H. L. Quattlebaum named president of Ogeechee FB; Harold Miller is VP

H. L. Quattlebaum was named president of the Ogeechee Farm Bureau Tuesday night. George Harold Miller was elected vice president and I. V. Simmons secretary and treasurer. Roy Kelly, chairman of the nominating committee, made the report suggesting these officers for that community chapter for 1955. Other members of the committee were also former presidents, C. W. Zetrower and W. A. Hodges.

Frank T. Proctor, the retiring president, thanked the entire group for their cooperation this year and urged just as good or better cooperation with the new officers.

Mrs. George E. Miller presented the annual Christmas program which consisted of some group Christmas songs, a reading by Peggy Miller and a duet by Peggy and Patsy Simmons. She then presented a playlet composed of most of the children in the community illustrating the favorite form of celebrating Christmas in some 25 countries of the world.

All these children then group on the stage to sing some Christmas carols while another group was setting up a nativity scene back of them. When the entire group assembled around the crib and complete the series of carols, the scene became one of the most impressive Christmas skits seen at

Come, all ye faithful,
Joyful and triumphant,
Come ye... come ye to Bethlehem will make their returns at the end of the year when they make their income tax returns at the rate of three per cent of their income.

Mr. Farr urged everyone to procure a social security card now and maintain at least a day book or some form of record on money paid out to every employee.

An individual can start drawing social security benefits after they reach 65 years of age, if they are not making $1,200 or more, provided they have paid in to the fund for six quarters. When you get 72 years old, you may draw social security to the limit of your participation in the fund regardless of how much you are making, he stated.

V. J. Rowe reported that the work on the rural telephone lines was moving along as fast as could be expected and predicted it would be around April 1 before all the lines would be completed.

Gordon Hendrix, Nevils president, stated that a program on feeding and caring for livestock had been arranged for January.

The Ivanhoe cut held its annual Christmas party Friday night, instead of the January 7 meeting. Gifts for everyone were placed on the tree. A beautiful Christmas supper was served before the gifts were given out.

Thomas E. Lane attends GMT

Thomas E. Lane has attended the General Motors Training Center at Jacksonville, Florida to learn advanced automotive service techniques which he will use in his work at Woodcock Motor Co., Statesboro, Georgia.

Mr. Lane of Statesboro, spent two days at the Jacksonville school, one of the nationwide network of training centers being set up by General Motors to keep employees of its car and truck dealerships abreast of new mechanical developments and service techniques.

A service manager with Woodcock Motor Company for 5 years, he selected the Oldsmobile course, taking advanced study in 1955 Oldsmobile product.

Wilbur W. Woodcock, head of the company, said he sent Mr. Lane to the Jacksonville center to give his customers the benefit of improved techniques taught there. Woodcock Motor Company handles Oldsmobiles and Cadillac cars and GMC trucks.

The Jacksonville training center, with more than 23,000 square feet of floor space, has six specialized shop classrooms for use by the Chevrolet, Pontiac, Oldsmobile, Buick, Cadillac, GMC Truck and Coach, Fisher Body and United Motors Service divisions of GM.

Each division supplies a highly trained instructor for its courses at the center, which is managed by Carl E. Quirk.

GM officials expect a total of 3,500 mechanics to attend the center each year.

MARINE PFC. DOYCE BROWN IS WITH SECOND DIVISION

Marine Pfc. Doyce O. Brown, son of Mrs. Eva M. Brown of 126 West Jones avenue, and husband of the former Miss Regina Grant-lum of 10 Preetorius street, all of Statesboro, Ga., Second Marines. Second Marine Division is participating in the Atlantic Fleet war games of more than 200 ships plus Marine ground and air units involving 50,000 Navy and 26,000 Marine Corps personnel.

The exercise designated LANT-PLEX (Atlantic Fleet Exercise) began early in October and will end November 20.

Two amphibious landings will highlight the operation. More than 20,000 Marines from the Air-Ground Task Force, supported by a task fleet and opposed by air and submarine forces, will assault Onslow Beach, Camp Lejeune, N. C., to climax the exercise.

Local Musicians Play in Savannah

STATESBORO MUSICIANS IN SYMPHONY ORCHESTRA

By CHARLOTTE CAMPBELL

Edward Caughran, Payrene Sturges, and Don Flanders, all of Statesboro, are now members of the Savannah Symphony Orchestra.

