gains of 18 per cent, and 26 per cent, respectively. Total loans outstanding now amount to $3,159,308.27.
5. Reserves now amount to $252,792.22, or 32 per cent more than at the end of 1954.

Mr. Smith forecast an "unusually good" year for business in 1955, especially for the first six months. The economic expansion of 1955 would continue, he predicted, bolstered by a high level of plant and equipment expenditures, expanding inventories, a high rate of consumption spending, peak employment, and a high level of construction.

Further contributing to an optimistic business outlook, he said, were the facts that 1956 is an election year, and that tax reductions appear to be in the offing. As for housing, Mr. Smith reported that demand continues strong, being sustained by an "intense desire on the part of the public for up-to-date and larger homes, a reinvesting in the club's sale of personal income, and a continued high rate of family formation."

While housing starts may decline to around 1.2 million units in 1956, down from 1955's production of 1.3 million units he commented, the year would still go down as the country's third biggest home building year.

On Thursday of this week, a check for the amount of $300.07 was presented to the Bulloch County Health Department by the Statesboro Junior Woman's Club. This sum represents the club's sale of a child's playhouse will go towards a fund for the Prevention of Deafness among Bulloch county children, and will be administered by the county health department.

The Junior Woman's Club is proud of its success as sponsors of this new and needed aid for our local boys and girls. They are gratified also by the manner in which all club members cooperated in this, the main money-making campaign of the year. This spirit of cooperation was matched by that of the local merchants who donated much of the material which went into the construction of the playhouse and by the scores of Bulloch counties who felt the Prevention of Deafness Fund worthy of a donation.

Many may miss seeing the playhouse in its accustomed location on the southwest corner of the courthouse square. It now belongs to Little Miss Julie Johnson, nine-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Johnson of North College Street. Julie, who attends Mattie Lively Elementary School, was practically speechless when informed that she was holder of the ticket drawn by Mrs. Ralph Bacon, public health nurse.

The Junior Woman's Club award of a camellia to the member selling the most tickets on the playhouse went to Mrs. G. C. Coleman Jr., who secured over 250 donations toward the Prevention of Deafness Fund.

TC'S OFFICE DOES NOT
FILL OUT APPLICATION
FOR AUTO TAGS
John P. Lee, Bulloch county tax commissioner, announced this week that his office has "absolutely nothing to do with the filling out of the application blanks for auto tags, or for the State Patrol comes to the courthouse for renewal of drivers' licenses. Following them is a group which filled out applications for car tags."

Mr. Lee stated that Mr. Shearson is in the halls of the courthouse and fills out applications for drivers' licenses for 25 cents and for auto tags for 50 cents. He states that his office has nothing to do with the application. "We only issue the tags upon checking the application and making sure that the state and county tax is paid on it," he said.

Rockwell Company gets keys to new building in special ceremonies here

Purchase of a new 106,000-square-foot factory here by Rockwell Manufacturing Company of Pittsburg, Pa., was announced Monday night at a dinner at Forest Heights Country Club honoring eight Rockwell executives.

Keys to the new plant were presented to W. F. Rockwell Jr., president of the Pennsylvania concern, by Thad Morris, president of the Bulloch County Development Corporation, at the dinner.

The Rockwell group was also honored at a luncheon yesterday in Savannah, sponsored by Citizens and Southern National Bank and attended by business leaders throughout the Savannah area.

The new factory—a one-story aluminum-sheathed steel-and-concrete building—Meter and Valve Division and Delta Power Tool Division—are located at 1405 Northside Drive, N. W., Atlanta, where the company also opened the Southeast's largest gas meter repair center last summer. The center in Atlanta is expected to employ 100 men.

This will be Rockwell's fourth major new plant in the South in four years and will bring to 17 the total number of plant facilities in which Rockwell operates one or more manufacturing facilities.

The southeastern regional headquarters of the company's two major divisions—Meter and Valve Division and Delta Power Tool Division—are located at 1405 Northside Drive, N. W., Atlanta, where the company also opened the Southeast's largest gas meter repair center last summer. The center in Atlanta is expected to employ 100 men.

