A Verse For This Week

Beloved, let us love one another; for love is of God; and every one that loveth is born of God, and knoweth God. — 1-JOHN 4:7.

Make Every Day Mother's Day

Mighty is the force of motherhood! It transforms all things by its vital heart; it turns timidity into fierce courage, and dreads defiance into tremulous submission. It turns thoughtlessness into foresight, and yet still its anxiety into calm content; it makes selfishness become self-denial, and gives even to hard vanity the glance of admiring love.

Not one of us can say "not so." During the years of battle the days of intense misery, the hours of horror, many a mother has stood aside on one and not one found to be less than magnificent. But there are just as many praisals of courage left unmade as there are mothers of sons who went away to submit himself, his strength and his will to that of the leaders who directed the great armies of the allies to final victory.

The courage of the mothers equaled and surpassed the courage of the bravest of her brave sons. Mothers.

Songs, poems, prose, sermons— all paying tribute to Mother—have been written, but there's nothing to approach the simply expressed love of sons and daughters for their mothers.

Sunday, May 12, is the day set aside on which we are asked to honor our mothers. It is a day you can check on your calendar, but praisals of courage left unmade as there are mothers of sons who went away to submit himself, his strength and his will to that of the leaders who directed the great armies of the allies to final victory.

Your Right To Vote Is A Weapon

We hear in these days a great deal about respecting rights—the rights of private judgment, the rights of labor, the rights of property, and the rights of man. Rights are grand things, divine things living in this great nation we call "Our Country."

And there is one other right that is to the fore now—that is as it should be—the right to vote. Unless you exercise this right, then you are not playing fair with your rights of labor, the rights of property, and your rights of man.

Listen To The Jaycees

A young organization made up of restless young people with definite ideas of what they want and with no inhibitions binding their actions.

The Junior Chamber of Commerce. It is this group of young business men of Statesboro that is assuming the lead in making the people of Statesboro and Bulloch county aware of their responsibilities as citizens. It is they who are reminding the people of this community that it is the citizens' duty to register and being registered exercise the privilege that goes with registration—that of voting.

The Junior Chamber is not asking you to vote for any one person—that is for you to decide—but the Jaycees are asking that you register. You have until July 5.

Listen to these young men on this matter. And register today.

There's Not A Cow In Texas

There's not a cow in Texas that is any better than the 320 cattle shown and sold at the Fat Stock Show and Sale held at the Bulloch Stockyards here last Thursday.

Yet one fact is revealed by the records of the sale.

Not more than six of the 320 fat cattle will be killed, butchered and dressed and sold in Statesboro and Bulloch County.

Most of them were raised on a farm by the young people of Bulloch county. They cared for, fed and almost loved those calves to there show condition, only to see them sold, shipped out of the county and in some cases out of the state.

Our neighbor, Millen, held a stock show and sale two days before we did and nearly every animal sold and purchased by a Jenkins county man or business.

The young boys and girls who took part in the show and sale displayed a wonderful interest. It was their efforts that made the show the largest Statesboro has held. But that interest could have been higher and more lasting had more of their entries found their way into the hands of local interests.

At the same time we wish to congratulate the local business people for the interest they displayed in promoting the show and sale and next year's show is already off to a good start with two persons making attractive offers to the young people who will participate.

Thinking Out Loud...

We hear lots of beefing among our good farmer friends about the conditions of our country roads. Some complaints are justified, but in many cases the farmer is to blame for his road.

Let's see what happens—A farmer from the county comes to town and goes to see Fred Hodges and tells him he wants his road fixed and ditches fixed. "I'll be done."

Within a short time the road machinery is out on its road, pulling the ditches and scraping the road. It's put in good shape again.

Now let's see what happens after that. Later the farmer decides to build a new fence along the road. He tears down the old fence and, without thinking, he throws the old posts, wire, and nails into the ditches—After he builds his new fence he decides to clean up around his home. Tin cans, glass, and rubbish. What does he do with this? He takes it without thinking and dumps it into the ditch along the road—No harm done in doing that, he thinks.

But, what happens next... the road machine comes back out to pull the ditches and dress the road. When the ditches are pulled, out comes the wire, nails, and glass. And Mr. Farmer starts to town Saturday morning. And picks up one of his nails—in one of his wire weary tires.

