

HOME FROM A LONG TRIP—Shown here are the Explorer Scouts of the Coastal Empire Council of the Boy Scouts of America as they gathered in front of a hut at the Philmont Scout Ranch at Cimarron, New Mexico. They left here August 2 and returned here Tuesday, August 23. Pictured here, front row, left to right: John Godfrey, Savannah; Al DeLoach, Statesboro; Alex Boyer III, Sylvania; Johnson Faircloth, Dublin. Second row, left to right: Theron Grant, Savannah; George Godfrey, Savannah; Al McDougald, Statesboro; Ed Tally, scout executive now located in Augusta; Herb Hildebrandt, bus driver, Savannah; Johnny Lawson, scout master, Fairfax, S. C.; Kenneth Chandler, Statesboro; Mike Kennedy, Statesboro; Sammy O'Neil, Fairfax, S. C.; Mack Glenn, Allendale, S. C. Standing, left to right: Carry Maddox, Dublin; Winton DeLoach, Phillip Howard, Billy Huggins, John Marshall Jackson, all of Statesboro; Carl Shirk, Savannah; Walter Bryant, Fairfax, S. C.; Dennis DeLoach, Statesboro, and Fred Williams, Fairfax, S. C.

'Big Sing' to help save Pilots Field for community events

C. B. McAllister, president of the Statesboro Athletic Association, owners of the Pilots baseball club, announced this week that the stockholders decided Monday night to try to save the equipment and utilize the facilities of the ball club at the airport for community purposes.

Mrs. Aura speaks to Jr. women

The Statesboro Woman's Club will hold its first meeting at the 1955-56 club year Thursday, September 8, at 3:30 o'clock at the Recreation Center.

Mrs. H. DeWitt Aura, Atlanta, first vice president of the junior section of the Georgia Federation of Women's Clubs will address the meeting. Mrs. Aura will arrive here Wednesday evening and will be the house guest of Mrs. H. P. Jones Jr. She comes here especially to address the Junior Woman's Club. She will return to Atlanta Friday morning.

The education department will present an orientation skit at the meeting. The home department will act as hostesses.

JUNIOR WOMAN'S CLUB REMINDS CAR DRIVERS TO BE CAREFUL

As part of their traffic safety program members of the Statesboro Junior Woman's Club this week remind automobile drivers to be careful during the long Labor Day Weekend. "Be careful and courteous over Labor Day Weekend," they plead. "Have a good time, but remember—it takes only an instant to bring about a lifetime of regret."

Lions Club's Birthday Calendar due Jan. 1

Jimmy Gunter, president of the Statesboro Lions Club, announced this week that the club will sponsor the Lions Club Birthday Calendar again this year.

H. P. Jones Jr., chairman of the community calendar project, stated that because of the design and the calendars this year beginning January 1, 1956, instead of from September to September as heretofore. He stated that the campaign for names to go on the calendar will be made later this year and that announcements will keep the public informed. This Community Birthday Calendar is one of the club's more popular projects. Mr. Jones stated that they expect the new calendar will carry more than 2,000 names and birthday dates, together with outstanding events.

"We want to thank the people of the county for their wholehearted support of this project," Mr. Jones said.

Army honors Max Roberts

According to an announcement made last week by Major Woodrow W. Millsaps, of Special Troops Headquarters, Berlin, Germany, Station Complement, Private First Class Max A. Roberts, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Colley of Statesboro, was named "Soldier of the Month" for July by his battalion commander of Signal Company, Special Troops Headquarters.

In a letter to Mr. and Mrs. Colley Major Millsaps wrote: "In recognition of his outstanding devotion to his duty as a soldier your son was selected as the top man in this organization."

Private First Class Roberts was chosen for the honor by a board of officers of his outfit.

RECREATION BOARD AND COUNCIL TO MEET FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 9

The Recreation Board and Council will meet at the Recreation Center on Friday, September 9, for their regular monthly meeting. Max Lockwood, recreation superintendent, announced this week. The meeting will be at 1 p. m.

"THE TRAVELERS," one of the South's outstanding male quartets, will appear at the Pilots' Field on September 10 at 8:15 p. m. as part of a big entertainment sponsored by the Statesboro Athletic Association to help raise funds to pay off the association's obligations so that the lighted field may be saved to be used for community recreation events. Featured with the quartet will be Dean Winski at the piano. Mr. Winski is a Bulloch county man and has many friends here. With the Travelers will be "The Florida Choralnettes," an all-girl quartet from Tampa, Fla.

Masons meet in Sylvania Sept. 7

W. F. McComber, worshipful master of the First Masonic District convention, announced this week that the forty-ninth annual convention of the organization will be held at the Sylvania Baptist Church auditorium on Wednesday, September 7, with the Sylvania Lodge No. 301, F. & A. M. as hosts.

