

Check Your Garbage Can

HAVE YOU checked your garbage can recently?
Is it in pretty good shape? Not rusted? Got a cover?

If you find that it is in bad shape, it is a good idea to replace it with a good can, not too big, and with a good cover. Put in a place where it can be easily reached by the garbage collector.

The Health Department of Statesboro will begin a systematic check of all garbage cans in the city on Friday, May 22. Those whose cans fail to come up to the department's specifications will be notified of that fact. Then the home owner has three weeks in which to secure a can which will meet the requirements.

Then if the requirements are not met the city authorities will take action against those who are delinquent.

In an attempt to make Statesboro a more comfortable community in which to live this summer, the Health Department will begin a spray program on May 22, to control flies.

All garbage cans and areas around the garbage cans will be sprayed three times with chlordane.

It is believed that this program will result in a cleaner, more comfortable city.

But the program cannot be successful unless every homeowner and every home-maker cooperates 100 per cent.

The City Council urges all to take this program seriously.

Check your garbage can.

If it's bad, replace it.

Do this NOW.

Farming Is Profession

A LATE March issue of Pennsylvania Farmer carried a brief but significant article by Wellington D. Smith of the Pennsylvania Young Farmers Association. His theme was the almost incredible progress we have witnessed since the turn of the century. As he put it, "Fifty-two years ago the telephone and electricity were in the infant stage. No one believed in the horseless carriage or the gasoline engine. Old Dobin and the wagon wheel were here to stay. The breech loader was then our secret weapon."

"Today I am surrounded with the necessary but apparently luxurious automobile, streamliner, super-sonic jet aircraft, atomic submarine, radio, television, deep freeze, electric kitchen, combine, hay baler, field chopper and diesel tractor. Even old Daisy (the family cow) is equipped with a jet pump. . . . During the years following World War II there have been fabulous investments made in agricultural enterprises. Such investments have served to cause a tremendous increase in agricultural production."

The result of this, Mr. Smith believes, is that farming is becoming a true and integral part of our vast industrial system. And here he made the telling observation that farming ". . . is no longer a proposition for the man with the hoe. It is a profession for the man with a knowledge of the science of the soils, the language of a cow, and the heart of a tractor."

Science and machines have gone a long way to transform the face of the land. And they are transforming the lives of the men and women who live on the land. —Carrollton Times Free Press.

Up She Goes Again

THE YOUNG help the young.

It is only fitting that the Statesboro Junior Chamber of Commerce should "adopt" the youth of the Statesboro Recreation Center to help and promote the program under the direction of Max Lockwood.

Comes an announcement this week from the Jaycees that they have earmarked and set aside $1,500 to be spent at the Recreation Center.

They have specified that $1,000 will be used to build a wading pool for the kids not yet big enough to go in the "big pool." They have specified that $500 is to be used to lay the concrete foundation for a 30 feet by 60 feet picnic shelter to be used by picnickers and as a skating rink when not being used for picnics.

The Jaycees, however, want it definitely understood that the youth of the Recreation Center belong to all of Statesboro, and what they are doing is to help the youth of this community in every way they can. They also want it understood that the City of Statesboro, represented by the City Council, is cooperating in their contribution.

It is commendable that this group of young people are taking this active interest in the community's small fry.

And so we take our best-up hat and throw it high into the air for this wonderful thing the young business men of Statesboro are doing for our youth.

Two Fine Speakers

STATESBORO WILL hear four fine speakers here during commencement time.

On June 1 our own Pete Donaldson will address the Senior Class of the Statesboro High School.

On Monday, June 8, James Saxon Childers, associate editor of the Atlanta Journal will address the Senior-Class at Teachers College.

On Sunday, May 31, Rev. Ewell Nelson of Savannah will preach the Commencement Sermon for the Statesboro High School graduation class.

On Sunday, June 7, Rev. Charles A. Jackson Jr. (our Charlie Jackson), will preach the Commencement Sermon for the College graduation class.

Our schools are fortunate in their selection of these speakers.

And the citizens of our community will do well to take advantage of the opportunity to hear them.

Right-Turners, Red Lights

AND SO he just made a right turn on the red light.

And he's a law-abiding citizen.

That is ordinarily.

He wasn't in a hurry.

