Junior Woman's Club gives annual party

The Statesboro Junior Woman's Club held its annual Christmas party at the Recreation Center December 10. From the first and second grades of three elementary schools, 28 children were invited and attended. The children were very beautiful with their Christmas decorations and a lovely Christmas tree with colored lights.

Mrs. Bing Phillips entertained the children with Christmas roles on her xiphophone and was accompanied on the piano by Mrs. W. D. Wyatt. Mrs. Carroll Herrington led the children in singing many Christmas songs. Also the ventriloquist, by Godwin, who is attending Georgia Teachers College, kept the guests spellbound with his talking "Danny."

Last, but certainly not least Santa came bounding in with 2 large packs on his back full of surprises. Santa talked with each child and since they had all been very good girls and boys they were given gifts, trunks, pistols, books, clothes, various stuffed animals and a bag of fruit.

Following Santa's visit, the children enjoyed ice cream and cookies and then were carried to their homes by members of the Junior Woman's Club.

The following local merchants were instrumental in the success of the party and the Statesboro Junior Woman's Club wishes to thank each and every one of them. They are Ben Franklin Store, Southern Auto, Western Auto, Bulloch Tire and Supply, W. C. Adams and Sons Hardware, Buggy and Wagon Hardware, McClellan's 5 and 10 Store, United 5 and 10 Store, Bell's Department Store, The Children's Shop, Magnolia Shop, Lovett's Grocery, Farnsworth's.

1935 Christmas 1955

"And God said let there be light:
And there was light."
—Gen. 1:3

As we approach the greatest day in all Christendom, the birth day of Jesus Christ, we cannot help but reflect upon the darkness that prevailed over most of the rural areas of Georgia up until just two decades ago.

Twenty years ago less than seven thousand farm homes were with central station power. Today, more than one quarter million homes in Georgia have electric facilities equal to that of their town and city neighbors.

In two short decades the pronouncement of centuries ago has been made real in the hearts and homes of our rural people. A miracle of our modern age, long denied by the Wall Street trusts and power monopolists, has been wrought.

Rural Georgia and rural America have much to be happy about this Christmas time—the REA. Decorate the homes—light up the trees—sing the praises of REA for it means a new day—a new hope—comfort and happiness in our homes and profits to our city cousins who have provided us with over one-third billion dollars worth of electrically operated appliances—at a profit for themselves, their distributors, wholesalers and manufacturers.

A MERRY CHRISTMAS TO ALL!

Senator Walter F. George says
he will run for reelection

Senator Walter F. George has announced his decision to offer for reelection in next year's state Democratic primary.

The Georgia senior senator, who is president pro tem of the Senate, fourth in line for the presidency, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, and an outstanding authority on fiscal matters, taxation, social security and veterans affairs, made this announcement from his office here. His statement was made to a press conference arranged by the editor of the Senator's hometown newspaper, Mrs. Madge (Mrs. C. M. Jr.) Methvin. In his prepared simple statement, Senator George said:

"To the people of Georgia: Following the adjournment of the Congress in August, I announced that I would make a positive statement of my plans for 1956.

"I will be a candidate for nomination in the Democratic primary for the office of United States Senator next year, Georgia.

"Matters of major importance will come before the second session of the 84th Congress and it will be my duty to remain at my post in Washington to meet the responsibilities placed upon me. I am sure the people of Georgia will expect me to give first attention to their business in Washington. Among these major questions will be relief to the farmer coupled with a long term farm program; tax reductions which can be made during the next two years; an adequate highway construction program; and other problems. Also the foreign affairs of the country will require immediate attention and the stability of world affairs and the continued avoidance of war, if a just and honorable peace can be maintained, will require my close application to duty in Washington.

"As soon as the public business will permit, I will return to the state. In the meantime I shall depend on my friends in Georgia. I am, and shall remain, profoundly grateful for the cordial reception given me by the people of the state and the confidence which they have reposed in me during my years of public service."

