

Classified

Authentic Antiques sold unbelievably cheap. Would like to buy a slave bill of sale or slave tag; any hand-made furniture dating before 1860; china, glassware, brass or old chests. Y. E. OLDE WAGON WHEEL—ANTIQUES, Savannah Highway, Phone 2902, Statesboro, Ga.

FENCE POST FOR SALE: Red heart cypress, 6 1/2 ft. long, 55c each. Corner post, 8 ft. long, $1.50 each, delivered. E. E. CHAUNCEY, P.O. Box 431, Homerville, Ga. (3tp)

FRANCIS W. ALLEN
Attorney-at-Law
announces the opening of his office for general practice of Law and Federal Income Tax Practice
At 214 East Main Street,
Located in office with
W. G. Neville
(9-23-21c)

FOR SALE: 1936 Dodge 1/2-ton pickup truck with practically new 1946 motor. Body in poor condition. Will sell separately. WALKER TIRE & BATTERY SERVICE, Phone 472.

NEED A GOOD REFRIGERATOR? We have for sale several good used electric refrigerators. See them at AKINS APPLIANCE CO., West Main St., Statesboro, Ga. (11)

FOR SALE—FARMS, HOMES AND BUSINESS PROPERTY. See The Bulloch Herald Insurance & Realty Company before you buy. Let us help you sell your property. We have a large number of applications for farms and homes. List your property with us for sale now. Bulloch Insurance & Realty Co., 6 South Main St., floor Sea Island Bank Bldg. Tel. 488-R.

FARM LOANS —
4% Interest
Terms to suit the borrower. See LINTON G. LANIER, 6 S. Main St., 1st Floor Sea Island Bank Building.

WANTED — ROOSTERS — FRYERS
Large 30c lb.
Small 27c lb.
Fryers and Roosters at Top Prices.
SEA FOOD CENTER
60 W. Main, Bulloch City Dairy
Phone 544—

WANTED: Poultry of all kinds. Highest prices paid. RALPH MOORE, Phone 284, Pretorius Street, Statesboro, Ga.

Western Auto Assn. Store
BATTERIES RE-CHARGED

C. J. MOYANUS
35 W. Main St. — Phone 513-M
F.H.A., G.I., FARM LOANS.
Conventional loans. All 4 percent. Swift, prompt service.
A. S. DODD, Cone Bldg., N. Main St., Phone 518, Statesboro, Ga. (11)

YOUR HAT IS TOPS

WITH US
We specialize in Cleaning and Blocking Your Hat. Call Us Today for Quick Pickup and Delivery.

DuBose Dry Cleaners
Call 368-J or 538-J
N. Zettrower Ave., Between O'Hair St. and Dover Rd.
Next to Thackston & Melton Bedding Company
WE CALL FOR & DELIVER
Or you may leave your clothes for cleaning at Holston DuBose Men's Store on West Main St.

JUST RECEIVED: "HOT POINT"
Electric Washing Machines — winger type. Made by General Electric. WALTER ALDRED CO., Phone 224. (11)

DR. MELVIN STUTHER
Prominent Savannah Chiropractor, announces the opening of offices in the Rushing Hotel, Statesboro, Georgia.
ON WEDNESDAYS ONLY
Limited to the treatment of the feet.
PHONE 459
Desk Clerk at Rushing Hotel will arrange appointments.

Stop By SHELL SERVICE STATION
West Parrish & Portal Hwy. For Delicious Steaks - Sandwiches - Chicken Dinners
—Curbside Service—
NESBITT (Boobie) LEE (4tp)

NEED A GOOD REFRIGERATOR? We have for sale several good used electric refrigerators. See them at AKINS APPLIANCE CO., West Main St., Statesboro, Ga. (11)

FOSTER DIXON - Insurance -
AUTO - FIRE - LIABILITY
STATE MUTUAL HOSPITALIZATION INSURANCE CLAIMS ARE PAID LOCALLY
BEFORE LEAVING HOSPITAL
P. O. Box 31 (11-18-3tp)

HALLMARK CHRISTMAS CARDS
from paintings by Grandma Moses
All the refreshing charm of Grandma Moses' famed landscapes is captured on these new Hallmark Christmas Cards! See them today. And remember, a Hallmark Card tells your friends you cared enough to send the very best.

YOUR HAT IS TOPS

WITH US
We specialize in Cleaning and Blocking Your Hat. Call Us Today for Quick Pickup and Delivery.

DuBose Dry Cleaners
Call 368-J or 538-J
N. Zettrower Ave., Between O'Hair St. and Dover Rd.
Next to Thackston & Melton Bedding Company
WE CALL FOR & DELIVER
Or you may leave your clothes for cleaning at Holston DuBose Men's Store on West Main St.

with Hallmark Christmas Cards
Headquarters for Distinctive Hallmark Christmas Cards.

Lanier Jewelers
"YOUR HALLMARK DEALER"
Statesboro, Georgia
"ON THE SQUARE"

IMPORTANT MAN
The man in your U.S. Army and U. S. Air Force recruiting station holds an important position. He's a representative of the biggest and most important—business in the world. He's qualified and competent to hold his job because he's specially trained and carefully selected to guide young men in choosing a career. Why is it necessary for the recruiter to have such high standards of training and experience? Because never before has American youth been offered such valuable opportunities. Get this complete story now at the U.S. Army and U.S. Air Force Recruiting Station, courthouse, Statesboro, Ga.

NOTICE
Dr. E. H. Smart, optometrist, will be out of his office in Lanier Jewelers this week end, S. W. Smart, optician, will be in the office and will receive callers.

FOR RENT: Room for two, with or without meals. Phone 635-R.

FOR SALE: Seed cane or cane to make syrup. Any amount at reasonable price. R. P. MILLER, Route Brooklet in Danmar.

FOR SALE: 2 Fuel Oil Heaters at reasonable prices. One large size, practically new. PHONE 625-M or write Bill Adams, Statesboro, Ga. (11-11-21c)

HOSPITAL AND SURGICAL EXPENSES PAID. Great White Cross Plan, with office in principal cities, now enrolling small groups in Bulloch County. Phone Miss Jackie Waters, Statesboro, 338-J, or send postcard to Box 121.

WANTED TO BUY: Corn. See EDWIN BANKS at City Dairy Farm.

J. B. SARGENT General Contractor
—See Me Before You Build—
I am physically able and capable of handling any type of construction. Work done as economically as anyone. (11-18-3tp)

You are invited to select your own personal greetings from our showings of . . .

the most beautiful Christmas Cards ever Created by the makers of

HALLMARK CARDS
Gallery Artists
Sophisticated Conventional Formal
Cards for Men

IMPRINTED WITH YOUR NAME
Come in now and make your selection while stocks are complete. All at popular prices. Be ready for

EARLY CHRISTMAS MAILING
Send tasteful Hallmark Thank You Cards that carry best wishes for the New Year too. Beautiful—distinctive—in perfect taste.

A WONDERFUL WAY TO SAY Thank You
Send tasteful Hallmark Thank You Cards that carry best wishes for the New Year too. Beautiful—distinctive—in perfect taste.

Lanier Jewelers
"YOUR HALLMARK DEALER"
Statesboro, Georgia
"ON THE SQUARE"

Holsom Wins "Best Bread" Award

According to an announcement of last week by Mr. E. J. Derst, president of the Holsom Bakery, Savannah, Holsom bread has been awarded the Quality Bakers of America "Best Bread" trophy.

The award was made after the judging of nearly 90 fine breads baked by members of Quality Bakers of America. The judging was made on ten quality counts, including flavor, texture, freshness, and appearance.

"And our Holsom loaf came out on top for August," said Mr. Derst. "Tender-textured, our exclusive baking improver, gave our loaf the fine soft texture and oven-fresh flavor which was rated finest by the judges."

In a survey made in June of 1947, it was found that 85.4 percent of all Savannah shoppers preferred Holsom bread," Mr. Derst continued. "And in some towns in South Carolina and Georgia the preference for Holsom went as high as 90 percent."

He explained that for the next two weeks shoppers in Bulloch County will find a beautiful yellow band with a big orchid printed on it with the slogan, "An orchid to the Ladies Who Serve Holsom Bread—All 85.4 Percent of You."

The trophy is a handsome silver column.

In exhibiting the trophy, the bakery president pledged that "our prize-winning Holsom bread will be even finer during the days ahead."

The bakery is now constructing a new building in Savannah which, when completed, will be one of the finest in the country.

The Bulloch Herald, Thursday, November 4, 1948

BETA SIGMA PHI FITTED AT SEVERAL PARTIES

Members of the Beta Sigma Phi Society have been fitted at several parties for the past few weeks. They were first invited to attend the regular monthly meeting which is held at the Jackson Hotel.

This was followed by a "get-acquainted" party at Marianne Bowens'. Many intriguing games were played. Members and guests helped themselves, soda-fountain style, to sandwiches, prepared to individual tastes.

Members, rushes and dates also enjoyed a dance at Margaret Franklin's. Around twenty-five couples were present. Refreshments consisting of sandwiches, olives, pickles, potato chips, crackers, cookies, and Coca-Cola were enjoyed.

At the third meeting of the Knotters officers were elected. Hick Averitt was elected the superior officer; Phil Morris, captain; and Wayne Parrish and Max Roberts, lieutenants. All boys interested in joining the club are asked to be at the Community Center this Saturday night at 7 p. m. This week the boys are planning a hay ride.

The Recreation Department announces this week that plans for a supervised play period has been arranged for children from the age of two through six for Saturday morning.

There is plenty of equipment available, the little theatre, pet shows, picnic grounds; and play periods are planned. Mrs. Max Lockwood will be the supervisor and mothers are asked to be present Saturday morning at 9 o'clock.

During bad weather the program will be continued inside the Community Center. In order for your child to get the most out of this program it is requested that you have your child here on the first day.

FOR RENT: Unfurnished four-room apartment. Close in. Hot water furnished. Apply at 202 South College Street.

Southern AUTO STORES

TOYS
Right Out of Santa's Pack . . .

BICYCLES
Boys' or Girls'
$36.95
The last word in smooth operation, fine performance, sturdy made frame . . . heavy duty tires and leather seat.

RADIO FLYER WAGON
Ruggedly constructed, all metal wagon with a one piece body . . . beautifully finished in red enamel. Will please any youngster!
9.95

DOLL COACH
Made of light blue heavy duty carriage cloth, trimmed in white binding. Collapsible frame for easy storage. 5 1/2 inch diameter wheels.
5.95

TRICYCLES
Here's a rugged little speedster for your kiddie. Sturdily made of 1 1/2 inch tubular steel. Finished in bright red enamel. Surprisingly light.
6.95

Other Sizes at Similar Savings

Southern AUTO STORES

Read The Herald's Ads

VOLUME VIII

German Girls Say It's Wonderful

"It's wonderful!" That's the answer they gave to the question, "What do you think of America?"

Monday morning of this week Statesboro school children heard what it's like to live in Germany today. Cornelia Graber and Ellen Schmidt, two young German girls, were guests of the Statesboro school at the regular chapel program. They were with Dr. Guy Wells, president of GSCW, Milledgeville, where the two girls are students under a Rotary foreign student education plan.

