SOCIALS Mrs. Ernest Brannen Society Editor Dial 4-2382 PERSONALS

RICHARDSON-BENNETT FAMILY REUNION
The children of the late John and Annie Beasley Bennett and the descendants of Jonas and Ophelia Knight Richardson, met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Bennett at Stilson for a family reunion on July 4.
Mr. and Mrs. Bennett occupy the residence of the late Mr. and Mrs. Jonas Richardson.
A bountiful basket dinner was spread in the shade of the sycamore trees.
There were 75 present.

GROUP OF GIRLS SPEND WEEK AT TYBEE
Lank, Doty Howard, Patricia Redding, Sylvia Zetterwey and Ann Cason. They stayed at the Wheeler apartments, Chaperoning them the first of the week was Mrs. Bartow Lamb who took her daughter, Martha, with her. Mrs. J. P. Redding and her son, Jimmy and Clyde, were with the girls for the last of the week.
They had a wonderful time and ate heartily of Turkey, shrimp, crolets, roast, spaghetti, hamburgers and wieners. For sports, boating and swimming. Home again, happy and sun tanned.

AS YOU LIKE IT BRIDGE CLUB
On Friday afternoon, Mrs. Chalmers Franklin entertained her bridge club at Hodges party house. A variety of summer flowers were used in the decorations.

Miss Gammage and Mrs. Johnson make report on B & PW convention

The 13th biennial convention of the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs, held at Miami Beach, Florida, beginning Wednesday, June 27, 1956, came to a close Friday, July 6, 1956.
Only the highlights of time-consuming reports by officers and chairmen of the National Federation were given in the business sessions on Monday, July 2, the reports themselves being printed in the current issue of the federation's mouthpiece, "The Independent Woman."

For her outstanding administration, Miss Marguerite Rawalt, Washington, D. C., received a rising vote of thanks from the delegates, led by her own Washington, D. C. group. During her presidency the federation moved from New York to Washington and in two years reached a three-year goal, a fund for federation headquarters. This sum, having reached a total of $331,583.47, instead of the $325,000 re-quested.

The Federation's prestige has been increased by locating in Washington, the national president said, and is profiting by being nearer to Congress, the State Department, to the press, and to the Women's Bureau.
Although scores of permanent officers have been inspected for the headquarters building, the final selection has not been reached.
Miss Rawalt wore a white suit and a bird of paradise corsage that blended with the tropical stage arrangements. Above her head was the BPW convention banner with the slogan "Aim High—New Levels of Leadership." Biennial in the Tropics.

National officers were seated across the back of the platform behind the green-lattice table. Accent on a tremendous membership increase and upon a successful experiment in programming were made, and many references given to the parenthood of the federation in the incorporation of the new research center of the Business and Professional Women's Foundation.

The foundation will be tax free and all who contribute to it will be able to deduct their contributions from their income tax. A letter on the tax rulings was read.
The foundation was incorporated on February 26, 1956. The third of three forums for the Woman Who Works, conducted during Miss Rawalt's administration, took place Tuesday night, July 3. The Honorable Sinclair Weeks, U. S. Secretary of Commerce, addressed the delegation. In his address, secretary Weeks said that "more than 27,000,000 women last year had jobs at one time or another, and that 'this covers 46 per cent of the entire female population 14 years and older. He said that the number of working wives increased to a new peak of 17,000,000 in 1955; that some 38 per cent of all government employees, at all levels, are women, and that about one million of these are public school teachers. Secretary Weeks said further that "the Eisenhower Administration has faith in America, and believes that the best days of our lives are ahead in education, in health, in safety, and business expansion."