Land-Water-and People are all related in our nation's economy

By JULIAN DEAL

Land-water-and people are inseparably related in our economy. Land and water are vital in agriculture, and people wisely use their land and water resources, they are properly nourished and adequately reimbursed for their efforts. Those things which make up the power and hope of our democracy spring very largely from the goodness of our land and its capacity to produce generously. Yet, to an astonishing extent, we have plundered the resource that made it possible to establish our dream.

Land is the most important of our natural resources. This is an inevitability, for all our material possessions come directly or indirectly from the soil. Productive soil maintains the wheel of life by providing man's essentials: food, clothing, and shelter. It is the basic source of wealth and prosperity. While poor land tends to produce poor churches, poor schools, poor workers—a poor people lacking the basic resource to improve their lot.

The soil is the farmer's business, the city dweller's provider of life's necessities—every man's concern. It may produce heartbreak, war, defeat, or again it may be the victim of carelessness, erosion, exploitation. Every used and abused, soil is the giver and the keeper of life.

The early settlers of this nation came upon a land of fertile soil and abundant wildlife. In three and a half centuries, millions of acres of our land have been ruined, and other millions greatly harmed. Not only has soil gone down the slopes to the wasteful ocean; but opportunity, security, the chance for a man to make a living from the land have gone too. We must defend the soil to sustain our rural life, the bulwark of our nation.

Preventing erosion of the nation's soil is so vital to our national interest that the federal government has taken measures to control it. Money has been provided to operate agricultural services to teach citizens the value of methods of conservation. The development of a program of using our land for what it is best suited, treating each parcel of land according to its need, is a vast undertaking. However, soil conservation not only is better for the land, but in the long run it is cheaper and more profitable for the farmer.

Through experiment stations set up throughout the nation, better and more practicable methods are being found to conserve our soil. Water is a second natural resource that must not be taken for granted. We drink water, bathe in it, wash clothes and dishes in it, and use it in cooking foods. We fight fires with water, sprinkle lawns and

C. B. McAllister heads trustees at Brewton-Parker

Mr. C. B. McAllister, president of the Sea Island Bank of Statesboro, was elected chairman of the Board of Trustees of Brewton-Parker Junior College at their regular fall meeting Wednesday. Mr. J. H. Red-dick of Savannah, was elected vice chairman and H. V. Thompson, of Alley, as secretary.

The board made preliminary plans for a drive for funds for the college.

JERRY L. BROWN, son of Darby Brown of Route 1, Statesboro, Ga., has been appointed platoon leader of his recruit company at the Great Lakes Naval Training Center. As a recruit petty officer he will wear a miniature rating insignia as a badge of authority during the remainder of his nine weeks of "Boot Camp." He was chosen for the position in recognition of leadership qualities displayed while undergoing recruit training.

500 miles of firebreaks. Approximately 800 acres of land were made more productive by the 10 miles of drainage ditches which were constructed during 1954. There were 268 farm ponds built last year by farmers cooperating with the district program, 165 of which were stocked with bream and bass. Interest was shown in irrigation, as 20 irrigation systems, capable of supplying 535 acres, were put into use.

The cooperation of farmers, businessmen, civic clubs and others has been excellent. Newspapers are rendering an invaluable service in getting the people interested in soil conservation. Most papers carry regular soil and water conservation columns, publish editorials, and solicit conservation advertising, so as to attract the attention of the people to the great problem of conservation.

The health, happiness, and security of our people demand that our soil and water resources be protected against negligence and waste and be conserved both for ourselves and those who will walk after us.

The Ogeechee River Soil Conservation District, located in the Middle Coastal Plain of southeast Georgia, has a land area of 1,756,800 acres. Organized in 1940 under the Georgia Soil Conservation Act of 1935, the district included only Bulloch, but in 1942 Chandler and Evans counties joined to be followed by Screven in 1946 and Effingham and Tattnall in 1947.

The Ogeechee River Soil Conservation District is a farmer-formed and farmer-run organization, the purpose of which is the conservation of soil and water resources and the improvement of soil productivity. There were 139 miles of terraces built with farmer-owned equipment in the district last year. A total of 7,500 acres were planted to permanent pastures, and approximately 12,000 acres were planted to cover crops. In addition, 1,775 acres of trees were planted in the district, protected by over

GTC'S New Well Now Testing; To Cost 20,000 Bux

GTC's new well is presently in a test stage and is expected to be completed and ready for actual use about one or two months from now.

