National Guard To Display Radar

On Saturday of this week the local unit of the National Guard will display a radar unit, together with an aircraft gun director, height finder, and associated equipment. A man will be at the instrument to explain how one of World War II's famous instruments operates.

The equipment will be on the west side of the courthouse and will be part of the National Guard's drive for recruits. The equipment has just been assigned to the 104 Coast Artillery, Anti-aircraft Battalion, with headquarters here.

Lieutenant Colonel Henry Ellis, commanding officer of the unit, states that members of the National Guard here are making plans to attend the summer camp, expected to be held at Camp Stewart during the middle of July.

He stated that Lieutenant Alex Wright and Major Bruce Ballins are conducting classes in master gunnery and that openings are available for men interested in a rating. Mechanical and topographical drawing, plain and spherical trigonometry are being taught.

Colonel Ellis says the unit here will be visited by a federal inspector on March 23 and 24, who will inspect the armory, the equipment and facilities of the battalion.

Information regarding enlisting in the National Guard may be obtained from Colonel Ellis.

A. S. Dodd, Jr., May Be Candidate For Georgia Legislature

With September being generally accepted as the month in which the state primary will be held, it is early for prospective candidates to make formal announcements. However, it is understood that A. S. Dodd, Jr., a local attorney, will be candidate for member of the Georgia Legislature from Bulloch.

Mr. Dodd is a veteran of World War II, having served in the Navy three years. Since the war, he has been practicing law in Bulloch county.

Mrs. Finney Lanier Buried at East Side Monday Afternoon

Mrs. Finney Lanier, 47, of the Port of Columbia, died at the Bulloch County Hospital Saturday night following a short illness. Funeral services were held Monday afternoon at the Poplar Springs Baptist Church with Rev. J. E. C. Tillman and Rev. J. T. Harrell officiating. Burial was in East Side Cemetery in Statesboro.

Mrs. Lanier is survived by her husband; her stepmother, Mrs. E. A. Smith, of Statesboro; one daughter, Mrs. Cora Gene Brantley, of Savannah; two sons, L. Rupert Lanier and Finney Lanier, Jr., of Statesboro; four sisters, Mrs. C. A. Peacock, of Summit; Mrs. D. S. Fields, of Brooklet; Mrs. Grace Preterious and Mrs. A. S. Dodd, Jr., of Statesboro; and two brothers, B. W. Lanier, of Miami, Fla., and Bascom Lanier, of Port of Columbia.

Smith-Tillman Mortuary was in charge of funeral arrangements.

Teentimers Club To Be Aired On W.W.N.S. March 13

Johnny Desmond, well known orchestra leader, will headline the new Teentimers Club radio program scheduled to begin Saturday, March 13. TB;VD Survey May Be In 1949

For some time the Bulloch County Health Department has been trying to arrange for a county-wide survey to discover every case of hidden or non-symptomatic tuberculosis and syphilis.

This week Dr. W. D. Lunquist, Commissioner of Health for Bulloch County, made a statement explaining the situation governing the survey. He says:

"The Health Department has been trying to arrange for a county-wide survey for the purpose of discovering every case of hidden or non-symptomatic tuberculosis and syphilis. Most of these diseases are not detected until it is too late to do much good. It is the desire of this health department and of the people of this county to conduct a similar survey. We want to wipe out these diseases and be as healthy as any other community. This we can do at a small cost of about 10 cents per person."

Teen-Agers to Get Free Golf Lessons At Country Club

Thad Morris, president of the Forest Heights Country Club, announced this week that club members' children up to the age of 18 will be allowed to play golf on the country club course for a green fee of only 25 cents. This is for every day in the week except Wednesday afternoons and Sundays. He added that golf lessons will be provided free of charge by "Red" Roberts, club professional, every other Saturday morning, beginning this Saturday.

Work continues progressing on the new club house. Furniture for the club rooms and grill has been ordered, as well as equipment for the grill and kitchen. No definite opening date has yet been set.

Chinchillas, Shine A Fine Business

Chinchillas (those little twenty thousand dollar fur coat animals) and moonshine sound like a money-making combination. And it must have been, until State Revenue officers and Bulloch county police broke it up.