Registration will begin at 9:45 with the opening session of the convention set for 10:15. The welcome address will be given by Harry H. Hunter of Sylvania with the response by Mike W. Eason, past master of the district convention. Bro. Daniel W. Locklin, grand secretary, will recognize the grand Lodge officers and committee-men.

The principal speaker will be Judge George P. Whitman Sr., M. W. grand master of all Georgia Masons. He will be presented by R. W. Cary Anderson, grand treasurer.

His address will be followed by a memorial exercise for deceased Brethren. The Rev. B. E. Whittington will give the benediction.

A lunch will be served by the ladies of the Sylvania Eastern Star chapter.

There will be a business session and reading of the committee reports at the afternoon session.

Officers of the convention are: W. F. McComber, worshipful master, Rincon; Troy D. Slater, deputy master, Cobbtown; E. B. Morris, senior warden, Statesboro; Joe Hughes, junior warden, Greenville; the Rev. Leonard Pedigo, chaplain, Vidalia; J. Madison Smith, Tyler, Hinesville; T. F. Saunders, senior deacon, Swainsboro; I. M. Mingleford, junior deacon, Savannah; O. B. Johnson, senior steward, Waynesboro; Lamara A. Brown, junior steward, Vidalia; James F. Freeman, 3rd steward, Metter; and Josh T. Nessmith, secretary, Statesboro.

Preston speaks at Middleground

Congressman Prince H. Preston will be the honor guest and speaker at the Middleground Farm Bureau's annual family night meeting Thursday, L. Herbert Deal, their president, announces.

Mr. Deal stated that the meeting would be held at 6:30 p. m. at the school lunch room Thursday, September 1. He is anxious to have every family in the community present for this annual meeting.

Middleground has been holding these annual meetings for a number of years, some of which they served fresh water fish that the members took off time to catch.

This community was one of three in the county that exceeded its previous membership in 1954.

Statesboro sells 15,545,430 lbs. tobacco for $7,164,812

According to a news release from Valdosta dated August 30, the following statement was made: "Statesboro, the only other market remaining open out of 28, wound up business today (Tuesday) with gross season sales of some 15½ million pounds, the belt's largest volume by more than a million pounds."

Temperature and rain for Bulloch county

The thermometer readings for the week of Monday, August 22, through Sunday, August 28, were as follows:

	High	Low
Monday, Aug. 22	97	64
Tuesday, Aug. 23	93	66
Wednesday, Aug. 24	87	71
Thursday, Aug. 25	80	72
Friday, Aug. 26	84	71
Saturday, Aug. 27	86	68
Sunday, Aug. 28	90	65

Rainfall for the same period was 0.90 inches.

4-H'ers win in barrow show

William Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Milledge Smith of Port, showed the grand champion barrow in the Bulloch County Fat Barrow Show held at Parker's Stockyard Tuesday night of this week.

Thomas Chester, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Chester, and a student at the Mattie Lively School, showed the reserve champion.

Both of these boys are members of the county 4-H Club. Complete results of the show will be carried next week.

Aidmore Aux. to meet Sept. 6

Mrs. R. J. Dotson of Savannah will be the guest speaker at the meeting of the Elks Aidmore Auxiliary on Tuesday night, September 6, at 8 o'clock. Mrs. Dodson participated in the test bomb explosion in Nevada this year at which members of the Civil Defense units were present. She will relate her experiences at the meeting Tuesday night.

The meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. James C. Crockett at 454 South Main street. All members are urged to attend this meeting to hear Mrs. Dotson tell her experiences at the explosion.

The Statesboro Tobacco Market closed Tuesday after 29 selling days in which over 15,000,000 pounds of tobacco was sold for more than $7,000,000.

Total sales through Tuesday were 15,545,430 pounds for $7,164,812.82, for an average of $46.09 per hundred. Last year the market here sold 17,054,098 for $6,723,739.64. Despite the fact that 1,500,000 pounds less was sold this year than 1954, the money this season amounted to $441,073.18 over last year.

The loss was due to the cut in selling time. For nine days the Statesboro market sold only three and one-half hours, against five and one-half regularly, losing more than 200,000 pounds a day.

The Statesboro market averaged $6.66 a hundred above 1954.

The big year on the Statesboro market was 1953 when 20,181,000 pounds sold for $9,380,362.

The final sales price on better grades on the market here held firm though some of the nondescript grades did not fare so well. When the official Department of Agriculture figures are released the Statesboro market will again lead all markets on the Georgia-Florida belt in both pounds and money.

County farmers buy fine cattle

Bulloch county cattlemen bought 34 cows and nine bulls in the five-star Hereford sale here Tuesday.

The Georgia Hereford Association brought 78 animals here for the sale. More than half of them stayed in the county. Most of the others went to Screven and McDuffie counties.

H. L. (Pat) Brannen was the heaviest buyer in the county. Pat expressed the desire to replace his grades with purebreds as long as he could trade two for one. That is about the way he bought cattle.

