A HOLE IN THE GROUND

This "Hole in the Ground" represents the unfinished Swimming Pool. We are leaving it here as a constant reminder of our need to complete this project for the young people of this community.

The Straight Dope on Jekyll Island

IF YOU BELIEVE certain dispensers of information, then you think that Governor M. E. Thompson purchased Jekyll on his own, without proper authority. If you believe these sources of information, then you think that the Governor got a "commission" for "putting through the deal."

In reply to spontaneous inquiries at civic club meetings and numerous question by mail, Attorney General Eugene Cook has prepared an outline of the steps in the acquisition of the state's most-talked-of park, Jekyll Island.

Hoping to clear up the legal aspects of the acquisition of the park by the State of Georgia, we publish Mr. Cook's statement:

"The General Assembly of 1945 expressed the desire for a State Beach Park and then provided the power under which the Attorney General was authorized to acquire Jekyll through Georgia's inherent right of condemnation.

"In a resolution approved March 9, 1945 (Ga. Laws 1945, p. 1243) the legislature recommended that the State secure one or more beach parks. It asked the Governor and the Parks Director to investigate the feasibility of such a project.

"In a law approved January 30, 1945, the Assembly empowered the Governor, Attorney General, and State Auditor, BY UNANIMOUS VOTE ONLY, to take or damage by court condemnation any private property deemed vital to the state's interest. (Ga. Laws 1945, p. 121). Thus these three officials became a condemnation committee by authority of the legislature.

"Under the time-honored right of 'eminent domain,' the State may assert its dominion over any part of the soil within its boundaries on account of public exigency or for the public good. (Code of 1933, 38-101).

"On June 2, 1947, Acting Governor M. E. Thompson, Attorney General Eugene Cook, and State Auditor B. E. Thrasher, Jr. took the first step to carry out the 1945 legislature's wishes. They announced an investigation had been completed and agreed 'UNANIMOUSLY' that it was 'necessary and desirable' for the State of Georgia to obtain JEKYLL ISLAND and LATHAM HAMMOCK ISLANDS in Glynn County for use as a beach park.

"On the same date, the Attorney General was unanimously directed by the condemnation committee, as authorized by the legislature, to file proper condemnation proceedings to secure title and possession of the islands.

"The committee stated that the owners of the island property (including numerous eastern millionaires, members of the Jekyll Island Club) had refused to sell voluntarily and that some unknown persons might have a claim on portions of the islands.

"The Attorney General then advanced the acquisition by filing the original condemnation proceedings in the Superior Court of Glynn County June 6, 1947. The defendant owners were named as: Jekyll Island Club, Incorporated; Miss Cornelia Maurice Wilkinson; Emily Maurice Dall; Margaret S. Maurice; Marion B. Maurice; Archibald S. Maurice; Mrs. Annie L. Wright; and Jekyll Annex Association of Glynn County, Georgia.

"Superior Court Judge Gordon Knox ordered the defendants and any other persons claiming any title or interest in any of the property appear before him on June 26 to make their claims of ownership and value and state any objections they might have to condemnation.

"On June 10, the State amended its petition to ask also for condemnation of LATHAM HAMMOCK ISLANDS and added to the defendants the names of the owners.

"After the owners filed demurrers and answers to the State action, the court confirmed selection of appraisers by the State and the owners of the island. The two thus selected a third, disinterested appraiser, according to law.

"The appraiser for the owners and the disinterested appraiser submitted an award of $850,000 for the property. The state appraiser's award was $675,000. Attorney General Cook objected to the majority award and filed an appeal to a jury and Judge Knox set a hearing for October 8, 1947.

"The owners came down to the $675,000 award granted by the State's appraiser and on October 4, 1947, Judge Knox issued the final condemnation decree and judgment in open court.

"The Judge's order required the State to pay $675,000 to the Clerk of the Glynn County Superior Court, this sum to be distributed to the persons named in his order in the amounts designated by him.

"In accordance with the order, State Auditor Thrasher issued a warrant on the State Treasury for the amount, and the Treasurer, George B. Hamilton, issued a check which was countersigned by Comptroller Zack D. Croy.

