Farm Bureau Seeks Loan Unit For Tobacco

Bulloch tobacco growers who are members of the county Farm Bureau have indicated a strong desire to have the Tobacco Cooperative Stabilization Corporation established and ready for use here when the Georgia market opens, according to Byron Dyer, county agent.

This organization enables growers to obtain loans up to 90 per cent of the parity value of the tobacco. Upon granting a loan the Cooperative processes the tobacco for holding until a market is found. The grower is paid the 90 per cent parity the day the tobacco goes on the block for sale. If the Cooperative can sell the tobacco for a higher price later, the grower is paid the additional amount. This gives the grower everything to gain and nothing to lose, Mr. Dyer said.

Details of the price support organization are being discussed at Farm Bureau meetings this month and many growers are joining the Bureau in order to obtain the benefits which can be gained by membership. The Bureau is anxious to assure the authorities that they desire the Cooperative established here and available for use if tobacco prices decline below the 90 per cent parity level.

Under the cooperative program the grower puts his crop on the market as usual. When the sale is made he has the same privilege as in the past of accepting or rejecting the bid. If the price bid is below 90 per cent of the government established parity price according to grade, the grower may request that the tobacco be put into the loan. Regardless of the price, he receives his check for the 90 per cent parity price, just as if some company had bought the tobacco.

"Red" Roberts, golf professional of the Forest Heights Country Club, placed twelfth in a group of 35 golfers in the qualifying rounds of the Southeastern district at Ponte Vedra, Fla., last week end. They played to qualify for the National golf tournament to be held at St. Louis on June 12. Roberts shot an 82 and a 72.

At a meeting of several members of the committee of the Bulloch Red Cross here Monday afternoon the work being done by Mrs. J. D. Fletcher, executive secretary and home worker of the Bulloch county chapter, was approved following her report of the Southeastern Red Cross Institute held in Atlanta June 2-6.

Mrs. Fletcher for some time has been doing double duty as home service worker, which is the handling of the needs of veterans and their families in desperate circumstances, and as executive secretary.

County Welfare Office
And AAA Office Moved
To New Locations

The office of the County Welfare director has been moved from the court house to a newly-erected building on the west side of North College street, just off West Main, Miss Sara Hall, welfare director, announced this week.

Another move was made this week was the removal of the AAA office on West Main to the old Bank of Statesboro building on East Main street.

Morris McLemore, home-town boy who has made good with the sports staff of the Atlanta Journal, was in Statesboro over the week end and wrote the accompanying story about baseball here and in the Ogeechee League.

His story was printed in Wednesday's edition of the Journal. Feeling that it is of interest to local readers, we reprint it here.

While in Statesboro, Morris and his wife, who is a member of the Journal society staff, visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. R. McLemore. Morris was also a guest of the Rotary Club at his meeting Monday.

About 17 years have passed since a certain soft drink concern built this city's most pleasing edifice kerpunk in the middle of the municipal baseball diamond.

Since then, youngsters of the immediate region have used the bats left over from the days of Dicey Proctor and Mule Smith to hit rocks at each other and to beat upon the earth, encouraging red-wiggler fish bait to rise to the surface and suicide.

These happy pursuits did not create baseball players. Atomic Scientist Speaks Monday

Dr. William H. Jones, a prominent Southern scientist and faculty member at Emory University, will address the Rotary Club Monday at 1:30 p.m. His address on the subject of "Atomic Energy" will be made in the Georgia Theatre and the public is invited.

Dr. Jones is associate professor of chemistry at Emory University and former president of the Georgia Section of the American Chemical Society.

He holds degrees from Emory and Princeton, and was active in atom bomb research work during the war. He was Laboratory Director for the Ferrel Corporation at Oak Ridge, Tenn., for more than a year.

The scientist was born in Waycross and entered Emory University in 1920, graduating with a Bachelor of Science degree in 1924. From Emory he went to Princeton where he was an instructor in chemical research while working on his Masters degree. He received this degree in 1925, and was awarded his Ph.D. in 1929. He is a member of Phi Beta Kappa, honorary scholastic fraternity.

Together with several other Emory scientists who were connected with atom bomb research, Dr. Jones has been active in urging world-wide control of atomic discoveries as a measure against an atom bomb armament race and another world war.

LOCAL CHAPTER OF LEAGUE OF WOMEN VOTERS SEEKS
CHAPTER IN STATE GROUP

A petition to recognize the Statesboro chapter of the League of Women Voters will be presented to the State organization of that group next week by Mrs. W. Edges, acting chairman of the local chapter. According to Mrs. Edge the State organization will meet in Milledgeville June 19-20 and at this time the local group will ask that it be chartered as a member of the State organization.

The first meeting of the Statesboro chapter was held Friday afternoon at the court house and approval of the chapter by-laws was made.

All women of voting age are urged to join, according to Mrs. Edge. Membership dues are $1 per year and are payable to Mrs. Jim Coleman, who has been elected treasurer.

Dr. John Mooney Tells Rotary of Health Problems

"Even when the annex to the Bulloch County Hospital is completed we'll be 40 beds short of what the county really needs," Dr. John Mooney told members of the Rotary Club at its regular meeting here Monday.

Dr. Mooney expressed that there has been a shortage of beds at the hospital vacant and available for emergencies. "We'll get along," he said, "but we must be prepared... there'll be a disaster. Another tornado, a bug will wreck and we'll need beds."

Dr. Mooney named some of the problems that confront Statesboro and Bulloch county, stressing the great need of a fully-staffed health department for the county. He commended the present health department staff for the work they are doing under many handicaps.

He explained that the doctors in Statesboro and Bulloch county are cooperating in holding clinics where many diseases are spotted early and treatment begun. He pointed out that there are now 43 cases of venereal disease in Bulloch county, with 19 of them now at Alto where they are being given treatment. He commended Georgia on its work in taking the lead in the nation in treating venereal diseases.