The girls were presented by Dr. Wells, who related some of his experiences while in Germany, studying the educational system. Miss Schmidt stated simply in her talk that "Dreams do come true." She told of the conditions which existed in Germany in 1933 when Hitler came to power.

"We were children then, and the youth knew only dictatorship and fear. We saw our parents cheer Hitler, the teachers damn the Jews. You can't imagine the disappointment and disillusion when Germany was conquered," she said.

Living in the Western sector of Germany, she confessed that "I wouldn't like to live in Eastern (Soviet-controlled) Germany, a dictatorship, one might say, organization for everything . . . it is now as it has ever been."

She stated that in Germany they are trying to strengthen and build up a good, decent government.

Miss Graber, who taught in a school in the Russian zone but lived in the American-British zone, related the difficulties she had with the money. Paid in Russian currency, she could not take it across the border with her in returning to her home.

She described the desperate circumstances under which she had to teach. She described her pupils as going without shoes, decent clothing, with no copy-books, no pencils, no chalk. "And the boys so keen to learn," she stated.

She told of the distorted accounts of life in America as told by the Russians in the newspapers, magazines and movies.

The two German girls were given a tremendous ovation by the school students.

They left here to go to Savannah, where they talked to the Savannah Rotary Club Monday noon.

GENE CONNER HOME ON LEAVE FROM U. S. ARMY
Gene Conner, former employee of The Bulloch Herald, now in the U. S. Army, is home on a 5-day leave after completing basic training at Fort Jackson, S. C. When he returns to Fort Jackson, he will enter a leadership training school. Upon completion of his training there, he will go to photographer's school. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Willis Conner, of South College street.

MEMBER OF THE UNITED COUNCIL OF CHURCH WOMEN IN BULLOCH COUNTY
Members of the United Council of Church Women in Bulloch County prepared and shipped on Tuesday of this week 28 packages containing complete outfits for teenage youths in Europe. The shipment is a part of the November 5 "World Community Day" observed here.

Mrs. Fay Lazar and son, Bud, were visitors in Savannah Saturday.

RED CAPS 21; PILOTS 0
Saturday the Red Caps continued their victory march by defeating the Pilots 21 to 0. Robert Waters scored the three touchdowns, with Jimmy Jones intercepting a pass in the third period to set up the last score. The passing game of the Pilots failed to pay off.

THE BULLOCH HERALD

DEDICATED TO THE PROGRESS OF STATESBORO AND BULLOCH COUNTY
Statesboro, Georgia, Thursday, November 11, 1948

Rotarians Hear Russian History

Statesboro Rotarians heard a definition of "Communism" Monday when Mrs. Maude Edge talked to the club on "Russia."

"Communism is a religion, based on love of state, and not on the love of God," she said. "Communism does not believe in God or a future life, nor in individual rights. Promises mean nothing. Lying is honorable. Communism is the plan of a ruffian gang to make themselves lords of a new feudal system."

Mrs. Edge traced the history of the Russians, beginning with the original Slavs along the Baltic, their migrations from Asia, the peasants' rebellion in 17th century, the advent of Karl Marx, the rise of Bolshevism and the 20 years of world ostracism, and the events leading up to and including World War II.

In describing Stalin, Mrs. Edge said: "Hitler was nothing compared to Stalin. Hitler lacked the gift of silence. Stalin has that cunning that a clerical, churchly education gives . . . for Stalin was educated for the priesthood. Where Hitler covered only Europe, Stalin wants all Europe and all Asia. Say what we please, he commands our destinies."

Mrs. Edge pointed out the aims of the Communists: a strong Red army, a protective belt of satellites; and the weakening and division of western democracies.

"Russia is a land where slaves are trying to grow up. Power has gone to the masses of a few. Communism is in the souls of these people," Mrs. Edge said.

In her concluding statements, Mrs. Edge contended we are on the right course now. "The Truman Doctrine," which was Roosevelt's—helping free people to remain free. Showing the world we have something so much better. Proving that capitalism can do the economic job of achieving stability, providing steady employment, creating opportunities and increasing the welfare of all people."

"Let us all be missionaries of democracy and peace," she concluded.

EMERALD LANIER WINS DENMARK CORN GROWING CONTEST FOR 1948
Emerald Lanier was the best corn grower in the Denmark community this year, according to a report made by the Farm Bureau committee which checked the yields of those entered in the community contest.

Mr. Lanier averaged some 60 bushels per acre on his demonstration plot. Carroll Miller and J. L. Lane were close seconds.

Then members of the Denmark group have made plans to attend the State convention.

J. H. Ginn, local president, named W. P. Fordham, Houston Lanier and U. L. Williams to a nominating and instructed them to make their report of their selection of officers for next year at the December meeting.

The Middleburg farm group planned Thursday night to send fifteen members to the state convention for the two days it is in session.

John H. Olliff, Middleburg's president, testified that James Lamar Dodd, J. I. Smith and John Gay serve on a nominating committee, to report also at the December meeting.

CHURCH WOMEN SHIP 28 CLOTHING PACKAGES TO TEEN-AGERS IN EUROPE
Member of the United Council of Church Women in Bulloch County prepared and shipped on Tuesday of this week 28 packages containing complete outfits for teenage youths in Europe. The shipment is a part of the November 5 "World Community Day" observed here.

Mrs. Fay Lazar and son, Bud, were visitors in Savannah Saturday.

RED CAPS 21; PILOTS 0
Saturday the Red Caps continued their victory march by defeating the Pilots 21 to 0. Robert Waters scored the three touchdowns, with Jimmy Jones intercepting a pass in the third period to set up the last score. The passing game of the Pilots failed to pay off.

BULL DOGS LICK CARDS 12-0
Saturday the Bull Dogs defeated the Cardinals 12 to 0. Hines scored from the 25 in the first period. Preston Barber scored

City And County Mourn Death Of Rev. T. E. Serson

For an hour on Tuesday of this week the people of Statesboro and Bulloch county put aside their daily tasks to participate in a memorial service for the Rev. T. Earl Serson, pastor of the First Baptist Church here, who was drowned while on a hunting trip in Canada of last week.

First District V.F.W. Convention To Be Held Here Nov. 4

Veterans of Foreign Wars will meet here Sunday, November 14, for a First District convention. They will begin their meetings at 10 a. m. at the Masonic Hall on South Main street.

The local Post No. 5895 of the VFW will be host at the convention.

Bud Martin, commander of the local post, announced that State Department Commander C. F. Pope, State Department Quartermaster James L. Carmichael, and First District Commander Day Hendrix will be present at the convention.

Congressman Prince H. Preston will be a guest of the convention.

All members of the VFW are invited and urged to attend.

Lon Sullivan to Speak At Meeting of Junior Woman's Club Today
Lon Sullivan, of the Georgia Citizens Council, will be guest speaker at the meeting of the Statesboro Junior Woman's Club this afternoon at 3:30 at the Community Center in Memorial Park.

Mr. Sullivan is well known in Statesboro as a compelling speaker, having appeared here several times before the Rotary Club and other organizations.

Mrs. Paul Sauve will present Mr. Sullivan. He is expected to talk on coordinating community efforts, with emphasis on planning for youth.

Rev. Serson served as a chaplain during World II and was assigned to the local air base. Upon his discharge from the Army he accepted a call to serve the Baptist Church here.

Rev. Serson is survived by his wife and one daughter, Sally, a student at Mercer University; his mother, three brothers, and two sisters. Funeral services will be held in Detroit.

Young Beasley is a graduate of the University of Georgia and worked with his father in a shipping business on the Georgia coast. His parents survive. . . . E. L. Barnes and Logan Hagan left Statesboro Monday night and Mr. Fred Beasley Sr. left Tuesday night for Canada.

The word of the death of Rev. Serson caused sorrow in the hearts of all in this section. Extremely active in his church work, he also took an interest in civic and community affairs. All business houses in Statesboro closed from 11 until 12 o'clock on Tuesday to gather at his church for the memorial service. Rev. Chas. A. Jackson Jr., pastor of the Statesboro Methodist Church, Rev. Harnsberger, pastor of the Presbyterian Church, and Rev. John Burch, of Claxton, former assistant to Rev. Serson, led the services.

A.A.U.W. to Meet In G.T.C. Library On Tuesday Evening at 8
The regular meeting of the American Association of University Women will meet in the G.T.C. library Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock, with Miss Viola Perry, Miss Hassie McElveen, Louise Bennett, and Mrs. David Hawk as hostesses. Miss McElveen will lead a discussion on children's books. An exhibit will be prepared for the discussion.

T.C. Home Ec Club Hears Rev. Harnsberger On "Family Living"
Rev. Harnsberger, pastor of the Presbyterian Church, spoke to the Teachers College Home Economics Club Monday on "Christianity in the Home." He stressed the importance of a religious environment in the home, based on love for each other, mutual understanding, appreciation for each other's abilities, companionship, and family worship.

This is the first of a series of a discussion of family living.

Chief Lott Urges Law Observance
CITY POLICE COURT
Police Court convened at 9 o'clock Monday morning. November 8, with five cases on the docket, including three traffic violations.

Two cases for speeding were called. One driver was charged and found guilty of speeding, reckless driving, running into another car, drunkenness, and driving without a driver's license. He was fined $75 and given a short lecture on the evils of drink and the dangers of driving an automobile while under the influence of liquor. The other driver failed to show up in court and his $10 cash bond was forfeited.

A car owner was charged with parking violation and disregard of a traffic ticket. He was fined $250 and received a brief lecture on the importance of traffic control and a proper respect for traffic tickets.

A negro drew a $25 fine or 30 days on the streets for drunkenness and disorderly conduct. The testimony showed that he had tried to beat up his "younguns." The defendant offered in his statement that "Younguns just naturally need a beating now-a-days." The

Bulloch County's Leading Newspaper

Number 51

Vocational Home Makers Meet

Pieces of string, bunches of pine straw, old apples boxes, corn shucks, tin cans, acorns, seeds, rags, jar rubbers—all are just so much putty in the hands of Vocational Homemakers instructors and Home Economics instructors in Bulloch and neighboring counties.

Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of this week Homemaking teachers of Bulloch County, ECI, Oak Park and Summerville met at the Laboratory School at the Teachers College to observe demonstrations and an exhibit of Mrs. Lucille McGeehe, of the Vocational State Department of Education.

The exhibits included works in crafts by students to illustrate what they can do and are doing.

Miniature dolls made from corn shucks attracted the most "oh's" and "ah's" from the group. Scavenges, colored by a special method of applying coloring crayons, towels from flour sacks, necklaces from beechnuts and seeds and tiny sea shells, earrings made from buttons, bounciers from acorns and tiny pine cones were shown.

Jewel boxes covered with beaten copper foil, rags transformed into pot holders, not plate mats, fruit bags converted into efficient dishrags, penne into novelty forms, pine needles into whisk-brooms and bread trays.

Soft woods from old crates were transformed into many toys for the younger children.

In addition to the exhibit of Mrs. McGeehe, the Homemaking teachers could add many things made by their own pupils.

"Kids just like to make things with their hand, and it means something new for the bedroom, living room, for the dinner table; something to which they point with pride," Mrs. McGeehe said.

