Farm Bureau to Show Largest Enrollment, According to Yandle

Bulloch county will enroll its largest Farm Bureau membership this year, if reports given to Hoyle R. Yandle, director of public relations for the Georgia Farm Bureau, Tuesday night at Ogeechee come through as predicted.

Mr. Yandle was guest speaker at the Ogeechee meeting. Prior to talk, his R. P. Mikell called on the various communities for a report on the progress of their membership drives. Ogeechee led off with a prediction of around 150 members for this year. Clate Mikell, their president, stated that many of these were already enrolled. J. L. Wynn, from Wray, said that they would exceed the 112 members they had last year. Delmas Rushing, from Sinkhole, predicted 100 members for this year. William Smith stated that West Side was aiming for 200 members. John Olliff reported that Middleburg was 100 percent last year and expected to be that way this year. Clarence Brack reported that they were trying for 250 members this year. R. P. Miller expected from Denmark. Register, Neville Brooklet and Stilson were not represented, but reports indicated an increase in each of these communities.

Mr. Delmas Rushing president of Associated Women in Bulloch county, asked the men to let them help in building a stronger organization. The home would be one of the first places to feel any retrenchment in income, she predicted.

Mr. Yandle estimated more than 100,000 members in Georgia this year. Mr. Smith, also a member of the state board of directors, stated that every county in the first district gave every indication of increasing their membership. Counties making the most progress were listed by Mr. Smith as Wheeler, Candler, Tattall, Emanuel, Burke, Jenkins, and Toombs.

During the afternoon, Mr. Yandle met with the presidents of the Negro chapters in the county and was assured they would have 551 members this year. B. M. Martin said Johnson Grove would have 56. Rafe DeLoach stated New Hope would have 50. U. S. Grant predicted 75 for Pope. Mathias Tremble expected 150 from New Sandridge. W. J. Jackson was after 90 for Nevis, and John Greene expected 130 at Willow Hill.

A HOLE IN THE GROUND

Elder Walter Hendricks

FROM NOW ON OUT he will belong to all Primitive Baptists. Until Sunday of last week he sort of belonged just to the people of the Savannah Primitive Baptist Church and the people of Upper Lot's Creek Church in Bulloch county and the people of the Swainsboro Primitive Baptist Church.

He explains he has no intention of abandoning his interests in and concern for the churches he has served for so many years. But, in addition, he will devote his full time to evangelistic work wherever it is most needed.

Elder J. Walter Hendricks is retiring from his duties as pastor of the Savannah Church, which he has been serving for 26 years, the Upper Lot's Creek Church which he has been serving for 36 years, the Swainsboro Primitive Baptist Church which he has served for 35 years, and as moderator of the Little Canoechee Association.

Celebrating his 75th birthday recently, he has become one of the best known and best loved preachers in the Primitive Baptist churches in Georgia.

Recognized by his "bat-wing collar" and his neat clothes, and his "booming" voice, Walter Hendricks was active not only in church and evangelistic work, but held a keen interest in the community and civic affairs. His wife was close to the farmers and his feelings were sympathetic to their problems. Teachers had a special place in his heart.

Walter Hendricks was born and reared near Bloys post office, in the vicinity of Upper Lot's Creek Church about 12 miles northwest of Statesboro.

Before he was ordained into the ministry of the Primitive Baptist Church he was an educator. He was principal at Douglas for awhile. Then, in 1908, he became the first head of the "old" A. & M. School, later to become the Georgia Normal College, and now known as the Georgia Teachers College. He has been closely associated with the college through all the years of its development and growth.

Veterans - Ask Yourself...

Did a friend of yours die in the service of your country?

And was he buried where he fell or in the country where he died?

And is he among those brought back home, or is being brought back home, for burial?

And have you been asked to serve as one of his pallbearers or one of a firing squad at his funeral services to be conducted by the American Legion or the Veterans of Foreign Wars?

And did you say: "No."

You were too busy.

You just couldn't make it.

And so members of the family or the mortuary in charge had to call on non-veterans, and the man was buried without the flag, for which he fought and died, on his casket... was buried without a squad of eight men to fire that final volley over his body...

He was given a civilian burial.

Just because there were not six of his fellow-veterans who could find time to serve as pallbearers and eight of his fellow veterans who could not take time out to form a firing squad.

He took time out to give his life.

Can we not take time out to give him a military funeral and to honor him as his family would wish?