It was last week that State Revenue Officers C. L. Strickland and James Warren and County Police Officer Edgar H. M. E. Sowell found a modern 100-gallon capacity moonshine still on the chinchilla farm belonging to Grady Lewis near Stilson.

Along with the 100-gallon still, the officers gathered up 700 gallons of beer and 60 gallons of whiskey.

Near the still, which was in operation at the time of capture, the officers found a large hole in the ground which indicated that at one time and underground still must have been operated.

Mr. Lewis has posted bond after being arrested in connection with the operation of the still. His brother, Ralph Lewis, was found with him at the still by the officers.

To play with Statesboro, but whose contracts have not been returned, are: Nichola Galanto, of Middleboro, Mass., 20-year-old outfielder who weighs 190 pounds; Joe Kratzer, of Middleburg, Pa., who caught for Savannah last year; and his 328 (over six feet tall and weighing 190 pounds); and Charlie Thompson, of Chattanooga, Tenn., an outfielder, who comes highly recommended.

Statesboro plays Swainsboro in the opening game on May 13.

Christmas Seal Sale this next fall so that enough money can be raised to pay for the entire program. We will then know where our money is going and can attack the problem vigorously."

Bankers to Meet Here Monday PM

Bankers of this section of Georgia will meet here at the Norris Hotel Monday evening, March 15, to discuss the anti-inflation program of the American Bankers Association, with the banks here as hosts.

W. Wallace G. Cobb, executive vice president of the Bulloch County Bank, is chairman of Zone G, which takes in the banks of this section of Georgia, states that bankers of the nation realize that the banks have a part to play in combating the forces of inflation. He said, "The banks here are cooperating 100 per cent with the program and are not doing anything to encourage inflationary pressures."

Ernest Diebel Talks to NFLA

More than 175 people attended the annual meeting of the Statesboro National Farm Loan Association meeting held here on Wednesday of last week. S. D. Groover, president, presided. T. W. Rowse, secretary-treasurer, reported on the past year's operation.

Addressing the meeting, Ernest Diebel, Assistant Deputy Land Bank Commissioner, of Washington, D. C., said:

"The cooperative land bank system has loaned more than five billion dollars to more than a million farmers since its organization in 1917. It has helped hundreds of thousands of farmers to acquire farms and homes, free of debt. It has been a dependable source of sound, long-term credit for farmers."

It has become a permanent part of the banking structure of America."

Mr. Diebel stated that the 1200 national farm loan associations throughout the country have assets of more than one hundred million dollars. He explained that farmer members of the association own all the capital, and the associations in turn own all the capital of the land banks. Combined capital reserves and surplus of the 12 Land Banks now amount to more than a quarter billion dollars.

The land bank system is a true cooperative credit system owned by farmers and operated solely for their benefit.

Following the meeting, dinner was served at the Woman's Club.

History... As It Might Have Been

Members of the Statesboro Lions Club, on Tuesday of this week, were given a vivid word picture of what history might have been had General Longstreet's forces arrived on time at the Battle of Gettysburg in the War Between the States back in 1863.

Mr. Alex Lawrence, president of the Georgia Historical Society, and member of the bar of Savannah, was the guest speaker at the regular meeting of the Lions Club Tuesday.

Mr. Lawrence, in a clever satire, visualized an entirely different United States, and an entirely different world, as it might have been had the Confederate Armies won the war back in '63. Every worker in the East was promised "forty spindles and a loom"...

Richmond Virginia was pictured as the Capital of the U. S., to which the eyes of the world turned for guidance. Detroit was satirized as the "Atlanta of the North"...

Logan Hagan, fire chief, says that as soon as the weather permits, the fire department will help burn off patches of grass.

Full Jail, No Cook...Empty Jail, Cook There to Work

At noon yesterday the Bulloch county jail was empty. It has been empty since Monday morning of this week. And, according to Sheriff Stothard Deal, this is the first time since he has been serving as sheriff that they have had no prisoners there.