He just made the turn—while the light was still red—and drove up West Main Street and parked there at Bradley and Cone's.

He could have waited for the light to turn green.

But no, he just drove up along side another car waiting for the light to change, whipped to the right and was half block away when the light changed. . . . and parked at the corner of Walnut and West Main.

There's a lot of automobile drivers in Statesboro like this character.

Making right-turns on red lights.

Another Meeting

IT DOESN'T sound like an interesting meeting, on first thought.

The meeting to be held here on next Wednesday, May 27.

On Civil Defense.

Just another meeting, you're thinking. Ok, so it's just another meeting.

But you'll do well to accept our suggestion and make your plans to attend.

The primary purpose of the meeting is to perfect the local Civil Defense organization to provide maximum support to any area that may suffer from atomic attack or other disaster.

Does that register?

Welcome Home 'Snag'

WE JOIN the members of the local National Guard in saying "Welcome Back Home" to Lt. Colonel Bothwell A. ("Snag") Johnson.

Colonel Johnson has been named Battalion Commander of the 101st AAA Gun Battalion, Georgia National Guard, with headquarters here in Statesboro.

Despite Colonel Johnson's distinguished service with the armed forces during World War II, he is better known here in Statesboro as Coach "Snag" Johnson who coached the Statesboro High Blue Devils.

We are glad to have "Snag" Johnson back home.

And to Henry Ellis, the retiring commanding officer, we say "Well Done."

GEORGIA was the first state to build a railroad, which it still owns, known as the Western and Atlantic Railroad, connecting Atlanta and Chattanooga, it was completed in 1851.

Your National Guard

A Special Request For Hitch-Hikers;

Several Statesboro motorists have called a little matter to the attention of the Georgia State Chamber of Commerce, to ask your co-operation in helping us to solve a problem.

These people have stated that they enjoyed helping the students through giving them rides to school and all students who are familiar with "hitch-hiking" know what a wonderful feeling it is to have a car stop to pick you up and to save you from the long "hike" back to school.

Since so many students are grateful to the reserve component of the regular Armed Forces of the United States, a National Guard Anti-Aircraft Artillery 90 mm Gun Battalion has its headquarters along with a headquarters battery and one gun battery located right here in Statesboro.

Young men 17 years old and above are eligible to join the Guard. Those between 17 and 18 must have written parental consent. Any young man who becomes a member of the Guard before reaching 18 1/2 years of age will not be drafted into the regular armed services as long as he remains an active member of the Guard. This exemption remains effective even if the young man goes away to college and becomes a member of the ROTC as long as he is a credited member of the ROTC he will be given credit as an active member of his home Guard unit.

Active membership in the Guard entails attending 48, 2-hour Monday night drills, each year at the armory, 6 days of weekend drills on Saturday or Sunday or both each year and 14 days of continuous duty at summer camp, each year.

Each man draws pay for all attendance at drills according to his rank. The new recruit draws $250 for each Monday night drill. At the end of four months this is slightly increased and from there he can increase it by increasing his rank through hard work and study.

For more information concerning the Guard stop out at the armory, 6 days of weekend drills between 8 and 10 o'clock or call Master Sergeant Deal or Master Sergeant Strange during the day at 501-J.

The armory is located on Highway 301 near the airport and across from the ballpark.

"BE IT RESOLVED, therefore, that each Bulloch County voter is urged to join the many thousands who are supporting the REFERENDUM providing for removal of livestock from the public highways, for the lasting benefit of all Georgians."

B.C. Retail Sales Hit $1,949,754

Bulloch county's cash registers rang up a total of $1,949,754 in retail sales during December 1952, according to the first in a new series of business reports released today by the Georgia State Chamber of Commerce. Based on official Georgia Department of Revenue sales tax figures, the report shows Georgia's total December retail sales were $46,839,418.

Twenty-nine other counties in Georgia showed greater retail sales than Bulloch, including Chatham, Clarke, Cobb, Colquitt, DeKalb, Dougherty, Bartow, Bibb, Floyd, Glynn, Gwinnett, Hall, Laurens, Lowndes, Muscogee, Polk, Richmond, Spalding, Sumter, Thomas, Tift, Troup, Ware, Upson, Whitfield, Fulton, Coweta, and Wilcox.