Think on these things the next time you are asked to give one or two hours of your time to honor our war dead.

THE ALMANAC SAYS THE WEATHER THIS WEEK ON...

TODAY, THURSDAY, OCTOBER 28, will be fair.

FRIDAY, OCTOBER 29, will continue fair.

SATURDAY, OCTOBER 30, will be fair.

SUNDAY, OCTOBER 31, will be fair. HALLOWEEN.

MONDAY, NOVEMBER 1, will be fair.

TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 2, will bring pleasant weather.

WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 3, will be pleasant.

... But Don't Blame Us If the Almanac is Wrong

THY thoughts are good, and Thou art kind,
E'en when we think it not;
How many an anxious, fathless mind
Sits grieving o'er its lot,
And frets, and pines by day and night,
As God had lost it out of sight,
And all its wants forgot.

Harvest Timber Wisely, Forester Turner Says

Timber is a crop and should be harvested and managed as such, is the advice given woodland owners by James C. Turner Jr., of Farm Forestry for the Ogeechee Farm Forestry Project, of which Bulloch county is a part.

Timber is just like cotton, corn or any other farm crop, and requires similar care. Every farmer knows that in order to grow his farm crops off in the shortest possible time he must keep it free of the competition of weeds and poor crop plants. The same is true of trees. Trees require thinning at the proper time in order that the stand will produce the most wood in the shortest possible time. Weed trees should also be removed so that more valuable species may have room to grow. Tree growers are fortunate disease if dog owners will not accept the responsibility voluntarily.

A word to the wise is sufficient.

Had Your Dog Vaccinated?

WE learn from the Commissioner of Health, Dr. W. D. Lundquist, that there are a lot of dogs in Statesboro and Bulloch county that have not been inoculated against rabies. Dr. H. F. Hook, county rabies inspector, says, "It's the law - you must have your dog vaccinated."

According to Dr. Lundquist, 25 percent of the dogs of the city and county are dangerous...

dangerous to their owners, to their owners' children, to their neighbors, to their neighbors' children... livestock. A dog not vaccinated, may develop hydrophobia on coming in contact with an infected dog.

Dr. Hook, Dr. D. L. Davis and Dr. Hugh Arundel are doing a good job in getting notices to dog owners and establishing vaccination clinics throughout the county. It is understood that some owners have declared they have no intention of having their dogs inoculated.

Such an attitude is inexcusable. An unvaccinated dog is a menace to the community. But in lieu of cooperation there is a law. And, according to Dr. Lundquist, the Health Department intends to issue warrants for arrest for those who do not comply with the law governing the inoculation of dogs against rabies. He says, "This is a serious step to take," and adds, "Rabies in animals with the possibility of transmitting it to humans is of greater seriousness. Rabies can be prevented and the health department is charged with the responsibility of protecting the health of the people of this community, and it is accepting the responsibility of enforcing the prevention of the spread of the

that the trees which are removed need not be wasted as are plants removed in a farm row crop thinning, the trees taken out being sold as pup wood, or utilized on the farm for fence posts, stack poles or fuel wood.

Care should be taken that the proper trees are selected for removal and that no good fast-growing trees are removed, leaving the stand in a rundown, poor quality condition. Of course, fire must be kept out of the woods. If any of the cultural or improvement practices are to be of any value.

In selling timber the woodland owner should know what and how much he is selling, the same as a farmer measures and sells his farm crops. No farmer would think of selling a field of cotton without first measuring in some manner the number of pounds of cotton in that field. Yet many people sell their timber without any idea of how many trees are removed and what volume of lumber they will saw out. To do this is not regarding the timber as a crop, which will continue to produce an income over the year, if properly managed. But rather it is considering it as a mine from which one crop may be removed and no more.

At Stratford-on-Avon

Stratford-on-Avon is one of the most interesting places we visited. For here is where Shakespeare lived and worked. We first visited the "Lester Monument Memorial Theatre." Shakespeare was born April 23, 1564. We went to his home, which was a double-house - his father living in one part and running a small store in the other. In addition to the store business, his father farmed.

Inside the house are many quotations, one of which reads: "Let Them Want Nothing This House Offers." The house was left to his sister and then sold for 200 pounds. Forty years later, however, it was bought at 30,000 pounds and used as a shrine to which lovers of Shakespeare's works visited.