And "Miss Pearl" says it's great. "But it's a funny thing," she says. "For five weeks I didn't have a cook and there were ten or more prisoners in the jail to feed. And I worked like a Trojan. And guess what? That's right—my cook came back Monday, and see what happens—not a soul to feed in our jail. It's like a vacation."

"We almost had one Tuesday night, though," volunteered James Rushing, deputy. "We brought a man in from Savannah and when he got up in the door of the courthouse he gave bond."

Are They Privileged Characters?

We know of a newspaper editor who boasts of "minding his own business"—of never "meddling" in community affairs—of just playing along down the middle of the road.

We can't be like him. We, in addition to being the editor of a community newspaper, are just like you, and you, and you.

And like you, and you, and you, we ask questions and question some of the things we see happening. And, like you, and you, and you, wonder why some things rock along as they do.

And we don't mind our own business. And call it meddling if you wish.

And you can't say we play along down the middle of the road.

And, so, here is one of the things that is bothering us this week—

Are the bread trucks and bottled drink trucks and their drivers privileged vehicles and characters?

If not, then why is it that every day they ignore and abuse the traffic control ordinance which requires vehicles to be parked by their drivers in prescribed areas, the parking time to be paid for?

To put it plainer—

Why are the bread trucks and bottled drink trucks allowed to park without depositing a coin in the parking meter?

You and I do. We park for only one minute we are expected to deposit the minimum coin—a penny—for the minimum twelve minutes.

They're Still At It!

ONE HUNDRED YEARS AGO—1848—the women folk of America got together and decided that "men and women are created equal", but until that date they had not been enjoying all the benefits of that right.

So, led by Elizabeth Cady Stanton and Lucretia Mott, the ladies met at Seneca Falls, N. Y., and began their fight for women's rights.

But their fight got off to a bad start—for it was at this first meeting that they had to call in a man. They didn't know how to run their meeting so it was a man who presided at that meeting.

He must have done a good job, for in the century that followed women have won nearly every battle in which they flew their women's rights banner. Freedom of the office, of the shop, the platform, the pulpit, and the franchise are all theirs.

And now comes the League of Women Voters of Bulloch County and of Georgia with a campaign for honest politics by informing and urging citizens to greater government participation in 1948.

And we find ourselves on their side—heart and soul.

Alerted by friction between the political parties

Dont Try It Again!

RECENTLY, we rode the Nancy Hanks to Atlanta. Part of the trip we rode in the cab with the engineer.

At a crossing between Millen and Wadley we saw an automobile approaching the crossing and from the cab of the engine it looked as though the driver of that car was going to try to make the crossing. We tensed up, feeling that we were going to crash.

The engineer told that every time he saw an auto approach a crossing like this he had heart trouble. "I never know if the driver is going to try to make it, or if he is going to stop."

And now comes a letter written by a fireman who works for the Union Pacific Railroad, which speaks for every fireman and engineer in the country.

The letter from Chester E. Beltz was published in the Omaha World-Herald. Mr. Beltz is interested in safety, partly as the result of the safety training which he received from the railroad. Here, in part, is his letter, addressed to the unknown driver of a car which was almost struck by a train:

"I don't know who you are, but I do know you were scared to death when you drove your car directly in front of a speeding passenger train. It was so close that I, in the cab, could see the young girl, your sweetheart, I presume, throw up her hands in front of her face and cringe up against you in stark horror.

"If I were that young girl I'd pull away from you, fast. You didn't have good sense, son. You probably say you love her. I wonder. Those we love we try to protect. But not you.

"Wouldn't that have been a nice present to hand your mother—a broken and battered body. And how do you think we in the cab of that engine would feel. We are human beings, too . . .

"You and your girl were one second from Eternity, son.

"I hope you read this and know it means you, and that the girl will, too. Next time you go driving around, stop and look. We don't want to hit you, but we are helpless, as we can't swerve away from our given rail.

"If I were you, I'd thank God for that split second he granted you.

"I said a prayer for all when I realized you were going across. Perhaps that's what saved us all.

"Now, think it over, both of you. And I'll bet you are both still shaking in your shoes. And please, for God's sake, don't try it again."

If we must, then why must they not?

We admit that it's easier to deliver bread from a truck parked at an angle at the curb where there is a parking space controlled by a parking meter.