Designed by Bergen and Bergen, architects of Savannah, and built to General Instrument's own specifications for the manufacture of television and radio parts, the Statesboro plant was sold to Rockwell as a result of changes in General Instrument's manufacturing plans.

The plant is located on a 33-acre plot in Statesboro, the county seat of Bulloch County, about 50 miles northwest of Savannah and 90 miles southeast of Augusta. Population of the town is slightly over 6,000; of the county, about 25,000.

The building includes 80,000 square feet of manufacturing space and 20,000 square feet of office, boiler and equipment area. It is completely air-conditioned and has fluorescent lighting throughout.

In addition to the building itself, Mr. Rockwell said, the company has been an important factor in the purchase decision. Statesboro, he said, has a large labor pool, adequate transportation and other "basic" facilities, and a real interest in industry.

The factory is located close to the Central of Georgia Railroad and on Route 301, the main highway from Florida to the North.

Starting as a manufacturer of gas meters, the company now also produces a large and varied line of other products such as regulators, water meters, petroleum and industrial liquid meters, lubricated plug valves, valve lubricants, Rockwell-Ohmer taximeters, parking meters, oilfield instruments (integrators and orifice meters), Delta power tools for home and industry, fare registers, electric counters and Edward high-pressure, high-temperature valves for steam lines and other industrial use.

The company is the world's largest producer of lubricated plug valves, which were invented by Sven J. Nordstrom, a Californian, in 1915. The Nordstrom valve was installed on a gas service line at San Jose, Calif., in 1920 and is still in use.

Rockwell also manufactures the most complete line of power tools (Delta) for home and industry and is the world's largest manufacturer of taximeters; its

Two schools get flags and poles

Statesboro's two new elementary schools will soon receive a new flag pole to be erected in the center park directly in front of the schools.

The 35-foot telescopic steel pole, to be placed in a double pier base of concrete, has been ordered by the Statesboro Junior Chamber of Commerce, and will be erected by the Jaycees with both the American flag and the State of Georgia flag to fly.

The pole and flags are being given to the Mattie Lively and Sallie Zetterower schools by the local Jaycees with funds made available by the Jaycees through the cooperation of Mr. H. H. Macon Sr., owner and operator of the Georgia, State, and Drive-In Theatres.

I. M. FOY JR. of the Statesboro Junior Chamber of Commerce (left) is shown presenting Delmas Rushing Jr. the bronze plaque for 1955. Next to Mr. Rushing is his wife. To the right are his parents, Mrs. Delmas Rushing Sr. and Mr. Rushing. The presentation was made at the Jaycees' observance of National Jaycee Week at the Country Club on Tuesday night, January 17.

That night at 7 o'clock the city's fire sirens will sound as a reminder that the "March" has begun.

Turn your porch light on or if you live in an apartment, tie a ribbon on your door knob to let these Marching Mothers know that you wish to do your part in this fight. Remember—when the sirens sound, that's the signal to turn yours light on, or identify your apartment door.

Stop accident that cripple children in the home and on the highway," is Georgia's slogan for this year's campaign, when intensive efforts will be made to educate the public on prevention of crippling, as well as to raise funds for direct services to the handicapped.

The Easter Seal Appeal is sponsored annually by the Georgia Society for Crippled Children and Adults as part of a nationwide campaign recently conducted in forty-eight states, the District of Columbia, Alaska, Puerto Rico and Hawaii.

Mr. Deal, a member of the faculty of the Statesboro High School, Mrs. Deal was a special speaker at the association's dinner.

Mrs. Deal, who has been dean of boys at Statesboro High since 1940, holds a BA degree from Mercer University, a Masters degree from the University of Georgia, and a Bachelor of Arts in Journalism from the Henry Grady School of Journalism, University of Georgia. She has studied psychology under the famous Carl Garrison, author of many books on adolescent psychology. While in the school of journalism she wrote a handbook for journalism for secondary schools, which Dr. John E. Drewry, dean of the school, has offered to publish. In making the announcement, J. Barney Anderson, executive vice president, said "Mrs. Deal has been the friend and confidant of hundreds of Bulloch county boys." As he pressed Mrs. Deal an orchid he expressed the pride of the association in making the scholarship possible in her home.

