REGISTER NEWS

By Margaret White

Say kids, are you lonely, wanting, wishing and waiting for the day when school begins, so you'll be with your friends once more at Register High?

Well here's your opportunity. Come to Play Night at the gym every two weeks.

Friday night, July 26, we had around forty persons present, besides the parents who attended. While others played cards, talked and welcomed old acquaintances and class mates.

The latter part of the evening practically everyone joined in a game of "Three Deep" which might add proves fatal to us girls with slipper soles. Nevertheless we slid right on through the enjoyment.

Our hostesses for the evening were Jo Ann Bird, and Jan Gay, the host being H. J. Atkins. Their parents were responsible for the Assuming the lead in a program to inform the citizens of Statesboro on the merits of the City-Manager form of municipal government, the Statesboro Junior Chamber of Commerce is asking that the people consider the following questions in order to test their interest in the city government.

"Who is the governing body of the city? Can you name the members of the city council? What are their terms of office? What is the Mayor's salary? What is the salary we pay the members of the city council? How much money is expended by the city each year? Who hires and fires city employees?"

How many policemen does the city have? How many firemen? What are their salaries? What are the requirements to be a police officer? How much training do they receive? How is the school board appointed? Who are the members of the school board?

"Have you ever attended a meeting of the city council? Have you ever read the minutes of the city council? Who is the judge of the Police Court? What is the board of indebitness of the city of Statesboro?"

According to the sponsors of the City-Manager plan of city government these are a few questions picked at random. They ask how many can you answer.

"This is your city," they say. "And you should know what makes it tick."

Cohen Anderson and Linton G. Lanier qualified as the only candidates in the special election for Judge of the City Court of Statesboro to be held in Bulloch County, Tuesday, August 20.

The special election is called to nominate a judge to fill the vacancy left with the election of Prince H. Preston, Jr. to Congress.

Thomas J. Armstrong, veteran of World War II, has been named Statesboro Mayor. Mr. Armstrong has two years experience as a military police officer, and before he assumed his duties here as motorcycle policeman, he worked with the Walter Aldred Co.

Forest Heights Country Club Plan

Beautiful Building For Knoll Top

Preliminary drawings and proposed plans for the Forest Heights Country Club building have been drawn by Walter Aldred, architect. The above drawing shows the east elevation of the building.

The proposed site for the building is on the crest of a high knoll near the entrance of the 600-acre tract of land purchased by the club. The site overlooks the area where the golf course is to be built.

The building will contain a main lounge 30 feet by 50 feet opening onto a plaza twelve feet by 50 feet and a terrace. A grille, 16 feet by 16 feet is connected to the kitchen, 12 feet by 22 feet. Other rooms include a reception room 12 feet by 18 feet; cloak room, 8 feet by 10 feet; ladies' lockers, 13 feet by 14 feet. The men's lockers will be located in the basement. Offices will be on the second floor.

A cover drive opens into a vestibule on the terrace side of the club building. A golf shop will be at the end of the building.

Mr. C. A. Mays, golf architect is here this week laying out the golf course. Work will begin on construction with the availability of equipment.

A golf professional and greens keeper is expected this week to work with Mr. Mays in laying out the course, and supervising the construction work.

Applications are now being accepted for new members to the club.

A Verse For This Week

When faith and hope fail, as they do sometimes, we must trust charity, which is love in action. We may speculate no more on our duty, but simply do it. When we have done it, however blindly, perhaps heaven will show us the reason why.—D. M. Clark.

The City Manager Plan

In our lethargy and disinterest, which we are destroying something that is the lifeblood of our community. Recently the Statesboro Junior Chamber of Commerce, made up of the young business men of Statesboro, mailed out a letter asking for the opinion of fifty citizens of Statesboro on the question of a City Manager for this community.

Out of the fifty persons addressed only six were enough interested to express an opinion. The young people were about ready to throw up their hands in disgust and forget the whole idea of "community service."

Now comes the Jaycees thinking that perhaps it's a matter of furnishing the facts about the City Manager Plan. With that in mind we will, for several weeks, feature articles and editorials on the Plan. Over 600 communities in 49 different counties are now operating under the full-fledged council-manager form of government. They range from Cincinnati, Ohio, with a population of over 400,000 to Bendix, N. J. with 40 inhabitants.

Those who live in these cities, towns, and villages are proud of them. They are proud of the fact that they are part of a community that is making progress.

