A Verse For This Week

God give us men! A time like this demands strong minds, great hearts, great faith, ready hands. Men whom the lust of office does not kill; men whom the spoils of victory cannot buy; men who possess opinions and a will; men who have honor, and who will not let men who can stand before a demagogue and scorn his treacherous flatteries without winking . . . tall men, sun-crowned, who live above the fog.
—J. G. Holland.

Veterans Can't Do Better

This week the United States Veterans Administration is campaigning to impress upon veterans of World War II the importance of keeping up his National Service Life Insurance or reinstating his insurance if he allowed it to lapse with his discharge from the armed forces.

National Service Life Insurance is a government sponsored, non-profit program available only to the World War II veterans. When he entered the service he was given the privilege of taking out this insurance. Most service men did purchase the limit of $10,000 worth of "term" insurance with the premiums deducted from his base pay. With discharge from the service, a man was given a choice of either retaining his insurance or having it lapse.

The Veterans Administration is now urging these veterans to reinstate his policy. The veterans may reinstate it at any time before January, 1947, simply by paying two premiums and signing a statement that his health is as good as before he bought the policy. He may do this regardless of the date of lapse. The "term" policy may be converted to insurance on a permanent plan; 20-pay life, 30-pay life, ordinary life, or to a twenty-year endowment policy.

Last week the benefits to veterans were liberalized when President Truman signed the bill amending the National Life Insurance provisions including lump sum payment; insurance available to all

An Ambitious Program

The Statesboro Junior Chamber of Commerce has hired its way to the stars and knowing that bunch of young business men we'll bet our hat on them.

This week each member of the Jaycee organization received a letter from the new president, J. Brantley Johnson. In it is a list of projects submitted for the consideration of the club. The list was prepared by one of its members. It is an ambitious program and one worthy of careful consideration of all the people of Statesboro interested in the city's progress.

The projects suggested are:

1. Sponsor a Vernal and T. B. drive similar to the one sponsored by the Savannah Jaycees.
2. Put new Jaycee "Welcome" signs at each entrance to the city.
3. Canvass all businesses in Statesboro and total the weekly payroll.
4. Put on a membership drive to make the Statesboro club a 100-member club.
5. Have a "ladies night" every

Know Your Library

I wonder how many of us know and really appreciate our library as much as we should. Did you know that our library is a Regional White Nevill Vacation Reading Library and includes both Bryan Club — GEA Journal, Feb. 46, and Bulloch counties? That it has C. S. Hubbard Books in Reach of a population of service area of 28,000? Georgian, GEA Journal, Feb. 46.

Every summer the library sponsors Vacation Reading Clubs. These are appropriately chosen and appealing to the summer and after school hours during the school term. Here the children gather to have their favorite stories told and read and by the way children's books are so interesting, educational and simply full of the most delightful pictures.

When I think of how dull and uninteresting books were just a few years ago, well it isn't surprising that more and more children are taking advantage of our library.

The newest addition to the library equipment is a B & W record player which is used in the story hours. This is very popular with the children. Some of their favorite records are: "Peter and the Wolf," "Jack and the Beanstalk," "The Jungle Book," by Kipling, "Robin Hood," "The One Stringed Fiddle" and "Puss in Boots." A number of records have been ordered to add to this collection.

The Almanac Says the Weather This Week On . . .
TODAY, August 8, will be rainy. Fishing will be poor all day.
FRIDAY, August 9, will be rainy. Fishing will be good about 11:15 p.m.
SATURDAY, August 10, will be clear. Fishing about like yesterday.
SUNDAY, August 11, will be clear and cool. Fishing will be no better than Friday and Saturday.
MONDAY, August 12, will be clear and cool. Fishing will be poor.
TUESDAY, August 13, will be clear and cool. Fishing will be better.
WEDNESDAY, August 14, will be clear. Fishing will be better.

Left-handed people, like tall people, have their troubles. Have you ever seen a left-handed person open a check book to write a check? Think about it for a moment and you'll realize how awkward it is. There is a bank in Atlanta which features left-handed checkbooks for its left-handed customers. Wallace Cobb of the Bulloch County Bank says they have some left-handed customers, but none have ever asked for left-handed check books. "A left-handed check book would be a pretty expensive service to have some left-handed checkbooks printed up."