Payrene and Don are graduates of Statesboro High and former members of the Statesboro Blue Devil Band. They are now juniors in Georgia Teachers College here in Savannah. Payrene led the French horn section and was drum major in the band. She is now playing forth horn in the symphony.

Don is going into his second year in the Savannah Symphony and plays tympani. He was a member of the Statesboro band through his four years of high school and has played in the college band for the past three years.

Mr. Caughran, director of the Statesboro High School Band, plays the position of solo trumpet in the symphony.

He has been in Miami University for four years where he was captain of the band, assistant director, and solo cornetist.

No Room At The Inn

Beauty and drama, shepherds and wise men. These and the story of a miracle are colorfully portrayed on many of the loveliest Christmas cards you'll see this year. Manger scenes, the Holy Land itself, Mary and Joseph seeking shelter at the inn have all been recreated—as they may have looked on that first Christmas Eve. Like the inspired Renaissance artists, Christmas card designers, too, have found the Madonna and Child an irresistible subject. Rich twilight color combinations accent the serene reverence these handsome designs convey. At bottom-center, the Magi's desert route is reproduced on sturdy parchment similar to that used in medieval monasteries. A Christmas crèche peopled by wax figurines was photographed in full color, bottom-right. While countless other graphic arts techniques also help enhance the meaning of St. Luke's familiar words—"And she laid him in a manger; because there was no room for them in the inn."

Recreation Program Makes Progress During This Year

1954—A YEAR OF PROGRESS FOR RECREATION

By JIM FRANKLIN
STATESBORO HI-OWL

The year 1954 will go down in the history of the Statesboro Recreation Program as the year when more progress has been made than during any time since the program was inaugurated in 1948.

Looking back over the year one finds many highlights in the program which have helped to make it one of the most well-rounded small city programs in the south.

For the first time a well balanced basketball program including children and adults was made with the introduction of a county-wide basketball league for Bulloch county men.

1954 saw the continuation of the men's softball program with this particular phase of the program branching out from only local participation to participation on a county-wide scale for men. This brought to a grand total of more than 500 participants in the baseball and softball program in the department.

The organization of a football league for small boys below the midget age was seen in 1954, and for the first time this league was fully equipped and was under full time supervision.

While 1954 was a year of progress for sports the Recreation Department points with pride to the fact that the well-rounded program depends on sports and contests to attract only about a third of the participants in the program.

This year all phases of social recreation were continued with the popular square dance program for on a county-wide scale for men. This brought to a grand total of more than 500 participants in the gram is operated by the department for an approximate cost of $2,000 annually with the participants paying the total cost of the program.

The newly organized Tween Teen Club for boys and girls 13 through 15 years of age has continued to grow in size and popularity until it is the most popular and organized social club in the program.

Since no funds are available for a Girl Scout program the Recreation Department has assumed the responsibility of Girl Scouting in this area and since 1949 when there was only one Girl Scout troop in Statesboro until today the department reports that in the winter of 1954 the girl scout program has grown until it includes a paid part time worker to supervise the activities and has on roll over 150 Girl Scouts in 11 troops with more than 20 volunteer leaders. This year the swimming pool building was renovated and two modern well equipped scout rooms were made available for the Scouts. The Girl Scout troops meet daily in this building. Thus the department takes advantage of every facility to the fullest extent the year round.

Your Family -- And God

By REV. CLIFFORD DAVIS
THE CHRISTIAN MOTHER

We used to hear the song "I Want a Girl, Just Like the Girl That Married Dear Old Dad." The song was not a tribute to Dad for his judgment, but to Mother for her devotion. The son epitomized Mother and Motherhood of an older vintage than our today. She was an old-fashioned girl, with an old-fashioned devotion, devotion to her husband, to her children, to her home, to her God. We think of her as a weary-looking, little woman, yet contented with her portion in life. She was always busy, and always buying others. There was a dab of flour on her nose, and a lock of fallen hair across her forehead. The strain of burdens will both was on her face. She was quick with the hickory stick, and the rebuke of her tongue was no less painful. Yet she was always ready to listen, to comfort, to console, and to protect.

But with all this, there was something else about her that made her attractive, and genuine, and real. She knew God. She read her Bible. She loved her Savior. His word was always at hand. His love was in her heart. His peace possessed her soul. His joy was upon her face.

Well, the musicalitty that sang of an old-fashioned mother is now itself an old-fashioned song. No longer do we hear its strains. No longer do we see its mothers. For here too, all is change. Time has relentlessly marched on. The wheels of what we call progress have rolled on, crushing out the old to make room for the new. Mother too has progressed.

