PARTIES FOR MISS MARGARET STRICKLAND

Miss Margaret Strickland, bride-elect, whose marriage to Jack Wynn will take place Saturday evening, was honored with a lovely party Saturday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Francis Hunter with Mrs. Delray Billy and Mrs. Hunter as hostesses.

Lovely fuschia dahlias and other late summer flowers added to the beauty of the living room where the guests were entertained. A salad course, cocktails and minis were served by the hostesses.

A set of monogrammed crystal tea glasses was presented to Miss Strickland, who was dressed in a raspberry velveteen party dress with rhinestones at the neckline.

For high in bridge Mrs. Bud Tillman received coasters; such-et for low went to Miss Eva Nev-il, and for cut Mrs. Bob Blanchard received high jacks. In rummy Miss Ramona Wynn and Miss Athleen Gupton, Louisville, N. C., won a classic clothes hanger and brush.

Guests included Misses Strickland, Helen Rowse, Vva Nevil, Emma Jean Bohler and Mesdames Bob Blanchard, Bud Tillman, Bob Biglin, J. R. Gay and Herman Bray.

Another interesting compliment to Miss Strickland was given by Mrs. Dallas Salter, of Savannah, who entertained with luncheon at the Pink House on Monday.

For this party Miss Strickland wore a two-piece black dress with a fluted peplum and black accessories.

The three-course luncheon was served from an oval dinner table centered with yellow chrysanthemums. The gift to Miss Strickland was a teaspoon in her silver.

Covers were placed for Mrs. Salter, Misses Strickland, Margaret Bunn, Midville; Beth Stanfield, Glennville; Ramona Wynn, Portal, who will serve at the wedding, and Mrs. Delray Billy, Statesboro, and Mrs. Chester Cooler, Savannah, cousins of the bride.

All's Fair

The Sweetest Story Ever Told

Is ringing in my ears. And everyone is smiling—Ain't no time for tears. Our boys are all romancing. They pick out wedding bands. They pledge a love eternal—Even as the desert sands. And our part in the pattern there. Is to write like fairy. And breathe a little prayer. That they never face a jury. That home and happiness Will forever be theirs. And that all their little blessings Arrive in pairs.

A note from Ruth Sewell "sorter" kindles in me a desire to do a bit of roaming myself. May be Ruth won't mind if I quote, "Have been two goggle-eyed to write a decent note . . . this is (Nantucket) is truly like nothing on the mainland. You would like it's streets such as 'East', 'Gay', 'Prosperity', 'Darling', and the best of all is . . ."

(censored by Jane—but as a tip, complete this movie title: "The Gorgious . . .") Ruth wished for Steve and all the boys when she visited the whaling museum. She visited Benjamin Franklin's mother's home which she left two months before he was born. The cobblestone walls, cathedral-type houses with widow's walks Ruth termed magnificent . . .

WHEN CAROLYN BOWEN and Frank Christian repeated their "I do's" Julian and Sara Reid Hodges might have silently renewed their marriage vows, for on that very day, six years ago, they were married. Carolyn, who is exactly six years younger than her sister, now shares her sister's wedding anniversary. Carolyn and Frank have planned an identical wedding trip into the mountains of Carolina and Tennessee, both remaining overnight in Augusta at the same hotel.

SO MANY PEOPLE marvelled and exclaimed over the charming and youthful appearance of Claire Macon's mother, Mrs. Marchman, on her recent visit. "Like sisters," everyone was saying. And she has talent as well as charm, for she performed beautifully at the keyboard at a morning party . . .

ALFRED DORMAN sympathizes with Florida coast fishermen whose occupation has been curtailed since the appearance of the mysterious "red tide." He declares the Ogeechee River, especially around Sans Souci, is no longer a fisherman's paradise since Herbert Kingery and his brother-in-law, Paul Robertson, overturned their boat and splash-

Final Plans For Opening City Schools

City School Superintendent S. H. Sherman announced final plans this week for opening of the city school system.

Mr. Sherman said he would make a fifteen-minute radio address tonight over WJNS, beginning at 6:00, and would explain to the public about the new 12-grade school system which begins this year in the city system.

Registration for students will begin Monday morning at 9:00 and continue until every student is registered, the superintendent said. Classes in both elementary and high school will get underway Tuesday morning at 9:00 and continue through the week.

The school lunchroom is scheduled to open Thursday, September 11, and is expected to remain in operation from that time on, Mr. Sherman said.

He advised parents who have children entering school for the first time to furnish the child's birth certificate or with evidence attesting the child's age furnished by the County Health Department. The requirement of the state law regarding age limits of children beginning school will be strictly adhered to this year, Mr. Sherman said.

Tobacco Market Will Reopen For Short Sale

The Statesboro tobacco market is expected to reopen at an early date, according to word received here this week. More than 300,000 pounds of the golden leaf remain unsold in this area and Shippard's Warehouse reports they will seek sufficient graders and buyers to permit the market to reopen for this period.

No definite date for the reopening has been announced but it is expected in the near future.

Membership will be open during September. Send your dues to Mrs. Frank Hook.

Members are urged to be present.

The parade and free matinee will be all children, with no adults permitted.

Children of out-of-town visitors are especially invited to take part in the parade and some as guests of the Fall Festival Committee to the Fall Festival free shows at the Lucas and Avon theatres on Saturday.

The Fall Festival will be climaxed by a great show and awards of prizes at Grayson stadium Saturday night when the U. S. Marine Corps from Parris Island, S. C., will put on scenes of mock warfare replete with flame throwers, demolition machines, gunnery exhibitions and other spectacular events.