There is a community in Virginia, famous for its hams, which is famous for its left-handed ham. It is called "Left-Handed Hams for Sale, OK, laugh. We did too. Here is the story. Livestock growers may check on it and confirm it. It is said (we do not know) that a hog never sleeps on his left side. When he takes his rest he always reclines on his right side. The constant up and down and contact with the hard earth makes the muscles and tissue in his right side tight. Thus hams cut from the left side are tender. Capitalizing on this fact (if it is a fact) the people of Virginia advertise "Left-Handed Hams." Editor's note: it makes a good story anyway.)

PICKED UP IN THE BARBERSHOP

Here's one we picked up in Dedrick Waters' Barber Shop. While Slim Waller was trimming our thinning locks, Eddie Grooms (Little Eddie) came in. We were talking about the local tobacco market going wild. Slim was smoking a pipe that could pass as a Paratrooper Sergeant. We made mention of an uncle of ours, Uncle Jim Fordham, up near Graymont, Summit who makes his own smoke tobacco. Uncle Jim used to take tobacco that he raised and cured on his farm and put it in the oven of the kitchen stove and crisp it, crumble it up and mix syrup with it and get a smoking tobacco. He gave us a pipe-full

On Thursday of each week a delightful "Story Hour" is held in the library. The hour is at 10:30 during the summer and after school hours during the school term. Here the children gather to have their favorite stories told and read and by the way children's books are so interesting, educational and simply full of the most delightful pictures.

Good Books Are True Friends

WHILE YOU WERE GONE is a colorful history of the most important years that our country has ever lived through. The book was originally planned to be of service primarily to the veteran, "How You Came Home" program, such a project as is suggested by its title. Advance reactions indicate, however, that this symposium is well greeted as a work of popular history, of as much interest to the citizen as it is to the veteran. In this book edited by Jack Goodman, outstanding writers and journalists have reported the war years: How we felt about the war; What we talked about; What happened in Science; What happened in sports; What we saw, read and heard: The news, papers, radios, magazines, best books, movies, plays, etc.; and last plans for veterans' return. The book is a must for every veteran.

ATTENTION VETERANS
Are your loved ones protected? Uncle Sam has made insurance available to you on the best plan in the world. National Service Life Insurance has been endorsed by the civilian insurance companies and associations of America. Be sure yours is in good order. If you have dropped yours, you may now reinstate. Don't delay. A few problems may now be handled easier. Mail your payments to the VA Branch Office, Atlanta 3, Georgia, or go in person to your local office at 21-1-2 E. Main St., Statesboro, Ga.

PAINTING SUGGESTIONS

A can of paint can do much to brighten dark, dungeon-like closets. The closet should reflect the color tones of the bedroom and if the bedroom is papered, closet walls should be painted to match a color or colors in the wall paper.

SIRUP—SYRUP

The word sirup (the other spelling is "syrup") comes from the Arabic word shirab, "to drink," the name word which gives us "sherbet."

The popular pronunciation is "sirup," especially in the maple syrup country. A few dictionaries have at last begun to recognize "sirup," and list it as second choice. Cultured usage, however, prefers: SEAR-up.

The "sirup" pronunciation apparently is the result of the resemblance of the air of sirup to the title air, but if the reader will check the dictionaries, he will find that the "i" of sirup has a breve above it—a short, curved mark which gives to "i" the short sound as heard in "mirior, mirror, irritate."

On the other hand, the word sir is given as "sar," to rhyme with "as" as in "saw," to indicate the first syllable of sirup when pronounced with the short "i." It is well founded, for Merriam Webster's states that, in parts of America where "r" is not omitted, the vowel sound weary, for instance, "r" is not noticeably different from that in sirup, lyric, mirror," in-

HOME-RAISED BEEF

A 400-pound beef calf will furnish about 225 to 250 pounds of meat when dressed out, and feed costs for such an animal are usually kept to a minimum on Georgia farms by providing grazing and home-grown feeds. In addition to contributing to a "live-at-home" program, such a project will release other meat supplies to famine areas overseas.