Mother is now a refined, cultured lady, and her task a highly specialized art. Homemaking which used to be learned just by growing up at the school of mother's knee, is now a curriculum in the graduate school of home economics. While once a girl was qualified for motherhood just by being born a woman, marrying a man, and giving birth to children; the Modern Wife is hardly qualified without a Ph. D. with a major in planned parenthood.

Homemaking which used to be done by "the sweat of her brow" is now instead done by the R.P.M. of the King of the Kitchen—Mr. Gadget. The old wooden icebox has become a deepfreeze; the heavy iron kettle is now a "chromium" pressure cooker; the wrinkle, hard-on-the-hands washboard has been replaced by the automatic spin-dryer.

The old-fashioned girl herself used to be a weary but contented little woman, with a linen cap on her head, a ladle in her hand, wearing a well-worn housedress with a muslin apron about her middle, and working with rough hands and ragged nails. Motherhood was her glory, her children were her pride, the peace of God was her reward.

But the old-fashioned girl is gone. And in her place is Mrs. Modern Mother, a slim, sleek-looking Lady with the latest coiffure on her head and fashions on her body. And although she is Queen of the Kitchen, her throne is now an easy chair in the living room, from whence she issues her commands: "Gadget, do this! Gadget, do that! As she watches the latest movie on television, and dreads the time when her one or two planned children will awake to make motherhood such a burden.

To be sure progress is good. It is good to be able to fly faster, see further, sleep later, and live longer. Let us rejoice in the pressure cooker and spin-dryer. Indeed, we wonder how our forefathers ever managed to live without a deepfreeze. But why does scientific progression always go hand in hand with moral and spiritual retrogression? Why is it that with all the time Mother saves with her kitchen gadgets, she now has less time for God? We may well rejoice in the advent of the deepfreeze, but we ought

MISCELLANEOUS SHOWER HONORS RECENT BRIDE

On Friday afternoon, December 10, Mrs. Ernest Deal, Mrs. Eugene Deal, and Mrs. Robert Deal honored Mrs. Edgar Beasley, a recent bride, with a lovely miscellaneous shower at the home of Mrs. Ernest Deal. The bride's table was overlaid with a lace cloth and was centered with pyroantha berries and garlands of ivy. The guests were met at the door of Mrs. Eugene Deal. Mrs. Lloyd Hollingsworth kept the bride's register. Mrs. John Roberts assisted in entertaining the guests. Mrs. Robert Deal presided in the gift room. Nieces of the groom, Misses Mary Beasley, Carolyn Deal, and Annette Hollingsworth, served party plates of chicken salad, assorted crackers, mints and coffee.

Thirty guests called during the afternoon.

QUEEN OF HEARTS CHRISTMAS PARTY AT LEGION CLUB

On Saturday night, December 11, the Queen of Hearts bridge club members invited their husbands to attend their Christmas Party at the American Legion Home.

A steak supper was served along with salads and coffee. The table was decorated with red berries and ivy. The members exchanged Christmas gifts.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Buddy Barnes, Mr. and Mrs. Tim Castetter, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Cone, Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Gunter, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Neal, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Neville, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Norris, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Rimes, Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Rockett, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Scott, and Mr. and Mrs. Mark Toole.

LUNCHEON AT MRS. BRYANT'S KITCHEN HONORS MISS LOVETT

On Monday afternoon, December 13, the Alpha Omega Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi held their regular meeting at the home of Mrs. Remer Brady Jr., with Mrs. Dekle Banks and Mrs. Dean Baxter as co-hostesses.

The table was centered with a lovely arrangement of large white mums and red gladioli with magnolia leaves and ferns. The place cards were wedding bells and Christmas trees.

A five course luncheon was served. The guest of honor was presented a dinner plate in her China pattern, Mrs. Libby Edwards, of Kingston, guest of Mrs. Shepard, received a lovely Christmas corsage.

The guests were Miss Lovett, her mother, Mrs. Bates Lovett, Mrs. Remer Brady Jr., Mrs. Earl Swicord, Mrs. Vaughn Dyer, Miss Sally Serson, Mrs. E. R. Lovett, Mrs. Dekle Banks, Mrs. Libby Edwards, Mrs. Darwin Bohler, and Mrs. Bill Oliff.

PRE-NUPTIAL PARTIES FOR MISS LOVETT

Miss Betty Lovett, whose marriage to Charles Rockett will be an event of December 26, was honored with a breakfast party Saturday morning, December 11, with Mrs. Bill Oliff as hostess at the home of Mrs. J. Frank Oliff Sr.