The scholarship in her name came as a complete surprise and its announcement caught her completely speechless. She could only say "I consider a scholarship named for me by First Federal Savings and Loan Association the greatest honor I have ever had conferred upon me."

This scholarship is being added this year to the several others already being given annually by the Statesboro First Federal.

Don Coleman to head seal drive

Mr. Don Coleman of Statesboro will be appointed Bulloch county chairman for the 1955 Easter Seal Appeal, March 10-April 10, to aid Georgia's crippled. The announcement was received here today from district chairman F. Everett Williams of Statesboro.

A Proclamation

WHEREAS, the Georgia Federation of Women's Clubs has constantly worked for better health and education facilities, for national and state legislation beneficial to children and infirm persons, and for numerous others contributing to community betterment;

WHEREAS, the Georgia Federation of Women's Clubs unlimited opportunities for education, fellowship and community service to its members;

THEREFORE, I, W. A. Bowen, mayor of the city of Statesboro, do proclaim January 29 to February 4 as GEORGIA FEDERATION WEEK in recognition of the achievements of this great organization and its 308 local clubs, and to encourage membership of the women of our community in a federated woman's club.

Signed: W. A. BOWEN, Mayor.

Womans Club observes Georgia Federation Week

Mrs. R. S. Bondurant, president of the Statesboro Woman's Club this week announced that the local organization is joining in the state observance of Georgia Federation Week, January 29-February 4. Mayor Bill Bowen has issued a proclamation for the special observance.

As part of the observance the Statesboro club reviews some of the accomplishments of the Georgia Federation of Women's Clubs, in which the local club has participated.

Since the organization in October, 1896, the Georgia Federation has exerted a great influence upon the pattern of life in Georgia. The united effort of its 30,000 club women has made possible many of the benefits vital to the welfare of the people of Georgia.

The Georgia Federation ranks "first" in charting the course of state legislation for the following:

Agriculture extension service, county demonstration agents, compulsory education, free text books, consolidated schools, daily Bible reading in schools, free tuition, establishment of the academy for the blind and the school for the deaf.

THE REV. W. D. JOHNSON TO PREACH AT CALVARY BAPTIST SUNDAY

Announcement was made this week that the Rev. W. D. Johnson, formerly of the Calvary Baptist Church of Statesboro, now a student at Fretwell Parker Junior College, and pastor of Bethel Baptist Church of the Daniel Association and Zion Baptist Church of the Emanuel Association, will be the guest preacher at Calvary Baptist Church Sunday, January 29, at 11:30 morning worship. The public is invited to hear Rev. Johnson.

HODGES—COLSON

Miss Vivian Hodges of Statesboro, daughter of Mr. William Hodges, and Staff Sgt. Harry Colson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Colson of Claxton were married at the home of Mrs. Ruth Hodges Wednesday, January 18.

SENIOR TRI-HI-Y HAS GUEST SPEAKER

The monthly meeting of the Statesboro Senior Tri-Hi-Y was held at Statesboro High School on January 17, 1956. Presiding over the meeting was President Judy Williams.

Mrs. Evelyn Wendzel, club sponsor, introduced Mr. John Tootle, guest speaker for the meeting. Mr. Tootle, from Greenville, is taking his practice teaching in business education at Statesboro High School. Mr. Tootle spoke on "Who is a Loyal American?" He told of his travels abroad and contrasted the customs and standards with ours today. In closing he said that every American today has so much to be thankful for—living conditions, high standards and our wonderful country. We should be loyal to this above all.

ALPHA OMEGA CHAPTER OF BETA SIGMA PHI MET WITH MRS. FORSHOE

A cheerful open fire welcomed the members of Alpha Omega Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi to a meeting Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Horace Forshoe.