Tillman-Booth Vows Made In Lovely Garden Wedding

By Ruth Rebecca Franklin

Miss Margaret Helen Tillman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Tillman, was married to Philip E. Booth, of Hanover, N. H., in a ceremony marked by unusual beauty last Saturday afternoon. The vows were pledged in the garden of the Tillman home before approximately 400 guests.

The lovely blonde bride, a graduate of Wesleyan College, wore a formal wedding gown of white starched lace, which had a net long sleeves, and a short train. She carried an old-fashioned white fan, which was showered with rose petals and stепенotis. Her shoulder-length hair was crowned by a Mary Queen of Scots cap and an illusion veil.

Mr. Tillman gave his daughter in marriage.

For Veterans Only

We strongly urge that all veterans think twice before allowing their National Service Life Insurance to lapse at discharge.

It's the best insurance you can buy for the money and insurance is one of the finest protections you can give your family.

If you have dropped your N. S. L. Insurance, you may reinstate it by simply paying two monthly premiums and signing a statement of good health. But it must be done before Jan. 1, 1947.

Contact your local Veterans Administration office in the Oliver Building at 21-1-2 East Main St., Statesboro. They will be glad to help you reinstate your N. S. L. I. policy.

Booth, a teacher at Smith College and his uncle, Ross Booth of Manchester, N. H., and Mrs. Booth.

The bride's mother wore a long blue dress with orchid corsage. Punch, ice cream and cake were served on the lawn, after which the guests were directed through the bride's home to see the wedding table and gifts. The three-tiered wedding cake was topped by a bride and groom. It stood in the center of the dining room table which was covered by a Chinese lace tablecloth. Silver candelabra stood at each end of the table, and white satin ribbons stretched from the table corners to the chandelier. Garlands of white asters were used in decoration.

Those who assisted in serving were Misses Betty Tillman, Shirley Tillman, Joan Dekle, Jane Dekle, Carolyn Bowen, Betty Lovett, Annette Marsh, Jennie Durden, West, Alva Mae Martin, Patty Adams, Patsy Odum, Donnell Thompson and Sue Simmons, and Mesdames Wayne Culbreth, Don Thompson, J. R. Kemp, Leroy Akins, C. H. Remington, Arnold Anderson, and George Groover.

Directing the guests were Mrs. Julian Tillman, Mrs. Harvey Dekle, Miss Jeanette Dekle, Mrs. Herschel V. Franklin, Miss Rebecca

The double ring ceremony, performed by Elder V. F. Agan, took place in the garden recess between the J. G. Tillman and Julian Tillman homes, before a circular plot of flowers and shrubs. White asters and crepe myrtle, in urns, were additional decoration. An ivy chain entwined with white asters was linked to the pine trees that dot the lawn, to provide an enclosure for the spectators.

The bride and her attendants emerged from her parents' home, wearing the green and white patterned gown and his attendants came from the Julian Tillman home. The attendants formed a broad V before the improvised altar. Professor Booth, who was the officiating minister, read the vows and the bride and groom were pronounced man and wife.

Music before and during the ceremony was furnished by Mrs. Jimmy Thomas, of Dublin, and Mrs. Charles C. Royall, of Augusta. Assisting with music during the ceremony were Mrs. Waldo Floyd, Mrs. George Johnston, Jack Avery, Mrs. Melrose Kennedy, and Mrs. F. L. Barnes.

The reception followed immediately in the evening. In the wedding party was the groom's mother, who wore a long dress of figured material with a corsage of white asters; his aunt, Dr. Marion

Meat Grading

Before the war, there was an extra really top grade called "S. Prime." But during the war and since, this grade of meat has been so scarce that what there is goes under the name of the next grade—U. S. Choice, the highest of the four grades sold on the retail market. Next in line, and marketed in greater volume than Choice is U. S. Good. The third grade is U. S. Commercial, and the lowest grade usually sold in retail markets is U. S. Utility. There are still lower grades, but these seldom are seen in retail markets as they are better adapted to other uses. If the meat is federally graded, the name will be stamped in harmless purple ink on the side of each principal cut of meat. Small packing plants often grade their own meat in accordance with the same standards but not using federal names. Top quality is Double A. Next is A, next B, and next C. Comparing with federally inspected meat, Double A is about the same quality as Choice.