Government costs only as much as it must cost, and not as much as a politician claims it costs. They insist that the man or woman who lives in these communities can be sure of having the government do all the things for him that need to be done, and that it will do them well. And finally, they say, that the citizen in these communities can always be sure of getting a fair hearing for any proposal to change what the government is doing. In short, they say, that in their home towns government not only belongs to the people, but it is run entirely in their interest.

Political scientists and experts in government consider the manager plan accepted political doctrine, and its principals are taught in all American Universities.

The city manager plan has come to be known as "The American Plan" of government. How does "The American Plan" work?

To begin with, it is better to call the plan the council-manager plan, because the council, which appoints the manager, is even more important than the manager in operation of the plan.

Briefly, a city is considered as having the manager plan if the people choose a legislative body, city of Statesboro.

Losing Our Greatest Asset

We don't notice it so much because the thing is so gradual. But mothers and fathers are aware of it for it is their sons and daughters who are doing it.

The migration of the young people out of Statesboro and Bulloch county and Georgia.

Young people who would like to stay here and make their home and rear their families in the communities they knew in their childhood, moving out seeking better economic opportunities.

Between 1920 and 1940 more than a million youth between the ages of 15 and 30 moved out of Georgia—moved out to contribute their talents, their energies, their money, and their states.

Figures on Statesboro and Bulloch county are not available, but one can think for a moment and recall some young boy or girl who has moved away from Statesboro and is now working in Atlanta, St. Louis, Macon, and out of the state.

The greatest asset we have, lost to our community.

But we are losing this asset because what the young people wanted most, we couldn't offer. They are leaving because their home communities and Georgia have failed to provide conditions which would give them the opportunity to progress.

Young people have a tremendous amount of courage and for the most part a great amount of ambition. They finish high school with visions of accomplishment. The complete college with equipment which makes them more and more valuable to a community.

It is then that they find we have failed them because we have not provided them with the economic opportunity that would allow them to go ahead, in keeping with their ambition and their courage.

We have not made their home community sufficiently attractive a place in which to live, in comparison with the homes and communities in other parts of the Georgia.

TERMINAL LEAVE PAY FOR ENLISTED MEN

"Terminal Leave Pay."

The board, which phrase meant nothing to the plain ordinary enlisted man who fought in this or any war.

Now it means that he, too, may receive pay for that part of his unexpired furlough, up to 120 days, that he had to his credit when he was discharged from the service.

Until President Truman signed the Terminal Leave Pay Bill last week only officers of the armed forces were paid for their unexpired furlough time accumulated during the war.

Stripped of all its legislative "book" language, here is what the bill will mean to the enlisted man: He will be paid for every day of his unexpired furlough of the furlough to which he was entitled—but which he did not get.

He will also get 70 cents a day for subsistence, and if he was in the first three pay grades of Sergeant he will get an additional $1.25 per day for quarters.

But the veteran will not receive

United States.

Every day sees young people opening up new business here in Statesboro, in Bulloch County and Georgia. We offer these young men and women very little encouragement in launching these new enterprises. They succeed by the sheer force of their own ambition and courage. If they fail, they fail alone.

We beat our brains out trying to get industries to come to small communities like Statesboro. We make all sorts of concessions in the form of free taxes, free buildings, and labor.

Have you ever heard of a committee going to a young Statesboro man and offering to help him start his business.

Industries improve our income, but it takes years for industrial development. We've been trying for years to woo industries into a matter of weeks. And while we were getting the few industries here, count the number of young people who have gone out to business in launching these new enterprises. They succeed by the sheer force of their own ambition and courage. If they fail, they fail alone.

We beat our brains out trying to get industries to come to small communities like Statesboro. We make all sorts of concessions in the form of free taxes, free buildings, and labor.

Have you ever heard of a committee going to a young Statesboro man and offering to help him start his business.

Industries improve our income, but it takes years for industrial development. We've been trying for years to woo industries into a matter of weeks. And while we were getting the few industries here, count the number of young people who have gone out to business in launching these new enterprises. They succeed by the sheer force of their own ambition and courage. If they fail, they fail alone.

VETERANS CORNER

NEW NSLI POLICIES NOW AVAILABLE

Sweeping legislative changes liberating National Service Life Insurance policies now make NSLI unqualifiedly the best of all insurance investments.

NSLI is now available to all honorably discharged veterans of World War II, whether or not they carried it while in uniform; lump sum payments may be made available for beneficiaries; veterans may name any beneficiary they wish, including their estate or a corporation; several new type policies are provided and provision for disability payments have been added.