The well is presently being tested to see if it can supply the water capacity expected. It is pumping 550 gallons per minute, all of which is going down the ditch nearby.

After the test run, they will have to await the delivery of the pump and electrical components, build a brick pump house and landscape the area.

The well will be operated by a 60 horsepower motor and have an expected output in excess of 500 gallons per minute from a depth of 620 feet.

The contract price, which provides for drilling, the pump, electrical control, and guaranteed output of 500 gallons is $14,971, but upon completion the total project will amount to an estimated $20,000.

THREE BULLOCH COUNTY STUDENTS AT GTC MAKE KDP SOCIETY

Three Bulloch County students attending Georgia Teachers College have been selected for membership in Kappa Delta Pi, national honorary society. They are as follows:

Mrs. Reba Clements, wife of J. I. Clements, Collegeboro, a senior majoring in business education. Miss Jacqueline Mikell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. Jesse Mikell, 360 Savannah Avenue, Statesboro, a junior majoring in health and physical education.

The well is being constructed not only to provide GTC with adequate water supply for its ever-increasing needs but also to provide an adequate water supply for fire prevention and control.

The pump will be electrically controlled so that it will operate only when the present pump cannot maintain a constant supply of 25,000 gallons above ground.

Barney Rushing was re-named president of the Warnock Farm Bureau Wednesday night. Mr. Hodges replaces H. L. Quattlebaum as president of the Ogeechee chapter. George H. Miller was re-named vice president and I. V. Simmons elected secretary and treasurer to succeed himself.

FRANCHISE VERSUS

Frank W. Fitch, Georgia agricultural Extension Service agent, reports that results of the Alabama Experiment Station show that 9.5 minutes and 136 steps are required to milk a cow in a milking parlor. There also is less trouble with mastitis in the milking parlor.

As part of the current Brucellosis eradication program, 8,000 Georgia herds were tested during the past fiscal year. This included nearly 40,000 cattle, and about 40,000 hives were vaccinated.

Three communities exceeded their 1955 memberships in the 1956 renewals and thereby received a free vacation in Florida. These communities are Stillson, Brooklet, and Ogeechee.

Willis S. Williams, the Stillson president, has asked for reservations for his family at the Sarasota Terrace hotel in Sarasota, Florida, for December 26 and plans to spend the week there as the guest of the Bulloch Herald, donor of the award.

H. L. Quattlebaum, president at Ogeechee, could not go and offered the award to Robert Zetterower. Mr. Zetterower has also asked Editor Leodel Coleman to make reservations for his family at the Sarasota Terrace for Christmas week.

J. H. Wyatt, president at Brooklet was the other winner of the Sarasota award, but is not sure yet if he and Mrs. Wyatt can make it. They do plan to go down sometime during the week and visit relatives in Tampa and a part of the week at Sarasota with the Zetterowers and Williams.

Fred Hodges Jr. named president of Ogeechee Farm Bureau for 1956

Fred W. Hodges Jr. was named president of the Ogeechee Farm Bureau at the regular meeting last week.

Barney Rushing was re-named president of the Warnock Farm Bureau Wednesday night. Mr. Hodges replaces H. L. Quattlebaum as president of the Ogeechee chapter. George H. Miller was re-named vice president and I. V. Simmons elected secretary and treasurer to succeed himself.

J. A. Hart was chairman of the nominating committee that made the report at Ogeechee. Josh Deal was chairman of the Warnock nominating committee that asked all the present officers to serve another year, which included Grady Lee as vice president and Horace Bird secretary and treasurer.

Mr. Quattlebaum, one of the Bulloch Herald Sarasota vacation winners, announced that he could not go but he would surely get someone from their chapter to go, probably Robert Zetterower.

