8 Warehouses To Sell Tobacco

When the tobacco auctioneer begins his annual chant here the latter part of July, Statesboro will have available to the tobacco growers of this section 470,530 square feet of tobacco warehouse floor space. This is equivalent to eight square floors of warehouses figured at 60,000 square feet to the warehouse.

U. S. Postman and Wasps Battle For U. S. Mail Box

Monday of this week an attack of wasps on a U. S. Postman failed to keep the mail from "going through."

Postman, approached the mailbox on the corner at the Statesboro Fire Department to find it swarmed by a nest of wasps. Postman, however, was not deterred and was rewarded when three wasps attacked him back. Withdrawing to a room with which he attacked the nest of angry wasps. He succeeded in wiping them out in a sweep.

He secured the mail and now the mailbox is again in the hands of Uncle Sam.

A Verse For This Week

Wood burns because it has the proper stuff for that purpose in it; and a man becomes renowned because he has the necessary stuff in him. Renown is not to be sought, and all pursuit of it is vain. A person may, indeed, by skillful conduct and various artificial means, make a sort of name for himself; but if the inner jewel is wanting, all is vanity, and will not last a day.—Goethe.

Overhead Rights

The Supreme Court has ruled—air. All of which revives the old question: "How high is up?" And adds a new one: "How low is down?" Flights are to be considered a violation of property rights if "they are so low and so frequent as to be in direct and immediate interference with the enjoyment and use of the land." For those who take their air rides in old-fashioned hammocks, firmly anchored to a pair of sturdy oaks, enjoyment runs quite high—say well out of sight and sound of noisy interlopers. At any rate, with "Fly it your own" systems springing up all over the country, it is comforting to know that man's is his own—up to a certain point.

"A Jeep to Every Block"

To one observing peacetime traffic on America's city streets, it is apparent that the jeep has gone to town. When this military motor car was first fabricated, it served such a variety of purposes that the manufacturers ventured the opinion it would make an ideal postwar car for the farm. It would come in handy for hauling butter and eggs to market and, with trailer attached could be used for moving fodder and wood over rough rural terrain. But they couldn't keep the jeep on the farm. They attract attention on town and city streets be-

Prices Perilous

Despite President Truman's warning that he would not be able to approve the price-control extension legislation passed by the house, the senate banking and currency committee has reported out a bill considered even more detrimental to stabilization.

It is, of course, no easy task which Congress faces, pressured from all sides and confronted with ruinous inflationary threats of inefficient or unenforced controls on the other. But it would be better and for more honest to throw out controls altogether than to pass a shadow of an act which could do no more than shadow-box with inflation. For not even rent ceilings, which congress aims to retain could withstand the withering assault of other freed prices involved in building maintenance.

And let us not be fooled by assumption that rising production and with competition will keep an effective adequate enforcement provided, or thumb in the inflation dike. While so many strategic raw materials should be dropped and the responsibility clearly placed.

Thinking Out Loud...

When the quiet campaign to collect funds and drugs to send to sick Koreans was completed the citizens of Statesboro and Bulloch county contributed $117.50.

An appeal was made several weeks ago by Bulloch Lee and Sadie Maude Moore, who lived in Korea for many years. Their appeal was made on behalf of medical missionaries who are friends of theirs.

Now comes a letter to Miss Lee from Mrs. R. M. Wilson whose husband it a medical missionary. The letter reads: "I'm overcome at the size of the check you sent. How much more sick Koreans will be helped. Where We Fall." He confessed that with the drugs that this money had been shot down and un-will but there is no way of knowing how much more sick Koreans will be helped. I do thank you and Sadie Maude with all my heart and I'll home. Many of the boys we know see that the drugs Dr. Wilson needs most will be bought and sent over where the pressure came from at once. We have sent more than that originated the legislation.

Summer Arrives

The Editor's Uneasy Chair

The Almanac Says the Weather This Week On...

TODAY, THURSDAY, June 20, will be stormy. Fishing will be good at 2 o'clock a. m. and 2 p. m.
FRIDAY, June 21, will be stormy. Fishing will be good at 3 a. m. and 3 p. m.
SATURDAY, June 22, will be stormy. Fishing will be good at 3:15 p. m. and very good at 3:15 p. m.
SUNDAY, June 23, will be stormy. Fishing will be good at 5 a. m. and very good at 4 p. m.
MONDAY, June 24 will be stormy. Fishing will be excellent at 5 a. m. and excellent at 4:15 p. m.
TUESDAY, June 25, will be stormy. Fishing will be good at 5:15 a. m. and very good at 5 p. m.
WEDNESDAY, June 26, will be fair. Fishing will be fair at 6:30 a. m. and very good at 7 p. m.

