A HOLE IN THE GROUND

This "Hole in the Ground" represents the unfinished Swimming Pool.

On My Honor . . .

"ON MY HONOR . . ."
These are the first three words of the oath a boy takes when he becomes a member of the Boy Scouts of America.

This week the Boy Scouts of Statesboro and Bulloch County are observing the Thirty-ninth anniversary of that great youth organization.

Patrols in each troop are preparing exhibits in some of the city's business houses. Sunday the Scouts attended the church of their choice to begin the observance of the anniversary.

"Too much cannot be said in praise of Scouting."

Too much cannot be said in commending the adults who devote time, effort and personal energy to working with the youth of our community in its Scouting program.

President Truman in recognizing the part of the nation's youth play in the development of these United States took time out this week to deliver a message to the Scouts of America in which he challenged them to "achieve maximum results as you forward with your crusade to Strengthen the Arm of Liberty."

Said the President:

ALL'S FAIR

Turnip greens and cracklin' bread, buckwheat cakes and honey. A cozy spot by an open fire where oak logs burn, that's my desire. But then I'd want a shelf of books that I could read at leisure. And have friends drop in for a cup of tea and discuss our latest seizure.

THIS STUFF could go on forever—I find in my mail a request for my favorite recipe. That should be easy. Just turn to the page where I find traces of lemon and egg—or the faint order of spices, with tell-tale signs of butter, and there must be one that the most time he wants to smoke while he is on the road. he'll stop the car and get out to light his pipe . . .

I REALLY shouldn't tell this one, but it's the kind of thing that happens to all of us and is so terribly funny in retrospect. Recently when Isabel McDougald was ill, Sidney McDougald and daughter, Anne, prepared a lovely tray of food and delivered it personally to Isabel. Now Al who is quite fond of his Aunt Isabel didn't quite hide his disappointment in not being in on the pleasant mission. Consequently Sidney arranged another appetizing supper and entrusted it to Bernard and Al to deliver. Horrors what a catastrophe accident! Coming up the steps in some unaccountable masculine manner, they (I use the plural to avoid placing any blame) tripped and spilled the contents all over the steps and front entrance. Now I don't quite understand this. They carefully scraped up the spilled food, replaced it on the tray and reluctantly returned to face Sidney. All the way home they argued as to which one broke the news to her. (Won't you men ever learn women aren't organs?)

Sidney, bless her heart, calmly prepared another tray and sent them on their way again . . .

WHAT A LOVELY tale, honoring Virginia Rushing at Lullie Smith's with Mary Ruth Dodd as co-hostess. The decorations from the front door, where Mary Beth Jones greeted us so graciously, were simply exquisite right on through to the cozy sitting room back of the kitchen. Lullie headed the line, wearing a green crepe with rhinestone buttons. Mary Ruth wore a charming gold taffeta with matching jacket; the skirt featured a bustle. She wore while camellias. The bride-elect was exceptionally lovely in her dress of elephant gray taffeta, with low neckline and a skirt which really went to town with swirls and puffs, giving a hoohish effect in front and back in most becoming fashion. Her costume word: "Minkovitz."

Now for filling, you can't beat Her flowers, dyed aqua, were carnations. Ethel Rushing looking more like Virginia's sister than her mother, was lovely in apple green crepe, glistening with green sequins and its beauty accentuated with yellow corsage. Lullie Trappell, mother of the groom-elect, wore a fashionable rose crepe with rhinestone trim. Her gloves were aqua and her flowers were variegated carnations. Jacky, helping in the dining room, wore an adorable black taffeta trimmed in bluish pink caught up on one shoulder, leaving the other bare. She wore a pink camellia in her hair . . .

As ever, JANE.

P.S.—In July, along with watermelons, I'll still be serving Christmas stories. This one concerns Bill Brown, 22-month-old son of Kathryn and Browne. He took one long look at his Christmas tree, lovely with tinsel, lights and toys, and uttered on expressive word: "Minkovitz."

