

Blue Devil Sportscope

BY MIKE McDUGGALL

Kid's Day—April Fool's Day—at the home of the Blue Devils took the spotlight this week away from the Boys in Blue out on the scrimmage field.

To say that Kid's Day went over with a BANG is putting it mildly. Cap pistols, rubber guns, slingshots, all ailments of youngsters were very much in evidence. Wister Upchurch "killed" an army or two, Waldo Floyd "stretch" his skills to include a battalion or two.

The seniors invited the first Graders over to see them—sort of a "see you as others see you" affair. They went down front in the auditorium during the Kid's Day.

But before he would give her prize, a bag of candy, he made her promise to give him half. You know how he is with the girls (Aside to the Boss: "What's that, Boss?") Aside to Mike: "You better come 'round to see me after school this afternoon we got a little business to talk over." So then he picked Waldo Floyd as winner for the best boy's costume. He also made Waldo promise to cut him in on his candy prize.

With the prizes all out of the way and his classes cleaned up, Professor Daugherty decided to let his school youngsters off for the day so they all took off for Lake View where they had a picnic.

On last Tuesday a group of Junior and Senior students in the Register high school visited in Savannah on a sight-seeing tour.

The group of students were guests at Richmond Hill, Henry Ford's plantation. The students at Richmond Hill served as guides with the Register students.

After a picnic lunch the group was guided through the Union Bag and Paper Company and the Savannah Sugar Refinery. Later in the afternoon they drove down Victory Drive and through Bonaventure cemetery.

The group was chaperoned by Miss Margaret Strickland and Mr. O. E. Gay. In addition to the following 10th and 11th grades several other mothers and invited people went along.

TO ENTER DISTRICT MEET

Miss Margaret Strickland and Miss Betty Donaldson, both who are members of the tenth grade at the high school, will represent their school in the District meet at College next week.

Miss White will enter the Reading contest. She entered in the same event last year and was a winner. Miss Donaldson will enter the typing contest. This is her first year in commercial work.

We Need That Band

Those of you who saw the Statesboro High School Band parading on Saturday afternoon for the Army and Navy Day observation must have felt a tingling up and down your spine.

We all love a parade. The Army, the Navy, the Marine Corps and Coast Guard all capitalize on that love for martial music and the splendor that goes with a well-dressed and snappy band. War Bonds and Victory Bond Drives found bands to be a handy sales building force. Leaders in Armed Forces know that a band is its biggest morale supporter, and bands were attached to many outfits, including some of the fighting outfits in the European and Pacific Theaters.

For years we have had a band here in Statesboro. It has always been a good band, despite the handicaps it has had to overcome. There were never enough instruments; the kids had always to furnish part of their uniforms; there was inadequate practice rooms; the little storage space for the larger instruments. Yet year after year the band has marched the streets of Statesboro and made an excellent appearance. It paraded and performed with distinction in a big

Now comes the time when the band wants to step out and do Statesboro proud. To do so they need new uniforms, new instruments, new music, facilities where they may practice and rehearse unmolested by other school activities. The band Mother Club—mothers of the kids who play in the band—are also wanting these things for the band and are asking the citizens of Statesboro for $5,000 with which to outfit our band as it deserves.

Statesboro deserves the best in its band. It is made up of our young people and they deserve the best. It is one of the biggest assets Statesboro possesses. Let's the band has marched the streets of Statesboro and made an excellent appearance. It paraded and performed with distinction in a big

Chamber of Commerce Goes To Bat

The Statesboro Chamber of Commerce went to bat last week for the young people of Statesboro. Let's hope they do not strike out.

For years the City of Statesboro has claimed itself unable to provide its youth with recreational facilities.

Various attempts have been made to promote a swimming pool but with little success.

During the war the Chamber of Commerce appointed a committee with Lannie F. Simmons, as chairman, the committee went out and asked the citizens of Statesboro for a long time. Burford Knight has offered an amount of $7,500. But construction was impossible because of the unavailability of materials, so the committee banked the funds and waited for the war

Statesboro To Get A Country Club

Last week we asked the rhetorical question—"Are you interested in a country club?"

This week we get the answer. Interest is running high over the prospect of a country club for Statesboro.

A group of young men put out feelers during last week and already a large number have paid in the initial fee to become charter members.