Even before the new changes, insurance authorities were agreed that NSLI was the best insurance investment available. The new changes increase the flexibility of the policies to make them fit the needs of any former serviceman regardless of his financial or family status.

The following questions cover the highlights of the revised NSLI insurance program:

Q. What types of NSLI are available under the amendment?

A. Those who served in the armed forces between October 8, 1910 and September 2, 1945 are entitled to NSLI in any amount up to $10,000, whether he has ever had NSLI or not.

Q. How do total disability payments work out under NSLI's new provisions?

A. A veteran who is totally disabled for as long as six months is paid $50 a month on a $10,000 policy, or $500 a month for each $1,000. To obtain this additional pay provision, the insured must make application and pay an additional premium.

Q. May the entire amount of sum at the death of the policy be paid in a lump sum?

A. Yes. Or the veteran may elect to have payments made on a monthly basis.

Q. May a policy holder name more than one beneficiary?

A. Yes; the share of each may be clearly stated. (Example: 50 per cent, 40 per cent, 10 per cent.)

SIGNED,

N. H. FOSS.

TO THE VOTERS OF BULLOCH COUNTY:-

In a recent advertisement of my opponent he makes several statements on which I wish to comment. He states "we understand that Mr. Anderson is basing his claim to this office on the fact that he served as a War Veteran in World War II, having been stationed in Alabama during the full time of service." I served almost three years in the U. S. Army Infantry and at no time had anything to say about where I was stationed. As you know, we were not our bosses in the Army but simply served where we were told to serve.

He further states in his advertisement, "Mr. Anderson is now in the office of Col. A. M. Deal, of Statesboro taking instructions under Mr. Deal, and by reason of that fact my opponent is now drawing ninety ($90.00) dollars per month from the government." I am not receiving instructions under Col. Deal but am a partner of Col. Deal. I wish further to state that I AM NOT drawing $90.00 a month from the government and wish to denounce this as untrue.

Sincerely,

COHEN ANDERSON

To the Voters of Bulloch County

I hereby announce my candidacy for Judge of the City Court of Statesboro in a Special Primary Election to be held on August 20th, 1946.

In the County Primary of Bulloch County held during the early part of this year I was a candidate to succeed myself as Judge of the City Court of Statesboro for another term and Mr. Prince H. Preston, Jr. was my opponent. In that primary Mr. Preston won the nomination but later he resigned as the nominee for Judge of the City Court of Statesboro after he was nominated for Congress for this District and that left a vacancy in the City Court Judgeship. Having gone to the expense and cost, which is always very heavy in making a race, after Mr. Preston resigned, I felt like, under the circumstances, that I should be declared nominee without the necessity and cost of another primary.

Mr. Cohen Anderson, who is now my opponent in this Special Election, decided to become a candidate to this Office and insisted on a Special Primary being held. We understand that Mr. Anderson is basing his claim to this office on the fact that he served as a War Veteran in World War II.

Mr. Anderson is now in the office of Col. A. M. Deal, of Statesboro, taking instructions under Mr. Deal and by reason of that fact my opponent is now drawing or will draw from the government ninety dollars per month and my authority for this is my opponent, and if he should be elected, this $90.00 would be forfeited and he would not receive it, and my authority for this is the Federal Government.

A good many of my friends, including a large number of voters who did not vote for me in the other Primary, have insisted that I make this race in the Special Primary for August 20th as they felt like under the circumstances, I should have the office for one more term. If I am elected for another term I shall not ask for it again.

I earnestly solicit your active support in this Special Primary Election and I assure you that I shall appreciate your vote and influence in my behalf.

YOURS RESPECTFULLY,

LINTON G. LANIER

THE BULLOCH HERALD

DEDICATED TO THE PROGRESS OF STATESBORO AND BULLOCH COUNTY

Statesboro, Georgia, Thursday, August 22, 1946

NUMBER 40

VOLUME VI

HEAD GEORGIA EDITORS - New officers of the Georgia Press Association, elected "at the group's sixtieth annual session at Savannah Saturday, are, left to right, Belmont Dennis, editor and publisher of the Covington News and publisher of the Walton News, President, Letitia Coleman, publisher of the Bulloch Herald, Treasurer, and June W. Norwood, editor and publisher of the Lowndes County News, at Valdosta, and the Gold Leaf, at Hahira, Vice President.