... But Don't Blame Us If the Almanac Is Wrong!

Georgia is not the only State who will elect a Governor this summer. Over in South Carolina they have ten men running for the Governorship. One of the candidates, a Mr. Marcus A. Stone, big lumber dealer from Florence, S. C. is running on a platform we like. Mr. Stone is telling the voters he favors, "freedom of work, freedom in farm activity, freedom in farm activity, freedom from unnecessary taxation and vexatious interference with the enjoyment and use of the land." For those who take their air rides in old-fashioned hammocks, firmly anchored to a pair of sturdy oaks, enjoyment runs quite high—say well out of sight and sound of noisy interlopers. At any rate, with "Fly it your own" systems springing up all over the country, it is comforting to know that man's is his own—up to a certain point.

In the best books great men talk to us, give us their most precious thoughts, and pour their souls into ours—Channing.

For the next several weeks your book review column will contain a Fiction Guide (a descriptive list of books which you might have a Nazi husband.) German soldier overtook this past winter. We hope that this will serve as a suggestion of books which you might borrow on vacation terms.

SO WELL REMEMBERED by James Hilton. The conflict of Olivia, forever "half child and half-adult," and George, her first husband, who had "the secret strength of the dove." George, self-made, likeable reformer, had married Olivia, who was haunted by her father's imprisonment and the hatred of the little investors he had ruined. Olivia left George for Jess, and years later George met her again and learned, bit by bit, the story of her unbalanced love and willfulness. Best seller.

JANUARY THAW by Bellamy Partridge. When Hebert and Marie Gage bought the abandoned house in Connecticut, they knew the Rockwoods had the right to live in it but not the right to the Rockwoods turned up, moved into the best bedroom and refused to budge. From that time it was war between begot old Jonathan Rockwood and happy-go-lucky Cages. A humorous tale with warmth and appreciation of human follies.

WORD CHECKERS

Take a six-letter word for a vehicle used in snowy weather and you will find it in the word checkers. Now change L to R and make a word for a machine for making shelves or projecting parts of rocks, buildings etc.

Now change D to A and make the most powerful flying bird. Now change one E to N and make corners where straight lines meet.

Now change S to C and make a quick look at something. Now change C to F and make a projecting rim or edge as an o wheel.

Now change F to S and make celestial beings. Now change S to M and make a machine for snoring fabric by pressing them between rollers.

Now change L to R and make a riding box—as for horses in a stable. Now change G to I and make a dried grape.

A Verse For This Week

Wood burns because it has the proper stuff for that purpose in it; and a man becomes renowned because he has the necessary stuff in him. Renown is not to be sought, and all pursuit of it is vain. A person may, indeed, by skillful conduct and various artificial means, make a sort of name for himself; but if the inner jewel is wanting, all is vanity, and will not last a day.—Goethe.

Overhead Rights

The Supreme Court has ruled—air. All of which revives the old question: "How high is up?" And adds a new one: "How low is down?" Flights are to be considered a violation of property rights if "they are so low and so frequent as to be in direct and immediate interference with the enjoyment and use of the land." For those who take their air rides in old-fashioned hammocks, firmly anchored to a pair of sturdy oaks, enjoyment runs quite high—say well out of sight and sound of noisy interlopers. At any rate, with "Fly it your own" systems springing up all over the country, it is comforting to know that man's is his own—up to a certain point.

"A Jeep to Every Block"

To one observing peacetime traffic on America's city streets, it is apparent that the jeep has gone to town. When this military motor car was first fabricated, it served such a variety of purposes that the manufacturers ventured the opinion it would make an ideal postwar car for the farm. It would come in handy for hauling butter and eggs to market and, with trailer attached could be used for moving fodder and wood over rough rural terrain. But they couldn't keep the jeep on the farm. ### Prices Perilous

Despite President Truman's warning that he would not be able to approve the price-control extension legislation passed by the house, the senate banking and currency committee has reported out a bill considered even more detrimental to stabilization.

It is, of course, no easy task which Congress faces, pressured from all sides and confronted with ruinous inflationary threats of inefficient or unenforced controls on the other. But it would be better and for more honest to throw out controls altogether than to pass a shadow of an act which could do no more than shadow-box with inflation. For not even rent ceilings, which congress aims to retain could withstand the withering assault of other freed prices involved in building maintenance.

And let us not be fooled by assumption that rising production and with competition will keep an effective adequate enforcement provided, or thumb in the inflation dike. While so many strategic raw materials should be dropped and the responsibility clearly placed.