Lovely Christmas decorations were used throughout the home. The guests were served orange juice, grits, breakfast sausage, scrambled eggs, cinnamon toast, cheese toast, home-made jelly and coffee.

At bridge, Mrs. Ray Darley received crystal Christmas ornaments. For low, Mrs. Eddie Rushing was given a Santa Claus filled with candy. Mrs. Remer Brady Jr. won two ice-skater figurines for cut. Mrs. Oliff's gift to the bride-elect was a cook book "Best in Cooking in Statesboro."

Other guests were Mrs. Darwin Bohler, Mrs. J. T. Shepard, and Mrs. Hazel Edwards of Kingston, N. C. Miss Betty Lane, Mrs. Dent Newton, Mrs. Jack Norris, Mrs. Earl Swicord, Mrs. Jerry Howard, Mrs. Jimmy Gunter, and Mrs. Vaughn Dyer.

ALPHA OMEGA CHAPTER AT HOME OF MRS. BRADY

On Monday evening, December 13, the Alpha Omega Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi held their regular meeting at the home of Mrs. Remer Brady Jr., with Mrs. Dekle Banks and Mrs. Dean Baxter as co-hostesses.

Mrs. Al McCullough, president, heard reports from committee chairmen. Mrs. Glen Coleman from ways and means committee sponsoring the Beta Sigma Doll contest, announced that tickets would be sold up town Friday and Saturday until the time of the drawing which had been set for Saturday, December 18, at 3 p. m. Mrs. Horace Forster, chairman of the Christmas tree project for setting up and decorating a Christmas tree at the Bulloch County Hospital, reported that the project would be carried out on Tuesday afternoon.

Mrs. Jack Rimes presented a program on "Prose." An unexpected pleasure was the showing of a film pertaining to the program with Mrs. Euel Anderson in charge.

A salad course was served. Others attending were Mrs. J. S. Anderson, Mrs. Ralph Bacon, Mrs. William Z. Brown, Mrs. John Cobb, Mrs. John F. Goodie, Mrs. C. S. Greening, Mrs. K. R. Herring, Mrs. Carroll Herrington, Mrs. Eddie Rushing, Mrs. C. H. Thrasher, Mrs. Seaman Williams, and Mrs. R. S. Bonduant, sponsor.

MISS DELOACH, MR. SIKES WED IN CHURCH CEREMONY

Miss Bobbie Jean DeLoach became the bride of Ernest Lee Sikes Jr., in an afternoon ceremony December 19, in the First Baptist Church. The Rev. Leslie Williams officiated.

Standards of white chrysanthemums and pink gladioli interspersed with white candles in cathedral candleabra were used against a background of commode and woodwardia ferns. Palms outlined the nuptial scene.

Mrs. George Sturges, organist, presented a program of traditional wedding music. Mrs. Gilbert Cone accompanied Miss Harriet Cone as she sang "Thine Alone." Mrs. Sturges was accompanist for Miss Doris Rockett who sang "Because" prior to the ceremony and at the conclusion of the vows, "The Lord's Prayer."

Mrs. Sikes is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carolyn DeLoach and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Sikes Sr.

The lovely bride, given in marriage by her father, was groomed in Chantilly lace and tulle over white tulle. The molder bodice featured a Peter Pan collar and fastened down the back with satin-covered buttons. The lace sleeves tapered to petal points over the hands. The skirt designed with floating panniers at the hip line were bordered with bands of Chantilly lace.

The Bulloch Herald, Statesboro, Ga THURSDAY, DECEMBER 23, 1954

Dan Barton Jr., and Robert Helmut. The bride's mother selected for her daughter's wedding a mauve silk and tulle dress. With this she wore a small black satin hat with black veil. Other accessories were black.

Mrs. Sikes was groomed in a blue tulle dress with rhinestone accents. Her hair was blue. Both wore purple orchid corsages.

Reception in Church Parlor. Immediately following the ceremony, the wedding guests were entertained with a reception in the social room of the church. The guests were met by Mrs. Frances Brown and Mrs. Stothard Deal. Miss Shirley Purser kept the bride's register. Receiving with the bride and groom were their mothers and lady attendants.

The bride's table overlaid with the five-lined wedding cake topped with miniature bride and groom. Assisting in serving punch, cakes and mints were Misses Julie Simmons, Diane Strickland, and Sylvia Brunson. Mrs. J. G. Fletcher was in charge of refreshments.