Chief Lott Urges Law Observance
CITY POLICE COURT
Police Court convened at 9 o'clock Monday morning. November 8, with five cases on the docket, including three traffic violations.

Two cases for speeding were called. One driver was charged and found guilty of speeding, reckless driving, running into another car, drunkenness, and driving without a driver's license. He was fined $75 and given a short lecture on the evils of drink and the dangers of driving an automobile while under the influence of liquor. The other driver failed to show up in court and his $10 cash bond was forfeited.

A car owner was charged with parking violation and disregard of a traffic ticket. He was fined $250 and received a brief lecture on the importance of traffic control and a proper respect for traffic tickets.

A negro drew a $25 fine or 30 days on the streets for drunkenness and disorderly conduct. The testimony showed that he had tried to beat up his "younguns." The defendant offered in his statement that "Younguns just naturally need a beating now-a-days." The

(Continued On Back Page)

SOCIETY

MRS. ERNEST BRANNEN

PHONE 212

WEEK END PARTY IN JACKSONVILLE

Among those enjoying a week end party in Jacksonville with Mrs. J. W. Clendenen and her husband were her niece, Miss Julian Rushing, and Alonzo Davis, her nephew, James Davidson, of the University of Georgia, and Bill Bradley of Claxton; Kimball Johnston, Miss Dorothy Rushing and Rex Hart.

FANS AT GAME

Those who were present in Atlanta when Tennessee defeated Tech Saturday at Grants Field were Mr. and Mrs. Walter Aldred, Everett Williams and son, Frank, Robert Davidson and son, Bobby, Jimmy Johnson and Sammy Franklin, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Robert Tillman, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Beaver and children, Jane and Johnny.

LOCAL WOMEN ATTEND DISTRICT MEETING

Among Statesboro Woman's Club members who attended the First District meeting of the Federated Women's Clubs at Guyton Friday were Mrs. I. A. Barnes, local president and district chairman of Conservation, Mrs. Alfred Dorman, district chairman of Education, Mrs. Ernest Rushing, Mrs. Ed Pretorius, and Mrs. E. L. Barnes, vice president of the district and state chairman of Conservation of Natural Resources.

Mrs. Gertrude Harris, president of the Georgia Federation, and Mrs. Mamie K. Taylor, head of the Woman's Club Work of Atlanta, were distinguished visitors and speakers on the program.

Mrs. Barnes in her capacity of State chairman of Conservation of National Resources is collaborating with the U. S. Forest Service in Atlanta to compile a booklet of program material on Conservation for use by clubs and schools. This will be published the first of the year. The State Federation gave $1,000 last year for a gift scholarship to a Conservation of Natural Resources Workshop.

BUYERS AT EASTERN MARKETS

Mrs. Sidney Smith, Mrs. Minnie Mikell and Mrs. Dewey Cannon left Sunday night for New York City where they will attend fashion showings and buy ladies' ready-to-wear for H. Minkovitz and Sons. Eddie Durden, of Metter, joined the party here.

RECENT BRIDE HOLDS SOCIAL SPLENDOR

Lovely parties continue to fete Mrs. Earl Allen, a recent bride. On Wednesday afternoon Mrs. Chatham Alderman and Mrs. W. L. Wilkinson were hostesses at a bridge party at the country club complementing Mrs. Allen. Attractive arrangements of dahlias and yellow button chrysanthemums were used in decorating.

The guests were served pecan pie topped with ice cream, and coffee. Coca-colas were served later in the afternoon.

The bride was presented a dinner plate in her china. Mrs. Bill Peck, with high, was awarded a hilltop; for second high, Mrs. Joe Robert Tillman received the three tickets. Mrs. Tillman also won a bracelet for floating prize.

Other players were Mesdames Earl Allen, Walker Hill, W. R. Lovett, Ed Olliff, E. W. Barnes, Ellaway Forbes, Bernard Scott, Arnold Rose, Carl Sanders, G. C. Coleman Jr., Phil Hamilton, Jim Watson, and Misses Helen Rowe and Margaret Thompson.

On Friday afternoon Mrs. J. B. Johnson and Mrs. Bonnie Morris entertained for Mrs. Allen with a lovely bridge party at the Johnson home on College Boulevard. Yellow and bronze chrysanthemums were used in the living room and sun room. The dining room adhered to a bridal motif of green and white. The table, overlaid with a white maderia cutwork cloth, was centered with white chrysanthemums in a silver bowl, with white candles in silver candlesticks flanking the lovely arrangement.

The guests were served a dessert course. The bride's gift was dinner plates in her china. For high score, Mrs. Joe Robert Tillman was given a collapsible bathtub; Mrs. Worth McDoug-

ah, winning low, received costume jewelry. Floating prize, a pot plant, went to Mrs. Carl Sanders.

Others playing were Mesdames Earl Allen, W. R. Lovett, G. C. Coleman Jr., Bernard Morris, W. P. Brown, Chatham Alderman, W. L. Wilkinson, Jim Watson, J. E. Forbes, Robert Morris, Walker Hill, Bill Peck, Bud Tillman, E. W. Barnes, Misses Virginia Durden, Lila Brady, Joyce Denmark.

LUNCHEON IS GIVEN FOR FORMER PASTOR

Rev. Nath Williams, of Columbia, enjoyed the fellowship of many of his former stewards of the First Methodist Church at a luncheon Sunday at the Norris Hotel following his sermon.

Covers were laid for D. B. Turner, Mr. and Mrs. B. H. Ramsey, Mr. and Mrs. Hinton Booth and their guests, Mr. and Mrs. Gibson Johnston, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Fred T. Lanier, Mr. and Mrs. George Bean and Linda, Mrs. Pittman, Rev. C. A. Jackson, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. McCracken, Mr. and Mrs. E. Cone, Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Watson, Mr. and Mrs. Lannie Simmons, Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Johnston, Judge J. L. Reston, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Braswell, Harry Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Olin Smith and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Johnson.

ANNIVERSARY PARTY

A lovely surprise party was given Tuesday afternoon of last week in honor of Mrs. Charles Gay at her home on Jones avenue. Part of the surprise consisted of flowers brought in by friends.

As guests arrived, "The Anniversary Waltz" was played. The anniversary cake, beautifully decorated, was presented to Mrs. Gay by Mrs. William Mikell.

Those present were the honoree, Mrs. Gay; Mesdames William Mikell, Charles Grimes, Lawrence Brant, Kermit Carr, Del Denmark, DeWitt Thackston, M. O. Laurence, and Misses Irma Spears and Dorothy Johnson.

BIRTH ANNOUNCEMENT

Mr. and Mrs. H. W. McCorkle announce the birth of a daughter, Linda Cheryl, on November 4 at the Bulloch County Hospital. Mrs. McCorkle is the former Miss Christine Moore.

BETA SIGMA PHI HOLDS TEA FOR NEW PLEDGES

The Alpha Omega chapter of Beta Sigma Phi presented new pledges at a lovely seated tea at the home of Mrs. F. C. Parker Jr. Yellow roses centered the tea table and yellow candles in silver holders were in keeping with the sorority flower and colors. Yellow carnations were used in other rooms. Mrs. J. E. Bowen Jr. and Mrs. Julian Hodges assisted Mrs. Parker in serving individual cakes, embossed with the Greek letters, nuts, mints, and coffee.

The sponsor is Mrs. Gordon Franklin and the director is Mrs. Frank Hodges. New pledges are Mrs. John R. Gay and Misses Leta Gay, Ann Youmans and Virginia Rushing.

JONES-LEE
Mrs. C. H. Jones announces the marriage of her daughter, Miss Minnie Jones, to Frank Lee, son of Mrs. Ben Lee, of this county. The marriage took place Friday evening at the residence of Rev. W. H. Evans, who performed the ceremony in the presence of relatives and a few close friends. The bride chose for her wedding a becoming teal blue gaudaine.

On Friday afternoon Mrs. J. B. Johnson and Mrs. Bonnie Morris entertained for Mrs. Allen with a lovely bridge party at the Johnson home on College Boulevard. Yellow and bronze chrysanthemums were used in the living room and sun room. The dining room adhered to a bridal motif of green and white. The table, overlaid with a white maderia cutwork cloth, was centered with white chrysanthemums in a silver bowl, with white candles in silver candlesticks flanking the lovely arrangement.

The guests were served a dessert course. The bride's gift was dinner plates in her china. For high score, Mrs. Joe Robert Tillman was given a collapsible bathtub; Mrs. Worth McDoug-

ah, winning low, received costume jewelry. Floating prize, a pot plant, went to Mrs. Carl Sanders.

Others playing were Mesdames Earl Allen, W. R. Lovett, G. C. Coleman Jr., Bernard Morris, W. P. Brown, Chatham Alderman, W. L. Wilkinson, Jim Watson, J. E. Forbes, Robert Morris, Walker Hill, Bill Peck, Bud Tillman, E. W. Barnes, Misses Virginia Durden, Lila Brady, Joyce Denmark.

The guests were served a dessert course. The bride's gift was dinner plates in her china. For high score, Mrs. Joe Robert Tillman was given a collapsible bathtub; Mrs. Worth McDoug-

ah, winning low, received costume jewelry. Floating prize, a pot plant, went to Mrs. Carl Sanders.

Others playing were Mesdames Earl Allen, W. R. Lovett, G. C. Coleman Jr., Bernard Morris, W. P. Brown, Chatham Alderman, W. L. Wilkinson, Jim Watson, J. E. Forbes, Robert Morris, Walker Hill, Bill Peck, Bud Tillman, E. W. Barnes, Misses Virginia Durden, Lila Brady, Joyce Denmark.

The guests were served a dessert course. The bride's gift was dinner plates in her china. For high score, Mrs. Joe Robert Tillman was given a collapsible bathtub; Mrs. Worth McDoug-

ah, winning low, received costume jewelry. Floating prize, a pot plant, went to Mrs. Carl Sanders.

Others playing were Mesdames Earl Allen, W. R. Lovett, G. C. Coleman Jr., Bernard Morris, W. P. Brown, Chatham Alderman, W. L. Wilkinson, Jim Watson, J. E. Forbes, Robert Morris, Walker Hill, Bill Peck, Bud Tillman, E. W. Barnes, Misses Virginia Durden, Lila Brady, Joyce Denmark.

The guests were served a dessert course. The bride's gift was dinner plates in her china. For high score, Mrs. Joe Robert Tillman was given a collapsible bathtub; Mrs. Worth McDoug-

ah, winning low, received costume jewelry. Floating prize, a pot plant, went to Mrs. Carl Sanders.

Others playing were Mesdames Earl Allen, W. R. Lovett, G. C. Coleman Jr., Bernard Morris, W. P. Brown, Chatham Alderman, W. L. Wilkinson, Jim Watson, J. E. Forbes, Robert Morris, Walker Hill, Bill Peck, Bud Tillman, E. W. Barnes, Misses Virginia Durden, Lila Brady, Joyce Denmark.

The guests were served a dessert course. The bride's gift was dinner plates in her china. For high score, Mrs. Joe Robert Tillman was given a collapsible bathtub; Mrs. Worth McDoug-

ah, winning low, received costume jewelry. Floating prize, a pot plant, went to Mrs. Carl Sanders.