RECENT BRIDES AND BRIDE-ELECT HONORED

On Friday Mrs. Waldo Floyd entertained at morning coffee for Miss Virginia Rushing, bride-elect, who shared honors with Mrs. Earl Allen, Mrs. Jack Tillman, and Mrs. Ray Darley, recent brides. Blue iris was combined with snapdragons in a lovely arrangement, and pink perfumery were used on the table in the dining room. The Valentine season was reflected in the use of heart-shaped sandwiches, hors d'oeuvres, Valentine cookies and coffee. Miss Rushing received a silver compote and the brides were given dainty linen handkerchiefs.

MRS. HOWELL SEWELL FETTES MISS RUSHING

Mrs. Howell Sewell entertained Saturday at morning coffee for Miss Rushing. The color motif of red and white was used in the decorations and refreshments. Red camellias and white narcissi were the flowers used. The guests were served red apples, stuffed with cream cheese, raisins and nuts, red and white ribbon sandwiches, and coffee. The bride-elect, who is a collector of rare plates, received from her hostess a plate from the home of Edward MacDowell, American pianist and composer.

REHEARSAL PARTY

TUESDAY EVENING FOR RUSHING-TRAPPNELL GROUP

Following rehearsal at the Baptist church Tuesday evening Mrs. Z. Whitehurst and Mrs. Walter Groover entertained the members of the Rushing-Trapnell bride party at Sewell House. A pink and silver motif made an elegant setting for the buffet supper. Pink perfect camellias beautifully arranged in silver tray formed the centerpiece for the table which was overlaid with a white linen cutwork cloth. From the chandelier pink ribbons cascaded to the corners of the table where they were caught by pink camellias.

Miss Rushing chose this occasion to present a pair of wish bone scatter pins to each of her bridesmaids and lingerie to the flower girls. Mrs. Trapnell presented each of her attendants three silver dollars.

The guests were served creamed turkey with almonds in timbales, cranberry salad, hot cinnamon rolls, fruit cake, nuts, and coffee. There were 38 guests which included the bride party and out-of-town guests.

DR. HENRY HONORED AT TEA
Members of the Religious Activities Committee at Georgia Teachers College, composed of Dr. Fielding Rushing Russell, Misses Marie Wood, Marjorie Crouch, and Louise Bennett, were hosts at a lovely tea at the Russell home honoring Dr. Waights Henry. Invited to meet Dr. Henry were Y.W. and Y.M. Cabinet members and the Statesboro ministers and their wives. The home was beautifully decorated throughout.

TRADE WIND CAFE

Dr. Waights Henry, president of LaGrange College, one of the principal speakers for Religious Emphasis Week at Teachers College, was the honor guest Thursday at a lovely luncheon given by Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Deal at the Norris Hotel. A tiered arrangement of spring flowers made a beautiful centerpiece for the table where covers were laid for Dr. Henry, Dr. and Mrs. Fielding Russell and their guest, Dr. Russell's sister, Mrs. S. G. Green, of Alexandria, Va.; Mr. and Mrs. Stothard and Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Deal. Luncheon was served in four courses.

From where I sit . . . by Joe Marsh

Andy Has A "Two-Way Ticket"

Red Fowler was pretty mad when he found he couldn't put up a garage on his place over on Elm Street without a building permit. "It's my property," he was telling us, over a friendly glass of beer at Andy's Garden Tavern. "I ought to be able to do whatever I please with it."

"Hold on," says Andy. "That permit protects you as much as your neighbors. Like my license to sell beer. It carries obligations I have to live up to, but it also protects me from other tavern keepers who might give this business a bad name."

Then Andy tells him how through the Brewers' Program of Self-Regulation, the Brewing Industry cooperates in maintaining clean, wholesome surroundings for the sale of beer and ale.

From where I sit, none of us would want the right to do exactly as he pleased without regard for the rights of others, except the fellow strolling doing whatever he pleased without regard for us.