Think first, I'll be easier on the county commissioners who keep up your roads, and they'll be more sympathetic when you ask that the old posts, wire, and nails into the ditches—After he builds his new fence he decides to clean up around his home. Tin cans, glass, and rubbish. What does he do with this? He takes it without thinking and dumps it into the ditch along the road—No harm done in doing that, he thinks.

The Preacher Says

REV. CHAS. A. JACKSON, JR.

I would like to see it done... It would give to our high school and college students understanding of the content and spiritual meaning of the Scriptures, which our system of teaching in the Sunday School and in the home is failing to give.

It would not violate the sacred principle of separation of church and state.

It would not be unfair to or embarrass any religious denomination. The thing I should like to see done is this—

1. It is proposed that the Bible be taught in the high school and in the Georgia Teachers College, using the Bible itself as the textbook.

2. The courses are to be elective, no student being required to take the course.

3. The courses would be a full unit's work, and would count toward graduation. It would be elective in the junior or senior year of high school, and the junior or senior year of college, and would be required and the credit given being on a level with other courses.

4. The services of the teachers of the courses would be paid, not out of state and county funds, but by interested persons or institutions. It is normally expected that such teaching services would be volunteered. Under no circumstances would public funds be used to teach this course, as this would contravene the principles of the separation of church and state.

5. The teachers of the courses are to measure up to the educational standards of the county, state and other accrediting agencies. They are not to violate other rules and principles of the institution.

The Almanac Says the Weather This Week On...

Today, Thursday, May 9, will be hot. Fishing will be just fair during the morning, but about 8:30 o'clock in the evening it will be excellent.

Friday, May 10, will be showers. Fishing will be just about like Thursday.

Saturday, May 11, will be showers. Fishing will be poor all morning but fine from 9 to 11 p. m.

Sunday, May 12, will be cool. Fishing will be poor during the morning, but excellent between 9 and 11 p. m.

Monday, May 13, will be fair. Fishing will still be poor in the morning but fine about 11:15 p. m.

Tuesday, May 14, will be pleasant. Fishing will be very poor all morning, but fine at 11 p. m.

Wednesday, May 15, will be hot. Fishing will be poor in the morning and afternoon and evening.

... But Don't Blame Us If the Almanac Is Wrong!

LAST WEEK-END SAW three Bulloch countians in the race for two seats in the Georgia General Assembly. The word is that there'll be more.

And if "The Word" is right and two or three more toss their hats in the ring will be seeing a red-hot race in Bulloch for the two seats in the House of Representatives in the state capital. We need good representations and the more in the race the better opportunity the people have in selecting the two they think best suited for the job.

"THE WORD" HAS IT that Mr. Talmadge, former governor of Georgia, sent a telegram to Bulloch county last week to determine how many negroes were registered in this county. The answer is just a few over 300.

YOU MAY NOT LIKE him, but we never like the man who tells us what we can't do, when that is what we want to do.

Our state is off to Officer Hollingsworth, the man who rides the black and white motorcycle up and down the streets of Statesboro. A new feeling of safety is with us as we move into the flow of traffic. The city council is to be commended on making this contribution to the safety of the people of Statesboro.

AND SOON WE'LL be observing that Two-Hour parking ordinance that is on our city books. The city is going to provide us with a city tag and if a car bearing a city tag is timed over the two-hour limit parked in the business section displayed a wonderful interest. It was their efforts that made the show the largest Statesboro has held. But that interest could have been higher and more lasting had more of their entries found their way into the hands of local interests.

At the same time we wish to congratulate the local business people for the interest they displayed in promoting the show and sale and next year's show is already off to a good start with two persons making attractive offers to the young people who will participate.