Other local buyers were Charlie Nesmith, Henry S. Blitch, F. C. Parker, Frank Parker III, Arthur Sparks, Mooney Strouse, S. W. Brack, and Cap Mallard.

Little Frank Parker bought a good cow with a bull calf at her side. This can be a warning to other 4-H Club boys for 1957 fat stock show time. He has an excellent calf for 1956, running with its mother now and is just planning far ahead.

MRS. BOB POUND OPENS KINDERGARTEN MONDAY, SEPTEMBER 5

Mrs. Bob Pound announces this week that she will open "The Playhouse," a new kindergarten on Monday, September 5, and that the first twenty-five to register will be enrolled. The new kindergarten is located on College Boulevard at the corner of Mill street.

Preston speaks at C of C Tuesday

Congressman Prince H. Preston will be the guest speaker at the regular meeting of the Statesboro and Bulloch County Chamber of Commerce Tuesday, September 6, at 1 o'clock at Mrs. Bryant's Kitchen. The membership is urged to attend this meeting to hear Representative Preston.

The steering committee will meet tomorrow night, September 2, at 6:30 at Mrs. Bryant's Kitchen.

THE FIRST ANNUAL HARVEST GOLF TOURNAMENT held recently in Statesboro Georgia was dominated by the younger golfers. The two youngsters pictured above are 15 years old and won first and second places in the tournament. They are Davis Franklin, left, son of Mrs. Gordon Franklin of Statesboro and the late Gordon Franklin, and John Dekle, son of Mr. and Mrs. Inman Dekle, also of Statesboro. Approximately eighty players representing fifteen clubs throughout southeast Georgia competed.

Stores close Monday to observe Labor Day

Song convention Sunday, Sept. 4

Carl Bishop, president of the Bulloch County Singing Convention, announced this week an all-day singing convention at Middleground School, 8 miles north of Statesboro, Sunday, September 4, beginning at 11 a. m.

Out-of-town singers expected to attend are T. B. Bunning and others from Waycross, Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Bethea of Nahunta, Mr. and Mrs. McKeever Grooms and others of Savannah, Gilbert Powell and his I.K.N.S.Men Quartet of Cobbtown, Lamar Durham and others from Augusta. Others from Pembroke, Claxton and Reidsville are expected to be present.

Bulloch county's own "Bulloch Four Quartet" will be there. The people of the Middleground community and officers of the convention invite everyone to attend the singing convention. There will be a full day of entertainment.

Josh Lanier of the Statesboro Merchant's Association, announced today that the businesses of Statesboro will be closed on Monday, September 5, in observance of Labor Day.

"However, he added, 'The businesses will be open all day Wednesday, September 7,' he pointed out. This is in accordance with the holidays named when the group met at the beginning of the year.

MISS DAVIS TO DIRECT RELIGIOUS EDUCATION AT METHODIST CHURCH

Announcement is made this week that Miss Joyce Davis of Macon has been named director of religious education of the Statesboro Methodist Church.

Miss Davis, for the past two years, has been music director of the First Methodist Church of Jesup. She is the daughter of the Rev. Alton Davis, associate pastor and director of religious education at the Mulberry Methodist Church in Macon.

Miss Davis arrived here this week to assume her duties.

'Open House' at new building to be Sept. 11

Library closed for Labor Day

Miss Isobel Sorrier, Statesboro Regional librarian, announced today that the library here will be closed Monday, September 5, to observe Labor Day.

The bookmobile schedule for next week will be as follows: Tuesday, September 6, Middleground school and community; Wednesday, September 7, Stillson school and community; Thursday, September 8, Richmond Hill; Friday, September 9, Mattie Lively School and Sallie Zetterower School.

Thad J. Morris, president of the Bulloch County Development Corporation, announced this week "open house" Sunday afternoon, September 11, from 3 to 6 o'clock, at the new building which was to have been occupied by the General Instrument Corporation, manufacturers of electronics.

He said that the building will be open to the general public for inspection and that all who are interested are invited to attend. There will be someone present to answer questions as visitors tour the new building.

An industry placement firm in New York has been retained to assist in securing an industry to occupy the new building. More than fifty enquiries have been made about it, since the announcement that the General Instrument Corporation would not occupy it.

Editorials

Don't be one of the twelve to twenty-nine!

LABOR DAY — another long weekend.

And many of you are now planning on a trip.

And twelve to twenty-nine people in Georgia will be killed in automobile accidents between Friday and midnight Monday.

But unless you exercise the utmost caution every split second of the time you are at the wheel of your automobile you or members of your family may be one of those twelve to twenty-nine people.

It is even possible that you may be one of them through no fault of your own, but because someone else neglected to use caution on our highways.

Help these people today, won't you?

Thousands of flood victims in Connecticut, Massachusetts, New Jersey, New York, Pennsylvania, and Rhode Island, need immediate help. Federal funds for disaster-stricken communities will be spent on the reconstruction of public works, not on assistance to individuals.