We have seen the site for the proposed country club and it is a natural. It is exactly suited for a golf course. There is already a nucleus for a mill pond for boating and fishing; two springs that could become lakes; rolling hills, pine groves . . .

There are sites for picnic grounds, outdoor ovens and barbecue pits.

Winding roads that might become bridal paths.

Oak ridges that provide protection for quail.

It has everything and here's hoping that nothing stops the group who are organizing the "Country Club" from completing their plans and the realization of their vision.

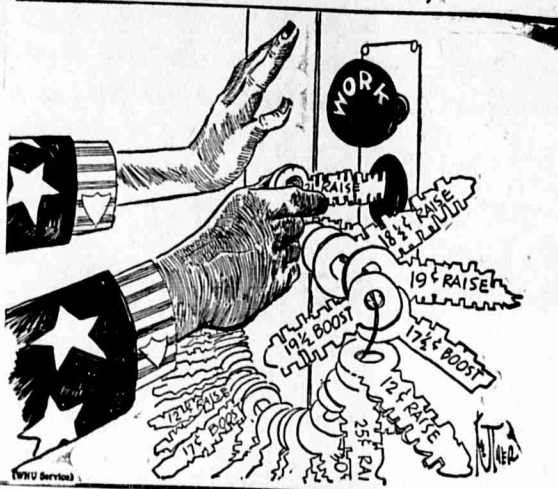

It will be an asset to Statesboro and will fill a need for the citizens who become a part of it.

When we come to the traffic light, be sure it says "Go" before we cross the street. When we notice the policeman's signal to stop, before we cross the street. When we start to cross a side street, be sure we look both ways before crossing.

These are some of the regulations we must observe if we want to live in the city of Statesboro. It takes the reader wonder if that citizen is full alive a safety-first rule, remind them to do better next time.

Used. But we finally figured out

... But Don't Blame Us If the Almanac Is Wrong!

The Parents-Teachers Association of the Statesboro High and Industrial School became alarmed. And so an investigation was made.

And when all the facts were in and conclusions were drawn, some thing was done.

And that is how the negro youth of Statesboro came to have the "Teen-Age Canteen."

Back in August, 1944, J. Griffin Green, a young negro man, handicapped by the loss of one hand, was principal of the Statesboro high school, a graduate of Knoxville, Tenn. College, he came to Statesboro after he had completed his work at Atlanta University and his masters degree in education. But before he had done his thesis for his degree.

When the negro school P.T.A. became alarmed he began work on his thesis and launched his investigation for material. His searching led him into the problems of juvenile delinquency among the youth of his own race. He talked with young negroes in and out of school—teenagers—and found they gave as the reasons for delinquency a lack of adequate wholesome recreation facilities and opportunities and the non-enforcement of laws on the part of adults.

Going to the 1940 census he found that of the 26,010 people in Bulloch county, 9,841 are negroes. Breaking his figures down into the teen-age groups he found that in 1940 there were 1,965 negro youth between the ages of 7 and 13 in Bulloch county. Of this number, 1,363 or 69.4 per cent were attending school.

These figures show that beginning with the ages of 14 and 15 there is a sharp decrease in the number and per cent of the negro youth attending school. Thus he came up against the sharp decrease of young negroes between the ages of 18 and 20.

At the time Green was making his investigation and at the time schools and its agencies had no provisions for recreation. Its buildings were closed at the end of the school day.

There are no places in Statesboro for the young negro to give to his surplus energy. The two theaters here allow negroes in the balconies. There is a city ordinance which prevents negroes dancing anywhere except in the schools and the church people frown on that.

And so the larger negro boys of the community gather in the afternoons and evenings on a street known as "Blue Front," where they meet the boys who work in Statesboro and the older men who work in Savannah. Their entertainment includes drinking beer, and general "messing round."

And the P.T.A. viewed with alarm. And in their concern the "Teen-Age Canteen" was conceived. $3,000 was raised by the negro youth of Statesboro.

Under the direction of young men, the cool cellar of the negro youth of Statesboro was cleaned. "It was a mess," said Green. "It took a month to get it in shape to even know if it could be used. But we finally figured out

The Preacher Says

By Rev. T. Earl Serson

We have been reading Virgil Aiken's column of last week in which our brother discussed law and we were delighted at his line of thought on this question. "It brought to our mind this question—'Is there a law a law?'"