He chided the adults in the county for their neglect in having themselves immunized for various contagious diseases. He pointed out that nearly every child under ten years of age has been vaccinated. But most adults have not been immunized. "It is one of our aims to immunize every adult in the county," he said.

He included pulmonary TB as one of the problems of the county. He described the work being done at the Battery General Hospital at Rome, Ga., for the people of Georgia with TB. He told the Rotarians that there are 13 TB cases in Bulloch county and three Bulloch counties at Rome. He wants to see the day when every person in the county might be examined for TB. Prospects for this are good, he said.

He described some of the work being done for alcoholics, pointing out that many alcoholics need not only physical treatment, but also mental treatment.

PRE-NUP TIAL PARTIES CENTER SOCIAL INTEREST

One of the loveliest parties of last week was a social tea given Thursday afternoon by Mrs. W. R. Lovett and her sister, Lynne Smith, at the home of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Smith, honoring Miss Carmen Cowart.

Hydrangeas and lilies were the flowers used harmonizing beautifully with the pastel theme carried out artistically in the table appointments and refreshments.

The table was overlaid with an Irish linen cut work cloth. Crystal candelabra with slender tapers combined with light blue and gold bone china figurines added delicate beauty. A bowl of blue hydrangeas was the centerpiece.

The guests were served tea sandwiches, an iced confection topped with coconut in pastel shades. Open-faced sandwiches, stuffed daisies and nuts and tea with mint ice cubes.

Miss Cowart was given a piece of her china.

Mrs. Grant Tillman, Jr., won a china cream and sugar set in a game. Mrs. Roger Holland played throughout the afternoon, and Mrs. C. P. Olliff assisted in serving.

About twenty-five of the bride-elect's friends were present.

ATTAWAY TWINS ENTERTAIN FOR BRIDE-ELECT

Miss Cowart and Miss Smallwood shared honors Friday at a delightful morning party given by Misses Anne and June Attaway at their lovely home.

A bridal motif of green and white was carried out in the decorations and dainty refreshments. Gardenias, Easter lilies and shasta daisies were used in the living rooms.

A game program centered around the honorees and offered "Advice to the Brides." Wedding bell cards held scrambled versions of "Things That Belong in a Bride's Trousseau." In this battle of wits, Miss Cowart was the winner and received a glass tea bell.

Miss Cowart and Miss Smallwood received varicolored tea glasses from the hostesses.

The refreshments were heart-shaped chicken salad sandwiches, calla lily sandwiches of cream cheese with carrot stamens, and green pepper wedges, potato chips, gherkins, olives, ice box cookies and cakes.

About twenty-five guests were present.

Misses Sara Hall, Hattie Powell, Helen Rowse and Mrs. W. P. Brown were hostesses Friday afternoon at a lovely bridge party, complimenting Miss Cowart at Miss Hall's home.

A mixture of colorful spring flowers gracefully arranged, decorated the living and dining rooms.

Miss Cowart's gift from her hostesses were lovely hemstitched pillow cases.

For high score at bridge, Mrs. W. R. Lovett was given Dorothy Gray dusting powder and cologne.

Mrs. Albert Braswell received stationery for low, and Miss Willie Wilkinson won dish towels for cut.

Floating prize, a handkerchief case with sachet went to Mrs. Dick Barr.

The guests were served strawberry parfait, cakes and nuts.

Others playing were: Mrs. Frank Hook, Mrs. Hal Macon, Jr., Mrs. Grant Tillman, Jr., Mrs. M. E. Alderman, Jr., Mrs. Gerald Grover and Misses Carmen Cowart, Julie Turner and Margaret Sherman and Miss Zula Gammage.

A delightful social affair of Friday evening was a bridge party honoring Miss Cowart and Mr. Morris, with Mrs. J. S. Murray and Mrs. E. L. Barnes as co-hosts, at the home of the latter on Savannah Avenue.

The home was decorated with a profusion of Easter lilies, hydrangeas and gladioli.

A piece of silver was the gift of the hostesses to their honor guests.

A dainty salad course and iced tea were served.

For ladies' high, Miss Margaret Sherman received a yellow plastic apron. A double deck of cards went to Dick Barr for men's high.

Miss Cowart won a box of chocolate mints for cut.

Those playing were: Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Coleman, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Braswell, Mr. and Mrs. B. B. Morris, Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Brown, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Lovett, Miss Carmen Cowart and Bernard Morris, Miss Margaret Sherman and Inman Foy, Miss Reba Woods and Buddy Barnes, Miss Julie Turner and Parrish Blitch, Miss Maxann Foy and W. C. Hodges.

On Saturday evening Miss Cowart and Mr. Morris were honor guests at a delightful afternoon party at Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Hodges' lovely country home.

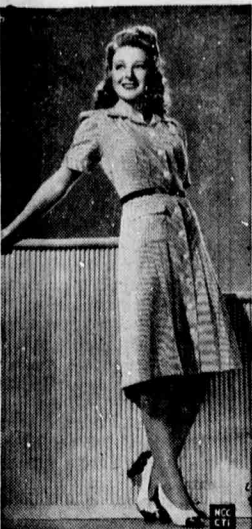

Hosts on this occasion were Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Carr, of Columbus, Ohio, Mr. and Mrs. John Hodges and Mr. and Mrs. Cliff Fittin, of Auburn, Ala.

Gladioli and Easter lilies were used on the table on the lawn from which a delicious chicken supper was served.

The bride-elect and her fiancé received a knife and fork in their silver pattern from the hosts.

Other guests were: Miss Flo Moynihan and A. B. Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Braswell, Miss Julie Turner and Kathleen Johnston, Miss Margaret Sherman and Billy Olliff, Maxann Foy, Robert Hodges and Parrish Blitch.

EASY HOURS

Many an easy hour will lovely Evelyn Anders of Universal Pictures spend in her new fashion-right cotton seersucker frock. The seersucker, printed in navy and white stripes, has a full button front.