Well, it would be easier for you and us to park our car at an angle at the curb where there is a parking space controlled by a parking meter and run in and buy a loaf of that bread delivered by the driver of the bread truck.

One driver of a bottled drink truck has the habit of parking his truck at the corner of West Main and Walnut Street. He doesn't just park it at the corner. He parks his truck so the rear of the body sticks out into the street, blocks the sidewalk crossing, and the engine is along a yellow curb sidewalk. He parks it there while he makes his deliveries.

It's easier that way—and he doesn't have to put pennies and nickels in the parking meter.

But it's rough on pedestrians who want to cross the street, and for drivers who want to make a turn at that corner.

And it's not entirely the policeman's fault. The two who are on duty can't be at every corner and every parking meter all the time—but the drivers of bread trucks and drink trucks could be made to respect our traffic control ordinances.

We know a lot of citizen-drivers who have been made to respect it—and these truck drivers could be instructed in the way of respecting it.

Or, are they privileged characters?

In Georgia, the League has inaugurated a statewide drive to activate citizens and impress upon them the importance of confidence in their form of government, which has wavered during the present conflict.

Suspicion in the minds of many Georgians that their election system is dishonest has spurred the League to insure honest, fair elections by requesting the cooperation of civic groups all over the state to accomplish the following goals:

1. Ask grand juries for a secret ballot. (Bulloch county has a modified secret ballot.)

2. Confer with county tax collectors about purging lists of voters who have not voted in the last two years.

3. Put on an energetic registration campaign.

4. Confer with county Democratic Committees to select poll managers and election clerks.

5. Confer with Superior Court clerks with regard to the posting of registration lists.

Bulloch county has an active chapter of the League of Women Voters. And when the ladies get busy—you know the result!

And, incidentally, women can serve on juries now in all states except Georgia and twelve others. So, there remains at least one more battle to be won!

WHAT HE LIKES

1. He likes to hear opinions from home and wants to be kept informed of conditions in the district. Base your letter on your own pertinent experiences and observations.

2. If you are writing about a specific bill, describe it by number or its popular name. Congressman Preston has thousands of bills before him in the course of a year and cannot always take time to figure out to which one you are referring.

3. He likes intelligent, well-thought-out letters which present a definite position, even if he does not agree with it.

4. Even more important and valuable to him is a concise statement about the REASONS for your position—particularly if you are writing about a field in which you have specialized knowledge.

5. He has to vote on many matters with which he has had little or no first-hand experience. Some of the most valuable help he gets in making up his mind comes from facts presented in letters from persons who really know what they are talking about.

6. Short letters are almost always the best. Congressman Preston receives many, many letters each day, and a long one may get so prompt a reading as a brief statement.

7. Letters should be timed to arrive while the issue is "alive." Prince is a member of several important committees and would appreciate having your views while the bill is before him for study and action.

8. Prince, like all of us, likes to know when he has done something of which you approve. He is quite as human as we.

THINGS YOUR CONGRESSMAN DOES NOT LIKE

1. He does not like letters that merely "demand" or "insist" that he vote for or against a certain bill; or that tell him WHAT you want him to vote for but not WHY. He has no way of knowing whether your reasons are good or bad, and he is not greatly influenced.

2. He does not like to be threatened with promises of defeat at the next election.

3. He does not like to be told how influential the writer is in his own locality.

4. He does not like to be asked to commit himself on a particular bill as the best means of achieving a desired end, until the committee in charge of the subject has had a chance to hear the evidence and dig out all the pros and cons.

5. He does not like form letters or letters which include excerpts from other letters on the same subject.

6. He does not like to hear from people from other districts, except when the letter deals with a matter which is before a committee of which he is a member.

7. He does not like to be bothered with letters from non-constituents on other subjects to the proper persons.

8. He does not like to be bothered with letters from the same person on the same subject. Quality, not quantity, is what counts. (These likes and dislikes are those of Congressman Walter H. Judd from Minnesota and published in the NEA Journal taken from the Journal of the AAUW, winter, 1948.)

Somebody at the Door

The Editor's Uneasy Chair

The Almanac Says the Weather This Week On . . .

