He announced last week that Mrs. Edgar Hagan is the chairman of the Festival Beauty Pageant and that Don McDougald of Radio Station WNNW will be master of ceremonies for the parade which will be held in the city along South Main, to the Recreation Center where it will "break up." Mr. Don McDougald of Radio WNNW announced that the parade will be carried "live" on the radio. ## Local tobacco market begins 34th season today; crop good, prices expected to be higher

Local tobacco warehousemen predict that sales on the local market will be better than last season, both from the price standpoint and volume. Sales will begin this morning at 8:30 a.m. as the auctioneer begins the familiar chant that only the tobacco buyers, warehousemen and sales personnel will understand.

The 34th tobacco auction in Statesboro will get underway here today with two sales starting at eight-thirty.

Prospects are bright for one of the best seasons here since the market was established in 1928. The crop is good in both quantity and quality and yield is expected to equal that of last year when Bulloch county produced 5,473,529 pounds.

Statesboro will operate with four firms this season. The firm of Cobb and Foxhall and Sheppards have consolidated and will operate as Sheppard, Atkins and Sugg. The new firm is composed of H. E. Atkins, a Bulloch county farmer, J. T. Sheppard and Harding Sugg both of North Carolina. Aubert Brannen and A. J. Brannen Jr., natives of Statesboro will again operate the Farmers Warehouse and the New Statesboro Warehouse. Guy Sutton will again operate the Farmers Warehouse and the New Statesboro Warehouse. Cecil Wooten, Ed Wiggins and George Sugg.

The Statesboro market, largest in physical size in the Georgia-Flores Belt, has thirteen warehouses covering 775,000 square feet of floor space. The market has grown from a two house market in 1928, selling 2,306,288 pounds the first season, to as high as twenty million pounds in 1953. Statesboro has led the state since 1946, with the exception of one year.

Two full sets of buyers representing every major company buying bright leaf tobacco will be on the Statesboro market. The companies buying here are: American Tobacco Company, R. J. Reynolds, Liggett, Myers, Imperial, Export, Farmville, Venable, Fields and Southern.

For the first time since the market was established here in 1928 the name Cobb will not appear on a sales card.

43 members of bomb scoring unit now here

Forty-three members of the Twelfth Radar Bomb Scoring Squadron of the Strategic Air Command, now located at the Statesboro Air Force Base, have moved to Statesboro with their families.

Of these, 11 do not have any dependents. The other thirty-two have a total of eighty-five dependents.

The roster includes four officers and thirty-nine enlisted men. Fourteen additional enlisted men are expected to move here during August and September.

ALVIN W. ALLEN promotes Allen to supervisor

N. W. Rowand, General Manager of the Statesboro Division, Rockwell Manufacturing Company, announced today the promotion of Alvin W. Allen to supervisor of the local plants.

Mr. Rowand states that both of these promotions are in line with Rockwell policy of promoting and upgrading from within wherever possible.

"Al" Allen is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Allen of Statesboro, a lifetime resident of Bulloch County, a graduate of Statesboro High School, attended Georgia Southern College and is married to the former Sylvia Brunson of Statesboro.

Mary Alice Belcher is Rec. Center 'Miss Memorial Park'

The Memorial Park Pool was the scene of the Annual Miss Memorial Park Pageant on Friday night, July 21, at 8 p.m.

The pool was decorated beautifully by using the Old South as the theme. Balloons floated in the water with a string of balloons in the center of the pool designating a fountain. Flowers and greenery outlined the path of the 23 contestants.

Four of the past five queens were seated under umbrellas in a flower garden with each one wearing a star which designated the year in which she reigned as "Miss Memorial Park."

The climax of the evening arrived when Miss Patricia Murphy, crowned Miss Mary Alice Belcher "Miss Memorial Park" for 1961, Miss Belcher is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robbie Belcher of Brooklet.

Miss Elaine Scott, daughter of Elder and Mrs. T. Roe Scott, was first runner-up. Miss Lucy Holleman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Holleman, was second runner-up.

Miss Marilyn Denmark was in charge of decorations and directing the pageant. Paula Kelly assisted the contestants from the plantation house to the pool area.

We must work to make U. S. 301 competitive

The State Highway Department and the Coastal Highway District has spelled out the proposed location of Interstate Highway 95 from Brunswick to a point just south of the Atlantic Coast Line overpass below Richmond Hill.