Revenue Commissioner Charles Redwine was praised by State Chamber officials for inaugurating methods in the Department of Revenue which make it possible to compile monthly retail sales volume by County. "These regular reports can provide merchants and other businessmen in each county with a reliable yardstick to measure sales trends and to draw comparisons for guidance in inventory and sales decisions," says Walter Cates, executive officer of the Georgia Chamber.

Tabulation of retail sales for each of the 159 counties is being distributed to the state's more than 100 local Chambers of Commerce, to trade associations, the press and to other groups interested in charting business progress. The State Chamber plans to make this new business feature a monthly service in conjunction with the State Dept. of Revenue.

The program was sponsored by the W.S.C.S. and M.V.P. groups. Rev. W. H. Ansley delivered an outstanding sermon on the subject, dedicated to mothers.

Wyline Nesmith and Jan Futch sang a tribute to mothers with Judy Nesmith as pianist.

Ever wonder who the first graduates of the Statesboro High School were?

We saw a list last week of the graduates of the class of 1905—Nellie Averitt, Leila Blitch, McGowan, Annabel Holland, Annie Hedleston, Yarrabough, Anna Hughes, Gussie Lee, Jesse Mikel, Ruth Proctor, and Myrtle Smith Oliver.

And who knows, maybe we'll even open one of them up from time to time—beginning with the one for Grade Two.

We just wonder how our spelling would be had we had these spellers back when Miss Anna Hughes taught us in the second grade?

There's Nothing In This World That's For Free

BY VIRGINIA RUSSELL

Most of us agree that there is nothing free in the world. We would all probably agree that things are cheap. Usually cheap things prove to be expensive. There is one thing, though, that has been overlooked. There is one free thing, and its use is accessible to every living soul. The constant use of it brings in rich dividends. Yet, few of us make the use of it we could.

This free thing we speak of is kindness. Courtesy is a first cousin of kindness and it, too, is dirt cheap.

Yet more and more we use less and less of kindness. Perhaps this is due to some extent to our "Age of Hurry," yet it seems to be an evidence of selfishness.

Have you ever tried to get into one of the main streets from a small street or an alley? We were stranded for quite awhile one day trying to get into South Main street from the little alley that runs by the Ideal Shoe Shop. People after people rushed by us, many stopping directly in front of us, because of heavy traffic.

Those who stopped directly in front of us would not have been there if we had not been there. We were grateful for that show of kindness. Just for the record, those people who jammed us in were not tourists. In each case they were people we knew well.

Kindness and courtesy behind the steering wheel is sadly lacking but this is not the only place we find its absence. It seems to be missing in our homes, in our schools, on our streets, in our businesses, in our service stations; just about everywhere we go we feel a need for it. Perhaps we fail to carry it along with us and therefore miss the opportunity to spread it.

We do believe that kindness is more "catching" than a cold. Its effects are exactly the opposite of a cold. They make us feel good, humble, and anxious to do a good turn somewhere else.

A host of friends you love and... memories hallow your days... A floating cloud in an azure sky with glimpses of beauty rare... The night is still, the moon is high; you whisper words of praise... For surely the author of gifts like these will cherish and keep you always.

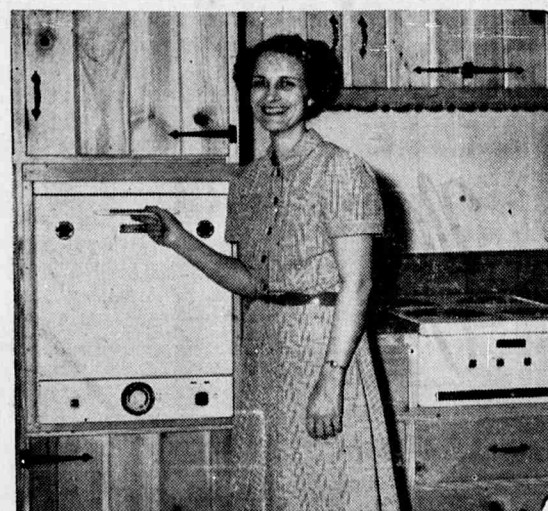

Graduation days fly by so swiftly, yet girls and boys turn... Gather treasure troves of seconds that may either bless or burn... Some have not reaped honors, yet you have qualities that will endure... Until the last lap of life's journey is made, you are peaceful and secure.