Others playing were Mesdames Earl Allen, W. R. Lovett, G. C. Coleman Jr., Bernard Morris, W. P. Brown, Chatham Alderman, W. L. Wilkinson, Jim Watson, J. E. Forbes, Robert Morris, Walker Hill, Bill Peck, Bud Tillman, E. W. Barnes, Misses Virginia Durden, Lila Brady, Joyce Denmark.

The guests were served a dessert course. The bride's gift was dinner plates in her china. For high score, Mrs. Joe Robert Tillman was given a collapsible bathtub; Mrs. Worth McDoug-

ah, winning low, received costume jewelry. Floating prize, a pot plant, went to Mrs. Carl Sanders.

Others playing were Mesdames Earl Allen, W. R. Lovett, G. C. Coleman Jr., Bernard Morris, W. P. Brown, Chatham Alderman, W. L. Wilkinson, Jim Watson, J. E. Forbes, Robert Morris, Walker Hill, Bill Peck, Bud Tillman, E. W. Barnes, Misses Virginia Durden, Lila Brady, Joyce Denmark.

The guests were served a dessert course. The bride's gift was dinner plates in her china. For high score, Mrs. Joe Robert Tillman was given a collapsible bathtub; Mrs. Worth McDoug-

ah, winning low, received costume jewelry. Floating prize, a pot plant, went to Mrs. Carl Sanders.

Others playing were Mesdames Earl Allen, W. R. Lovett, G. C. Coleman Jr., Bernard Morris, W. P. Brown, Chatham Alderman, W. L. Wilkinson, Jim Watson, J. E. Forbes, Robert Morris, Walker Hill, Bill Peck, Bud Tillman, E. W. Barnes, Misses Virginia Durden, Lila Brady, Joyce Denmark.

The guests were served a dessert course. The bride's gift was dinner plates in her china. For high score, Mrs. Joe Robert Tillman was given a collapsible bathtub; Mrs. Worth McDoug-

ah, winning low, received costume jewelry. Floating prize, a pot plant, went to Mrs. Carl Sanders.

Others playing were Mesdames Earl Allen, W. R. Lovett, G. C. Coleman Jr., Bernard Morris, W. P. Brown, Chatham Alderman, W. L. Wilkinson, Jim Watson, J. E. Forbes, Robert Morris, Walker Hill, Bill Peck, Bud Tillman, E. W. Barnes, Misses Virginia Durden, Lila Brady, Joyce Denmark.

The guests were served a dessert course. The bride's gift was dinner plates in her china. For high score, Mrs. Joe Robert Tillman was given a collapsible bathtub; Mrs. Worth McDoug-

ah, winning low, received costume jewelry. Floating prize, a pot plant, went to Mrs. Carl Sanders.

Others playing were Mesdames Earl Allen, W. R. Lovett, G. C. Coleman Jr., Bernard Morris, W. P. Brown, Chatham Alderman, W. L. Wilkinson, Jim Watson, J. E. Forbes, Robert Morris, Walker Hill, Bill Peck, Bud Tillman, E. W. Barnes, Misses Virginia Durden, Lila Brady, Joyce Denmark.

The guests were served a dessert course. The bride's gift was dinner plates in her china. For high score, Mrs. Joe Robert Tillman was given a collapsible bathtub; Mrs. Worth McDoug-

ah, winning low, received costume jewelry. Floating prize, a pot plant, went to Mrs. Carl Sanders.

Others playing were Mesdames Earl Allen, W. R. Lovett, G. C. Coleman Jr., Bernard Morris, W. P. Brown, Chatham Alderman, W. L. Wilkinson, Jim Watson, J. E. Forbes, Robert Morris, Walker Hill, Bill Peck, Bud Tillman, E. W. Barnes, Misses Virginia Durden, Lila Brady, Joyce Denmark.

The guests were served a dessert course. The bride's gift was dinner plates in her china. For high score, Mrs. Joe Robert Tillman was given a collapsible bathtub; Mrs. Worth McDoug-

ah, winning low, received costume jewelry. Floating prize, a pot plant, went to Mrs. Carl Sanders.

Others playing were Mesdames Earl Allen, W. R. Lovett, G. C. Coleman Jr., Bernard Morris, W. P. Brown, Chatham Alderman, W. L. Wilkinson, Jim Watson, J. E. Forbes, Robert Morris, Walker Hill, Bill Peck, Bud Tillman, E. W. Barnes, Misses Virginia Durden, Lila Brady, Joyce Denmark.

The guests were served a dessert course. The bride's gift was dinner plates in her china. For high score, Mrs. Joe Robert Tillman was given a collapsible bathtub; Mrs. Worth McDoug-

ah, winning low, received costume jewelry. Floating prize, a pot plant, went to Mrs. Carl Sanders.

Others playing were Mesdames Earl Allen, W. R. Lovett, G. C. Coleman Jr., Bernard Morris, W. P. Brown, Chatham Alderman, W. L. Wilkinson, Jim Watson, J. E. Forbes, Robert Morris, Walker Hill, Bill Peck, Bud Tillman, E. W. Barnes, Misses Virginia Durden, Lila Brady, Joyce Denmark.

The guests were served a dessert course. The bride's gift was dinner plates in her china. For high score, Mrs. Joe Robert Tillman was given a collapsible bathtub; Mrs. Worth McDoug-

ah, winning low, received costume jewelry. Floating prize, a pot plant, went to Mrs. Carl Sanders.

Others playing were Mesdames Earl Allen, W. R. Lovett, G. C. Coleman Jr., Bernard Morris, W. P. Brown, Chatham Alderman, W. L. Wilkinson, Jim Watson, J. E. Forbes, Robert Morris, Walker Hill, Bill Peck, Bud Tillman, E. W. Barnes, Misses Virginia Durden, Lila Brady, Joyce Denmark.

The guests were served a dessert course. The bride's gift was dinner plates in her china. For high score, Mrs. Joe Robert Tillman was given a collapsible bathtub; Mrs. Worth McDoug-

ah, winning low, received costume jewelry. Floating prize, a pot plant, went to Mrs. Carl Sanders.

Others playing were Mesdames Earl Allen, W. R. Lovett, G. C. Coleman Jr., Bernard Morris, W. P. Brown, Chatham Alderman, W. L. Wilkinson, Jim Watson, J. E. Forbes, Robert Morris, Walker Hill, Bill Peck, Bud Tillman, E. W. Barnes, Misses Virginia Durden, Lila Brady, Joyce Denmark.

The guests were served a dessert course. The bride's gift was dinner plates in her china. For high score, Mrs. Joe Robert Tillman was given a collapsible bathtub; Mrs. Worth McDoug-

ah, winning low, received costume jewelry. Floating prize, a pot plant, went to Mrs. Carl Sanders.

Others playing were Mesdames Earl Allen, W. R. Lovett, G. C. Coleman Jr., Bernard Morris, W. P. Brown, Chatham Alderman, W. L. Wilkinson, Jim Watson, J. E. Forbes, Robert Morris, Walker Hill, Bill Peck, Bud Tillman, E. W. Barnes, Misses Virginia Durden, Lila Brady, Joyce Denmark.

The guests were served a dessert course. The bride's gift was dinner plates in her china. For high score, Mrs. Joe Robert Tillman was given a collapsible bathtub; Mrs. Worth McDoug-

ah, winning low, received costume jewelry. Floating prize, a pot plant, went to Mrs. Carl Sanders.

Others playing were Mesdames Earl Allen, W. R. Lovett, G. C. Coleman Jr., Bernard Morris, W. P. Brown, Chatham Alderman, W. L. Wilkinson, Jim Watson, J. E. Forbes, Robert Morris, Walker Hill, Bill Peck, Bud Tillman, E. W. Barnes, Misses Virginia Durden, Lila Brady, Joyce Denmark.

The guests were served a dessert course. The bride's gift was dinner plates in her china. For high score, Mrs. Joe Robert Tillman was given a collapsible bathtub; Mrs. Worth McDoug-

ah, winning low, received costume jewelry. Floating prize, a pot plant, went to Mrs. Carl Sanders.

Others playing were Mesdames Earl Allen, W. R. Lovett, G. C. Coleman Jr., Bernard Morris, W. P. Brown, Chatham Alderman, W. L. Wilkinson, Jim Watson, J. E. Forbes, Robert Morris, Walker Hill, Bill Peck, Bud Tillman, E. W. Barnes, Misses Virginia Durden, Lila Brady, Joyce Denmark.

The guests were served a dessert course. The bride's gift was dinner plates in her china. For high score, Mrs. Joe Robert Tillman was given a collapsible bathtub; Mrs. Worth McDoug-

ah, winning low, received costume jewelry. Floating prize, a pot plant, went to Mrs. Carl Sanders.

Others playing were Mesdames Earl Allen, W. R. Lovett, G. C. Coleman Jr., Bernard Morris, W. P. Brown, Chatham Alderman, W. L. Wilkinson, Jim Watson, J. E. Forbes, Robert Morris, Walker Hill, Bill Peck, Bud Tillman, E. W. Barnes, Misses Virginia Durden, Lila Brady, Joyce Denmark.

The guests were served a dessert course. The bride's gift was dinner plates in her china. For high score, Mrs. Joe Robert Tillman was given a collapsible bathtub; Mrs. Worth McDoug-

ah, winning low, received costume jewelry. Floating prize, a pot plant, went to Mrs. Carl Sanders.

Others playing were Mesdames Earl Allen, W. R. Lovett, G. C. Coleman Jr., Bernard Morris, W. P. Brown, Chatham Alderman, W. L. Wilkinson, Jim Watson, J. E. Forbes, Robert Morris, Walker Hill, Bill Peck, Bud Tillman, E. W. Barnes, Misses Virginia Durden, Lila Brady, Joyce Denmark.

The guests were served a dessert course. The bride's gift was dinner plates in her china. For high score, Mrs. Joe Robert Tillman was given a collapsible bathtub; Mrs. Worth McDoug-

ah, winning low, received costume jewelry. Floating prize, a pot plant, went to Mrs. Carl Sanders.

Others playing were Mesdames Earl Allen, W. R. Lovett, G. C. Coleman Jr., Bernard Morris, W. P. Brown, Chatham Alderman, W. L. Wilkinson, Jim Watson, J. E. Forbes, Robert Morris, Walker Hill, Bill Peck, Bud Tillman, E. W. Barnes, Misses Virginia Durden, Lila Brady, Joyce Denmark.

The guests were served a dessert course. The bride's gift was dinner plates in her china. For high score, Mrs. Joe Robert Tillman was given a collapsible bathtub; Mrs. Worth McDoug-

ah, winning low, received costume jewelry. Floating prize, a pot plant, went to Mrs. Carl Sanders.

Others playing were Mesdames Earl Allen, W. R. Lovett, G. C. Coleman Jr., Bernard Morris, W. P. Brown, Chatham Alderman, W. L. Wilkinson, Jim Watson, J. E. Forbes, Robert Morris, Walker Hill, Bill Peck, Bud Tillman, E. W. Barnes, Misses Virginia Durden, Lila Brady, Joyce Denmark.