"Well," you ask, "So what?"

Well, to put it bluntly, it means that the future of U. S. 301 and what it means to Statesboro and Bulloch County is tied up in that announcement made in Savannah and reported in the July 19 issue of the Savannah Evening Press.

The proposed route for this section of the Federal system of Interstate Highways will start at the Sidney Lanier bridge in Brunswick, runs east of U. S. 17 to the vicinity of the Brunswick airport. It moves west of Darien.

On the north through Liberty County and then Bryan County to a junction with U. S. 17 just south of Richmond Hill. It crosses the Ogeechee River west of Kings Ferry and on north to cross the Savannah River west of Port Wentworth.

The community leaders in Savannah have already been in Washington and have been talking with the chief of the U. S. Bureau of Public Roads and with other Washington officials in their effort to hurry construction of I-95.

It doesn't take a South Georgia gypsy palm reader to tell us that when Interstate 95 is completed—say within ten years—our U. S. 301 will suffer. For you see, Interstate 95 will follow the present 301 route from the North and east down to the central part of South Carolina from where it veers off toward Savannah to meet the section coming up from Brunswick, just west of Port Wentworth.

"Ten years is a long time," you say, "plenty of time to do something about our U. S. 301."

"Oh yes?" we challenge.

Think back just ten years ago. It seems like just yesterday and we were talking about doing something about U. S. 301 coming through Statesboro. And we're still in the talking stage.

With Interstate 95 completed, tourists will stay on it "all the way." UNLESS we can get our 301 four-laned and in good shape before 195 is completed. This would put 301 in a good competitive position and travelers will have a choice when they reach the dividing point in South Carolina. They, knowing that 301 is four-laned and in good condition, would choose our route to complete their trip south.

And observing what is happening in Sylvania, we here in Statesboro must take a hard, realistic look at 301 through Statesboro, if we are to keep this profitable segment of our income with us.

That sharp right-angle turn at North Main and Parrish Street is a problem and must be solved. The congestion which troubles our traffic on North and South Main Streets, along which 301 lies, must be relieved.

These are two of the conditions which jeopardize our future with U. S. 301.

Let's not let Interstate 95 slip up on us!

Let's begin now getting 301 in a competitive position, when 195 does come!

Wishes for a happy season

The 1961 tobacco market opens this morning.

This marks the thirty-fourth year that tobacco has been sold on the Statesboro market which grew from nothing to the market selling the greatest amount of tobacco of any in the Georgia-Florida flue-cured belt.

This growth did not just happen. It is the result of hard and constant work on the part of community leaders and those who work in the trade of providing facilities for marketing the golden weed.

Our farmers had to be shown in the early years how to grow the plant. They have learned to expect the problems which beset those who live by the soil. Year after year they go through the same process, fighting the elements over which they have no control, putting their faith in their experience and in the past and in the One who does hold the control of the elements in His hands.

And today, as on the first day of each of the past thirty-three market openings, those who bring their tobacco to our market, stand by waiting to see which direction the market will take—up or down, steady or wobbly.

And so today we wish all those who grow the plant, which eventually goes up in smoke, a Happy Tobacco Season!

We say thanks to Mr. Cleo Miles

This week we add our commendation to Mr. Cleo Miles, manager of the Excelsior Electric Membership Corporation, whose headquarters are in Metter, for the part he played in working with the Bulloch County Development Corporation and the officials of the A. & M. Karaghesian, Inc. in overcoming the problems culminating in the selection of Statesboro as the site for the company's new plant.

"Thanks, Mr. Miles."

We say this on behalf of the people of Statesboro and Bulloch County.

There's promise of a fine festival

The first Annual Tobacco Festival, as planned by the Chamber of Commerce, gives promise of being a delightful three-day event for all the people in our county.

There will be gaily decorated streets, store fronts, a parade with bands, floats, horses, pretty girls, a beauty pageant to select a Tobacco Queen and a Tobacco Princess.

AND FREE LEMONADE! We're all for it.

We say thanks

We say thanks to the people who told us they liked our newspaper last week. That's what keeps our feet to the fire and the front burner burning.

IDEAL FEEDING GROUNDS!