It's not the answers you gave, or the talent that burned in you... It's the way you've lived with your fellow man, and the way you have followed through... You may be justly proud of careers, and success; and plaudits of the crowd... But whatever your lot, if you've done your best, you can walk with head unbowed... And from Jane comes this wish that each of you attain your goal in life... Whether for girls it means a husband; or for the boys, a wife...

AND AS FOR HONORS. Here are the students at Statesboro High School who are listed in the Honors Group. These students, to meet the qualifications, must have made an average grade above 90 for the four years in high school. They must have attended the last two years of high school at the Statesboro High School. Honor students are as follows: Jere Fletcher, Frederick Dyer, Jimmy Bland, Harville Hendrix, Johnny Adams, Will Simmons, Glenn Jennings, Janice Deal, Jane Beaver, Jean Martin, Jane Strauss, Margaret Ann Dekle, Jo Attaway, and Jackie Mikell. Allen Sack has the scholastic average, but his attendance at another school last year disqualified him.

IT WAS NOT a sleeping beauty that detained Christine Mikell, Dot Lanier and Vivian Phillips from leaving earlier Saturday for Texas; it was Christine's husband, Bill.

Bill dreaded the long drive from Statesboro to Tatum, Texas where Christine's folks live, and so he went to bed after dinner Saturday morning. He was not to be disturbed until he woke up sans alarm clock, sans nudges or loud noises. So these girls who couldn't sleep the last two nights before they were scheduled to start on their ways to visit their boy friends were jittery and nervous. Bill has a responsibility. He Says Mrs. J. D. Matthews of Leland

"Like every other woman, I'd dreamed of a kitchen both pretty and practical," reports this Cobb county housewife. "When we decided to remodel our old kitchen, I requested the advice of a Georgia Power home economist. Together we planned the kitchen I wanted."

Whether it's planning a kitchen or laundry, home wiring or lighting, our home economists are always glad to help. This is just one of the many extra ways in which we serve our customers. It is one of the many ways in which we try to be good neighbors and good citizens.

Last year our home economists made 43,342 visits in the homes of our customers, helping to take lots of work out of housework.

Vivian is visiting Carlton Bowen at San Antonio and will be entertained by friends at the Air base. Christine says she is visiting all of her folks and will bring her sister, Jane Cherry home with her. They will be away about two weeks.

Johnny made a lovely "Sunshine Boy" beautifully decorated with a sunburst bow of blue ribbon with streamers in flat arrangement practically covering the top. Faculty members wrapped gifts with the message "open one each day."

TC's Ray Powell To Play With Detroit

Hollis Ray Powell, slugging first baseman of the Georgia Teachers College baseball team, has signed a contract with the Detroit Tigers.

Teachers College Coach J. I. Clements, Jr., who made the announcement today, said Powell will report to the Tigers after graduation June 8 and is expected to be sent to a minor-league club for seasoning.

The big, raw-boned boy from Wrightsville completed the college season Saturday with a .338 batting average, barely edging his brother, freshman third baseman Kelly Powell, for team leadership. He knocked six home runs during one five-game stretch.

Hollis, who failed to make the college squad as a freshman, was first captain of the Professor nine this year. He also has held the highest student office on the campus, the presidency of the Student Council.

Miss Mae Michael, for 24 Years 'Boss' At Teachers College To Retire

Five changes in presidents at Georgia Teachers College hardly have been considered of more consequence than a change which is about to take place in an office adjoining the president's.

The college has had a new president on an average of every four years, but in its 24-year history it has had only one "boss." That boss occupies the president's adjoining office, is retiring.

Throughout a quarter-century here, Miss Mae Michael has carried the title of president's secretary, but actually has assumed a much larger function in the operation of the college.

By asserting a proud, heavy, and sometimes firm, hand in the administering of college affairs, she has won and held easily the title of "Boss" from five appreciative head men under whose close supervision she has worked.

Although she has worked closest to them, presidents have not been the only persons to merit the forthright, effective, and well-timed criticism that she has made. Miss Michael an "Institution" within the college.

Anyone caught smoking a cigarette in a building, or even leaning against a wall, has learned—anyone seen dropping paper or soft-drink bottles on the campus—any professor allowing a paper and books to accumulate on his desk, or he a venerable department head or her next-door neighbor—has inevitably felt her finger of reproof and re-laying finger of repair and re-form.