An appeal was made several weeks ago by Bulloch Lee and Sadie Maude Moore, who lived in Korea for many years. Their appeal was made on behalf of medical missionaries who are friends of theirs.

Now comes a letter to Miss Lee from Mrs. R. M. Wilson whose husband it a medical missionary. The letter reads: "I'm overcome at the size of the check you sent. How much more sick Koreans will be helped. Where We Fall." He confessed that with the drugs that this money had been shot down and un-

BULLOCH COUNTY HAS ONE OF TOP CATTLE HERDS IN GA.

Bulloch county now has one of the top polled Hereford herds in Georgia. This some 50 head of blue-headed cattle is owned by Kermit Donaldson and is located some three miles south of Brooklet.

The herd was assembled by the late Judge G. C. Dekle of Jenkins county. Judge Dekle made numerous trips to the west and to the corn-belt buying the best polled Herefords he could find. The herd is now in the hands of Mr. Donaldson, $1000. There are several cows in the herd that sold for $600 to $700. These cattle are close built, generally deep, thick and broad. They are the kind all lovers of purebreds look for but many are not able to buy. Mr. Donaldson operates the Johnny Harris night club in Savannah, but married a Bulloch county girl and owns some 750 acres off and south of Brooklet. He admits he knows more about night clubs than he does cattle, good cattle when he sees them, but by buying the top herd in this area, but he demonstrated he knows this entire farm is being made into a livestock grazing and feeding farm such as most farmers long for. The fence around it is just the "book" shows they should have. There are two large barns as seen on "yanked" farms, with a 250 ton silo by one of them.

The homes on the farm have all been remodeled and painted. A. J. Lee, a brother-in-law, lives on the farm and is the manager. Mr. Donaldson and Mr. Lee hope to build the herd to 100 cows and to be in position to provide local livestock farmers with their herd sires from the best lines of breeding known in the Hereford breed at a price they can afford to pay. Mr. Donaldson's efforts to improve the conditions of the homes and fences has meant lots to the community his farm is located in.

Two new hybrid sweet corns proved satisfactory in 48 field tests in Bulloch county this year. Aristogold bantam No. 1 and aristogold bantam evergreen seed were provided for 48 4-H club boys to test the new hybrids by a Chicago breeder. In every instance the corns matured and were ready for table use in 75 to 85 days from planting and the quality as well as yield were superior to any milo corn used in the county in 1946.

MASTER 4-H CLUB CAMP SCHEDULED FOR JUNE 21-23

Feature speakers at the second annual Master 4-H Club Camp in session at Camp Wabgan, near Dahlonega, June 21 to 23 will be Harry L. Brown, general agent, Farm Credit Administration, Columbus, S. C.; G. P. Donaldson, dean, Abram Baldwin Agricultural College, Tifton, and G. V. Cunningham, former state 4-H club leader.

This announcement was made this week by W. A. Sutton, State 4-H club leader, who said that 4-Hers, members who have won out-of-state trips or top State honors — are expected to attend the camp.

Objectives of the camp are to give the Master 4-Hers an opportunity for fellowship, to form a stronger link between the Master 4-Hers and present 4-H members, and to help awaken the Master 4-H members to opportunities for leadership in their home communities. Mr. Sutton said. Members of the Extension Service's 4-H club staff will act as advisers to the camp.

Saturday, June 29

3:30 p. m.

Bulloch County Rivers For Governor Club

GOVERNOR TALMADGE

Will Speak In Statesboro, Thursday, June 27th, at 3:30 P. M.

YOU MAY HEAR THIS ADDRESS OVER W.T.O.C. SAVANNAH, IF IT IS IMPOSSIBLE FOR YOU TO BE PRESENT, FROM 3:45 TO 4:30 P. M.

Mr. Talmadge will state his platform PROMISES to the people of Georgia in certain, positive understandable terms.

Every PROMISE is one of grave and vast importance to you.

His most ardent ambition is to KEEP HIS PROMISE. He has always kept them and today his experience in public life gives every assurance that he will not fail you in this time of crucial necessity.

He is schooled and drilled in the agricultural problems of the people of the South and knows the farmers' needs from actual experience, training and contact with them from his boyhood on the farm until the present time. He demonstrated this while he was Commissioner of Agriculture and in his terms as Governor of Georgia; and he will continue to promise and keep them.

There is not a phase of State Government, meet and proper for the benefit of the people of Georgia, but what shall have his honest and capable support.

Mr. Talmadge will discuss plainly and ardently the question of the Negro and his attack on the ballot box of Georgia.

The Statesboro High School Band will play on this program.