Thousands of families are faced with mounting expenses.

These unfortunate victims of one of the country's worst floods look to their neighbors for help. They look to you. Your contribution to the American Red Cross will help them back on their feet. Send it to one of the banks in Statesboro, Brooklet or Portal today, won't you?

Orchids for Bulloch

Up Statesboro way, don't talk about juvenile delinquency. That's a problem they've licked. While the rest of the country in general has just been talking about it, the Bulloch countians have pitched in and really done something about it.

So far as we know there's no organized program, per se. They just encourage youngsters to keep busy at community projects and to turn their youthful energies into creative instead of destructive directions. And it works.

For example, the senior class of Statesboro High recently raised something like $4,000 to finance a class trip to Washington. Every time a civic organization starts a campaign that involves a lot of detailed work the first people they call on are the young folk. And, to date, they have always responded—and produced!

The contributions of these young folk to the civic welfare isn't always by request. Sometimes it's voluntary, and the results are something to make anyone revive fresh hope for the future of the American people.

A classic example is the recent disaster in New England and the Northeast. Before the Red Cross had launched its appeal, in fact before the full extent of the havoc had yet become general knowledge the Statesboro youngsters decided to do something about it—on their own. It started with the Methodist Youth Fellowship, but almost all the youth organizations pitched in.

With the cooperation of the local radio station, WWNS, a

You can help make the Labor Day holiday a safer one this year. You can obey all traffic rules and regulations. Leave on your holiday trip with plenty of time to spare. Start home early and above all, do not drink and drive. Do not speed. Do not pass without sufficient clearance on rises and curves. Do not follow other vehicles too closely. Stay off the highways if you possibly can if you are walking. Stay on the left side facing traffic and carry a light with you at night if you must walk along the highway.

Don't let yourself and your loved ones down by disregarding and violating traffic laws designed to save life, not destroy it.

"Flood Relief Marathon" was staged. Through the rain the boys and girls trooped to the station to stage a live talent show and to offer to perform odd jobs like car washing or scrubbing front walks in return for donations to a relief fund. Something over $200 was raised after a show which lasted for double the original allotted time. At last reports only two of the chores were still unperformed—both of which were specifically to be done over the weekend.

That, say we, is an example of community spirit that is tough to beat. It's also an answer to the delinquency problem that's well worth the study. If we adults would devote half the time to actually doing something toward keeping youngsters busy in constructive directions as we do talking about the delinquency problem we might get somewhere.

—Savannah Morning News.

Something should be done about this

Dr. J. E. McCroan, son of the late Judge J. E. McCroan and Mrs. McCroan, told Statesboro Rotarians Monday of the rich heritage that is ours—we who call Statesboro and Bulloch county our home.

But what he had to say points up a great need of our community—the need to know more about the history of Statesboro and Bulloch county.

Briefly he told of the founding of Statesboro and the events leading up to its beginning. In the short time he had he could only introduce the Rotarians to the subject.

There has been an attempt at gathering of material, compiling documents and culling out the most important events which make up the history of our community, but nothing ever came of it.

Here's a project worthy of any civic organization, or it may take the combined efforts of all the organizations.

It should be done, before something should happen to the documents which are now being well kept and preserved in our courthouse.

It should be put in form so that the youth of today can know something of this great county of theirs and their parents and their grandparents and great grandparents.

Misguided Missiles

by Chon Day

The Editor's Uneasy Chair

CONGRESSMAN Prince H. Preston, Mrs. Preston and their two children, Ann and Kay, with other congressmen and their families, were guests at the Georgia Hotel Association's annual summer outing at Radium Springs, Albany, recently.

On Sunday night, August 21, during the affair, our Congressman ran into Michael Coleman, 15-year-old Albany serpent enthusiast and a life-guard at the resort. Michael had caught a snake, a coach-whip, in the vicinity of the Radium Springs casino. The youth's catch immediately caught the fancy of Congressman Preston. While spectators watched in awe, Prince picked up the snake played with it for two minutes, then let it wrap itself about his arm. But when it started crawling toward his neck, he handed the serpent back to Michael. Mrs. Preston said she was "fascinated." Prince chuckled, "No, I'm not afraid of snakes. Congressmen have to be prepared to handle all kinds of snakes in Washington, you know."

IN OUR YOUTH we once saw a man down at Arcola pick up a coachwhip by the tail and swing the long snake around his head. He popped the snake's head off in the fashion of a driver popping a bull whip. We'll never forget that. That's a good way to dispose of snakes, Prince.

THERE'S AN OLD Spanish proverb which goes: "A beard

Thru the P's of Virginia Russell

It may be that you pass and hear a peevish old man and suddenly you remember that the time for your dental appointment is near at hand.

Of course, it may not take such a sudden shock. It may be that the appointment card falls out of your pocketbook.