TODAY, Thursday, March 11, will be frosty. Fishing poor. FRIDAY, March 12, will be fair. Fishing little better. SATURDAY, March 13, will be pleasant. Fishing getting better. SUNDAY, March 14, will be pleasant. No fishing today. MONDAY, March 15, will be pleasant. Fishing getting better. TUESDAY, March 16, will be unsettled. Fishing good. WEDNESDAY, March 17, will be unsettled. Fishing still good.

... But Don't Blame Us If the Almanac Is Wrong

THIS WEEK'S VERSE

Now you want and burdens leaving
To His care who cares for all,
Cease you fearing, cease you grieving,
At His touch our burdens fall.

So you want to write your congressman.
And you sit down and begin:
"Dear Congressman!"
Or "Dear Mr. Preston!"
Or "Dear Prince!"

Or you wish to commend him on something he's done that you like.

Or you wish to just let him know what's going on back home.

Or maybe you are one of those rare persons who want to keep him informed on the thinking of those who have no personal axes to grind, but desire only what they believe best for the general welfare.

Regardless of what you have on your mind, when you write your congressman here is what he likes, according to a member of Congress.

WHAT HE LIKES

1. He likes to hear opinions from home and wants to be kept informed of conditions in the district. Base your letter on your own pertinent experiences and observations.

NEW PACKING PLANT STARTS OPERATIONS AT VIDALIA

VIDALIA, Ga., March 6.—One of the most important industrial plants of this section opened at Vidalia this week when the Allen Packing Co. went on a full-time schedule at their newly built and equipped plant in the northeastern part of the city.

The business is owned and operated by Herbert F. Allen Jr. L. H. Moss is plant superintendent. Mr. Allen said that he had invested $75,000 in building and machinery. The plant has 10,000 square feet of concrete floor space in use. The plant will take care of a kill of 500 hogs and 40 cattle per day. The sausage plant can turn out 35,000 to 40,000 pounds of sausage, wieners, bologna and other types of sausage in a 10-hour day.

The plant will process hogs for tenderized hams, picnic-type hams, smoked sides and bacon strips. A large rendering outfit and a tankage cooker is installed to recover fats. The tankage cooker will produce as a sideline dried tankage for use as feed.

A freezing room is provided for use in processing beef for butchers and silent cutters, mixers, grinders and linker machines are in use.

Mr. Moss said that custom butchering would be given attention.

A matter which is before a committee of which he is a member. Congressional courtesy makes him refer letters from non-constituents on other subjects to the proper persons.

All's Fair

Can you spare a dime or dollar for a worthy cause?

To help a child who's handicapped and give his parents hopes?

To supply the does and treatment, the encouragement and care to make their crippled legs as strong as an antelope's?

Let's supply the money needed, to give these types a future;

The chance to dance and run and bowl—whatever it is worth.

To let a boisterous youngster romp and play the livelong day.

'Cause isn't a healthy, happy child the sweetest thing on earth?

AND BESIDES the requests coming from Aldmore, we also have the Red Cross campaign coming up this month—and I believe Uncle Sam will be searching for donors about the 15th, too.

SPEAKING OF THE 15TH, I read somewhere that the only thing the United States has seen of the dove of peace is the BILL. Too bad it's true.

T. C.'S PRESIDENT has been in the news lately. Morris McLeone, former Statesboro boy, wrote in the Sunday Journal:

"The recent appointment of Dr. Ward as assistant chancellor of the University System of Georgia came as a shock to me . . . It's the first time I ever felt like addressing an educator of such high station, and it is even more disconcerting to realize that I can speak to an assistant chancellor about anything—by his first name."

And the George-Anne, T. C.'s publication, called our attention to the fact that last Sunday night when they celebrated theirs on the 22nd of last month.

WASN'T SATURDAY NIGHT a mean and rainy one? Reppard DeLoach and John Erickson were washing buggies around in the Colonial Super Market, so their wives wouldn't have to fight the elements. Pretty considerate men.

ADDE DUNNWAY received a mean gift last week—an apron that has stays in the top and gets the bill on the 1st, it shocks him so he loses his appetite completely for another five days.