Bulloch Herald Wins First Prize For Writing Best Editorial In Georgia

By TOM HAM, Journal Staff Writer

People in Dalton, Cartersville, Statesboro, Griffin, Newman, Commerce and Monroe could be just a little prouder of their local newspapers today.

Papers in these cities were announced as winners of the Georgia Press Association trophies of the year for journalistic excellence. And indeed, Dalton came through with three prizes.

To Publisher L. L. Lee and Editor Mark Pace, of the Dalton News and Dalton Citizen, went the W. G. Sullivan, the Hal M. Stanley and the J. C. Williams trophies. The first is awarded to the newspaper "doing the most constructive work for its community." The second is for the weekly with "the most attractive typographical appearance, and the third is for "the weekly with the best editorial page."

Up in Cartersville are readers of W. R. Frier's Barrow Herald can consider that their town has outstanding local news coverage in the state. The Herald copied the W. Trox Bankston trophy for the weekly publishing the "largest percentage of local news."

And in Statesboro the readers of The Bulloch Herald, published by Leode and Jim Coleman, can say they had the best editorial of the year, for either weekly or daily papers, and second place for the Best Editorial Page.

To Major Quincy Melton's Daily News of Griffin went the War Cry's $50 cash prize for publishing the "best religious editorial." The "most fearless editorial award" the Theron S. Shope trophy, went to George and Herbert McNabb's Newman Herald.

Albert S. Hartley Jr.'s Commerce News took the Sam W. Wilkes trophy for the weekly with the "best displayed advertising." And the Emory University Journalism division trophy for the "weekly best interpreting significant facts to its community by local pictures," went to the Walton News in Monroe, edited by Ed. A. Caldwell, owned by Belmont Dennis.

At the close of the sales on Thursday, August 22, the Statesboro Tobacco Market has sold 12,400,000 pounds, averaging 44 cents.

The Statesboro Market will remain open until all the tobacco in this section is sold. The warehousemen state that there is plenty of tobacco for sale.

The boys enjoyed quite a variety of sports, including horseshoes, ping-pong, shuffle board, badminton, checkers, boxing, soft ball and swimming. In the minor sports Wilson Groover, of Stillson, won the checkers contest and Deryl DeLoach and Denver Futch, of Nevils, won the shuffle board contest. In total points scored Stillson was second in the field of minor sports, among ten schools with 225 boys represented.

In the boxing matches Deryl DeLoach was winner of the "weekly" 100-pound class and Edward Barnard in the 115-120 pound class, both of these boys being from the Nevils chapter. In the swimming and diving contest Nevils walked off with 14 out of 25 places. Billy Dutton, first place in the straight front dive, half twist and back dive; second place in the forward flip, and third place in the back stroke. Edward Barnard won the backstroke, three places in the dives, fourth in the underwater swim. Franklin Cressy won the free underwater and Jack Branner took second place in two of the dives.

The Stillson chapter also took second place in the water polo, losing to the champs, Millen, after going to the canteen and loading up on cold drinks and candy just before game time.

Two more elections will be held between now and Jan. 1st, and then the people of Statesboro and Bulloch county can forget politics for a spell. The remaining elections to be held are: General election in November and the Mayor's and Council race in December. (This should be hot!)

PECAN BUDDING DEMONSTRATION TO BE HELD TUESDAY AFTERNOON

A pecan budding demonstration will be held on Mrs. Homer Simmons' farm, about four miles north of Statesboro on Route 80, Tuesday afternoon, August 27 at 5 p.m. C. D. Bohler, who will conduct the demonstration, cut back the trees for this top working in the spring. Buds of the variety desired will be set in the wood grown on the trunk this season.

Many pecan growers have trees of objectional varieties or varieties that do not produce and would like to get these old trees in production the quickest way possible. Experiment stations recommend top working the old grove over cutting the trees down and starting with new settings.

Georgia homemakers should do everything possible to conserve and preserve food for their family needs.

Total timber and property damage from forest fires last year was estimated at nearly 27 million dollars.

Lost Ring Turns Up In Bag of Potatoes

If the 1944 graduate of the Statesboro High School who has the initials of "R. N." will call at the Bulloch Herald office we will give him the ring.

This ring was found in a bag of potatoes bought in Savannah, Ga. by Mrs. P. B. Hart, of Augusta, and the sister of Mrs. Barney Wilson of Statesboro.

Mrs. Hart was shopping in Savannah last week and bought a bag of potatoes. When she returned to Augusta and took the potatoes out of the bag she found the ring.