Or it may be that your head has had a dull, throbbing sensation for days and you try to decide what is worrying you—

THEN, IT COMES TO YOU... the dental appointment you've had for six months is at hand. But whatever the symptoms, they never seem to be accompanied by anything except dread.

You try your best to consider the dentist. Recently, an article told how many dentists have stomach ulcers due to worrying over hurting the patients. You'd like to believe this, but could it be possible? Of course, the dentist is a nice man if you can think of him as a man instead of a sadist who loves to drill as near your brain as he dares, (well, of course, your brain grows down into your teeth—what else could hurt?)

YOU TAKE ALONG your book because you've never sure how many people have had sudden toothaches and had to be put ahead of you. This period of time is worse than all the other hours of dread. The office is attractive and comfortable well lathered is half shaved." Which may have accounted for the array of shaving mugs that at one time adorned the shelves of the local barbershops. Remember those tin mugs? A man with pride had a special mug which carried a symbol of his occupation. The blacksmith, a horseshoe; the shoemaker, a shoe; the preacher, a cross; the farmer, a plough; and so on. This week we came by one of these old mugs and we now have it on our desk. It belonged to the late Frank N. Grimes, our father-in-law. It's a beauty. Big, with a picture of an old woodburning railroad engine, and the name "F. N. Grimes" in old English letters in gold. He was employed by the S. & S Railroad at the time he had the mug made. There must be others of these mugs around stashed on pantry shelves, in bottom drawers, in attics. They're worth getting out and using for vases for flower arrangements, for teething youngsters—we're using Mr. Frank's for a pencil holder. It lends dignity to a pen holder, it lends dignity to an otherwise cluttered desk.

WHICH REMINDS us of a story we dug up—Man (getting a shave): "Barber, will you give me a glass of water?" Barber: "What is the matter? Something in your throat?" Man: "No—I want to see if my neck leaks." Sure, it's corny, but we sort of liked it.

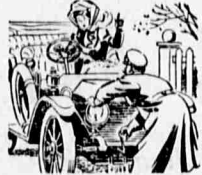

But you aren't either—no you aren't, attractive nor comfortable. "Misery loves company," you've always heard. So you look to those cheerful-acting people who wait with you. You decide they must have come with someone, nobody could be such a hypocrite.

THEN COMES YOUR turn, you're ushered into the little clean room and clean linen is fastened about your neck and there's a clean smell everywhere. The dentist comes in with his clean hands. You look at him good and see that he doesn't really have horns and a pitchfork and you try to remember that you might give the poor man stomach ulcers.

You also remember that a dentist's work must be about as unglamorous a profession as there is. Imagine spending the days of your life looking in open toilets.

NOT MUCH TIME is wasted but this man starts right in on your mouth and at the same time he begins asking questions you're crazy to answer but he has both hands in your mouth. You wonder if this is part of his sadism. Or maybe he thinks he's doing you a favor. Why do you want to keep them so that you must keep on coming to the dentist.

Well, after all you've been attached to them. They've been with you a long time. Some how you decide you must sort of be kind to him every day would like to do—not let the women talk at all. So he feels he's helping his fellowman.

It Seems To Me

By Max Lockwood

A MESSAGE TO OUR YOUTH: I love the youth of today are stronger, physically, mentally, morally and spiritually than their parents or were their parents' parents. This is a strong statement. It is one which is not lightly made. It is one which comes only after serious thought and much study.

You who live in America are a fortunate youth. You live in a Christian country where the people humble themselves before the Lord. Nearly a hundred million of them belong to the church and they have built more than two hundred thousands of places of worship as monuments of faith to a living Christ.

YOU LIVE in a powerful nation, the most powerful in the world. With this power has come responsibility and with this responsibility has come the need for decision. Yours will be the problem of tomorrow and in order to be able to solve this problem you must prepare yourselves today. Generations have sought down through the ages to teach themselves how to harness the strength found in great power to the benefit of all mankind. They have failed.

That this is true has been pointed out time and time again in man's recorded history of his development. This is the simple, the simple principle which you must consider and with which you must live.

IF I WERE to voice one single criticism of the youth of today I would say to you this, "You have failed to accept some of the responsibility which is yours." Responsibility found in your home, your church, your school and your community.

When he teacher, Miss Sullivan, came to her, she said, "You have failed to accept some of the responsibility which is yours." Responsibility found in your home, your church, your school and your community.

When he teacher, Miss Sullivan, came to her, she said, "You have failed to accept some of the responsibility which is yours." Responsibility found in your home, your church, your school and your community.

When he teacher, Miss Sullivan, came to her, she said, "You have failed to accept some of the responsibility which is yours." Responsibility found in your home, your church, your school and your community.

When he teacher, Miss Sullivan, came to her, she said, "You have failed to accept some of the responsibility which is yours." Responsibility found in your home, your church, your school and your community.

When he teacher, Miss Sullivan, came to her, she said, "You have failed to accept some of the responsibility which is yours." Responsibility found in your home, your church, your school and your community.