"The Attorney General dispatched the check by two assistants to the Superior Clerk, who in turn issued treasury checks to the owners designated in the condemnation order.

"The State then was given title and took possession of the island property in the final step of acquiring the beach park.

"Thus the people's representatives in the legislature, the courts, the Acting Governor, Attorney General, State Auditor, Comptroller General, and State Treasurer executed the legal moves by which Georgia acquired the Atlantic Islands."

And that's the straight dope!

... But Don't Blame Us If the Almanac is Wrong

THE HEART that trusts forever sings,
And feels as light as if it had wings,
A well of peace within it springs—
Come good or ill,
Whatever today, tomorrow brings,
It is this will.

—I. WILLIAMS.

They're pretty.
And Bish is proud of them.
And their names sound like royalty.

As a matter of fact, they are royalty—in the cattle kingdom.

"Pride M. of Dwight 4th" reigns supreme over six Black Angus cattle belonging to Bish Murphy on the airport road.

We visited Bish's royalty last Saturday morning and marveled at the beauty of these black cattle—justifiers right now—that make up the base of what Bish hopes to make one of Bulloch county's finest Black Angus purebred cattle herds.

"Pride M. of Dwight 4th" is the grand champion Black Angus of Georgia, having won the title at the show of the Aberdeen Angus breeders Association in Atlanta on April 21 and 22. Bish bought the heifer at the sale from Mr. Dwight Kennedy, of Claxton.

Not satisfied with the grand champion, Bish also purchased the reserve champion, "Lovell's Pride 17th," from V. L. Lovell, of Clarksville, Ga.

The others in the royal family include "Kathleen of Dogwood 4th," bought from the Dogwood Farms, Jeffersonville, Ga.; "Lovell's 18th," bought from Dr. Lovell, of Clarksville; "Harris' Pride 18th," bought from Dr. Harris, Summerville, Ga.; "Black Bird Lass of Dwight 2nd," and "Erica Elissa of Dwight 3rd," both purchased from Mr. Kennedy at Claxton.

Bish hopes to take these heifers and build up a herd of 30 to 35 of the county's finest purebred cattle.

Right now he has not determined exactly what he wants to call his farm, but he says, "I want to use the name 'Bulloch' in it, for Bulloch county is one of the finest livestock counties in the state, and I want to make my herd proud to bear the name of 'Bulloch'."

We were entranced with the appearance of these fine cattle. Even we could recognize the difference in these heifers and the group of "cows" across the fence which, according to Bish, were just ordinary good cows.

We want to watch the progress of this herd foundation. It means at lot now and will mean more to Bulloch county in the future.

Others in the county who have been raising purebred Black Angus cattle are Mr. "Billy" Smith, W. J. Smith, Jr., Arthur Riggs, Marlee Parrish, M. P. Martin, P. W. Clifton, A. J. and Ulmer Knight, and A. Lamar Jones.

And we commend Bish Murphy and the others in their ambition to improve the stock in this section. We commend all livestock growers in Bulloch who are now working to improve the breed of our cattle. It reflects on the character of our people to an advantage, as well as on the type of livestock.

THAT HE MIGHT SEE!
On Monday this week members of the Statesboro Rotary Club added a spoke in the world's wheel of democracy.

Dr. Guy Wells, president of GSCW, Milledgeville, was guest speaker at the regular Monday meeting of the Statesboro Rotarians. He told of the desolation and destruction that he saw on his recent trip to Germany in the interest of education.

As soon as Dr. Wells finished his talk, Mr. Kendall Wisiger, president of the Southern Bell Telephone Company, Atlanta, a visitor to the club and himself a Rotarian, volunteered to contribute $500 to the education of a German youth, who would be entered as a student at the Georgia Teachers College if the local Rotary Club would match it.

A motion was immediately made to accept Mr. Wisiger's

VENETIAN BLIND TAPE MANUFACTURER WILL LOCATE IN CARROLLTON

CARROLLTON, Ga., May 25.—A new industry, which will manufacture venetian blind tape, dish cloths, curtains and trims, will locate in Carrollton in September, it is announced by Jim H. Griffin, chairman of the board of directors of the Carroll Service Council.