Hear Governor Talmadge in Statesboro On All of These Issues on the 27th

Talmadge Campaign Committee Bulloch County

There are those who have been for a long time "sowing dragons' teeth" with which to gnaw out the vitals of "WHITE SUPREMACY" in the SOUTH; and who have assumed, and still do, that the Negro is equal and is entitled to equal rights and privileges with the white man. Southern belief and tradition have taught us that the Negro is no equal to the White Man; and that a separation of their political and social privileges must prevail.

We have erected in the South lasting monuments to the Soldiers of the Confederacy; and to the principles for which they fought. Practically every one of the Gallant Old Soldiers have passed away; and on the very eve of their final departure, from this earth and the land and people which they so bravely fought to save, there is an onrush of the Negro to push himself into the White Primary of Georgia, to place himself on a social pinnacle with the White Man; and to ravish the segregation laws of the State.

The people of Georgia are not prepared for this onslaught and will not have it.

Hear Governor Talmadge in Statesboro on all of these issues on the 27th.

FUTURE DEVELOPMENT OF STATE RESOURCES REAL QUESTION TO BE SETTLED IN PRIMARY

By Paul Stevenson

The race for governor is rapidly becoming complicated by "issues" some of the lesser ones being over-emphasized and some of the more important ones being hardly mentioned — except by one candidate.

Take the recent decisions of the United States Supreme Court on negro voting in state primaries. A decision of the Supreme Court of our country is final and conclusive. All the ranting and howling of candidates in Georgia will not have one iota of effect on the situation.

For this reason, this issue is being over-emphasized, thoughtful and sensible Georgians will agree. No one has mentioned it but back in the 1920's when the Neil primary law was passed by the legislature there were many able men who took the floor of the legislature and predicted at the time that the law never would stand the tests of the courts. But it was passed anyway and strangely enough was not attacked for a quarter of a century.

When this law was attacked in form. From the lowest federal court to the highest the decisions ruled that it was not constitutional. So — all the red gallus shaking, all the screaming and shouting and all the night shift riding in the state is not going to affect it.

In numerous counties in the state the addition of one factory will mean the difference between poverty and comfort.

That's the issue all of the candidates ought to be talking about not none — save Carmichael — seem to have given it much thought.

Georgians want to see this state keep step in the march of progress. But we are going to get nowhere if we elect trouble-makers and agitators to office. If we tell the world that we want demagogues and buffoons as governor, if we allow ourselves to be swayed by false arguments and false issues.

This is a vital moment in Georgia's history. We can elect a young and far-visioned candidate who sincerely is ready to put all his energies into a movement to help Georgia moving forward. Or else we can open the old political sores, renew the old personal grudge fights and fall back half a century in our long fight to get somewhere among the galaxy of states by naming one of the two candidates who are seeking to set the old scores and to recklessly squander the money that has accumulated in the State Treasury.

It's up to the voters. It's our state and we ought to know the candidates by this time.

machine is going to do to the farm labor of Georgia — both white and black?

Well, it's just going to paralyze it—that's all.

So here is where Jimmie Carmichael "a new factory for every county in Georgia" comes in.

Nothing is going to take care of the farm laborers thrown out of work by machines except the development of new factories in Georgia.

Homer Parker Dies In Atlanta

Homer C. Parker, Comptroller General of Georgia, died early Saturday in Georgia Baptist Hospital after an illness of several months. He was 61.

A former member of Congress from the First District, Parker had been prominent in Georgia politics for many years. He recently withdrew as a candidate to succeed himself in the July 17 election, giving ill health as his reason.

Funeral services were held at 5 p. m. Sunday at Spring Hill, Atlanta, with the Rev. Marshall Nixson and the Rev. E. E. Smith officiating. His body was brought to Statesboro where graveside services were held at 2 p. m. Monday. Pallbearers were H. T. Dobbs, Hugh Howell, W. W. Stribling, W. A. Lloyd, W. E. Mitchell, T. Walker, Jackson Guy Longshore and C. E. Moss.

An honorary escort led by Governor Ellis Arnall and state officials accompanied the body to Statesboro for the graveside services Monday. The pallbearers were: Barney Averett, S. J. Proctor, Herbert Hagin, Dave Turner, Waldo Floyd, Prince Preston, Frank Parker and Horace Smith.

Survivors include his wife, Mrs. Wilhelmina Love Parker and three children, Miss Martha L. Parker, Mrs. G. Smith Perry, Jr., both of Atlanta, and William Malarly Parker, of Winston-Salem, N. C., all by a former marriage to the late Mrs. Annie Laurie Mallory, of Macon, Ga.