New Dodge Here Feb 25

LOCAL DODGE DEALER ATTENDS PREVIEW SHOWING OF NEW DODGE CARS

Lannie F. Simmons, Dodge-Plymouth dealer, has returned from Jacksonville where he attended a dealer preview of the completely new-styled Dodge cars, the first models of which will be publicly displayed in his dealership on Friday, Feb. 25. Mr. Simmons was accompanied by Horace McDougald, Carl Freeman and C. Coleman. Mr. Simmons said that although detailed information of the appearance and many engineering and mechanical improvements introduced in the new Dodge could not be revealed prior to the public showing, there are certain general facts concerning the comfort-engineering story behind the new Dodge styling that can be disclosed at this time.

"The primary considerations that influenced the design of the new Dodge were Army statistics which showed that the G.I.'s of World War II were taller, bigger, and more active than their predecessors of World War I," Mr. Simmons said. "As a result, it was apparent that more passenger room, not less, was required in the modern automobile to comfortably accommodate our physically larger generation."

Mr. Simmons pointed out that the challenge to Dodge engineers was to design a car with more interior space and still reduce exterior dimensions to eliminate difficulties of handling in traffic, parking, and garaging.

To learn how Dodge succeeded in meeting this challenge and at the same time produced a car with an entirely new and distinctive styling, Mr. Simmons cordially invites everybody to his gala open house on Feb. 25.

Soil Program for 1950 Underway

With 1949 less than two months gone, the 1948 Agricultural Conservation program just being finished, and farmers just beginning their 1949 conservation program, work on the 1950 program is already underway.

According to H. L. Taylor, chairman of the Bulloch County Agricultural Conservation Committee, recommendations will soon be completed for next year's program. The program is developed from suggestions from farmers in each of the county's 3,000 agricultural counties.

It marks the second year in succession that Future Farmers have observed a national F.F.A. week. The same period earlier was set aside for "Keep Georgia Green" week. Bob Black, state F.F.A. president, meeting in Atlanta recently with other state officers, termed it appropriate that the same week should be jointly observed by the two groups since "forestry is an important part of the project work of Future Farmers."

"Last year we F.F.A.'ers had more than 6,500 acres in forestry projects," Black observed, "and we set out over 380,000 pine seedlings and planted more than 4,000 cork oaks. We are trying to help keep Georgia green because from our study, observation and experience we realize that our forests are an important natural resource."

In observance of F.F.A. week, members of the five chapters in Bulloch will appear at Farm Bureau meetings, attend churches, and present chapel program in their schools.

In proclaiming F.F.A. week for Georgia Governor Talmadge pointed out that " . . . for twenty-one years this national organization of farm boys has made an outstanding contribution to the development of rural leadership, the building of character and the advancement of the nation's agriculture and welfare."

The Governor in his proclamation also called attention to the fact that "Georgia has always had a peculiar interest in this organization and vocational agricultural bill passed by the Congress was introduced by a Georgia-born member of two distinguished families, Honorable Hoke Smith, U. S. Senator, and Honorable Dudley Hughes, U. S. Representative."

Talmadge further urged " . . . public officials, civic groups, and citizens generally to co-operate with this organization of farm youths in carrying out the purpose of their organization."

F.F.A. work is closely allied with vocational agriculture because only those boys regularly enrolled in high school agriculture classes are eligible to become F.F.A. members.

DEDICATED TO THE PROGRESS OF STATESBORO AND BULLOCH COUNTY

Statesboro, Georgia, Thursday, February 17, 1949

FFA Week Is Set For Feb. 19 to 26

Members of the Brooklet, S.F.A. chapters will join nearly 12,000 other Georgia Future Farmers of America in the observance of F.F.A. week, Feb. 19-26. Governor Herman Talmadge has signed a proclamation officially declaring that period as F.F.A. week in Georgia and the same time has been set aside in 46 other states, Hawaii and Puerto Rico for a similar observance.

It marks the second year in succession that Future Farmers have observed a national F.F.A. week. The same period earlier was set aside for "Keep Georgia Green" week. Bob Black, state F.F.A. president, meeting in Atlanta recently with other state officers, termed it appropriate that the same week should be jointly observed by the two groups since "forestry is an important part of the project work of Future Farmers."