The firm will move here from the East but its name cannot be revealed at this time, Mr. Griffin stated.

Negotiations have been underway with the company for several weeks and representatives were here the early part of this week to complete plans. A building has been obtained and everything is in readiness with the exception of a 5,000 square foot annex which must be added to the building before September, Mr. Griffin said.

Company representatives told Mr. Griffin that new machinery has been ordered in preparation for beginning of operations. The plant expects to employ around 40 persons at the beginning with constant expansion to 100.

FARM MECHANIZATION

The amount of money invested in farm machinery in Georgia more than doubled in the period between 1940 and 1945. Georgia is second highest state in the south in the number of tractors owned and operated by farmers.

Buoyant answer to Back Road and Boulevard

White sidewall tires, as illustrated, available on extra cost.

REMEMBER that rough patch of road up yonder where the ruts and ridges make a washboard seem smooth?

Recall the tiring tenseness brought on by the drum and hum of road noise and tremor even over smooth concrete highways?

Well, clock away the miles in this stunningly styled Buick — and meet up with the sweetest answer to such matters this side of cloud cruising.

"It's a ride that's soft and smooth as velvet," folks tell us. And we tell them it comes from a host of things.

It comes from the ample road-weight of a two-ton car built low and wide — and so beautifully balanced it handles light as a baton.

It comes from the leveling buoyancy of Buick's all-coil springing which puts a pillow of deeply coiled steel at each wheel to soak up the bumps and ripples.

It comes from the softness of bigger, lower-pressure tires that cushion away road tremors and roughness — from the sure-footed, swerve-free steadiness of Buick's extra wide Safety-Ride rims, widest in the industry.

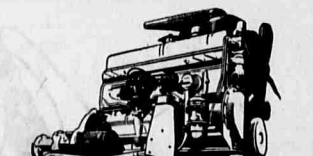

And it comes in special measure from a brand-new engineering gem we call Vibra-Shielding which banishes vibration build-up.

Here for the first time you're freed from the motoring fatigue brought on by tiny tremors piling up into bigger ones. Here your miles are made moss-smooth and quiet — long journeys become mere jaunts.

So why delay knowing the most buoyant answer to any road you ever traveled?

Come visit us now. Know at first hand the distinctive styling, the flashing action, the velvety ride over highway and byway that are Buick's and Buick's alone.

Then follow your heart's desire and get your order in promptly. We'll take it in proper sequence whether or not you have a car to trade.

REASON FOR THE VIBRA-SHIELDED RIDE
Placed with scientific exactness, 3 feet cushion of special composition cradles the engine and as it controls its vibration frequency, engine vibration is thus kept "out of line" with those that might come from other parts of the car. The result is to shield car occupants against jarring pulsations, cut road noise, make engine vibration almost imperceptible and motor smoothly fatigue-free.

BUICK alone has all these features

- * DYNALOW DRIVE (Optional, Standard Series)
- * TAPER-THRU STYLING (Optional, Standard Series)
- * VIBRA-SHIELDED RIDE * SAFETY-RIDE RIMS
- * HI-POISED FIREBALL POWER

- * QUADRI-FLEX COIL SPRINGING
- * SOUND-SORBER TOP LINING (Optional, Standard Series)

P. T. A. RECEPTION FOR S. H. S. SENIORS

On Monday evening immediately following the impressive graduation exercises at the high school auditorium, the members of the graduating class with their parents and friends were guests of the Statesboro Parent-Teacher Association at the Woman's Club for their annual reception and dance, at which time the seniors are honored.

The club room was unusually bright and colorful, with gold and green, the class colors, being effectively used throughout the room. The long tables were centered with gold candelabras arranged in low bowls and green tracery of ivy and bamboo and flanked by gold tapers. A lovely cake was embossed in gold with '48 in green lettering. Gold tapers were used on the mantel with ivy and bamboo interspersed with yellow day lilies. An arrangement of yellow lilies in a copper bowl was especially artistic.