He survived also by five grand children and four sisters. Parker began his career in Statesboro as a lawyer and served as Solicitor of the City Court from 1914 until 1917. He was elected Mayor in 1924, serving until 1927. In that year he was named Adjutant General of Georgia and served until 1931.

Twice the victim of the State's ing, Parker was a candidate for county unit system of voters in 1930, when he received a plurality of popular votes, but lost under the county unit system.

He was a member of the national House of Representatives from 1931 until 1934. In that year he was a candidate for reelection, receiving a plurality of votes again, but losing under the unit system.

In 1936 he was appointed Comptroller by former Gov. Eugene Talmadge, serving the balance of a term ending in January, 1937. In the 1940 primary he won an election as comptroller for the rally.

ALUMNUS OF MERCER

Born Sept. 25, 1885, Parker was a native of Baxley, Ga. He was educated at Mercer University, where he received a law degree in 1908.

When he withdrew as a candidate earlier this month, he left two candidates seeking the post of Comptroller General. They are Zack Cravay, former Wildlife Com missioner and Ed Dykes, Atlanta attorney.

Most of the offices at the State Capitol were closed out of respect to Parker. The flag was flown at half staff.

In a statement, Gov. Arnall said Parker's "record in public office had always been one of service and consideration. As Comptroller General, he established a record for collections of revenue and economic operation of his department."

Tobacco Farmers To Vote July 12

Approximately 4,000 persons are eligible to vote in the referendum marking quotas on flue-cured tobacco to be held Friday, July 12 (according to J. A. Banks, Chairman of the County Agricultural Conservation Committee. The referendum was called in accordance with the law, which provides for marketing quotas cannot be in effect unless approved by at least two-thirds of the producers voting in the referendum.

Marketing quotas furnish growers with a method of adjusting supply to demand and can help to provide fair prices to growers for the tobacco they can produce.

At the present time, flue-cured tobacco growers are producing more than the market can absorb. Marketing quotas afford the opportunity to adjust this supply to meet demand.

Any person who has an interest in the 1946 crop of flue-cured tobacco as an owner, tenant, or share cropper is entitled to vote in the referendum. Mr. Banks said "However no person is entitled to more than one vote even though he may be engaged in production of flue-cured tobacco in two or more communities, counties or States."

Mr. Banks explained that, if marketing quotas are approved, individual acreage allotment will be continued in 1947. Individual acreage allotments for 1947 will not be less than 80 percent of the 1946 allotment for any farm which has grown up to 5 percent of its allotted acreage in any one of the past three years. This allotment may be increased any time up to March 1, 1947, by the Secretary of Agriculture if the supply and demand situation warrants.

If quotas are approved, 50 percent of the party price will be available. Loans or other price supports cannot be made available until 1947 crop if growers disapprove quotas.

It was emphasized that the loan program affords growers the opportunity of obtaining loans based on grades. If the tobacco under loan is sold above the loan rate, the farmer participates in any profit which may be realized. Loans furnish a protection that eliminates some of the risks from tobacco growing.

The Federal government is no longer acting as agent for foreign governments in purchasing tobacco, and in the future loans can afford a real protection to growers against drastic price declines or losses.

Mr. Banks said Bulloch county's 1946 crop of flue-cured tobacco is indicated at approximately 6,000 acres.

THE DEXTER ALLEN POST NO. 90 American Legion, of Statesboro and Bulloch County have opened a Legion Club room on N. Main Street. The Club room is on the second floor over the U. S. Employment Service office.

John Darley has been employed to manage the new Club room and will be full time employee. The Club will be open from 2:30 P. M. to 11:00 P. M. All kinds of soft drinks, sandwiches and snacks will be served during the time the Club is open. Later it is planned to hold bingo games twice a week.

All members and their wives of the Dexter Allen Post are urged to take advantage of the Legion's new Club room.

More than 500 acres of peanuts in the Nevis community were dusted by plane last week as a number of peanut growers adopted the new and fast method.

However, many growers are using their cotton dusting equipment to apply the 300,000 pounds of sulphur purchased this season.

The plane method is proving satisfactory, especially in meeting the labor and machinery shortage.

C. A. Geiger, a Bulloch county farmer, has been dusting acres and other growers in Florida. He brought here to do the job of plane-dusting in this section. He charges three cents per pound to spray. It is estimated that the cost per acre is $3.30 for three dustings.

When a cotton picker makes an error, he takes his loss and tries again.

When a church member makes an error he goes to his preacher for consolation.

But when a newspaper makes an error—Right! It becomes public domain and the world knows about it.

Last week the Bulloch Herald made a mistake and we regret the rest of its days.