THREE O'CLOCKS

Mrs. Gilbert Cone entertained members of the Three O'Clocks and other guests Saturday afternoon at her home on Church Street. Vases of gladioli and varicolored zinnias were the flowers used in the attractive home.

Top score for club members was made by Mrs. J. P. Foy who was awarded stationery. For visitor's high, a box of Norris candy, went to Mrs. R. J. Kennedy, Jr.

Mrs. E. N. Brown was given Old Spice toilet water for low, and Miss Elizabeth Sorrier won Old Spice soap for cut.

Mrs. Cone served a variety of sandwiches, iced cakes and cocktails.

Guests were invited for four tables.

PARTIES FOR WEEK END GUESTS

Mrs. Bruce Olliff entertained her house guest, Mrs. John Deramus, of Clanton, Ala., with an exceptionally lovely party Saturday afternoon. The home was decorated with lilies and gladioli. Attracting special attention was the table in the dining room from which the hostess served. An Irish linen cut work cloth was used on the table and a motif of white and green was adhered to in the decorations and refreshments.

Green tapers in silver holders, exquisite gardenias in flat arrangements, the punch bowl filled with lime punch, fancy sandwiches, almonds and fancy cakes, made a most effective party setting.

The guest received a novelty ash tray from her hostess.

Thirty guests called to meet Mrs. Deramus.

Mr. and Mrs. John Deramus were again honor guests at an informal outdoor supper Saturday evening at the lovely country home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Simmons.

The guests were Mr. and Mrs. Deramus, Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Olliff, Mr. and Mrs. Inman Foy, Mr. and Mrs. Barney Averitt, Mrs. Edna Neville and Mrs. J. P. Foy.

GEORGE HITT III, IS FOUR YEARS OLD

Mother wasn't there for the party Saturday afternoon when George Hitt III, was celebrating his fourth birthday with about twenty-five of his young friends.

Mrs. Hitt, Jr., was out at the Bulloch County Hospital endeavoring to make George's little sister, only a few hours old, feel at home.

Mrs. Fred T. Lanier, George's grandmother, took over as hostess and served the guests punch, cookies, and ice cream cups.

George's birthday was Sunday, June 8, and little Harriet's is June 7. We foresee joint celebrations for them in the future.

ALL'S FAIR

June time, moon time, swoon and lazy noon-times.

On hammocks, or lounge under trees or on verandahs.

Reading thrillers, a few chillers or sentimental rhymes;

Taking sun baths, then leaving with soothing pomanders.

—that's his name—sleeps every night on a red leather roll bed.

THOSE GARDENIAS on the plates at the Kennedy - Davis bridge parties came from Bertie's place at Midville and several days in the refrigerator made them change from cape jasmines into waxy-white gardenias.

A FRILLY FLUFF fad will probably start from that delicious sweet you found on your plate when Joyce Lovett and her sister, Lynne Smith, entertained for Carmen Qwart. Here's how you make them: Take plain marshmallows, ice them and shower with shredded coconut. They'll be good.

WHY SHOULD IT HAPPEN to such a nice lady? Laundry day, standing on the BACK of a chair (not the seat) putting up curtains, fell and received painful injuries, but already she's up though limping slightly. I expect to see her on the house top next, for Waldo (Dr. Floyd) told her: "There's some pine straw in the gutter up there on your porch roof. You might try cleaning it out."

YOU CAN REST assured that those popular twins, June and Anne Attaway, are LEGAL graduates of Virginia-Intermont College, for an account of that important event is tidily tucked away in the legal advertisements.

JOHN BEAVER and Hugh Burke are playmates. They have interests in common. Johnny has a baby sister and Hugh a very young baby brother, Johnny, after a recent visit to Hugh, confided to Mama Ruth: "Our baby talks lots better than Hugh's little brother." Both babies are still in the cooling statue.

IT'S A SMALL WORLD: Mary Cone Harper, after leaving Statesboro, visited friends in Harlem before going on to her home in Napa, California. While in Harlem, she was talking to a young man who was a radio ham. During their conversation, Mrs. Harper mentioned her daughter in Palo Alto. The Harlem friend asked: "Would you like to talk to her?" It developed that this amateur radio operator had a ham pal in Palo Alto. And in about thirty minutes' time Mary was talking to her oldest daughter clear across the continent.

A PEEK INTO the apartment awaiting Mr. and Mrs. Bill Peck on their return from their honeymoon reveals curtains at Cecil's head stick with the group and show his stuff, Johnny did, but as soon as the curtain went down he approached Roy and Ruth and demanded his chicken supper. So, at 10 o'clock here they go, Roy, Ruth and Johnny—still in his costume—out to Cecil's. Johnny, you'll go far, young man. You believe in the pay-off.

MRS. T. W. ROWSE has become a sort of combination babysitter and doting grandmother until Catherine and Bill Brown get settled in their garage apartment on Zetterower Avenue.

CEUID HAS STRUCK again. This time it's a Top Turner and a girl with a musical name. Rumor has it that the wedding isn't too far away.

YOU'LL LOVE this story. It's drama, suspense, romance, and a happy ending. Eloise Morris and Helen, her daughter-in-law, with suitcases packed, were ready to leave for Jacksonville. Helen had been a little blue all day. It was her first wedding anniversary and Robert was far away in California.

Helen asked, "Do you suppose I have time to get a call through to Robert before we leave?" She was assured that, regardless of the time, she could call Robert. In a short time Thad and Helen had all talked to Robert. Robert was plainly in the dumps. He didn't know how long he would remain encamped there. They had not even been alerted. Other wives had joined their husbands. They were not a happy group after the phone call. Thad asked Helen if she wanted to go out to see Robert. There was nothing she'd rather do. Another call was put through to California. Thad asked his son if he could meet the plane on Saturday afternoon. The boy was still low spirited, but he said he guessed it could be arranged. Thad continued, "I'm sending you a package, and it's perishable." Still no enthusiasm. "I'm sending you Helen." Then every switchboard operator from California to Georgia, if they happened to be listening in, got a thrill from the rapturous voice that must have made the wires so vibrant that all the birds perched on them decided the high voltage was too much for them. But papas and mamas concerned were much relieved when they received a fire confirming Helen's safe arrival.