Mrs. George H. Miller and Mrs. Roy Kelly planned the Ogeechee Christmas program, which included numerous songs led by Mr. Zetterower and the young people in the community. They presented a Christmas story skit with Mrs. W. L. Zetterower Jr., Mrs. Kelly, Patsy Simmons, Joyce Franklin, Frank Proctor Jr., Peggy Miller and Faye Bradley participating.

Mrs. Frank Proctor was at the piano. Mr. Hart took charge of the Ogeechee meeting from this point and served oranges, apples, candy, and such like. A drawing for special awards of Christmas gifts was conducted and for the juniors the winners were Joan Bradley, Fred Campbell, Judy Franklin, Eddie Wynn and Roy Miller. Mrs. Fred W. Hodges Sr. and Harold Miller took the adult award.

The Warnock group also went for a Christmas party with cake, coffee, candy, fruit, and should receive the awards.

Stilson PTA holds regular meeting featuring Christmas

By MRS. W. H. MORRIS

Sgt. Benard Beasley, who has been stationed for the past three years in Germany, arrived here on December 10, to spend a 30-day furlough with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Beasley Sr. After 30 days he will report to Fort Jackson, S. C.

The Stilson PTA held their regular meeting on December 14, at 7 o'clock p. m. They had a very large crowd. The teachers of Stilson elementary school featured each grade in singing Christmas songs which were done very well indeed. They all did wonderful. Their singing was under the direction of Miss Starr. The pupils of Miss Starr presented her with a gift to celebrate her coming marriage, which is to be during the holidays. The gift was presented to Miss Starr by the fourth grade teacher, Mrs. Archie NeSmith. It was a beautiful crystal pitcher.

The PTA provided Santa Claus with enough fruit and candy to give every child there fruit and candy. Refreshments were served by the hospitality committee. Also Coca-Colas were served to the children.

The fifth grade at Stilson School decided to write letters to other parts of the United States. I think they chose different states and addressed their letters to the fifth grade. Some of the children had their letters returned and some received as high as 50 letters in answer. Mrs. Emmet Mikell of Statesboro is the fifth grade teacher.

Each grade in Stilson School, the first through the seventh, had a Christmas party in their classrooms last Wednesday for the holidays. Each class has class representatives or grade mothers to help with their party and gifts. Everyone had a wonderful time.

At 19... An Expert

This kid knows his stuff when it comes to driving. Sure, he's young... but he's smart. And he knows what's smart behind the wheel. He's got perfect timing... constant control... and good road judgment. He's got them all because he practices them... all the time. Because of his timing, he never needs to dart from lane to lane. Rather he glides his car smoothly, anticipating his next move long in advance. As for control... it lets him blend with the flow of traffic without those jerky starts and stops. And he'll be the first to tell you that anyone with road judgment will keep at reasonable speeds... not too fast, not too slow. He's young... but he's an expert. And he's proud of it! There's this about driving... You can always spot an expert!

TURKEY IN THE FOIL

Cooking turkey in aluminum foil is being recommended because cooking time is shortened and spattering of the oven is prevented. Miss Vickie Rickel, nutritionist for the Agricultural Extension Service, advises this method: Place the aluminum foil-wrapped turkey, breast up, in the bottom of a shallow pan. Put it in an oven preheated to 425 degrees. About 15 minutes before cooking time is up, open the foil to allow the turkey to brown.

THE BULLOCH HERALD

DEDICATED TO THE PROGRESS OF STATESBORO AND BULLOCH COUNTY

VOLUME XVI — ESTABLISHED MARCH 26, 1837

STATESBORO, GEORGIA, THURSDAY, DECEMBER 29, 1955

NUMBER 7

Hazel Creasy is IFYE delegate to represent Ga.

Selection of Hazel Creasy and Edward Johnson to represent Georgia as International Farm Youth Exchange delegates in 1956 was announced this week by the 4-H Club staff of the College of Agriculture Extension Service.

Miss Creasy, 23, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Creasy Sr., Brooklet. Edward, 21, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Johnson, 416 Beacon Street, Savannah.

They will join Herbert Yow of Dooley county, already named an IFYE, for the six-months experience of living, working and playing with farm families overseas in the interest of better world understanding. Countries they will visit will be announced later.