He shared the platform with Clem D. Johnson, of Roanoke, Virginia, chairman of the board, U. S. Chamber of Commerce, who advised women to "become more active as citizens" so that America can continue to remain free. Taking part in civic affairs can help in "fostering enterprising spirits and not breaking them," he concluded.
Presented during the forum for the woman who works, following the address by U. S. Secretary of Commerce, Sinclair Weeks, was Mrs. Helen Valentine, editor-in-chief of Charm Magazine. In a mythical coat-of-arms which she designed for the working woman, Mrs. Valentine placed a small dollar sign in one corner of the imaginary escutcheon, added a ballot (to be used intelligently), included a book for expending horizons, a stove for the home and family, a pretty hat symbolic of fashion sense, and a heart, the most important, second of all. These completed the picture of "just what is a working woman."

Sharing forum honors was Mrs. Charlotte Adams, housekeeping editor of Charm, Mrs. Adams, who is heard on "Weekday" radio program, is the author of "Housekeeping After Office Hours." She gave the audience an effective recipe for achieving a happy blend of job and home life through building a basic philosophy tailored to individual needs and wants, the organization of time, and as much fun as possible.

Dr. Sylvia Sorokin, business consulting and lecturer from St. Louis, was one of the round-table speakers at the convention. She now works with industry all over the United States in the field of counseling, training and human relations. She is a member of Secretary of Defense Charles E. Wilson's Defense Advisory Committee on Women in the Services.

Dr. Sorokin does not believe that automation nerves are necessary, if one has the right attitudes. It's a matter of living with one's self in this age, she asserted. Too many people think of getting ahead of the other fellow, when it's more important to get ahead of one's self.

Dr. Evangeline H. Fahy, public affairs chairman of Chicago, said in an interview with the press, that she thinks women should take a balanced interest in both social and economic problems in their communities.
The international flavor abounded at the 13th biennial convention of the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs. International guests from England and West Germany enjoyed the convention, prior to their journey to Canada and the international BPW convention there. Some of these guests were Miss Gwenn Steppney, Horrogate, England; Dr. Gisela Graeff, national president of the six-year-old West Germany federation; from Mannheim; and Miss Marjorie Faulkner of West Byfleet, Surrey, immediate past president of the British BPW. Other international visitors were from South Africa, France, Switzerland, South Rhodesia and Belgium, as well as South America and Cuba.

There was a gay side to the biennial convention, during which time was taken out for friends and supporters for candidates for office in the federation to get behind them. There was a federation-arranged reception for all candidates, but other parties took place late at night and early in the morning. Many states held open house. Many delegates wore costumes or symbols with the state insignia or a candidate's slogan. "Dots for Dotie," said the ones from Las Vegas, wearing white and black polka dots, and intriguing silver dollar badges, collectors' items, since no silver has been mined in Nevada for the past 50 years.

Yellow blouses accompanied blue skirts on South Carolinians whose state symbol, the palmetto tree, was deftly made in miniature, and worn with a tiny state flag and the Stars and Stripes.
Arizona delegates wore a badge of copper, one of the four C's that include "Climate, Cacti and Cattle."

The Georgia delegates wore a small hand-painted replica of the state, with its beautiful pine trees.
"The Achievement Jubilee" of the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs, found the national president, Miss Marguerite Rawalt, in the role of the "Master of the Race," wearing tall top hat and vying for the spotlight for the woman who works, with three red-coated lackeys, Clara Longstreth, Washington, D. C., Hazel Anderson, Lawrence Kansas, and Dr. Libby E. Zacher, New Jersey.

Members of the executive board played the part of racing fans.
Winners of the race, which actually was a two-year collection of $331,583.42 in funds for the widely heralded BPW headquarters in Washington, were announced as follows: first race winner, New Jersey, with 150 per cent over the goal; District U. S. Chamber of Commerce, with 129 per cent; Hawaii, third, with 127 per cent. There were three honorable mentions. Pennsylvania was first with the largest contribution of dollars, $24,469; suasive oratory against the evils of one kind of "independent" voting. Fellowship gloved as friends met from many states across the nation. Celebrities were spotted, and a grateful president thanked the hostesses of Florida for its two years of labor in preparing for the federation's largest convention. The program contest winners were announced as follows: first prize, $300, Norfolk, Virginia; second, $250, Rosboro, North Carolina; third, $200, Cumberland, Maryland, and fourth, $150, Toledo, Ohio. There were three honorable mentions—Decatur, Georgia, Grand Islands, Nebraska, and Two Rivers, Wisconsin. "The last word" was given by John Henry Faulk, surprise commentator from New York.