MARIAN OLLIFF (Mrs. Bruce) has enjoyed a gal-fest all week end. Her roommate for four years at Shorter, Kathleen Deramus, and her husband came over from Alabama for a brief visit and they had a wonderful time reminiscing.

DID YOU MISS the graduation exercises of Sue's Kindergarten Thursday evening at the auditorium? If you did, here's what you missed: Linda Coleman, youngest and tiniest member of the Play House group, addressed a large and appreciative audience. Jim Floyd, in the days when he cooked a straw hat on the side of his head and twirled a jaunty walking cane in one of Mary Lou's Stunt Night classes, couldn't touch his daughter's performance, marked by grace and poise.

The master of ceremonies was a smooth, debonair fellow, young Butch Colley, and you would never have suspected that he knew that a doctor would be probing around in search of his appendicitis next morning.

Johny Beaver brought down the house as he somersaulted onto the stage, the Brer Rabbit of the show. (Jane interrupts to give this story to Johnny.) Johnny got sort of stubborn a few days, before the show and didn't "wanner" be any old rabbit. Finally, Roy promised him he'd give him a chicken supper at Cecil's if he'd stick with the group and show his stuff. Johnny did, but as soon as the curtain went down he approached Roy and Ruth and demanded his chicken supper. So, at 10 o'clock here they go, Roy, Ruth and Johnny—still in his costume—out to Cecil's. Johnny, you'll go far, young man. You believe in the pay-off.

ASHLEY BOYD, son of Olliff and Etta, clad in cowboy suit, received special applause as he sang "Sioux City Sue." Somebody remarked, "He couldn't help but sing because Etta had shown made that piano talk." Jo Brady (Loyd's and Arline's) and Jimmy Hodges, Jo in all her bridal finery to the last detail, and Jim, dapper in his tux, posed like old album pictures of bride and groom.

KENAN KERN, as Tom Thumb, and Randy Turner, as Jack, the Giant Killer, brought chuckles. Kenan is tiny and Randy is large for his age.

FREDERICK SHEAROUSE really gave out with the drum and we suspect "Uncle George" had something to do with the skillful manipulation of those drumsticks.

MARY LOYD COLEMAN was every inch a ballerina as she twirled on her toes—most attractive with long black hair. "Uncle Sam" was about the best looking I've ever seen him—that handsome chap, Bill Sommons (Irene's and Billy's) didn't miss a trick. Lynne Collins really wowed them as "Miss America." Linda Pound, in a song, shows promise. Some of Grandma Willie's talent there.

The little graduates in caps and gowns (rented from a firm in New York) were simply precious.

FESSOR SHELLEMAN gave out the diplomas. Behind the scenes before the curtain went up, Mr. Sherman patted Bobbie Ann Jackson on the head and said, "You're going to be my little girl next year, aren't you?" Bobbie Ann was indignant. "No," she emphatically said, "I'm going to be my Daddy's girl right on." (Daddy is Dr. J. L.)

As ever,
JANE.

PARTIES CONTINUE FOR MISS SMALLWOOD

Another in the series of lovely parties given for Miss Smallwood was a bridge party Saturday morning with Mrs. Floyd Brannen and Mrs. Emerson Brannen entertaining at the home of the former on Jones Avenue.

Easter lilies, feverfew and rosebuds were artistically arranged throughout the home.

Party sandwiches, potato chips, candies and coca-colas were served.

The gift to the bride-elect was a piece of crystal. Miss Virginia Rushing won a hairbrush for high score; for cut Miss Bea Dot Smallwood won kitchen plaques, and Mrs. M. E. Alderman, Jr., received note paper for low.

Others playing were Mrs. Willie Wilkinson, Mrs. Bob Blanchette, Mrs. Harold Hagins, Mrs. Joe Trappnell, Mrs. Francis Smallwood, Mrs. Tommie Thompson, Misses Margaret Sherman, Betty Rowse, Anne Hendrix and Imogene Groover.

On Saturday evening Mrs. Hazel Smallwood, mother of the bride-elect, was hostess at a buffet supper at her home, her guests including the women members of the groom's family.

The table from which the supper was served was overlaid with a lace cover and a lovely arrangement of mixed garden flowers was used in the center.

Mrs. Smallwood's guests included: Mrs. P. W. Peck, Sr., of Atlanta, mother of the groom; Mrs.

Ellis Peck, Mrs. P. W. Peck, Jr., Mrs. Edwin Peck, Mrs. Louis Peck, Sr., P. W. Peck, Jr., Louis Peck, Edwin Peck, Louis Peck, M. E. Alderman, Jr., Willie Wilkinson, Joe Trappnell, Francis Smallwood, Jr., Harold Macon, Jr., Tom Smith, W. P. Brown and Bob Blanchette.

While the women were being entertained by Mrs. Smallwood, the groom-elect, his father, P. W. Peck, Sr., and his four brothers, Ellis Peck, P. W. Peck, Jr., Edwin Peck and Louis Peck, were enjoying a stag supper at Will Woodcock's cabin, their hosts being Francis Smallwood, Jr., M. E. Alderman, Jr., and Bill Peck.

Pan trout, barbecue, potato salad and iced tea were among main items on the menu.

On Monday afternoon the Woman's Club was the scene of a lovely party given by Mrs. Harold Hagins. Misses Anne Hendrix, Betty Rowse and Marilyn Watson, honoring Miss Smallwood, were prizes were won in contests by Mrs. Bob Blanchette and Miss Flo Moynihan, of White Plains, N. Y.