The guests were served a dessert course. The bride's gift was dinner plates in her china. For high score, Mrs. Joe Robert Tillman was given a collapsible bathtub; Mrs. Worth McDoug-

ah, winning low, received costume jewelry. Floating prize, a pot plant, went to Mrs. Carl Sanders.

Others playing were Mesdames Earl Allen, W. R. Lovett, G. C. Coleman Jr., Bernard Morris, W. P. Brown, Chatham Alderman, W. L. Wilkinson, Jim Watson, J. E. Forbes, Robert Morris, Walker Hill, Bill Peck, Bud Tillman, E. W. Barnes, Misses Virginia Durden, Lila Brady, Joyce Denmark.

The guests were served a dessert course. The bride's gift was dinner plates in her china. For high score, Mrs. Joe Robert Tillman was given a collapsible bathtub; Mrs. Worth McDoug-

ah, winning low, received costume jewelry. Floating prize, a pot plant, went to Mrs. Carl Sanders.

Others playing were Mesdames Earl Allen, W. R. Lovett, G. C. Coleman Jr., Bernard Morris, W. P. Brown, Chatham Alderman, W. L. Wilkinson, Jim Watson, J. E. Forbes, Robert Morris, Walker Hill, Bill Peck, Bud Tillman, E. W. Barnes, Misses Virginia Durden, Lila Brady, Joyce Denmark.

The guests were served a dessert course. The bride's gift was dinner plates in her china. For high score, Mrs. Joe Robert Tillman was given a collapsible bathtub; Mrs. Worth McDoug-

ah, winning low, received costume jewelry. Floating prize, a pot plant, went to Mrs. Carl Sanders.

Others playing were Mesdames Earl Allen, W. R. Lovett, G. C. Coleman Jr., Bernard Morris, W. P. Brown, Chatham Alderman, W. L. Wilkinson, Jim Watson, J. E. Forbes, Robert Morris, Walker Hill, Bill Peck, Bud Tillman, E. W. Barnes, Misses Virginia Durden, Lila Brady, Joyce Denmark.

The guests were served a dessert course. The bride's gift was dinner plates in her china. For high score, Mrs. Joe Robert Tillman was given a collapsible bathtub; Mrs. Worth McDoug-

ah, winning low, received costume jewelry. Floating prize, a pot plant, went to Mrs. Carl Sanders.

Others playing were Mesdames Earl Allen, W. R. Lovett, G. C. Coleman Jr., Bernard Morris, W. P. Brown, Chatham Alderman, W. L. Wilkinson, Jim Watson, J. E. Forbes, Robert Morris, Walker Hill, Bill Peck, Bud Tillman, E. W. Barnes, Misses Virginia Durden, Lila Brady, Joyce Denmark.

The guests were served a dessert course. The bride's gift was dinner plates in her china. For high score, Mrs. Joe Robert Tillman was given a collapsible bathtub; Mrs. Worth McDoug-

ah, winning low, received costume jewelry. Floating prize, a pot plant, went to Mrs. Carl Sanders.

Others playing were Mesdames Earl Allen, W. R. Lovett, G. C. Coleman Jr., Bernard Morris, W. P. Brown, Chatham Alderman, W. L. Wilkinson, Jim Watson, J. E. Forbes, Robert Morris, Walker Hill, Bill Peck, Bud Tillman, E. W. Barnes, Misses Virginia Durden, Lila Brady, Joyce Denmark.

The guests were served a dessert course. The bride's gift was dinner plates in her china. For high score, Mrs. Joe Robert Tillman was given a collapsible bathtub; Mrs. Worth McDoug-

ah, winning low, received costume jewelry. Floating prize, a pot plant, went to Mrs. Carl Sanders.

Others playing were Mesdames Earl Allen, W. R. Lovett, G. C. Coleman Jr., Bernard Morris, W. P. Brown, Chatham Alderman, W. L. Wilkinson, Jim Watson, J. E. Forbes, Robert Morris, Walker Hill, Bill Peck, Bud Tillman, E. W. Barnes, Misses Virginia Durden, Lila Brady, Joyce Denmark.

The guests were served a dessert course. The bride's gift was dinner plates in her china. For high score, Mrs. Joe Robert Tillman was given a collapsible bathtub; Mrs. Worth McDoug-

ah, winning low, received costume jewelry. Floating prize, a pot plant, went to Mrs. Carl Sanders.

Others playing were Mesdames Earl Allen, W. R. Lovett, G. C. Coleman Jr., Bernard Morris, W. P. Brown, Chatham Alderman, W. L. Wilkinson, Jim Watson, J. E. Forbes, Robert Morris, Walker Hill, Bill Peck, Bud Tillman, E. W. Barnes, Misses Virginia Durden, Lila Brady, Joyce Denmark.

The guests were served a dessert course. The bride's gift was dinner plates in her china. For high score, Mrs. Joe Robert Tillman was given a collapsible bathtub; Mrs. Worth McDoug-

ah, winning low, received costume jewelry. Floating prize, a pot plant, went to Mrs. Carl Sanders.

Others playing were Mesdames Earl Allen, W. R. Lovett, G. C. Coleman Jr., Bernard Morris, W. P. Brown, Chatham Alderman, W. L. Wilkinson, Jim Watson, J. E. Forbes, Robert Morris, Walker Hill, Bill Peck, Bud Tillman, E. W. Barnes, Misses Virginia Durden, Lila Brady, Joyce Denmark.

The guests were served a dessert course. The bride's gift was dinner plates in her china. For high score, Mrs. Joe Robert Tillman was given a collapsible bathtub; Mrs. Worth McDoug-

ah, winning low, received costume jewelry. Floating prize, a pot plant, went to Mrs. Carl Sanders.

Others playing were Mesdames Earl Allen, W. R. Lovett, G. C. Coleman Jr., Bernard Morris, W. P. Brown, Chatham Alderman, W. L. Wilkinson, Jim Watson, J. E. Forbes, Robert Morris, Walker Hill, Bill Peck, Bud Tillman, E. W. Barnes, Misses Virginia Durden, Lila Brady, Joyce Denmark.

The guests were served a dessert course. The bride's gift was dinner plates in her china. For high score, Mrs. Joe Robert Tillman was given a collapsible bathtub; Mrs. Worth McDoug-

ah, winning low, received costume jewelry. Floating prize, a pot plant, went to Mrs. Carl Sanders.

Others playing were Mesdames Earl Allen, W. R. Lovett, G. C. Coleman Jr., Bernard Morris, W. P. Brown, Chatham Alderman, W. L. Wilkinson, Jim Watson, J. E. Forbes, Robert Morris, Walker Hill, Bill Peck, Bud Tillman, E. W. Barnes, Misses Virginia Durden, Lila Brady, Joyce Denmark.

The guests were served a dessert course. The bride's gift was dinner plates in her china. For high score, Mrs. Joe Robert Tillman was given a collapsible bathtub; Mrs. Worth McDoug-

ah, winning low, received costume jewelry. Floating prize, a pot plant, went to Mrs. Carl Sanders.

Others playing were Mesdames Earl Allen, W. R. Lovett, G. C. Coleman Jr., Bernard Morris, W. P. Brown, Chatham Alderman, W. L. Wilkinson, Jim Watson, J. E. Forbes, Robert Morris, Walker Hill, Bill Peck, Bud Tillman, E. W. Barnes, Misses Virginia Durden, Lila Brady, Joyce Denmark.

The guests were served a dessert course. The bride's gift was dinner plates in her china. For high score, Mrs. Joe Robert Tillman was given a collapsible bathtub; Mrs. Worth McDoug-

ah, winning low, received costume jewelry. Floating prize, a pot plant, went to Mrs. Carl Sanders.

Others playing were Mesdames Earl Allen, W. R. Lovett, G. C. Coleman Jr., Bernard Morris, W. P. Brown, Chatham Alderman, W. L. Wilkinson, Jim Watson, J. E. Forbes, Robert Morris, Walker Hill, Bill Peck, Bud Tillman, E. W. Barnes, Misses Virginia Durden, Lila Brady, Joyce Denmark.

The guests were served a dessert course. The bride's gift was dinner plates in her china. For high score, Mrs. Joe Robert Tillman was given a collapsible bathtub; Mrs. Worth McDoug-

ah, winning low, received costume jewelry. Floating prize, a pot plant, went to Mrs. Carl Sanders.

Others playing were Mesdames Earl Allen, W. R. Lovett, G. C. Coleman Jr., Bernard Morris, W. P. Brown, Chatham Alderman, W. L. Wilkinson, Jim Watson, J. E. Forbes, Robert Morris, Walker Hill, Bill Peck, Bud Tillman, E. W. Barnes, Misses Virginia Durden, Lila Brady, Joyce Denmark.

The guests were served a dessert course. The bride's gift was dinner plates in her china. For high score, Mrs. Joe Robert Tillman was given a collapsible bathtub; Mrs. Worth McDoug-

ah, winning low, received costume jewelry. Floating prize, a pot plant, went to Mrs. Carl Sanders.

Others playing were Mesdames Earl Allen, W. R. Lovett, G. C. Coleman Jr., Bernard Morris, W. P. Brown, Chatham Alderman, W. L. Wilkinson, Jim Watson, J. E. Forbes, Robert Morris, Walker Hill, Bill Peck, Bud Tillman, E. W. Barnes, Misses Virginia Durden, Lila Brady, Joyce Denmark.

The guests were served a dessert course. The bride's gift was dinner plates in her china. For high score, Mrs. Joe Robert Tillman was given a collapsible bathtub; Mrs. Worth McDoug-

ah, winning low, received costume jewelry. Floating prize, a pot plant, went to Mrs. Carl Sanders.

Features

All's Fair

ROMANTIC WHIFFS: The tiara that will be used by Pat Preston when she promises to love, honor and obey Ray Dargy, came from the Isle of Rugen and was reputedly worn by one of the Swedish royalty. It was given to Pat by her very dear friend, Stella Henderson (Mrs. Lindsey Henderson, of Savannah), Pat's veil is of rare, hand-made lace, woven over illusion, and was acquired by her great aunt on her honeymoon in Poland more than seventy-five years ago, and given to Pat by her Aunt Helen. Also numbered among her treasured wedding gifts is an old English desk of honey mahogany, the top of which is covered with green lacquered leather. This, too, comes from Stella Henderson. Needless to say, Pat was quite overwhelmed upon receipt of this gift.

SPEAKING OF GIFTS, Stella Smith may soon be seen with her hair tied down as she breezes along in her new Chrysler convertible. Olin says that she didn't even miss her car from the driveway when he sneaked it away to trade for the smart and snappy new model...

READING ABOUT the opening of the new Franklin Simon store in Atlanta, I came upon this from the shoe department: "... the containers for the flow-

THERE COMES A TIME... in everyone's life when we lose someone dear to us. In times such as these, we are ready to help you in every way possible. We will take care of every detail, prepare the funeral to your specifications.