Miss Sadie Maud Moore, home from the mission field on Loughrugh, and her sister, Mrs. Howard Dadsman, and daughter, Anne, of Jefferson, Ga., spent the weekend with their family at the home of Mrs. Moore.

New officers of the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs elected and installed are: Miss Hazel Palmetto, Sedalia, Missouri, president; Grace B. Daniels, Kingsport, Pa., first vice president; Fannie Hardy, Little Rock, Ark., second vice president; Ruth C. Cullin, Bremerton, Washington, third vice president; Hattie M. Steinberg, York, Neb., recording secretary; Miss Dorothy D. Brinacomb, Las Vegas, Nev., treasurer, and Mrs. Ivy Grace, Los Angeles, Calif., national nominating chairman.

Representing the Statesboro club at the biennial convention were Miss Zula Gammage, delegate, and Mrs. Minnie Lee Johnson, alternate.

Mr. and Mrs. Brannen stood with Jane for her shining hour, and four of her former schoolmates were introduced to Jane's friends. These were Mary Grubbs, her roommate at Stratton Hall; Brenda Taylor, Brenda Brooks and Jean Friend, all of Chatham, Va., and Catherine Martin of Savannah, a former classmate when Jane was a student at Westminster, Atlanta.

Overhead a blue starlit sky was achieved with misty blue net studded with stars. Prof. Jack Broucke's orchestra featuring five young musicians occupied a section outlined by candy-striped rope under a red and white striped awning. At the opposite end of the club room the expansive picture window was transformed into Rocks and crags and in the distance, the illusion of towering buildings and skyscrapers were made visible by a paper moon. On the terrace black wrought iron tables and chairs were used. The granite mantle and yawning fireplace was concealed by greenery and pine boughs, flanked by potted palms. Directly in front of the fireplace a wheelbarrow, a silver one, was filled with bright blooming geraniums.

The refreshment table, on the terrace overlaid with a white linen cover, was centered with a pink tiered birthday cake in a surprisingly realistic look of a tall building, a penthouse serenade. On the top tier, the numerals "16" were made of cake embossed in white. Flanking this centerpiece were silver candelabra holding pink tapers. Cookies in silver trays and salted nuts in silver bowls were served from the table. Near the ends of the table were smaller punch tables where pink punch was served from old American giant-sized punch bowls by Fay Bennett Brannen, Linda Cason, and Sandy Williams.

Jane's escort was Davie Franklin. Her party dress was of

le pink lace for the long torso top, from which misty tulle flounces over net were neatly bouffant. Jane wore long white gloves, pearl fastened and spiral earrings in pale pink, delicately wrought to match her dress.

Bee Carroll was master of ceremonies.
Among special dancers was the traditional sweetheart dance. There were 150 guests present.

RIDGWAY-HAGAN
Miss Phyllis Ann Ridgway and Roger Dean Hagan were married June 16 in a double-ring ceremony performed by the Rev. Howard Thrift at the First Baptist Church in Arkansas Pass, Texas.
Miss Janelle Jones, daughter of Mrs. and Mr. W. Skinner, was the bride, and Mrs. Shirley McCallard, pink, blue and white bachelorette with pink, blue and white bags and gifts, was the bridesmaid.

Sports and the Recreation Center now in full swing

By GILBERT CONE JR.

Wednesday, July 4, started off the sports program at the Recreation Center in full strength. Various activities took place on Wednesday including the horse show tournament, won by Junior Pyle, a tennis tournament, won by Bee Carroll; and a ping pong tournament, won by Robert Summers.

At 5 o'clock that afternoon a watermelon cutting took place and the day was climaxed at 7 o'clock with a Little League All-Star game. The league was divided up into two teams, the blue and white all-stars. The blue team, led by the pitching of Owen Zetterow, won by a score of 12 to 3.