Miss Smallwood was the recipient of a set of china fruit bowls and a cream pitcher. Miss Covart, of Atlanta, was given a china salt and pepper set. Guests were served chicken salad, potato chips, olives, fried crackers and iced tea.

BEAUTIFUL CEREMONY MARKS SMALLWOOD-PECK WEDDINGS ON TUESDAY

Miss Bea Dot Smallwood, daughter of Mrs. Hazel Hines Smallwood, became the bride of William Aiken Peck, son of Mr. and Mrs. P. W. Peck, Sr., of Atlanta, at a lovely late afternoon ceremony Tuesday, June 10, at the First Methodist Church, with Rev. Chas. A. Jackson, Jr., officiating.

The traditional wedding music was played by Mrs. Roger Holland, organist. Billy and Bobby Holland sang "Thine Alone" and Miss Margaret Sherman sang "Because."

Arrangements of palms massed the rear of the choir alcove from a background for standards of white gladioli and cathedral candelabra, holding tall white tapers flanking a Grecian urn filled with white gladioli. Plumes of fern delicately traced the chancel arch and rail. Clusters of white flowers tied with satin ribbons marked the pews reserved for the families.

Mrs. W. L. Wilkinson, Jr., her sister's matron of honor, wore an ice blue marquisette gown over taffeta. The close-fitting bodice achieved a draped effect in the use of jersey and marquisette. Lace medallions extended from one side of the neckline on to the billowy skirt.

The bridesmaids were Misses Claudette and Arnette Peck, twin sisters of the groom; Mrs. Joe Trappnell and Miss May Murphy. The maids' dresses were all of Marquisette posed over taffeta with moulted bodices and bouffant skirts.

The Misses Peck's dresses were summer rose and Mrs. Trappnell and Miss Murphy were blue. The bride's attendants wore long net mittens and bandeaux of fresh flowers. Their bouquets were of garden flowers with pink as the predominating color.

The usher-groomsmen were Ellis Peck, P. W. Peck, Jr., Edwin Peck, brothers of the groom; M. E. Alderman, Jr., and Walter A. Freeman, ushers, lighted the candles.

The bride entered with her brother, Francis A. Smallwood, Jr., by whom she was given in marriage. At the altar they were met by the groom and his uncle, J. B. Peck Sr., who served as best man.

The bride was lovely in her wedding gown of white mousseline de soie, designed with net yoke joined to the close-fitting bodice with a narrow band of venise-type lace fastened in the back with a row of tiny buttons. Venise lace outlined one side of the sweetheart neckline and formed a larger applique pattern as it extended to the full skirt which ended in a graceful train. The long sleeves ended in points over the hand. Her tiered finger-tip veil of illusion was held in place by a tulla of orange blossoms. She wore a single strand of pearls, a gift from the groom, and carried a bouquet of stephanotis centered with a purple throated white orchid.

Mrs. Smallwood, mother of the bride wore a gown with bodice of white brided jersey and black marquisette skirt. Her flowers were red carnations.

Mrs. Peck, mother of the groom, wore a powder blue gown and a corsage of red roses.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the bride's home, which was elaborately decorated with magnolia leaves and blooms, white lilies and gladioli, in keeping with the white and green bridal motif.

The guests were met at the door by Mrs. C. E. Cone and introduced to the receiving line by Mrs. Kermit Carr.

Mrs. Brannen directed guests to the dining room where the bride's table dominated the scene. Overlaid with handsome lace cloth lighted with white tapers in three-branched candelabra and centered with the three-tiered bride's cake topped by a white ture bride and groom standing in a horseshoe for luck it added elegance to the lovely home. Lighted candles formed a crescent on the buffet. Serving in ice cream and cake in the dining room were Mrs. Peck, Mr. and Mrs. P. W. Peck, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Louis Peck, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Peck. The guests included the entire bridal party, the families of the bride-elect and groom-elect, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Mundy, of Waynesboro, J. B. Aiken, of Florence, S. C., and other close friends of the family.

Tables were placed on the lawn and the punch bowl on the terrace was encircled with greenery. Lavish arrangements of garden flowers added beauty to the outdoor party.

About forty-five guests were present.

Mrs. Frances Smallwood, Jr., and Miss Jean Cone served punch on the lawn.

In charge of refreshments were Mrs. Benton Rimes, Mrs. Ellis DeLoach and Mrs. Chalmers Franklin. Misses Jean Carr and Jane Richardson were their junior assistants. Kermit Carr, in charge of the record-play, furnished the music.

Later in the afternoon, Mr. and Mrs. Peck left for a wedding trip to New Orleans, after which they will make their home in Statesboro.

The bride wore for traveling a white summer wool suit with a black blouse and black and white accessories. Her corsage was the orchid from the wedding bouquet.

Out-of-town guests were: Mr. and Mrs. P. W. Peck, Sr., Misses Arnette and Claudette Peck, of Atlanta; Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Peck, Sandra Peck, Waynesboro; Mr. and Mrs. P. W. Peck, Jr., Ward Peck III, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin W. Peck, Miss Sherry Peck, Gainesville, Fla.; Mr. and Mrs. Louis C. Peck, Thomson, Ga.; J. B. Aiken, Sr., Florence, S. C.; Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Morris, Augusta; Mr. and Mrs. Joe Mundy, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Dodd, Waynesboro; Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Williams, Augusta; Miss Mae Murphy, Jacksonville; Mr. and Mrs. Donald Williams, Swainsboro; Mr. and Mrs. Ray Barrfield, Waynesboro; Miss Anne Hendrix, Cedartown; Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Wilkinson, Jr., Athens.