This Week's Meditation

By Rev. Lawrence E. Houston Jr.

THE SERMON ON THE Mount is the best! It has the distinction of being the greatest piece of inspirational literature the world has ever known.

Beginning with the Beatitudes, the Sermon describes the characteristics of those who are inhabitants of the Kingdom of God. One cannot look upon these teachings without realizing their lofty quality and their superior standard for Christian conduct.

Jesus begins by saying: "Blessed are the poor in spirit, for theirs is the Kingdom of Heaven." The word "blessed" falls upon our ears with a kind of ecstatic sweetness. We are reminded of persons whose outward appearance of piety is too sickening sweet to be real. This word, however, in its original meaning, is "how happy," and was often used to express sincere congratulations.

WE SHOULD NOT confuse "blessed" with the "happiness cult" of our day. As someone observed: "Their happiness comes more from vitamins than virtue." Jesus on the other hand, meant by happiness the state of "well-being" which comes from surrender to God.

The word "poor" in this beatitude means illumination also. Luke says, "You poor." He seems to indicate that poverty is the gateway to heaven. This is the case, heaven will be full, for most Palestinians met the test of poverty. But, this is hardly agreeable with the teachings and spirit of Jesus.

He knew full well that physical poverty could shake the body and shiver the soul.

Matthew, sensing that poverty and happiness were strange bed fellows, added two words: "In Spirit." And a happy addition they are, for they make poor to mean an inward condition rather than an outward circumstance; a status of spirit rather than a status of the pocketbook.

JESUS DID NOT mean the poor were the hungry, ill-clad, physically unfortunate folk. He meant that the poor spirit were the religious and saintly people.

Opposite the poor were the rich. They were not allergic to heaven because they had money, but because of the hungry, ill-clad, physically unfortunate folk. He meant that the poor spirit were the religious and saintly people.

These words of the first Beatitude are for us who are known as the nation of "aspirin eaters," "tranquillizer users," and worse! "How happy are those who are aware of their spiritual need."

"FOR THEIR IS the Kingdom of Heaven," is the result of meeting the condition of the first clause: "Blessed are the poor in spirit." Notice the verb in this phrase: "for their IS the Kingdom of Heaven." It is not "will be," but "is." It is here and now for those who are aware of their spiritual need.

J. B. Phillips translates this first beatitude: "How happy are the humble-minded, for they already own the kingdom of heaven." Are you a property owner? The price is not in dollars and cents, but in confession of spiritual need.

RECIPE. Notice the large number of brides we've had lately. It may be that young ladies are more willing to march down the aisle these days than in earlier times.

Take for instance, washing clothes. Now all a girl has to do is buy one of these automatic machines that does all (or most) of the work.

Usta be when a girl had to have a recipe, similar to the one we get, her family's washing done:

1. bid a fire in back yard to het kettle or rain water.
2. set tubs so smoke won't blow in eyes, if wind is pert.
3. shave 1 hole cake lie slope in bilin' water.
4. soft things, make 3 piles, 1 white pile, one pile culford, 1 pile work briches and rags.
5. stir four in cold water for smooth, then thin down with bilin' water.

AS THIS Column is being written early on Sunday morning, some of Georgia's finest boys and girls are selecting the clothes to be worn, the special equipment to be carried, and saying their last minute good-byes to friends in their communities as they prepare to journey to the Sixth Annual Youth Workshop.

Being held this year at Georgia Southern College in Statesboro, this workshop is the oldest of its kind in the nation. Many other states have studied the Georgia workshop plan in recreation and have patterned after it. As a result, most of the 50 states now hold some kind of annual workshop for their youth.

So if you have any idea of painting your mailbox to go with your home decorating scheme, just forget the whole thing. A store owner in Miami decided that the red-white-and-blue mailbox on the sidewalk in front of his place of business clashed horribly with the all-pink decoration scheme inside and outside his establishment. So he applied to the PO for permission to paint it pink. The man in Washington said, "No!"

Little League All Stars picked for district tourney

By MAX COLLINS

Every summer at the Recreation Center comes the time when the authorities have the task of picking fifteen Little League All Stars to compete in the district tournament and challenge surrounding towns to compete against them in what they know as Little League baseball.