STATISTICS SHOW that most people in the U. S. and Canada have two or more colds a year—each lasting about two weeks.

Victor H. Lindlar, on WJWS at 12:15, told us the other day that elephants are very susceptible to colds and that owners who can afford it take the animals South for the winter. Guess we can't complain too much—an elephant with a cold would be as bad as a giraffe with a sore throat.

A freezing room is provided for use in processing beef for butchers and silent cutters, mixers, grinders and linker machines are in use.

Mr. Moss said that custom butchering would be given attention.

MISS DUNNWAY HONORED AT ELABORATE TEA

Mrs. R. J. Kennedy, Mrs. R. J. Kennedy, Jr., and Mrs. Sam Rice honored Miss Addie Dunnaway at an elaborate tea Wednesday afternoon at Mrs. Kennedy's home.

Mrs. Thad Morris met the guests at the door and Mrs. Waldo Floyd directed them to the receiving line, where they were greeted by the hostesses, guest of honor and Mrs. Barney Averitt. Mrs. Herbert Weaver then directed them to Miss Frieda Gernant, who asked the guests to sign the register which was covered with hand-painted wedding bells.

More than 80 guests were invited to attend the tea between four and six in the afternoon.

The dining room was an illusion of pink and white loveliness. The table was covered with a lace and linen cutwork cloth and a silver bowl filled with stocks, pink carnations and white hyacinths was in the center. Silver candlesticks holding pink tapers were on either end of the table and white carnations were also used in other arrangements about the room.

Mrs. W. H. Ellis poured coffee from the silver service and Mrs. Henry Ellis, Mrs. Louis Ellis and Mrs. George Johnston assisted with the serving of individual white cakes decorated with small pink rose buds, fancy sandwiches, toasted nuts and mints.

Miss Dunnaway wore a beige afternoon dress, green slippers and an amber necklace which accentuated the amber buckle on her belt. Her corsage of carnations was miniature copy of a bridal bouquet, complete with the satin streamers.

FACULTY DAMES MEET AT HOME OF MRS. LYON

The Faculty Dames held their regular monthly meeting last Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Ralph Lyon, with Mrs. Glenn Ramussen and Mrs. Powell Whitfield as co-hostesses.

Bowls of yellow daffodils and white narcissus were used in decorating.

The program committee presented Dr. Malvina Trussell, who gave a summary of her thesis, "Naturalist Explorers in the Southwest."

Home-made cream puffs and coffee were served and those present were Mrs. Jack Broucek, Mrs. John Erickson, Mrs. Zach Henderson, Mrs. Ivan Hostetter, Mrs. J. C. Loomis, Mrs. Henry McCormick, Mrs. Ronald J. Nell, Mrs. Fielding Russell, Mrs. J. B. Seacore and Mrs. R. L. Winburn.

MRS. L. D. COLLINS ENTERTAINS FRIENDS AT SEWELL HOUSE

Mrs. L. D. Collins entertained friends with seven tables of bridge at the Sewell House Friday afternoon.

Spring flowers were used in decorating, with jonquils and baby's breath spirea on the mantle and crystal bowls of carnations about the room.

Mrs. Henry Ellis won a pottery vase for high, Mrs. J. F. Spier received a geranium pot plant for cut, and Mrs. Joel Lanier was awarded a hyacinth pot plant for low.

Mrs. Frank Proctor, Mrs. J. E. Mundy of Waynesboro, and Mrs. McWiney Newton were invited to enjoy strawberry shortcake with whipped cream and coffee after the playing was over.

Others at the party were Mrs. Grady Bland, Mrs. L. E. Bower, Mrs. Franklin, Mrs. J. E. Bower, Jr., Mrs. Chalmers Granklin, Mrs. Grady Attaway, Mrs. Sidney Lanier, Mrs. F. C. Parker, Jr., Mrs. Bill Adams, Mrs. D. L. Davis, Mrs. Perry Kennedy, Mrs. R. W. Mundy, Mrs. Frank Mikell, Mrs. Glenn Jennings, Mrs. Wendell Burke, Mrs. Zolite Whitehurst, Mrs. Jack Carson, Mrs. Dan Shuman, Mrs. Jim Redding, Mrs. Johnnie Grapp, Mrs. Frances Brown, Mrs. Aubrey Waters, Mrs. Bird Daniel, Mrs. Cohen Anderson, Mrs. James Bland and Mrs. Homer Melton.