Mrs. Dan Barton Jr., sister of the bride, was matron of honor. She wore a de-lustered rose parchment taffeta dress with Dior fitted torso with softly crushed taffeta folds at the hips. She wore a bandeau of matching tulle and carried a bouquet of pink carnations.

Bridemaids were Misses Donna DeLoach, sister of the bride, Harriet Cone, and Matilda Miller. Their dresses, fashioned like that worn by the matron of honor, were mauve. Their flowers were pink carnations.

Cindy Williams was flower girl. Her floor-length dress was fashioned like the attendants' dresses. Joy Ben Deal, wearing a black velvet suit carried the rings on a white satin pillow.

Christmas comes too soon for most of us; we remember what Christmas is

By MRS. W. H. MORRIS

Christmas has come too soon for most of us, where work and shopping is concerned. I had so many things planned to do, most of which won't get done. But I think the most important thing is to remember what Christmas really is. The best gifts we give are not anything compared to the gift of God to us. In our church, I am teaching very small children, and just four days before the program I gave out the last of the program parts, and the children are first year primary age. I just knew they wouldn't learn their parts as they should, and so I worried, and yes, prayed they would know their parts like they should, so last Friday, December 17, we had the program, and it was wonderful the way they knew their parts. So it goes to show the things we worry about are not worth our time. There is an old saying that at Christmas the cows bow down as if in prayer, and as I read this little poem it brought this old saying to mind.

ARRIVAL

BY ETHEL HOPE HODSON

"He's here," a brown cow softly moaned.
"The Little Lord is here!"
"But where," a dark-grey donkey asked.
"Way off, or very near?"
"Real close," declared a baby lamb.
"With white and woolly head."
"Oh, let's go quietly and look,"
The oxen slowly said.
So each, on midnight's stroke of twelve,
Came of its own accord;
Then, bending knees and bowing heads,
Adored the Little Lord.

I would like to wish all my readers a very "Merry Christmas," and a "Happy New Year."

ACCIDENT

Olen (Pete) Gill met with an accident while being employed in pulpwood by Allison Shuman, and Horace Cribbs. A tree was cut and accidentally fell on Pete and he suffered a broken back and broken ribs and other internal injuries. Some years ago he met with an accident at which time he lost one of his legs and at the time of this accident he was wearing an artificial leg of wood. His accident occurred last Thursday, December 16. He is a patient in the Bulloch County Hospital in Statesboro.

Doll collection is highlight of doll show at TC

A collection entered by two little Savannah girls was the highlight of a Doll Show at the Georgia Teachers' College Laboratory School, December 9. The Doll Show, which was sponsored by the GTC branch of the Association for Childhood Education, was designed as a fund-raising project, to make it possible for the local chapter to send a delegate to the national study conference of the Association for Childhood Education, which will be held in Kansas City, Missouri, in April.

A program, "Dancing Dolls," was presented by the primary music methods class under the direction of Mr. Dan Hooley, assistant professor of music at GTC, as a highlight of the afternoon. The Savannah girls who have such an amazing doll collection are Marlene Nelson, 12, and Patty Nelson, nine, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Nelson, 653 East 37th street.

Their doll collection began on Marlene's first Christmas when she was only 25 days old. Her first doll, a gift from an aunt, and the angel doll from her Christmas tree started the collection. The angel doll has been used each year since, on the top of her Christmas tree.

The foreign dolls were sent by an uncle, Bill Donley, of Savannah, while he was in the armed forces in Europe. Dolls from England, France, Germany and Switzerland are in the collection. Some of the most unusual are a wax doll in a velvet dress from Paris, a music doll from England, and a group of hand-carved wooden dolls made by displaced Hungarians. There are also Seminole and Cherokee Indian dolls, Mexican dolls and cowboys and cowgirls collected by the children or members of their family on vacation trips in America.

The oldest doll belonging to these little girls is over 75 years old; it is made of china and once belonged to their Grandmother Donley.

To win the prize for the most original display, Ann Turner, a student at the Laboratory School, entered a collection of more than 20 dolls and displayed them as a wedding scene, with stained glass windows in the background and a bride and groom with the other dolls in attendance.

Some of the dolls entered here were Jean Waters entered her Jeanie doll with more than 25 complete costumes with shoes, hats and other accessories to match. Her doll was judged quaintest in the show.

Dale Anderson of the Sally Zetterlow School, had the prettiest doll.