First of all, if we have laws on the statute books of our state which say that certain things are legal and certain other things are illegal, it seems to me that we ought to obey the law. There was a time when we had a prohibition law which said it was illegal to sell intoxicating liquors as a beverage. This law was the best piece of social legislation that the world has ever seen. It was not popular; it was broken by those whose appetites for alcohol overruled their sense of obedience to law. And then there was the other group whose sense of obedience to the laws of the land was overruled by their lust for money or political power, who upon promise to the nation that we could drink ourselves into sobriety and social justice to take care of every social reform and provide for many needed improvements in our nation, such as schools, hospitals, etc. We all know now the fallacy of such reasoning. We can see that a deliberate breaking of the law presaged a break down of the moral fiber of the nation. Nor can it be argued that because a law is not popular that it should not be on the statute books.

When we were in the army chaplains were instructed that when we saw gambling, high venereal rate, sloppiness of dress, drunkenness, great numbers going AWOL, and poor discipline that we were in that outfit was exceedingly low.

We are having presented to us in our national life a picture of a matter of gambling, we are first should have people in the law enforcement, we are still wondering how force it.

SHUMAN—TRAPPEN

The first Baptist Church was the scene of the marriage of Miss Mary Dell Shuman and Sgt. Joseph Arnold Trappell, of Dallas, Texas, and the United States Marine Corps, which was solemnized Sunday at five-thirty o'clock in the afternoon. The Rev. T. Earl Serson, pastor of the church officiated, using the double ring ceremony, before a large assemblage of relatives and friends.

The bride wore a dress of white tulle with a long white train and a long white veil. She carried a bouquet of white carnations and a corsage of white carnations. The bridegroom wore a tuxedo and a white shirt with a white bow tie. He carried a boutonniere of white carnations. The ceremony was held in the church sanctuary, which was decorated with white flowers and greenery. The music was furnished by the church choir. The reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Shuman, Jr., where a large number of guests were entertained. The bride and groom were accompanied by their parents and other relatives. The celebration continued until midnight.

To the first notes from Longhorns Bridal Chorus, Billy Keene and Sammy Tillman lighted the candles. The usher-groomsman followed and took their places before the altar. They were Money Prosser, Dexter Nesmith, Harold Hagan and Oly Oliff. The bridesmaids were next to enter. They were, Miss Anne Hendrix, of Cartwright, Miss Kerly Waters, of Dallas, Miss Jeanne Trappell, of Dallas, Miss Hilda Marsh and Miss Bea Dot Smallwood. They wore floor length dresses of net in pastel shades, posed over darker shades of satin. The dresses were fashioned with off the shoulder necklines and short puff sleeves. They carried arm bouquets of Dutch iris field with wide satin ribbons matching their dress shades. Mrs. L. J. Shuman, Jr., was matron of honor and wore a dress of softest blue. She carried an arm bouquet of Red Radiance roses tied with wide red satin ribbon. Little Meda Shuman, niece of the bride, was flower girl and wore a miniature replica of the bride's gown. She scattered rose petals from a beautiful white basket decorated with long white satin ribbons, with sweetheart rosette caught in loops and love knots.

The bride entered with her father by whom she was given in marriage. They were met at the altar by the groom and his best man, Billy Tillman.

The groom is the son of Capt. and Mrs. Wade Trappell of Dallas, Texas. He also graduated from Statesboro High School and was attending Georgia Teachers College when he entered the service for his country. After his training he served three years in the European War Area.

Mrs. Shuman, mother of the bride, wore a dress of black sheer with a corsage of white carnations. Mrs. Trappell, mother of the groom, also wore a dress of black sheer with a corsage of white carnations. Immediately following the wedding, Mr. and Mrs. Shuman, Sr., entertained with a beautiful reception at their home on Savannah Avenue.

Mrs. Trappell chose for traveling a suit of light blue summer dress with a hat of pink as was her gloves. On her shoulder she wore white purple-tinted orchids.

The out of town guests were: Capt. and Mrs. Wade Trappell, of Dallas, Miss Jeanne Trappell, of Dallas, Mr. and Mrs. O. E. Evans, of Soperton, Mrs. S. R. Shuman, Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Shuman, Felix Shuman, Miss Alva Mae Shuman, Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Shuman and children, Mr. and Mrs. Dyess Shuman, Miss Anita Shuman, Miss Shuman, Shadreck Shuman and Miss Virginia Shuman of Vidalia.