Thursday night, July 5, at 8 o'clock the Men's Softball League saw its first game of the new schedule played to a close finish between the Robbins Packers and Lovett's Super Stars. The game was a close one, with the Robbins Packers winning by a score of 10 to 7.

The Junior All-Stars got off to a good start in their first real out-of-town competition Thursday to win over the Savannah All-Stars by a score of 15-0. Harvey Berry went all the way for Statesboro and gave up only two hits during the entire game.

There was also the "Man With the Big Stick" at Statesboro, having a batting average of 1000, with a triple, double, and two singles. The losing pitcher for Savannah was Black.

Statesboro's Little League All-Stars left from the Recreation Center Saturday afternoon at 1 o'clock to go to Savannah for the school week.

The dinner was well attended and accomplished its twin goals of fellowship and finance. Those members who were unable to attend the supper will be contacted and given an opportunity to share in this tremendous undertaking.

Appreciation was expressed to the organization and all who participated. It is expected that the Loyalty Dinner will now become an annual affair.

THE REV. CHARLES ROSS TO PREACH AT LOCAL CHRISTIAN CHURCH SUN.
The Rev. Charles R. Ross of Macon, state secretary of the Christian Churches of Georgia, will be the guest speaker Sunday morning, July 15, at the local Christian Church, Services are held in the old gymnasium at the Georgia Teacher College.

Sleep in peace dear darling. May the angels guide the way. By the grace of God we'll meet again at that resurrection day. Sadly Missed, Wife, Son and Family.

Still Accepting Job Applications

Georgia Is Growing!
As you ride about Georgia this summer you should notice a vast economic growth in our state. For during recent years Georgians have made great strides in development.

One significant fact in that growth has been the abundance of the electric power we have to offer service to the people. Industries moving into Georgia have complimented us for having a plentiful supply of low-cost power plus a large potential for the future.

During the past 21 years, the 41 Rural Electric Cooperatives have been in the forefront of the development of our state. Nowhere has the growth been greater than in the rural areas, where farms and farm homes are adding all the conveniences and advantages of city living because they now have low-cost electricity.

It's easy to see what co-op electricity has done for Georgia. We can remember back to the days of farm drudgery and back-breaking labor. Today, farming is efficient and business-like, with labor-saving electric power on hand to do the best economical job.

Georgia is moving ahead. And the 41 Georgia Rural Electric Cooperatives are proud to be leaders in this parade of progress, bringing low-cost electricity to all the people.

MEMBERS OF THE FAMILY
In loving memory of dear husband and father, Mr. James Dennis Boatright, who passed away three years ago today, July 8, 1953.

The month of July again is here, the saddest month of all the year. For it was on the 8th day, our dear beloved one passed away. A happy home once enjoyed, how sweet the memory still. But death has left a loneliness, that never can be filled. Few have seen us weep. Tears are shed from our aching hearts, while we others are asleep. Days and nights our hearts wander to a grave not far away, where they laid our darling one, just three years ago today. It was sad to part with you dear, it made us weep and cry. But oh, the saddest part of all we were to late to say goodbye. The angels came from heaven to take you by the hand. We loved you too oh so dearly. But, God, we understand. Oh how hard we tried to save you. Tears and prayers were all in vain. Happy angels came and took you form this world of sin and pain. Our hearts still ache with sadness, our eyes still fill with tears. Only God knows how much we miss you at the end of three long years.

Cooking School set

Miss Evelyn Hagler, Augusta division home service supervisor of the Georgia Power Company, will conduct a cooking school here on Thursday, July 12, under the sponsorship of the Bulloch County Home Demonstration Council. Plans for the school were announced today by Mrs. J. E. Rowland Jr., president.

Miss Hagler will be assisted by Mrs. Charlotte Anderson, power company district home economist, and H. D. Everett, company salesman.

The school will be held at the Statesboro Recreation Center and will begin at 2:30 p. m. The public is cordially invited—admission is free.