Careful Dishwasher

The careful dishwasher guards against the risks of scratching the surface and injuring the metal trim by avoiding harsh scouring powders, steel wool, metal cleaners, strong soaps, ammonia and washing soda. She uses a mild soap and she lets the dishes soak in soft warm water, then rinses them in clear boiling water. Putting dishes away involves breakage hazards too. Store dishes in piles according to size. Take care to set each place down so that it won't scratch the face of the dish beneath. The unlabeled foot of a dish may scrape the surface of the one below it. That's why it's a good idea always to lift a place up from a pile of plates carefully. Protect fine china by putting pads or soft cloth or paper between the stacked plates.

Year-Round Skating

Outdoor and indoor ice skating for all-year-round recreation is well beyond the postwar "dream" stage as a result of recent advances in both air conditioning and mechanical refrigeration. The correct combination of tailored indoor temperatures and risks with mechanically produced ice makes indoor ice skating entirely feasible in summer as well as winter. At the same time, it now is possible mechanically to maintain outdoor rinks in many sections of the country so that the ice is in first class condition for skating 12 months of every year. Air conditioned inside rinks would provide comfort for the skater as well as constant temperatures. The use of mechanical refrigeration systems, it was pointed out.

Nevils News

The regular meeting of the Neils Vacation Readers' Club was held Saturday afternoon with a large crowd present.

An interesting program was arranged by the program chairman and her committee. The main feature of the program was the presentation of a play by Alton Martin. The program chairman announced that her committee would have a surprise for next Saturday afternoon.

All members were urged to be present and was asked to invite a friend.

Plans for the annual picnic will be discussed at this meeting. We would like for you to have a voice in these plans.

If you plan to get a certificate this summer, you need to read. After the program and business meeting a delicious drink and cookies were served by the hospitality committee, Miss Maude White, Mrs. M. D. May, and Supt. Robert F. Young.

You are invited to share our fun this summer. BETTY FUTCH Publicity Chm.

FEED PROGRAM

Small grain acreage in Richmond County has increased 256 percent during the past 15 years. Hay acreage more than doubled during this time. Even at this rate, total feed production is not keeping up with the expanding livestock industry in the county. There are now 70 percent more livestock in the county than in 1929.

GIN DRY COTTON

Even though a cotton gin may be equipped with driers, this does not mean that the equipment can dry extremely wet cotton. Cotton containing more than 12 to 15 percent moisture cannot be handled satisfactorily. With cotton prices at present levels, Georgia farmers who fail to obtain good ginning work this year stand to lose as much as $7 to $25 per bale.

DID YOU KNOW—

That all National Service Life Insurance for Georgia, South Carolina, Florida, Alabama, and Tennessee is now centralized in Branch No. 5, Atlanta? And that you may now mail payments there? And that you may go in person to the Statesboro contact office at 21-1/2 East Main St. on all insurance problems?

That a lapsed National Service Life Insurance policy may now be reinstated without red tape? If you have dropped your National Service Life Insurance, you may now get it back by simply paying two monthly premiums and signing a statement of good health. But do so NOW! This privilege ends on January 1, 1947.

That you should give your "N-Number"? In all matters concerning insurance, be sure to state your "N-Number" and your army serial number. If you don't have your "N-Number," ask for it!

REGISTER NEWS

By Margaret White

Say kids, are you lonely, wanting, wishing and waiting for the day when school begins, so you'll be with your friends once more at Register High?

Well here's your opportunity. Come to Play Night at the gym every two weeks.

Friday night, July 26, we had around forty persons present, besides the parents who attended. While others played cards, talked and welcomed old acquaintances and class mates.

The latter part of the evening practically everyone joined in a game of "Three Deep" which might add proves fatal to us girls with slipper soles. Nevertheless we slid right on through the enjoyment.

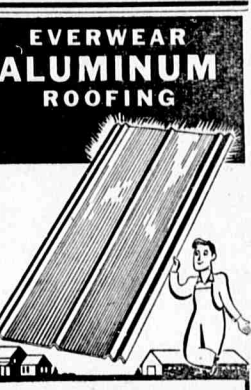

Our hostesses for the evening were Jo Ann Bird, and Jan Gay, the host being H. J. Atkins. Their parents were responsible for the