Beebe Beasley, Joyce Clark, and Mary Sue Wilson also entered dolls.

Nevils News

Christmas program features Nevils Youth Fellowship meeting Sunday p.m.

By MRS. JIM ROWE

The Nevils Youth Fellowship held their regular meeting Sunday night with a large group attending. A very interesting Christmas program was arranged by Jane and Julia Bragan.

The group chose for their Christmas project a box containing the essential wearing apparel for school, to be packed by all members giving an article, which will be mailed to a little Bulloch County boy who is at the Academy for the Blind at Macon, Georgia.

Plans were made for presenting the annual Christmas Church program on Thursday night, December 23, at the Nevils Methodist Church.

The group also made plans for their Christmas social which was presented last night. The Glee Club of Nevils School will be special guests at the social.

NEVILS HD CLUB

The Nevils Home Demonstration Club met Friday, December 18, at the Nevils lunch room with Misses Maude, Lella and Lucile White as hostesses and co-hostesses.

The president, Mrs. Rufus Brannen, called the meeting to order. Mrs. Ray Truett gave the devotional.

The candlelight ceremony was held for the installation of new officers. After the ceremony several Christmas games were played and enjoyed by all. The room was decorated with a beautiful lighted tree and each table was decorated with a lighted candle with silver holly holders.

Dainty Christmas refreshments were served by the hostesses and co-hostesses. Everybody enjoyed exchanging gifts and to learn who their secret sister was.

The January meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Ruel Clifton with Mrs. Jack Brannen and Mrs. J. O. Alford as co-hostesses.

You...and your Income Tax

DIVIDENDS

The first $50 of dividends from a domestic corporation, received by a calendar year taxpayer in 1954, need not be reported as income. If on a joint return the husband and wife receive dividends of $50 each, the dividend exclusion would be $100. A credit of 4 per cent of dividends received after July 31, 1954 (not counting the excludable amount) is also allowed, but not to exceed 2 per cent of taxable income in 1954. Dividends from life insurance companies, foreign corporations, tax exempt corporations, mutual savings banks, building and loan associations and farmers' cooperatives do not qualify for the dividend exclusion.

CHILD CARE

Child care expenses, which are necessary to enable taxpayer to be gainfully employed, are deductible to $600 for the care of a child under 12 years old or for a dependent mentally or physically incapable of caring for himself. This deduction is allowable to women, widows and men, who are legally separated or divorced, provided the payment is not made to a person, who is a dependent. Certain limitations apply to the working wife unless her husband is mentally or physically incapable of self support. The husband and wife must file a joint return and the amount by which their adjusted gross income exceeds $4,500 is deducted from the $600 deduction. Thus, adjusted gross income of $4,800, the maximum deduction would be $300. ($600 minus $4,800 minus $4,500).

EVEN SANTA LOVES CO-OP POWER

A FEW YEARS AGO, most folks needed two gift lists! One for their city kinkfolk, who had electricity to run time-saving electrical appliances—another for their "country cousins"—who didn't.

That's all been changed. For it's almost certain, the rural folks on your gift list now enjoy low-cost, non-profit, electric power. 230,000 of them do! They are member-owners of Georgia's 41 Cooperative Electrical Systems.

But—it took COOPERATION to make this possible! Even after REA was formed—and the profit-utilities could borrow federal funds to serve rural areas, they insisted the job could NOT be done—profitably!

That was when the Rural Electric Co-ops were formed—by the same people they now serve. Today 92 per cent of all Rural Georgians enjoy the comforts of electric power.

And it hasn't cost the taxpayer one cent! Georgia's Electric Co-ops are repaying REA loans on, or before time—with INTEREST! They pay taxes, too! That's why we continue to say . . .

Co-op Power Is Good For Ga.

Nineteen hundred and fifty-four years ago—they weren't shopping

By VIRGINIA RUSSELL

Nineteen hundred and fifty-four years ago or there abouts the little town of Bethlehem was overflowing with people. The overflow of people weren't Christmas shoppers. They weren't winter tourists or football fans. They were taxpayers belonging to the house of David and they had come from afar and from near to pay taxes to Caesar.