Mr. and Mrs. Trappell are touring points in North Carolina and before returning they will go to Camp Le Jeune, N. C. where he will receive his discharge.

SHUMAN—TRAPPEN RECEPTION

A beautiful social event of Sunday afternoon, was the reception given by Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Shuman, Sr., at their home on Savannah Avenue, following the Shuman—Trappell wedding which took place in The First Baptist Church.

The rooms of the home were decorated with graceful arrangements of white carnations, white gladioli, Easter lilies and ferns. In the living room the piano was banked with magnolia leaves, on a table near the entrance was a huge vase of Easter lilies and white carnations. On the mantle was a low arrangement also of Easter lilies. They were flanked by silver three-branched candelabra holding white burning candles. The hearth was banked with palms and ferns. In the dining room the bride's table was covered with an exquisite hand made imported lace cloth. The three tiered wedding cake was the central decoration. The cake was beautifully enameled and was topped by a miniature bride and groom. The groom wore a marine uniform. On either side of the miniature couple were American flags. Five branched silver candelabra holding tall white candles stood on each end of the table. Sprays of white gladioli and fern tied with white satin ribbons, were placed at intervals on the table. On the buffet was a beautiful and large silver bowl of white carnations and Easter lilies.

The guests were greeted by Mrs. Glenn Jennings and were introduced to the receiving line by Mrs. Bruce Oliff. Forming the receiving line were Mrs. L. J. Shuman, Sr., mother of the bride, Capt. and Mrs. Trappell, parents of the groom, Sgt. and Mrs. Joseph Arnold Trappell, and Mrs. Joseph Arnold Trappell and the attendants.

Mrs. Inman Foy presided in the dining room and was assisted in serving an invigorating menu by Miss Peggy Marsh, Miss Louise Shuman, Miss Imogene Groover, Miss Betty Rowe, Miss Althea Martin and Mrs. Bob Rabin.

Mrs. O. E. Evans, aunt of the bride presided in the gift room which was beautifully decorated with a wealth of Red Radiance roses. Mrs. Jake Smith kept the bride's book.

A musical program was furnished by Mrs. E. L. Barnes and Mrs. Waldo Floyd through-out the afternoon.

Mrs. Roger Holland won the prize for high, and Mrs. A. N. Braswell, from military service in the European theater, having recently been released from service and has joined Mrs. Blanche in a visit with Mr. and Mrs. Allen Lanier.

FORT NIGHTERS CLUB

A very pretty social event of Friday evening was when Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Lovett entertained members of the Fort-Nighters club at their home on South Main St. Paul Searett roses and panies gracefully arranged in an unusual fashion decorated the home for this occasion. After games of bridge the hosts served a delicious dessert course. Prize for ladies don Miller, prize high score was won by Mr. Bill Keith. Low score for ladies went to Mrs. Bill Keith while prize low score prize was given Mr. Gordon Miller. Other guests playing were: Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Coleman, Mr. and Mrs. Gene Groover, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Jones, Miss Maxann Foy, Miss Liz Smith and Mrs. Foy.

Blue Devil Sportscope

BY MIKE McDUGALD

"The Man" has been working like the dickens on his squad of Blue Devils. While his true team is burning up the cinder path his football boys are butting each other brains out. But maybe that is what "The Man" wants—well maybe he would like for his quarterbacks to have some brains—but brains is what he needs in that line and those backs.

If you would like to know what "The Man" is let one of his boys hit you... you'll get what we mean.

There is a chance that "The Man" will give a statement on that swimming sneak-peek of his 1946 Blue Devil Squad. About three more good hard weeks of practice and the way he put it "If we learn enough in practice we might be tearing up the line some NIGHT soon." When the "Blues" begin "hit" go into action its best to keep your money in your pocket because you can never tell what the record will be. The "Blues" may have the edge... they have won two games, but I say, you can never tell.

The Blue Devil Band really stepped out Saturday for Army Day. It reminded us of the football season proper. The Band went all-out for the Army Day parade, practicing every day, morning and afternoon. We are hoping that practice realizes the full value of our band and chip in with big hearts when they begin their drive for funds to buy new instruments and new uniforms. They really would be a show outfit. We're going to put on the one-act play again Saturday morning.