On occasions when these "sins" have become too general for individual reprimand, her technique has been to march unannounced before chapel assemblies and to shame transgressors with her precise and eloquent command of the King's English, which she taught before turning her attention to the finer points of college administration.

"Do pretty" is her theme, and no clever side-stepping has ever enabled anyone to escape her attention when he has done any other way.

Presidents, students, and faculty members have this larger portrait of her as an immitable lion tamer, but they all have a simple instance, too, of a woman who reveals herself as gracious, sincere, and kind, when that type of treatment is best for human beings.

MAE MICHAEL

2 New Schools Named Honoring 'Miss Mattie' And 'Miss Sallie'

F. Everett Williams, chairman of the Bulloch County Board of Education, and H. P. Womack, county school superintendent, announced this week that names have been assigned to the two new elementary schools now under construction.

The new school being erected back of the Bulloch County Hospital will be called "Miss Sallie Zetterower Elementary School," and the one being erected in the northwest section of the city above Ollie Heights will be called "Miss Mattie Lively Elementary School."

In making the announcement the school officials state that in naming these new schools after Miss Zetterower and Miss Lively they are paying tribute to two teachers who have dedicated their entire lives to the teaching of children of elementary age in Statesboro.

Miss Zetterower began teaching in the elementary schools of Statesboro in 1909 and this year is completing her 44th year teaching the children of this community.

Miss Lively taught in the old Academy in North Main street in the fall of 1900 when it was a private school and then in 1901 when it was a public school. She taught in the Statesboro schools until sometime in November, 1941. Since then she has taught at Leefield, (1943-44) and at Warsaw, (Spring and Fall of 1945).

In 1946 she retired from teaching in public schools and opened a private kindergarten in September, 1946.

The action to name these two schools was taken at a recent meeting of the Bulloch County Board of Education.

Masons Given Degrees May 25

At the regular meeting Monday night, May 25, Herman E. Freeman and his degree team from Georgia Chapter No. 3, Savannah, were guests of Statesboro Chapter No. 59, Ray and Mary Foy, who conferred the Royal Arch Degree on a large class of candidates.

Members from other chapters in the First District attended the meeting presided at by Joseph T. Nease, Secretary of the First Masonic District Royal Arch Chapter, and the degree team from the district and urged all the clubs to seek more and better Jaycees.

C. E. DeLoach, present district state VP, presided at the meeting here Tuesday night. Charlie Robins, of Statesboro, state president, discussed possibilities of establishing new Jaycee clubs in the district and urged all the clubs to seek more and better Jaycees.

H. P. Jones Jr., president of the Statesboro Jaycees, played host to the board members at a stag supper at Tillman's Pond.

Approximately 30 Jaycees from Swainsboro, Claxton, Savannah, Milledgeville, and other towns in the district were present for the meeting and supper.

J. D. DOSSEY TO OPEN ACCOUNTING OFFICE HERE

J. D. Dossey, of Statesboro, announces this week that on June 1 he will open a general accounting and auditing office in the Oliver building in the space formerly occupied by Dr. Curtis Lane.

Mr. Dossey attended the University of Florida, majoring in accounting. For 10 years he was with Armour and Company in Savannah as chief accountant. He passed the State Board of Accounting, Atlanta, for practicing public accounting in November, 1952.

Miss Michael, native of Walton County, came to the Teachers College from Bessie Tift College where she had been a secretary and later a student.

She attended the University of Georgia and Emory University and taught in the public schools before taking a college course in education. She is also a sister of the late Miss Moina Michael of Athens, the "Poppy Lady."

The Youth Committee of the Statesboro Champion, "Homestead" Contest, sponsored by the Georgia Power Company, met on Wednesday evening of last week.

The committee recommended that the "Civic Youth Day" be held on Saturday, May 30, at 10 o'clock for September. They also recommended an essay contest on "How My Town Can Become A Better Place."

A committee was named to conduct a door-to-door survey of businesses in Statesboro to obtain statistics on work opportunities offered Statesboro youth (part-time and summer jobs). This survey is set up for September.

A survey of the graduates of the Statesboro High School Class of 1945 and 1946 will be made as chairman.