These travelers hadn't come by train, or plane, or by car on good highways. They had come on foot or on mule back by way of a rough

Safety Tips

Rules for Safe Walking

1. Carry or wear something white at night to help drivers see you.
2. Cross only at crosswalks. Keep to the right in the crosswalk.
3. Before crossing, look both ways. Be sure the way is clear before you cross.
4. Cross only on proper signal.
5. Watch for turning cars.
6. Never go into the roadway from between parked cars.
7. Where there is no sidewalk, and it is necessary to walk in the roadway, always walk on the left side—facing traffic.

every good thing you've heard about him or her. Tell only the good things. Tell a friend you love her or him. These gifts will never be forgotten and will make the receiver rich while other gifts will soon be forgotten.

Let us be the Shepherds and the wise men at this season so that we hear again the good tidings and then let us pass the news on.

There was a star, a new star in the sky. A bright, beautiful star that shone above the stable. There were wise men—men who spent their time studying and learning. They knew the heavens and studied the stars. They saw the new bright star. They sold their belongings and traveled a great distance to find the baby. They brought gifts and laid them at his feet.

Every since that day, people have had an opportunity to believe. It is the greatest chance man has to make. Whether to believe that Christ, the baby, Christ the man, Christ the Son of God, one and the same, is our Savior. For some it is easy, for some it is hard.

Today as almost two thousand years ago it may be the ones who have time to consider and ponder who will hear the angels sing again, "Peace On Earth, Good Will to Men."

For those of us who believe that Christmas is a spiritual time, let us live as we believe. May our gifts be gifts of love. As someone asked, "If I meant to pray for a friend, a Christmas present how would I let her know?" Well, she'd know, but she'd feel good to have you write her a card saying so.

Another way to give gifts would be to begin telling every good thing you knew. Tell every friend

Your age tells on you the day after Christmas

By VIRGINIA RUSSELL

It's all in one's years how he feels the day after Christmas. The youngsters feel an awful letdown, the old folks feel released, except for the annual of the bills come January first.

"No thank you, I don't care for any," the youngest boy said, "I just don't know what's wrong but I don't feel much like eating." I was amazed because the turkey tasted twice as good as it had the first day.

Later the second boy said "Why do I feel so depressed? I just feel all-in," he added.

I said nothing because I was a little ashamed to admit it. I was beginning to feel free, easy and enjoy the family and there'd be no tensions.

For, preach to ourselves almost getting things done early in the morning. I think about the joking and those last hours are crowded. At least that's the way it is at this house.

The Papa complicated things considerably here by talking to his bed for the whole week before Christmas. I consoled him at first by saying "This thing is just a twenty-four hour affair—everybody's having it." Of course, the doctor, being smart, didn't give the illness a name (He has grown sensitive I think about the joking and those last hours are crowded. At least that's the way it is at this house).

Do all men groan and moan and take-on when they're sick? I'd surely like to hide in the sick rooms of other husbands and discover how they react to sickness! I'd hate to think this man of mine was one-of-a-kind in this respect. Anyhow, it was hard to get Christ-mas jobs done with one's helper in bed.

Then my present to this particular man was to be a re-decorated study. I was so excited over this gift but I had undertaken a hard one, I know. I finished both walls of book cases and had put all the books back on the shelves. There were only two walls to go. I started off on them with a great determination. The telephone rang several times, the front door had to be answered and the sick had to be tended. I forgot to stir the point after each interruption and the result is modernistic in the extreme with streaks of pale green, light green and dark green. Now that Christmas is over the gift will have to be retouched or repainted. But what can an amateur expect?

The preacher son fixed the toilet seat for his gift to the family. It had been broken for a year and one could never be sure whether it stay on the bowl or slide off. After he had secured the part to fix the seat he decided that a paint job was in order here too, so he removed the whole affair and took it to the back yard. Several accidents resulted from the missing toilet seat. It is amazing what habit does to people.

Then the youngest one changed her mind about what Santa Claus should bring. She had written him a record player and a Mister Potato Head. About three days before Christmas she added a pogo stick to her list. Her father, feeling stern from his bed said children shouldn't get everything they had it for and disappointments were helpful, etc. But her mother remembered that eight-year-olds grow sophisticated too soon in this age wanted to please her if possible. Santa Claus was contacted and after much searching in many locations and localities the old fellow found one last pogo stick.

These were only a few of the happenings in an average American family. Is it any wonder that parents begin to enjoy Christmas on December 26?

Merchants meet called for Jan. 4

Josh Lanier, chairman of the Statesboro Merchants Council has issued a call for a general meeting of all merchants in Statesboro for Tuesday, January 4, at 4 p. m. in the courthouse. The meeting is called to set the holidays and fix opening and closing hours for business for the year 1955.