The beams of the house, built in 1500, are still there. Shakespeare's original desk and chair are still there. A huge open fireplace, an iron salt box to preserve salt in damp weather, are on display. During his lifetime, the great writer gave 82 performances at court. Not very far from his home is a museum made of the place where he attended and taught school.

We then visited Ann Hathway's cottage. She was the wife of Shakespeare. The plan of the original garden is still there, and is now full of gorgeous blooming flowers. The house has a thatched roof. There are twelve rooms in the house and all are well preserved. Now four hundred years old, it belongs to a Shakespeare's trust. The house contains oak paneling in the living room, with two love seat benches by an open fireplace - chairs, tables, and a small spindle with which to make lace, a china tea set, blue willow dishes, pewter teapot, and bits of earthenware - all over three hundred years old.

In Ann Hathway's bedroom is a hand-carved bed, given her by her husband. We saw a straw, plaited mattress. In the kitchen is a built-in oven with a heavy wooden door, a brass saucepan, a hand-stitched leather bottle.

We saw a beautiful gateleg table and many chairs of oak. There is the original floor of stone blocks. While at Stratford-on-Avon we visited Holy Trinity Church, where Shakespeare and Ann were members. They are buried there today, and today the church is known as "Holy Trinity Stratford-on-Avon."

WOMAN'S CLUB (Continued From Front Page) It is estimated that the birth rate has grown yearly from 65,000 in 1940 to 95,000 in 1948. Georgia's school buildings, facilities, teachers and transportation are inadequate to meet these rapid strides in our population. Miss Snipes stated that this was a program for the people and not for the teachers, because teachers are going to other states for better salaries.

The opening session was last Wednesday evening with J. Gilbert Cone, mayor of Statesboro, making the welcoming address. Rev. Charles Jackson Jr., pastor of Statesboro Methodist Church, was a guest speaker.

A number of Home Demonstration Council officers and club presidents were visitors at the meeting. They were introduced by Miss Dorothy Johnson, Assistant Home Demonstration Agent. The program was closed by Virginia Sale Is First On Series Virginia Sale, monologist, will be presented in the college auditorium on Monday, November 8 at 8:15 p. m., as the first of the 1948-49 artist series, attractions.

Miss Sale, specializing in an original "American" series of monologues, writes her own material and creates her own costumes. In one of her featured monologues, by costume change and starkly realistic interpretation of the sterner characters who were the backbone of American frontiers, she brings out not only the character and dialogue but also the mental processes and activity of the American pioneers.

Miss Sale spends her time between her "one-woman theatre" and Hollywood, where she has appeared in character roles in over 300 pictures. She was starred for eight years in the radio drama, "Those We Love." Her bookings for this, her first season, entirely devoted to her one-woman theatre, now totals over 100. On a national scale, she is playing almost every state in the union. She has given over 500 performances of this recital, and has been ranked by critics with Cornelia Otis Skinner and Ruth Draper.

During the war she was the first entertainer to tour coast army camps, even before Pearl Harbor, when drafted men had no entertainment whatever. On V-J Day she flew across country for the Hollywood Victory Committee and did 75 hospital ward shows in 11 days. Her "Heads Up" show in 11 days. Her "Heads Up" show in 11 days. The Blue Devils, together with their supporters, went to Vidalia last Friday night to play the sixth game of the season. Statesboro scored late in the second quarter when Emory Nesmith took Ashton Cassidy's pass near the middle marker and made it to the 10-yard line. In three plays, Nesmith took the ball over for the score. The try for the extra point failed.

The Blue Devils' extra point came when Nesmith again took a pass from Cassidy near the 50-yard line and raced to the Vidalia three. "Pewee" DeLoach, the ball over for the other score. Again the try for the extra point failed.

Vidalia scored twice and converted one extra point to win the game 13 to 12.

The Blue Devils will play Millen here tomorrow (Friday) night.

Coach James Hall announced this week that the Blue Devils will meet the Richmond Academy "B" team here in the annual Thanksgiving game on November 25.

Nov. 8 Is 'D-Day' For Bulloch Rats

Dr. W. D. Lundquist, Bulloch County Commissioner of Health, and Perry R. Summerlin, of the State Health Department, announced recently that Bulloch county has been selected as the county in which a demonstration of a complete and well-rounded program of rat poisoning would begin, starting Monday November 8.