Smith-Tillman Mortuary
Jake Smith E. Grant Tillman
North Main St. Statesboro, Phone 340

What Luxury! AND WHAT REASONABLE PRICES! City Club FINE, HANDSOME LEATHERS DISTINCTIVE SHOES FOR MEN

Better in every way... in style, comfort and fit. Here's true luxury at down to earth prices. X-RAY SHOE FITTING

The Favorite Shoe Store
19 North Main St. Statesboro

Dottie Hargrove Week Ends Wonderful

Saturday night, Dean and Quil-ida for the week end, and pation Robertson, a cute college couple, helped us do away with some grits, sausage and pancakes before we let down the logs on the card table, and later, when Quil-ida got the bid, El went out in the kitchen to rustle up some chocolate fudge while he was dumpy.

It was a lazy, lovely evening filled with wise remarks and charming chatter. Dean's sister, Ann, who is also attending school and doing part-time work at Henry's, came by later with her date who had come up from Florida, and many from our local florists, and from our local ponds and streams. The water hyacinths are especially beautiful. Jean is thrilled over her experience with African violets. Coming through Tifton, on the way from a Florida trip, she stopped by to see Irene Williams (Mrs. Emmett), who gave her a leaf from each of her plants. Now Jean has eleven plants. Among them are white lady, red head, pink lady, blue boy and blue girl. Blue boy is blooming...

JUANITA JOHNSON dommed her new fall outfit on Sunday morning when son Harry Jr. got a load of that stunning wine suit, wine hat, wine gloves and new black pocketbook. He was moved to exclaim: "Oh, Mother, you look like the Queen of England. I don't know, but I think you might have been a bit impulsive and extravagant in his praise," he added, "Course, you're not very pretty, anyway."

SOMETHING NEW was added at the Statesboro-Millen game at Memorial Field Friday night when the band appeared on the field at the half. They were accompanied by a new recruit—an adorable, blond curly-top with lovely blue eyes. She was Billie Alderman, two-year-old daughter of Virgie and Bill Alderman. Dressed like the majorettes, she faithfully followed their routine, adding a few ideas of her own. Virgie admitted that everybody thought she was a perfect doll, but HER thought was that she would get hurt out there. Her sister, Pat, eleven years old, and a member of the band, was also concerned for her safety and wasn't much comfort to her mother when she said, "She'll get killed out there." But after the band left the field she admitted, "Mother, she was cute, wasn't she?" Once she almost stopped the show when she thought she'd lost her mother's pearls, but they had slipped under her sweater. Sue Hagan deserves credit for tutoring the baby majorette, who, after the game, was a very tired and excited baby. Many fans admit they missed some of the razzle-dazzle plays of Cassidy and Nessmith as they watched the cutest and youngest member of the band.

As ever, JANE.

NOTICE!

COTTON WAREHOUSEMEN
We are approved by the Commodity Credit Corporation for the storage of 1946 Loan Cotton.

We are in a position to handle the overflow cotton from your warehouse. Warehousemen should phone or write for further information.

GEORGIA-CAROLINA WAREHOUSE & COMMISS CO.
J. L. BANTLEY, Vice-President-Treasurer
Phone 2-5381 AUGUSTA, GEORGIA P. O. Box 128

Personals

Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Olliff left Sunday for Griffin where they will spend several days with their daughter, Mrs. Phillip Weldon, and family.

Mrs. Frank Hooks, Mrs. Julian Hodges, Mrs. Buford Knight and Mrs. Devane Watson were visitors in Atlanta for several days last week.

Mrs. J. B. Johnson and son, Pete, spent Thursday in Savannah.

lia and Ellis followed in the jeep (her first experience in one of those contraptions) and as we trotted off Col. Deal called back to El, "Wait wait for you at the post office!"

Beth has never sat stiller. She was fascinated—but then, so was I. The seat perched much higher than I had imagined and the air up there seemed fresher. The warm sunshine and refreshing breeze made us feel so good, and I was glad to be alive. The post office loomed up to soon and Beth waited for two blocks after we started home in the jeep. After dinner, we read the paper and napped, and after supper I went to hear Dr. Henry Russell's final sermon in this revival series. He could have started of a filibuster and no one would have objected because his choice of words and delivery justifiably demanded everyone's attention.

Week ends are lovely, and it's probably a good thing they only come once in seven days, because they couldn't be as much fun if we had too many. Don't waste them by sleeping—there's no telling what you might miss!

Church is more than a house of worship or a place to get inspiration and courage for the new week. It's a place to shake hands with folksy people and to enjoy Christ's fellowship. Presbyterians must be the greatest group for gab-sessions after preaching, and I love it.

I hadn't contacted anyone else to keep the nursery, so I planned to hold it down solo, but after leaving El at the store and escorting Beth to the beginners' room, I found Genieve Guardia and Grace Griffin voluntarily entertaining the William Smith's little girls and boy, Tommy and Gail. Griffin, Virginia, Russell, Vickie Sue Erickson, Carol Rasmussen, Danny Brouck and the Robert Bensons taffy-haired girl.

After the service was over and the folks came in for their children, everyone congregated in front of the church. Eunice Ellis introduced me to her niece, Margie Joyner, twin sister of Faye, who is attending G.T.C. I didn't believe it! They are identical and could confuse the most observing person.

El told me that one college student, a studious-looking boy, had stood outside and waited for the girls to come down the steps. He said, "I just want to get a good look at both of them. It isn't right to have two like that in the same family!"

Meanwhile, Beth was ogling at Col. Deal's horse and buggy. When the Colonel asked if we'd like to ride, I was tickled as Beth and I climbed aboard before he could change his mind. Miss Az-

PERSONALS

Misses Myra Jo Zetterow, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Aldred Bobby Jackson and Shirley Law, visitors in Atlanta last week, Wesleyan students, spent the week end with their parents.

Garland Smith and daughter, Nancy, have been down for the week end from their home at Emory University of Georgia, to visit M. to spend the week end with their Smith's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. Jones.

Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Olliff left Sunday for Griffin where they will spend several days with their daughter, Mrs. Phillip Weldon, and family.

Mrs. Frank Hooks, Mrs. Julian Hodges, Mrs. Buford Knight and Mrs. Devane Watson were visitors in Atlanta for several days last week.

Mrs. J. B. Johnson and son, Pete, spent Thursday in Savannah.

lia and Ellis followed in the jeep (her first experience in one of those contraptions) and as we trotted off Col. Deal called back to El, "Wait wait for you at the post office!"

Beth has never sat stiller. She was fascinated—but then, so was I. The seat perched much higher than I had imagined and the air up there seemed fresher. The warm sunshine and refreshing breeze made us feel so good, and I was glad to be alive. The post office loomed up to soon and Beth waited for two blocks after we started home in the jeep. After dinner, we read the paper and napped, and after supper I went to hear Dr. Henry Russell's final sermon in this revival series. He could have started of a filibuster and no one would have objected because his choice of words and delivery justifiably demanded everyone's attention.

Week ends are lovely, and it's probably a good thing they only come once in seven days, because they couldn't be as much fun if we had too many. Don't waste them by sleeping—there's no telling what you might miss!

Church is more than a house of worship or a place to get inspiration and courage for the new week. It's a place to shake hands with folksy people and to enjoy Christ's fellowship. Presbyterians must be the greatest group for gab-sessions after preaching, and I love it.

I hadn't contacted anyone else to keep the nursery, so I planned to hold it down solo, but after leaving El at the store and escorting Beth to the beginners' room, I found Genieve Guardia and Grace Griffin voluntarily entertaining the William Smith's little girls and boy, Tommy and Gail. Griffin, Virginia, Russell, Vickie Sue Erickson, Carol Rasmussen, Danny Brouck and the Robert Bensons taffy-haired girl.

After the service was over and the folks came in for their children, everyone congregated in front of the church. Eunice Ellis introduced me to her niece, Margie Joyner, twin sister of Faye, who is attending G.T.C. I didn't believe it! They are identical and could confuse the most observing person.

El told me that one college student, a studious-looking boy, had stood outside and waited for the girls to come down the steps. He said, "I just want to get a good look at both of them. It isn't right to have two like that in the same family!"

Meanwhile, Beth was ogling at Col. Deal's horse and buggy. When the Colonel asked if we'd like to ride, I was tickled as Beth and I climbed aboard before he could change his mind. Miss Az-

As ever, JANE.

SOMETHING NEW was added at the Statesboro-Millen game at Memorial Field Friday night when the band appeared on the field at the half. They were accompanied by a new recruit—an adorable, blond curly-top with lovely blue eyes. She was Billie Alderman, two-year-old daughter of Virgie and Bill Alderman. Dressed like the majorettes, she faithfully followed their routine, adding a few ideas of her own. Virgie admitted that everybody thought she was a perfect doll, but HER thought was that she would get hurt out there. Her sister, Pat, eleven years old, and a member of the band, was also concerned for her safety and wasn't much comfort to her mother when she said, "She'll get killed out there." But after the band left the field she admitted, "Mother, she was cute, wasn't she?" Once she almost stopped the show when she thought she'd lost her mother's pearls, but they had slipped under her sweater. Sue Hagan deserves credit for tutoring the baby majorette, who, after the game, was a very tired and excited baby. Many fans admit they missed some of the razzle-dazzle plays of Cassidy and Nessmith as they watched the cutest and youngest member of the band.

As ever, JANE.

SOMETHING NEW was added at the Statesboro-Millen game at Memorial Field Friday night when the band appeared on the field at the half. They were accompanied by a new recruit—an adorable, blond curly-top with lovely blue eyes. She was Billie Alderman, two-year-old daughter of Virgie and Bill Alderman. Dressed like the majorettes, she faithfully followed their routine, adding a few ideas of her own. Virgie admitted that everybody thought she was a perfect doll, but HER thought was that she would get hurt out there. Her sister, Pat, eleven years old, and a member of the band, was also concerned for her safety and wasn't much comfort to her mother when she said, "She'll get killed out there." But after the band left the field she admitted, "Mother, she was cute, wasn't she?" Once she almost stopped the show when she thought she'd lost her mother's pearls, but they had slipped under her sweater. Sue Hagan deserves credit for tutoring the baby majorette, who, after the game, was a very tired and excited baby. Many fans admit they missed some of the razzle-dazzle plays of Cassidy and Nessmith as they watched the cutest and youngest member of the band.

As ever, JANE.

SOMETHING NEW was added at the Statesboro-Millen game at Memorial Field Friday night when the band appeared on the field at the half. They were accompanied by a new recruit—an adorable, blond curly-top with lovely blue eyes. She was Billie Alderman, two-year-old daughter of Virgie and Bill Alderman. Dressed like the majorettes, she faithfully followed their routine, adding a few ideas of her own. Virgie admitted that everybody thought she was a perfect doll, but HER thought was that she would get hurt out there. Her sister, Pat, eleven years old, and a member of the band, was also concerned for her safety and wasn't much comfort to her mother when she said, "She'll get killed out there." But after the band left the field she admitted, "Mother, she was cute, wasn't she?" Once she almost stopped the show when she thought she'd lost her mother's pearls, but they had slipped under her sweater. Sue Hagan deserves credit for tutoring the baby majorette, who, after the game, was a very tired and excited baby. Many fans admit they missed some of the razzle-dazzle plays of Cassidy and Nessmith as they watched the cutest and youngest member of the band.