Mrs. W. S. Hanner responded to numerous encores at the piano and group singing was enjoyed. Later in the evening the guests danced to popular recorded music.

BRIDE-ELECT FETED AT PARTIES

A lovely bridge party Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. T. L. Hagan, with Miss Inez Stephens as co-hostess, was the first in a series of parties planned for Miss Carolyn Brannen, whose marriage to Edward Bischell will be an event of Monday, June 7.

Guests were served assorted sandwiches and omelettes. Two games with romantic themes were most entertaining. Prizes were won by Mrs. Joe Robert Tillman, Tillman, who received personalized stationery, and Mrs. Billy Tillman, who received a bottle of toilet water.

this is YOUR GEORGIA!

If Georgia's original charter had been maintained, the State's westernmost city would now be Los Angeles! According to the charter issued in 1732, Georgia was granted "all land lying between the Savannah and Altamaha Rivers and lines drawn from their headwaters" to the Pacific Ocean. This would now include Little Rock and Los Angeles.

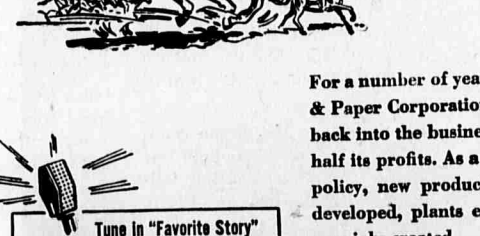

Union Bag & Paper Corporation's employees at Savannah produced enough paper and board in ten years to have made a full load for a freight train reaching from the Great Lakes to the Gulf of Mexico!

Because Georgia is situated in six of the seven climatic zones of the United States, the State produces a greater variety of agricultural products than any other.

One of Georgia's greatest Revolutionary War heroes was a Polish nobleman—Count Casimir Pulaski. He was killed leading a cavalry charge during the siege of Savannah.

For a number of years Union Bag & Paper Corporation has plowed back into the business more than half its profits. As a result of this policy, new products have been developed, plants expanded and new jobs created.

Monday was truly "blue Monday" when a large van drew up before the apartment of the JAKE MURRAYS and began to load up their household effects. . . . It meant that they were Augustans bound.

Saturday I saw CATHERINE HAGAN (Mrs. T. L.) clad in dungarees and giving the front of her house, windows, and doors a thorough going over with a hose and broom. Such a smart girl, I thought, and scolded myself that such tasks were often neglected at our house. . . .

NEW ARRIVAL

Mr. and Mrs. James Simon

to give gifts to anybody graduating?"

RODDY DODD, who is only three years old ("Member how glad he was when he attained the ripe old age of two and considered himself old enough to shave) went over to see VIRGINIA RUSHING (We admire your taste, Roddy) one night recently. He allowed to Virginia, "There's a mighty pretty moon out tonight—be a good night for a date."

I have often wondered who was building the house on the corner of Donaldson and Oil Mill Street and have been told that it is HUSMITH MARSH'S. Now, this one Jane admits she missed. Maybe it's being built just in case. . . .

JOEL SHAW has bought the Ralph White home. . . . Also, very soon a motel will be on the way at the site of the old W. T. Smith home recently acquired by WILL WOODCOCK.

This next item is one very close to my heart. From as early as I can remember, I have thought that I was somebody kind special, the reason being that I had seven brothers—seven handsome, wonderful, brothers, who considered my every whim to be honored. One, who never married, the oldest, spent the last month of his life in my home a few years ago.

JOHN never married. But he never wastes time with anything that he doesn't consider very important. He has a gift for separating the showshows from the main events of life, and he usually needs a haircut because he hates to waste time sitting in a barber's chair.

He's solid boy. After a somewhat dubious beginning with a bugle, he developed into a good trumpet player. During a high school meet, he walked out with his trumpet in hand and calmly deposited his chewing gum on the microphone. The judges admitted he could blow the horn, but they didn't approve of his stage deportment.

John slaved for his mechanical engineering degree at Tech. He's an expert photographer and enjoys tennis and swimming. Most and ice cream are his main dishes. He's quiet and in spite of his six-foot-three-inch height, has a boyish appearance, but he has a man's mind and a man's ability.

