great satisfaction in becoming a blood donor," said one Gallon Giver.

Lannie Simmons wins long trip

The Atlanta Regional office of the Studebaker-Packard Corporation announced in a telegram to Lannie F. Simmons, local Studebaker dealer here in Statesboro, that he has won an all-expense paid trip to Hawaii for himself and his wife.

Mr. Simmons won the trip as a result of being the leading dealer in the southeast section of the United States in a recent sales contest.

Upon questioning Mr. Simmons about the trip, he stated "I'm not sure whether we will go or not." Mrs. Simmons was a little more definite, stating "we'll go."

Mr. and Mrs. Simmons are scheduled to leave with other leading dealers sometime in January. This follows a recent trip for the two that Mr. Simmons won to the Caribbean.

Mr. Simmons, an auto dealer for approximately thirty years more, started with Studebaker Corporation.

There will be a Halloween Soc-Hop Saturday, October 29, in the Statesboro High School gymnasium, beginning at 6 and lasting until 12 o'clock. All high school and college students are invited. The dress is informal. Refreshments will be served. Tickets are 50c single and 75c couple. Contact any Statesboro High senior to purchase tickets.