"TO THE MAYOR AND CITY COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF STATESBORO:

"BE IT RESOLVED: That, whereas, The Statesboro Junior Chamber of Commerce believes that one of the basic principles on which this great nation was founded is "That All Men Are Created Equal"; and that all citizens shall be accorded equal rights and privileges under the laws of the United States and of the City of Statesboro and as we believe that all legitimate businesses in Statesboro should be accorded equal rights under the law; and as, the goods or wares, except in providing and have recorded on Page 32 of the City Ordinance Book an ordinance which states that:

"Any person who shall keep open and sell or offer for sale, or shall clandestinely sell or offer for sale on the Sabbath day in their places of business any

... the whole crowd goes for food and refreshment

When the gang pulls up for curb service the first thought for refreshment is ice-cold Coca-Cola. Have a Coke are words that start off a good time. Coke and companionship go together. Because there's nothing like refreshment to make friendly moments even friendlier.

Madeleine L'Engle's THE SMALL RAIN is a charming novel of heart warming vitality. It is the story of Katherine Forrester, an imaginative creative young girl, of her loneliness, her struggle for happiness, her love for beauty and her passionate devotion to her music. Against a background of Switzerland, Paris and New York, and the theatrical and musical world, some will discover fresh talent Katherine's school days will remain the most vivid picture; for others the tender, youthful affair of Charlotte and Katherine; for still others the fascination of the music teacher Justin. But all will retain a memory of Miss L'Engle's elusive magic, which creates a tale of young love and youthful aspirations as real as life itself.

A book on rural life which many non-fiction fans will like is Louis Bromfield's PLEASANT VALLEY (Harper). This book tells of his adventures in selecting the land for his new home, building the house, furnishing it. He gives his ideas on how farming can be made to pay, the problem of conserving the soil so it will be made to give good crops. And he tells about his neighbors, the people he sometimes uses as characters in his other books. Whether or not we accept Mr. Bromfield's ideas on the future of farming most of us appreciate the beauty of America, and all of us like stories about our neighbors. This book is written for the average reader who does not know too much about the earth and what goes on in it or above it but the agricultural expert will find in it, observations of interest. ### SENIOR PLAY

Should you be acquainted with the temperance of the inhabitants of southern California you probably know that they are a people who will try anything on and from observation you have realized that for most of their "Sous to Nuts" the author has taken one of their most interesting and amusing speculations and used it with riotous consequences. California is not only a land of many mocking birds but there is a number of curious with original ideas and thoughts. Many of these ideas develop into brainstorms that cross the California border. Out there, the prevailing thought is one of concentration: to reduce the ideal state of living to such simplicity. It isn't probable that we of the present day will see this ideal state but we can have a glimpse of the intensely humorous situations created in the making of this ambitious perfection. For this reason, the author brings you the serenely funny farce, "Soup to Nuts."

It is as mad and interesting as the country which inspired it. As luxuriously insane as the stories that come out of this fascination land, "Soup to Nuts," as presented by the Senior class of Portia High School in the school auditorium on May 10, at 8:30 p. m. will bring you an evening of sunnier laughter as you have rarely experienced.

Joe Beall of North Carolina and his uncle, Mr. Beall, of Lancaster, S. C., visited at the home of Mrs. J. P. Beall during the week-end.

The forty-two members of the eighth grade of the Brooklet High School enjoyed an afternoon picnic and supper at Dasher's Friday.

They were accompanied by Mrs. Dorothy Lundgren, their home-room teacher, and by Mrs. H. G. Parrish, Sr., Mrs. W. B. Roddenberry and Mrs. A. B. Barnard.

Mrs. Floyd Atkins entertained with a theater party and afterwards with a wicker roast Saturday afternoon in honor of the 12 birthday of her daughter, Ann.

The girls who enjoyed the party were: Jennie Johnson, Joan Denmark, Gloria McElveen, Jill Bryson, Nell Wells, Jean Garrick and the honoree, Ann Atkins.

Homeroom Lee Carnes, who was badly injured two weeks ago in an automobile wreck, has been brought home from the Bulloch County Hospital and is now at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Carnes.

The May Meeting of the Brooklet PTA will be held this afternoon (Thursday) at 3 o'clock in the High School Auditorium.

The president, Mrs. Floyd Atkins, will conduct the business meeting, and at this time Mrs. W. Lee McElveen, chairman of the nominating committee, will announce the new officers who will serve during the school year, 1946-47.

Mrs. J. H. Hinton, who has been in the hospital for several weeks, is now at home and is recovering from her injuries.