When he wasn't flattening his feet on the cinder path at Tech, he was blowing in the band. He learned to dance his last years in college (neglect on my part, I guess) and before that, the band had to perfect the "Missouri treasure that they kept it in the house were thrown into a proper state when they came home one evening and found the new maid evidently thinking to use the vacuum cleaner had clipped the rugs down to the fabric." This information came to Jane from Mrs. DeWitt Alderman, of Southern States Iron Roofing Company, from whom the electric lawn mower was purchased.

As ever,

JANE.

Dottie Hargrove

I'll Still Have The Soda

Waltz." I mean they played and waltzed at the same time—the year Teach and Missouri clashed in the Orange Bowl, several years ago.

John served as a naval officer on an LST in the Pacific during the war and has worked for Robert and Company in Atlanta since then, but he always came breezing home on week ends and has had fun when we were all together.

He's a real handyman. We used to have to truck down cellar to switch on the hot water heater, but John moved the switchbox to the head of the stairs. Not only that—he rigged up a red Christmas tree light in the hall that reminds everyone that the heater is heating.

Before he left for the big city last week, he turned in and put an FM aerial up on the parlor porch roof for the new Zenith, which the folks bought several months ago. Its broadcast is facing Atlanta and New York and it's miraculous how they can get any program any time.

John took a bundle of rods and a big oblong thing that looked like part of a trombone and fastened them down on the porch. Then he laced wire through insulators and fastened them across the back of the house and into the dining room, where he hooked them to the radio itself. He really played "go in and out the window" all forenoon.

Last week during all the electrical storms, when the static was thick as molasses and the radio was sputtering and roaring on WSB, Daddy switched to FM. He really played "go in and out the window" all forenoon.

And now John's in New York—up there with sure 'nuf city slickers. He'll see all there is to see and write us all about it, but I'll miss the cherry on my next soda.

tem, we do respectfully point out that preparation of teachers in our public schools is one of our supreme needs today in Georgia.

We think it is an undue emphasis on veterinary medicine for the Regents to invest more than a million dollars for a plant for Veterinary Medicine at one session of the Board while by contrast the Regents and their official predecessors have not invested an equal amount in the plant of the Georgia Teachers College during the forty years of its existence. The State's total need for veterinarians at any one time does not exceed three hundred, while its need for public school teachers is more than twenty thousand. This seems to give an unfair chance to pigs over people. It is no wonder, therefore, that good teachers are scarce.

Furthermore, we believe that the Regents, instead of reducing at this time the already too small allocation for Georgia Teachers College, should vastly increase it so that the college could retain its best faculty members, extend its facilities and its services so that it could more nearly render the service to the State which is so desperately needed at this time.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED THAT: A copy of these resolutions be filed with the Secretary of the Board of Regents, a copy to the press, Secretary of Georgia, E. A. Governor of Georgia, the President of the Senate and the Speaker of the House of the State Legislature of Georgia.

Alfred Dorman Goes to Tobacco Trail Meeting

Alfred Dorman will represent Statesboro and Bulloch county on the Tobacco Trail Association, the organization promoting tourist travel over U. S. Highway 301, at the annual meeting Monday.

Fred W. Hodges, who attended the meeting as local representative, reported that the group made extensive plans to expand the advertising program and correct faults made in the past. Numerous letters were read at the Florence, S. C. meeting commending and condemning the route and the reception given tourists using the route. Many of these letters were serious and of the sort the organization can use as constructive criticism. Many of the letters, however, were comical.

Mr. Dorman was named first vice-president, with the understanding that the president would serve another year if Mr. Dorman would plan to succeed him. Mr. Dorman was unable to attend the meeting in Florence.

Mr. Hodges reported that all of route 301 was in good condition, including the bad places in Georgia. Plans have been made for further improvement of these spots during the summer.

Mr. Hodges told the group that Statesboro was planning to take care of the need for more rooms during the tourist season, with additional tourist courts and hotel space now being made available.