AS YOU LIKE IT CLUB MEETS WITH MRS. BOYD

The As You Like It Bridge Club met with Mrs. Oliff Boyd Thursday afternoon at her home. Numerous bowls of spring flowers were used in decorating.

A dessert course of peach pie with whipped cream and coffee was served before the guests began playing and later Mrs. Boyd served candy, potato chips and Coca-Cola.

Mrs. Chalmers Franklin won honor and Mrs. Barney Averitt, Mrs. Herbert Weaver then directed them to Miss Frieda Gernant, who asked the guests to sign the register which was covered with hand-painted wedding bells.

CAMERON-OLIVER

Mr. and Mrs. Alton L. Cameron, of Caldwell, announce the engagement of their daughter, Joan, to George Wendell Oliver, Jr., of Statesboro and Savannah. The wedding will take place on March 14.

The bride-elect's mother is the former Miss Eva Bedingfield, daughter of Mrs. Bedingfield and the late Bennett Jackson Bedingfield, of Caldwell. Her paternal grandparents are Mrs. Cameron and the late Daniel Cameron, of Cameron and Vass, N. C. Miss Cameron is a graduate of Aberdeen High School, Aberdeen, N. C., and attended Georgia Teachers College.

FOSS-RIGGS

Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Foss, of Pulaski, announce the engagement of their daughter, Louise, to William D. Riggs, Jr., of Savannah, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Riggs, of Statesboro. The wedding will be some time in March.

Count on Bobbie Brooks to bring you something new. The flowing, fully flared plaid skirt is set off by the gay plaid taffeta sash. And you can do fashion tricks with this sash, all that will whittle your middle, and add that gay look. Lovely, lovely colors, in sizes 7 to 15.

INFORMAL LUNCHEON AT MRS. BILL ADAMS

Mrs. Bill Adams honored Miss Addie Dunnaway at a small informal luncheon on Monday, to which six of their mutual friends were invited.

A bowl of beautiful pink camellias was the center of the dining table and arrangements of other spring flowers were used in the decorations.

Those invited were Miss Frieda Gernant, Mrs. Oscar Joiner, Mrs. R. W. Mundy, Mrs. James P. Collins and Mrs. Devane Watson.

PRESBYTERIAN CIRCLES MET MONDAY AFTERNOON

The two Presbyterian Circles met together Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Don Thompson, with Mrs. Henry Ellis as co-hostess.

After the business meeting, the program was turned over to Mrs. Percy Averitt, who reviewed the year's studies which have been based on the theme, "The Kingdom Come—Beginning in Me."

Twenty ladies were present at the meeting and during the social hour Mrs. Thompson served strawberry shortcake with whipped cream and coffee.

How to Make Advertising Pay

Naturally, as editor of the Clarion, I believe in advertising. But I like to feel that the folks who advertise in my paper are strictly aboveboard and truthful.

When Sam Hackney listed peaches "big as indoor baseballs," I went to investigate. But Sam was right—they were! I find most merchants are willing to lay their "ad" claims open to inspection.

It's just good sound business... as the brewers found when they started their "Half Regulation" program. Please selling beer are

Bulloch County Farm Bureaus

A source of breeding stock for the desired hogs will be established in the Denmark community if the Farm Bureau can do anything about it. Plans were made Tuesday night to get one member or more to keep purebred Spotted Poland China hogs, Duroc Jersey hogs, and Hampshire hogs.

For many years the livestock farmers in that organization have gone to other communities or to other sections to procure their breeding stock.

The Denmark group will initiate a plan for supper at each meeting that is comparatively new in the Farm Bureau—planned lunches each time. This picnic lunch system is supposed to eliminate dish washing and make it possible for all members to attend the entire meeting each time.

E. C. Westbrook, extension tobacco specialist, Athens, met with the Bulloch Farm Bureau Tuesday night. The discussions on tobacco growing, blue mold control and insects lasted until 11 p. m.