The Home Demonstration Council is presenting this cooking school as a public service to the people of Bulloch county.

Miss Hagler is a graduate of Furman University, Greenville, South Carolina, with a bachelor of science degree in home economics. Prior to joining the power company, Miss Hagler did extensive work in the public welfare field. She has had wide experience in both teaching and directing dietetics and home management courses.

READ THIS ABOUT ATHLETE'S FOOT
The writer of this ad had athlete's foot several years ago. Was miserable with the pain of burning and swelling. One bottle of T-4-L. Solution cleared it up. Now I keep it on hand to use only when my toes begin to itch. Have never had the disease again. I can't promise that you who have athlete's foot will get my results but there is a mighty fine chance. In fact, the makers of T-4-L. have built a nice business on that chance. Their records show that repeat sales are far in the majority. T-4-L. is especially made for, and is advertised only for athlete's foot, even tho' it is good for slant itches. Just give it a try. Your 40c back at any drug store if not completely pleased. ## Mrs. Comer Bird is hostess at Stubbs-Willett rehearsal party

By MRS. EDNA BRANNEN

Mrs. Comer Bird was hostess at the Stubbs-Willett rehearsal party at her home on Saturday evening of last week.

Mrs. H. C. Stubbs and Mrs. Bird greeted the guests as they arrived.

The living room was decorated with pink glads and fern with a beautiful mantle arrangement. The dining room had an arrangement of pink dahlias. The table was overlaid with a homemade crocheted cloth. A crystal bowl held a large arrangement of roses. At each end of the table was a crystal compote of mints.

The hostess served buffet style which included a large silver tray of baked ham, garnished with crab apples, casseroles of asparagus, potato, and silver and crystal tray of eggs, a silver and crystal tray of olives, hot rolls and iced tea. For dessert ice cream and in-

PBVF AT BIRDWOOD COLLEGE FOR YOUTH CAMP

Approximately 100 young people with 10 counselors were at Birdwood College, Thomasville, Georgia, last week for the first week of youth camp and educational activities related to the church. This is the tenth summer that the Primitive Baptist Youth Fellowship has had camps of this nature, and the sixth summer that the camps have been at Birdwood College.

Representatives from 10 churches of Georgia and Florida were present last week. The conferences are held for five weeks; each church choosing the week that their members prefer to attend. At least 100 young people will be here each week through the first week in August.

Those churches from which the delegates this week have come are Ramoth Church, Barnesville; Brooklet, Claxton, Jesup, Macon, Moultrie, Savannah, Waycross, Fort Lauderdale, Florida, and Plant City, Florida. The counselors who accompanied the young people are Mrs. Felix Parrish and Miss C. McCormick, Brooklet; Mrs. C. C. DeLoach, Claxton; Mrs. Louis Langley, Jesup; Mrs. Evelyn Brown and Mrs. Hackbarth, Macon; Mrs. Reba Edwards and Mrs. Bennie Kirkland, Plant City; Mrs. Anna Bell Carter and Mrs. Virginia Brantley, Savannah; Miss Nancy Patten, Fort Lauderdale, Florida, who is a music at Florida University, Gainesville, Florida, with major in music, is the youth director. Elder W. T. Cook of Savannah and Elder J. Roland Waters, Plant City, are teaching classes in the study of the Bible. Other classes offered are geography of the ancient world; church history from ancient times through the reformation. Sight singing is studied the first period in the morning with junior and senior groups together while a division according to age is made for other classes. A new course which is quite popular is one in officers training for PBVF officers.

Others assisting with the teaching are Mrs. Evelyn Brown, Mrs. Ethel Hackbarth, Mrs. Louis Langley, Mrs. C. C. DeLoach, Mrs. Bennie Kirkland, and Miss Nancy Patten.

Classes come in the morning but afterwards are given over to directed recreation, which includes softball, ping pong, badminton, volleyball, and horse shoes. Swimming is enjoyed for one period each afternoon at Bob's pool.