There are approximately two hundred boys engaged in Little League activities at the Center. Every one of these hard fighting eight to twelve year old boys play their hearts out in their effort to win a place on the All Stars.

This year the All Stars have been chosen and already have a win with no losses in their favor. This game was a 20 to 2 win over Brooklet. Stacey Webb was up one hit and only walked one man.

On August 5 the All Stars go to Port Wentworth to participate in an Invitational Little League Tournament between Port Wentworth, Garden City, Sylvania, and Statesboro.

August 7, 8, 9, the All Stars go to Vidalia to participate in the annual First District Little League Tournament. The tournament is set up in double elimination brackets. The first day finds Statesboro All Stars going against Port and the second day taking on the winners of the Lyons-Waynesboro game. Other teams in the tournament are Vidalia, Sylvania, and Swainsboro.

Bill Kelly and Ronald Barnes, captains of the All Stars, are this year's representatives of the Little League All Stars. They have won the First District, first place trophy every year they have participated in the tournament. We think we have the best All Star team Statesboro has ever known. This means we have to come back with another first place trophy.

Here is a list of the All Stars and the reason they were chosen.

Lilliston Shaker-Quindrower

This is, without doubt, the quietest, smoothest, slickest running shaker we've ever seen. Some of the best points:

- ▲ it comes in a tow or lift model, with leg stand or with gauge wheels, with or without plows. You get it equipped exactly the way you want it.
- ▲ it does a perfect job of windrowing—yet it is very moderately priced. In fact, the low cost will surprise you.
- ▲ it's perfect for re-shaking. Just remove the plows and standards and you're ready to go.
- ▲ Exclusive: Pick-up height can be adjusted without affecting drive-belt tension.

We think this is exactly what you're looking for. Come in and we'll hook it up and run it for you so we can show you what we mean.

Tobacco Festival parade to be most beautiful

Mr. Al Gibson, executive manager of the Bulloch County Chamber of Commerce, announced today that the Tobacco Festival Parade will be one of the prettiest ever held in Statesboro. He said that Statesboro firms and institutions will have in the parade floats which have been built to equal those used at the Master's Golf Tournament in Augusta.

"They are lovely," he said, "and they will be credit to Statesboro and Bulloch County and to the merchants and organizations sponsoring them."

Floats entered, as of Monday of this week, were by H. Minikowitz and Sons, the American Legion, the Sea Island Bank, Rockwell Statesboro Corporation, First Federal Savings and Loan Association, the Bulloch County Bank, the Bulloch Herald, Robbins Packing Company, Piggy Wiggly, the Bulloch County Farm Bureau, Brannen's Tobacco Warehouses and the Brooklet community and Farmers and Merchants Bank at Brooklet.

In addition to the floats the parade will include horses. Mr. Oliff Boyd is in charge of the horse entries.

There will be marching bands to give the parade music.

"Everybody loves a parade" is still a true statement," Mr. Gibson said. "And this will be a fine one."

When the plants are set out, Mr. Allen applies 1000 pounds of fertilizer. On the second plowing another 100 pounds are used along with side dressing.

When the tobacco is fully matured it is topped. About a week before topping, it is suckered. Every week the tobacco is suckered before gathering.

The tobacco is gathered once a week from seven to nine weeks. It is put in the barn and cured. Usually it takes three to three and a half days to cure a barn of tobacco. Mr. Allen uses Propane gas to cure his tobacco.

When tobacco is taken off the sticks it is hand graded before putting into sheets for market. Years ago people who raised tobacco took it to market in four or five different grades. Now there are usually two or three different grades.

Mr. Allen carries most of his tobacco to the Statesboro markets.

Feather in Statesboro's Cap

For several weeks, Statesboro and Bulloch County residents have known that a sizable new industry was about to locate in their community. The beginning of plant construction was the tip-off, and word quickly spread throughout the area.

But it was not until this week that Statesboro learned the identity of its new industrial neighbor. An announcement Thursday revealed that the spacious new building will house a yarn manufacturing operation of A. & M. Karagheusian, Inc., one of the nation's largest carpet manufacturers. The industry will employ some 300 persons, most of whom will be hired in Bulloch County. About 60 per cent of them will be male employees.

Residents of the Statesboro area have every reason to feel a deep sense of pride and satisfaction in the new addition to their community. Officials and private citizens alike share the credit for attracting Karagheusian's investment, just as they will share the benefits it will bring.