The 1000 percent gave every indication of still being interested that fermate be used to control the blue mold and recommended the spray or dust programs. Ample fermate is available in local stores. He also pointed out that fermate would help to control damping off of the plants. It used in sufficient quantity. The shad supper that was served met with the approval of the entire group.

Following a barbecue supper, the Middle Ground Farm Bureau made plans to wind out all the group who wanted telephones in that community and to list them. There were 16 present who wanted phones. They voted to cooperate with the school and P.T.A. in renovating the lunchroom and offered some $100 toward the expense of the work.

By increasing the average corn yield three bushels per acre in Georgia, the same amount of corn would be produced and over a million acres of land could be used for other crops.

To supply eggs and poultry for a family of five, an average of 30 layers should be kept.

warned. Farmers should check with county agents before purchasing new and untried materials, he suggested.

Bulloch county Home Demonstration Club members are making plans for their Family Life Institute to be held on Tuesday, March 16, at the Woman's Club, according to Miss Irma Spears, County Home Demonstration Agent.

Miss Spears points out that the State Conference on Family Life is being held in Atlanta next week. An announcement has been made that later in the spring the White House conference on Family Life in Washington, D. C., through discussion groups, the Bulloch County Family Life Institute will serve the Georgia Conference and the National Conference on the family by pointing out the problems and what we are doing to solve them.

The following program is outlined for the Bulloch County Home Demonstration Council to begin at the Woman's Club at 10 a. m. March 16:

County Family Life Institute of Bulloch County Home Demonstration Council, Mrs. Billy Simmons, presiding:

10:00-10:05, Song; 10:05-10:10, Devotional; 10:10-10:25, Business Meeting; 10:25-10:30, Introductions by Mrs. Billy Simmons and Miss Irma Spears; 10:30-10:35, Purpose of Meeting, Mrs. John Fields, County Child Development Chairman; Introduction of Speaker, Mrs. Billy Simmons; Address, "The Adolescent and His Family," Miss Martha McAlpine, Extension Child Development Specialist; 11:35-11:45, Recess; 11:45-12:30, Discussion Groups: (1) Children Are People, led by Mrs. Billy Simmons; (2) How Family Life promotes wholesome development, by Miss Lenora Anderson.

Farmers were cautioned by E. C. Westbrook, Georgia Extension Service cotton specialist, not use benzene hexachloride who will come in contact with vegetables such as tomatoes and potatoes or when there is a chance it might drift on to peanuts.

"The new insecticides may cost a little more than calcium arsenate," according to Mr. Westbrook, "but prices have fluctuated and some time may be required for them to stabilize. Some farmers may prefer to start out with calcium arsenate, and if they begin to have trouble with lice and other insects, they can put on an application of benzene hexachloride-DDT Mixture to clean out insects and then return to calcium arsenate. Some farmers are already planning to do this in order to keep costs down and, also, to reduce the danger of too much benzene hexachloride in the soil."

Some materials on the market are not recommended for cotton insect control, Mr. Westbrook

FOR JUDGE SUPERIOR COURT: To the People of Bulloch County: I am a candidate for Judge of the Superior Courts of the Georgia Judicial Circuit, subject to the rules of the forthcoming State Democratic Primary.

As your Solicitor General for twelve years, I undertook to render an energetic, fair, and honest service to the people. For the past seven years, and since my service as Solicitor General ended, I have been engaged in the general practice of law, making known during these years, my intention to ask for your support in this race. I feel that my experience as a lawyer and the contacts with the people of this circuit, qualify me for the duties of this office; and I pledge to you a faithful and efficient administration of it.

May I depend upon you for your help, support, and vote in my campaign.

Thanking you, I am,
Sincerely yours,
W. G. NEVILLE.

STATEMENT FROM EDITOR
We know that you will want to give our society editor "the works" this week. You whose party or personal was left out of the Herald are going to feel discriminated against and will want to get it out of your system. Please don't call our society editor. There just wasn't enough advertising to publish eight pages, and so much society to get in six—so there you are... Our phone number is 421—call us... We can take it!