When he teacher, Miss Sullivan, came to her, she said, "You have failed to accept some of the responsibility which is yours." Responsibility found in your home, your church, your school and your community.

When he teacher, Miss Sullivan, came to her, she said, "You have failed to accept some of the responsibility which is yours." Responsibility found in your home, your church, your school and your community.

When he teacher, Miss Sullivan, came to her, she said, "You have failed to accept some of the responsibility which is yours." Responsibility found in your home, your church, your school and your community.

When he teacher, Miss Sullivan, came to her, she said, "You have failed to accept some of the responsibility which is yours." Responsibility found in your home, your church, your school and your community.

work as you attempt to find the secret. Too many of us have accepted great strength as the power to destroy while under God's plan strength is given to build, to create, to accomplish. Not just for one's self, but for his friend, his neighbor and for the world in which he lives.

THERE IS A PLACE in this America of ours for a Christian youth. Not one who is a namby-pamby Christian but one who is not afraid to carry his share of the load. One who can have convictions, and having a conviction, living by his belief from day to day.

I cannot agree with those who have taught you that the Christian way is the rocky road, the straight and narrow, the hard and severe path along which you must travel. Rather, I would say to you that it is the easy way, the confident way and in the long run, the popular way.

Yes, there is a place in your world. With this power has come responsibility and with this responsibility has come the need for decision. Yours will be the problem of tomorrow and in order to be able to solve this problem you must prepare yourselves today.

When he teacher, Miss Sullivan, came to her, she said, "You have failed to accept some of the responsibility which is yours." Responsibility found in your home, your church, your school and your community.

When he teacher, Miss Sullivan, came to her, she said, "You have failed to accept some of the responsibility which is yours." Responsibility found in your home, your church, your school and your community.

When he teacher, Miss Sullivan, came to her, she said, "You have failed to accept some of the responsibility which is yours." Responsibility found in your home, your church, your school and your community.

When he teacher, Miss Sullivan, came to her, she said, "You have failed to accept some of the responsibility which is yours." Responsibility found in your home, your church, your school and your community.

When he teacher, Miss Sullivan, came to her, she said, "You have failed to accept some of the responsibility which is yours." Responsibility found in your home, your church, your school and your community.

When he teacher, Miss Sullivan, came to her, she said, "You have failed to accept some of the responsibility which is yours." Responsibility found in your home, your church, your school and your community.

When he teacher, Miss Sullivan, came to her, she said, "You have failed to accept some of the responsibility which is yours." Responsibility found in your home, your church, your school and your community.

When he teacher, Miss Sullivan, came to her, she said, "You have failed to accept some of the responsibility which is yours." Responsibility found in your home, your church, your school and your community.

When he teacher, Miss Sullivan, came to her, she said, "You have failed to accept some of the responsibility which is yours." Responsibility found in your home, your church, your school and your community.

When he teacher, Miss Sullivan, came to her, she said, "You have failed to accept some of the responsibility which is yours." Responsibility found in your home, your church, your school and your community.

When he teacher, Miss Sullivan, came to her, she said, "You have failed to accept some of the responsibility which is yours." Responsibility found in your home, your church, your school and your community.

THE BULLOCH HERALD

By E. T. "RED" MULLIS

Mr. Charlie Byrd, a co-operator of the Ogeechee River Soil Conservation District, has completed combining a 10-acre patch of Pensacola bahia grass on his farm at Warnock school and got 3,400 pounds of re-cleaned seed.

Mr. J. E. Rushing has completed combining 2,500 pounds of Pensacola bahia seed on just north of Warnock school.

Mr. Neal Bowen of Register is launching on a woodland management plan which should yield good profit now and in the future. It is a plan whereby the most continuous income can be realized from his woodland.

Mr. T. H. Bowen, forester with the Soil Conservation Service, believes the plan will work. He is a cooperator of the district who follow the system.

It takes into consideration the size of the tree as to its spacing, as well as leaving the most trees for maximum production of the most valuable product. It calls for opening up areas every five years for natural seeding with minimum loss of land and continuous income.

Mr. E. D. Shaw of Brooklet has recently completed a nice farm pond on his farm.

GEORGIA AND THE BUGS Are Georgians becoming bug conscious? The number of people county and home demonstration agents assist with insect problems is up 66 per cent since 1962. County Extension Service workers reported helping 348,954 with "buggy" problems last year. According to entomologist C. R. Jordan, from 25 to 50 per cent of the requests many county agents receive are in regard to insect control.

S. M. Wall asked those who would to help collect pine cones this year. He pointed out that in areas where saw mills are located, pine cones are the best place to collect cones. They may be sold at the district forestry office and the county forest ranger's office at the air base.

S. A. Driggers, principal at Brooklet, has a plan to help collect pine cones this year. He pointed out that in areas where saw mills are located, pine cones are the best place to collect cones. They may be sold at the district forestry office and the county forest ranger's office at the air base.