Officials and community leaders contributed hard work and active interest in seeking out new industry and in solving the many problems incident to starting a new manufacturing operation. And the entire community played a part in presenting Statesboro as "the kind of town we would be very proud to call 'the new home of Karagheusian,'" which a company official said weighed heavily in the Georgia town's favor.

The Chronicle offers its sincere congratulations to our neighbors to the south and joins them in extending a hearty welcome to the new plant of A. & M. Karagheusian, Inc.

"But, Pop—Don't You Love God, Too?"

The church bells are ringing and Jimmy and Jane are all dressed up ready to go. And so is Mother. But not "Pop." He seems to think that "keeping the Lord's Day holy" is all right for the children. For Pop himself, though, it is his day of rest. "It even says so in the Bible," he insists, "he is better than some people who go to church regularly."

Not all "Pops" are like this, of course. But many parents in the Sunday School class are not Catholics, and perhaps never intend to be. It will be inspiring and valuable for you to learn the Catholic teaching and practice concerning the Lord's Day. For these teachings and practice date back to Apostolic times and have their origin in the teaching and example of The Master Himself. They give a clear and understandable guide to those who wish to manifest their love of the Lord on His Day.

Don't wait for your child to ask: "But, don't you love God, too?" Write today for free pamphlet explaining the Scriptural and historical authority for observing The Lord's Day as Catholics have been doing for nearly 2,000 years... if we wish rightly to honor God. We will send it free in a plain wrapper—and nobody will call on you. Write today for Pamphlet No. KC-36.

Much interest was created in the scholarship award through the day of the Christians even during the lifetime of the Apostles. After several centuries, it became a world-wide law of the Church, which Christ had authorized to make laws.

There is also confusion as to what constitutes "keeping the Lord's Day holy." Catholics, for instance, must assist at Mass, or The Lord's Supper, under penalty of serious sin. Many other Christians also place great importance on unfaithful participation in Sunday worship.

There will be two scholarships - each covering full tuition for one year at Georgia Tech. This is the second year that the Savannah Area Georgia Tech Alumni Club has made scholarships available.

Governor urges support of Georgia Farm Safety Week

By T. R. POWELL, County Agent

Farm Safety Week is set for the week of July 23-29th. Governor Vandiver has proclaimed the week as such in Georgia and urged all citizens of Georgia to support and participate in this special effort to help reduce the number of accidents on the farm.

The theme of the week this year is "Safety is a Family Affair." It will stress two critical areas of safety—rural highway and farm machinery safety.

Every 32 seconds a farm resident suffers an injury which disables him beyond that day, according to the National Safety Council.

It takes about 61 cents of the consumer's food dollar to process, transport and distribute foods today. This leaves less than 40 cents of the food dollar for the grower of the product—or ten cents less than he got ten years ago, according to Miss Dorothy Powe, Extension consumer marketing specialist.

It doesn't take long to check for and remove hazards in and around the home, and the time couldn't be better spent, says Miss Lucille Hightower, head of the Extension health department.

Safety shields and guards on farm machines are there for protection of the machine operator; replace them immediately after servicing, urges Extension Agricultural Engineer H. B. Goolsby.

Some farrowing houses get too hot in the summer and cause the loss of many pigs. Farrowing houses should have insulated ceilings to prevent the heat on the roof from coming down on the pigs.

Good cross ventilation is necessary, especially for the sow. Several electric fans may be necessary to circulate the air in a farrowing house when the temperature is above 80 degrees F.

Many sows fail to produce enough milk for her litter in the summertime when in a farrowing house. Sometimes they will not milk at all when they are uncomfortable due to the heat.

Some farrowing houses get so hot that it is necessary to turn the sow and litter out on the ground with natural shade to save the sow and litter. Pigs can stand much more heat than sows.

Several swine producers in the state are putting "snout coolers" in their farrowing houses. This is a stream of cool air piped into the front of a farrowing crate on the head of the sow. The air conditioning is much cheaper than space air conditioning and may be necessary in certain houses that get very hot. A good insulated ceiling with cross ventilation using electric fans or ceiling exhaust fan will be satisfactory in most cases.