The bride was lovely in her wedding gown of white mousseline de soie, designed with net yoke joined to the close-fitting bodice with a narrow band of venise-type lace fastened in the back with a row of tiny buttons. Venise lace outlined one side of the sweetheart neckline and formed

Of cordial interest to society is the announcement of the wedding plans of Miss Martha Jean Nesmith, of Atlanta and Statesboro, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joshua Thomas Nesmith, to Charles Edward Rogers, of Atlanta and Hickman, Ky.

The bride-elect, a graduate of Statesboro High School and of Draughton's Business College, in Atlanta, employed as secretary for the DeSoto Motor Corporation at their regional office in Atlanta, is descended on her mother's side from the late Paul McElveen and Sallie Proctor McElveen. Her paternal grandparents are Benjamin David Nesmith and the late Annie Brannen Nesmith.

The groom, called for military service while a student at Georgia Tech, is now completing his senior year at the Atlanta School of Law. He is a native of Hickman, Ky.

Plans have been completed by Miss Nesmith and her fiancé, Mr. Rogers. The wedding will take place June 21 at 8:30. Elder V. F. Agan will officiate and Mrs. W. S. Hanner and Mrs. Waldo Floyd will present the nuptial music. Joshua T. Nesmith will give his daughter in marriage and Henry Choate of Hickman, Ky., will serve as best man. Miss Grace McElveen, of Brooklet and Atlanta, will be her cousin's maid of honor and the bridesmaids will be Misses Julie Turner, Virginia Rushing, Vivian Water, of Atlanta, and Rosalyn Howard, of Atlanta.

Junior bridesmaid will be Miss Marjorie McElveen, Atlanta.

Miss Mary Janette Agan, Ben Nesmith will light the candles.

Usher-groomsmen will include

Lewell Akins, Parrish Blitch, Josh T. Nesmith, Jr., and Ray Burgess, of Atlanta.

Miss Nesmith is expected to come down from Atlanta Wednesday, June 18.

The Bulloch Herald, Thursday, June 12, 1947.

CHEVROLET TO PRESENT NEW LINE OF TRUCKS AND COMMERCIAL CARS SOON
Chevrolet will soon present a new line of commercial cars and trucks, Lehman Franklin, of the Franklin Chevrolet Co., said this week upon his return from Atlanta where he witnessed a pre-showing for Chevrolet dealers in this area.

"Without doubt, the new line of Chevrolet trucks is the finest ever offered to the American public," Mr. Franklin said, "in style, comfort and hauling efficiency, the vehicles set new standards which are certain to secure the endorsement of all truck owners and drivers."

A Verse For This Week

The brave only know how to forgive; it is most refined and generous pitch of virtue human nature can arrive at. Cowards have done good and kind actions—towards have even fought; nay, sometimes even conquered; but a coward never forgave; the power of doing force only from a strength and greatness of soul, conscious of its own force and security, and above the little temptations of resenting every fruitless attempt to interrupt its happiness.—Stearns.

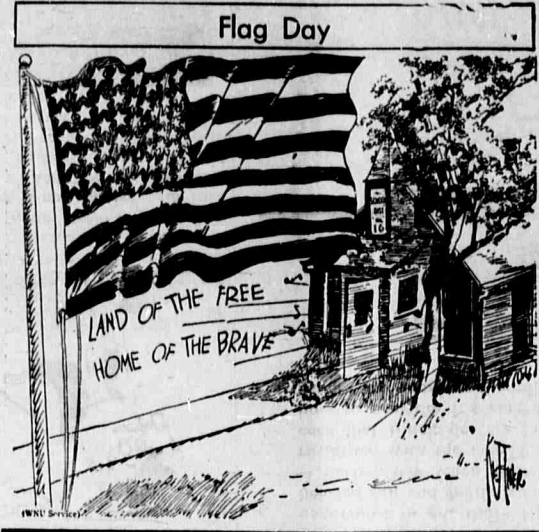

It's The Heat...

Heat, Ma'm! It was so dreadful here, that I found there was nothing left for it but to take off my flesh and sit around in my bones.—Sidney Smith.

Monday morning of this week turned up bright and hot. At 8:30 A. M. people on the streets had already worn out the usual phrase, "This is at hot 'um." At 9:30 it became "This is shore a scorcher." At noon people just gave up and agreed that it was a hot day and that talking about it did nothing to alter the condition. We thought about a fan and went into a local shop and when told that the fan we were looking at was $49.50, we cooled off considerably.

We saw men wearing coats and thought to ourselves: "What fools we make of us." We were only partially a fool, for we were wearing a shirt with long sleeves and a tie. The only smart man we saw were the ones in short sleeves and open collar, sitting in the shade and not moving—just sitting.

Another quotation points out that "Though the sun scorches us, for sometimes, and gives us the head-

Here is something we "borrowed" from Bob Majors, publisher of the Claxton Enterprise. He admits that he borrowed it from Marvin V. Stedham of the Bartow Herald at Cartersville, Ga. Mr. Majors confesses that it is applicable in Evans county and adds, "maybe in all the counties all the time." We agree with Mr. Majors and publish it here, believing that it is applicable in Bulloch. Thanks, Mr. Majors and Mr. Stedham.

WHAT DO WE THINK OF OUR YOUTH?

As the old community gossip dropped down on our front steps and took from her snuff-colored mouth that long Black Gum toothbrush in one hand, she used the other hand to bring up the lower corner of her apron to clear the sweat from her brow. Our parents and her children sat on the front porch and listened as she began to give out all the latest gossip concerning the residents of our locality.

"Now," she said, "don't tell a soul that I said so, but THEY SAY that there feller that Sallie what's-her-name married is old enough to have been her daddy—and they say he's lazy and doesn't provide for Sallie and the children, and don't repeat this, but they say he's mean to 'em too."

"Well, let me tell you," she went on, "I'd never live with the sorry lout, no sir! Not me. Why, I'd leave the likes of him so quick I'd make his head swim."

About this time someone asked, "Who told you about Sallie's husband, Mrs. Talkabout?" "Oh," she exclaimed, "Everybody and these parts is a-talkin' about how sorry he is—everybody, but they say he's mean to 'em too."