S. A. Driggers, principal at Brooklet, has a plan to help collect pine cones this year. He pointed out that in areas where saw mills are located, pine cones are the best place to collect cones. They may be sold at the district forestry office and the county forest ranger's office at the air base.

S. A. Driggers, principal at Brooklet, has a plan to help collect pine cones this year. He pointed out that in areas where saw mills are located, pine cones are the best place to collect cones. They may be sold at the district forestry office and the county forest ranger's office at the air base.

S. A. Driggers, principal at Brooklet, has a plan to help collect pine cones this year. He pointed out that in areas where saw mills are located, pine cones are the best place to collect cones. They may be sold at the district forestry office and the county forest ranger's office at the air base.

S. A. Driggers, principal at Brooklet, has a plan to help collect pine cones this year. He pointed out that in areas where saw mills are located, pine cones are the best place to collect cones. They may be sold at the district forestry office and the county forest ranger's office at the air base.

S. A. Driggers, principal at Brooklet, has a plan to help collect pine cones this year. He pointed out that in areas where saw mills are located, pine cones are the best place to collect cones. They may be sold at the district forestry office and the county forest ranger's office at the air base.

S. A. Driggers, principal at Brooklet, has a plan to help collect pine cones this year. He pointed out that in areas where saw mills are located, pine cones are the best place to collect cones. They may be sold at the district forestry office and the county forest ranger's office at the air base.

Farm and Family Features

Farm Bureau

Weather modification and FB membership renewals feature meets

The activities of the weather modification program were discussed at all the Farm Bureau meetings last week. West Side, Silston and Portal.

A. R. Clark Jr., vice president of the local organization, and John N. Rushing Jr., secretary and treasurer, gave the three groups a review of the work done here and the cost. They pointed out that more than $2,200 went toward the cost of the program the rest of this year.

The community officers were named to accept donations, or payments of two cents per acre, on the program.

WEST SIDE WORKS MEMBERSHIP Membership renewals were also a part of each of the three programs last week. Henry S. Blitch, president at West Side, asked the serving committee chairman to meet with him after the regular meeting and help divide up the membership cards for contacting Tuesday.

Mr. Williams stated that Judge J. L. Renfro would be with the group in September.

PORTAL TO ENLARGE MEMBERSHIP C. M. Cowart, county secretary, urged the Portal group to make a special effort to enlarge their Farm Bureau. He enumerated the value of some of the Farm Bureau sponsored programs to the county, such as the gas tax refund program that brings nearly $100,000 back to the county every year and the tobacco stabilization program that is returning about $270,000 to Bulloch county tobacco growers this year alone. That Farm Bureau sponsored effort to help get a better price for tobacco. Every tobacco grower should not only join the Farm Bureau but procure every member possible himself, Mr. Cowart thinks.

PORTAL REVENUE MEMBERSHIPS A. J. Woods, Portal president, and Billy Brown, treasurer, had a table set up at their meeting Tuesday night and were renewing memberships as the group gathered. Those not signed up were to be contacted Tuesday by a group Mr. Woods had lined up to meet him on Friday night. Mrs. Sam L. Brannen, Farm Bureau women chairman at West Side, announced that they were planning a talent show program for the group in the immediate future. Mrs. Brannen did not state definitely when the show would be.

S. M. Wall asked those who would to help collect pine cones this year. He pointed out that in areas where saw mills are located, pine cones are the best place to collect cones. They may be sold at the district forestry office and the county forest ranger's office at the air base.

S. A. Driggers, principal at Brooklet, has a plan to help collect pine cones this year. He pointed out that in areas where saw mills are located, pine cones are the best place to collect cones. They may be sold at the district forestry office and the county forest ranger's office at the air base.

S. A. Driggers, principal at Brooklet, has a plan to help collect pine cones this year. He pointed out that in areas where saw mills are located, pine cones are the best place to collect cones. They may be sold at the district forestry office and the county forest ranger's office at the air base.

S. A. Driggers, principal at Brooklet, has a plan to help collect pine cones this year. He pointed out that in areas where saw mills are located, pine cones are the best place to collect cones. They may be sold at the district forestry office and the county forest ranger's office at the air base.

S. A. Driggers, principal at Brooklet, has a plan to help collect pine cones this year. He pointed out that in areas where saw mills are located, pine cones are the best place to collect cones. They may be sold at the district forestry office and the county forest ranger's office at the air base.

S. A. Driggers, principal at Brooklet, has a plan to help collect pine cones this year. He pointed out that in areas where saw mills are located, pine cones are the best place to collect cones. They may be sold at the district forestry office and the county forest ranger's office at the air base.

S. A. Driggers, principal at Brooklet, has a plan to help collect pine cones this year. He pointed out that in areas where saw mills are located, pine cones are the best place to collect cones. They may be sold at the district forestry office and the county forest ranger's office at the air base.