Keep farrowing houses dry, especially during rainy weather. High humidity, damp wet farrowing houses are one of the main reasons for scours in baby pigs. Use shavings, short straw, or other material that will absorb a lot of moisture. Do not sawdust due to parasite infection and irritation of the pigs.

Home accidents caused 4,000,000 disabling injuries in the U. S. in 1959, according to the National Safety Council.

Light Photographic Squadron 62 uses the Chance-Vought "Crusader" aircraft to provide carrier-based photo reconnaissance for the Atlantic Fleet. Before entering the service in July 1958, Pye was graduated from Southeast Bulloch High School in Brooklet.

Mr. Neal Bowen, in the Registrar Community, is taking advantage of the feed grain land rental program to retrace and improve the land while it is when planting.

Marcus Brown Seligman of Statesboro, Georgia, pre-registered this week in the General College Pre-Registration Program at the University of North Carolina.

Seligman is the son of Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Seligman of 402 Grande St., Statesboro, Georgia. He was one of over 100 students participating in the University's pre-registration program this week. The purpose of the pre-registration program is to enable students entering the University to take required placement tests in advance, to select his subjects for the fall, and to have the opportunity to consult officials of the University regarding plans, ROTC opportunities.

Traffic accidents are the leading cause of accidental death among rural youth under 25 years of age, reports the National Safety Council.

Mr. Delmas Rushing, a District cooper in the Sinkhole Community, has made an outstanding success of much planting soybeans following combined grain his first year. His beans are beautiful and clean and as Mr. Rushing put it, "I haven't had any weed problem." He says the only trouble he has had is the middles which are not packed by the tractor wheels. This prevents the straw from rotting fast enough since moisture does not rise as good in the loose middles. He thinks maybe there is a need for a press-wheel on these middles when planting.

The First Baptist Church of Statesboro was the setting Sunday, July 16, at 4:30 p.m. for the beautiful and impressive marriage ceremony of Miss Jeannie Webb to James Hamilton Hodges. Officiating at the double ring ceremony was Dr. J. Robert Smith.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Albert Nelson Webb of Statesboro and the late Mr. Webb of Eatonton, Georgia.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Hodges of Statesboro.

Woodwardia fern formed the background for arrangements of white gladioli, chrysanthemums and peonies centered by cathedral candelabra holding burning candles flanked by palms and tree candelabra. The chancel was banked with leather leaf and jade fern. Pews were marked with white satin bows and gladioli.

Mrs. Fred Walton, organist, presented the nuptial music. Dr. Jack N. Averitt sang "I Love Thee" and "Entr'acte Me Not to Leave Thee."

The bride, given in marriage by her uncle, J. Auburn Webb Cochran, wore a lovely gown, designed and made by her mother; it was of silk and French Chantilly lace over organza taffeta and nylon net.

The fitted bodice featured a sabrina neckline appliqued with lace flowers outlined with pearls and sequins and long fitted sleeves ending in calla points. The bell-shaped skirt of silk tulle was edged with applique snowflake designs of lace outlined with pearls and sequins terminated in a chisel train. Her fingertip veil of illusion was attached to a crown of imported pearls. She carried a bouquet of sweetheart, ranunculus and valley lilies centered with a white orchid and showered with stephanotis.

Mrs. Asa Marshall III of Macon, the bride's sister, was maid of honor. She wore a street length peacock blue silk organza featuring a fitted bodice, cap sleeves and cummerbund with a tiered bouffant skirt. Her headpiece was of white tulle and yellow roses with a halo veil of scalloped illusion and pearls. She carried a bouquet of yellow carnations and mums showered with yellow satin ribbons.

Miss Ada Lee Fulford of Swainsboro, Miss Sue Ellis, Statesboro and Mrs. Melvin Butler of Hinesville, sister of the groom, were bridesmaids. Miss Andrea Novak of Atlanta was junior bridesmaid. The attendants wore dresses and accessories identical to that of the honor attendant.

Lloyd Hodges served as his son's best man. Usher-grooms were Asa Marshall III, Macon, brother-in-law of the bride; Inman Hodges, brother of the groom; Windy Hodges and John Thomas Hodges of Statesboro.