"Well, somehow we hadn't heard anything about him. We thought he was all right."

"Well, excuse me," she parried, "I never would have mentioned it but I thought everybody knewed it. It's common talk everywhere I've been and so I just knowed yours'd had heard all about it."

Of course, we could hardly believe her because she had been to our house just a few days before that and had talked about one of our relatives before she knew we were related. But I guess that was all right—there are a few people who just seem to have to talk about somebody and it might as well be about us and our kinsfolk as about anybody else—they just catch their breath and keep talking—about somebody else.

It somehow reminds me of the little poem entitled, "Gossip Town." We've probably printed it once before, but maybe it repeated—it might be more easily remembered. Here it is:

Gossip Town

Have you ever heard of Gossip Town,
On the shores of Falsehood Bay,
Where Old Dame Rumor with her rustling gown,
Is going the livelong day?
It isn't far to Gossip Town,
For those who want to go,
The idleness train will take you

I am a widow of a World War II veteran and want to buy a home. Can I obtain a guaranty of loan under the GI Bill?

A. No. The privilege is limited to veterans of World War II.

Q. Can I obtain a guaranteed loan to purchase household furnishings?

A. No. (Veterans wishing further information about veteran's benefits may have their questions personally answered by visiting Jack I. Bliss, VA Contact Representative at 21½ East Main Street, Statesboro.)

Q. If I can't meet payments on my guaranteed loan, is payment by the Government a gift to me?

A. No. Payment by the Government of your guaranteed loan is not a gift. It must be repaid, and if the Government pays the guaranteed part of the loan to the lender, you are obligated to the Government.

Fun at Home Good Books Are True Friends

By Margaret Charters Lyon

Why don't you start a neighborhood club for every boy and girl who lives near you? A lot of school age and some younger ones, could be invited. Even though some "drips" and sissies live close, they will be fun in this special club. They know things to do you might not think of. So include everyone. And give the club an exciting name.

Your neighborhood club can do two things. One is to play games after supper, when a big crowd is most fun for Hide and Seek or Capture the Flag. The other is to plan something very special for every week, like a picnic or an Exploring Trip. We will tell about many exploring trips in the paper this summer.

If nobody has an outdoor fireplace, your club could decide on a neighborhood picnic ground and fix one easily. Look for a smooth place to sit and an open spot for the fire, either in a yard or a vacant lot. Get the other members of the land to say "yes" before you start work.

Put the fireplace where there are no trees overhead, and all grass and leaves away. Then get six bricks or a few flat stones to raise a frying pan off the ground. Place them closer together at one end in an open V. If you want to do more than this, look in one of the "make-it" books at the Library that I told you about last week. In a neat little nearby keep small wood to start the fire and pieces of oak logs to make it last. Good scouts eat on the ground, so you don't need a table.

We are all sorry there is no pool in Statesboro this summer, but there are still places to go swimming all over the county. The College pool is open to the public an hour every afternoon, starting this week.

Before you go swimming, get a typhoid shot. If the Health Nurse has already given you one, what about your mother and dad and others in your swimming party? Anyone—old or young, rich or poor—can go to the County Health office on Saturday.

Are laden with "Don't you tell!" In the middle of the town is Tell-tale Park, and you're never quite safe while there; For its owner named Suspiciously Remark, Who lives on the street "Don't Care."

Just back of the park is Slanderers Row, 'Twas there that Good Name died, Pierced by an arrow from Jealousy's bow, In the hands of Envious Pride.

From Gossip Town peace long since fled, And sorrow and care and woe, You surely find instead, If ever you chance to go. —Anon.

Two of the Ogeechee River. The typhoid shot is off the road and each other but Alice feels that he is responsible for his sister Elsie. You will remember in "Hard Road past Howards' Landing." Out North Main is the Little Trestle near Lakeview. Alken's and Marsh's ponds are off the Portals Highway. Are these open to the public now? Near Register are Riggs' Mill and Tillman's Pond. Sandhill Ford and Tillman's Pond are closer to Statesboro.

If you know of any more swimming places that are not named, write me at the Bulloch Herald about them. Why don't you see how many different places you and the crowd can go to swim this month? Take Dad along, but son for this occurs in the pre-bure he has had his typhoid shot.

Dr. M. S. Pittman Back From Study In Germany

Dr. Marvin H. Pittman, president emeritus of Georgia Teachers College, returned this week from Germany, where he was sent by the War Department to make a special survey of teacher-education in Bavaria. Bavaria is the southern half of the American Zone. In connection with his work, Dr. Pittman visited 24 of the leading towns of Bavaria and met the faculties and students of educational institutions there. He was billeted in American military quarters and conferred with military governors of American detachments. Commenting on his trip, Dr. Pittman said:

The situation in Germany is difficult and is undergoing constant and rapid change. It is full of important potentialities for Germany, for us, and for the world. We entered Germany with an army trained to fight. From that point of view we did an excellent job. When the war closed, we took such people as we had there and have used them as an army of occupation and as directors of military government. We have not succeeded so well at this task as we did in making war.

"Our task now is to rebuild what we have destroyed and to make friends of people with whom we have been in mortal combat. The latter task is harder than the former; even the private soldier was given rigid and specific training to make war. Few of our occupying forces were trained for the task now before us; we have had to learn by trial and error. We are learning but not rapidly enough to cope with the change in events. We fought well our military war but we have another now of ideas and ideologies. To fight this war we must have ideas and people who can use them effectively on the frontier and in strategic places."

"As Americans, and particularly as Georgians, we should be very proud of General Lucian Clay, the commander of the European theater. General Clay is a native of Marietta. He is doing a superb job under great difficulties. He has the confidence and the loyal support of all who are associated with him and also of the German people, who respect and trust him."