Friends of Miss Emily Cromley, who was badly injured in an automobile wreck in Savannah, will be pleased to know she is improving.

Ernest Baile, of Statesboro, spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Baile.

Mrs. Houston Lanier, Billie Jean Jones, Mrs. H. H. Zetterower and Franklin Zetterower attended the May Day program at Teachers College Friday afternoon.

Temporary summer grazing is one of the best and cheapest ways of supplying feed for farm livestock, specialists of the Georgia Extension Service say.

Cripping and bruising of farm livestock due to careless handling enroute to market reduce the returns the farmer gets for his livestock.

Feed sacks and bags can be used to make many attractive clothes and household articles, home industries specialists of the State Extension Service declare.

Wild greens such as dandelion, watercress, field cress and pokeweed which grow in Georgia can be used to supply the greens needed in the diet during the spring months.

Cat-tail millet is one of the best summer temporary grazing crops, according to the extension service. It gives shrd shrd chrl grl Georgia area.

Sudan grass is a quick-growing plant which gives a lot of good summer growth, agronomists of the Georgia Extension Service declare.

A good stand of healthy plants is one of the most important factors in securing large per acre yields of cotton.

Four-H club projects help develop interest and resourcefulness of farm boys and girls.

Gardens can play an important part in helping to meet home food needs, horticulturists of the Georgia Extension Service assert.

What's on your mind for summer? School is just about out—three more weeks—doesn't seem possible does it?

But if you count the weeks, or even days, on your calendar, you will see that your summer vacation is nearer than you think.

Why think about summer vacations now? Well, because it is so easy to let a summer slip by, sort of unnoticed. And it is not too soon to plan for making this summer one of your best and most pleasant experiences.

All these plans you and your family had to postpone until peacetime can now be talked about. The much-discussed long motor trip, if the family's prewar automobile can take it, may actually become a reality. A few postcards to State Chambers of Commerce or oil companies, asking for maps and folders, will make you the popular member of your family when you have the answer to "Where shall we go?"

This summer there will be many opportunities for a new kind of vacation. For one thing, you may be able to return to your favorite camp, some of you as junior counselors. And right here is as good a place as any to mention a summer job. For some young people a job is as much of a vacation as a trip to the Grand Canyon.

That is what Peter is planning for this summer. He has applied for a job with a publishing company which has a large plant in his home town. In another year Peter will be ready for college and he wants the experience of working in the kind of business which he hopes to make his profession.

Nancy who for the last year has been taking a special evening course in handcrafts at the community center in her town, is going back to her camp in New England, this time with a part-time job as assistant to the camp counselor and thus make use of her newly learned skill.

If you decide to take a job this summer and start to plan for it early enough, which is now, you can probably find one which fits you.

Of course, there is one kind of vacation which requires plenty of thought and planning—the vacation at home. Everyone was so busy during the war years making spare time counts, that often friendly and leisurely things to do in a home-town during the summer were put on the shelf. Now you can be brought down, dusted off and can really happen. A vacation at home can be a new way to spend time with your family and get to know your old ones.

You may doubt it, but a home-town vacation can border on boredom after several weeks of morning swim, afternoon movie and evening juke box. You may even find yourself with a slight nostalgia for school and semi-work. A vacation at home, with no particular plan in view but lazy days is fun to think of right now, but not so delightful around the first week in August.

Blue Devil Sportscope

BY MIKE McDONALD

WE TOSS OUR hat high up in the air (monna wants to know where I got a hat) for the Blue Devil Band. Why do we toss a hat we don't have in the air? 'Cause the band won a first division rating in the concert competition at the state band festival held at Milledgeville last Thursday and Friday.

THE BAND CAME dragging back to home late Friday night, and I do mean LATE. It was close on to midnight when they came in from Milledgeville. They left early Thursday morning. Bobby Stephens was up at 4:00 a. m. Boy, you gotta love to blow a horn to get up that early to let to blow it. The only parade I want to be in has to do with the beautiful parade of the sandmen who are my very best friends—what say monna?