R. J. Richardson, 4-H leader, young men and women club work, who announced the two new delegates, said this marks the second year and the first time since 1952 that more than two Georgians have participated in the program. Miss Creasy and Edward will make a total of 17 Georgia young people who have been delegates.

Both made outstanding records in 4-H club work, and their accomplishments following membership are evidence of continued leadership and service.

A graduate of Georgia State College for Women, Miss Creasy has been home demonstration agent for the Agricultural Extension Service since 1952. She currently is agent in Washington county.

As 4-H'er, Miss Creasy held all six offices of her local club and served as president and secretary of her county 4-H council. She was twice state champion in frozen foods and is an alternate national winner in the project one year.

Miss Creasy is a member of the Home Demonstration Agents Association and is serving as Northeast Georgia director of the organization.

Edward is a senior at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. He expects to graduate there in June, 1956.

He was the son of the late T. V. Simmons and Julia Ann Waters Simmons.

Funeral services will be held this morning (Thursday) at 11 o'clock at the residence. The Rev. Pat Quattlebaum will conduct the services. Burial will be in the East Side Cemetery in Statesboro.

Mr. Simmons is survived by two brothers, Gordon Simmons and Rufus Simmons; two sisters, Mrs. Eva Brannan and Miss Fannie Simmons Brady; and a number of nieces and nephews.

Active palbearers will be Arthur Turner, Frank Simmons Sr., Ashton Simmons, Ivy Simmons, Tommy Simmons and Lewis Simmons.

Honorary palbearers named were James Clark Sr., Bud Aaron, Willie Hodges, Pat Quattlebaum, Harry Davis, Racer Evans, Elna Lee, J. E. Brannen, Dewey Lee, Willie Zetterover, Wallace Hagan, Dan Thompson, L. T. Bradley, Sidney Perkins, B. F. Henry, George Franklin and C. W. Zetterover.

Barnes Funeral Home was in charge of the arrangements.

Members of the home committee of the club, Mrs. Julian Grover, Mrs. J. L. Zetterover, Mrs. J. L. Matthews, Mrs. C. P. Ollitt and Mrs. R. S. Bonduant, president.

Following the judging they met at the home of Mrs. Bonduant for coffee.

Financial contributions were made by the Georgia Power Company and the Statesboro Merchants Association.

There's an old French proverb which says: "He that pays his debts increases his wealth."

The owner of a local department store tells a Christmas story which warms the heart of man.

It concerns a man who paid a debt. A debt for which the man was no longer legally bound to pay.

A letter dated December 22 was received by the local department store owner from the former resident of the county who now lives in north Georgia. It reads:

"Dear Sir,

"Some years ago when we were living at Brooklet my wife and daughter bought some merchandise from your store and at that time we were having financial troubles. Later we moved to this city and things have greatly changed for the good to us for which we are most grateful. With regrets and appropriate apologies to you, I am herewith enclosing check to cover the long past due bill. The amount then was approximately $20, maybe a little more. Anyway, I am sending my check for $25."

"Many thanks."

The department store owner checked back on his old ledger and found that the man's account went back to 1938. The ledger showed a balance of $19.41 with a credit for merchandise returned of $3. The man's daughter had charged in August and September of 1938 items totaling $4.56, making the total balance $20.97.

The store owner marked the account "Paid" and sent the man a check for $4.03, the difference between the account and the $25 check.

A letter went along with the check beginning: "We are in receipt of your check for $25 and feel moved by your fine gesture in taking care of an obligation for which you are no longer legally bound. It is a particularly fine thing to do at this season of the year."

He closed the letter with "Under the circumstances we don't feel any inclination to charge you any interest. I would be pleased to have you pay us a visit when you are next in Statesboro."

Bulloch County Development Corp. sells plant to Rockwell Mfg. Company

A true story on which to begin the New Year

By unanimous vote the stockholders adopted the resolution which is necessary to authorize the sale of the building and land, together with all the equipment attached to it.