As ever, JANE.

SOMETHING NEW was added at the Statesboro-Millen game at Memorial Field Friday night when the band appeared on the field at the half. They were accompanied by a new recruit—an adorable, blond curly-top with lovely blue eyes. She was Billie Alderman, two-year-old daughter of Virgie and Bill Alderman. Dressed like the majorettes, she faithfully followed their routine, adding a few ideas of her own. Virgie admitted that everybody thought she was a perfect doll, but HER thought was that she would get hurt out there. Her sister, Pat, eleven years old, and a member of the band, was also concerned for her safety and wasn't much comfort to her mother when she said, "She'll get killed out there." But after the band left the field she admitted, "Mother, she was cute, wasn't she?" Once she almost stopped the show when she thought she'd lost her mother's pearls, but they had slipped under her sweater. Sue Hagan deserves credit for tutoring the baby majorette, who, after the game, was a very tired and excited baby. Many fans admit they missed some of the razzle-dazzle plays of Cassidy and Nessmith as they watched the cutest and youngest member of the band.

As ever, JANE.

SOMETHING NEW was added at the Statesboro-Millen game at Memorial Field Friday night when the band appeared on the field at the half. They were accompanied by a new recruit—an adorable, blond curly-top with lovely blue eyes. She was Billie Alderman, two-year-old daughter of Virgie and Bill Alderman. Dressed like the majorettes, she faithfully followed their routine, adding a few ideas of her own. Virgie admitted that everybody thought she was a perfect doll, but HER thought was that she would get hurt out there. Her sister, Pat, eleven years old, and a member of the band, was also concerned for her safety and wasn't much comfort to her mother when she said, "She'll get killed out there." But after the band left the field she admitted, "Mother, she was cute, wasn't she?" Once she almost stopped the show when she thought she'd lost her mother's pearls, but they had slipped under her sweater. Sue Hagan deserves credit for tutoring the baby majorette, who, after the game, was a very tired and excited baby. Many fans admit they missed some of the razzle-dazzle plays of Cassidy and Nessmith as they watched the cutest and youngest member of the band.

As ever, JANE.

SOMETHING NEW was added at the Statesboro-Millen game at Memorial Field Friday night when the band appeared on the field at the half. They were accompanied by a new recruit—an adorable, blond curly-top with lovely blue eyes. She was Billie Alderman, two-year-old daughter of Virgie and Bill Alderman. Dressed like the majorettes, she faithfully followed their routine, adding a few ideas of her own. Virgie admitted that everybody thought she was a perfect doll, but HER thought was that she would get hurt out there. Her sister, Pat, eleven years old, and a member of the band, was also concerned for her safety and wasn't much comfort to her mother when she said, "She'll get killed out there." But after the band left the field she admitted, "Mother, she was cute, wasn't she?" Once she almost stopped the show when she thought she'd lost her mother's pearls, but they had slipped under her sweater. Sue Hagan deserves credit for tutoring the baby majorette, who, after the game, was a very tired and excited baby. Many fans admit they missed some of the razzle-dazzle plays of Cassidy and Nessmith as they watched the cutest and youngest member of the band.

As ever, JANE.

SOMETHING NEW was added at the Statesboro-Millen game at Memorial Field Friday night when the band appeared on the field at the half. They were accompanied by a new recruit—an adorable, blond curly-top with lovely blue eyes. She was Billie Alderman, two-year-old daughter of Virgie and Bill Alderman. Dressed like the majorettes, she faithfully followed their routine, adding a few ideas of her own. Virgie admitted that everybody thought she was a perfect doll, but HER thought was that she would get hurt out there. Her sister, Pat, eleven years old, and a member of the band, was also concerned for her safety and wasn't much comfort to her mother when she said, "She'll get killed out there." But after the band left the field she admitted, "Mother, she was cute, wasn't she?" Once she almost stopped the show when she thought she'd lost her mother's pearls, but they had slipped under her sweater. Sue Hagan deserves credit for tutoring the baby majorette, who, after the game, was a very tired and excited baby. Many fans admit they missed some of the razzle-dazzle plays of Cassidy and Nessmith as they watched the cutest and youngest member of the band.

As ever, JANE.

SOMETHING NEW was added at the Statesboro-Millen game at Memorial Field Friday night when the band appeared on the field at the half. They were accompanied by a new recruit—an adorable, blond curly-top with lovely blue eyes. She was Billie Alderman, two-year-old daughter of Virgie and Bill Alderman. Dressed like the majorettes, she faithfully followed their routine, adding a few ideas of her own. Virgie admitted that everybody thought she was a perfect doll, but HER thought was that she would get hurt out there. Her sister, Pat, eleven years old, and a member of the band, was also concerned for her safety and wasn't much comfort to her mother when she said, "She'll get killed out there." But after the band left the field she admitted, "Mother, she was cute, wasn't she?" Once she almost stopped the show when she thought she'd lost her mother's pearls, but they had slipped under her sweater. Sue Hagan deserves credit for tutoring the baby majorette, who, after the game, was a very tired and excited baby. Many fans admit they missed some of the razzle-dazzle plays of Cassidy and Nessmith as they watched the cutest and youngest member of the band.

As ever, JANE.

SOMETHING NEW was added at the Statesboro-Millen game at Memorial Field Friday night when the band appeared on the field at the half. They were accompanied by a new recruit—an adorable, blond curly-top with lovely blue eyes. She was Billie Alderman, two-year-old daughter of Virgie and Bill Alderman. Dressed like the majorettes, she faithfully followed their routine, adding a few ideas of her own. Virgie admitted that everybody thought she was a perfect doll, but HER thought was that she would get hurt out there. Her sister, Pat, eleven years old, and a member of the band, was also concerned for her safety and wasn't much comfort to her mother when she said, "She'll get killed out there." But after the band left the field she admitted, "Mother, she was cute, wasn't she?" Once she almost stopped the show when she thought she'd lost her mother's pearls, but they had slipped under her sweater. Sue Hagan deserves credit for tutoring the baby majorette, who, after the game, was a very tired and excited baby. Many fans admit they missed some of the razzle-dazzle plays of Cassidy and Nessmith as they watched the cutest and youngest member of the band.

As ever, JANE.

SOMETHING NEW was added at the Statesboro-Millen game at Memorial Field Friday night when the band appeared on the field at the half. They were accompanied by a new recruit—an adorable, blond curly-top with lovely blue eyes. She was Billie Alderman, two-year-old daughter of Virgie and Bill Alderman. Dressed like the majorettes, she faithfully followed their routine, adding a few ideas of her own. Virgie admitted that everybody thought she was a perfect doll, but HER thought was that she would get hurt out there. Her sister, Pat, eleven years old, and a member of the band, was also concerned for her safety and wasn't much comfort to her mother when she said, "She'll get killed out there." But after the band left the field she admitted, "Mother, she was cute, wasn't she?" Once she almost stopped the show when she thought she'd lost her mother's pearls, but they had slipped under her sweater. Sue Hagan deserves credit for tutoring the baby majorette, who, after the game, was a very tired and excited baby. Many fans admit they missed some of the razzle-dazzle plays of Cassidy and Nessmith as they watched the cutest and youngest member of the band.

As ever, JANE.

SOMETHING NEW was added at the Statesboro-Millen game at Memorial Field Friday night when the band appeared on the field at the half. They were accompanied by a new recruit—an adorable, blond curly-top with lovely blue eyes. She was Billie Alderman, two-year-old daughter of Virgie and Bill Alderman. Dressed like the majorettes, she faithfully followed their routine, adding a few ideas of her own. Virgie admitted that everybody thought she was a perfect doll, but HER thought was that she would get hurt out there. Her sister, Pat, eleven years old, and a member of the band, was also concerned for her safety and wasn't much comfort to her mother when she said, "She'll get killed out there." But after the band left the field she admitted, "Mother, she was cute, wasn't she?" Once she almost stopped the show when she thought she'd lost her mother's pearls, but they had slipped under her sweater. Sue Hagan deserves credit for tutoring the baby majorette, who, after the game, was a very tired and excited baby. Many fans admit they missed some of the razzle-dazzle plays of Cassidy and Nessmith as they watched the cutest and youngest member of the band.

As ever, JANE.

SOMETHING NEW was added at the Statesboro-Millen game at Memorial Field Friday night when the band appeared on the field at the half. They were accompanied by a new recruit—an adorable, blond curly-top with lovely blue eyes. She was Billie Alderman, two-year-old daughter of Virgie and Bill Alderman. Dressed like the majorettes, she faithfully followed their routine, adding a few ideas of her own. Virgie admitted that everybody thought she was a perfect doll, but HER thought was that she would get hurt out there. Her sister, Pat, eleven years old, and a member of the band, was also concerned for her safety and wasn't much comfort to her mother when she said, "She'll get killed out there." But after the band left the field she admitted, "Mother, she was cute, wasn't she?" Once she almost stopped the show when she thought she'd lost her mother's pearls, but they had slipped under her sweater. Sue Hagan deserves credit for tutoring the baby majorette, who, after the game, was a very tired and excited baby. Many fans admit they missed some of the razzle-dazzle plays of Cassidy and Nessmith as they watched the cutest and youngest member of the band.

As ever, JANE.

SOMETHING NEW was added at the Statesboro-Millen game at Memorial Field Friday night when the band appeared on the field at the half. They were accompanied by a new recruit—an adorable, blond curly-top with lovely blue eyes. She was Billie Alderman, two-year-old daughter of Virgie and Bill Alderman. Dressed like the majorettes, she faithfully followed their routine, adding a few ideas of her own. Virgie admitted that everybody thought she was a perfect doll, but HER thought was that she would get hurt out there. Her sister, Pat, eleven years old, and a member of the band, was also concerned for her safety and wasn't much comfort to her mother when she said, "She'll get killed out there." But after the band left the field she admitted, "Mother, she was cute, wasn't she?" Once she almost stopped the show when she thought she'd lost her mother's pearls, but they had slipped under her sweater. Sue Hagan deserves credit for tutoring the baby majorette, who, after the game, was a very tired and excited baby. Many fans admit they missed some of the razzle-dazzle plays of Cassidy and Nessmith as they watched the cutest and youngest member of the band.

As ever, JANE.

SOMETHING NEW was added at the Statesboro-Millen game at Memorial Field Friday night when the band appeared on the field at the half. They were accompanied by a new recruit—an adorable, blond curly-top with lovely blue eyes. She was Billie Alderman, two-year-old daughter of Virgie and Bill Alderman. Dressed like the majorettes, she faithfully followed their routine, adding a few ideas of her own. Virgie admitted that everybody thought she was a perfect doll, but HER thought was that she would get hurt out there. Her sister, Pat, eleven years old, and a member of the band, was also concerned for her safety and wasn't much comfort to her mother when she said, "She'll get killed out there." But after the band left the field she admitted, "Mother, she was cute, wasn't she?" Once she almost stopped the show when she thought she'd lost her mother's pearls, but they had slipped under her sweater. Sue Hagan deserves credit for tutoring the baby majorette, who, after the game, was a very tired and excited baby. Many fans admit they missed some of the razzle-dazzle plays of Cassidy and Nessmith as they watched the cutest and youngest member of the band.