Home Demonstration Club News

HOME DEMONSTRATION CLUB NEWS
Bulloch County Home Demonstration Club members are observing National Home Demonstration week according to Mrs. J. C. Zetterow, a reporter for the Bulloch County Home Demonstration Council. The observation of such a week was recommended by farm women and approved by the Secretary of Agriculture. It is the first observance of its kind. The theme for this week is "Today's Home Builds Tomorrow's World."

Home Demonstration work began in this county some thirty years ago as a coming club for 4-H club girls. Mrs. Polly Woods Moore, a Bulloch County girl, was the first leader for this group. She was employed for the month during the summer to assist these girls with their home problems. Expenses of this program were defrayed by selling the products these girls carried. Mrs. Clarence Wynn, pastor, C. C. Zetterow, one of the first 4-H Club girls in the county to win a trip to Athens for outstanding work in her career, and Miss Elsie Williams, a member of the club, were in charge of the program at that time. Miss Clemmie Marsh.

Although this program started as a 4-H Club program for boys and girls, from the beginning the adult program was in the minds of those who were directing it. The leadership of Miss Polly Woods was terminated with her marriage to Mr. Morgan Moore. Several years later without a leader to carry on the work begun by Mrs. Moore, in the meantime, the new Home Demonstration Club was organized through the leadership of Miss J. C. Zetterow, who was at that time, County Home Demonstration Agent in Evans County.

In 1934 Miss Lillian Knott was employed as Home Demonstration Agent for Bulloch County. Since that time Bulloch has had a full time agent to lead both the 4-H and the Home Demonstration programs. Leaders succeeding Miss Knott are Miss Elsie Williams and Miss Irma Stowers. Assistant Agents were Daisy Durden, Miss Ellen Williams, Miss Mary Groover and Miss Doris Wheeler.

Bulloch County rural women are not organized in a very ancient county council and ten Home Demonstration Clubs. These communities having a club organized are: Edin, Denmark, Arcola, Jingo, Westside, Warnock, Middleground, Port, Register, New Castle, etc. The club officers are: Mrs. Charlie Holland, President; Mrs. Jesse Atkins, Secretary; Mrs. Arnett Nesmith, Vice-President; Mrs. J. C. Zetterow, Treasurer; Mrs. F. D. Deal, Reported.

The Bulloch County Home Demonstration Program has made such rapid strides in its development in the last few years according to Mrs. F. D. Deal, that it is not possible to carry out the program only through nineteen projects. In the County Council and in each club. These volunteer leaders are becoming very efficient and they each have their special duties as a community leader such as gardening, clothing, home improvement, food and meal planning, etc.

Mrs. Deal stated that you will find some of Statesboro's store windows displaying exhibits of a few of the many projects which these club women are doing through the leadership of their agents, officers and project leaders. These exhibits are: The Fair Store, Georgia Power Co. A more complete exhibit will be held this fall.

TC REGISTRAR ATTENDS SE MEETING 'ONE WOM'

Lone woman to attend the recent Atlanta meeting of the American Council's Commission on Accreditation of Service Experience was Miss Viola Perry, Georgia Teachers College registrar.

In commenting on the session attended by directors of admission of colleges in Georgia, Florida, Alabama, and South Carolina, Miss Perry stated that students currently enrolled at Teachers College have received credit for work done in midshipman's school naval aviation, ASTP and aviation mechanics courses.

Before the days of automatic signals, a large metal ball suspended from a tall pole alongside the track was hoisted or lowered to give train orders. When raised to the top of the pole, the ball meant clear track ahead. Thus, in railroad parlance, "highball" became a signal to proceed.

Although an old term, "highball" expresses the modern, progressive spirit of the Central of Georgia's new improvement program.

Yes, the Central of Georgia gives a "highball" that signals all clear to progress, pushing forward with the Southeast to provide fine, efficient service for all our passengers and shippers.

Friday evening the Women's Club was the setting for the most brilliant social affair of the season when the Junior entertained the Seniors with a banquet and dance.

The club was transformed into a realistic scene and the idea was carried out most effectively to the minute detail.

The ship was inscribed "U.S.G. S. F. S." meaning United States Good-Ship Friend-Ship.

The guests entered the U. S. G. S. F. S. by way of a real gang plank with posts and ropes by which many pulled along.