Mrs. Seaman Williams, president, opened the business meeting. The membership voted to send a substantial check to the Jolly Home Orphanage near Conyers, Ga., and also to Beta Sigma Phi's state project, which is a home for mentally retarded children, in Brunswick. Entry in the International Publicity contest was also discussed. Work on the project will begin shortly.

PHA AND FFA HAS PROGRAM ON CIVIL DEFENSE

Mrs. Maude Edge, director of the Ground Observer Corps for the Statesboro FFA and FFA chapters. Appearing on the program with Mrs. Edge were Master Sergeant Thomas and Master Sergeant Shellmum of the Savannah branch of the Civil Air Patrol.

Mrs. Edge pointed out the importance and the purposes of the Ground Observer Corps in the defense of our country. She also explained to the group the operation of the Bulloch county Ground Observer Corps and stressed the need for more volunteers in carrying on this program.

M. Sgt. Shellmum and M. Sgt. Thomas used world maps to illustrate the use of radar in the defense of our country, thus emphasizing the importance of the ground observer in the total defense program.

The Rev. Gus Groover performed the ceremony before an improvised altar of white gladioli, plumosa fern and white candles in arched candelabra. The bride wore a pastel blue suit with white hat and gloves. Her bag and shoes were black. She wore white veils. Following the vows, the immediate families and close friends of the bride and groom were entertained at a reception. The bride's table was covered with a lovely tattered cake topped with a miniature bride and groom.

Punch and cake were served. The bride and groom left for a wedding trip to Charleston, S. C., and points of interest in Florida.

The groom reports for Air Corps duty in Texas in February. Mrs. Colson will remain in Statesboro until living quarters are available in Texas.

On Monday evening at 8:30 o'clock the Xi Sigma Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi met at Hodges Party House with Claire Macdonald as hostess. A delicious party plate was served with hot fruit punch.

After the refreshments, a short business meeting was conducted by the president, Claire Macdonald. She announced that a joint executive board meeting would be held Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 at the home of the Alpha Omega president, Peggy Williams.

At the close of the business meeting, Shirley McCullough presented an interesting program on the life and plays of Clifford Odets and his play "Awake and Sing."

her daughter, Claire, who is now five years old. A color scheme of red and white was carried out in the decorations and refreshments.

The birthday cake was mentored with a big red "3" and the small cakes were iced in white with a small red "3" on them. The ice cream was the most exciting news of the afternoon. It was a tall red boot with a fluffy kitten head emerging from the boot. "Puss in Boots" pop corn was handed out in little cellophane bags.

Among the lovely gifts Claire received was a record player from her parents, and according to her mother, she hasn't turned it off yet.

Her guests were Charlie and Harry Mathews, Edwin Hill, Jane Hook, Sally and Susan Coleman, Kathy Morris, Clay and Mary Olliff, Julian and Bill Lane, Wanda Watson, Dick Curry, Jimmy Aldred, Jim Wynn, Hugh Marsh, Lynn Trappell, Woodie Jones and John Lynn Godbee.

The Register Home Demonstration Club met January 13 at the home of Mrs. C. C. Anderson with Mrs. M. C. meeks and Mrs. W. E. Brunson as co-hostesses. Mrs. W. R. Anderson led the opening hymn "America."

New officers for the year were installed as follows: Mrs. L. J. Holloway, president; Mrs. Hilton Banks, secretary; Mrs. John Atkins, treasurer; and Mrs. Sewell Kemmore was re-elected as reporter.

Mrs. Sara Thigpen demonstrated to the women present ways to repair electric fixtures in the home.

Orders were given for straw to be used in making baskets, ranging from the small sewing baskets, flower baskets or long baskets for garden planters.

Delicious refreshments were served during the social hour. Thirty members were present.

As a member of the Georgia Federation of Women's Clubs, we are celebrating Georgia publicized Tallulah Falls School which is owned and operated by the Georgia Federation is only one of the many worthwhile state projects in which our local club takes part. Our club is also a member of the General Federation of Women's Clubs which is composed of women throughout our country and many foreign countries. The General Federation is recognized as being the largest and most powerful woman's organization in the world.