"We here at home should try to keep up with the rapidly changing situation in Europe and should give General Clay the support he needs. Failure to cope now with the rapidly changing situation in Germany means plenty of headaches in the future. World events have thrust us into new situations which require wise and immediate action. We must trust the leadership of those who are in position to know the importance of current events and must give them the support for which they ask."

Each "session" is planned by a committee of young people under the sponsorship of the Junior Woman's Club. Betty McLemore is in charge of all the arrangements and she is assisted by two couples from the club.

There's always some older girl or boy on hand to teach dancing anything from "Jitterbugging" to the "grand march."

And a special feature is the program "Kanned Korn," from station WWNS, which is dedicated to the Canteen each Tuesday night. Thelma ten boys and girls to arrive at the club building name a special song they wish played on the air. The requests are telephoned in and promptly at 10 o'clock the music begins.

New entertainment committees are elected each month. On this month's committee are Matta Ruth Allen, Jeanette Evans, Laurie Price, Faye Smith, and Donald Whaley.

The members of the Canteen sell the soft drinks and ice cream each week and do all the necessary work such as opening and closing the building. But with everyone helping the light work really seems like fun.

Last Thursday night three high schools from Statesboro and nearby communities were represented and more are looked for in future weeks.

Young married couples who have helped with the Canteen in the past few weeks include Mr. and Mrs. Bill Keith, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Sauve, and Dr. and Mrs. Ralph Lyons.

Waters Awarded Navy Air Medal

It took the Navy five years to give Kermit Waters a medal. But he's just as proud of it now as if it had been presented on the spot.

Dr. Lyon Heads Local Lions Club

Dr. Ralph M. Lyon was this week elected to head the Statesboro Lions Club for a one-year term beginning July 1.

Chosen to serve with him were Shields Kennan, first vice-president; Rufus Anderson, second vice-president; M. O. Lawrence, third vice-president; and Osborne Banks, secretary-treasurer.

Elected also were Gerald Groover, Lion Tamer and DeWitt Thackston, Tail Twister. Named to the Board of Directors of the organization were Charles J. McManus, George Turner, and Frank Richardson.

Howard R. Christian is retiring president of the club.

NEW NATIONAL GUARD

Formation of a new Statesboro National Guard unit that will bring some $60,000 year into this area was begun on Monday night. Lt. Col. Henry Ellis, of Statesboro, has been named commanding officer of the new unit, officially designated as the Headquarters and Headquarters Battalion of the 101st AAA Gun Battalion.

Persons interested in becoming affiliated with the Guard should meet at the Courthouse on Monday night at 7:30. Transportation will be furnished to the airport where weekly drills are held.

His wife, Hilda, is here with him during his visit home. The above photo shows Kermit Waters receiving congratulations from Captain Simons, U. S. N., commanding officer of the U. S. Naval Air Station, Pensacola, Fla., as he receives the Air Medal.

The new location of this office is on North College Street, just off West Main. It is located in the building adjacent to the County Welfare office and the County Health Department.

Council Gives Jaycees Permission To Begin Building Swimming Pool

No Little Job To Keep A City Clean

Keeping Statesboro's face washed is a big job. Take it from the Chairman of the City's Sanitation Committee, Bill Bowen, and City Engineer James Bland.

This week the committee investigated the problem of what is required to keep the city clean and in good condition. Here is something of what they found:

Sixteen men are employed by the city to keep it clean. This includes one man to operate the disposal plant.

City garbage and trash collectors make an average of 14,095 pickups each month.

The average pickup weighs 467 pounds. During the month the total amount hauled weighs some 302 tons.

Nine hundred and thirty-two white families and 1,413 Negro families receive garbage pickup in the city. This does not include trash removed from business and industrial property. Pickups are made on an average of two to three times per week.

Estimating the population of the city at 6,000 and the average amount of garbage and trash hauled at 300 tons, the cost per month per person amounts to 25 cents. This is a cost of $5.00 per ton and includes depreciation on and gasoline for the city trucks.

This cost represents 4.1-2 mills of the total tax digest, or approximately 25 percent of the yearly tax levy.

The report, as outlined by Councilman Bowen, went on to show that the city purchased new garbage disposal machinery, which is scheduled for delivery July 1. The deed for new lands for use in the disposal is being drawn at the present time and the city is in the process of building a road in to the property.

Delivery on a new tractor for use in garbage disposal work is expected by September 1 and upon arrival of this new piece of machinery the city will have completed this part of the purpose of the recent bond issue.

Representatives of the Statesboro Junior Chamber of Commerce, meeting with the City Council in special session Wednesday morning, received permission from the Council to begin construction on a swimming pool in the city park on the Fair Ground road.

Miss Statesboro Will Be Chosen

The Statesboro Junior Chamber of Commerce is going ahead with plans to sponsor a "Miss Statesboro" contest in the near future, according to Horace McDougald, new president of that organization.

At the recent annual meeting of the club plans were made to sponsor the local contest and send the winning contestant to the State contest for the selection of "Miss Georgia." The State contest will be held in Columbus and the winner there will go to Atlantic City, N. J., to represent Georgia in the annual "Miss America" contest.

Plans for the pool have already been drawn by an Atlanta engineering firm but various obstacles have prevented its construction by the city, as was originally planned. The Jaycees, at their executive committee meeting, decided that the way to get the pool built was to begin action immediately and agreed to donate $4,000 towards the cost of such a project. Plans are being formulated to raise the remainder of the funds.

Beginning of work on the pool will climax years of activity by various civic organizations and the city to get such a project started. Originally, a pool was scheduled to be built before the war, but in 1941 these plans had to be shelved. Last year the project was revived but construction was never actually started. This year it looked as if a pool might be in the offing, but various obstacles prevented work from being started.

According to Buford Knight, chairman of the Jaycees' pool committee, work will start at once and continue until the pool is completed. No estimate of construction time has been made, he added, but it will be carried out as rapidly as possible.