The emerald green lawn was transformed into a wonderful scene by garlands of rainbow electric lights giving off different light formations and combinations gradually fading into each other without repetition. Lawn tables placed at intervals were graced by bouquets of bright garden flowers held bowls of frosted punch which were presided over by a bevy of beautiful girls, wearing long, fluffy dresses.

A musical program was enjoyed throughout the evening while the main entertainment feature.

At intermission ice cream and cake was served to one-hundred twenty guests who were present.

Assisting in entertaining were: Mrs. I. A. Brannen, Mrs. Frank Smith, Mrs. C. H. Remington, Mrs. S. H. Sherman, Mrs. Dan Billich, Jr., Mrs. Thomas Blitch, Mrs. Bob West and Mrs. Walter Odum.

Topics selected by students in the current content include: development of naval stores, royal colonial government, mineral railroad development, wealth, harbor improvements and many others. A board of judges is now ready to try Miss Newton stated, Mildred Forbes, Cave Springs, was the award winner in 1945.

Jaycees to Make Drive To Register All Eligible Voters In Bulloch

The Statesboro Junior Chamber of Commerce is assuming the lead in a campaign to make the people of Statesboro and Bulloch county vote conscious.

This week they begin a drive to register every person eligible to vote before the deadline on July 5.

The county tax commissioner is cooperating with this organization of young men. A booth will be set up on the court house square where a member of the Jaycees will direct the public to the proper place to register. A public address system will be installed and will be used to remind the unregistered eligible voters of their right to register and vote.

Later the Jaycees will move in to the county going from one community to another—until the entire county has been reminded of their privilege to register. Announcements will be made later when the county drive will begin.

The members of the Jaycees organization want it definitely understood that the campaign for registering the eligible voters in under taken as a public service, and they will appreciate the cooperation of the people of Statesboro and Bulloch county.

Funeral services were held Sunday at 2:30 p. m. at the Bloomingdale Methodist church with Elder V. F. Agon in charge of the services, assisted by Rev. Edward Carruth. Burial was in the Gravel Hill Cemetery.

Dr. Donaldson Is TC Grad Speaker
Dr. George W. Donaldson, director of the Georgia State College of Education, Battle Creek, Mich., will deliver the commencement address at Georgia Teachers College May 27 Dr. Marvin S. Pittman, president, announced today.

On Sunday May 26 Dr. Albert Grady Harris, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, Macon, will deliver the baccalaureate sermon in the College Auditorium.

A graduate of Teachers College, Dr. Donaldson is the first alumnus with a doctor's degree who will deliver the commencement address at a very large number of adult having been admitted on profession of faith.

A total of 163 members have been received by transfer and on profession of faith during the year.

Dr. Donaldson is a former Statesboro man and the son of the late John Everett. Mr. Everett is now living in Pembroke but plans to make his home here in the near future. Wright will be in the sales Department at the jewelry store.

Mr. Carl S. Stutzman comes from Dallas, Texas and will work in the repair department.

Rev. Carruth is one of the twin-brother Methodist preachers, sons of Dr. and Mrs. J. E. Carruth. He is now waiting the return of Bishop Arthur Moore to receive an appointment to a charge. Rev. Edward Carruth, the other of the twin-brothers now serving three churches of the Bloomingdale charge. Both of the Carruths are graduates of the Candler School of Theology at Emory University.

Rev. Johnson, son of a Methodist minister of a Texas conference, married the former Gladys Thayer of Statesboro. He serves a charge at Ludowick. Mrs. Johnson has been in Statesboro with her child during the war while her husband was in the service. They plan to do next graduate work at Emory before Rev. Johnson returns to his pastorate.

Rev. Charles A. Jackson, Jr., pastor of the Statesboro church will present the two young preachers and will lead the singing at both the morning and evening services.

When the Statesboro Methodist church celebrates "Home Folks' Day" Sunday, May 19, it will honor two of its young preachers, Rev. Carlton Carruth and Rev. McCoy Johnson, both members of the S. Georgia Annual Conference of the Methodist Church.

Rev. Carruth, who served in the Navy as a chaplain and recently discharged will preach at the morning service at 11:30. Rev. Johnson also an ex-Navy Chaplain will preach the evening service at 8:00 o'clock.