DAVIDSON—TILLMAN

A marriage of wide spread interest was that of Mr. Marion Davidson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. Earl Davidson, of Worcester, Mass., to Mr. E. Grant Tillman, H. son of Mr. and Mrs. E. Grant Tillman, of Statesboro, Ga., which was solemnized Saturday, April the sixth at four o'clock in the afternoon, in the Moon Chapel of the Chestnut Street Congregational church, in Worcester, Mass. Miss Terry Longvale, of Montreal, Canada, was the maid-of-honor. Her gown was of gold satin with fitted bodice and sweetheart neckline. She wore a band of gold around her hair with shoulder length veil and carried an old-fashioned rose-gold of spring flowers.

Miss Lesley Griffin, of Saucier, Mass., was the bride's maid. Her gown was of ice blue satin made exactly like that of the maid-of-honor.

The usher-groomsmen were, Walter Frank from Carlsburgh, N. Y., and Stanley Potter from St. N. Y.

The bride was given in marriage by her father and was met at the altar by the groom and his brother and best man, Jack Tillman, of Statesboro, Ga.

The bride's gown was of white satin with fitted bodice and sweetheart neckline. She carried a white veil and a crown of pearls. Her veil which followed the line of the train was caught to her hair by a coronet of pearls. She carried a white veil in prayer book held by a purple orchid.

Mrs. Davidson, mother of the bride, wore an aqua gown with corsage of Taisian roses. Mrs. Bob Strowbridge, of Atlanta, aunt of the groom, wore a black suit, and Mrs. Davidson, mother of the groom, wore a black suit.

Immediately after the wedding Mr. and Mrs. Davidson entertained the wedding guests with a reception at their home.

Mrs. Tillman chose for her going-away costume, a suit of pale blue in soft light wool with black top and black accessories. She wore a purple orchid corsage.

Mr. and Mrs. Tillman are spending their honeymoon at the General Oglethorpe Hotel on Wilmington Island.

TOBACCO ACRES TO BE MEASURED

To further strengthen compliance with the marketing quota program, all acreages of flue-cured tobacco grown on all farms in 1946 will be measured by AAA Committee or others working under the supervision of committee. It was announced today by J. A. Banks, Chairman of the Bulloch County AAA Committee.

Due to the manpower shortage, the AAA found it necessary to discontinue measurement of all flue-cured acreages during the war and this will be the first year since 1942 that all acreages will be measured. The challenge to the system of reporting their individual acreages by farmers, themselves, and subsequent spot-checking was the best means of acreage determination during the war. However, a return to measurement of all acreages of flue-cured tobacco was essential in order to make the marketing quota program fully effective.

Flue-cured producers of Bulloch county have been notified of 1946 acreage allotments for their farms. The county's total acreage allotment for 1946 will amount to approximately 6,000 acres.

Mrs. F. J. Fulcher, Miss Hallie Fulcher, Mrs. Chalmers Dixon and son, Charles, have returned to their home after spending the week-end with Miss Nan Edith Jones.

FISHERMEN MUST HAVE LICENSE TO FISH IN PRIVATE PONDS

C. L. Harrel, district chief of the Georgia Wildlife Rangers, announced this week that "While the owner of a private pond may fish therein without himself procuring a license and may take fish therefrom in any manner whatsoever, other residents of the State over 10 years of age, even though fishing in such private pond, as invitees (the owner), would be required to obtain a license. If they are not residents of the county in which the title is situated, no matter by what means they fish, or if they fish with any kind of artificial bait, lure, or with seines or nets, regardless of their size, they are, nevertheless, being asked to them no exception from license on account of consent of the owner."

There will be two groups of awards one for farms with more than 100 acres in cultivation and one for those with less than 100 acres. There are five prizes in each group ranging from $75 to $10.

There are several methods of scoring: 1. Rat eradication combined with rat proofing of business establishments in a continuous program; 2. Rat poisoning; 3. D. T. and dusting of rat runs; 4. Harborage. The latter two are used exclusively in Bulloch county; approximately 4,000 lbs. of D. T. dust and 200 lbs. of poison have been used to date. D. T. dust will be used every three months to eliminate the counter-renewals of infestation in all business places and selected residential and farm areas reporting typhus fever cases in the past five years.

What is the rat bill in our community? In addition to the diseases for which the rat is responsible it is estimated that the rat population in a community is equal to the human population, and that each rat eats about $2 worth of food Tuesday through Thursday, Wednesday, May 22; and Tuesday, June 4. The hours will be from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m.