Evenings are devoted to more creative work, including original stunts and group games. Officers elected by the group for this week are the following: Marjorie Claxton, president; Julia Anderson, Savannah, first vice president; Sandy Kirkland, Plant City, second vice president; Lee Otis Butler, Barnes-

PITTMAN FAMILY SOCIETY TO MEET IN MADISON COUNTY

The Pittman Family Society, which was organized in 1927, will hold its annual reunion at Gordon's Chapel, Methodist Church in Madison county on July 15, 1956 at 11 o'clock in the morning.

The society is composed of the descendants of John Pittman who came to Georgia from Virginia prior to 1770; he was a notary public in the colonial government in 1770 and he served with the South Carolina troops in the Revolutionary War.

All branches of the family are urged to attend and bring a basket lunch.

The record of the Pittman family has now been completed to cover the first four generations.

Mrs. Lona McRae Elrod of Rt. 1, Athens, Ga., is secretary of the Pittman Family Society.

Research at the Coastal Plain Experiment Station shows that increases of approximately 300 pounds of nuts and 1,000 pounds of hay on Spanish, Runner and Virginia type peanuts can be obtained by controlling leafspot diseases.

Mr. Grover is completing a nice pond on his farm for water conservation, livestock, and fish. He is also planning on good pasture development, timber improvement by thinning, fire protection, harvesting and deadening undesirable hardwoods, terracing, and good crop rotations to suit the various classes of land.

Mr. Martin, with his good class I and II soils, needs only minor soil and water conservation measures to keep his soil "at home." He is going to terrace and contour cultivate the more sloping land while building up the productivity of all his soil with crop rotations and legumes for cover crops. He is doing a good job of pasture development by planting the right pasture grass on the soil it is best suited. On the better upland soils he is putting coastal bermuda, while the less ideal bahia grass is going on the lowland.

Mr. Proctor, on the Oliver Road, is working very diligently on a terracing system to save his fine Class I and II soils. He is doing an outstanding job on his waterways with sericea and bahia grass, but he decided it best to put his class III land into permanent pastures rather than try to hold terraces on this very sloping and more eroded land. Crop rotations with plenty of summer and winter legumes is also planned to build up the land.

Enrichment up, PELLAGRA DOWN. In 1929, according to John Noland, Extension corn meal enrichment specialist at the College of Agriculture, there were 871 deaths in Georgia from Pellagra. In 1954, however, there were only 25 deaths from this cause. Noland believes enrichment of corn meal has been a big factor in the change.

Fifty gallons a day! That's a lot of water, but according to Extension Dairyman Frank Fitch, it's not unusual for a high producing milk cow to drink that much a day in hot weather.

Tested and proved on thousands of acres of cotton land, Aldrin-DDT controls boll weevils, bollworms, thrips, fleahoppers, cutworms, lygus bugs, plant bugs and other major cotton pests.

Fast acting. Aldrin-DDT kills cotton pests fast—hours after application you will see dead insects. If it rains the next day, no matter—the kill is made.

Economical. Aldrin-DDT is highly effective in low dosages. The cost of application is repaid many times in increased yields.

Easy to apply. Use Aldrin-DDT as a spray or dust—either way you apply it, you can be sure of effective, fast-acting control.

Aldrin-DDT is available under well-known brand names from your insecticide dealer. He will be glad to give you the latest information on the application best suited for this area. See him today!

THE BULLOCH HERALD

OUR SOIL ★ OUR STRENGTH

By E. T. "RED" MULLIS
Soil Conservation Service

Complete soil and water conservation plans have recently been prepared for the farms of S. H. Groover east of Statesboro, L. F. Martin on the Pembroke highway, and Frank Proctor out Ogeechee way. These farmers have become co-operators with the Ogeechee River Soil Conservation District in conserving their valuable resources—soil, water, wildlife, timber, etc. The Soil Conservation Service renders these co-operators technical assistance in planning and applying the necessary soil and water conservation measures on the land to prevent erosion and build up the productivity of their land.