As ever, JANE.

SOMETHING NEW was added at the Statesboro-Millen game at Memorial Field Friday night when the band appeared on the field at the half. They were accompanied by a new recruit—an adorable, blond curly-top with lovely blue eyes. She was Billie Alderman, two-year-old daughter of Virgie and Bill Alderman. Dressed like the majorettes, she faithfully followed their routine, adding a few ideas of her own. Virgie admitted that everybody thought she was a perfect doll, but HER thought was that she would get hurt out there. Her sister, Pat, eleven years old, and a member of the band, was also concerned for her safety and wasn't much comfort to her mother when she said, "She'll get killed out there." But after the band left the field she admitted, "Mother, she was cute, wasn't she?" Once she almost stopped the show when she thought she'd lost her mother's pearls, but they had slipped under her sweater. Sue Hagan deserves credit for tutoring the baby majorette, who, after the game, was a very tired and excited baby. Many fans admit they missed some of the razzle-dazzle plays of Cassidy and Nessmith as they watched the cutest and youngest member of the band.

As ever, JANE.

SOMETHING NEW was added at the Statesboro-Millen game at Memorial Field Friday night when the band appeared on the field at the half. They were accompanied by a new recruit—an adorable, blond curly-top with lovely blue eyes. She was Billie Alderman, two-year-old daughter of Virgie and Bill Alderman. Dressed like the majorettes, she faithfully followed their routine, adding a few ideas of her own. Virgie admitted that everybody thought she was a perfect doll, but HER thought was that she would get hurt out there. Her sister, Pat, eleven years old, and a member of the band, was also concerned for her safety and wasn't much comfort to her mother when she said, "She'll get killed out there." But after the band left the field she admitted, "Mother, she was cute, wasn't she?" Once she almost stopped the show when she thought she'd lost her mother's pearls, but they had slipped under her sweater. Sue Hagan deserves credit for tutoring the baby majorette, who, after the game, was a very tired and excited baby. Many fans admit they missed some of the razzle-dazzle plays of Cassidy and Nessmith as they watched the cutest and youngest member of the band.

As ever, JANE.

SOMETHING NEW was added at the Statesboro-Millen game at Memorial Field Friday night when the band appeared on the field at the half. They were accompanied by a new recruit—an adorable, blond curly-top with lovely blue eyes. She was Billie Alderman, two-year-old daughter of Virgie and Bill Alderman. Dressed like the majorettes, she faithfully followed their routine, adding a few ideas of her own. Virgie admitted that everybody thought she was a perfect doll, but HER thought was that she would get hurt out there. Her sister, Pat, eleven years old, and a member of the band, was also concerned for her safety and wasn't much comfort to her mother when she said, "She'll get killed out there." But after the band left the field she admitted, "Mother, she was cute, wasn't she?" Once she almost stopped the show when she thought she'd lost her mother's pearls, but they had slipped under her sweater. Sue Hagan deserves credit for tutoring the baby majorette, who, after the game, was a very tired and excited baby. Many fans admit they missed some of the razzle-dazzle plays of Cassidy and Nessmith as they watched the cutest and youngest member of the band.

As ever, JANE.

SOMETHING NEW was added at the Statesboro-Millen game at Memorial Field Friday night when the band appeared on the field at the half. They were accompanied by a new recruit—an adorable, blond curly-top with lovely blue eyes. She was Billie Alderman, two-year-old daughter of Virgie and Bill Alderman. Dressed like the majorettes, she faithfully followed their routine, adding a few ideas of her own. Virgie admitted that everybody thought she was a perfect doll, but HER thought was that she would get hurt out there. Her sister, Pat, eleven years old, and a member of the band, was also concerned for her safety and wasn't much comfort to her mother when she said, "She'll get killed out there." But after the band left the field she admitted, "Mother, she was cute, wasn't she?" Once she almost stopped the show when she thought she'd lost her mother's pearls, but they had slipped under her sweater. Sue Hagan deserves credit for tutoring the baby majorette, who, after the game, was a very tired and excited baby. Many fans admit they missed some of the razzle-dazzle plays of Cassidy and Nessmith as they watched the cutest and youngest member of the band.

As ever, JANE.

SOMETHING NEW was added at the Statesboro-Millen game at Memorial Field Friday night when the band appeared on the field at the half. They were accompanied by a new recruit—an adorable, blond curly-top with lovely blue eyes. She was Billie Alderman, two-year-old daughter of Virgie and Bill Alderman. Dressed like the majorettes, she faithfully followed their routine, adding a few ideas of her own. Virgie admitted that everybody thought she was a perfect doll, but HER thought was that she would get hurt out there. Her sister, Pat, eleven years old, and a member of the band, was also concerned for her safety and wasn't much comfort to her mother when she said, "She'll get killed out there." But after the band left the field she admitted, "Mother, she was cute, wasn't she?" Once she almost stopped the show when she thought she'd lost her mother's pearls, but they had slipped under her sweater. Sue Hagan deserves credit for tutoring the baby majorette, who, after the game, was a very tired and excited baby. Many fans admit they missed some of the razzle-dazzle plays of Cassidy and Nessmith as they watched the cutest and youngest member of the band.

As ever, JANE.

SOMETHING NEW was added at the Statesboro-Millen game at Memorial Field Friday night when the band appeared on the field at the half. They were accompanied by a new recruit—an adorable, blond curly-top with lovely blue eyes. She was Billie Alderman, two-year-old daughter of Virgie and Bill Alderman. Dressed like the majorettes, she faithfully followed their routine, adding a few ideas of her own. Virgie admitted that everybody thought she was a perfect doll, but HER thought was that she would get hurt out there. Her sister, Pat, eleven years old, and a member of the band, was also concerned for her safety and wasn't much comfort to her mother when she said, "She'll get killed out there." But after the band left the field she admitted, "Mother, she was cute, wasn't she?" Once she almost stopped the show when she thought she'd lost her mother's pearls, but they had slipped under her sweater. Sue Hagan deserves credit for tutoring the baby majorette, who, after the game, was a very tired and excited baby. Many fans admit they missed some of the razzle-dazzle plays of Cassidy and Nessmith as they watched the cutest and youngest member of the band.

As ever, JANE.

SOMETHING NEW was added at the Statesboro-Millen game at Memorial Field Friday night when the band appeared on the field at the half. They were accompanied by a new recruit—an adorable, blond curly-top with lovely blue eyes. She was Billie Alderman, two-year-old daughter of Virgie and Bill Alderman. Dressed like the majorettes, she faithfully followed their routine, adding a few ideas of her own. Virgie admitted that everybody thought she was a perfect doll, but HER thought was that she would get hurt out there. Her sister, Pat, eleven years old, and a member of the band, was also concerned for her safety and wasn't much comfort to her mother when she said, "She'll get killed out there." But after the band left the field she admitted, "Mother, she was cute, wasn't she?" Once she almost stopped the show when she thought she'd lost her mother's pearls, but they had slipped under her sweater. Sue Hagan deserves credit for tutoring the baby majorette, who, after the game, was a very tired and excited baby. Many fans admit they missed some of the razzle-dazzle plays of Cassidy and Nessmith as they watched the cutest and youngest member of the band.

As ever, JANE.

SOMETHING NEW was added at the Statesboro-Millen game at Memorial Field Friday night when the band appeared on the field at the half. They were accompanied by a new recruit—an adorable, blond curly-top with lovely blue eyes. She was Billie Alderman, two-year-old daughter of Virgie and Bill Alderman. Dressed like the majorettes, she faithfully followed their routine, adding a few ideas of her own. Virgie admitted that everybody thought she was a perfect doll, but HER thought was that she would get hurt out there. Her sister, Pat, eleven years old, and a member of the band, was also concerned for her safety and wasn't much comfort to her mother when she said, "She'll get killed out there." But after the band left the field she admitted, "Mother, she was cute, wasn't she?" Once she almost stopped the show when she thought she'd lost her mother's pearls, but they had slipped under her sweater. Sue Hagan deserves credit for tutoring the baby majorette, who, after the game, was a very tired and excited baby. Many fans admit they missed some of the razzle-dazzle plays of Cassidy and Nessmith as they watched the cutest and youngest member of the band.

As ever, JANE.

SOMETHING NEW was added at the Statesboro-Millen game at Memorial Field Friday night when the band appeared on the field at the half. They were accompanied by a new recruit—an adorable, blond curly-top with lovely blue eyes. She was Billie Alderman, two-year-old daughter of Virgie and Bill Alderman. Dressed like the majorettes, she faithfully followed their routine, adding a few ideas of her own. Virgie admitted that everybody thought she was a perfect doll, but HER thought was that she would get hurt out there. Her sister, Pat, eleven years old, and a member of the band, was also concerned for her safety and wasn't much comfort to her mother when she said, "She'll get killed out there." But after the band left the field she admitted, "Mother, she was cute, wasn't she?" Once she almost stopped the show when she thought she'd lost her mother's pearls, but they had slipped under her sweater. Sue Hagan deserves credit for tutoring the baby majorette, who, after the game, was a very tired and excited baby. Many fans admit they missed some of the razzle-dazzle plays of Cassidy and Nessmith as they watched the cutest and youngest member of the band.

As ever, JANE.

SOMETHING NEW was added at the Statesboro-Millen game at Memorial Field Friday night when the band appeared on the field at the half. They were accompanied by a new recruit—an adorable, blond curly-top with lovely blue eyes. She was Billie Alderman, two-year-old daughter of Virgie and Bill Alderman. Dressed like the majorettes, she faithfully followed their routine, adding a few ideas of her own. Virgie admitted that everybody thought she was a perfect doll, but HER thought was that she would get hurt out there. Her sister, Pat, eleven years old, and a member of the band, was also concerned for her safety and wasn't much comfort to her mother when she said, "She'll get killed out there." But after the band left the field she admitted, "Mother, she was cute, wasn't she?" Once she almost stopped the show when she thought she'd lost her mother's pearls, but they had slipped under her sweater. Sue Hagan deserves credit for tutoring the baby majorette, who, after the game, was a very tired and excited baby. Many fans admit they missed some of the razzle-dazzle plays of Cassidy and Nessmith as they watched the cutest and youngest member of the band.

As ever, JANE.

SOMETHING NEW was added at the Statesboro-Millen game at Memorial Field Friday night when the band appeared on the field at the half. They were accompanied by a new recruit—an adorable, blond curly-top with lovely blue eyes. She was Billie Alderman, two-year-old daughter of Virgie and Bill Alderman. Dressed like the majorettes, she faithfully followed their routine, adding a few ideas of her own. Virgie admitted that everybody thought she was a perfect doll, but HER thought was that she would get hurt out there. Her sister, Pat, eleven years old, and a member of the band, was also concerned for her safety and wasn't much comfort to her mother when she said, "She'll get killed out there." But after the band left the field she admitted, "Mother, she was cute, wasn't she?" Once she almost stopped the show when she thought she'd lost her mother's pearls, but they had slipped under her sweater. Sue Hagan deserves credit for tutoring the baby majorette, who, after the game, was a very tired and excited baby. Many