S. A. Driggers, principal at Brooklet, has a plan to help collect pine cones this year. He pointed out that in areas where saw mills are located, pine cones are the best place to collect cones. They may be sold at the district forestry office and the county forest ranger's office at the air base.

S. A. Driggers, principal at Brooklet, has a plan to help collect pine cones this year. He pointed out that in areas where saw mills are located, pine cones are the best place to collect cones. They may be sold at the district forestry office and the county forest ranger's office at the air base.

Denmark News

Thomas Rucker accepts position at New Mexico School for the Deaf

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Lee and daughter, Nancy, were visitors in Savannah Saturday. Mrs. Lee's mother, Mrs. Atkins, accompanied them.

Mrs. Floyd Clark of Oliver, spent Saturday with her father, Mr. Ben Lee.

Miss June Miller of Conyers, Ga., spent last weekend with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. P. Miller.

Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Zetterower and Franklin and Mrs. William H. Zetterower and Linda, spent Sunday as guests of Mr. and Mrs. William Cromley of Brooklet.

Mrs. Tom Mason and little daughter, Julie, who have been guests of her mother, Mrs. D. W. Bragan, for several weeks, left Sunday to join her husband in New York in a visit with relatives there before leaving for Germany, where they will live for 18 months when Lt. Mason is to be stationed.

First Lt. and Mrs. H. O. Frenchie of Mississippi are spending the weekend as guests of Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Foss. Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Lewis and Mrs. C. A. Zetterower were visitors in Savannah Saturday.

Mrs. J. W. Rucker, who has been visiting Mr. and Mrs. Tom Rucker during the summer, is visiting relatives in Atlanta. Mrs. G. R. Waters visited Mr. and Mrs. Otis Waters and family Saturday evening.

Mrs. J. W. Rucker, who has been visiting Mr. and Mrs. Tom Rucker during the summer, is visiting relatives in Atlanta. Mrs. G. R. Waters visited Mr. and Mrs. Otis Waters and family Saturday evening.

Mrs. J. W. Rucker, who has been visiting Mr. and Mrs. Tom Rucker during the summer, is visiting relatives in Atlanta. Mrs. G. R. Waters visited Mr. and Mrs. Otis Waters and family Saturday evening.

Mrs. J. W. Rucker, who has been visiting Mr. and Mrs. Tom Rucker during the summer, is visiting relatives in Atlanta. Mrs. G. R. Waters visited Mr. and Mrs. Otis Waters and family Saturday evening.

Mrs. J. W. Rucker, who has been visiting Mr. and Mrs. Tom Rucker during the summer, is

The Bulloch Herald, Statesboro, Ga.

THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 1, 1965

accepted a position as counsel of American agriculture, there is probably no firm enterprise that has developed so rapidly as the commercial broiler industry.

Arthur Cannon, Extension Service poultryman, has recently that, in the whole history of American agriculture, there is probably no firm enterprise that has developed so rapidly as the commercial broiler industry.

Commercial poultry to market will cost about $125. Extension poultryman Jim Thaxton told 4-H members who are interested in small turkey projects.

Commercial poultry to market will cost about $125. Extension poultryman Jim Thaxton told 4-H members who are interested in small turkey projects.

Commercial poultry to market will cost about $125. Extension poultryman Jim Thaxton told 4-H members who are interested in small turkey projects.

Commercial poultry to market will cost about $125. Extension poultryman Jim Thaxton told 4-H members who are interested in small turkey projects.

Commercial poultry to market will cost about $125. Extension poultryman Jim Thaxton told 4-H members who are interested in small turkey projects.

Commercial poultry to market will cost about $125. Extension poultryman Jim Thaxton told 4-H members who are interested in small turkey projects.

Commercial poultry to market will cost about $125. Extension poultryman Jim Thaxton told 4-H members who are interested in small turkey projects.

Commercial poultry to market will cost about $125. Extension poultryman Jim Thaxton told 4-H members who are interested in small turkey projects.

Commercial poultry to market will cost about $125. Extension poultryman Jim Thaxton told 4-H members who are interested in small turkey projects.

Commercial poultry to market will cost about $125. Extension poultryman Jim Thaxton told 4-H members who are interested in small turkey projects.

Commercial poultry to market will cost about $125. Extension poultryman Jim Thaxton told 4-H members who are interested in small turkey projects.

Commercial poultry to market will cost about $125. Extension poultryman Jim Thaxton told 4-H members who are interested in small turkey projects.

Commercial poultry to market will cost about $125. Extension poultryman Jim Thaxton told 4-H members who are interested in small turkey projects.

Commercial poultry to market will cost about $125. Extension poultryman Jim Thaxton told 4-H members who are interested in small turkey projects.

Commercial poultry to market will cost about $125. Extension poultryman Jim Thaxton told 4-H members who are interested in small turkey projects.