"It is planned," said Dr. Lundquist, "to use the best poisons available for rat poisoning, and to work towards a rat-free county. In order to reach this goal, we are cooperating with the State Health Department in the program to do away with rats, to clean up the nesting sites of the rats, as well as sources of food and water."

It is a well established fact that rats will live where they cannot secure a good nesting site, and where food and water are not available.

Mr. Summerlin stressed the fact that this is not a "quick kill" campaign, but rather is a well-planned program to poison rats and to make Bulloch county a county where rats will not find the "welcome" mat. It is planned that all available rat poisons which have proven themselves in rat poisoning work be used in the program. The following poisons will be used: Rodine, arsenic wafer, 1080 poison—in business establishments only—Cyanogas or A. Dust, and Antu. These poisons will be used as indicated on each rat poison label.

The typhus fever program in Bulloch county has shown excellent results since it was first sponsored by the county commissioners and the County Health Department. The program has been responsible for the number of cases of typhus fever dropping some 90 per cent in recent years. Today, typhus fever is a disease not often reported in this county.

Truman Is Re-Elected President; Bulloch Casts 2,036 Votes For Him

In the biggest political upset in the history of the United States, Harry S. Truman defeated Thomas E. Dewey in the November 2 presidential election. With returns still incomplete Mr. Truman is credited with 302 electoral votes, 36 more than is needed for election.

Bulloch county wanted no part of the Republican Party and its candidate, Thomas E. Dewey. They wanted no part of the State Righters and their candidate, J. Strom Thurmond. They wanted no part of the Progressives and their Henry Wallace, nor the candidate of the Prohibitionists.

Bulloch county just wanted the Democratic Party and its candidate Harry S. Truman. Final returns show 2,036 citizens of the county voted the democratic ticket and Harry S. Truman. Two hundred seventy-six voted the Republican ticket, 625 voted the States' Rights ticket, 6 voted the Progressive ticket, and 10 voted the Prohibition ticket.

In Statesboro 1,048 voted for Mr. Truman, 209 for Mr. Dewey, 298 for Mr. Thurmond, 2 for Mr. Wallace, and 5 for the Prohibition ticket.

A total of 2,953 votes were cast in the county in the presidential race, of which 1,562 were cast in the Statesboro district.

Of the 276 Republican votes cast 209 were in the Statesboro district.

Tabulation showed 2,889 ballots cast for state officers, including Governor Talmadge, Congressman Prince H. Preston, U.S. Senator Dick Russell, constitutional officers, and county officials.

Chief Lott immediately called a meeting of the city police force. To serve with him are Police-men Henry Anderson, "Tuck" Tucker, Carolyn DeLoach, J. M. Tuffin, George P. Lee and Albert Smith.

Father Ed Smith Talks at Rural Life Conference Father Ed Smith, of St. Mary's Church, Statesboro, attended the Rural Life Conference of The National Rural Life Conference held in LaCrosse, Wisconsin, last week.

Police Chief Lott Takes Office Oath

In a special ceremony held in the city office Monday morning of this week, City Court Judge Cohen Anderson administered the oath of office to Statesboro's new chief of police, William ("Bill") J. Lott.

Prior to the administration of the oath, Mayor J. Gilbert Cone commended acting chief of police Henry Anderson. Mayor Cone stated that two years ago when Mr. Anderson was appointed chief it was understood that he would serve until the city council could secure a chief.

At the ceremony were Chief Lott's wife, two children, Vivian, 9, and Betty, 5, and Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Lott.

Mayor Cone stated that the city council had found that Chief Lott possessed the qualifications which they desired in their police chief.

Following the ceremony, the new chief of police made a statement pledging his very best in serving the citizens of this community. (For full text of his statement see editorial page.)

Wear a Poppy On Poppy Day, Nov. 6 "A poppy on every coat—remembrance in every heart" will be the goal of the American Legion Auxiliary for the annual observance of Poppy Day here, November 6, Saturday before Armistice Day.

Mrs. Joe Woodcock Jr., the Auxiliary's poppy chairman, says that poppies will be offered in Statesboro all day Saturday so that everyone will have an opportunity to honor the war dead by wearing the memorial flower.

"Poppy Day this year should hold special significance," says Mrs. Woodcock. "For on November 9 a commemorative stamp will be placed on sale by the U. S. Government honoring the Poppy Lady, Miss Moira Michael, sister of Miss Mae Michael of Teachers College."

Mrs. Woodcock urges everyone to wear a poppy on November 6.