WHISTLES AND BELLS echo the glad tidings that the old year has gone and the New Year is here! We add our voices to the merry din and wish you health, happiness and success in 1955 May we continue to merit your kind patronage in the New Year as we have in the past.

Bulloch August retail sales hit $1,604,655; Sept. $1,487,875

Retail sales in Bulloch county for August, 1954 totaled $1,604,655, and for September, 1954, $1,487,875, according to figures released recently by the Georgia State Chamber of Commerce, compiled from official figures from the Georgia Department of Revenue.

August and September figures bring the total sales in the county for the first nine months of 1954 up to $13,173,108, which is $699,119 less than the same nine-month period of 1953 when sales totaled $13,872,327.

August, 1954, sales of $1,604,655 are $231,862 under August, 1953, sales which totaled $1,836,517. September, 1954, sales $1,487,875 are $44,681 under September 1953 sales of $1,532,556.

New edition of Postal rules is now available

Postmaster Arthur Turner of Statesboro today called to the attention of mail users major new postal regulations which were issued effective December 1, which will provide important changes and simplifications in the use of the mails.

The Post Office Department is issuing a final edition of a history-making new postal manual which contains these changes in simple form. The new manual will bring together in less than 300 pages public-interest postal regulations formerly scattered through 4,000 pages of dense print, Postmaster Turner explained.

This publication may be obtained at 65 cents a copy from the superintendent of Documents, Washington 25, D. C. and mail users anxious to keep abreast of all changes in this material that may be made from time to time may both the pamphlet in loose-leaf format and a year's subscription to all sheets making changes for a total of $2, also from the Superintendent of Documents, the postmaster noted.

The revision of the postal manual, Postmaster Turner said, represents what Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield has described as the most complete revision of regulations in the history of the U. S. Post Office Department.

Henry Ellis to be director of state alcohol control

Henry Ellis of Statesboro has been named director of the alcohol control unit of the State Department of Revenue in the Griffin administration.

Governor-elect Marvin Griffin disclosed Tuesday of last week that he will appoint Mr. Ellis to succeed B. I. Gilbert of Greenville.

Mr. Ellis served during World War II with Governor-elect Griffin in the Georgia National Guard. For several years he was the commanding officer of the local unit of the Guard. He was released from service as a lieutenant colonel in 1953.

Duties of the alcohol control director include the regulation of liquor sales and the supervision of state liquor agents investigations and licensing.

STATESBORO ELECTRIC MOTOR CO. MOVES TO 7 OAK STREET

H. C. (Bud) Abbott announced this week that he has moved his Statesboro Electric Motor Company to 7 Oak street in the building formerly occupied by the Statesboro Auto Parts Company. Mr. Abbott moved from West Main Street. He repairs and carries a complete line of V-belts.

Special service at Calvary Baptist New Year's Eve

Announcement is made that an "All Night" service will be conducted at the Calvary Baptist Church tomorrow night (Friday), December 31, beginning at 8 p. m. and continuing until midnight.

The service will include prayers, testimonies, hymn singing, special music, and inspirational messages. A short time will be allotted for refreshments toward the middle of the service.

The Rev. Buddy York of Griffin, Ga., will be present to speak. The York Trio, composed of the Rev. York's daughters, will present special music. Rev. York will also be the guest speaker during the revival scheduled at Calvary Baptist Church beginning Sunday, January 9 and continuing through Saturday, January 15.

Dunn-Bradstreet list 346 local names in book

Each January business concerns in all parts of the United States receive from Dunn & Bradstreet requests for their annual financial statements. This year the number of requests going out nationwide will exceed three million, with 325 going to Bulloch county businesses.

The Bulloch county section of the current issue of the Dunn & Bradstreet Reference Book contains listings of 346 local names comprising manufacturers, wholesalers and retailers. It does not include some of the service and barber and beauty shops, real estate and stock brokers. Thus the figure for businesses in Bulloch county would actually be higher than the 346 quoted above.

Statesboro, with 273 names in the current issue of Dunn & Bradstreet's Reference Book shows an increase of 12 per cent in a comparison with names listed in 1952.

Other officers of the company are Mrs. C. B. Mathews, vice president; D. B. Franklin, secretary; and George M. Johnston, attorney. Eddie Bibb is plant manager and Miss Bernice Woodcock is in charge of the traffic department. The telephone company recently converted to the dial system and now occupies a new building on East Grady street.

Chief of Police E. L. Sikes said that no serious accident was reported during the holiday, and County Police Edgar Hart reports that there was no serious accident in the county.