But the accomplishments of a club could set down in type cannot possibly capture the essence of clubwork or why we believe it important. It is in its more subtle aspects, the quiet reading of the club collect at the beginning of each meeting, the unabashed fonder of a little child when he sees Santa Claus at the Christmas party, the hearty applause given a deserving speaker that has nurtured the club spirit of which we are so proud.

Future columns will deal with the different phases of our club work in more detail. Guided by our motto, "Let Your Light Shine," we intend for you to know about our club. And in knowing about us we hope you will come to share our pride in what we believe is a most worthwhile Junior Woman's Club.

Tune in W. W. N. S. Tuesday, Jan. 31, from 2:30 to 3:30 p.m. for a special Georgia Federation Week Program.

Nevils Home Demonstration Club installs new officers for 1956

By MRS. JIM ROWE

The Nevils Home Demonstration Club met on Friday afternoon, January 20, at the home of Mrs. Jack A. Brannen, with Mrs. J. O. Alford and Mrs. Ruel Clifton as co-hostesses.

Mrs. Thielen, our new agent, introduced her assistant, Mrs. Gary from Brooklet, and Mrs. Byrd from Metter, who were visiting with them.

The president, Mrs. Ruel Williams, presided over the meeting. Mrs. Ruel Clifton had charge of the devotional. Minutes were read and the treasurer's report was given. The club voted to send $5 to the March of Dimes.

We were very happy to have four new members join with us. They are Mrs. Robert Cox, Mrs. Clois Martin, Mrs. Otis Clifton and Mrs. James Lee Wells.

Officers and project chairmen were installed. The officers being: Mrs. Ruel Williams, president; Mrs. George W. Fuller, vice president; Mrs. J. W. Sanders, secretary; Mrs. John A. Gee, treasurer; and Mrs. Rufus G. Brannen, reporter.

Basket weaving will be our demonstration for February so orders were given for articles to be made.

We will meet at the Nevils lunch room one hour earlier for this meeting. Our agents showed a film on wiring and cure of electrical equipment.

Brooklet News

Miss Gloria Helen McElveen and Dr. Ralph Grier wed at Brooklet

By Mrs. John A. Robertson

Miss Gloria Helen McElveen and Dr. Ralph Grier, of Atlanta, were married in a double-ring ceremony last Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock, at the Brooklet Primitive Baptist Church. The Rev. Ebenezer E. Kennedy, of Due West, S. C., officiated. The bride was decorated with ferns, white chrysanthemums and white ribbons. Four seven-branched candelabra flanked the flower arrangements. Family pews were shaded by large bows of white satin ribbon.

Mrs. W. D. Lee was pianist, and Mrs. Jack Kell, soloist of Brooklet, sang "Rock of Ages." The bride wore a white tulle gown, with a white veil. The groom wore a white tulle suit, with a white bow tie. The ceremony was held at 3 o'clock, at the Brooklet Primitive Baptist Church. The Rev. Ebenezer E. Kennedy, of Due West, S. C., officiated. What other Georgia business can claim 240,000 stockholders or member-owners, than the state's Rural Electric Cooperatives in our state.

Just 41 separate businesses, owned by 240,000 Georgia member-consumers from Rabun Gap to the Florida line, Alabama to the Atlantic Coast.

These Georgia folks got into business in a beginning typical of most American businesses. There was a great need to supply the rural areas of the state with electricity. Nobody else wanted to do it. They said there was "no profit."

So Georgians formed their cooperatives, borrowed the money from the REA, and over the years have paid it back with interest for about schedule. The REA hasn't lost a dime to Georgia's 41 Rural Electric Cooperatives. They are run on a sound business basis, paying their debts and giving their stockholders dividend returns in the form of lower cost electricity.

This is real democracy in action at the grass-roots level. A total of 240,000 Georgians banded together in 41 Rural Electric Cooperatives to provide themselves with low-cost electricity.