The bride's table, overlaid with an imported cutwork cloth, was centered with the beautifully embossed three-tiered wedding cake topped with the traditional bride and groom. Silver candelabra holding lighted yellow tapers were entwined at the base with yellow satin ribbons connecting the bridesmaids bouquets, which decorated the table. As background decor for the table was a beautiful white trellis entwined with miniature ivy. The refreshment table, covered with illusion over taffeta, was draped and tied with white satin ribbons and valley lilies. On one end of the table was a crystal punch bowl and the other end held a silver candelabrum with an arrangement of white gladioli, mums and yellow sweetheart roses lighted by yellow candles.

Dainty sandwiches, chicken salad in pastry shells, nuts and mints were served.

Miss Cecelia Anderson, kept the bride's book, at a table with organza and lace cover and decorated with the bride's bouquet and a lovely bride doll, sent to the bride from Brussels by her sister.

Assisting in serving were Mrs. N. Holder, Eatonton, Georgia; Louis Ellis, Miss Penny Allen, Mrs. Effie Parker, Miss Angela Baird of Pelham; Miss Sandra Knowlton, Atlanta; Miss Sue

Brown of Claxton, and Miss Cynthia Johnston of Statesboro. Later in the evening the bride and groom left for a trip to the mountains. Mrs. Hodges traveled in a aqua silk shantung sheath with matching jacket. Her cloche was of white organza and lace. She wore the orchid from her bouquet.

Upon their return they will reside in Statesboro where Mr. Hodges is in business. Mrs. Hodges will continue her education at Georgia Southern College in the fall.

TOP PERFORMANCE:

Shell test crew reveals five ways to test your car for top performance—and how the 9 ingredients in today's Super Shell can help you get it Shell experts test for knock by accelerating up steep grade. In another test, that "fifth wheel" in the back is lowered onto the road to measure mileage precisely.

To John Baker and John Watson (below) of Shell Research, top performance is a scientific standard. They measure it with precision instruments. But any good driver can run a version of their basic tests. Here are five they recommend.

Test #1. Quick starting
Count the seconds it takes to start your car. The engine should "snap to" in about two to three seconds. A slow start drains your battery. And it may flood your cylinders, causing performance troubles.

If your engine is balky, try Super Shell. It's blended with a frisky ingredient called Butane—to give you quick, easy starts.

Test #2. Smooth running
Pay close attention to your engine in traffic.

Does it vibrate roughly when you stop for a traffic light? Does it seem to "surge" as you pull away, then falter and fade? The problem may be the wrong blend of gasoline.

In summer, for example, excessive heat can make winter grade gasoline bubble in the fuel line. Bubbles can interfere with the flow, causing rough running. Shell scientists don't let that happen with Super Shell. When hot weather threatens, they adjust Super Shell's 9-ingredient formula to give it the correct volatility for smooth summer driving.

Test #3. Reserve power
On a turnpike, in light traffic, accelerate suddenly from about thirty miles an hour to the legal limit. Now ask yourself:

1. Did your car accelerate smoothly—with no faltering, no bogging down?
2. Do you have plenty of power to spare?

If you feel you've "run out of engine," it's time to do something about it. Super Shell may be your answer. It contains TCP, a help restore power lost to combustion chamber deposits.

And another Super Shell ingredient, called Platformate, contains components that release 11 per cent more energy than even the finest of 100-octane aviation gasolines.

Test #4. Knock
Accelerate up a long, steep hill and listen carefully. If you hear a sound like marbles falling into an empty oil drum, you've got what's called engine knock. It could cause engine trouble.

Take no chances. Switch to Super Shell. Its formula includes no less than three ingredients to fight the various causes of knock.

Test #5. Miles per gallon
Don't trust your fuel gauge when you measure miles per gallon. Take these three simple steps and be sure.

1. Start your test by filling your tank. Make sure the gasoline comes up to the brim. Write down your mileage reading.

2. Drive in your normal manner for at least three tankfuls—keeping a record of the exact amount you buy.

3. Finally, fill your tank to the brim again. Add up all the gallons you've bought (not counting the initial fill-up in step 1.) Divide this amount into your total miles driven. This gives you your miles per gallon. Try this test with three tankfuls of Super Shell. You'll see what top performance really is.

A Bulletin from Shell Research—where 1,997 scientists are working to make your car go better and better.

*Trademark for Shell's unique gasoline additive, Gasoline containing TCP is covered by U.S. Patent 2689212