According to the contract which will be entered into by the Bulloch County Development Corporation, The General Instrument Corporation and The Rockwell Manufacturing Company, the Rockwell Manufacturing Company agrees to pay the Bulloch County Development Corporation $850,000 for the plant and land. The Bulloch County Development Corporation will leave the local corporation $140,000 which was invested by local citizens, plus $1,488 interest due from the General Instrument Corporation at two and one-half per cent from September 1, 1955, through January 31, 1956, plus $300 for miscellaneous expenses and $935 for revenue stamps on the contract.

The meeting was held in the courthouse this morning. Mayor Bill Bowen read the three-way contract.

The Rockwell Manufacturing Company is one of the big companies of the country. It was organized in 1925. They manufacture gas meters, gas regulators, water meters, valves and also operate the Delta Power Tool Division.

On December 15 the bank distributed the usual dividend of 10 per cent and an extra dividend of two per cent. In the letter accompanying the dividend checks the bank's president wrote:

"We are glad to report a very good year again, one in which many varied conditions were evident. Some of our crops were unusually good, others very poor. Some of our customers overcame the dry seasons of 1954, while others suffered reverses as severe as last year. All were affected by high costs of production and lower farm prices. In all these conditions we have tried to serve our community well."

Registration may be phoned in by calling 4-3236, or coming by the center located in the old elementary school building at the corner of Grady street and South College street.

There's another lady in Statesboro who now has a coat which is too large for her, and a compact which is not hers which she found in the coat's pocket.

The mixup came about when Mrs. Harry Sack was leaving the Forest Heights Church last Tuesday night. She got her coat—she thought she was getting her coat, for it looked exactly like hers, same make, same color, all the same except the size.

Some other lady had gotten Mrs. Sack's coat thinking it was her own.

So if the lady who has a coat she thought is hers but which she found to be too large and having a compact in its pocket will call Mrs. Sack at 4-3335 she may get her coat—right this morning.

Rep. Preston to leave for Washington Jan. 3

Congressman Prince H. Preston announced yesterday that he will close his office here today and will leave for Washington next week. Congress convenes on January 3.

The number one problem facing the next session of Congress is the urgent need to enact legislation to relieve the desperate plight of our farmers," Preston said on the eve of his return to capital.

"My personal observation and findings from hundreds of discussions with First District farmers this fall confirms my conviction that action can no longer be delayed," Congressman Preston stated. "Last session the House passed legislation embodying the principle of action but that action can no longer be obtained on full party basis. The matter of allotments must be fully reviewed as soon as the session convenes."

"I propose to confer immediately with Democratic leaders of both Houses and committee of the Agriculture Committee to press for immediate legislative action to benefit our farmers," Preston added.

The First District Representative is a member of the powerful Appropriations Committee and serves as assistant whip of the Democratic majority in the House of Representatives.

Two things that make for SAFER driving!

The first and most important thing is you—the driver. As the highway safety organizations and law enforcement agencies point out, the courtesy, care, and common sense you show count more than anything else. You can drive any car safely — or foolishly.

The second thing is the car itself. All cars are safer today. That's shown by the number of accidents in relation to the number of miles passenger cars are driven. The figure's been going down steadily and sharply.

Chevrolet engineers and designers have always made your safety a major consideration, introducing many such features as the all-steel top, safety plate glass all around, and windshield-wide defrosters into the low-price field. And this '56 Chevrolet is the safest one ever built.

Its lively new power means safer passing. Its special Ball-Race steering—the oversize brakes with Anti-Dive control—the Unisteel construction and safety door latches of its Fisher Body—the nailed-to-road stability that comes from outrigger rear springs, an advanced suspension system and better balance—the sweeping panoramic windshield — all these things add to your safety.

Seat belts with or without shoulder harness? Instrument panel padding? Of course, they're available at extra cost on your new Chevrolet. But the best protection of all is to keep out of accidents in the first place. And that depends mostly on you and the built-in safety of your car.

As your Chevrolet dealer, we'll be glad to show you the many safety features of the '56 Chevrolet.

and to all our thanks for many kindnesses during the year.
